Dear Franklin,

Your letter reached me here to-day. My family sent it on because of the Lt.-Colonel, I think. My brother is running a laboratory for the Signal Corps, and I gather he respects your title.

I'm taking a long vacation with some friends - we're driving west and then to Mexico. I hope to be back at the beginning of September, and I was keeping my fingers crossed, hoping that I wouldn't get papers till then. When I get back, I'll really tackle Murova. Thanks to the Guggenheim Foundation, I'll have a whole year to work. Just now I'm analyzing Carson -

I brought the material along, and work on it at odd intervals.

You've no idea how useful I've found your work on Cypro-Minoan. If only Cypriote were also worked up.

I'll send you the off-prints I've set aside for you as soon as I get home. Mother won't be able to find them.

Will the beginning of September be too late for proofs? I hope not because I can't check references away from my files.

Incidentally, I got hold of Hrozný's attempt to decipher Minoan through the Czech-Slovak Corollate. It seems the sheerest baldness, but Hrozný has been lucky with Hittite and hieroglyphic Hittite, so I want to consider it very carefully before I make the nasty comments I feel like making.

Till Miss Sinclair I've been having a very interesting correspondence with Christopoulos.

Although I don't agree with him, he is certainly not a crack-pot.

This letter is running on at great length. I'm so delighted that you are about to enter civilian life again, that I hate to stop. It was a shock when I heard at Christmas that Miss Swindler was no longer to be editor of the A. J. A., but when I heard the name of the new editor - ~~well~~, I certainly was delighted. There couldn't be a better choice.

You won't have any time to get into mischief, with all the work you have waiting. Civilian life will be tough.

Welcome back,

Alice

P.S. I'll send you the address in Mexico city as soon as I'm sure you will really go there, in case you need to reach me.
