Courses to Untangle Headlines of Today

By WAYLAND PILCHER

Pick up almost any large daily newspaper and look at the front page.

You are probably hit by the names of places you never heard and people you didn't know existed. Even if you keep abreast of current news, you can easily be confused by the complexity of today's news.

But several courses are offered during the coming spring semester to aid students in their understanding of people, governments, history, and physical features of particular countries or parts of the world.

Of the countries singled out for study at the University, Mexico probably gets more thorough treatment than any other one nation. An example is Geography 341K—Geography of Mexico and the Caribbean—taught by Dr. Donald Brand. Dr. Brand said this course studies the physical features, climate, drainage, peoples and cultures of Mexico, Central America, and the West Indies. Then, after the general discussion, each country is discussed in the same terms.

Other countries covering Mexico include Anthropology 329—Cultures and People of Mexico—taught by Dr. George C. Engerrand, Economics 366K—Survey of the Economics of Mexico—by Dr. Eastin Nelson, and History 377L — Mexico and Spanish North America since 1810—taught by Dr. Carlos Castaneda.

Dr. Castaneda is an honorary member of the Academy of History of Mexico, and the Centro de Estudios of Buenos Aires, the Society of History and Geography of Guatemala, the Institut Historique et Heraldique de France, and the Hispanic Society of America.

The Soviet Union and Asia also have several courses devoted to them. Dr. Charles Lange teaches a course in the Anthropology of Russian Asia, and Economics 366L—Russian Economic Development since 1917—is taught by Murray Polakoff.

On the more general topic of Asia two courses to be taught this spring are Geography 329—Geography of India and Southeast Asia—by Dr. Dan Stanislawski, and History 341K—History and Civilization of Japan and Korea—by Dr. William R. Braisted.

Dr. John L. Mecham, who has only recently returned from a four-month stay in Ecuador, will teach Government 373—The Governments and Politics of South America. The title of the course is self-explanatory says Dr. Mecham, but considerable time will be spent on Ecuador. Dr. Mecham's project in that country had to do with the existence of democracy in Latin America. His object was to try to determine what is the best policy for the United States to follow in order to encourage democracy in Latin America.

A course which covers a considerable area, geographically, is Government 323K—The Governments of the British Commonwealth and Empire, taught by Dr. William S. Livingston.

For students with six hours of journalism, Journalism 329—The Press and Contemporary Affairs—is offered. This is a study of current events with a discussion of background material which make the events understandable and take on a more coherent form.

Even the College of Business Administration contributes a course to understanding foreign people. Dr. Erich Zimmermann's Resources 361—Introduction to Study of Resources—is a comparison of resources of the pre-industrial era to those of the post-industrial time.

Dr. Zimmermann has served as the director of the National Bureau of Economic Research, research director of the President's interdepartmental committee on Puerto Rico, and consulting economist for the State Department.

UT Registration Begins Jan. 30; Expect 12,000

Students May Get Materials at Hogg; First Class Feb. 2

Registration for the spring semester will take place January 30, 31, and February 1.

New students are required to have a vaccination and physical examination and a transcript of their work from the last college attended, or from their high school if they have not attended college. These records should be in the Registrar's office not later than January 26. New students will receive registration instructions from the Registrar.

Students who requested course cards and registration material will receive instructions on registration procedure.

Former students who did not request registration material will present their photostats or records of credits at Hogg Auditorium January 30, 31, or February 1 from 9 to 12 a.m. or 2 to 4 p.m. There they will receive time assignments for registration February 1.

Registration cards should be presented at Waggener Hall 112 at time noted on time assignment cards. Students will then go to Waggener Hall 101 for further information, cards, instructions, and an admission ticket to Gregory Gym. Then they will go to their advisors, and later to Gregory Gym at the times specified.

Exceptions are engineers, who will go directly to Gregory Gym from Waggener Hall according to their time assignment; law students who will report to Law Building 106 and then to the Gym; and candidates for degrees in Arts and Sciences who will report to Main Building 113 and then to Gregory.

Second-place Steers Top Rice Owls, 60-53

By KEN TOOLEY (30)
Texan Sports Editor

HOUSTON, Jan. 15—(Spl.)—With the snappy ball handling of Jimmy Viramontes and the spot shooting of Ted Price and George Scaling, the Texan Longhorns dashed to their third straight Southwest Conference victory here Tuesday, trouncing Rice, 60-53.

Price, the 6-8 Texas center, who has been in a recent shooting slump, got his eye on the basket again Tuesday night to hit 16 points and tie for second place scoring honors with teammate Scaling.

But, it was the 6-5 sophomore Rice center, Gene Schwinger, who ran away with the scoring laurels, hitting 26 points—almost half of the Owls' total point production.

By downing the Owls, the Longhorns stepped into undisputed second place, being led only by TCU's Frogs who are undefeated in Conference play this season. The Steers dropped a 52-43 decision to the league leaders.

Coach Thurman "Slue" Hull, having taught his Longhorns the advantage of the freeze, put the ball on ice with over eight and one-half minutes remaining in the final quarter.

The Steer cagers learned their lesson well and kept the Owls away from the basket for five minutes before Owl Guard Maurice Teague was allowed to score on a charity toss.

From then on it was the Longhorns' game and they used precision ball-handling for their domination.

Leonard Childs, 5-11 Rice guard, and Teague left the game via the foul route, stripping the Owls of their set shot artists.

Two minutes and sixteen seconds had elapsed in the first half before either team was able to hit the bucket, then Schwinger broke the ice for the Owls on a hook shot.

Bad passes and unconscious miscues by the Longhorns allowed the Owl five to jump into a 9-point lead before Texas began to close in by interceptions of Rice passes.

Price, with layups and tip-ins, combined with the long push shots of Scaling and Dowies behind the free throw circle to bring the Longhorns within two points of the Rice contingent and Powell closed the gap with a push shot from the keyhole only a few seconds after the second session got underway.

Price and Ford took control in the second quarter to put Texas in the lead, but for a short time only as Rice tied the score on three different occasions.

The two quintets played on even terms during the second period, but Klein's free toss in the last minute put the Longhorns ahead and they increased their advantage to 35-31 at halftime. Turning in an exceptionally fine game for the Texas five was Sopohmore Gib Ford who went the entire distance.

The Longhorn aggregation hit 34 per cent of their field goal attempts to turn in a better-than-average showing.

NCAA Avoids Bowl Decision

A Cotton Bowl game for 1953 is assured by the failure of NCAA officials to take an immediate action to ban post season games at a national meeting in Cincinnati. A new sanity code for collegiate athletics was formulated at the meeting.

"The National Collegiate Athletic Association is adopting a policy which is more and more in line with the way athletics is controlled in the Southwest Conference."

This was the opinion of Athletic Director Dana X. Bible after returning Monday from the meeting.

Mr. Bible, Coach Ed Price, and Dr. Vernon T. Schuhardt, chairman of the Athletic Council, attended the meeting as representatives of the University.

The University administration will not make an official announcement of its reactions to the new sanity code until Dr. Schuhardt returns to Austin next week. He is attending a meeting of scientists in Washington.

The NCAA meeting resolved itself mainly into a conflict between college presidents, who favor drastic measures for controlling athletics, and the NCAA officials, who would adopt more conservative measures. But Mr. Bible said, "The two groups are closer together now than they have ever been." He observed that there will probably be smooth sailing ahead for college athletics.

The proposed banning of bowl games was the main problem discussed at the meeting. No definite action was taken on this problem, but a committee was appointed to study post-season games in the light of the pressures they create. This means that a Cotton Bowl game for 1953 is assured.

This decision of the NCAA to postpone taking any definite action was predicted by Dr. Schuhardt on the day before he left Austin to attend the meeting. At that time Dr. Schuhardt said that a committee would probably be appointed to study the problem of bowl games. He added that in another year the public reaction against collegiate athletics would die down and bowl games would continue unopposed.

The NCAA established a code of ethics for athletics and set up a committee to see that the code is carried forward. In connection with this code of ethics, a plan has been recommended in the Southwest Conference to discourage unsportsmanlike conduct in football games. Proponents of this plan would have the names of the players who commit personal fouls announced over the public address system during games.

Mr. Bible thinks that this plan will work "because players don't want the finger of scorn pointed at them too many times in a game."

The new sanity code limits spring football training to twenty days. This will not affect the Southwest Conference in which spring practice cannot exceed eighteen days.

A ruling making it binding that the colleges themselves control and administer all financial aid to athletics was passed at the NCAA meeting. This move is aimed at preventing aid to athletes by alumni and booster clubs.

Drivers Can Save On Safety Checks

By BOB KENNY

UT car-owners can save up to 100% on saftey inspections by going to the right places, a Texan reporter learned last week when he took his middle-aged Chevrolet to three different inspection stations.

The respective stations agreed on scarcely anything except the motor number.

Price estimates varied from $14 to $30.

The first inspection station reported that the car needed the hand brake readjusted, headlights adjusted, new king pins and bushings, and brakes re-lined.

The price estimate was $20. The shop did not do the repair work, but the inspecting officer "has a brother" who runs a garage in North Austin. His service was highly recommended.

The body shop did, however, readjust the headlights, a service costing $1.25.

The next station to which the car was taken two days later, found that the headlights needed readjusting again, a service the mechanic performed for $1.50.

The station also replaced windshield wiper blades, which were "very badly worn" for $1.30.

Other repair work which would be necessary included a new license plate light holder, relining of brakes, adjustment of steering, and new wheel cylinders. No mention was made of the hand brake, king pins, and bushings, whose condition had improved unaided.

The station did repair work and strongly believed that the car should be brought back very soon, before "the brakes go completely out."

The cost estimate was $30, leaving an allowance of $7 for repair of the license plate light holder, which would have to be done elsewhere, and "is a pretty complicated business."

At the third inspection station, the headlights were in good shape, having been adjusted twice previously, as was the steering mechanism.

However, the hand brake needed working on again, and the high-and-low light indicator and wheel cylinders were completely out of kilter.

The dealer, who does his repair work, gave the $14 estimate. He left all work to be done when the car was brought back, which should be "as soon as possible, so we can replace worn parts before something really serious goes wrong."

A minimum charge of $1 was levied by all stations regardless of whether or not any work is done.

Vandalism Suspected In Browning Burglary

WACO, Jan. 15—(AP)—Theft of the famed bronze sculpture—the clasped hands of poets Robert and Elizabeth Browning—from its cloister in the Armstrong Browning Library here was discovered today.

Police were inclined to blame vandals. They were looking for a shabbily-dressed stranger seen near the building last night.

Dr. A. Joseph Armstrong, the gaunt, gray-haired professor who has spent 40 years collecting the largest Browning collection in the world, had nothing to say.

The "Clasped Hands" were in a glass case atop a four-foot marble pedestal in a raised cloister in the Foyer of Meditation in the Library Building on the Baylor campus. The $2,000,000 building was dedicated Dec. 3.

Building Custodian Percy B. Cosier said he found one side of the glass broken and the sculpture gone this morning.

All doors were locked when the custodian went to the building at 8:30 a.m. There was no sign of a forcible entry or leaving. A person hiding inside at closing time would be unable to get out with with a key.

A Baylor student who refused to give his name said a shabbily-dressed man stopped him on the campus late yesterday and inquired where the Browning building was.

The "Clasped Hands" were the work of an American sculptor, Miss Harriet Hosmer, who knew the Brownings.

The story goes that she saw them often in Italy and thought the picture of them holding hands the symbol of the fidelity and love of the two poets. She got permission to make a mold of their clasped hands and made the sculpture from the cast.

Baylor acquired the original in 1920.

The owner, Miss Lillian Whiting, had refused an offer of $5,000 for it. She gave it to Baylor.

Dr. Roy J. McKnight, financial vice-president of Baylor, said the university had no insurance against theft from the Browning Library.

Dr. Owen Writes Insurance Text

Dr. Henry T. Owen, professor of insurance, advises people to select an insurance agent with the same care that a lawyer is selected. Don't yield to high-pressure tactics, he warns in a new book.

The professor is the author of "Life Insurance Case Analysis: "Methods and Materials," recently published by Prentice-Hall, Inc. It will be used as a College of Business Administration text, as well as by men in the insurance profession.

Planning an insurance program is too complex for an individual without professional assistance, Dr. Owen states. The book is designed to help the student, the buyer, or the agent develop a systematic approach to the solution of this problem.

Army Will Recall Reserve Officers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Army announced today it will call to active service next summer all officers commissioned from the Reserve Officers Training Corps who were deferred from draft induction to complete their college courses.

The only announced exception from this blanket order are ROTC members who are veterans of World War II.

The Army said that ROTC men will be given an opportunity to select the month between June and September in which they wish to enter active service.

Such requests will be honored if feasible but the Army wants to have at least one-third of the officers on active duty by July 31, at least two-thirds by August 31, and all by September 30.

Secretarial Jobs Open

The University is looking for several good secretaries, Charles T. Clark, director of non-academic personnel, said Tuesday.

At present, five secretaries and three senior secretaries are needed, Clark added.

This represents an approximate 5 per cent of each class. The University regularly hires 100 secretaries and 78 senior secretaries.

Postponement of Finals Permissible if Approved

Students wishing to postpone a final examination because of illness or some other legitimate reason may procure a "Petition to Postpone Examination" in the Registrar's Office. It must be approved and signed by student's instructor and the dean of his school. The petition must be filled out at least seven days before the period officially set for examination.

Weather Forecast

Austin's reprieve from winter will continue through Wednesday, the United States Weather Bureau predicted Tuesday night.

With moderate temperatures all day, the morning will be cloudy and the afternoon sunny. The temperature will reach a low of 60 degrees in the morning and a maximum of 78.

The University Post Office will keep regular hours.

The University Commons and the Commons Annex will run on regular schedules through finals and between semesters, Mrs. Eve Lee Tiroff, director, has announced.

All books are due January 19, said Miss Lorena Baker, librarian. If a student requires a book for a special purpose, such as a late project, he may borrow it for a limited time by special permission, she added.

This will be the last edition of the Texan until January 31.

The last activity at the Texas Union until the new semester will be a movie, "The Male Animal," to be shown January 21.

Schedules Due Out Next Week

The Final Arrangement of Courses for the spring semester of 1952 is expected to be on sale in the bookstores by the middle of next week, according to Miss Louise Barekman, editor of official publications.

Garrison Hall got the holiday spirit while students were home for Christmas and donned itself in gay apparel.

Louis Will Play In PGA Tourney

Other Negro Out Says PGA's Smith

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Professional Golfers Association cleared the way Tuesday for Joe Louis to play as an invited amateur in the San Diego Open Tournament Thursday.

PGA President Horton Smith said the organization's by-law ban against non-caucasians would apply in the case of another Negro, professional Bill Spiller.

He said Louis' secretary had informed him that the former heavyweight boxing champion would play under the conditions announced.

Louis thus won the right to play in the tournament—the first Negro ever to do so in a PGA co-sponsored event—but apparently failed at least for the present in his announced effort to gain equal rights on the links for all Negroes.

Smith explained that Louis' entry was approved as one of ten allowed the local sponsors for invited amateurs exempt from qualification.

Smith and two other National PGA committeemen, Jack Burke, Jr., and Leland Gibson, talked with the local tournament committee. It had invited the Negroes to play before discovering that a clause in the contract with the PGA barred non-whites.

Louis practiced at the San Diego Country Club, where he expressed confidence in what he declared was "the fight of my life."

UT's Cinderella Freshmen Bow to Rice Owlets, 38-60

By SAM BLAIR
Texan Sports Staff

HOUSTON, Jan. 15—(Spl)—The clock struck midnight for Texas' team of Cinderalla freshmen in Rice Gym Tuesday night.

Amazing conquerors of Tyler's naional junior college champions last Saturday night, the Yearlings had most of their newly-acquired luster rubbed off by a hustling flock of Rice Owlets, 60-38, and thus returned to the ranks of the mediocre.

The Yearlings, who hit almost half of their field goal attempts against Tyler, proved equally consistent in missing the basket in their encounter with the Owlets. Add bad passes, poor rebound play and ineffective defensive play to this factor and you have the formula for Texas' defeat.

Led by diminutive Monty Robicheaux and lanky James Everitt, the Owlets jumped into the lead in the first 40 seconds and were never headed during the contest. With Robicheaux hitting from the outside and Everitt driving under the basket for easy lay-up shots, Rice offered an offense which made the Yearlings' man-to-man defense look about as effective as the Maginot line did against the Germans.

Only in the first period was it an even battle, the Owlets holding a 11-7 lead at the end of the first ten minutes. Robicheaux, a 1951 all-state selection from Bowie, and Everitt, a 6-4 Cleveland (Texas) product, took control in the second quarter and Rice pulled away to a 32-22 halftime advantage.

Texas threatened Rice's superiority early in the third period. Billy Banks sank a field goal and Jim Magill and Dimitry Vergun each contributed a free throw to shave the Owlets' lead to six points, 32-26. That brief flurry concluded the Yearlings' point-production for the quarter, however, and Rice prevailed, 52-26, when Texas finally tallied again early in the final canto.

Only Yearling to display anything resembling accuracy from the field was blond-haired Casey Wise, Texas' top scorer with 11 points. Big guns in the Rice attack were Robicheaux and Everitt with 13 and 15 tallies respectively.

KU Tops Cage Poll; Frogs Rated 16th

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Duquesne's fast improving and unbeaten basketball team moved into the top ten for the first time this season in the Associated Press Poll as Kansas held on to its number one ranking by a narrow margin over Illinois.

Duquesne (11-0), Kansas (13-0), Illinois (11-0), Iowa (11-0) and St. Bonaventure (9-0) are the only major college teams still able to boast perfect records. All five are in the top ten as Duquesne jumped from 16th to seventh place.

Previously undefeated Indiana was beaten by both Ohio State and Iowa while Siena knocked off Seton Hall. Indiana dropped from 4th place to 14th and Seton Hall slipped from 9th to 12th.

West Virginia edged into the first ten, advancing from 11th to 10th by beating Pittsburgh and Wake Forest.

Illinois received more first place votes than Kansas this week, 23 to 22, but the Kansans accumulated enough second and third-place votes from the sports writers to nose out the Illini, 790 to 773.

Kentucky still nestled in the number three spot with a 11-2 record.

NCAA Watchword Is 'Stop Roughness'

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Jan. 15.—(AP)—College football rulemakers made it clear Tuesday they want unnecessary roughness stopped.

The NCAA Rules Committee reworded the regulation to get across the idea it wants flagrant violators of roughing rules thrown out of the game.

It also acted to charge a team with a time out for sending in a player just to punt. This is the only change made in the substitution rules which are the basis of the two-platoon system.

Under the new rules, a player may be banned from the game and his team penalized 15 yards for striking with the forearms, elbows or locked hands. Before, 15 yards only was the penalty.

The Rules Committee also substituted the word "shall" for "may" in making a flagrant violator of the personal foul rules subject to disqualification.

"This makes it mandatory instead of discretionary," explained Fritz Crisler, chairman of the committee. "It also will impress on both officials and coaches that the penalty is meant to be severe."

The committee left unchanged the rule making mandatory the ejection of a player who strikes an opponent with the fist or knee.

The rulemakers also revised the sections on clipping and piling on.

The former definition of a clip, hitting a player anywhere on the back, was restored. Since 1949, it has been illegal to block from behind only from the waist down.

Piling on was made illegal as soon as the ball becomes dead.

The penalty for illegal defensive holding also will be more severe, 15 yards instead of 5. "This is aimed particularly at holding eligible pass receivers because some teams were willing to gamble a 5-yard penalty against a long completed pass," reported Tad Vrnan, committee secretary.

The substitution rule provides that a team sending in a player while the clock is running will be charged with a time out, five of which are permitted each half. Heretofore it was only a 5-yard penalty which still will apply in addition to the time out if the substitution was made after the referee signals the ball ready for play.

Spartans May Not Play Athletic Code Breakers

BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Michigan State will break off athletic relations with any schools not falling in line with the college presidents' code for de-emphasis in athletics, President John A. Hannah hinted Monday night.

Hannah was chairman of the presidents' committee that recently recommended elimination of bowl games; scholarships assigned for scholastic ability, not athletic ability; elimination of spring practice; eliminations on length of season; faculty control of athletic departments; require satisfactory progress toward a degree by athletes.

Young Chuck Comiskey May Quit White Sox

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Young Charles Comiskey appeared dead set Tuesday on dropping his baseball heritage, the Chicago White Sox, unless he gets a pay raise and a regular contract as club vice-president and secretary.

The 26-year-old grandson of Charles (Old Roman) Comiskey, founder of the White Sox, asserted he submitted his resignation yesterday because he ran the club since 1948 but got only $10,000 per year salary.

'Jewell' Bows Out In Aggie-Bear Tilt

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Little Jewell McDowell, ball-handling wizard and playmaker of Texas Aggie Basketball, makes his last appearance Friday night.

The great guard, always one to worry about when you play the Aggies, will be ending his string in Aggieland. Baylor is the last team to face the little guy.

Texas has always had a slight peeve on McDowell. After all-stater McDowell finished the 1947 season with Amarillo High, he moved to Austin, at the University's request, to finish his high school education at Austin High. He was due to enroll at the University of Texas the following spring. Mid-way of the fall term, McDowell abruptly withdrew from Austin High and enrolled at Stephen F. Austin, Bryan. The following February, he enrolled as a freshman at Texas A&M.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests
No. 32...THE YAK

He's far too sophisticated to be amused by slap-stick comedy! From the minute the curtain went up, he knew that you just can't judge cigarette mildness by one fast puff or a single, swift sniff. Those capers may fool a frosh — but he's been around and he knows! From coast-to-coast, millions of smokers agree: There's but one true test of cigarette mildness!
It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Fall Semester Graduates Face No Formal Commencement

The University's mid-term graduates face a minimum of pomp and ceremony.

There will be no formal graduation or commencement exercises, and no need for caps and gowns. Graduating students still may, however, buy rings and send invitations.

The book stores announce that senior rings have been ordered and in some stores they may be ordered out of stock. The stones are in three colors—pale red, maroon, and dark blue. The base price for the men's ring is $37.80 and for the smaller, woman's ring, $24. Graduation pins are $18.

Shop Talk

BY HAL COPELAND

"The Phillip Morris Playhouse," featuring outstanding college actors with Hollywood stars, continues its intercollegiate acting competition this Sunday on CBS and KTBC at 7:30 p.m.

Last Sunday's play was "Talk of the Town," starring Ronald Coleman and Minrose Lucas, St. Louis University student and cousin of E. R. Norris, assistant professor of drama.

Worth noting: Ed Minor's "free purchase time" idea. Each day a 30-minute time period is posted in his pharmacy window. Minor gives a cash refund to all customers who purchased at the store during that period the preceding day. Officers of the Texas State Bank select the free time period from a hat each morning.

At your service: An official Parker pen department has just opened in the Texas Book Store . . . Reynolds-Penland is sending complimentary Esquire magazine subscriptions to all the fraternity houses . . . Texas State Bank depositors can now use the drive-in window from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday. The walk-up window is open from 2 until 4 p.m. week days and from noon until 2 p.m. Saturdays.

On the go: Gayle Garner has replaced Ray Sinz as advertising manager of the University Co-Op. Sinz (BJ '51) has moved to Houston . . . Mrs. Lois Hale, advertising manager of Scarbrough's, has just returned from the Hotel Statler in New York City, where she attended the forty-first annual convention of the Retail Dry Goods Association. Mrs. Hale is on the board of directors of the RDGA sales promotion division.

Building notes: A 300-car parking garage is constructed by the American National Bank on the corner of Sixth and Colorado. The building will also contain small specialty shops and a central package delivery service . . . "Cool comfort is the goal of E. R. Tolman, manager of the Piccadilly Cafeteria.
