Dear Sam Gieseey :

I am very pleased to see you taking one of my students. Don Dunbar is capable and intelligent. I think he has considerable talent in him that can be developed. He is still very young and may possibly need a firm hand on occasion. I believe he will make you a good man.

Don has mapped an area in east Texas for his master's thesis. The area is a portion of the Cushing quadrangle, which is located astride the Mount Enterprise fault. The whole quadrangle is a commercial project that is to be mapped by several graduate students and is to be published as soon as these several students have turned in their shares. Don's share is needed for completion of the quadrangle. Hence, I would appreciate it if you could see to it that he turns in his map and report, which make up his thesis, before he starts to work for you. Some companies make employment contingent upon completion of the master's thesis.

With best personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

H. B. Stenzel, Geologist
