Dear Doc:

I was really surprised to hear from you and you can be sure that I realize what an honor it is to have a letter from such a distinguished person. Seriously, I was very glad to hear from you and I am sorry a trip to Chicago is impossible at this time.

Since Dr. Morse and his staff do practically all of the hiring, I am passing this information on to them immediately and they will contact Mr. Bookout. We surely do appreciate your calling our attention to outstanding men and if the quota is already filled for Shell's training pool, I will contact this man direct.

Our family is fine and we have already learned to square dance. Best regards.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read 'Mac'.

P.S. Why don't you come by to see us on your way back from Chicago?
