Dear Fred and Pat::

I am still trying to recover from my trip and to disentangle my various affairs. The trouble is, such a successful trip raises a lot of new problems, and all I am doing now is writing letters to follow up $\frac{1}{2}$ conferences and plans that were formulated in Dallas.

I would also feel much happier and more contented, were that charming little girl still sitting on my lap. There is something very soothing about cuddly babies. One needs them. Please give each one of your children a hug and kiss from me. You are very fortunate to have these 4 fine children and I wish I could enjoy them more often.

Anybody can produce a good steak and a cook out, but only few people can furnish 4 loveable children to increase the hospitality. Many, many thanks.

Please give my regards to your mother and your various brothers and sisters.

Cordially,

H. B. Stenzel
