Bureau of Economic Geology
Austin, Texas

Dear Dr. Stenzel:

I have been intending to write to you ever since my return from the geological meet, but have been so crowded with work that I have neglected to take care of some of the correspondence which should have been attended to.

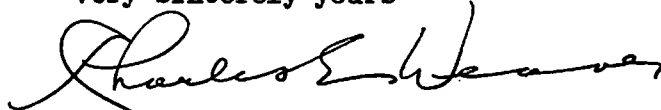

I was just about to write you several days ago regarding the shipment of the fossils and rocks which I collected while with you in Texas, but the box which you shipped by freight arrived in the meantime. It came through in fine shape and the University has paid the freight charges.

I want to thank you for looking after this and for having taken the trouble to get the material boxed and shipped. I hope that we can do something for you to repay you for this.

I believe you spoke to me about wishing some collections of our northwestern Eocene. I shall try to get these together sometime in the next six weeks and will send a collection representative of this northwestern Tertiary province.

With best regards,

Very sincerely yours

Charles E. Weaver
