FEATURES AND CHRONOLOGY

Edited by Charles Michael Dickey and Alan R. Erwin

Students Struggled To Select Sections At Registration

Above left: Students lined up well ahead of time in front of Gregory Gym awaiting the registration ordeal. Above right: Ready for the battle with sectionizers, students watched the proceedings on the floor below.

Left: Through the mob on the crowded gym floor students rushed from line to line to pull cards for classes.

Above: Students had bills totaled, wrote checks, then waited in line for the men behind the cage to take money and cards to end registration. Left: It was the perfect schedule until the sectionizer got it!

Many Matched With Greek Groups During Rush Regalia

Top: Prospective rushees formed a procession between girls' dormitories and Hogg Auditorium, scene of Rush orientation. Above: Rushees at the Tri-Delt house were entertained with the sisters' witty, colorful skit during second round parties of fall Rush activities.

Top: Sigma Nu brothers provided cards and refreshments to entertain rushees, Left: More than 700 men were pledged by fraternities after three rounds of relaxed rushing parties, Above: Tension was broken as 774 rushees accepted bids in women's rush.

Sales, Sphinx, Socializing, And Spooks Started Autumn Activities

Above Left: Co-op basement is swamped with anxious students seeking Fall Semester texts. Above Right: The loud music of The Chandelles and tasty refreshments provided by the Union in the Main Ballroom guaranteed a lively welcome for new students. Below Right: Strange sights and sounds of Rag sales promotion attracted prospective buyers for the new off-campus newspaper.

Right: Girls tapped for Angel Flight received a welcome from current members and honor guard recognition from the Air Force ROTC. Below: Cheerleaders on the porch of the Union led fans in Longhorn pep rally prior to the Rice game. Bottom Left: Registration for Annual Dads' Day Ceremonies, held this year during the SMU game, found parents interested in conversation and refreshments in Union Main Ballroom.

Pumpkins, Peace Corps And Planned Programs Promised Profitable Leisure

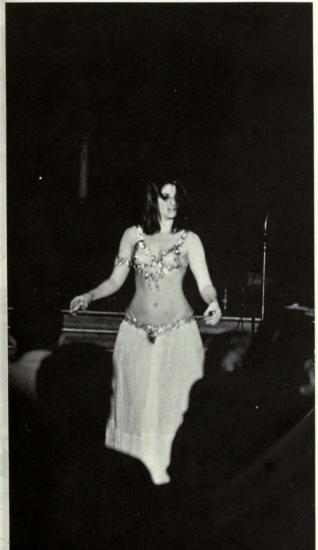

Top: Students exercised creative talent on pumpkins in preparation for the Great Pumpkin's night; prizewinning jack-o-lantern at the "Brew SMU" patio party was Eta Sigma Phi's. Above: Gentle Thursday, a day of peace sponsored by the SDS, came to campus with balloons, bare feet, colored chalk, and musical instruments. Right: Peace Corps representatives on the West Mall answered questions and distributed literature to interested students in Fall application drive on campus.

Top: Students did double takes when looking at the time for several days as workmen made reparations on the face of the clock. Above: The Campus Competitions Committee sponsored another lively activity at the Union when they had a "Casino Night" with play money and various types of gambling. Left: Scheherazade Festival, sponsored by the Organization of Arab students featured skits, exotic dancing, and the story of Scheherazade, Arab mythology figure.

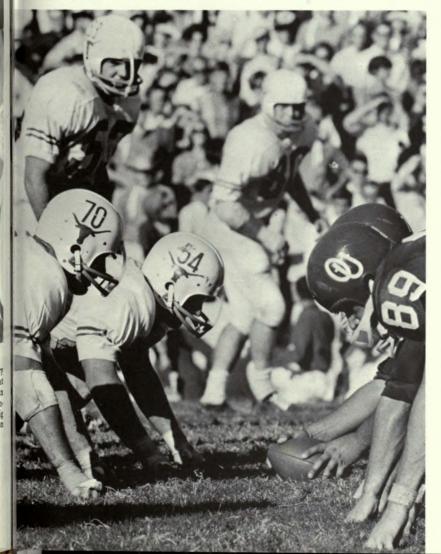

Top: It took a sleepy 8 o'clock wait in Gregory Gym by many UT fans hoping to secure seats at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. Above: Streets in downtown Dallas resounded with the wild, frenzied yells of "hook 'em horns" and "go, Big Red" as Texas and O.U. fans filled the city on Friday night.

OU Weekend Only Comes Once A Year

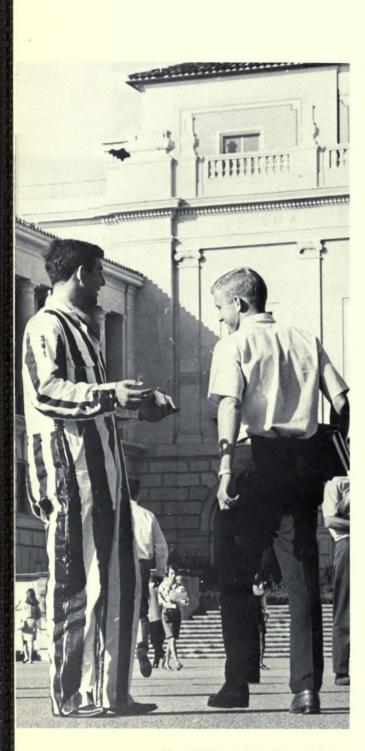

Top: Students stormed the end zone and tore down the goalpost at the end of the game, as the couple in the foreground gave the signs of the schools in the contest. Above: Miss America, an Oklahoma beauty, added a refreshing touch to a traditionally heated game. Left: The defensive team lined up to hold back OU's forward progress.

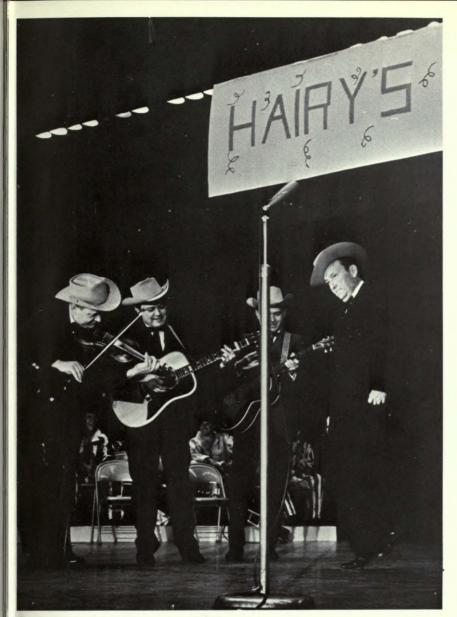

Cowboys Cavorted, Created Comedy For Annual Show For Charity

Above: While students changed classes, a persuasive Cowboy in his show costume tried his sales pitch on a passing student in front of the Main Building. Right: Last year's Sweetheart, Ginger Bernard, presented flowers to the new Cowboy Sweetheart, Francie Bernard in a happy climax to the show.

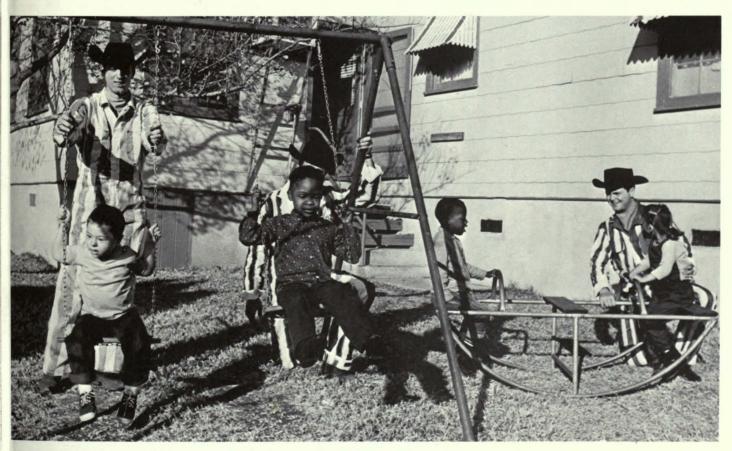

Left: The Lester Platt and Earl Scruggs group entertained the audience with lively country music. Below: Chattie Lou, sexy star of the Minstrel show was followed by whistles and cat calls from the Cowboy audience behind her. Bottom: Cowboys often work with the children who are benefited by the proceeds of the show which are given to the Austin Council for Retarded Children.

Dimes Day, Derbies, Tutoring Took Greek Time

Left: The excellent soloists, colorful sets, and beautiful costumes were the special delight of the University Opera Workshop's production of Smetana's comic opera, "The Bartered Bride." Below: Fantastic skill and unusual versatility greeted students who attended the CEC sponsored performance of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet.

Collegiate Review, Cressida, and Concerts Closed Spring Campus Culture

Above Left: Shakespeare's unique play Troilus and Cressida was presented by the Drama Department, under the direction of B. Iden Payne, in a production that was reviewed as colorful and satiric, but rigid. Above: Jimmy Smith played blues and such moody songs as "Walk on the Wild Side" for the standing-room-only audience of the Second Annual Longhorn Jazz Festival. Left: Joe Williams joined the Jimmy Smith Trio for such solid jazz renditions as "Goin' to Chicago" at the Jazz Festival's Saturday night performance.

Carolers, Claus, and Creative Decorations Caught Christmas Spirit on Campus

Interest Unleashed At Intramural and University Athletics

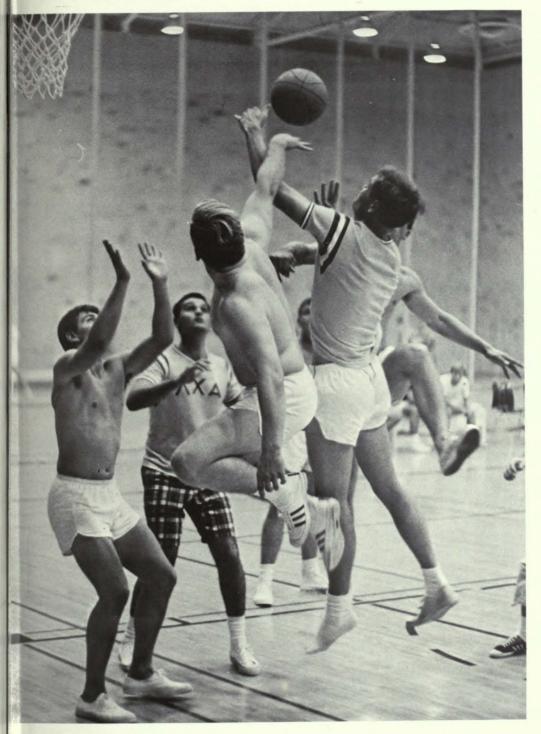

Top: Girls let down their hair for a little rough and tumbling football when there is an intramural trophy to be won. Above: Varsity cheerleaders lead the team onto the field before games to the beat of "Big Bertha," famous Longhorn Band drum, in the background. Right: For the class "A" title in men's intramural football, the Vikings scored a final victory over Moore-Hill Hall.

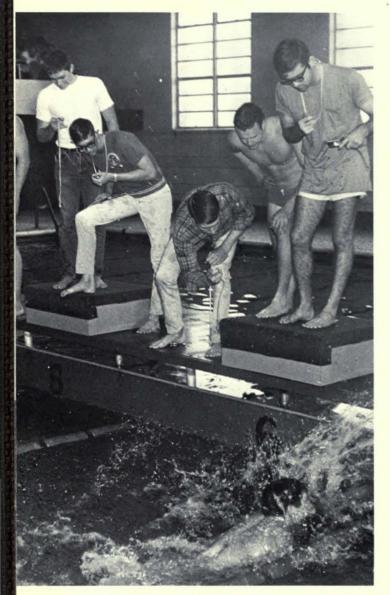

Top: Horns and feathers clashed in Houston as Texas won a 14-6 victory over Rice. Above: The Longhorns raced by TCU to take over second place in SWC standing in the hard-fought game in Gregory Gym. Left: A Lambda Chi Alpha and opponent leap for the ball in an intramural basketball game in the Gregory Gym Annex.

Right: Phi Sigma Delta fraternity had a good turnout at its intramural baseball game at the new men's intramural field. Below: All American Chuck Worrel was timed for a finish by one of his team mates in a meet at UT pool, Middle: Clark Field was scene of several baseball games as the Longhorns went on to tie Texas Christian for Southwest Conference champs, Bottom: Golfers teed off at hole number one of Morris-Williams Golf Course for intramural competition.

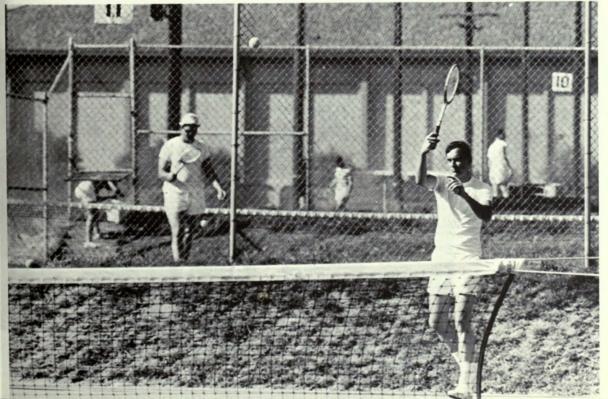

Spring Sports Stimulated As Weather Warmed

Page 53

Top: Challenge Roundtables held throughout the Colloquium offer the students a time to discuss the thoughts of guest lecturers and their own on the population problem. Above: In December, months before the Colloquium, the Challenge Steering Committee interviewed for members of various planning stage committees. Right: The Challenge Colloquium with the topic The Problem is People, presented Kingsley Davis, professor of sociology at University of California, as its first speaker, discussing the sociological applications of the population problem.

Page 63

Below: The Round-Up Trail Drive, traveling down the Drag, began the activities of Round-Up weekend Friday at noon by displaying such "instant" concoctions as Acacia's Round-Up/UT-Bowl entry. Right: Weeks before Round-Up, the Beard-Growing Contest started with a public shaving of participants by University sweetheart finalists in front of the Texas Union. Middle: Hundreds of hungry students gathered for the Annual Cowboy Round-Up Barbecue held Friday afternoon at the intramural field near campus. Bottom Right: Everyone joined in "thuh stampede" to Round-Up, including the builders of the new apartment-hotel for University students located just off the Drag. Bottom Left: The Negro Association for Progress sponsored a demonstration on the West Mall during Round-Up to emphasize various opinions on the identity of the Negro, race relations at the University, and the Negro in society.

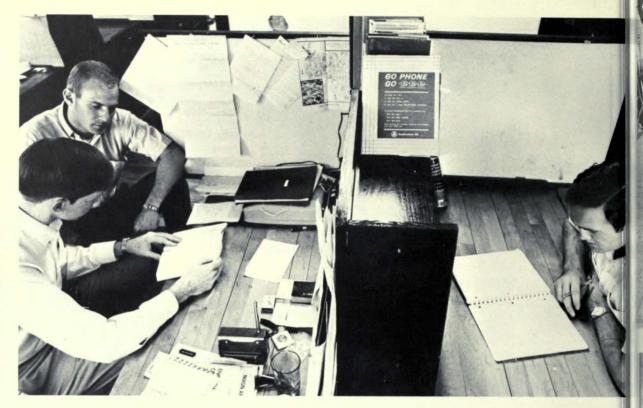

Round-up Roared

Top: Round-Up Showcase exhibits of projects and activities by colleges, organizations, and departments of the University attracted students and visitors who wandered through the displays in the Main Ballroom of the Union. Above: Greek and campus groups constructed humorous Western store-fronts on the West Mall during the celebration of Round-Up. Left: Paula Savage, new University Sweetheart, posed with her roses at the Sweetheart Ball held in Gregory Gym.

Right: Studying is another of the activities that can be pursued jointly in the men's co-operatives. Below: The members of Delta Phi Epsilon sorority enjoyed an informal chapter dinner together at their house. Below Right: Co-op residents shared work, cut living costs, and enjoyed the fellowship of a small living unit. Bottom: A talent show featuring skits and musical numbers by various men's and women's co-ops climaxed Co-op Week during the spring semester.

Left: New private dormitories like University Arms provided apartment-like suites, dining areas, and swimming pools for resident coeds. Middle: Apartments were ever increasing living units around the campus, despite the added chores of dishwashing and cleaning up. Below: Young married students with children and furniture lived in the Colorado Apartments or other low-cost unfurnished housing units provided by the University. Bottom: Even rooms in the older men's residences, like Roberts Hall, can be fixed up nicely to afford an atmosphere conducive to study.

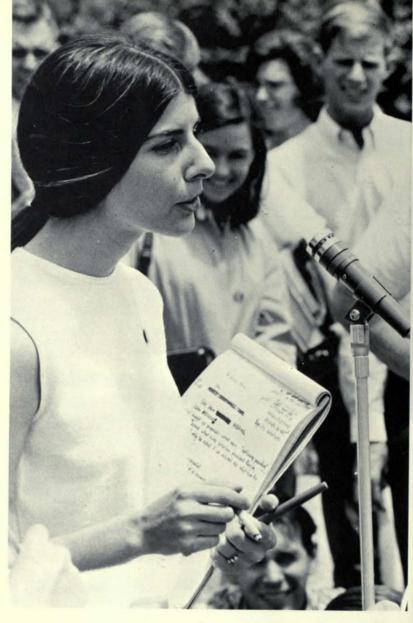

Living Units Encompassed Leisure, Luxury, Learning And Work

Elections Excited Enthusiasm Everywhere

Top Left: Vice-Presidential candidate Bob Thompson, campaigning on the Main Mall, expressed his views on the new constitution and organization of the Student Association to interested voters. Top Right: The polls were closed, but the ravages of war were apparent around every trash can. Above: Despite the rain on election day, there was a good voting turnout for all the colleges. Left: With the aide of the Spooks, members of GDE, and APO's, students in Arts and Sciences cast their vote on the Main Mall in front of the Tower.

Finals Frustrated Many

Top: Academic Center reserve book desk did brisk business as students tried to catch up on outside reading and write papers before the last minute. Above: Students tallied semester receipts at the Co-op before stuffing them in envelopes for the auditor. Left: Lines grew long at Xerox machines in the A.C. as days in the semester grew fewer.

... And Then Graduation.

CHRONOLOGY

SUMMER

SUMMER, 1966—A violent, seething summer of social unrest and economic insecurity expressed in rioting and killing climaxed in the minds of University students when a mentally ill student chose the Tower as a vantage point and began a shooting spree at noon Aug. 1 which left seventeen persons, including the sniper himself, dead. National television and magazines immediately labeled it "The Tower Tragedy" and chalked it up as the worst homicidal incident in recent history—but it proved a matter of months before students could "chalk it up" and again consider the Tower as the symbol of education it is.

SEPTEMBER

- Sunday, 4th—Nearly 1100 girls and 1084 boys from Edna to Wink to Farmer's Branch invaded the campus in an effort to become Greek as sorority rush formally began and fraternity rush climaxed a busy, political summer.
- Saturday, 10th—The smallest number of bids in recent history was handed out to only 707 boys out of the total registered for rush. The average number for a pledge class in the past had been 38. This year—23.
- Sunday, 11th—After forty Panhellenic members bid, trumped, ran and won tricks for an entire week, twenty sororities—with some of the past champions and most experienced players losing out in the first round—won a total of 774 girls out of the total 1089 who went through the sorority rush week.
- Monday, 12th—Registration week began with a record 6,500 registering the first day. A new phenomenon—the little orange card—added to the confusion, even though its use was never officially determined. The first edition of the Ranger went on sale with good reviews and a selling campaign which resulted in the first sell-out of the magazine in four years. Editor Gary Bullock was unconscious in Brackenridge Hospital as a result of a truck-motorcycle accident.
- Tuesday, 13th—A cameraman, to scan the Texas-USC game, placed on the Tower, found himself the first man to be allowed on the observation deck since Aug. 2.
- Friday, 16th—Gregory Gym registered its last student—Roy Edwards 3:15—number 25,794—and closed its doors on the biggest and most hectic registration week in the history of the school.
- Saturday, 17th—The University of Texas, with a team of extremely talented, but very inexperienced sophomores, came close to defeating a nationally-rated University of Southern California team—but finally died on the threshold of victory with the score 10-6. Bill "Superman" Bradley lived up to his name before an audience of 40 million.
- Sunday, 18th—The daughter of Charles Percy, prominent political figure and candidate for senator from Illinois, was murdered in the Percy mansion in Kinelwood, Ill., and the murder went unsolved. Police found no clues and no suspects.
- Monday, 19th—Both classes at the University and the state political party conventions opened with equal confusion. Democrats in Austin vowed to put everything they could into the Carr for Senator campaign, taking occasional swipes at the "Little Man From North Texas"

- while Republicans opened in San Antonio with equal anti-Carr statements. Student Association Vice-President Bob Denhman resigned his post to attend Harvard and the decision on how to replace him was dumped on the Student Association Court.
- Wednesday, 21st—Often unpopular and even more often adamant Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach resigned his post to become Under Secretary of State under Dean Rusk. Eyes immediately looked to the ranks of Texas lawyers in Washington as prospects for the empty position. As Governor John Connally called for a new Texas Constitution and the Dow Jones average dipped below 800, Texan Editor John Economidy editorialized on the fat legs vs. miniskirts controversy.
- Thursday, 22nd—Another magazine editor bit the dust in higher Texas education as Texas Techsan Richard Schreibstein got the axe for printing a "disrespectful and sinful" perpetrated interview between Jesus and Beatle John Lennon in which the singer got the upper-hand. Snoopy returned to his home for the first time today since it burned Sept. 18 and took a nap in the ashes.
- Saturday, 24th—The once again "Mighty" Longhorns rolled over the Texas Tech Raiders in a 31-21 rout in Lubbock. Greg Lott ran back the opening kick-off 88 yards for six points, and Bill Bradley and Chris Gilbert continued to look their impressive selves as Texas outscored, outplayed, and out-classed Tech for the first conference victory. After a week of interviews, committee selections for Texas Union were announced.
- Sunday, 25th—Walter Moore, assistant director and architect for the University, announced that twin 14-story buildings will be completed on the present site of the women's athletic field in 1968.
- Monday, 26th—Daily Texan revealed that almost half the students interviewed on the University campus favored Senator John Tower in November's senatorial election. Another one-third begged neutrality with the remainder favoring Waggoner Carr, Democratic candidate. Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey was heckled by a group of 50 students about the war in Viet Nam as he spoke at San Fernando College in California, and in London, all major theater performances were stopped as planned demonstrations against US Viet Nam policy erupted in the audiences of the major theaters. Observers reported the crowds were more or less in agreement with the demonstrators. Enrollment at the University today reached 27, 158.
- Tuesday, 27th—President Lyndon Johnson announced his intention to attend a seven-nation peace conference in the Philippines Oct. 18.
- Wednesday, 28th—The Stock Market today dropped to its lowest mark since the Aug. 29 fiasco. The Dow-Jones average dropped 13.4 points to 780, nearly 200 points below the previous high of the early Johnson Administration. Dean Jack Holland, David Lambert and Shirley Bird Perry and other Union "big dogs" welcomed new committee members and chairmen to another year of hard work, little recognition, and a lot of frustration in the Texas Union.
- Thursday, 29th—The Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation announced a grant of $700,000 to the University, making it one of the leading institutions in the nation in the field of controlled nuclear fission. The process is aimed at eventually finding a cheaper means of converting sea water and harnessing the energy used in such a project. Louis Armstrong wowed crowds at the Austin Municipal Auditorium.

Friday, 30th—Tremendously powerful killer Inez, after her anti-communist 160 miles per hour winds devastated Cuba's banana, sugar, and tobacco crops, turned north and headed for Florida with much weaker winds—but only after leaving a death total of more than 1,300 over the tropical Atlantic and Caribbean. Late registration figures reached a high of 27,286.

OCTOBER

- Saturday, 1st—Sparked by an "emotional contagion" after an injury took "Super" Bill Bradley out of the stadium, the Longhorns, under the supervision of impressive Andy White, crushed Indiana 35-0. The Student Court gave the Student Assembly permission to choose a new vice president from its own ranks.
- Sunday, 2nd—The Board of Regents of the University gave the go-ahead for Texas Student Publications to plan their new building which will house complete printing facilities for The Daily Texan and all student publication offices. A 24-hour communication system for students needing advice or information was instituted.
- Monday, 3rd—Former President Eisenhower hinted he would not rule out the use of nuclear devices in Viet Nam were he president. The Dow-Jones average hit rock bottom—757.96—the lowest point since the Kennedy assassination. Campus Young Republicans celebrated their 30th year at the University and their biggest membership in that 30-year history, 1,050.
- Tuesday, 4th—Hurricane Inez turned around and moved into the Gulf of Mexico, regained strength, and aimed at the Gulf Coast of the United States. Quarterback Andy White told a Texan reporter he turned down Yale, Princeton, and Brown for Texas' Plan II program and Darrell Royal football.
- Wednesday, 5th—Duke Ellington and Ella Fitzgerald mesmerized an overflow audience in Municipal Auditorium with performance number one of the Cultural Entertainment Committee year. The Rep Party held its first meeting of the year at the Kappa Alpha fraternity house to select a list of candidates for the Oct. 26 general election—apparently with no competing party. Texas Court of Criminal Appeals overthrew Jack Ruby's conviction of the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald and granted a new trial outside Dallas County.
- Thursday, 6th—John Goodman, College of Business Administration representative to the Assembly, was elected vice president of the Assembly. Coach Darrell Royal announced that "Super-Bill" would be ready for the Arkansas game. Law student Bob Sohn was voted as the Assembly's appointment to the Union Board of Directors. Texas Yearlings won their first game 13-7 with a last minute defensive effort over the Baylor Cubs.
- Friday, 7th—A mass desertion of campus began as the famous OU-Weekend called students to Dallas for the annual orgy. In the Gulf of Mexico, Inez, now one of the oldest hurricanes in the history of weather forecasting, made advances on the Mexican and Texan coastlines with residents from Tampico to Galveston holding their breath. Officials at Texas A&M announced the dismissal of Battalion Editor Tommy DeFrank and his top two aides for undisclosed reasons.
- Saturday, 8th—Ending a nine-year dry spell in the state of Oklahoma, the Sooners kicked their way to an 18-9 victory over the Longhorns in the Dallas Cotton Bowl, while little Baylor, the only long-time school in the Southwest Conference never to have won the conference title, crumbled Arkansas' fortress in the Ozarks with

- an unexpected 7-0 victory over the Hogs.
- Sunday, 9th—The Baltimore Orioles swept the World Series in their fourth game by a score of 1-0, leaving Los Angeles scoreless for a world series record of 29 straight innings. The University campus slowly came back to life as the Dallas travelers returned and those who stayed in Austin came out of hiding.
- Monday, 10th—Texan Editor John Economidy called for an end to the charges that the Texan was no longer a voice in student affairs as he stated that he had written many more editorials to date than his feminine ancestor Kay Northcott. The Rag, a small satire of the Texan, sold 1,500 copies its first day. The Supreme Court refused to hear Madelyn Murray O'Hair's suit against the church, thus saying the United States will not tax the churches.
- Tuesday, 11th—Fall general elections got underway with 32 candidates filing for the 18 available seats. The stock market began an upward trend, ending a month of record-breaking losses.
- Friday, 14th—Theta Xi fraternity won the Arkansas Sign Painting contest with their entry "Chop Sooey." Texas' pep rally turned into a near-riot with an estimated 700 persons running wild on the campus after the official pep rally until about 3 a.m.
- Saturday, 15th—Texas bowed to Arkansas for the third year in a row by a score of 12-7. The pigs ran wild as 55,000 proud but dejected Longhorns left Memorial Stadium and hibernated Saturday night—leaving Austin unusually quiet.
- Sunday, 16th—Six outstanding University men were initiated into the Friar Society—Tommy Neal Cowan, David Lambert, Terry Peterson, Platt Davis, Patrick Oxford, and Joe Bill Watkins.
- Monday, 17th—Cartoonist Bill Mauldin advised the journalists in his audience to acquire a "sense of ethics" as he spoke in the Union.
- Wednesday, 19th—Speaker of the Texas House Ben Barnes spoke on campus urging students to support Waggoner Carr in the November senatorial election.
- Thursday, 20th—President Johnson left Washington for a tour of the Pacific, beginning with a "win in Viet Nam" speech in Canberra, Australia.

APRIL

- Monday, 10th—Dark tans and reluctant faces greeted early classes on the first day back-to-school from vacation. Vice President Hubert Humphrey returned from a tour of Europe after weeks of jeering, abuse and demonstrations against the United States planned for his benefit. "A Man For All Seasons" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" swept the annual Academy Awards.
- Tuesday, 11th—Varsity Carnival, a Greek tradition, was cancelled because Panhellenic Council refused to support it. Sen. Red Berry of San Antonio proposed in the Texas Senate a bill to outlaw capital punishment in Texas except in the case of a presidential assassin. Adam Clayton Powell was re-elected to his Harlem Congressional seat, thus forcing Congress to make a decision regarding the free-wheeling Harlem outcast.
- Wednesday, 12th—A newly written constitution for the Students' Association got the approval of the student body. President Johnson, attending a hemisphere summit conference in Uruguay, promised Latin American leaders more economic aid.
- Gentle Thursday, 13th—The second Gentle Thursday of the year on campus, sponsored by the Students For a Democratic Society attracted national attention with pictures of the gentle happenings carried in papers around the nation. Round-Up began with the Cowboy Barbecue and a Round-Up Parade much like the parades of years past when more time and money was spent.
- Friday, 14th—To a somewhat bored audience, Black Power advocate Stokley Carmichael read a quiet and uneventful speech on the University campus. Richard Speck was convicted of the killing of eight student nurses in Chicago July 14.
- Saturday, 15th—The usual riotous fun of Round-Up paused to recognize several well-planned raids by the Liquor Control Board and the crowning of Paula Savage as sweetheart of the University. Bluebonnet Belles were named: Kay Boyles, Brownie Sue Cashion, Beverly Enderle, Helen Ruth Meehan and Dianne Rush.
- Monday, 17th—An old face on campus, the University Party, held its first meeting of the year to plot a challenge to the established Rep Party. Fifteen student presidents of various Alabama colleges officially protested when Gov. Lurleen Wallace announced she will take over the state's schools in defiance of the Federal government.

- Tuesday, 18th—Beat Poet Allen Ginsberg read poetry to 1,000 students gathered in the open-air theater behind the Art Building. Jerry Box was named president of the Texas Union for the 1967-68 school year.
- Wednesday, 19th—Konrad Adenauer, former chancellor of West Germany, died at 91 at his villa near Berlin. Governor John Connally called a special night meeting of the Texas Legislature to propose Texas use an annual budget system of financing state programs instead of the current biennium system.
- Thursday, 20th—The Supreme Court turned down an appeal by Cassius Clay to change his draft status. Thirty-nine students filed for office as the Student Association spring elections got under way.
- Friday, 21st—Tornadoes turned northern Illinois and southern Michigan into disaster areas as 50 persons were killed and property damage climbed into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Army leaders took over the troubled government of Greece in the name of King Constantine.
- Saturday, 22nd—Texas continued to lead the Southwest Conference baseball race by defeating TCU in a crucial 5-3 game. The navy and air force of Greece back the new army-led government.
- Sunday, 23rd—About 150 students, led by Students For A Democratic Society, held a rally on campus to organize a protest of the Viet Nam War for the benefit of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, a Monday guest of the Texas Legislature.
- Monday, 24th—The University announced it no longer recognized the SDS as a campus organization because of their Sunday defiance of the administration. About 50 pickets carry anti-war signs and chants to meet the vice president at the capitol. A Russian cosmonaut died as his capsule's parachute failed to open correctly and he plunged to earth.
- Tuesday, 25th—Six students were charged with defiance of University regulations and referred to a discipline committee because of their part in organizing the Sunday campus meeting of the war protestors. Members of the SDS held another campus rally to protest their "loss of speech." Three former students were arrested in the Union for their part in the incident—one for use of obscene language at the capitol protest and the other two for obstructing justice.
- Wednesday, 26th—The University's Veterans Association held an unauthorized rally on campus to protest administration's action against the SDS. Regents Chairman Frank Erwin spoke at the rally to defend administration actions.
- Thursday, 27th—Crowds congregated on campus throughout the day to discuss the actions of the week concerning "free speech." Texas Aggies marched on the A&M campus to protest a decision by the Aggie Board of Directors to make board fees mandatory for all students.
- Friday, 28th—Hundreds of costumed students gathered in Eastwood Park to help Winnie's Eeyore celebrate his birthday. W. W. Heath, past chairman of the Board of Regents, was sworn in as ambassador to Sweden.
- Sunday, 30th-Bleery-eyed sleepy Texans greeted an early dawn as Texas went on Daylight Savings Time for the first time since World War II.

MAY

- Monday, 1st—Dr. William H. Goetzmann, University professor of history, won the Pulitzer prize for the distinguished book of the year in his field. The Texas Legislature commended University officials for their quick action concerning the protestors as Chancellor Ransom refused to meet with the negotiating committee of the University Freedom Movement, the organization of the "free speech" protestors.
- Tuesday, 2nd—A faculty appellate court ruled to oust Students Association President Clif Drummond because of his deficiency in grades and hours. About 50 young Negroes entered the chamber of the California Legislature and sat down before guards found they had loaded guns with them—they were removed immediately.
- Wednesday, 3rd—With issues confused as a result of the "free speech" movement and a fight within the Rep Party, campus elections yielded some surprises with run-offs in five races and write-in candidates winning pluralities in two races. President Clif Drummond refused to concede his seat, even though Vice President John Goodman, forced into a run-off with Lloyd Doggett for president, was sworn-in as president for the remainder of the term—one week. A&M track star Randy Matson was drafted by Seattle of the National Basketball Association.
- Thursday, 4th—John Goodman, in his first meeting as president of the Student Assembly, failed to gain a quorum as assemblymen boycotted the meeting in protest of the ousting of Clif Drummond. The University campus crawled with "Harry's" as 1700 high school students arrived in Austin for the 57th annual University Interscholastic League competition.
- Saturday, 6th—Ex-Student Association President Clif Drummond relinquished his office to John Goodman. Three captured American pilots were paraded through the streets of Hanoi in a direct violation of the Geneva Treaty of War. The Longhorns won over Texas A&M for co-championship with TCU of the Southwest Conference baseball title.
- Sunday, 7th—After 25 years of coaching championship Longhorn baseball teams, Coach Bibb Falk announced his retirement from University athletics.
- Monday, 8th—The Texas Senate quickly approved a $635 annual pay raise for Texas teachers. Ex-heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, stripped of his title for his actions concerning the draft, was indicted by a Houston grand jury for refusing to serve in the military.
- Wednesday, 10th—Lloyd Doggett was elected president of the Students Association.
- Thursday, 11th—The Negro Association for Progress protested to Athletic Director Darrell Royal of discrimination against qualified Negro athletes in the University's recruiting program. Anti and pro-Mao fighting intensified in the Red Chinese province of Honan.
- Saturday, 13th—Darrell Royal defended the recruiting program of the University with the claim that he had been unable to find any Negro athletes who could meet the entrance requirements of the University. Farm workers in the Texas Valley went back to work to harvest the melon crop after almost one year of striking for a minimum wage.
- Sunday, 14th—"Dove" Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois termed continued bombing of Hanoi "a mistake if we are truly trying to negotiate peace."

Monday, 15th—New Students Association President Lloyd Doggett pledged at his inauguration to make 1967 "the year of the University."

Tuesday, 16th—William Cryer was awarded the William Randolph Hearst Foundation Journalism Award in Washington for a story in the Texan on drugs.

Wednesday, 17th—Violence erupted on the campus of Texas Southern University in Houston as several armed students began taking pot shots across the campus. One policeman was killed and 500 students were arrested on the nearly-wrecked campus.

Thursday, 18th—A hectic, happy, academic year came to a close with mixed feelings—finals and summer both eminent.

Monday, 22nd—Egyptian President Abdel Nasser threatened to close the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli ships in a direct act of aggression against the little Middle East country. Israeli officials vowed they would fight if the entrance to the sea, and Israel's only oil port, were closed.

Tuesday, 23rd-Nearly 10,000 American tourists in the Malford Goldburg recited original poetry at a rally on the West Mall planned by the Negro Association for Progress.

Middle East began an evacuation advised by the United States government. Border clashes began on the Israeli-Arab borders.

Wednesday, 24th—A meeting of the Security Council of the United Nations resulted only in a split between the United States and Russia as to how the crisis should be settled. Border clashes continued between the two forces. Maj. Richard Pearce and his son Richard, 4, sent word from Havana that he had defected to the Cuban Communists.

Thursday, 25th—James Hoffa Jr., son of imprisoned Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa, lost in his bid for a seat in the Michigan Legislature by 158 votes.

JUNE

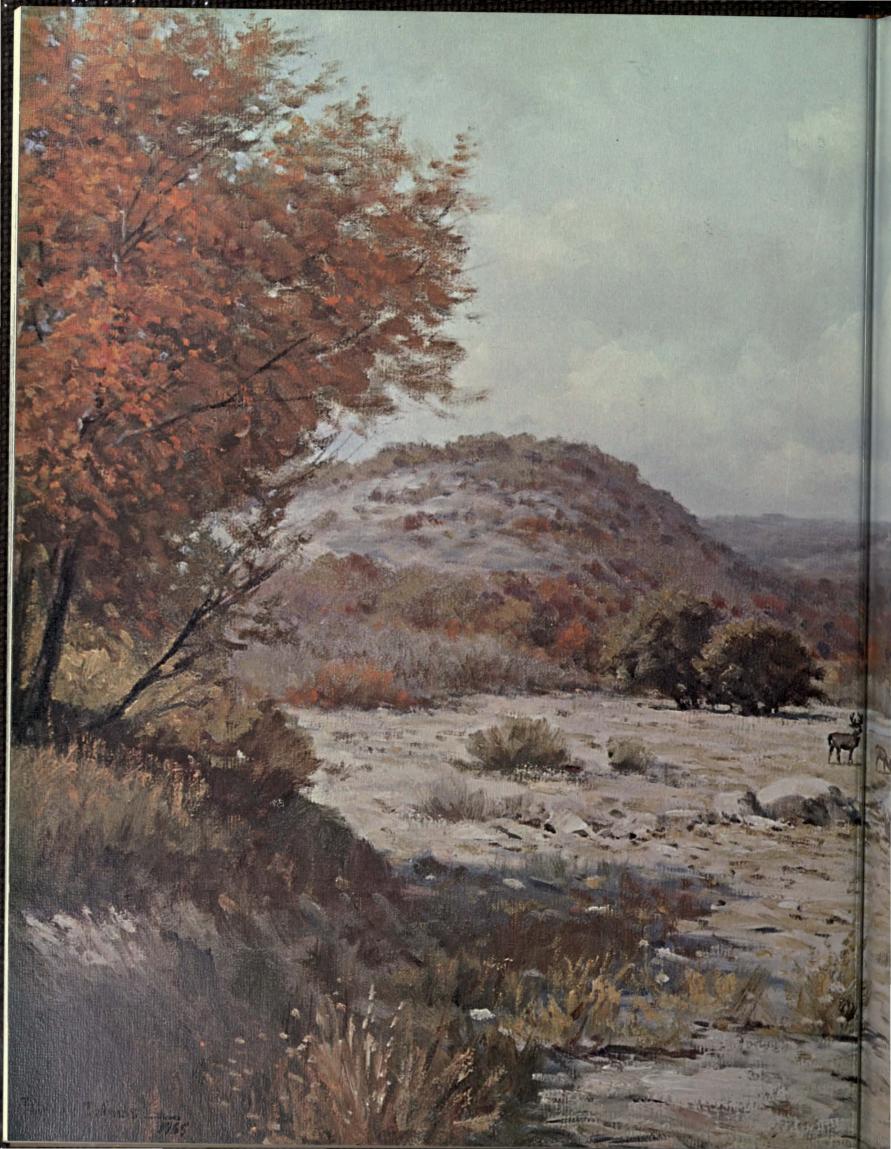

Saturday, 3rd—Nearly 3,000 graduates heard US Attorney General Ramsey Clark, the Rev. James Moudy, and Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaire deliver principle addresses at graduation ceremonies for 1967 graduates of The University of Texas at Austin.

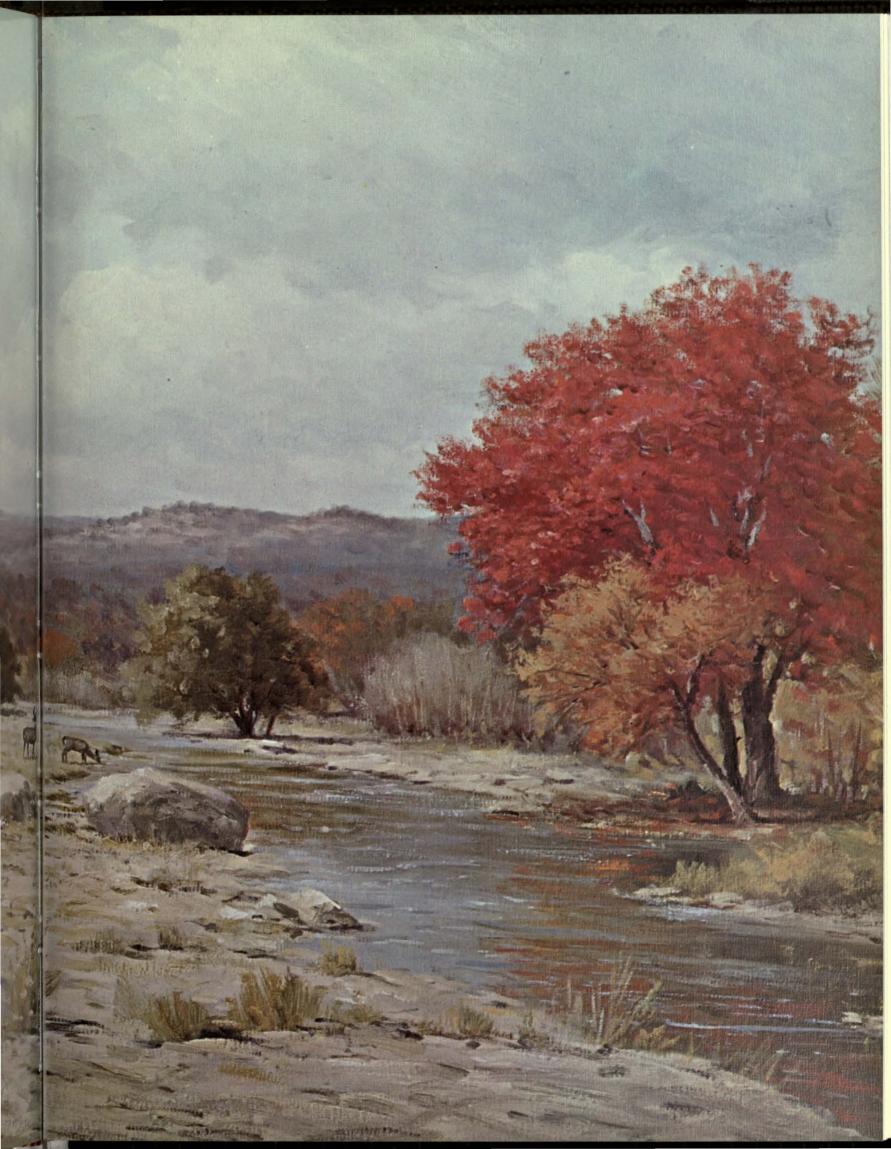

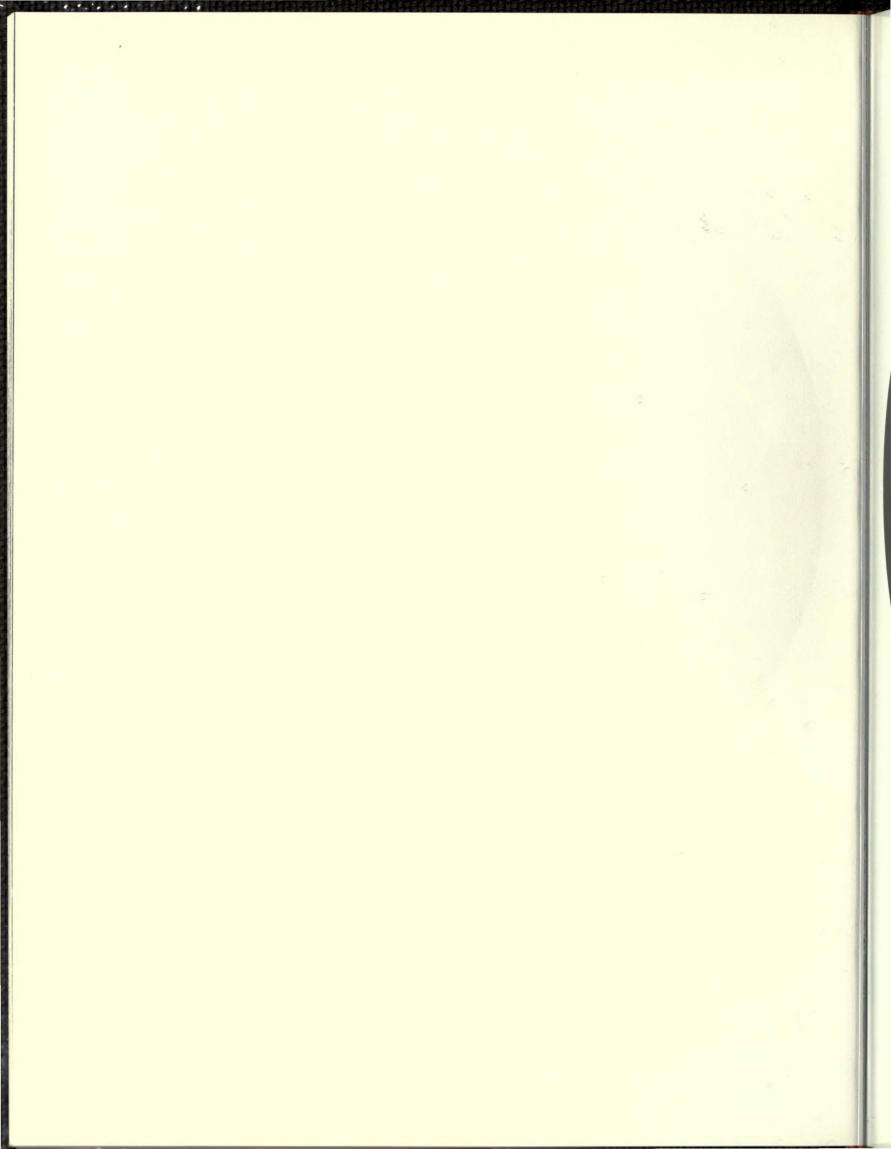

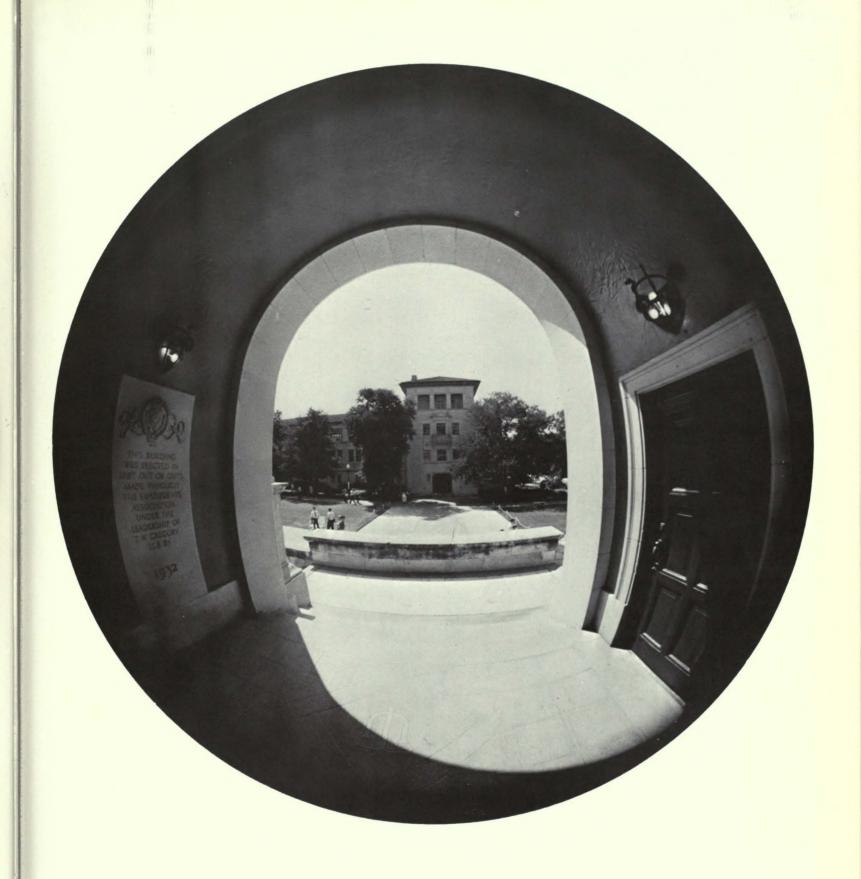

As graduation exercises end, the next thought is to turn in your cap and gown at the University Co-Op.

ASHBEL LITERARY SOCIETY

To further the study of good literature and recognize high standards of scholarship in the field of English, the Ashbel Literary Society was founded in November, 1888, as the first literary and dramatic organization at the University. By enlarging members' general education in a social atmosphere, the society provides opportunities for meeting new people and making new friends.

This year's theme was poetry. Noted speakers were Jenny Lind Porter, poet laureate of Texas, John P. Sullivan, Thomas Mabry Cranfill and Joseph E. Kruppa.

Officers for the year were Carol June Smith, president; Sherri Dianne Sledge, vice-president; Jill Virginia Teague, secretary; Frances Little McMath, treasurer; and Elizabeth Belk, membership chairman. Lois Baird Trice, head of the Ruth Stephan Poetry Center, sponsored the group.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Attempting to furnish the student with all possible opportunities to hear, answer, and live God's call in life on the university campus is the aim of the Baptist Student Union. The ultimate goal of the organization is Christian citizenship.

The BSU participated in several service projects in areas of human needs throughout the year. The organization has worked with the Children's Home, the State Hospital, Senior Citizens, and East Austin. To help make life at the University more rewarding to its students, the BSU offers vespers, study groups, Bible classes, counseling sessions, and fellowship and recreational activities.

The officers of the Executive Council for the year were Larry Don Braidfoot, president; Sally Mayvi Whiteside, vice-president; Brenda Sue Carney, secretary; Frances Ann Clarke, enlistment chairman; Kay Ellen Cude, international chairman; John David Reiff, service chairman; Linda Lee Cunningham, fellowship chairman; Jerry Don Gaither, worship chairman; Donald Mack Cadenhead, study chairman; Joe Ariel Salinas, freshman chairman; and Lynnell

CHI ALPHA

A national religious society sponsored by the General Council of the Assemblies of God, Chi Alpha offers religious discussions, devotional services and fellowship to its members. The University chapter is open to anyone having an interest in the Assembly of God church.

A major activity during the year was the religious work done in the City Housing Courts. Speakers to the group include John Richard Cogdell and author David Wilkerson, a social worker with the drug addicts in New York City.

David Nathan Pate was president; Sidney Lee Lawrence, vice-president; Reba Jeanette Brian, secretary; Paul Harold Hagen, treasurer; and Elaine Wilson, historian. The faculty sponsor was Jimmy Lee Dodd.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

Promoting orderly growth in the study and practice of Christian Science, active membership in the Christian Science Organization provokes students into thought of spiritual values, acquaints them with the responsibilities of true brotherhood and stimulates their search for means of Christian service.

In addition to Thursday night meetings, the fall and spring receptions for new students and spring Alumni Day, the organization sponsored two lectures. The first, "Where Are You Going?" was given by Elbert R. Slaughter of Dallas. In March, Neil H. Bowles spoke on "What Good is Religion?"

Christian Science Organization officers for 1966-67 were Forrest Alex Andrews, president; George Francis Tatman, vice-president; Sylvia Jean Kerckhoff, secretary; Ronald Lynn Hill, treasurer; Anne Mary Fraser, member-at-large; and Pamela Sue Osgood and John Charles Perry, readers, James Rush Brock was sponsor.

CORDETTES

A supplement to Army ROTC, Cordettes, an honorary service organization, selects its members for their scholarship, leadership and service to the University, as well as their beauty and poise. Some of the girls act as sponsors to various brigades, going with them on field trips to places such as Cape Kennedy and New Orleans.

This year's activities included a project which collected $200 for Campus Chest. As a Christmas project, Cordettes wrote cards to the boys in Viet Nam. With the help of the Praetorian Guard, the girls participated in Christmas caroling and an Easter Egg Hunt given for underprivileged children. Members also worked in the Army ROTC office as administrative aides and helped recruit new members. Some of this year's social events were spring and fall rush, tapping and the Military Ball.

Officers for the year were Brenda Sue Dean, commander; Janet Irene King, executive officer; Beverly Kay Enderle, adjutant; Mary Anthony Butschek, comptroller; Lynn Susan Wagner, information; Bettie Townsend Willerson, operations; and Carolyn Virginia Evans, supply. Colonel John Deber Townsend, professor of military science, was the faculty adviser.

CROW'S NEST CLUB

A group of 52 midshipmen of the Naval ROTC, the Crow's Nest Club is a close-knit organization that provides the nucleus of leadership and participation in the NROTC program.

Founded in 1948, it is one of two such organizations in the United States. In addition to providing a living unit for members, the Crow's Nest furnishes an atmosphere of fellowship and cooperation for men who have a common desire to become officers in the US Naval Service. It operates as a cooperative house, and business is handled entirely by elected officers. The group had a full social calendar this year. Among the activities was the annual Christmas party for children from the Pan-American Center in East Austin.

Two members were in the Longhorn Band and two others were Texas Cowboys. The Crow's Nest comprises a large part of the Buccaneer Drill Team and Navy intramural teams which have won the club division championship for the last six years.

Officers of the group were Richard Henry Mason, president; Michael James Clark, vice-president and secretary; Carl Clifton Hill III, treasurer; William Ray Davis, work manager; and Dennis Oliver Olson, food buyer. Lt. Comdr. Melvin Ronald Sommer, USN, associate professor of naval science, was faculty adviser.

GAMMA DELTA

An international association, Gamma Delta is composed of Lutheran college students. The Kappa chapter aims to train Lutheran students for Christian service to God and man, and to maintain and increase local and inter-campus fellowship among students of the Lutheran faith.

This year members participated in community service projects, social activities, theological discussions and studies in contemporary trends in liturgics. They attended such regional events as a summer retreat at Galveston, a fall retreat at Leakey and the annual Gamma Delta convention in Lubbock.

This year officers were Julius Lee Tacquard, president; William Paul Dannevik, vice-president; Linda Kay Graf, secretary; and Irvin Melvin Newman, treasurer. Sponsor was the Rev. Charles Henry Born, pastor of the University Lutheran Church.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

A Texas Union organization, the International Club promotes mutual understanding, cooperation and friendship among American and foreign students. Membership is open to all students and provides opportunities to meet people from many countries.

The International Festival, with a costume ball and an exhibit, was the club's major activity this year. Picnics, suppers, films, dances and exhibits were held. The International Leaders' Conference, Region 12, was held in October. William Buffum, assistant secretary for international organizational affairs, Washington, D.C., spoke to the group this year.

Officers were Pavlos X. Roussos, president; Gordon D. Bayless Jr., vice-president; Jane Arian Haun, secretary; and Teresa Wang, treasurer.

Committee chairmen for the club were Ahmed O. Thabit and Helen Ann Wells, supper; Sally Ann Matheny, buddy; Ann Gardner Williams, hospitality; and Kathryn Dale Towery, International Hour. Others were Jean Marie Stavinoha, publicity; Fred Majover, dance and social; Lorelei Jean Schmidt, membership and files; and Julia Fu Shaw, Rostam Mehraban Kavoussi and Gerd Gunter Maul, directors-atlarge. The sponsor was Lucille B. Baer.

Kamal El Din Said discussed club activities with Teresa Wang and Pavlos Roussos.

Iranian students put up a sign inviting everyone to help them celebrate their New Year.

IRANIAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Establishing and promoting cultural exchange and understanding between Iranian students and other cultural groups at the University is one of the purposes of the Iranian Students Association. It fosters good relationships among Iranian students themselves as well as with other University students. The association also provides advisory services to aid the Iranian student in his adjustment to campus life.

This year's activities consisted of a Persian New Year's party, a "Seezdeh Bedar" picnic and the International Hour which the group co-sponsored with the International Club.

The association's officers were Behrooz Motazed, president; Abolghaseme Sadegh, vice-president; and Mohamad Tadayon, secretary-treasurer. The group's faculty sponsor was Joe West Neal.

ISRAELI STUDENT ORGANIZATION

Bringing Israeli students closer to the rest of the campus, the University chapter of the Israeli Student Organization opens its membership to any interested person. Members this year were from several Middle Eastern countries as well as North and South America, giving a broad range of views and customs within the group.

Activities for the year included the Chanukah party, an informal get-together for ISO members and families. The ceremony of the lighting of Chanukah candles was observed with traditional food and entertainment.

Mr. Hess, new Israeli consul general in Houston, visited the organization, first to meet individual members and later to give an informative talk on Israel. Other speakers for the year were Moshe Schwarcz, visiting professor of the Hebrew department, and Israeli author, Yizhar. They spoke on the Israeli Nobel Prize winner, S. J. Agnon.

Officers for the year were Tuvia Adar, president; Peter Rona, vice-president; and Abraham Zilkha, secretary-treasurer. Faculty adviser was Rabbi Clyde Terry Sills, director of Hillel Foundation.

KARATE CLUB TAE KWON DO

To all students of the University, the Karate Club offers qualified instruction in karate for self-defense, as a sport and for physical fitness.

This year the club attended the UT Invitational Karate Championships in Austin and the US Invitational in Dallas. At the end of each semester, belt-ranking examinations are given by sixth-degree Black Belt Jhoon Rhee.

Guest instructors were Jhoon Rhee from Washington, DC, Allan Steen, third-degree Black Belt from Dallas, and Bruce Turner, first-degree Black Belt from Maryland.

This year's officers were James David Godfrey, president; James Eric Wharton, vice-president; Walter Eddy Gould, secretary-treasurer; and John Carey Wooley, head instructor. Robert Higley, assistant director of the International Office, sponsored the club.

MITCHELL AEROSPACE FLIGHT

To further the traditions and concepts of the US Air Force, advance space-age citizenship, and support airpower in its role in national security are the aims of Mitchell Aerospace Flight. Creating closer and more efficient relationships within the Air Force ROTC and more effective development of Air Force officers, membership is restricted to freshman and sophomore cadets. The Flight offers them the opportunity to participate in social, service and educational programs.

Major activities of the year included the signing of Christmas cards for servicemen in Viet Nam and a Round-Up booth; at Halloween the group joined with Angel Flight pledges to provide an outing and party for underprivileged children.

This year's officers were Antonio Alvarado, commander; Lloyd Bernard Stearns Jr., executive officer; Earnest Crawford Leake II, operations officer; Frank Chatmon, administrative officer; and Roger Philip Macon, comptroller. Capt. John M. Squires was the faculty adviser.

NEWMAN CLUB

The University Catholic student organization, Newman Club, helps members serve their spiritual, intellectual, and social needs by meeting with other students and discussing current problems.

Also included in the program are speeches by noted religious and professional authorities. Outstanding speakers this year were Father George Murphy, director of Internal Affairs of the National Newman Student Federation, and Father Drinan, professor of law. Fellowship is provided through community service projects as well as social events.

The year's officers were Vidal Falcon, president; Norman Richard Hitzges, first vice-president; Frances Elaine Kramer, second vice-president; William K. Perry, third vice-president; Patricia Graham, secretary; and Paul Russell Peterson, treasurer. Father David O'Brien was the faculty adviser.

Arab students entertained at their annual Scheherazade Festival.

ORGANIZATION OF ARAB STUDENTS

A social and cultural group, the Organization of Arab Students was established to create a good relationship between Arab students and American students. The Texas chapter is one of more than one hundred chapters in the United States and Canada. Members provide free tutoring for those students studying Arabic and the group sends lecturers to churches, schools and civic groups to give them a better understanding of the Arab world.

The major social activities of the OAS were the Scheherazade party and the Arab dinners. At the Scheherazade party, a queen was chosen for the year, and Arabian dances and songs as well as the Scheherazade play were presented. The OAS usually has two dinners during the year. The one in the fall semester honors a faculty member or an Austin city official. This fall the guests at the dinner were Lester Palmer, mayor of Austin, and the City Council.

The fall officers of the OAS were Mahmoud El-Lababidi, president; Musallam Nasser A. Shuman, vice-president; Ibrahim Abbas Natto, secretary; Saeed Hussain Buraiky, treasurer; and Hussein Hassan Abudawood, social chairman. The spring officers were Saeed Hussain Buraiky, president; Olga Nasri Ghantous, vice-president; Ibrahim Abbas Natto, secretary; Ahmed Othman Thabit, treasurer; and Hussein Hassan Abudawood, social chairman.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MAJORS CLUB

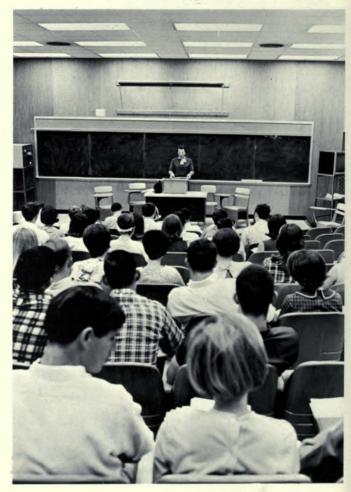

Opportunities for professional advancement, educational enrichment, and promotion of the profession by providing leadership and service to the University are the goals of the Physical Education Majors Club. Membership is open to all undergraduate and graduate majors in physical and health education, elementary education majors with a specialization in physical and health education, and to the members of the faculty of the Department of Physical and Health Education.

Major activities of the year included an orientation to the department for Texas high school seniors and a banquet honoring all seniors in the department. Guest speakers to the group included Elnora J. Noack, Lloyd Messersmith, Lynn Wade McCraw and several teachers from the Austin Public Schools.

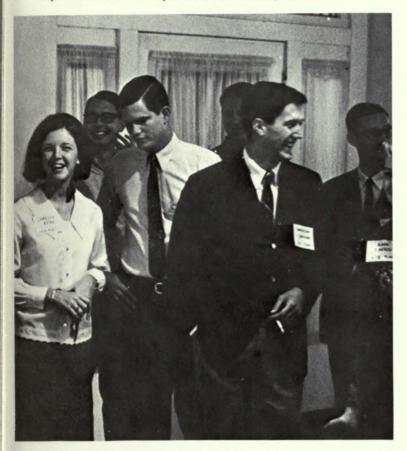

At the last annual meeting of the PEM club, a class of health students from Austin High School gave us a fine example of such a class. Their teacher was Betty Wright, health instructor at Austin High School. Topics discussed by the health class ranged from traits most admired in girls to selecting one's career. This class showed a high level of maturity and seemed to really enjoy the health course.

Club officers were Jane Pruett Sherrill, president; James Preston Sellars Jr., vice-president; Jane Jarrell Brooks, secretary; and Margaret Elizabeth Lain, treasurer. Lynn McCraw, professor of physical and health education, sponsored the club.

At the April meeting Miss Betty Wright, health instructor at Austin High School conducted the program entitled "Health Education."

Tejas members held an Open House for Assembly candidates.

TEJAS CLUB

Providing an intellectual atmosphere of scholarship, leadership and fellowship for its members, the all-male organization of the Tejas Club attracts members with above-average academic and leadership abilities.

In order to provide closer student-faculty relationships, the club invited professors as dinner guests. It also sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Speakers to the group included Judge Joe Greenhill of of the Texas Supreme Court, David Edwards, and James Houston, visiting professor from Oxford.

This year's officers were Charles Michael Dickey, Xinesi; Bobby Marshall Gierisch, vice-president; Joseph Roland Krier, secretary; Richard Ray Spears, business manager; and Robert Ruben Schmidt, social chairman.

ACTUARIAL CLUB

One of the few groups of its kind in the nation, the Actuarial Club was formed to help its members learn more about insurance companies and meet those working in the insurance business.

The highlights of this year's activities were the field trips, one of which was to Dallas where members visited various insurance companies.

Speakers to the club were actuaries well known in the field. Some of these men were from the Southwest, others from the north and east. Eugene Wisdom and George Van Fleet were among the year's speakers.

Officers were Robert Louis Beisenherz, president, and Linda Ann Martin, secretary-treasurer. David G. Beverage was the faculty sponsor.

Melvin Jones, president of American Founders Life Insurance Company, spoke at club meeting.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA

A professional chemistry fraternity, Alpha Chi Sigma offers opportunities for its members to meet with other members in forty-seven national chapters and with men in chemistry and allied professions. It also provides contact for its members with the chemistry and chemical engineering professors at the University. Robert Samuel Schechter was one of the professors who spoke to the group this year.

The organization also offers numerous social activities. Some of this year's events were the fall and spring pledge scavenger hunts, the Christmas and Round-Up formal dances and the Round-Up showcase display.

Members not pictured are Charles Francis Archer, Joe Tom Bouchier, Bobby Joe Bowen, John Wesley Cardwell, John Carl Gilbert, Henry Harvey Hesser, Richard Lee Kammer, Richard Albert Kirsten, Dennis L. ALPHA DELTA SIGMA

Bringing top speakers and programs to the University to keep members aware of the rapid changes in advertising, Alpha Delta Sigma offers summer employment, a scholarship, and contacts in the advertising field for its members.

Speakers included Larry DuPont of Tracy-Locke Advertising, who spoke at the fall banquet, and Bill D. Goforth of Grant Advertising.

Among the year's activities were the Radio Advertising Seminar and a fall banquet and cocktail party. In the spring groups of members went on field trips to Dallas, Fort Worth and New York.

Officers were John Marshall Witherspoon, president; Kenneth Ray Thomas Jr., vice-president; Stephen Chatfield Parten, secretary; and Ronald Thomas Henley, treasurer. Sponsors were Ernest Alonzo Sharpe and William Anthony Mindak.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

The oldest professional business fraternity, founded in 1904, Alpha Kappa Psi links the business curriculum with both service and social activities. It gives members experience in organization, administration, public relations, public speaking and other activities which will be of practical value in their careers in business. Members are selected from business administration students who possess ability and potentiality for business success.

Among the year's activities were three student-faculty luncheons which advanced relationships between students and faculty of the College of Business Administration. Speakers to the group were Howard Cox, president of Capital National Bank, John Strock Bickley and Joe G. Moore Jr. of the Texas Water Development Board.

Fall officers were John Lester Sharp, president; Roger Edwin Camp, vice-president; Ronald Patrick Turner, secretary; Donald Howard Anderson, treasurer; and Gail Leslie Douglas, master of rituals. Spring officers were Ronald Patrick Turner, president; Louis Leroy Squyres Jr., vicepresident; Spencer Leroy O'Connor, secretary; Lee Byron Faulkner, treasurer; John Jay Parmelee Jr., master of rituals.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF ARCHITECTURAL ENGINEERS

The aim of the American Association of Architectural Engineers is to offer conscientious students in architectural engineering a chance to expand their knowledge and interest in design beyond the classroom. This goal is pursued through improved student-faculty relations, acquaintance with professionals in architecture, scholarships to outstanding students and lectures by professionals. This year the AAAE participated in the annual University Power Show and such social events as the AAAE and Engineering Sweetheart elections, a spring picnic, and a spring awards banquet.

Officers were Lawrence Andrew Fuess, president; Ronald Norman Macon, vice-president; Benjamin Herbert Nichols, secretary; and Edmund Joseph Hubenak Jr., treasurer. Faculty sponsor was Barton Darrell Riley.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF AERONAUTICS AND ASTRONAUTICS

A student professional society composed of people in aero-space-related fields of study, the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics provides a link between the academic and industrial worlds, and offers services to the Department of Aero-Space Engineering in the form of a freshman orientation program.

AIAA members toured the facilities of Rocketdyne and of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston this past year. Meetings featured speakers from such organizations as Boeing, Ling-Temco-Vought and NASA.

The annual picnic provided a chance for students to meet with each other and with the faculty in the informal atmosphere of a barbecue.

This year's officers were Carroll Burton Branstetter, chairman; Steven Troy Fisher, vice-chairman; James Robert Kelsey, corresponding secretary; Marvin Edward Willard, recording secretary; and William Eugene Rister, treasurer. Faculty adviser was Richard Reese Ensminger.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS

Preparing students to make the change from academic to professional areas of architecture is the purpose of the student chapter of the American Institute of Architects. It helps the student to understand the responsibilities that he must be able to meet in his architectural career. Members learn to work together by means of lectures, field trips and conventions.

The regional conference of the student AIA was one of the major activities of the year. It was coordinated by Frank Genzer, Texas regional director. The convention topic was "The Student's Concern for his Architectural Education." Speakers of the year were Raymond L. Gaio, director of the state chapter of student affairs, and George Hasslein, dean of the School of Architecture at California State Polytechnic College.

Fall officers were Jon Boykin Decherd, president; J. Lynn Wilson, vice-president; Sheron Smith Hawthorne, secretary; and Edward Blume Wallace, treasurer. Spring officers were J. Lynn Wilson, president; John Ross Breckenridge, vice-president; Anne Mary Fraser, secretary; and James Dennis Wilson, treasurer. The fall sponsor was Richard Proctor Swallow, and the spring sponsor, Frank Edward Whitson Jr.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

Providing its members opportunities to meet with the chemical engineering faculty and to learn of the profession, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers sponsors a speaker each month to describe a chemical engineer's work in his particular industry.

Major activities of the year included the Engineering Power Show, a spring picnic and a trip to a chemical plant.

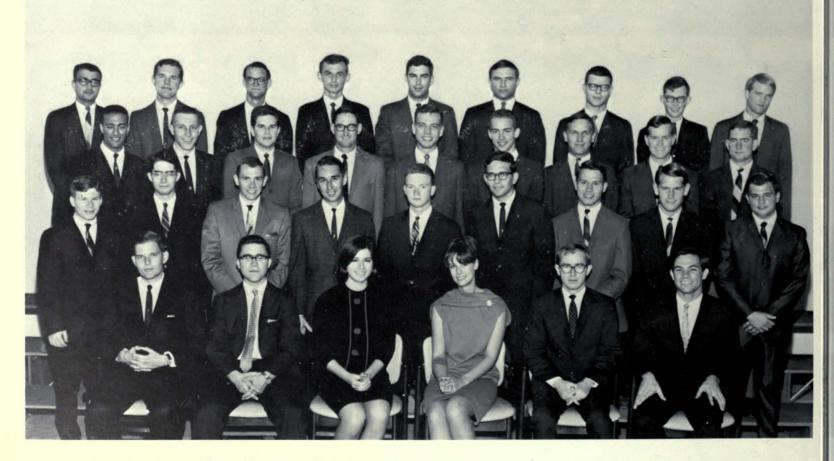

AIChE officers were Ronny Vonhoy Yates, president; David Calhoun Bonner, vice-president; Tim Byron Jahnke, recording secretary; Irvin Melvin Newman Jr., corresponding secretary; and Herman William Hoffman Jr., treasurer. James Rush Brock, associate professor of chemical engineering, was this year's sponsor.

AID members decorated the Christmas tree in the Home Economics

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF INTERIOR DESIGNERS

Through monthly talks by noted speakers, members of the American Institute of Interior Designers are given an opportunity to see and hear what it is like to be an interior designer. Among this year's speakers were Ann Weber and Nancy Peavy, interior designers from Austin. During the spring semester, Kay Davis of Mildred English Studios, and Herman Jassen, an architect from San Antonio, spoke to the group.

AID is open to any upperclassman majoring in interior design. It offers the student a view of the different fields open to him. Activities included an AID spring banquet, participation in Round-Up Showcase and a tour of Austin homes.

This year's officers were Vickie Lee Herold, president; Sarah Beth Reveley, vice-president; Carol Ann Clark, secretary; Carol Thorpe, corresponding secretary; and David Harrison Wright, treasurer. AID sponsor was Anna Brightman.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF MINING, METALLURGICAL AND PETROLEUM ENGINEERS

With speakers from oil companies, the Society of Petroleum Engineers of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers offered members the opportunity to relate their education to the work of the industry. It also promotes the science of mining with participation in local and national essay contests sponsored by the AIME, and in national meetings.

In April, organization members helped plan the Power Show exhibit held in the Engineering Science Building. The Christmas dance, spring and fall picnics and intramural sports were some of the social activities.

Officers were Jerome Pawelek Jr., president; Thomas Wood, vice-president; Larry Harrison, secretary; Robert Appling, treasurer; and Charles Rene Houssiere III, program chairman. Ben Hall Caudle sponsored the group.

Bill D. Goforth of Grant Advertising Agency spoke to AMA members.

AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION

The University chapter of the American Marketing Association serves its members through talks with educators and distinguished members of the marketing field.

Speakers this year included Charles Goodyear, vice-president of Humble Oil marketing research; Sterling Swift, regional director of Prentice-Hall Publishers; W. T. Tucker; and Bill D. Goforth, vice-president of Grant Advertising. In addition to having guest speakers to stimulate interest in marketing, the organization aided in new-product introduction and gave informal parties.

Officers this year were Jef Carson, president; Dennis Heflin III, vice-president; Anne Elizabeth Blankenship, secretary; Joe Pitzer, treasurer; Kent Platzer, publication; and Donald Leon Carr, CBA representative. The faculty sponsor was Norton E. Marks.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

The purpose of the American Society of Civil Engineers is to acquaint civil engineering students with each other and with practicing engineers through technical talks at biweekly meetings.

This year the members attended both the state ASCE meeting held in Austin and the national meeting held in Dallas. Other activities included spring and fall picnics and the annual spring Power Show at which the organization had displays.

Officers for the fall semester were Samuel David Ellison, president; Michael Eddie Cavalier, vice-president; Cecil Edward Adcock, treasurer; John Philip Buckner, secretary; and David Richard Washington, SEC representative. The spring officers were Michael Eddie Cavalier, president; Donald Marvin Horton, vice-president; Cecil Edward Adcock, treasurer; David Richard Washington, secretary; and Victor William Wehman Jr., SEC representative. Sponsor for the group was Joseph Francis Malina Jr., associate professor of civil engineering.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The purpose of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is to increase the knowledge of theory and practice of mechanical engineering. Through close contact with the engineering faculty and students in preparation of technical and social activities, the society prepares its members for their future careers.

A main event of this season was a balloon debate. Contestants included John Robert Silber, J. Neils Thompson, Robert F. Drinan and Clif Drummond. Other activities were a gas economy run, fall and spring picnics, a technical paper contest and a power show.

Among speakers to the group were Ray Gould of the Freeport Sulphur Company and George King from the Dallas Power and Light Company.

ASME officers were Rostam Mehraban Kavoussi, chairman; Eddie Ryan Howe, first vice-chairman; Charles Arthur Roeber, recording secretary; Lawrence Daniel Dorr, treasurer; Douglas Julian Ferguson and Bruce Lee Shearer, SEC representatives. Alvin David Thomas Jr. sponsored the organization.

Delta Sigma Pi members held a reception for faculty members during CBA Week.

DELTA SIGMA PI

The Beta Kappa chapter of Delta Sigma Pi professional business fraternity is the largest chapter in the United States. Membership is by invitation, with members sharing the ambition to become leaders in the business world. The organization encourages scholarship, social activities and provides contact between the commercial world and students. To acquaint members with the profession, the chapter holds lectures featuring speakers from business and industry throughout the country.

This year the group took a field trip both semesters, and also participated in CBA Week. They held their annual Christmas Dance and their spring Rose Dance.

HOME ECONOMICS CHAPTER

In addition to improvement of faculty-student and student-student relations, the Home Economics Chapter offers opportunities to learn about all phases of the field. The chapter, one of the largest in Texas colleges, awards three scholarships a year and is affiliated with the Texas Home Economics Association and the American Home Economics Association.

Mary Koock, author of the "Texas Cookbook" and manager of Green Pastures and Cambridge Tower restaurants, spoke to the group this year about her cookbook and about entertaining.

This year's officers were Judy Kay Jackson, president; Annette Ripper, first vice-president; Connie Taylor, second vice-president; Linda Latimer, secretary; and Marilyn Martin, treasurer. Faculty sponsors were Helen McHugh and Tracy Aycock.

INSTITUTE OF TRAFFIC ENGINEERS

The professional society for a growing branch of civil engineering is the Institute of Traffic Engineers. Its purpose is to advance the profession and to act as the repository of its technical knowledge. The group sponsors symposia on traffic engineering education and invites professors, research engineers and students to present papers and to discuss related subjects. ITE participated in this year's Power Show of the College of Engineering.

Institute objectives are development of the art and science of traffic engineering, cultivation of technical knowledge and its dissemination among the members, fostering of education and research, and wider application of services to the motoring public.

Founded in 1930 with thirty charter members, ITE today has close to 3,000 members in every state and United States possession and in fifty other countries. The Institute operates through a departmental and committee structure, backed by a professional headquarters staff in Washington, DC.

The University of Texas Chapter of the Institute of Traffic Engineers was installed in 1965. The membership is open to any engineering student interested in the field of traffic and who has taken or is registered for a transportation engineering course.

Representatives of LPhA planned a program for the capitol-area pharmaceutical association.

LONGHORN PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Longhorn Pharmaceutical Association is to offer its members an opportunity to meet other pharmacy students and to attend lectures on the organization and functions of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. The group offers membership in both the Texas and American Pharmaceutical Associations.

This year's activities included an orientation meeting for new students, the annual Christmas formal, a Career Day program and a film series on pharmaceutical and related information.

Guest speakers to the organization were Dr. Richard Penna, executive secretary of the Academy of General Practice of the American Pharmaceutical Association, and John Barnett of the United States Public Health Service.

The organization's officers were Terry Oliver Tottenham, president; Phillip Randell Bowers, vice-president; Stephanie Anne Evans, recording secretary; Richard John Davis, corresponding secretary; and Carmela Andrea Garcia, treasurer. Bill David Jobe was the faculty advisor.

PHI DELTA CHI

A national pharmacy fraternity, Phi Delta Chi is dedicated to the principles and advancement of the profession of pharmacy. The fraternity's social activities included a coffee honoring members of Kappa Epsilon pharmacy sorority and a Christmas Party for the men at Travis State School.

The fraternity has given its active support to the Student Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association. It promoted the pharmacy profession on campus with the presentation of "Drug Abuse On Campus", a campus-wide symposium on college drug use. This year, the Texas chapter received the Prescott scholarship award for outstanding scholarship program and record.

Phi Delta Chi, founded nationally in 1883, established its Lambda Chapter at The University of Texas in 1905. Dr. William J. Sheffield, assistant professor of pharmacy sponsored the fraternity.

Phi Delta Chi fall officers were Robert Rae Patterson, president; John Richard Wilhelm, vice-president; Sam Neal Blackstone, recording secretary; Bobby Mac Shaffer, corresponding secretary; John Lawrence Harshbarger, treasurer; Glenn Hilton Smith, prelate; John Warren Richardson, master-at-arms; Douglas Wayne Richnow, inner guard.

SIGMA ALPHA ETA

The only national professional society for prospective speech and hearing therapists, Sigma Alpha Eta meets annually with the American Speech and Hearing Association at their national convention. The society's chief purpose is to provide professional growth in the areas of speech pathology, audiology and deaf education. It also offers members participation in social activities.

This year's activities included a Christmas party for all children served by the UT Speech and Hearing Clinic, a spring picnic and tours of various schools and institutions.

Officers were Kathryn Anne Dearing, president; Diana Lynn Boland, vice-president; Susan Ann Stevenson, treasurer; and Kathie Childs, secretary. Faculty adviser was Lear Lee Ashmore.

Key members were Diana Lynn Boland, Kathie Childs, Harriette Ann Clark, Lila B. Coughran, Kathryn Anne Dearing, Evalyn Delilah Lane, Carol Lynne Russell, Doris Ann Solomon, Susan Ann Stevenson and Kathleen Westbrook. Associate members were Elizabeth Rose Bovello, Teresa Jane Branscombe, Cynthia Yolanda Cantu, Jean Marie Christian, Cindy Lou Curry, Martha Joe Hall, Karen Marie Jackson, William David Jones, Susan Lucinda McClain, Martha McGlothlin, Jane Cecily Nyman, Mary Ella Risinger, Patti W. Smith, Sherry Spradley, Cristine Elise Stratton, Lyn Drew Welty and Nancy Elaine Wray.

Members of Sigma Alpha Eta spent many hours with children who have speech and hearing problems.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary women's professional music fraternity, associates its members with others in music by promoting trips to national music conventions and providing speakers from the profession at meetings. The women assist the national chapter of SAI with projects and are eligible for special recognition for achievement in scholar-ship and leadership.

During the year, SAI members ushered for University concerts, participated in band, orchestra, and choir ensembles, and caroled at Christmas with Phi Mu Alpha and Mu Phi Epsilon and also held recitals for fraternity alumnae and the public.

Diane Weber was president; Patti Lou Rogers, vice president; Sandra Kathleen Gregg, recording secretary; Jean Ann Weger, corresponding secretary; and Linda McDavitt, treasurer. Advisors were Professor Charlotte DuBois, Miss Lita Guerra, and Mrs. Bruce Deatherage.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalistic fraternity, is a society which endeavors to raise the standards of competence of its members, to recognize outstanding achievement by journalists, and to promote the recognition of journalism as a profession.

The University chapter of Sigma Delta Chi attempts to carry out this program by sponsoring a variety of activities and speakers throughout the year. Delegates from the chapter attended the national convention in Pittsburgh and the regional meeting in Dallas. Members toured the press facilities at Memorial Stadium and heard how the University handles its sports publicity from Jones Ramsey, sports information director. Mike Quinn, former Washington correspondent of The Dallas Morning News, spoke to the fraternity on covering the nation's capital.

The fraternity was founded in 1909 at DePauw University in Indiana, and now has a world-wide membership of men engaged in virtually every field of journalism. This year's officers locally were William Earle Halstead Jr., president; Laurence C. Jackson, vice-president; Richard Ray Dillard, secretary; and Virgil James Johnson, treasurer. Members not pictured were Thomas P. Barry III, Pat N. Hinson Jr., Chester F. Hunt, Laurence C. Jackson, William Lawrence Malaise, William P. O'Hara, Andrew Miles Ruth, James Edgar Sutton, and John M. Wallace.

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT

Through association with leading educators and businessmen, the Society for the Advancement of Management gives its members a chance to learn about the world of business. Among guest speakers to the group this year were Charles Goodyear, assistant secretary of Humble Oil and Refining Company, and John Cooke, manager of foreign operations, Texas Eastern Transmission Company.

SAM participated in the 28th management conference at the Villa Capri and they made a field trip to Ling-Temco-Vought in Dallas.

Social activities of the season included a coffee for new members, a convoy to the Baylor football game and a fall banquet at the Crest Hotel.

This year's officers were Alan Ross Bird, president; Charles Grady Manley, vice-president; Rosemarie Ellen Penzerro, secretary; Alfred H. Hill, treasurer; and Linda Leach, CBA representative. Faculty sponsor was William Frank Glueck, assistant professor of management.

Members not pictured are Gordon Daisley Bayless Jr., Bill Jack Bexley, Kenneth Dale Bozarth, John Shaw Chaney, Barton Null Cherry, John K. Croisant, Robert I. Ellis, Edward Ray Hall, Alfred H. TEXAS STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

By attending interesting meetings and conventions, the Texas Student Education Association offers its members an opportunity to learn about the different aspects of teaching. This year members of the association attended an area workshop at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi, a state convention in Dallas and an area convention in San Antonio. Other activities included participation in American Education Week, a city-wide book drive and a Christmas party for the Austin State School.

TSEA provides contact with professionals and faculty members. This year guest speakers to the group were Glenn W. Kidd, TSEA state consultant; Charles Victor Bunderson; Bill Dean Francis and Wayne H. Holtzman.

This year's officers were Mary Evangeline Rentz, president; Constance Louise Pollard, first vice-president; Jo Anne Bell, second vice-president; Patricia Ann Ogle, recording secretary; Susan Ann Yowell, corresponding secretary; and Sally Ann Matheny, treasurer. Faculty sponsors were John Ormand Rodgers, Richard J. Connelly and Frances Fallon Fuller.

UT NURSING STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

The function of The University of Texas Nursing Students Association is to give its members the opportunity to work closely with and learn more about the nursing profession.

Club activities included Christmas caroling at Seton, St. Davids and Holy Cross hospitals; district workshops; a spring convention of Texas Nursing Students Association in San Antonio; the national convention in Dallas; and a trip to the University School of Nursing in Galveston. The group sponsored a weekend retreat at Camp Heywood, and a big sister-little sister program to assist freshmen. Speakers this year were Kay Caulkin, public health nurse, and Dr. David O. Johnson, an anesthesiologist in Austin.

HONORARY

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Members of Alpha Epsilon Delta are provided the opportunity to meet representatives from various medical and dental schools on an informal level. Members also have access to extensive quiz files covering required and elective courses in the pre-medical and pre-dental curriculum.

Activities of the group include assisting with registration for pre-medical and pre-dental students, annual initiations, and a spring Awards Banquet and dance. Noted speakers to the group this year were Dr. William K. Jordan, a neurosurgeon from Arkansas; Dr. Ruben H. Adams, assistant dean of student affairs at Southwestern Medical School; Dr. Schofield, dean of the Baylor Medical School; and Dr. C. A. LaMaistre, UT vice-chancellor for health affairs.

The year's officers were Clem Lee Kirkland Jr., president; Judith Ellen Crouch, vice-president; Barbara Anne Carroll, secretary; Brian Thomas Pruitt, treasurer; and William Roger Greenberg, historian. Dr. William Wolfe, chairman of the Department of Special Education, sponsored the group.

ETA KAPPA NU

Founded in 1904 at the University of Illinois, Eta Kappa Nu is the only electrical engineering honor society in existence in the United States. The fraternity speaks for all electrical engineering scholars. Members of Eta Kappa Nu are chosen for their superior academic performance, capacity for hard work, and promise of professional success. The organization has approximately 60,000 members in America.

Eta Kappa Nu offers an excellent program for its members. Bridge, the organization's magazine, keeps members informed of affairs of the society and keeps them in step with the fast-moving profession of electrical engineering. The fraternity attempts to instill in members a deep interest and marked ability in their life work and to bring them into closer union so as to foster a spirit of liberal culture in engineering colleges.

FRIAR SOCIETY

Recognizing outstanding contributions to the University and providing a continuing channel of communication and comradeship between members who are still attending the University and those who have graduated, the Friar Society offers members the opportunity of meeting and discussing the problems and goals of the University with the most outstanding men who have attended this school.

Founded in 1911, the Friar Society is the oldest and highest honorary organization on the campus. It annually selects for membership twelve or fewer men, of secondsemester junior rank or above, who have made significant and outstanding contributions to the University. Specific points considered in selection of new members include leadership, scholarship, service, integrity, character, and evidence of a love for the University. The Society holds two initiation and reunion breakfasts each year to which all members of the Society are invited.

National women's advertising society, Gamma Alpha Chi gives members an opportunity to meet professionals in the field. It orients the students to the problems and advantages of women in advertising, and after graduation, is an excellent means of connection and association with other women in advertising.

The University chapter won the Bea Johnson Achievement Award at the national convention in Phoenix, Ariz., for the best chapter. Speakers, group discussions, and field trips to San Antonio and Houston allowed members to meet public relations and advertising professionals.

Officers for the year were Dianne Louise Sabom, president; Rosemary Armmia Kent, vice-president; Kathleen Karen Kelley, secretary; Judie Lynn Beaver, treasurer; and Deanne Catherine Harrell, news editor. Alan Scott, professor of journalism, sponsored the group.

KAPPA EPSILON

Women pharmacy majors with a satisfactory grade-point average compose Kappa Epsilon. Organized at the University in 1943, the group offers scholarships to eligible members. It was originally founded in 1923 at the University of Iowa by Zada M. Cooper.

Bill D. Jobe of the pharmacy extension service spoke to the organization this year. In December they held an initiation banquet and planned a Christmas party for the children at Travis State School with Phi Delta Chi, pharmacy fraternity. The year's officers were Shirley Marshall Cawyer, president; Teresita Gonzalez, vice-president; Stephanie Anne Evans, recording secretary; Linda Gene Lyons, corresponding secretary; and Carmela Andrea Garcia, treasurer. Sponsor of the group was Mrs. Glenda Baltzer.

Esther Jane Wood Hall, associate professor of Pharmacy is a faculty member and Mrs. Henry Matthew Burlage, Pauline Davidson, Mrs. Gunnar Gjerstad, Dorothy Jane Lidiak, Marie Betzner Morrow, and Martha Rodriguez are associate members.

Members not pictured are: Nina Carol Bates, Johnnye Earlene Cunningham, Patricia Ann Harrington, Carolyn Owens and Lynn Ann Walsh.

PRAETORIAN GUARD

Organized in 1963, Praetorian Guard takes its name from elite Roman troops that guarded Emperor Augustus. Outstanding cadets in the Army and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps Programs make up the group.

Through this organization, members acquaint themselves with all facets of life as an Army or Air Force officer. At weekly meetings guest speakers such as Colonel Ward C. Blacklock, former commanding officer of Fort Lee, Colonel John D. Townsend, and Major Carl Carpenter informed members of the responsibilities of officers.

During the year Praetorian Guard cadets helped in ROTC registration, hosted the Central Texas Invitational Rifle Match in December, and raised flags at football games and Texas Relays. In association with the Daily Texan, Praetorian Guard sponsored a Vietnam Christmas Card Program.

In the fall Gregory Gerard Choban was commanding officer; Keith Allen Maxie, executive officer; Bruce Gordon Luna, sergeant major; Ronald Edward Bergquist, S-1; Gerald Knox Bishop, S-2; James Clifford Hackard, S-3; and William Duncan Knox, S-4. Spring officers were Gerald Knox Bishop, commanding officer; John Francis Kelly Jr., executive officer; John David Boswell, sergeant major; William Reaves Schovajsa, S-1; Phillip Duane Moseley, S-2; James Clifford Hackard, S-3; and William Duncan Knox, S-4. Captain Charles O. Sims sponsored the organization. Lucinda Halstead was sweetheart.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Membership in Scabbard and Blade is based on merit alone. Only outstanding junior and senior members of the three ROTC units at the University are selected. All members are future officers of the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps. The company at Texas is Company G of the Eighth Regiment of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade. There are 184 companies established in leading colleges and universities of the United States and Puerto Rico with a present membership of approximately 107,000 cadets and midshipmen.

Scabbard and Blade offers the opportunity to associate socially and professionally with future officers of all four major services who have proven to be outstanding members of their ROTC units, and a chance to learn more about the other services. Through speakers, service activities, and association with faculty members of the ROTC units, members are able to gain knowledge and experience beneficial to them later as officers.

The year's officers were James Richard Reinauer, captain; James David Mitchell, first lieutenant; John Kennard House, second lieutenant; William Hubert Craig, first sergeant; and Richard James Glaser, pledge trainer.

SCOPE

Striving to instill scholastic achievement in residents of Blanton dormitory, Scope members are eligible with an overall 2.0 grade point average at the University. Scope also encourages its members to be creative, enthusiastic, and open-minded participants of the academic community by taking part in activities on campus.

The organization, which was established in September, 1964, provided language tables and also sponsored guest speakers to the residence.

Officers for the year were Carol Ann Kinsman, president; Carol Elizabeth Welke, vice-president; Pamela Marjorie Giblin, secretary; and Mary Elizabeth Doering, reporter. Mrs. Ruth Moore was sponsor.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

The purpose of the Arnold Air Society is to develop effective Air Force officers. Their goal is to promote fellowship among these officers, to extend to the surrounding community the purpose, tradition, and concepts of the USAF, and to promote space-age citizenship.

This year the AAS worked at the Austin State School carnival, ushered at the United Fund dinner, sponsored operation "bootstrap," a tutoring program among AFROTC cadets, and along with Angel Flight, sponsored singing at a rest home for the aged. Lt. Col. Whaley, national founder of Angel Flight, spoke at the joint Arnold Air and Angel Flight initiation, and Dr. H. Malcolm Macdonald, ROTC liaison officer, spoke to the group on "The Changing Face of Communism."

Fall officers were Bryce E. Bonner, commander; Miguel Berumen III, executive officer; Rufus Green Jr., operations officer; Colin K. Kaufman, administrative officer; Robert Harold Maginal, comptroller; and James Thomas Brown, information officer. Spring officers were Bryce E. Bonner, commander; James Thomas Brown, executive officer; Robert John Mills Jr., operations officer; Stephen Hall Holliday, administrative officer; David Abramowitz, comptroller; and Russell Carlton Cykoski, information officer. Captain Richard J. McGuinness Jr. sponsored the group.

GAMMA DELTA EPSILON

Gamma Delta Epsilon, a service sorority, is based on three principles—friendship, leadership, and service. Friendships are primarily established by becoming acquainted with pledge and active sisters through work on service projects. Leadership is developed by work on planning activities and governing Gamma Delta Epsilon. The third principle is seen in service to the student body and faculty of the University, to its members, and to the nation as participating citizens.

Officers for the fall were Kathy Cameron, president; Peggy Marie Goulding, administrative vice-president; Susan Arlene Osterhaus, service vice-president; Polly Ann Fowler, membership vice-president; Gloria Jean Ozarchuk, secretary; Mary Jean Dawkins, treasurer; and Pamela Agnes Shropshire, reporter-historian. Spring officers were Peggy Marie Goulding, president; Martha Hurst, administrative vice-president; Elizabeth Arlisse Kernodle, service vice-president; Mary Jean Dawkins, secretary; Pamela Agnes Shropshire, treasurer, and Carole Lynn Johnson, reporter-historian. Advisers were Mrs. Virginia Searight, Mrs. Bruce Lynn Taylor, Miss Ruth Smith, and Miss Kathleen Barrows.

LONGHORN BAND

Under the direction of Vincent R. DiNino, the Longhorn Band performed throughout the entire year. The Band entertained at pep rallies, football halftime shows, Texas Relays, and basketball games. The Longhorn Band provided music for commencement activities, Cowboy Minstrels, Dads' Day, the Round-Up parade, and a summer concert series.

Besides providing transportation and admission to University athletic events, the Band sponsored several parties for its members. Students received two hours credit per semester with Band membership and were eligible for various scholarships and awards given by the Band.

Billed as "The Show Band of the Southwest", the Long-horn Band is headed by Vincent R. DiNino, director; John Francis Edmunds, assistant director; and Tommy Neal Cowan, president.

BAND COUNCIL

The Band Council is the student's governing organization in the Longhorn Band. It determines social and financial matters, decides on the lettering of Band members, and along with the director, sets Band policy. The Council is composed of five voting members: Tommy Neal Cowan, president; Kathy Ellen Lohr, first counselor; Allen Neal Boggs, second counselor; Clem Lee Kirkland, third counselor; and Nancy Kay McGehee, fourth counselor. These officers are elected in the late spring and serve for a term of one year.

The ex-officio members of the Band Council are Jo Ann Shaw and William Charles Records, freshman advisors; Kent Morrison Rider, president of Kappa Kappa Psi; and Kathy L. Thompson, president of Tau Beta Sigma. Freshman advisors plan and direct an orientation program for Band freshmen each fall. They are appointed in the spring by the outgoing and incoming Band Councils.

The Longhorn Band's famous "Texas" formation greeted football fans at half-time.

TAU BETA SIGMA

A national honorary service sorority for college bandswomen, Tau Beta Sigma is composed of women who have completed at least one year in the Longhorn Band. They are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, musicianship, and service to the band.

The sorority served the band throughout the year. During the football season, members could be found sewing buttons on band uniforms, painting out-of-town bus signs, and selling Longhorn Band records for the band's scholarship fund. The service of the chapter extended to various band projects, both spring and fall. Freshmen beanies, High School Band Day, and the annual spring banquet provided members with activities for the year.

Officers for the year were Kathy L. Thompson, president; Emma Lea King Mayton, vice-president; Anne Fugate, secretary; Michelle Mae Moltz, treasurer; Carolyn Owens, historian, and Evelyn Duggan Muelder, parliamentarian. Mrs. John F. Edmunds sponsored the group.

ORANGE JACKETS

As a service organization for sophomore and junior women, Orange Jackets offers the opportunity to get to know and work with representative students from many diverse areas of campus life, to become well-informed about everything concerning the University, and to work with administrators, faculty members, and other students in serving the University. The girls served as hostesses for Dads' Day, Round-Up, and receptions for Visiting Fellows and Chilean students. Noted speakers to the group this year were Jack Maguire, director of the Ex-Students' Association, and Roy Vaughan, head of Operation Brainpower.

POSSE

Members of Posse, a co-ed honorary organization, serve to promote spirit at the University. They made signs and painted windows on the Drag for Round-Up, held a raffle for Campus Chest, and helped with service projects for Freshman Council and orientation of transfer students.

Members are selected after their first semester at the University on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Following their western theme, members are called Deputies. Pledges are lassoed when tapped and deputized when initiated.

The year's officers were Joe Bob Kinsel, marshal; Victor Joe Rogers, sheriff; Laura Lee Lehmberg, justice of the peace; William Reagan Birdwell, banker; Wilburn D. Hilton Jr. and Carol Beth Goldman, rabble rousers; Gray Byron Jolink and Karen Bynum, constables, and Barbara Bryn Wycoff, parson. William T. Belt sponsored the Posse.

SILVER SPURS

Male students recognized for scholarship, leadership, and service to the University make up the Silver Spurs. Founded in 1938, the primary function of the group is to bring attention to the University through service projects throughout the year. In 1966, the Spurs presented Bevo IX, another in the long line of University mascots for which the Spurs are solely responsible. They present Bevo at all football games, as well as other campus events. Other activities of the organization included the Aggie Sign Contest, Round-up Rally, the beard-growing contest, and Western Day Jail during Round-Up.

Fall officers were George Madison Berry, president; Richard Earl Green, vice-president; Charles Roger Gipson, secretary; and Browne Botts Rice III, treasurer. Officers for the spring were Richard Earl Green, president; John Conner Emerson, vice-president; Woodrow Wilson Scott Jr., secretary; and Christopher Allan Paul, treasurer. CHORAL ORGANIZATIONS DIRECTORS

Through his ten years association with The University of Texas, Dr. Morris Beachy, associate professor of Music and Director of the Choral Organizations, has gained an international reputation as one of the nation's outstanding choral conductors. During his recent tour to Europe and the Middle East with the Madrigal Singers critics noted that "the singers are united and given a soul by an excellent director endowed with technique, knowledge, good taste and enthusiasm". The Choral's repertoire includes works from both classical and modern idioms of all styles.

MORRIS JAY BEACHY, Director of A Cappella Choir, Madrigal Singers and Concert Choir.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Donald Johanos, conductor of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, rehearsed the Choir before a performance.

Sixty-one students from all colleges and schools of the University composed the A Cappella Choir directed by Dr. Morris Jay Beachy. In the spring, the mixed vocal group toured the northeastern section of Texas. In March they combined with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra for a performance in Dallas and College Station of Bach's B Minor Mass.

The choir, performing during the year for various high schools, junior colleges, and civic organizations, travelled over 10,000 miles to more than forty Texas cities. They also performed in various University presentations.

Officers for the year were Russell Carol Nelson, president; Richard Robert Collier, vice-president; Johanna Franke, secretary; Bill Proft, treasurer; Terry Lynn Hobbs, historian; Nancy Lynn Haralson, social chairman; and Elgene Owen Box, librarian.

in many countries of Europe and the Middle East.

During the past year, the Madrigals presented a special performance for Dean Rusk while he was visiting the campus, staged their annual Christmas concert at Laguna Gloria, and toured colleges throughout the state.

The organization is open to all University students by audition. Even though the requirements are high, the group's membership has always contained a good representation of non-music majors.

The Men's Glee Club, the oldest choral ensemble at the University, is composed of men who enjoy the tradition of a male chorus while realizing advantages as a part of the College of Fine Arts. Among the past year's activities of the Glee Club was a tour through Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida, as well as many programs within the state of Texas and the University community.

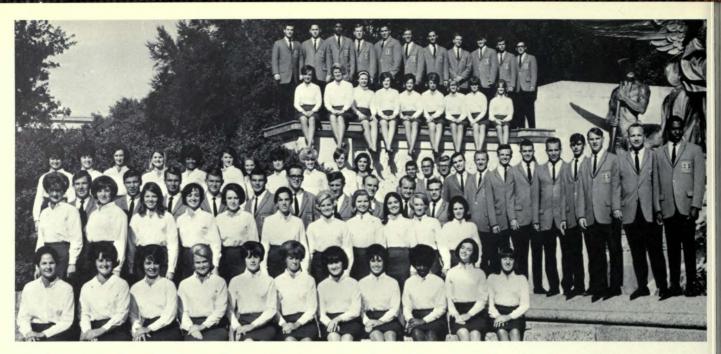

In addition to the traditional male chorus programs, the Club was represented by its participation in performances of the Bach B Minor Mass and "King David" by Arthur Honegger. With these opportunities the Club rounded out its fine repertoire.

LONGHORN SINGERS

Combined voices of 80 students from all colleges in the University compose the Longhorn Singers.

Carrying through their motto, "Entertainment in the finest college tradition," the group has a repertoire of Broadway and Hollywood show tunes, folk music, spirituals, and modern music.

In March the Singers toured south Texas and in December they went to Fort Hood. They performed at Ex-Student Association functions including the Distinguished Alumnae Awards Banquet and the Dads' Day program. Other campus activities included their annual campus Christmas caroling, the Mid-Winter Concert in January, and presentation of a musical comedy.

Officers were Gary Evans, president; Sherman O. Smock, vice-president; Mary Katherine Smith George, secretary; Mary Ann Weiss, treasurer; and John Thomas Craig, program coordinator. Leonard Alan McCormick directed the group and Dean Arno Nowotny was the faculty sponsor.

SOUTHERN SINGERS

Being one of the newer choral organizations, the Southern Singers have doubled in size since their foundation in 1964. The group is an all-girl chorus which offers its members fellowship and an opportunity to broaden their understanding of music for public performances.

The highlights of this year's concerts included a tour to Fort Polk in Louisiana, where the girls entertained two thousand service men preparing to leave for Viet Nam, and a week's tour to Oklahoma to perform for various service clubs. Southern Singers also entertained at military bases in Texas such as Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio and Fort Hood in Killeen. The girls joined the other University choral groups in the Dads' Day, Christmas, and Mid-Winter concerts.

Southern Singer officers were Barbara Ruth Higley, president, Peggy Lynn Clements, secretary; Beverly Faye Fisher, treasurer; Linda Dell Seaberry, librarian; and Priscilla Orpha Mojica, wardrobe chairman. Dana Rose Wortham was the accompanist. Southern Singers was directed by Bess Estelle Hieronymus and sponsored by Margaret Berry.

With enthusiastic smiles, Southern Singers leave for a performance at Fort Polk. La.

Varsity Singers rehearsed for their share of the entertainment during the intermission at Sing Song.

VARSITY SINGERS

Since its beginning in 1963, the Varsity Singers have become one of the most popular choral ensembles both on and off campus. Under the direction of J. G. Martin, this group came to epitomize its slogan "self-contained entertainment."

Conceived as a group to sing popular and show music, the Varsity Singers have grown to include all phases of the musical idiom such as folk, country and western, and classical. Many numbers are staged adding flavor to the music and special talents from our small, but elite group and are always utilized to give a variety of entertainment.

The Singers traveled to Michigan and Florida in their first two years. The third year marked the highlight of tour experience for the singers as they were chosen for a five week USO show including visits to Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Newfoundland. These singers were chosen for this honor from over 150 groups which applied. This year the singers packed again and sang their way to Colorado during the spring vacation. Various colleges, high schools and military installations were included on this tour.

The accompanist for the group is Betsy Burleson and Ken Altvater is the business manager. J. G. Martin is director.

SYMPHONIC BAND

The University of Texas Symphonic Band was organized in 1942. Under the direction of William J. Moody, the band has grown to approximately sixty members. Its style obtains a rich sound while keeping its character of finesse and musicianship. Many concerts are given each year both locally and throughout the state. The band also participates in the Annual Symposium of Contemporary Musicians.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Edited by Antoinette Bracher

THE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

A university is primarily a community of teachers and students striving to seek knowledge and to reexamine values held both collectively and individually, in the light of that knowledge. It is a place where total intellectual growth must occur; not bounded by the clock or the classroom wall. If a student's association is to exist, and it must, then it is obligated to primarily serve ends identical to those sought by a university.

Students must recognize their unique position in the academic community. At no time can they affect the content and goals of higher education as directly as during their time in college. The Students' Association has tried to capitalize on that uniqueness.

In light of this stated purpose, the Association was able, after almost 4000 man-hours of work by students and faculty members, to completely write a new constitution to replace the outdated and irrelevant present document. The new system is radically different and holds much promise for increased future effectiveness of student influence within the academic community.

No longer is it difficult to become active and involved in the work of the Association. The legislative department will now have two entities: a House of Delegates based on all organizations and a Student Assembly which draws its membership from four types of constituenties, all elected.

The lower House is very broad-based and open, and is designed to serve as a communicative forum. The upper Assembly will be the working body which will pursue student interest with all policy-making committees and the administration.

In addition, the Association has been instrumental in the formation of a completely new counseling system, involving academic, maritial, financial, sociological, as well as psychological advising. Potentially this new adjunct will touch every student and, in turn, increase and augment their overall intellectual development.

For the first time in the history of student exchanges between universities in North and Latin America, there now exists a treaty between the Students' Association and the Centro de Alumnos of the University of Chile. This program is the oldest continuous exchange in existence and has an excellent record of effectiveness.

After twelve months of concentrated activity, the Faculty-Student Conference Committee has completed the revision of all rules pertaining to student affairs. Students will now be able to know what the regulations are, where to find them, and how to amend or change them. This document has as its foundation the AAUP statement on Academic Freedom for Students.

In relation to the concept of student participation in the governance of the University, students will now sit on almost every single policy-making committee of the University. Where student participation in university government is alive and vital, there is an acceptance of the fact that the University is indeed an academic community.

Also, outstanding programs were presented by Visiting Fellows, Challenge, Round-Up, Curriculum Evaluation, and Cinema 40.

Much has been accomplished these last twelve months in terms of internal reorganization and basic changes in the University itself. The challenge is for those who follow—to understand, to implement, and to succeed.

Clif Drummond served as President of the student body.

Serving as head of numerous committees of the Students' Association, the vice-president often has the responsibility of assisting the president with duties that need to be fulfilled. His main function is preparing the annual budget and maintaining all records of receipts and disbursements.

As an assemblyman, he serves as chairman of the Rules and Appropriations Committee, which entails the responsibility of preparing the annual Blanket Tax recommendations.

Acting as official correspondent of the Students' Association, taking minutes of all sessions, and circulating all issues to the proper authorities are the duties of the secretary of the Students' Association.

In her role as assemblyman, she compiles annually an accurate yearbook of the Students' Association's activities.

STUDENT COURT, STUDENT APPOINTED POSITIONS

The responsibility of the Student Court is that of keeping an effective internal check on the executive and legislative branches of the Students' Association. By insuring that neither the President nor the Student Assembly overstep their authority as prescribed by state law and the constitution of the Students' Association, the court protects the individual student from potentially arbitrary actions.

This year the Student Court assumed a new role of importance when parts of the student body realized that they had recourse against what they considered an illegal expenditure by the Student Assembly. One of the most significant statements in the court's opinions in that case was the following construction of a state statute:

Any expenditure which directly or indirectly contributes to the propagandizing of opinion on current political candidates or issues which do not relate directly to the students as students of The University of Texas at Austin is unreasonable and prohibited by state statute.

The court, consisting primarily of top-ranking senior law students, demanded a new high quality in the student judicial process. Petty "politico" disputes were discouraged by requiring well-considered briefs to be filed in each case. In return, the court rendered lengthy, logical, and well-written opinions. These opinions are bound and available as precedent, another innovation of this year's court.

FRESHMAN COUNCIL

Coordinated to present freshmen with general knowledge of the problems, opportunities, and challenges of campus life, Freshman Council is a major link between the faculty and the freshman student.

Chancellor Harry H. Ransom addressed the first Freshman Council General Session that the Freshman Council sponsored for the students as an opportunity to broaden their interest in campus activities.

Officers were Jerry Richard Grammer, coordinator; William Reagan Birdwell, Judy Anne Davis, Anthony Field Constant, and Ronald O. Norwood, Freshman Council Advisory Board; and Marsha Ann White, secretary.

INTERDISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE

Holding a retreat at the Corral-of-the-Longhorns, the Interdisciplinary Retreat Committee brought together students of different disciplines to discuss the topic, "Attitude Changes in the College Experience."

Professors who represented various facets of the University, Donald Larson, Norval Glenn, Norman Hackerman, and S. Thomas Friedman, served as main speakers to the topic. The committee was under the chairmanship of Karen Lerner and Debbie Spiva.

ROUND-UP

Round-Up was primarily established to promote spirit and unity among students, ex-students, and faculty. The entire University participated in Round-up by planning the many activities slated for the weekend.

Programs such as the Leadership Awards Banquet, Round-Up Barbecue, and the Sweetheart Dance attracted many people to the University. Heading Round-up this year were Dottie Plummer and Ronnie Massey, co-chairmen and Edwin B. Price was faculty advisor.

Above Right: Freshman council members campaign for the advisory board and officers at Kinsolving Dormitory. Above: Interdisciplinary committee members Walter Eugene Demond, Kathleen Dulan, Douglas Caroom, Pamela Agnes Shropshire, Deborah Ann Spiva, Karen Lerner, and Liz Marie Wooldridge discussed various disciplines of students. Right: Campus sororities and fraternities participated in the Round-up Parade sponsored by the Round-up Committee.

Top: Moderator for Challenge was Daniel O. Price, professor of Sociology. Left: At this year's Challenge Colloquium the topic was "The Problem is People", the question-answer session was led by Berkeley's Professor Kinsley Davis, Right: Cinema 40 sponsored a reception for Adolfas Mekas at the Union.

CHALLENGE

The issue of this year's Challenge Colloquium was "People." Featured speakers such as Dr. Gideon Sjoberg, Dr. Kingsley Davis, Sen. Ernest Gruening, Dr. Lincoln Day, Father John O'Brien, and Dr. Alan Guttmacher contributed to discussions on the problem of over population in underdeveloped countries. Challenge attempted to enable a student to establish permanent interest in University life by participating in discussion groups, fireside conversations, and panel debates. Chief coordinators were Michael McKinley, Mimi Montgomery, and Terry Peterson.

CINEMA 40

The newly introduced Cinema 40 Committee gave University students an opportunity to appreciate films as an art form. With the aid of discussion groups, program notes, and guest speakers, many foreign and classic films shown were examined by University students.

Among films shown were "Hallelujah the Hills" and the "Hollywood Screen Godess." Gregg Barrios and Richard Caldwell served as Co-chairmen.

CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

The Cultural Development Committee this year sponsored the organization and hanging of an exhibit from the Smithsonian Institute entitled "Face of Viet Nam." The exhibit, shown in the Academic Center in December, was a series of photographs showing life in Viet Nam prior to the present war. Jack Joseph Droitcourt was chairman.

ELECTION COMMISSION

A committee deriving its power from the Students' Association and the Election Code, the Election Commission consists of members which remain neutral in all proceedings concerned with Assembly and campus-wide elections.

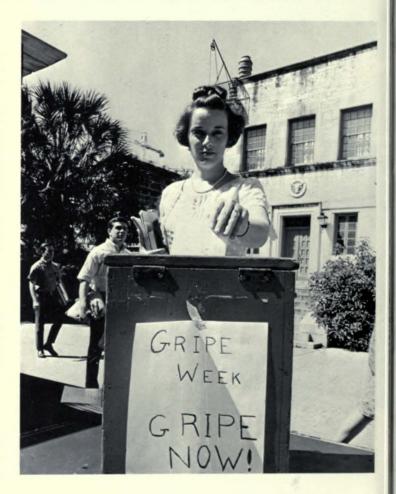

The Election Commission serves as a ruling and governing body dealing mainly with campaign and election procedures. Its purpose is to establish and enforce existing rules which govern the conduct of the elections. The Commission must also provide a suitable arrangement for voting and counting ballots. The Code states that the Commission must conduct hearings and has original jurisdiction in all complaints concerned with the campaign or with election procedures. The Code charges the Commission to execute such sanctions as listed in the Election Code. Chuck Marsh was chairman in the fall and Rick Nichols was chairman in the spring semester.

GRIEVANCE

Services of the Grievance Committee were open to University students at all times. Grievance boxes supplied with "gripe" forms were stationed at four different places on campus—Women's Gym, Main Building, Union, and Men's Gym. These "gripes" were collected weekly and immediate action taken to resolve problems students feel the University presents. Chairman, Karen Lerner, designated December 6, 7, and 8, as "Gripe Week."

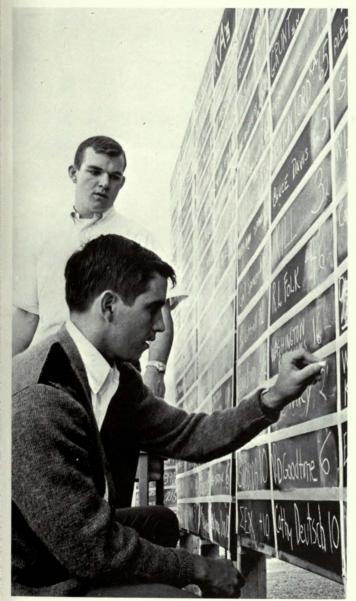

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH

Established to finance independent undergraduate research, the Undergraduate Research Program financed research ventures in such areas as criminology, creative cinema, diabetes, and the ancient art of gold granulation.

CAMPUS SURVEY

Serving as pollsters for student opinions on campus issues, the Campus Survey Committee this year sponsored a survey on the use of the Union by law students.

The Student Assembly was responsible for presenting University students with these surveys. Joe Belden, Carol Hubbard, and Becky Houston were co-chairmen.

HUMAN RELATIONS

Formed to promote good will and friendly relations among University students, the Human Relations Committee worked toward the end that no student be discriminated against because of race, creed, or color while attending the University.

Along with the Dean of Students, this committee published a list in the Spring of those off-campus units which certified that they were "open to all students regardless of race, color, or national origin." Co-chairmen are Colin Carl and Jim Haynes.

CAMPUS CHEST

Seeking to raise money for needy organizations, the Campus Chest drive enabled University students to contribute to these organizations so that they may help themselves and others. Miss Campus Chest, Dimes Day, and the Monster Men added to the fund. Ann Akridge and Corless Beasley headed Campus Chest this year.

CULTURAL ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

The Cultural Entertainment Committee presented a variety of events for the student body this year. Among the best attended programs were the opening event featuring Duke Ellington and Ella Fitzgerald, the Ballet Folklorico of Mexico, the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra with Andre Previn conducting, a folk-singing event featuring Judy Collins and Theodore Bikel, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, and the two performances by the Metropolitan Opera National Company. The CEC made tickets available for students to attend the Austin Symphony Orchestra concerts. Students could also buy tickets at a reduced rate for the Longhorn Jazz Festival.

During the year the Committee meets weekly to plan the events for the following season. This entails booking artists, reserving auditoriums, supervising ushering, advertising, and other details involved in presenting a series of entertainment value. Co-chairmen were Patty Moran and Sam Graham.

FLASH CARD

Adding spirit and enthusiasm to home football games, the Flash Card section is provided by University students organized by the Flash Card Committee. Barry Applewhite and David Hooper were co-chairmen.

STUMP SPEAKING

Stump Speaking is an informal forum for student debate. Anyone who wishes to speak may do so, with the choice of topic being left to the individual.

Stump Speaking has been held on Thursdays plus other days during the week to allow students to discuss matters of immediate interest to the campus. Philip Bunch was this year's chairman.

VISITING FELLOWS

Through the efforts of the Visiting Fellows Committee, students are afforded the opportunity to broaden the scope of their educational environment through contact with known personalities in divergent fields.

This year the committee sponsored and organized the visits of Juscelino Kubitschek, former President of Brazil, and Al Capp, controversial cartoonist, to the University.

Kubitschek has been living in self-exile in New York since the military take-over of Brazil in 1964. Al Capp, a self-styled "expert on nothing with opinions on everything" is well known for his Lil' Abner series. Marolyn Wittman and Eliot Tucker were chairmen.

TEXAS-OU COMMITTEE

Working with a corresponding committee from Oklahoma University in planning the Texas-OU Dance, the Texas-OU Dance Committee selected bands and made all other physical arrangements for the dance enjoyed each year in Dallas by thousands from both schools. Texas co-chairmen were Nancy Wray and Michael Love.

EXCELLENCE IN CURRICULUM

Sponsored by the Students' Association, the Excellence in Curriculum and Teaching Committee is an attempt to promote a program of systematic and objective course evaluation in the various departments of the University.

The program is coordinated by faculty-student commissions which "hear" and coordinate the information and opinions of faculty, administration, and students. Questionnaires are developed and filled out by students enrolled in various courses and results are returned to the respective commissions in an attempt to maintain a well-planned department course program. Ann MacNaughton and John O'Dell were co-chairmen.

ARCHITECTURE COUNCIL

The representative body for all students registered in the School of Architecture or College of Arts and Sciences and majoring in Architecture, the Architecture Council is composed of one representative from each design section of the five design years. Its purpose is the representation of student opinion, the promotion of a better relationship between students and faculty, and the coordination of student activities.

This year the Council was fortunate in effecting close student-faculty relations through the establishment of a Student-Faculty Committee composed of five faculty members and five Council members. It meets as necessary to discuss common goals, problems and programs. Through this forum any Architecture student has access to the faculty on a level at which policy can be influenced.

ARTS AND SCIENCE COUNCIL

The Arts and Sciences Council is a departmentally representative body organized to improve student-faculty relations within the College of Arts and Sciences and to bring together the various and diverse elements of the College. One representative is appointed by the chairman of each department to serve on the Council until he graduates.

STUDENT-FACULTY COUNCIL COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The official channel for student participation in policy formulation and evaluation in the College of Education, the Student-Faculty Council, also provides for the development of student activities and a means for student and faculty to work together on problems and special projects. To aid this communication, suggestion boxes were put up in the Wooldridge and Sutton Halls.

Spring activities focussed on a teacher evaluation which was compiled by faculty and students and administered by over 100 education students. Preparation of curriculum outline for all education majors was planned. In addition, the council selected recipients of scholarships given to outstanding student teachers. Members of the council are chosen each spring in a college-wide election.

Acting as the official channel for student participation in policy formation and a unifying council among existing organizations of the College of Business Administration is the CBA Council. The Council helps further the common interests of students and faculty by bringing together representatives from each class and business fraternity, assemblymen, and faculty advisers into one organization. The Council's main project during the spring was CBA Week. During this week 10 outstanding students, 5 outstanding alumni, and 3 teaching excellence awards were presented. This year's main speaker was Don H. Miller, president of Skelly Oil Company.

STUDENT ENGINEERING COUNCIL

Representing the engineering student body, the Student Engineering Council is composed of the president and two representatives on each professional and honorary engineering society.

Among the duties of this council is coordinating activities of member student professional and honorary societies, and promoting goodwill, spirit, and tradition in the college. In addition, the council promotes the construction and improvement of student recreational facilities in engineering buildings and administers these facilities under the regulation of the University.

Behold, if you will, this sturdy little band of heroes, unfettered spirits all, whose ceaseless effort and unflagging dedication have triumphed over all the obstacles that hostile fate and a callous public have thrown up in their path. These are the hardy journalistic trailblazers who have taken up the time-honored and careworn mantle of hereditary leadership in the realm of college humor. These, my friends, are the leaders, the pioneers: in a word, the "A" Team. That is to say, the Ranger Staff.

THE TEXAS UNION

The Texas Union is the community center for all members of the University family—students, faculty, administration, alumni, and guests. It is not just a building; it is also an organization and a program. Together they represent a well-considered plan for the community life of the University.

As part of the educational program the Union serves as a laboratory of citizenship, training students in social skills and the meaning of serving the common welfare. In the University, such lessons are often best learned where students eat, work, and play together; where they meet to discuss freely and to act responsibly to solve, as members of a student community, their own group problems. A campus is not complete without the essential facilities for such activities.

As the gathering place, the Texas Union is a place where friendliness, warmth, and campus spirit reign supreme. It serves as a unifying force in the life of the University, cultivating enduring regard for and loyalty to the school.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Responsible for the program, personnel, and budget of the Texas Union, the Board of Directors this year launched a campaign making fire and disaster safety improvements.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Composed of the president, vice-president for programs, vice-president for personnel, and five other members, the Executive Council initially discusses new projects to be recommended to the Texas Union Council; coordinates and evaluates activities of the Texas Union chairmen, committees, and clubs; conducts an intensive end-of-the-year evaluation of the Union program; and makes recommendations to the Union Council for improvement.

LEADERSHIP BOARD

Striving to increase the effectiveness of student leadership in co-curricular activities, the Leadership Board seeks to improve understanding of personal relationships and group development through a program of leadership committees, seminars and laboratories.

UNION COMMITTEES

DANCE COMMITTEE

The Dance Committee co-ordinated dances throughout the year to provide entertainment for students and, through Battle of the Bands, gave new bands a chance to be presented to the campus.

The committee decorated, served refreshments, hired bands, and publicized all after-game dances and the two dances held each month in the spring.

They also sponsored a special Christmas and Thanksgiving dance, and one the night before the A & M Thanksgiving Day game. On weekends when there was no band scheduled, a Jukebox dance was sponsored in the Chuckwagon. Dorothy Plummer was Chairman.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

Serving as hosts and hostesses of the University for visiting guests and speakers and for the students and faculty, the House Committee sponsored many receptions and parties throughout the year.

One of the highlights of the year was the Union Annual Recognition Banquet, decorated and coordinated by the House Committee. Awards were given out by the many organizations of the Union, students, and faculty. Serving as the Round-Up Hospitality Committee, the members of the committee saw that the University sweethearts had places to stay, escorts, and banquets given in their honor. Rebecca Porter was Chairman.

FILM COMMITTEE

Providing the student body with films for education and entertainment, the Film Committee sponsored weekly replays of football games, free movies during orientation week, various departmental films in conjunction with departmental film programs, and weekly entertainment films.

Special projects included a Viet Nam documentary series, along with an academic award festival. Chairman was Charles Branch.

TRAVEL BOARD

In the program office of the Union, the Travel Board keeps a file containing travel information from all areas of the world. This file is constantly being increased; each member is responsible for getting material from a certain part of the world. Catalogues from colleges which offer plans of study abroad are also kept on file.

A series of lectures, "Europe Today," covering European art and history, was an excellent orientation session for students going to Europe in the summer. Patricia Clements was chairman.

CAMPUS COMPETITION

Striving to create a spirit of competitions and fun among students, the Campus Competitions Committee sponsored a variety of contests this year.

Among these contests were the Longhorn Sign Painting Contest, Casino Nights, and the Region XII Game Tournament held in Austin. Monthly dinner meetings were presided over by Dianne Rush, chairman.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts Committee sponsored many exhibits, art competitions, and cultural activities this year to make the fine arts more available for the enjoyment of the student body.

The Christmas Bazaar helped students wishing to sell their handicrafts as well as those looking for unusual and inexpensive Christmas gifts. In the spring, a Fine Arts Forum of five lectures brought interesting students in contact with experts on campus. Mary Dennis was chairman.

STUDENT-FACULTY

The Student-Faculty Committee sponsored such activities as the Faculty Focus lecture series, the Sandwich Seminars noon lecture series, and departmental receptions in an attempt to create an informal atmosphere in which students can talk freely with faculty and staff members.

Featured in this year's Faculty Focus were James M. Houston, visiting professor of Geography; William Arrowsmith, professor of Classics and professor in Arts and Letters; Donald Weismann, professor of Art; The Reverend Robert Drinan, visiting professor of Law; and Samuel R. Ellison Jr., professor of Geology. Jay Reining was this year's chairman.

SPEAKERS COMMITTEE

The Speakers Committee provides an educational supplement to the University curriculum by presenting speakers possessing varied backgrounds, beliefs, and experiences. Bill Mauldin, Saul Alinsky, Sam Yorty, and Truman Capote were among this year's guests.

To a capacity audience, Capote, who charmed millions with his "Breakfast at Tiffany's" and chilled America with his non-fictional novel, "In Cold Blood," showed in his speech the human and sometimes lighter side of life. This year's Chairman was Barry Rountree.

ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

Holding auditions to provide a list of talented students to community and University groups, the Entertainment Committee sponsored concerts given by various choral organizations and worked to bring big name entertainers in popular fields to the campus.

Among the committee's activities for this year were the Forty Acres Talent Show, for freshman during Registration, a Collegiate Review, Christmas Singing on the Mall, and the Sound of Spring. Peggy Lynn Clements served as chairman.

UNION CLUBS

Top: Curtain Club advertised "Thirteen O'Clock" on campus. Above: Security Council listened to debate of MUN delegates. Right: Students represented the United States in MUN plan disarmament proposal.

CURTAIN CLUB

Providing numerous opportunities for students interested in the theater, the Curtain Club gives amateurs a chance to produce plays which include such production techniques as set design, lighting, sound, and costumes.

techniques as set design, lighting, sound, and costumes.

Under direction of David Grote and Jay Bell, the Curtain Club produced the "Duchess of Malfi," "The Fantastics," and "Thirteen O'Clock." In addition, the club planned to edit a monthly review of shows and other dramatic productions in Austin.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

The Security Council of the seventh annual Model United Nations had under consideration the Yemen question, representation of the Divided Nations—Laos, Germany, Korea, and Viet Nam—African Political questions and Chinese representation.

The MUN program was highlighted by a visit by Boris P. Krasulin, first secretary to the USSR Mission to the United Nations. Krasulin spoke at a banquet for delegates and addressed the General Assembly.

There were 800 delegates representing 22 colleges ranging from Texas Christian University to Florida Presbyterian College.

One of the most significant accomplishments of MUN was the production of a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons. The US, USSR, and United Kingdom led the 18-nation disarmament conference called by the Security Council in formulating the document.

Frank Stenger was MUN secretary-general. Mike Dickey, Jane Haun and Betty L. Schuessler were under secretarygenerals. Karen Hawkins served as secretary.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Composed of both foreign and American students, the International Club promotes greater understanding and cooperation among students of the University. Activities such as picnics, suppers, dances, films, and exhibits were sponsored this year with the International Festival, a costume ball, being the club's major activity.

Officers included Pavloc Roussos, president; Gordon Boyles, Jr., vice-president; Jane Haun, secretary; and Teresa Wang, treasurer.

MARRIAGE STUDENT COUNCIL

Serving as a communication link between the wives' clubs of the different colleges, the Marriage Students' Council worked to make the married student feel more a part of the campus.

Activities included a reception for officers of Wives' Clubs, a bridge party, special programs, the Mrs. University Contest, and a Baby Contest. Representing the Law Wives' Club is President Lee Furgeson.

ORIENTATION

During the summer, four orientation sessions are designed to meet the needs of new students, especially in their adjustment to the academic life of the institution. These meetings, along with the smaller Fall and Spring Orientation Programs, are staffed by student advisers who are chosen each year by the Student Committee on Orientation Procedures.

At summer sessions, new students are presented with a broad picture of the University and its functions. Activities such as informal coffees with various professors, visits to classes in session, and academic forums and college meetings help to acquaint the students with University life. There are also discussions of study habits and classroom procedures in nightly "wing meetings" during the summer sessions. The student's social life is not neglected during these sessions, as there are parties and dances scheduled at the Union during each summer session.

OPERATION BRAINPOWER

Operation Brainpower is designed to seek out high school students with high motivation and demonstrated ability and attract them to the University. As a working partner in the educational process, the Ex-Students' Association finances and coordinates the extensive program involving hundreds of alumni "talent scouts" and a team of University students, administrators, and faculty.

"Return-the-Favor" scholarships, combining money raised by local Texas Exes Clubs with matching grants from the Ex-Students' Association, provide grants up to $500 for talented incoming freshman selected by local clubs.

A dramatic slide-tape presentation titles "Texas Is" is shown around the state by student Brainpower teams to select high school audiences. It is a story of educational excellence as the University.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY SCIENCE

Our program at this University covers a wide range of fields from military engineering and flight training to military history and world affairs. The Army ROTC Cadet is guided in all instruction toward his ultimate task as a leader of men in one of five basic Army branches: Infantry, Corps of Engineers, Quartermaster Corps, Military Police Corps, or Transportation Corps.

The Army ROTC Cadet subjects himself to dual selection and additional effort; but, he has made a decision to stand up and be counted and to take an active part in the future of his country. The Army ROTC gives a student a broad understanding of our national government, a knowledge of our nation's defense and better equips him to step forth into the world.

DEPARTMENT OF NAVAL SCIENCE

The University NROTC Unit offers two basic programs, the Regular and the Contract. The Regular program is designed to educate and train well-qualified men for careers as officers of the Regular Navy and Marine Corps. The Contract program is intended to train college students who wish to fulfill their military obligation as officers of the Naval or Marine Corps Reserve and to serve in time of national emergency. In addition, the NROTC offers a two-year program for students who have attended a junior college prior to entering a four-year NROTC University.

The NROTC Unit also sponsors many extra-curricular opportunities for interested Midshipmen. These activities include a precision drill team, the Buccaneers, a rifle and pistol team, a full range of intramural sports, and participation in the various social activities of the Midshipman Battalion. One unique feature of the University NROTC Unit is the Crow's Nest, a cooperative dormitory for NROTC students.

DEPARTMENT OF AIR SCIENCE

The mission of Air Force ROTC is to commission career oriented officers to meet specific Air Force requirements through on-campus programs. The Air Force ROTC objective is to place on active duty lieutenants who demonstrate dedication to their assignments; willing acceptance of responsibility; critical and creative thinking and the ability to speak and write effectively. Air Force ROTC offers freshmen students a four-year program and junior students or above, if they have two years remaining in school, a two-year program leading to commissioned officer status in the United States Air Force. The Air Force approach to learning encourages inquiry, analysis, critical thinking, imagination, and discerning judgment. In addition, qualified cadets receive flight instruction in their last year resulting in the award of a private pilot's license. When called to active duty, graduates become pilots, navigators, or specialists in their particular field of study.

ANGEL FLIGHT

Angel Flight is a national honorary service organization of selected women sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, an honorary organization of outstanding Air Force ROTC Cadets. It exists to advance and promote interest in the Air Force and Air Force ROTC, obtain information concerning the military services, and aid the progress of Arnold Air Society, the Air Force Cadet Corps, and the University.

Members of Angel Flight must have a 1.3 overall grade point average and possess poise, personality, and a willingness to participate actively in Angel Flight activities. Angels served as hostesses at Air Force ROTC functions, represented the Arnold Air Society and AFROTC on the University campus, acted as delegates at area as well as national conclaves, participated in service projects, and did their utmost to improve the morale and "esprit de corps" of the Air Force Cadet Group.

Fall officers were Denny McAdam, commander; Sharon Allison, executive officer; Cheryl Zimmerman, administrative service officer; Linda Burk, comptroller; Kay Copeland, operations, Janet Goren, information, Carolyn Dubose, pledge trainer, Jo Ann Rowley, drill commander, and Susie Stephens, liaison. Spring officers included Sharon Allison, commander, Jo Ann Rowley, executive officer, Cheryl Zimmerman, administrative service officer, Roberta Richards, comptroller, Ann Baird, operations, Robin Thrift, information, Brenda Cook, pledge trainer, Mary Andrews, drill commander, and Jan Howie, liaison.

ACACIA

The Texas chapter of Acacia fraternity marked its fiftieth year on campus with numerous awards, including an award for the best over-all Aggie sign and a first-place award in the Round-Up sign contest. In intramurals, the fraternity, placing first in tennis and winning the league championship in basketball, also ranked high in golf, swimming, and football. Scholastically, Acacia ranked third among the fraternities on campus during the spring of 1966.

Active on campus were Jimmy Turner, vice-president of the CBA junior class and a student assemblyman; Sid Holcomb, vice-president of the CBA freshman class; and David Chappell, chief justice of the Student Court. In addition, there were two student assemblymen, two members of Omicron Delta Kappa leadership fraternity, and a freshman cheerleader.

Founded nationally in 1904, the Texas chapter was chartered April 16, 1916. Officers of the chapter were Thomas Edward Thomason, venerable dean; William Belhaven Hamilton III, senior dean; David King Aymond, junior dean; Steven Ray Clark, secretary; James William Turner, treasurer; Michael Jay Hood, rush chairman; and Jerry Don Johnson, house manager.

АЕП

Active in all facets of campus life, Alpha Epsilon Pi had the highest grade average of all social fraternities on campus, won a first prize in the 1966 Round-Up parade, and manned the most popular booth at 1966 Varsity Carnival. Athletic successes included a second place in tennis doubles and the University championship in ping-pong singles. An outstanding year of social events was highlighted by the annual Winter Fiasco in December and spring formal in March at the Driskill Hotel.

Among members active on campus were Cowboy Johnny Perel and Interfraternity Council representatives Ken Baron and Jeff Alexander. Johnny Perel also served as secretary of the Council.

Founded in 1913 at New York University, Alpha Epsilon Pi established the Gamma Deuteron chapter on the University campus in 1939.

The chapter was led by John Harold Perel, president; Ronald Gilbert Wiesenthal, secretary; Mark Stephen Klein, treasurer; Russell Lee Silverstein, pledgemaster; Kenneth Dale Baron and Charles Jay Franklin, rush captains, in the fall. Benjamin David Rosenberg served as president and David Michael Cotlar as secretary in the spring. Mrs. Evelyn Goldsmith was housemother.

$AK\Lambda$

The youngest fraternity on the University campus, the Alpha Kappa Lambda chapter celebrated their founding with a banquet and ball held in February, 1967. At that time alumnus Robert Stuart, president of National Can Corporation, presented the charter to the fraternity.

Alpha Kappa Lambda participated in many activities on campus, including the "Ugly Man" contest, Varsity Carnival, and intramurals. In community service, the fraternity had an Easter egg hunt for some underprivileged children. Their calendar of social events included a hillbilly party, a Christmas ski party, and the traditional Yellow Rose formal.

Alpha Kappa Lambda was founded nationally at the University of California in 1914. The Alpha Pi chapter, founded on March 2, 1966, is presently making plans for the construction of a new fraternity house.

Jung Mae Lee served as president during the fraternity's first year on campus. Other officers were David Foster Mees, vice-president; Larry Hansen, treasurer; Alonzo Joseph Stubbs, rush captain; and Randolph Loe Wilson, social chairman.

Participating in many campus and community service projects last year, Alpha Rho Chi pre-advised freshmen and transfer architecture majors during fall registration, entertained visiting speakers for the Architectural Lecture Series, and hosted the local active chapter of the American Institute of Architects. Members also hosted the Student A.I.A. regional convention and held a reception for parents and faculty on Dads' Day.

Social activities during the year included casuals after each home football game, a tree-decorating party, and a semiformal in December, In intramurals, Alpha Rho Chi was active in basketball, baseball, and handball.

Activity men on campus were Jon Decherd, student A.I.A. president; James Michael, Architectural Student Council president; and Joe Stubblefield, architectural assemblyman. Other Alpha Rho Chis were members of Student A.I.A., Tau Sigma Delta, architectural honor society, Sphinx Society, and Phi Kappa Phi, all-University honor society.

The local Dinocrates chapter of Alpha Rho Chi, originally chartered on April 19, 1924, was reactivated at the University Sept. 27, 1963.

Leaders of the fraternity this year were Charles W. Nixon, worthy architect; Darrell Gail Welch, worthy associate architect; Frank I. Genzer, worthy estimator; William Francis Burke, worthy clerk; and Raymond H. Martin, fifth board member.

Among favorite Delta Chi party themes this year were Halloween, Red Baron, Comic Hero Party, Western Party, and a Mod Party. A retreat was held in early October to celebrate the national founding on Oct. 13, 1891.

Although not winning any trophies, Delta Chis entered into intramurals in a big way. A large percentage of the chapter participated in such sports as football, handball, volleyball, tennis, basketball, and bowling.

Founded on the University campus April 13, 1907, Delta Chis marked their sixtieth year at Texas this year. To start the year off Delta Chi bought a new house at 2400 Pearl.

Delta Chis were active in campus organizations and events including Challenge, Varsity Carnival, Image '66, Round-Up, Model United Nations, and Interfraternity Council.

Officers were James Lawrence Gillaspy, president; Edward Martin Taylor, vice-president; John Patterson Rohrer, secretary; Warren Edward Hancock, treasurer; and Benjamin Yoakum Cammack Jr., corresponding secretary. Walter Fred Pate served as president in the spring, and William H. Johnson was corresponding secretary. Mrs. Roxie Moore was housemother.

KA

Active in both campus activities and community service, Kappa Alpha sponsored the Miss Campus Chest Contest, raising close to $2,000 for charity in connection with the University Dimes Day. Other projects included a party for children at the Austin State School and sponsoring a Chilean exchange student.

On campus, Kappa Alpha won the fraternity championship in intramural football, entered Sing-Song with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, and won the prize for the best concession at the 1966 Varsity Carnival. Climaxing Kappa Alpha's social events was the annual Old South Week, ending with the traditional Old South Ball.

Among Kappa Alpha activity men were Bill Farish, engineering assemblyman; Barry Rountree, exchange student to Chile; and David Hooper, Freshman Council. As members of the all-Southwest Conference football team, Howard Goad and Joel Brame participated in varsity athletics as did John Elliott, David Conway, Loyd Wainscott, Paul Olivier, Scotty Brown, Minton White, and Don Johnson.

The oldest fraternity on the University campus, Kappa Alpha Order was organized at Washington and Lee College in 1865 under the guidance of Robert E. Lee. Active in social projects, Phi Gamma Delta fraternity was host to three groups of children throughout the year for a Halloween party, a Christmas party, and a third party co-sponsored with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Other events were a picnic at Barton Springs and an exhibition football game. On campus, the fraternity entered the Aggie Sign Contest and the pledges won the grand trophy for Dimes Day activities.

Phi Gamma Delta won the basketball championship and was runner-up in golf in intramural sports. Members active in varsity sports were Gene Bledsoe, Greg Lott, David Jefferies, Dick Watt, Randy Hudson, Jim Graham, Ken Tarleton and Andy White, football; Noel Stout, basketball; and Frank Filtsch, Kelly Scott, Bob Snoddy, Hutch Hubby, and Baker Montgomery, baseball. Seven Fiji's, including two who received all-Southwest Conference ratings, were members of the freshman football team.

Fiji activity men on campus included nine Texas Cowboys with David Roark serving as foreman, nine Silver Spurs, six members of Freshman Council, and two assemblymen, Lee Pfluger and Tom Gilliland. Leading the fraternity were Roy A. Herberger, president; Tom Jackson, corresponding secretary; Ernest Harris Cockrell, recording secretary; and David Alan Ott, treasurer. Spring officers were Harold David Herndon, Al Haggard, David Clarence Bland, and Frank Michael Wood, respectively. Mrs. Mary Pryor was housemother.

Fall activities of Phi Kappa Psi centered around campus elections with the fraternity supporting John Lindemood for CBA freshman class president and Mike Hoffman for arts and sciences assemblyman. Members also participated in Varsity Carnival and Representative Party. Entering Sing-Song, the fraternity sang with Alpha Delta Pi sorority in the mixed division.

In intramurals, Phi Kappa Psi participated in football and basketball, both teams placing high in their leagues. Phi Psi's also entered the softball, golf, handball, bowling, swimming, and tennis divisions. Members active on Longhorn athletic teams included Charles Owens and Alan Moravcik, varsity football; Gregg Waddill, varsity swimming; Buddy Hamilton, varsity golf; and Allen Waddell, freshman golf.

Mel Phillips served on the selection committee for Inter-Disciplinary Retreat and other members were active in Freshman Council, the Student-Faculty Committee, and other campus organizations.

The Texas Alpha chapter of Phi Kappa Psi was formed on the University campus on Oct. 27, 1904. The first national chapter was organized in 1852 at Jefferson College, Cannonsburg, Pa.

The local chapter was led by Henry Porter Boardman, president; Alan Michael Hoffman, vice-president; Richard Aldrich Riley, B.G.; Gregg Cooper Waddill III, P.; Gary Dean Sullivan, pledge trainer; Melvin Eugene Phillips Jr., Interfraternity Council representative; and Mark Nicholas Hardeman, rush captain.

The most important activity of the year for Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity was the dedication of its new house on Oct. 15, 1966, in conjunction with the fraternity's national Founders' Day celebration. The approximately 85 people attending the function heard the national president of Phi Kappa Sigma give the keynote address.

Campus activities brought the fraternity two awards: first place in the men's division of the Aggie Sign Contest for their "Orange Baron" entry, and a third-place award in the mixed division of Sing-Song for their presentation with Delta Zeta sorority.

Founded nationally in 1850 at the University of Pennsylvania, the local Sigma chapter was given its charter Feb. 15, 1941.

Local officers included Charles Joseph Zubarik, alpha; John H. Garner, beta; Kim Dee Wheless, pi; Ronald William Massey, iota; and Chester Lee Wheless, tau. Fraternity housemother was Mrs. Maurine Rue.

ФКТ

Active in many phases of campus life, Phi Kappa Tau won first place in the fraternity division at Sing-Song with its medley of fraternity songs. "The Executioner," sponsored by Phi Taus, terrorized campus in the Dimes Day Monster Man Contest. The spontaneously organized mariachi band, "The Marijuana Brass," played on campus during elections and at the chapter house for match parties. Parties varied from the sublime to the ridiculous, built around themes of the Jolly Green Giant, A "Grave" Affair, and a railroad party.

Phi Kappa Tau intramural teams brought the fraternity high in cumulative points with victories in football, baseball and tennis. The chapter also won the divisional title in basketball and placed Dick Ewing in "A" tennis semifinals and Jim Damron in "B" tennis finals.

Brothers and pledges of Phi Kappa Tau were active in many honoraries: five members were admitted to Phi Eta Sigma and four to Alpha Epsilon Delta and Phi Lambda Upsilon. Phi Taus also participated in the Longhorn Band and Kappa Kappa Psi.

Founded locally in 1943, the Beta Alpha chapter was led in the fall by Joseph Sidney Fletcher, president; George Wheeler Richards, vice-president; Charles Edwin Blank, secretary; Lawrence Sullivan Ross V, treasurer; and Terry Lee Belt, ECMAL. The spring executive committee was directed by Raymond John Martin, president; Richard Edward Ewing, vice-president; David Traeger Griffin, secretary; John Cavett McDuff, treasurer; and Charles Edwin Blank, ECMAL. Signs of various sorts were an important aspect of the past year for Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. In the 1966 Varsity Carnival, the chapter won not only an award for their film but also a trophy for the best publicity. Members also participated in the Aggie Sign Contest and built numerous spirit signs with various sororities throughout the year.

Devoting spring registration week each year to work with Austin charities, the Phi Sigma Kappa pledge class this year helped with the repair work on the Austin Retarded Children's Home. Pledges also took part in the annual Dimes Day activities.

The social calendar last year was accented with the annual Roaring Twenties party. Other annual social events included the Christmas semiformal, the Moonlight Girls formal in March, and the annual ski trip to Taos during the spring break. Match parties and pre-game buffets rounded out the calendar.

Phi Sigma Kappa placed among the top ten in the number of accumulated victory points in intramural sports. The fraternity also won second place in the fraternity division of bowling and placed high in its leagues in football and basketball. Members competing on Longhorn athletic teams included three baseball players, two tennis players, and one swimmer, along with several members of the freshman track and basketball teams.

In the annual Sing-Song contest, Sigma Pi placed first in the fraternity division with its rendition of "There Is Nothing Like a Dame." The chapter held an open house on Dads' Day and honored both national officers and alumni at the Founders' Day Banquet. During the Christmas season, the fraternity went caroling at the Old Confederates' Home.

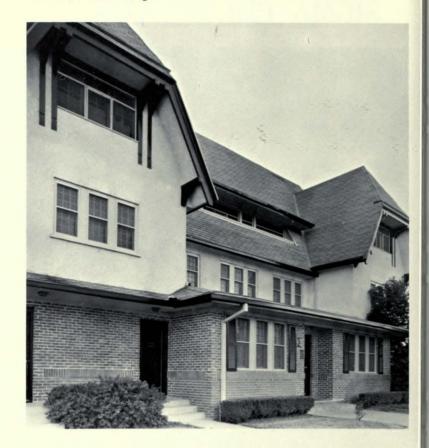

The Sigma Pi social calendar consisted of various parties including the Christmas semiformal, Round-Up, and Orchid Ball in the spring.

In intramural competition, Sigma Pi won second place in its football division and competed in basketball, track, volleyball, tennis, handball, bowling, and fencing.

Members were active in numerous organizations on campus, including Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Delta Chi, Longhorn Band, Representative Party, Alpha Phi Omega, Model United Nations, Versity, Singers, and Freshman Council Nations, Varsity Singers, and Freshman Council.

Founded on Feb. 26, 1897, at Vincennes University in Indiana, the fraternity boasts approximately 90 chapters and 25,000 initiated members. Officers of the local Gamma Theta chapter, established in 1962, were Robert C. Magers, sage; Alan L. Stinson, first counselor; Arthur J. Manson III, second counselor; Richard E. Deweese, third counselor; and Jerald C. Haines, fourth counselor.

Tau Delta Phi's forty-first year at the University was a successful one in both scholastics and athletics. Scholastically, the landmark year was highlighted by the chapter's rise above brother Tau Delt chapters as recipient of the National Scholarship Improvement Trophy, presented in Chicago. For the second year in a row, the fraternity won the University diving and golf singles championships.

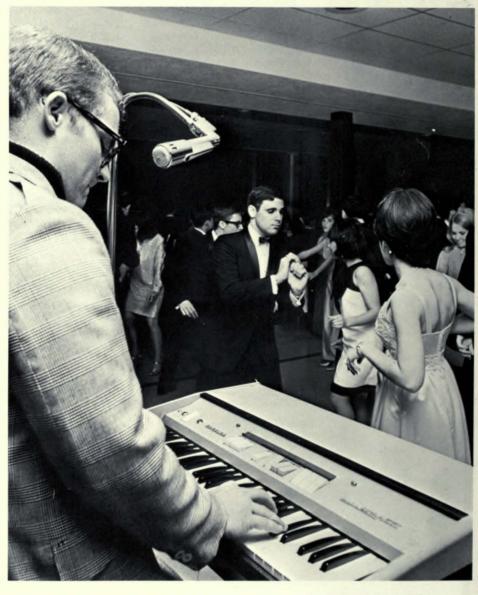

Tau Delta Phi's social calendar included the traditional celebration commemorating the Gay Nineties era, statewide rush weekend, and Round-Up parties.

Founded in 1910 at City College of New York, the fraternity was led last year by Ray Gary Lerner, consul; Martin Barenblat, vice-consul; Gilbert Friedlander, scribe; Larry Smith, quaestor; Lewie Jay Levitan, member-at-large; and Charles Edward Pehr and Harold Dennis Schwartz, rush captains. Mrs. Hannah Krieger completed her third year as housemother.

TKE

Having an active year on campus, the Gamma Upsilon chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon celebrated Halloween by trick-or-treating with various sorority representatives, followed by a party at the Austin Children's Home for orphans.

TKE men contributing to campus activities were John Odell, Outstanding Student, member of the national leadership fraternity of Delta Kappa, and candidate for Phi Beta Kappa; and Shelley Duval, arts and sciences assemblyman. Members participated in many organizations, including the General Assembly as president, Model United Nations, Challenge, and the debate team.

Founded on Jan. 10, 1899, at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill., Tau Kappa Epsilon has become the largest men's social fraternity in terms of number of chapters and undergraduate strength. The local Gamma Upsilon chapter was established in 1951.

Officers for 1966 were John Stephen Odell, prytanis; Kenneth Wayne Sparks, epiprytanis; Robert Thomas Lee, hypophetes; Alfred Dennison Ransel, crysophylos; and Bruce Hunter Hooper, hegemon.

$\Theta \Xi$

Theta Xi community projects last year included a Christmas party for children at Austin State School and a canvass with Delta Zeta sorority for the United Fund throughout Austin. On campus Theta Xi won first place in the Arkansas Sign Contest and was honored when Tom Sealy, an alumnus, was chosen Outstanding Texas-Ex.

Intramurals played an important part in the year's activities as members participated in football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, swimming, handball, golf, and volleyball.

Social life included a match "Worker" party, a ski party, Christmas semiformal and a spring formal.

Theta Xi men were active in such activities and organizations as Campus Chest, Freshman Council, Varsity Carnival, Challenge, Round-Up, and Union committees.

Founded nationally in New York in 1864, Theta Xi established the local Rho chapter on Feb. 22, 1913.

The 1966 Theta Xi officers were Wilbert James Kaper Jr., president; George Parker Wynne, vice-president; John David Calkin, secretary; Rodney Phillip Allen, treasurer; Ronald Allan Murray, pledge trainer; and Robert William Burns Jr., rush chairman. Housemother was Mrs. Henry L. Burks.

ACACIA ORDER OF DELPHI

An honorary organization founded in the fall of 1965, the Acacia Order of Delphi recognizes those girls who have shown an enthusiasm and loyal interest in the welfare of Acacia fraternity.

This sister organization assisted Acacia little brothers in campus, academic, and social activities. Other projects throughout the year included decorating the house for parties, organizing the scrapbook, and serving as hostesses for all parent-alumni functions such as Dads' Day, Round-Up, and the celebration of the Texas Chapter's fiftieth anniversary in 1966. At Christmas the Order sponsored a party with the Acacias for orphan children. In late spring, they presented their annual End-of-the-Year party which included a program and special awards for graduating seniors in the chapter.

This year's officers were Jo Beth Harrison, president; Elizabeth Ann Houston, first vice-president; Karen Allyne Scruggs, second vice-president; Kathy Rather Henneberger, recording secretary; Janie Helen Bowe, corresponding secretary; and Roma Theresa Weaver, treasurer. Acacia's housemother, Alice De Armon, was the group's sponsor. Members not pictured were Charlynn Anderson, Mickie Chastain, Marsha Clarke, Linda Glodt, Carolyn Miller, Daisy Sloan, Debbie Spiva, and Nancy Wray.

Susan Girardeau, spring president, conducted the Sunday afternoon chapter meetings.

CRESCENT CLUB

An auxiliary of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, Crescent Club is an organization composed of girls who are dropped, pinned, or engaged to members of the fraternity as well as friends and sisters of its members.

The group's purpose is to support chapter members in their activities and assist the pledge program through their own little brother-big sister program. This year's activities included sending a newsletter to all Lambda Chi Alpha chapters concerning Crescents, planning a tea for other little sister organizations on campus, serving at the Mom's Weekend tea, and decorating at match parties and the Christmas formal. The Crescents also compiled the annual scrapbook presented to the chapter.

The year's officers were Frances Ann Waghalter and Susan Ann Girardeau, presidents; Susan Ann Girardeau and Linda Joyce Simpson, vice-presidents; Becky Maufrais and Margaret E. Coleman, secretaries; and Frances Conni Muller and Diann Conly, treasurers. Lambda Chi housemother, Mrs. Elizabeth Maynard was sponsor.

Members not pictured were Rietta Caroline Adkins, Suzanne Bealle, Penny Bynum, Florence George, Sandra Hall Dunn, Mildred Maxine Holmes, Mary Talbott Marshall, Nita Lynn McCausland, Nancy Kay McGehee, Cynthia Lee McLean, Frances Conni Muller, Virginia Reh Pistor, Rebecca Ann Porter, Judy Reining, Beatrice Anne Thompson, Merry Nell Van Fleet.

DAUGHTERS OF THE DIAMOND

The Beta Theta Pi auxiliary, Daughters of the Diamond, is a group of girls with mutual interest in the fraternity. Each girl is responsible for several little brothers in the pledge class whom she helps with his social and academic life.

In the fall, the Daughters held a party with their little brothers and assisted as "saloon girls" for the pledges' casino party. To raise money for their annual project, the girls put on a Halloween skit and raffle. The Daughters also decorated for weekend parties and the Christmas formal.

Suzanne Marion Dunne was president of the Daughters of the Diamond this year. Cynthia Taylor Wood served as vice-president; Mary Lou Ray as secretary-treasurer and Jean Christine Leeper as historian.

Daughters of the Diamond helped members of Beta Theta Pi decorate for social functions.

Sigma Phi Epsilon housemother drew winning tickets for the Golden Hearts raffle.

GOLDEN HEARTS

A national honorary auxiliary organization, Golden Hearts is sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. Members are chosen by the fraternity in order to recognize girls who have shown loyalty and enthusiasm for the fraternity. The welfare of the Texas Alpha chapter is the major concern of the group.

The girls served the fraternity by decorating the house for special occasions and serving as hostesses at receptions for parents and national fraternity officers. This year, club members were hostesses for the Mothers' Club meeting on Dads' Day weekend and buffets preceding home football games. Each girl was assigned several little brothers in the pledge class whom she helped with campus and social life. The Golden Hearts were honored at the annual Golden Hearts Ball held in February.

The organization was founded at Arizona State University in 1961, and the Texas chapter established in 1964. This year's officers included Sherri Lynn Fort, president; Peggy Ann Gralino, vice-president; Kay Copeland, recording secretary; A. Frances Yeary, corresponding secretary; and Molly Thornberry, treasurer. The sponsor was Mrs. Addie Montgomery, and the big sister-little brother chairman was Daryl Hale Guinn. Members not pictured were Kay Copeland, Marcy Deniger, and Molly Thornberry.

ORDER OF THE BLUE IRIS

As an auxiliary to Theta Xi fraternity, the Order of the Blue Iris honors those girls who have shown an interest and devotion to the Rho Chapter.

The organization was established to promote the activities of the chapter at the University. Members decorate for parties and serve as hostesses at special events, such as Dads' Day, homecoming, and the formal. Besides helping in rush activities, the girls helped new pledges in their social and academic life.

Officers for last year were Louise Noelie Coerver, president; Carol Ann Weller, vice-president; and Kay Elaine Kercheville, secretary-treasurer. The chapter sponsor was Eric Baker Becker and chapter coordinator was Jay Kaskie. A member not pictured was Susan Beth Long.

LITTLE SISTERS OF THE MALTESE CROSS

A national honorary organization sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Little Sisters of the Maltese Cross recognizes those girls at the University who have shown dedication and enthusiasm for the Gamma Eta chapter of the fraternity.

The Little Sisters promoted fraternity functions by decorating the house for parties, serving as hostesses for all parent-alumni functions such as Dads' Day and Round-Up, and offering constructive criticism and ideas designed to help the fraternity. At the beginning of the year, each Little Sister was given little brothers from the fall pledge class, and was responsible for orienting these boys in campus and social life. In the latter part of the spring, the Little Sisters held their annual End-of-the Year party, which included a humorous program and special awards to various chapter members.

The officers for the year were Pamela Ethel Primdahl, president; Florence Ann Wells, vice-president; Hilaire Michelle Girard, secretary-treasurer. Chapter sponsor was Tolbert M. Dalton. Members not pictured were Sarah Susan Butler, Sandra Jean Duckworth, Jane Cornish Heartfield, and Priscilla Camille Sawtelle.

The Little Sisters served as hostesses at the homecoming weekend open house.

LITTLE SISTERS OF MINERVA

A national honorary auxiliary serving as hostesses for Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Little Sisters of Minerva is sponsored by the fraternity to recognize girls who have demonstrated their loyalty to the Texas Rho chapter.

The Little Sisters decorated for parties, acted as hostesses for Dads' Day weekend and Homecoming, and expressed ideas to help the fraternity. The girls worked with the fraternity to hold a Minerva Weekend for the mothers in the spring. Active in community services, they sponsored a Christmas party and an Easter egg hunt for underprivileged children.

Officers for the year were Mary Nell Sticksel, president; Shirley Ann Methvin, vice-president; Susan Marinis, secretary-treasurer; Francie Barnard, corresponding secretary; Ruth Gay Lyles, social chairman; and Kenny Lynn Griffith, historian. LITTLE SISTERS OF THE RAMPANT LION

A national honorary organization of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Little Sisters of the Rampant Lion was founded Oct. 1, 1966, to recognize those girls who have shown dedication to Omega Chi chapter.

During the year, the Little Sisters aided the fraternity with its social and campus activities. They acted as hostesses for parent-alumni functions, sponsored a Christmas party for children at the Austin State School and decorated the fraternity house for parties.

Officers for the year were Ann Reading Parsley, president; Gail Rustin, vice-president; and Jane Marie Park, secretary-treasurer. Chapter sponsor was John Winship Mitchell.

LITTLE SISTERS OF THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND

A national honorary society sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, Little Sisters of the Shield and Diamond assisted the Beta Mu chapter last year by decorating for parties and serving as hostesses for fraternity functions. At the beginning of the year, each Little Sister was given several little brothers from the fall pledge class to help in academic and social life.

Important events of the year included a picnic, raffle, Thanksgiving skit, a luau and the annual gift to the chapter.

Established in the spring of 1966, the organization was led this year by Joyce Marie Hilsher, president; Trenna Lynn Smith, vice-president; Helen Lu Hearne, secretary-treasurer; and Carolyn King, corresponding secretary. Jane Young, Pi Kappa Alpha housemother, served as the group's sponsor. Members not pictured are Jean Bell Dullnig, Karen Kee, Victoria Lynn Manchester, Alice Pfeiffer, Linda Rae Shead and Melinda Ann Waggener.

Little Sigmas treated the Sigma Chi's to a doughnut party.

LITTLE SIGMAS OF SIGMA CHI

A national honorary organization, Little Sigmas of Sigma Chi worked closely with Alpha Nu chapter to help promote activities and interests of Sigma Chi fraternity at the University.

For Derby Day, the Little Sigmas entered Sigma Chi officers in the annual event which ended with all the officers mud-soaked. The girls joined their little brothers, fall pledges, in food steals and other pledge activities. In October, the Little Sigmas sponsored a coffee for all University little sister organizations. Throughout the year, the girls helped the Sigma Chi's plan and decorate different types of parties.

Officers for the 1966-67 year included Mary Dickey Block, president; Phyllis Evelyn Lanning, vice-president; Nancy Ann Mattiza, secretary; Marsha Gay Gostecnik, treasurer; and Diane Elizabeth Donelson, publicity chairman. Sisters of the Mystic Eye helped Phi Psi's decorate their Christmas tree.

Sisters of the Seven Stars entertained local orphans at a Christmas party.

SISTERS OF THE SEVEN STARS

Organized last year as an auxiliary organization to Delta Upsilon, Sisters of the Seven Stars served as hostesses for the fraternity. One of the fall activities was a Christmas party for children from a local orphanage. The Seven Stars also helped sponsor a surprise Christmas party for Mrs. J. D. Belton, Delta Upsilon housemother, and presented to all members and pledges Christmas stockings that they had made. A little brother system began in the spring where each pledge was given a big sister who helped him with his social and academic life. A fund-raising event to finance future projects was also planned for spring.

SISTERS OF THE SIGNET

An honorary organization sponsored by Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, Sisters of the Signet recognizes those girls most closely associated with the Theta Triton chapter.

The purposes of this organization are to provide service and spirit and to encourage an active interest in fraternity projects and goals. The girls helped with rush, decorated for parties, and planned social functions each semester. Each girl was assigned a little brother from the pledge class to help to adjust to college life. The Sisters also assisted the Mother's Club.

The group was led last year by Sally Sue Klinck, president; Mary Burke Moorman, vice-president; Beth Terrell, secretary and Helene Ruth Meehan, treasurer. Members not pictured were Carol Mathews, Helene Ruth Meehan, and Maria Patterson.

A Christmas tree decorating party was held at the Kappa Sig house.

SISTERS OF THE STAR AND CRESCENT

An auxiliary organization, Sisters of the Star and Crescent was formed to aid members of Tau chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Charter members were selected last fall to promote fraternity functions, decorate for social activities, and serve as hostesses for the fraternity.

Following a picnic held for the Kappa Sigma pledges, each Sister received a little brother whom she helped with campus and social functions. Throughout the year, the auxiliary sponsored various activities for members and planned a charity event for each semester.

Patricia Pfefferling served as president of the auxiliary. Other officers were Rhonda Susan Read, vice-president; Susan Gay Gettier, secretary; Lynn Llewellyn, treasurer; Barbara Ann Hill, parliamentarian; Beverly Sue Bunting, social chairman; Mary Lee Gideon and Kathryn Patricia Hopkins, historians. James Harris Underwood was the active representative. Mrs. Jo Ann Cox served as sponsor. Members not pictured were Mary Kay Kerr and Gemme Rousseau.

SOUTHERN BELLES

An honorary society, Southern Belles was organized to assist Kappa Alpha fraternity.

During the year, members worked with fraternity pledges to coordinate social and academic life. They also served as hostesses for weekly coffees and football-game buffets, assisted with the Kappa Alpha alumni coffee in March and helped prepare for the annual Old South Ball and other fraternity social functions.

President of the Belles this year was Julia Katherine Ryan. Sarah Ann Hartman was vice-president; Beverly Wayne Patterson, secretary; and Laura Lee Lehmberg, treasurer. Sponsor was Mrs. Worrell Combs, Kappa Alpha housemother. Raymond Alex Landy was chapter representative. Members not pictured are H. Suzanne Waring, Mary Louise Williams and Jerolyn Sue Witt.

At their picnic for Chi Phi fraternity, Sweethearts of the Chakett served the meal.

SWEETHEARTS OF THE CHAKETT

An auxiliary organization sponsored by Chi Phi, Sweethearts of the Chakett recognizes girls who have worked most conscientiously for the fraternity. The charter chapter was established by the University's Nu chapter of Chi Phi in March, 1966. This chapter is the national office for the new organization.

The Chaketts decorated for parties, sponsored various activities for the pledges, initiated fund-raising projects and served as hostesses. They also expressed ideas which they felt would be beneficial to the fraternity.

Officers for the year were Kay Lynn Wolters, president; Carol Ann Clark, vice-president; Camille La Trelle Cloudt, secretary; Donna Kay Douglas, activities chairman; and Sheila Elizabeth Gallagher, historian. Members not pictured are Ann Kay Prescott and Beverly Smith.

WHITE STAR SWEETHEARTS

An honorary organization, White Star Sweethearts recognizes girls who have shown an interest in the Upsilon chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity. The group was founded at the University in 1965.

At the beginning of last year, each White Star Sweetheart was given little brothers from the fall pledge class and assisted these boys with social and campus activities. They sponsored parties with them, helped decorate for parties at Christmas and served as hostesses for parent-alumni functions.

Fall and spring officers were Darlene Faye Harris and Lynne Adair Beavers, presidents; Lucy Riddle Ross and Teresa Rhoten, vice-presidents; Teresa Rhoten and Sandra Kaye Rushing, secretary-treasurers; Lynne Adair Beavers and Karen Ann Rodgers, social chairmen; and Nan Davis and Judy Ann Amacker, little brother coordinators. Mrs. Jack Huston, Sigma Nu housemother, was sponsor. Members not pictured are Suzanne Laura Baker, Rebecca Beeley, Nan Davis, Jo Ann Giese, Sharon Leigh Hutton and Jan Louise Krueger.

ANDREWS

Last fall, the girls of Andrews Dormitory had several after-hours sing-songs. For Halloween, each girl was given a secret twick-or-tweat twin who "twicked and tweated" her on the sly until the "come-as-your-roommate" Halloween party where the twins were revealed. At Christmas, the dormitory held an open house and tree-trimming party for dates as the halls were opened so that visitors could view the individual doors trimmed especially for the holiday season. As their Christmas project, the girls gave gifts to Austin State Hospital patients and sent a large quantity of koolaid to a regiment of troops in Vietnam. Spring activities included the annual dormitory dance and tapping of next year's advisors.

Mrs. Dorothy Martin was resident counselor, and last year's student assistants were Annette Ripper and Mary Carmen Estes. Advisors were Linda Daphine Clunn, Saundra Louise Goodson, Elaine Anne Grady, Julia Bates Haldeman, Linda Ann Hutchins, and Anne Louise Marsh. Also, Georgeann Mauk, Peggy Jean Miller, Martha Ann Spillman, Kathleen Bess Stephenson, Mary Ann Weiss, and Janet Marie

BLANTON

Last year, Blanton Dormitory held separate parties for each of the five floors to enable girls living on the same floor to become better acquainted. The night before the first day of classes, Halloween, and birthdays provided ample excuses for such innumerable parties. The girls also participated in a Dads' Day coffee, an open house, and a Round-Up brunch in the spring for parents and friends of residents. Other activities were the Christmas dinner with faculty and administration guests, the "dollar run" to collect dorm dues, door decorating for Christmas, and a tree-trimming party. Scope is the honorary organization for those residents of Blanton maintaining an over-all 2.0 grade point average.

Mrs. Ruth Moore was the resident counselor, and the student assistants were Linda McMillan, Sheila Suzanne Fulbright, Betty Burrows, and Paula Barkley.

CAROUSEL APARTMENTS

That pink structure on the corner of Oldham and Manor Road is home for University women who enjoy the privacy of approved housing combined with the independence of apartment living.

At Christmas, the girls decorated their apartments for a display to dates and friends during an open house. Other open houses were held during the year at which guests were invited for visits and meals.

The resident manager was Mrs. Lucille McClellan and the student assistant was Marcia J. Tullos.

CAROTHERS

Carothers Dormitory, "the Friendly Dorm," was built in 1936, and named in honor of Mrs. Asenath Carothers, Director of the University's first residence hall for women. Carothers houses one hundred and twenty-eight co-eds on its three floors, and is located at 2501 Whitis. One of the four "Quadrangle Dorms," Carothers shares a courtyard with Andrews, Blanton, and Littlefield dormitories.

Carothers' large recreation room is the scene of informal parties throughout the year, and is converted into a study area during final exams. The major social function of the fall semester was the Christmas tree-trimming party. The spring semester was highlighted by the annual advisortapping dinner at which the names of the new advisors were revealed.

Residents of Carothers dormitory participate in intramural sports activities in co-operation with Blanton and Andrews dormitories. Short devotional programs presented by residents each Wednesday night have become a tradition in Carothers.

Mrs. Mabel Wroten was Carothers Resident Counselor; this year's Student Assistants were Caryl Ann Wise and Darlene Becker.

CONTESSA

Throughout the year, residents of Contessa varied the academic routine with talent shows, hayrides, a "grubby" party, and Contessa-Nueces Hall dances. Campus speakers came for after dinner discussions.

A Christmas party combined the Mexican way, a pasada, with the American way, a carol sing. Later, the girls had a pajama party with skits and humorous gifts. Contessa also participated in intramural sports including basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, softball, and track.

The internally organized student government had a social, speakers, food, sports, and student relations committees. Advisors and representatives on the student relations board were elected at wing meetings.

HARDIN HOUSE

Hardin House is a privately owned and operated apartment dormitory exclusively for University girls. As part of the University campus for more than a quarter of a century, Hardin House places its emphasis on personal contact and home-like atmosphere. Several housemothers work under the direction of Mrs. Stella Hardin, director and founder of Hardin House, and assist the girls in their sections.

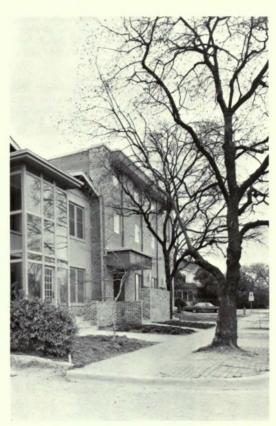

Two swimming pools, study carrels, a sun deck, television room, and game room are available for the girls' use.

HEFLIN MANOR

The "Dorm on Longview Hill" has established several traditional events during Heflin Manor's four-year existence. These annual events included a Christmas tree decorating night, open house, and door-decorating contest. The talent show offered an opportunity for competition in creativeness, and an advisor tapping dinner honored those residents selected for dormitory leadership positions in the coming year.

Once a month, students majoring in a foreign language invite their instructors or international students for dinner. Other special dinners celebrate the month's birthday girls. Faculty members also participated in "after-dinner-conversations" throughout the year.

Manager John H. Baker, along with his supervisors Mrs. Eunice M. Spoeneman and Les Cannon, organize programs and activities such as the Heflin Singers, intramural teams, and student tutors.

KINSOLVING

Kinsolving is the largest of the University owned dormitories and has a capacity of eight hundred girls. It is divided into an upperclassman unit (North) and a freshman unit (South), each of which houses four hundred girls.

Some of the all-dorm activities included a hootenanny to welcome the girls at the beginning of school and Christmas open house. Phi Beta Kinsolving is an academic honorary which was organized to foster academic excellence among the residents.

In Kinsolving South, there are two girl rooms and a community bath. The North differs in that it housed its residents in four girl suites with a bath separating the two bedrooms. Due to changes in housing policy, however, North will no longer be open exclusively to upperclassmen and will be predominately for freshman girls. Special activities which occurred on North were the Halloween Ugly Girl contest and the advisor tapping dinner.

Resident counselors were Mrs. Margaret L. Brown, coordinator, Southeast; Mrs. Helen Coffin, Southwest; Mrs. Zadie Lumpkin, Northeast; Mrs. Idella Patterson, Northwest. Student Assistants were Mary Lorene Dennis, Marion Annette Hurt, Julia Frances Moore, Patricia Evelyn Nelson, Southeast; Gloria Lee Goff, Faith Cecelia Knaffle, Betty Rodgers, Norma Sue Stanley, Southwest; Zelime Amen, Trudy Dreiseszun, Jane Ellerkamp, Peggy Ann Goldbeck, Northeast; and Jane Arian Haun, Linda Beth La Baume, Mona May Landreth, Carol Ann Ward, Northwest.

LITTLEFIELD

The Alice Littlefield Memorial Dormitory, which was completed in 1927 as G. W. Littlefield's memorial to his wife, now houses 166 University coeds.

In the fall, Littlefield Dormitory participated in the Aggie Sign Contest, a Dads' Day coffee, and a Christmas party for children from the Austin State School. Spring activities included the Littlefield Formal and an advisor tapping dinner. At the end of the year, girls who had earned a 2.0 grade point average became members of the Littlefield Mortar Board, and a scholarship plaque was awarded to the dormitory wing which had amassed the highest grade point average. Special dinners celebrating various occasions throughout the year, plus all-dorm parties, also highlighted the year.

SCOTTISH RITE DORMITORY

Last year, 367 University coeds lived in the Scottish Rite Dormitory, a massive Georgian building located on seven wooded acres which offered its residents a sun bathing area, swimming pool, greenhouse, and laundry. Each year, a house council is elected by the residents and staff. It is their duty to assist the counselors in planning the year's activity program and maintaining a high standard of study conditions. The Scottish Scholars is the dormitory's academic honorary. This group of girls serve as tutors for residents and plan recognition dinners for those with outstanding scholastic achievement. Last spring, a formal dance was held for all residents and their guests.

Scottish Rite Dormitory was founded in 1920, and is operated by the Scottish Rite Masons of Texas. Mrs. F. C. McConnell is Director and Mary Leutwyler is Head Resident Counselor.

TOWER MANOR

Tower Manor began the fall semester with a coffee for parents during the fall registration period and a Dads' Day open house. Before Christmas, the girls participated in a tree-trimming party as well as a Christmas program for the girls and their dates. Candlelight dinners were held at Thanksgiving, Halloween, Christmas, and Easter. During the spring semester, Tower Manor held another open house on Round-Up weekend.

NEWMAN HALL

Named after John Henry Cardinal Newman, an English churchman, lecturer, and author of the Nineteenth Century, Newman Hall has housed University women since 1918. Owned by the Dominican Sisters, it was the first Catholic dormitory erected on a secular campus and the second religious dorm at the University. About seventy girls lived in the main building and small annex. Director Sister Francis, O.P., was aided by Zula Jacobs, housemother, and Katie Hoffman, housekeeper.

WOMEN'S CO-OPERATIVES

Almetris Co-op, named after its founder and present housemother, Almetris Duren, collected toys at Christmas for the children of a needy family in Austin. The girls also participated in Inter Co-Operative intramurals.

Century House entered many contests at the University, winning the Texas Union Carving Contest with the happiest pumpkin. Large Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners were held for many college men. Fire drills, in addition to regularly scheduled house meetings, were conducted throughout the year.

Felecia Co-op is operated by an elected co-ordinator and House Rules Committee. The co-op participated in Inter Co-Operative Council activities such as a program for reading to blind students, a Christmas party for underprivileged children, and social functions. An open house was held during Co-op Week in the spring.

Halstead Co-op started the fall semester with an old girlnew girl party. During Thanksgiving, a formal dinner was held at the house, and at Christmas the girls helped Campus Guild Co-op give a party for underprivileged children, by decorating a tree and exchanging gifts. After the Theleme Co-op burned, the girls provided members with food, supplies, and clothes.

Pearce Co-op was active in all Inter Co-Operative Council activities last year including intramural football, the pump-kin-decorating contest, Bevo Aggie Sign Contest entry, retreat at Zilker Park, and an exchange dinner with TLOK Co-op. During Christmas, the girls held a party at Greg House for underprivileged children.

Powell House held its annual Thanksgiving dinner with its members bringing guests and preparing all the food. At Christmas, each girl was given a "secret pal" who did favors for them but were not revealed until the house Christmas party. Powell House also participated in intramurals, Co-op Week song fest, an annual picnic, and the May formal dinner.

MEN'S CO-OPERATIVES

During the spring Co-op Week, house members stressed not only the financial advantages of co-ops but also the closer relations developed by working together. Room and board in co-ops is lower because the members do their own housework. In men's houses, the president runs house meetings and attends other meetings as a house representative. Close relationships among the houses is nurtured by the Inter Co-Op Council, which consists of representatives from men's and women's houses, in addition to representatives from the dean's offices. Just as houses vary in the distribution of duties, they differ in disciplinary methods. The house may have a House Rules Committee that aids the coordinator in problems or the responsibility may fall on the president.

Tragedy struck all Co-Op members on January 25, 1967, when Raymond William Short was killed in the early morning fire that destroyed Theleme Co-Op.

Long recognized as the largest, most progressive men's co-operative on campus, Campus Guild marked 1966-67 as a school year of participation, charity, and socializing which supplemented its members' scholastic activities well.

An active voice in the ICC, the Guild hosted that organization's first dance in September. In December, a delighted group of 20 underprivileged children were treated to toys, new shoes, and a Christmas meal at the Guild's traditional Yuletide party.

With the frost out of the air, the Campus Guild opened its doors in the spring to visitors during Co-Op week, proud to display a completely re-furnished living room and many other improvements. ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

Edited by Alice Kay Hartong

Darrell K. Royal, Athletic Director, Jack Coleman Patterson, Assistant Athletic Director.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Supervising intercollegiate athletics and extramural activities falls under the jurisdiction of the Athletic Council. Composed of nine members—one each from the Students' Association and Ex-Students' Association, two appointed by the Board of Regents, and five from the General Faculty Standing Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics—the Council is headed by the chairman of the faculty committee. Present holder of this position is J. Neils Thompson, who also serves as the University's faculty representative in the Southwest Conference.

. In addition to his duties as head football coach, Darrell Royal is director of athletics and, as such, is in charge of all athletic activities of the University. He is assisted by Jack Patterson.

The work force of the athletic business office is led by business manager Al Lundstedt and assistant Bob Rochs. Jones Ramsey and Orland Sims are in charge of publicity for teams and players.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Functioning to raise spirit for University athletic events through pep rallies before football games and leading cheers during games, the cheerleaders attend all home football and basketball games and travel to out-of-town football games. The head cheerleader is elected by the student body during spring general elections, with his squad being chosen in the fall. The cheerleaders serve for one year.

Dan Burleson, second-year law student from Austin, headed the 1966-67 Cheerleaders. The squad was composed of Winnie Chapman, sophomore Plan II major from Houston; Beverly Enderle, junior education major from Houston; Jane Gully, sophomore education major from Corpus Christi; Alan Hubbard, sophomore pre-dental major from Garland; Cherry Morrill, sophomore education major from Beeville; Dot Nelson, junior mathematics major from Galveston; and Mike Waldron, sophomore pre-medical major from Fort Worth.

Lan L. Hewlett, counselor, sought suggestions from and discussed an athlete's adjustment to college demands with Kelly Baker and Andy White.

COACHING STAFF

A coaching staff of eight men work under the guidance of head coach Darrell Royal. Charley Shira, Longhorn defensive line coach since 1957, worked with defensive backfield coach Russell Coffee to perfect the team's defensive performance. Texas linebackers and ends received instruction from Mike Campbell and his aide, Fred Akers, one of this year's new additions to the staff. Another new coach, Leon Manley, assisted Willie Zapalac in coaching the offensive line. After acting as backfield coach for the past six years, Bill Ellington became assistant athletic administrator, in addition to his duties as freshman football coach. The off-season found coaches active in recruiting high school players for future Longhorn teams.

Lan Hewlett, the "brain coach," oversees the scholastic interests of the players, helping them to maintain academic eligibility.

OUTSTANDING LONGHORNS

Seven 1966 Longhorns won positions on newspaper and wire service all-Southwest Conference teams. Consensus all-Southwest Conference members were linebacker Joel Brame, tailback Chris Gilbert, and defensive end Corby Robertson. Others honored were David Conway, kicking specialist; Barney Giles, defensive end; Howard Goad, offensive guard; and Danny Abbott, offensive guard.

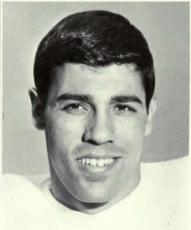

Two Longhorns honored nationally were Gene Bledsoe, who gained all-America academic honors for his work in the classroom, and sophomore tackle Mike Robuck, who received Associated Press Lineman of the Week honors in October following a 90-yard touchdown run after intercepting a Rice pass.

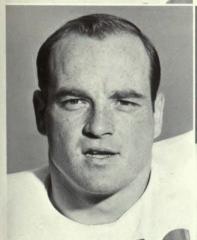

The George "Hook" McCullough Most Valuable Player Award went to Chris Gilbert, the D. X. Bible Team Spirit Award to Gene Bledsoe, the D. Harold Byrd Leadership Award to Barney Giles, the Travis County Exes Scholarship Award to Wesley Barnes, the Longhorn Club Sportsmanship Award to Les Derrick, and the Recognition Award to Howard Goad.

Texas football 1966: a Bluebonnet Bowl victory, a secondplace tie in the Southwest Conference, record-breaking running, injuries, heart-breaking narrow defeats, reserves who made good, and outstanding sophomores.

The Longhorns closed the 1966 season with a 19-0 rout of the University of Mississippi with the Texas offense smashing through the nationally-ranked Rebel defense for 283 yards and tailback Chris Gilbert setting two Bluebonnet Bowl records.

Texas scoring began with Bill Bradley's 25-yard first period scamper following Gilbert's 50-yard blast to the Ole Miss 25-yard line. In the second period, Gilbert climaxed a 68-yard drive by plunging over from one yard out, and Texas led 12-0.

The final score came in the fourth period on a four-yard plunge by Bradley. David Conway kicked the extra point making it 19-0.

The Texas defense limited Ole Miss to only two scoring threats with four pass interceptions coming at key times. Les Derrick pulled in three Rebel passes and Barney Giles intercepted one.

PASS-PUNT

The season opened and ten sophomores began their varsity careers on a rainy, muggy afternoon in Austin against a big, uncompromising University of Southern California team which controlled the football for 25 minutes of the first half. Despite the ball control, USC was only able to score one touchdown and a field goal against a strong Texas defense.

A pass interception on the Texas nine-yard line by Scooter Monzingo set up the only Longhorn score of the day. Texas ended the 91-yard march when Bill Bradley went over on a three-yard run. The attempted two-point conversion failed and the game went to the Trojans 10-6.

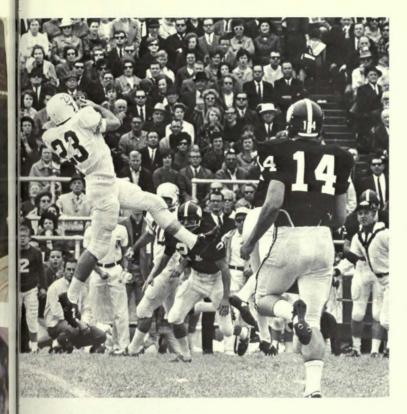

The Texas offense blasted through the Ole Miss line for a total of 283 yards rushing.

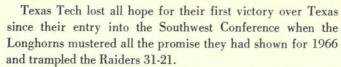

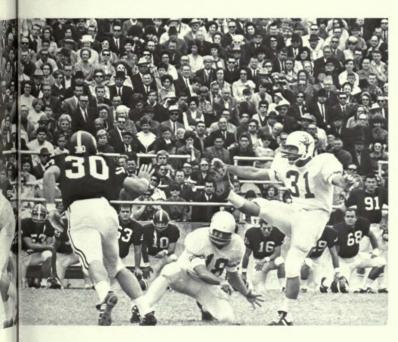

Within the first 13 seconds of the game, Texas had seven points on the scoreboard on an 88-yard kickoff return by Greg Lott. In the second period, Bill Bradley set up a Texas field goal with an 80-yard quick kick which died on the Tech one-inch line. Forced to punt, Tech gave the Longhorns the ball and trailed 10-0 on a 37-yard field goal by David Conway.

A fumble recovery by Bob Stanley set up another Texas touchdown in the second quarter, soon followed by a third when Ronnie Landry recovered a Tech onside kick, and Bradley passed to Tom Higgins eight plays later to bring the half-time score to 24-8.

The second period opened with another rapid Texas touchdown following a fumble recovery by John Elliott. Bradley went over from the three-yard line for the last Texas score.

THE OFFENSE

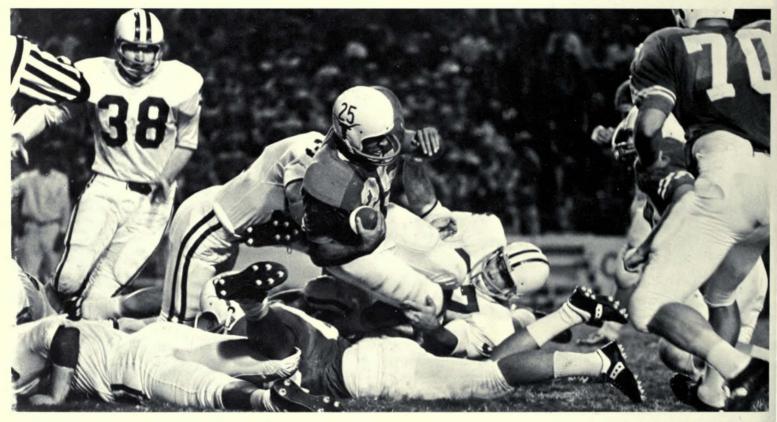

Scoring in every quarter, Texas combined four pass interceptions, an adept substitute quarterback, and a staunch defense to crush Indiana 35-0.

A 14-yard scamper by Jim Helms ended an 85-yard drive that began with a fumble recovery by Joel Brame. Second period scoring came on a 45-yard pass to Greg Lott, and Texas lost Bill Bradley on the Indiana attempt to prevent the play.

Substitute quarterback Andy White took over for Bradley in the second half, tossing a six-yard pass to Lott for the only third quarter score. Going into the fourth quarter with a 21-0 advantage, White led the Longhorns to a fourth touchdown with Helms carrying for the final four yards.

The final touchdown was set up when Barney Giles intercepted a pass on the Indiana 30-yard line. Chris Gilbert went over from the 15-yard line for the last six points, and David Conway added his fifth conversion of the evening.

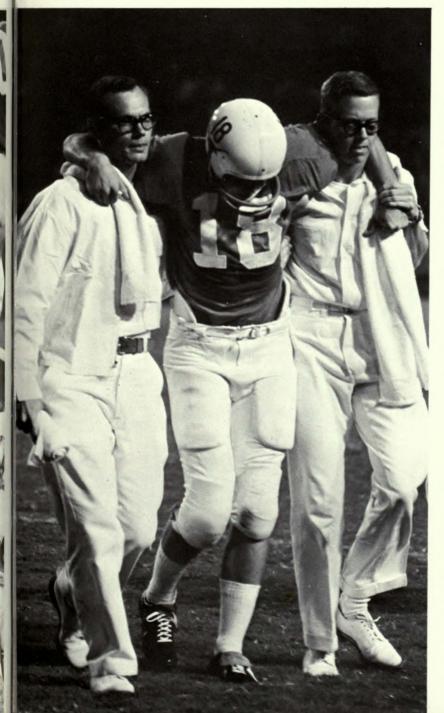

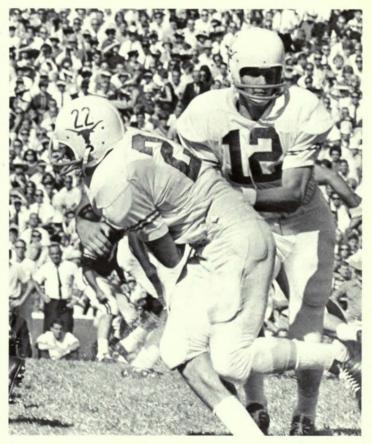

Above: Cutting through the middle of the Indiana line, Chris Gilbert racked up a first down. Right: Eluding an OU tackler, Chris Gilbert piled up yardage towards his 1,234 yard season total, making him the third highest yardage-gainer in Texas football history.

The Oklahoma Sooners snapped the Texas eight year victory string by defeating the Longhorns 18-9 in the annual OU weekend classic.

Texas' first score was a 25-yard field goal by David Conway, but OU soon scored and never trailed again. Long-horn misfortunes began in the second half with continuously lost fumbles and numerous OU field goals—a record four in one game. The Texas touchdown came in the final quarter with Andy White going over from the one-yard line. The attempted two-point conversion pass was deflected.

THE DEFENSE

Converting two recovered fumbles to field goals and a 49-yard punt return to six points, Arkansas edged Texas for the third straight year by less than a touchdown.

The 12-7 decision reflected an intense defensive battle marked by 13 fumbles and four pass interceptions. Each team lost three fumbles and was intercepted twice, with Les Derrick and Fred Edwards pulling in the Texas interceptions and Pat Harkins grabbing up the fumbles.

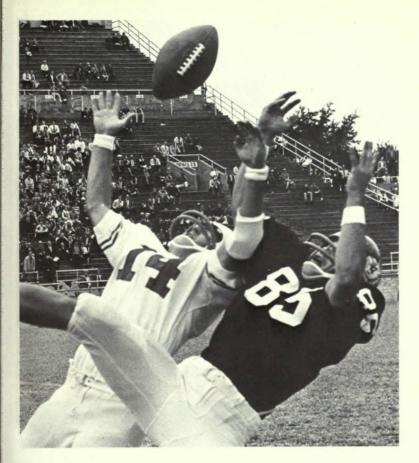

Leading 7-6 at the half on a short plunge by Chris Gilbert, second half scoring attempts by Texas proved futile. Bill Bradley's attempted touchdown pass from the Arkansas four-yard line was intercepted in the end zone, ending Texas' best opportunity to score.

Above: Texas' defense proved particularly effective in the 19-0 defeat of the Ole Miss Rebels. Right: Despite determined Texas defensive efforts, Arkansas slipped by Texas, 12-7.

A 90-yard touchdown run following the interception of a deflected Rice pass gave Texas tackle Mike Roebuck the Associated Press Lineman of the Week award, and headed Texas toward a 14-6 victory over the Owls.

The Texas defense, led by Joel Brame, Barney Giles, Pat Harkins, and Diron Talbert, repeatedly rose on Rice scoring attempts to prevent the Owls from wrapping up more than one touchdown. The first Texas touchdown came on a one-yard scramble by Chris Gilbert, culminating a 66-yard drive.

Above: Pat Harkins demonstrated fine defensive form earning him gold stars for fumble recoveries and pass interceptions throughout the season. Below: Engulfing an SMU Mustang are Fred Edwards, Joel Brame, Corby Robertson, and Mike Robuck.

OFFENSIVE DEFENSE

Field goals told the story of the day as the Mustangs defeated the Longhorns 13-12. Scoring was identical for both teams—one touchdown and two field goals—but a missed Texas conversion and an SMU field goal with 18 seconds remaining put SMU on top.

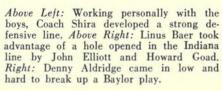

Texas opened 6-0 on a 74-yard run by Chris Gilbert on the third play from kickoff, and the rest of the first quarter turned into a punting duel. SMU scored in the second quarter, but a pass interception by Corby Robertson set up a Texas field goal and Texas led 9-7 at the half.

Another three points by David Conway in the third quarter widened the Longhorn margin to 12-7. The Mustangs recovered a fumble on the Texas 44-yard line, moved to the 15-yard line, and added a field goal to their tally: Texas 12, SMU 10.

Another fumble recovery gave SMU the game. With 2:45 left, Texas fumbled on the SMU 32-yard line and the Mustangs quickly marched to the Texas 22-yard line, kicked a field goal, and squeaked past the Longhorns by one point.

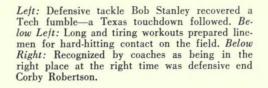

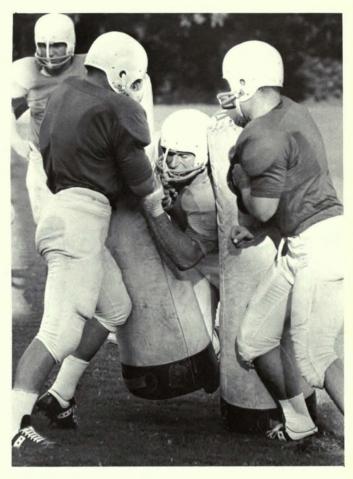

Chris Gilbert stepped into Longhorn record books by amassing 245 yards on 24 carries as Texas darkened Baylor's hopes for their first victory over a Royal-led team, 26-14.

Gilbert opened with a 35-yard run, initiating a 72-yard drive that ended when Bill Bradley went over from the one-yard line. With Baylor leading 7-6 at the half, Texas opened the third quarter with an 11-play, 52-yard drive climaxed by Gilbert scoring from the two-yard line. Bradley's two-point conversion try failed.

On the next Texas play, Gilbert broke left tackle and advanced 55 yards to the Baylor seven-yard line before being brought down. Bradley scored the six points on a five-yard sprint. Conway's kick made it 19-7.

Baylor came back with a touchdown to threaten the Longhorn lead, but soon afterward, Texas took over on the Baylor 35-yard line. Gilbert grabbed a handoff and galloped 65 yards to the end zone to end the game 26-14.

SATURDAY'S HEROES

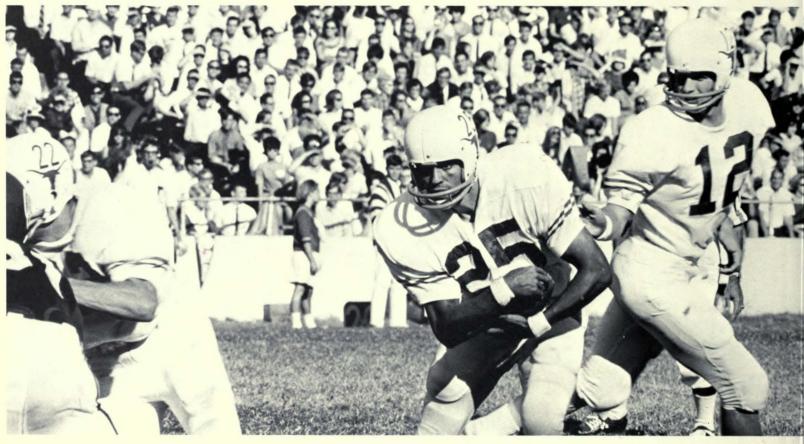

Sparked by David Conway's record-breaking 52-yard field goal in the opening minutes of the game, the Longhorns marred TCU's homecoming by defeating the Frogs 13-3.

A second period interception by Joel Brame opened the way for a Texas touchdown coming on a five-yard pass from Bill Bradley to Ed Small in the end zone, and leaving Texas leading 10-0 at the half.

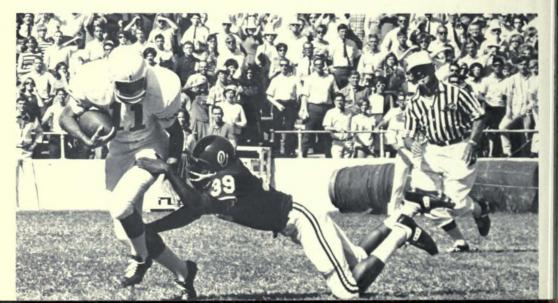

Texas defensive efforts prevented TCU from scoring their first touchdown in their home stadium this year. The Longhorns intercepted five TCU passes during the game: Brame led with two, while Fred Edwards, Corby Robertson, and Denny Aldridge each picked off one.

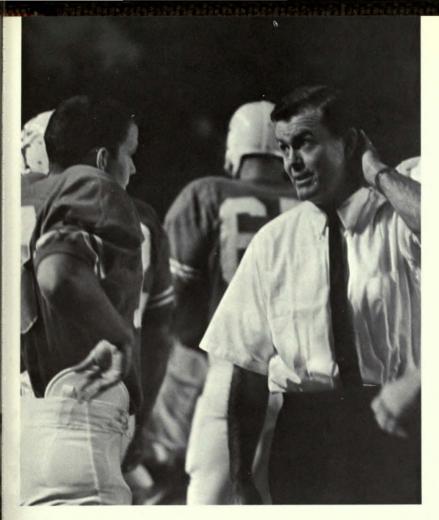

Aldridge's interception gave Texas their final score when he ran the ball back to the TCU 30-yard line. With 1:06 left in the game, Conway kicked the twenty-first field goal of his career, a 44-yarder, to seal the 13-3 victory over the Frogs.

Above: Texas-USC, the first game of the season, was nationally televised. Center: Behind the blocking of Linus Baer, Andy White called signals for another gain by Chris Gilbert. Below: Truly one of Saturday's Heroes, Greg Lott brushed off the OU defense at the Dallas weekend classic.

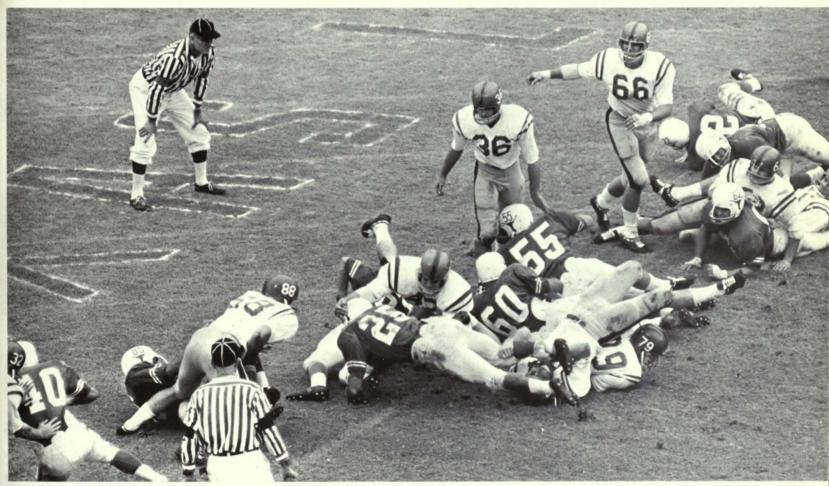

The Longhorns ended regular season play with their tenth straight victory over the Aggies, 22-14.

Bill Bradley put Texas' first six points on the scoreboard when he went over from the six-yard line. David Conway's kick made the score 7-0. After an Aggie touchdown, Bradley lofted a 61-yard pass—the longest pass play of the season—to Tom Higgins to put Texas ahead 14-6.

Conway added six more points with field goals of 30 and 27 yards. The Longhorn defense added the final two points when John Elliott and Mike Robuck downed the Aggie quarterback in the end zone for a safety.

Three pass interceptions by Fred Edwards, Pat Harkins, and Mike Perrin boosted the season total for interceptions to 19.

A 6-4 season—not the best Texas has had, but it forecast a bright future and left high hopes for the 1967 Longhorns.

MANAGERS AND TRAINERS

Four men behind the scenes joined forces to keep the team physically-fit and well-equipped. In his twenty-first season with the Longhorns, trainer Frank Medina has introduced physiotherapy and diathermy into his training room to reduce the extent of team injuries and speed the return of players to the field. Working with Medina and his student trainers was the team physician, Dr. Stanley Casner, who saw that team members were healthy and physically-fit to play.

Maintenance and transportation of uniforms and equipment was under the supervision of Jimmy Blaylock. Assisted by several volunteer student managers, Jay Ward, senior manager, saw that all equipment was on the field when needed. Junior managerial awards went to Joseph Harry Doenges, Richard McKean Spellman, and sophomore awards went to Jimmy Lee Ball, and William Glen Hall.

Tying for second-place honors in the Southwest Conference, The University of Texas basketball team established five major school records. Included in these season firsts were most points in a game, 114 against LSU; most field goals in a game, 53 against LSU; most field goals in a season, 749; most total points, 1,966; and best team over-all field goal percentage, .492.

With every man on the roster scoring, the 1967 Longhorns whipped Texas Wesleyan, 106-63, in the opening game. Traveling to Oxford, Miss., the UT hoopsters were plagued by fouls in the second half, dropping a close one, 80-82, against Mississippi. Then on to Baton Rouge where the 'Horns dominated the game from start to finish and chalked up a record-breaking number of points to beat LSU, 114-78. Scoring 18 points in the first half, Scotty Brown led with a 20-point total. Back to Austin, and the 'Horns outscored the Oklahoma State Cowboys, 76-70. Noel Stout was the court's smoothest performer with 21 points. In a seesaw game against Howard Payne, the Longhorns came out on top, 85-82, with center Gary Overbeck leading the team with 16 points and 10 rebounds.

During the Christmas holidays, the Orange and White team flew to Tempe, Ariz., for the Arizona State Tournament where they won their opener against Arizona State, 93-81, but were outscored, 87-101, by their next opponent Iowa State. Next, the team journeyed to Oklahoma City for the All-College Tournament where they bowed to Montana State, 87-91, again beat Arizona State, 89-88, and lastly fell to Massachusetts, 74-85.

Continuing Conference play, the 'Horns outshot TCU 47.5 per cent to the Frogs' 44.3 per cent, but were unable to pull into the lead, bowing out, 82-96. Noel Stout paced scorers with 23 points. Outscoring the Mustangs, 82-73, the Longhorns managed to hand SMU one of the Ponies' two league losses. Play was tight with ten first half ties, and Coach Bradley called this game the team's "best defensive effort so far."

Another close contest against Texas Tech saw Gary Overbeck hit the final basket with two seconds remaining to defeat the Red Raiders, 70-68. The half-time show highlighted this game with the presentation of the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship trophy to the University. After suffering a 59-68 loss to the Texas Aggies, the team finished mid-season with a 9-6 record.

CAGERS POST 14-10 SEASON

Top Right: Charlie Turnbough sank one for two points in the 82-73 victory over the Mustangs. Bottom: Good ball control enabled Billy Arnold to elude two SMU defenders.

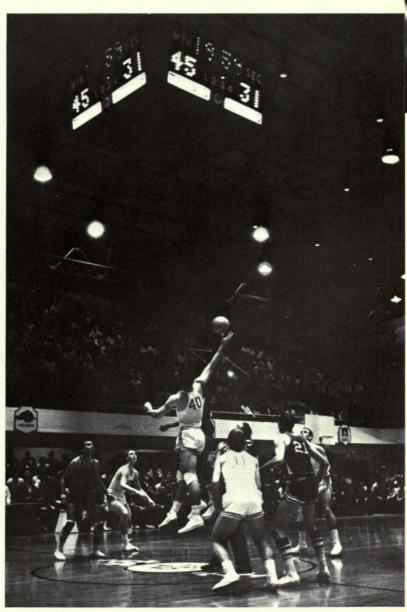

Top: Scotty Brown boosted the score with a free throw in the 85-82 defeat of Howard Payne. Bottom Right: Out-jumping his Texas Wesleyan rival, Gary Overbeck headed the Longhorns toward another score.

Renewing Southwest Conference play after a two-week lay-off period during final exams, the Longhorns were edged by the Baylor Bears, 86-88, in Waco. Returning to Austin, Charlie Turnbough led the UT cattledrive with 17 points against the Rice Owls. The 'Horns hit 61.7 per cent from the floor to defeat Rice, 81-73. Jumping to a 12-1 lead at the game's outset, the Steers went on to slip past Arkansas, 67-61. High point laurels were awarded to Billy Arnold with 22 points, while defensive honors went to Charlie Turnbough, who grabbed off nine rebounds, the high for both teams.

On Feb. 14, in one of the season's most exciting games, a would-be Valentine's Day Massacre nearly occurred as players and fans squared off at Rice Gym. Play finally resumed, and UT raced on to an 81-76 victory over the Owls. In a similarly spirited game, four technical fouls were called as the penalty-ridden Longhorns struggled, but failed, to catch up to the Baylor Bears who led, 101-75.

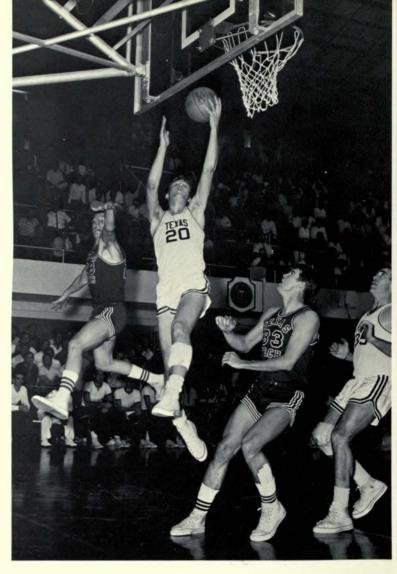

HORNS TAKE SECOND IN SWC

In the second Tech game of the season, the first half proved to be a run-and-shoot affair, and the second half seesawed with 13 lead changes resulting in 15 ties. However, the Red Raider unity finally spelled an 88-78 Longhorn doom. With two games left, Texas ball-hawking defense shone and the Steers returned from the dressing room playing almost errorless ball in the second half to trounce Texas A&M, 72-58.

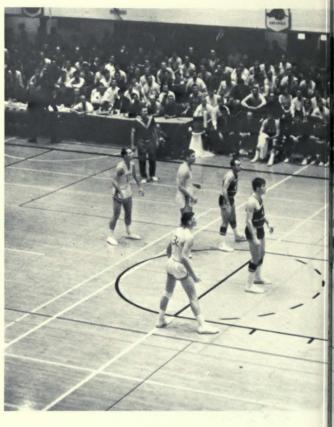

Hitting their highest score in league play this season, the Longhorns raced by TCU, 88-79. UT hoopsters turned on fast-break tactics in the second half and the Frogs collapsed. Having played their last game on the Gregory Gym hardwood, seniors Charlie Turnbough, Noel Stout, and Mike Gammon received standing ovations from the crowd. Fired by visions of victory in the first half, Longhorn spirit was dampened as the SMU Mustangs rallied to a 92-83 win in the final game of the season. For the tenth time this season, senior forward Noel Stout captured scoring honors with 21 points to increase his season total to 384 points.

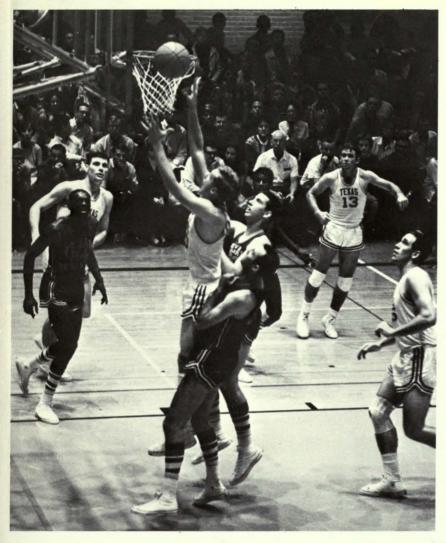

At the end of the 1967 basketball race, Texas posted a 14-10 record and a second-place tie for Conference honors.

Bottom Right: Firm control of the ball as demonstrated by Larry Lake aided Longhorns in downing the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets.

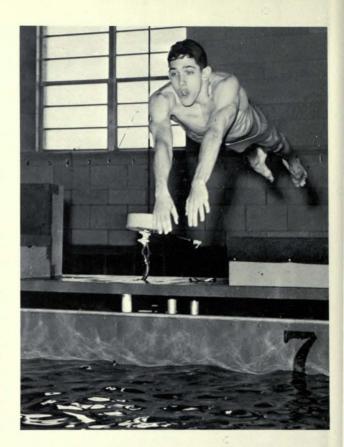

1967 VARSITY SWIMMING

Taking second in the Southwest Conference and winning five out of seven of the season's dual meets, Coach Henry Chapman's team set nine school records in the 1967 season. Longhorn swimmer Gary Langendoen set a new conference record in the 100-yard butterfly with 52.3 seconds.

In dual meets this year the Longhorns defeated Eastern New Mexico University, Texas Tech, Arlington State, Rice, and Texas A&M, and fell to OU and SMU. Longhorn swimmers also attended the NCAA Championships at Michigan State University in March, placing twentieth in a field of 66.

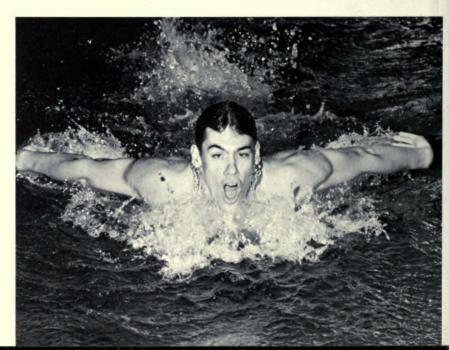

Varsity lettermen were James Lyon Ahern, Steve S. Boss, Daniel Theodore Casey, Dana Allan Curtis, John Wesley Cardwell, Scott Cullers Duncan, and Kenneth Mark Karotkin. Also, Gary Lee Langendoen, Kenneth Robert Richardson, Richard Foley Santamaria, Gregory Wilkens Thompson, Gregg Cooper Waddill, Joseph Everett West, and Charles Joseph Worrel.

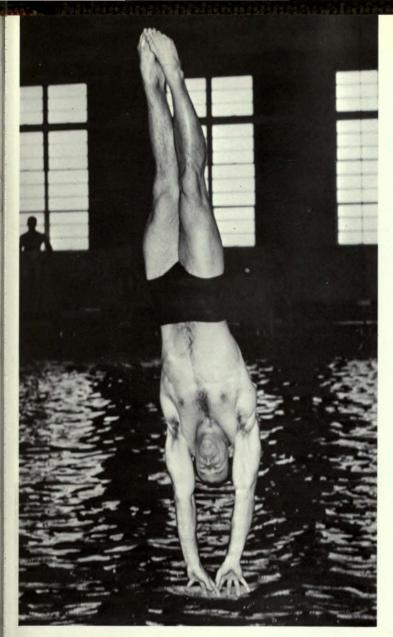

Reserve letters went to Richard Topping Ake, Charles Joseph Collins, Bruce Edward Larson, Paul Edward Meyer, Lawrence Rodney Rodgers, and John Lowell Stiles. The sophomore managerial award went to John Goodpasture.

1967 VARSITY TRACK

Breaking one school record, placing fourth in the Southwest Conference, hosting a star-studded Texas Relays, and performing well, but facing stiff competition—that was the 1967 track season.

The Longhorns opened their season with a second-place finish in the University of Houston meet, when Texas took four field events and the distance medley relay. First place score winners were Bill Elliott in the broad jump, Mark King in the pole vault, Toby Belt in the shot put, Barry Noble in the high jump, and the distance medley relay team of Rudy Alaniz, Lee Anderson, David Webb, and Brian Woolsey.

Texas high jumper Barry Noble barely missed 6' 9" but took a first-place award at 6' 7".

Broad jumper Bill Elliott placed second in Texas-Rice-Texas A&M meet behind Longhorn Charles Clifton.

Another second-place standing occurred as the Longhorns performed in the Texas-Rice-Texas A&M triangular meet in Austin. Brian Woolsey took first place in both the mile and three-mile runs. In the broad jump, Texas captured first and second place when Charles Clifton and Bill Elliott both exceeded 24 feet. Mark King topped the meet record with a 16' 1/4" pole vault for first place; John Elick took second in the javelin; and Toby Belt placed second in the shot put and third in discus. Barry Noble took the high jump with a 6' 4" leap.

Traveling to Laredo for the Border Olympics, Longhorn trackmen finished fifth behind Rice, Houston, Baylor, and Texas A&M. Mark King added another new record with a 15'8" pole vault. Taking first place in the broad jump, Bill Elliott added to Texas' 28 point total, as did third places by John Elick in the javelin, Barry Noble in the high jump, and the mile relay team of Rudy Alaniz, L. J. Cohen, Eddie Canada, and Bob O'Bryan.

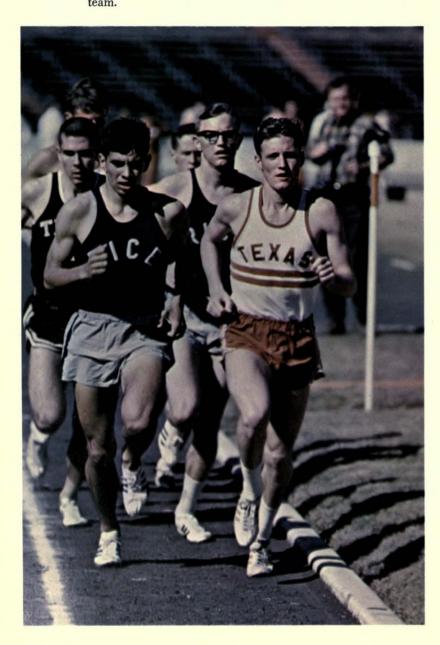

The West Texas Relays in Odessa saw Texas finish third behind Abilene Christian College and Baylor. Toby Belt took the lone Longhorn first place with his shot put of 53' 8½". Second place scores were added by high jumper Barry Noble, broad jumper Charles Clifton, and distance medley relay runners Eddie Canada, Rudy Alaniz, David Webb, and Brian Woolsey. The mile relay team finished third, posting a new season best, a 3:14.1.

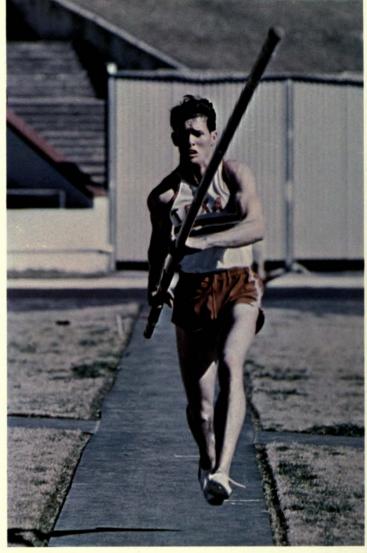

Tying Baylor for third in the Corpus Christi Invitational, Texas runners again posted several new season bests and one new record. Charles Clifton broke the broad jump record with a leap of 23'6½". Mark King added points with his second place in the pole vault.

TEXAS RELAYS ATTRACTED 1,300 VARSITY ATHLETES

Fifty-six points placed Texas second behind Abilene Christian College in the Texas-ACC-Rice triangular meet in Abilene. Shot-putter Toby Belt brought in one first place with a toss of 54' 1½". Other first place scores were added by Charles Clifton in the broad jump, Mark King in the pole vault, Barry Noble in the high jump, and David Matina in the 880 run. The mile relay team of David Matina, L. J. Cohen, Bob O'Bryan, and Eddie Canada ran the third fastest mile relay in school history with a 3:09.4, finishing third. Sprinters Jimmy Gillham, Lonnie Schiller, James Means, and L. J. Cohen took third in the 440 baton race with a 41.5 behind a winning time of 40.6. James Means added a second place in the 100-yard dash.

Four world record holders and nearly 1,300 athletes reported to Austin for the Texas Relays Mar. 31-April 1. Thirteen over-all new records were set, highlighted by Kansas' world record sprint medley relay clocking of 3:15.2. Jim Ryun, world record holder in the mile, anchored the Records also fell in the shot put, discus, pole vault, high hurdles, and long jump. Longhorn Mark King turned in his best pole vault of the season, a 16' 2\(^3\)4", to break the Relays record, but saw his new record broken minutes later by Fred Burton of Wichita State with a 16' 9\(^1\)2". Bill Elliott took third in the broad jump, as did the sprint medley relay team of L. J. Cohen, Lonnie Schiller, Bob O'Bryan, and David Matina, posting less than a second above the old school record of 3.19.5. John Elick tossed the javelin for a second place. Running the two-mile relay for the first time this year, David Webb, David Matina, Rudy Alaniz, and Bob O'Bryan took a second with a 7:33.4, behind winning Missouri.

After being rained out at Rice, the Longhorns traveled to Lawrence, Kan., for the Kansas Relays. The two-mile team of David Webb, Bob O'Bryan, Rudy Alaniz, and David Matina won first place with a 7:25.6 clocking. Posting the third fastest time in school history, the mile relay team of David Matina, L. J. Another seasonal best in the 880 relay put James Means, Lonnie Schiller, L. J. Cohen, and Eddie Canada in third place.

Again traveling out of state, the varsity trackmen placed in five baton events at the Drake Relays held in Des Moines, Iowa. The Longhorns finished second in the 880 relay with a 1:25.9 and third in the 440 and mile relays with a 41.1 and 3:10.1 respectively. Fourth and fifth places came in the two-mile and sprint medley relay.

The 1967 track season closed with the Southwest Conference meet in Dallas as Texas took fourth place with 36 points and two first place titles. Successfully defending his championship, Mark King surpassed competition with a 15' 4" pole vault. The other Texas first place was brought in by Charles Clifton with a 23' 834" long jump, with Bill Elliott adding a second place score in the same event. In the 880 run, Rudy Alaniz and David Matina took second and third respectively.

Sporting promising sophomores from this year's freshman team, good returning lettermen, and only losing five varsity men to graduation, the outlook for track in 1968 is bright.

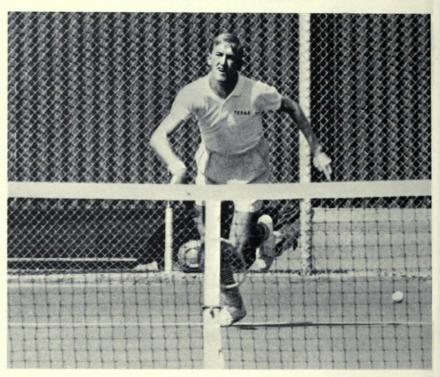

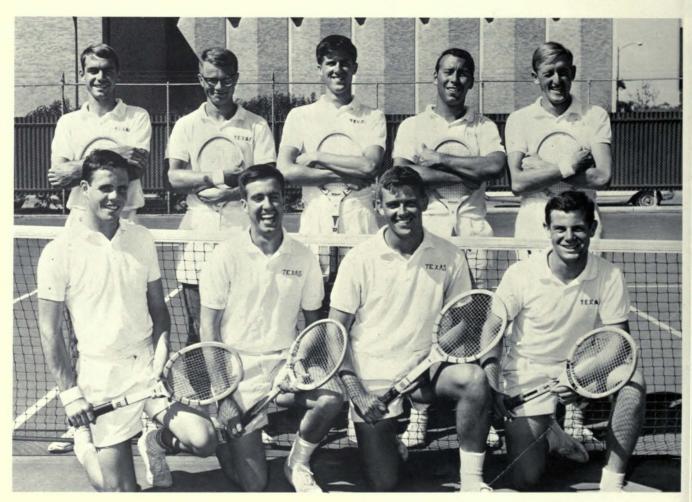

Ted Gorski approached the net to slam one back at his opponent.

Losing their first Southwest Conference match to Baylor, the Longhorn tennis team ended the season by edging the Bears by one point for the SWC title. After the 2-4 loss to Baylor, the Longhorns, coached by Wilmer Allison in his eleventh year at Texas, the Longhorns went on to defeat SMU 6-0, TCU 6-0, A&M 5-1, Rice 3-3, and Texas Tech 6-0. Senior Ted Gorski placed second in the individual SWC tourney.

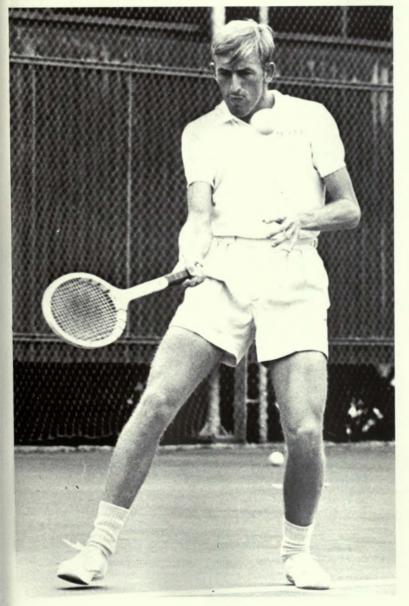

Tennis lettermen were Bobby Brooks Connell, William Dan Driscoll, Larry Eichenbaum, Theodore Paul Gorski Jr., Leo Oscar LaBorde Jr., James Michael Liddle, and David Walter Nelson. A reserve award went to William Curtis Raschke. Thomas Thomas received the senior managerial award.

With the Southwest Conference title, five players on the Associated Press All-Southwest Conference team, the SWC Batting Champion, and the last season for a man'who had coached at Texas for 25 years, and won 476 out of 652 games, the Texas baseball team closed the season with a 16-9 record.

The Longhorns began what proved to be one of their finest baseball seasons with a 5-1 loss in the first game of a double-header with the Sam Houston State Bearkats. With Texas winning the second game 3-0, Jimmy Hunt, Bob Snoddy, and Don Johnson led the hitters, and Gary Gressett pitched a three-hit shutout.

Texas continued its winning ways as it swept a three-game series from Oklahoma. The Friday double-header featured sloppy fielding on OU's part and Minton White's first home run of the season as the Sooners fell 8-4 and 7-6. Gary Gressett won his second game of the season in the Saturday contest with the 'Horns triumphing 7-4. The fourth inning was the big one for Texas with hits from White, Kelly Scott, Pat Brown, George Nauert, and Don Johnson.

Texas won its fifth straight when traditional rival Texas Lutheran College came to town. Home runs by George Nauert and Minton White, and a three for three day by Pat Brown paced the offense for the Steers, while Tommy Moore pitched seven innings of a shutout. The final score was 7-2.

The camera peeks through the Clark Field key hole and snares action in the Minnesota game.

Beginning a string of non-conference losses for Texas, the Minnesota Gophers swept a series at Clark Field. The strong Minnesota club banged out 15 hits in the first game as the Steers fell 7-5. A ninth inning rally left the Longhorns still a run short as the Gophers handed Bibb Falk's men their third non-conference loss 7-6 in the second game. The Horns collected 11 hits to Minnesota's 9.

Eight of 13 runs scored in the Longhorn's 7-6 loss to the St. Mary's Rattlers were unearned as both teams suffered an unusual number of errors. Bob Snoddy, with three hits, and George Nauert, with two, paced Texas hitters. The Steers tied the score in the bottom of the eighth, only to see St. Mary's take advantage of a fielding miscue in the ninth to score the winning run.

An exciting pitcher's duel in the 7-0 defeat of Wisconsin was destroyed in the bottom of the seventh inning as the Steers exploded for five hits and four runs. Gary Gressett collected his third victory, and also enjoyed a two for four performance at bat. Also leading the hitters were George Nauert and James Scheschuk, with two hits apiece.

HORNS TAKE SWC

Traveling to Houston, Texas opened SWC play against Rice. The pre-season favorite Owls looked like winners as they edged the Horns 3-2. Gary Gressett, Minton White, and Bob Snoddy delivered two hits each.

Evening their conference record to 1-1, the 'Horns shutout the Aggies 5-0 behind the steady pitching of Tommy Moore. Bob Snoddy, Kelly Scott, George Nauert, and Minton White led Texas hitters. Nauert hit a tremendous 375-foot shot to the top of the Clark Field hill for an inside-the-park home run in the second inning. Sailing a 350-foot home run over the left field fence in the sixth inning, White also rounded the bases.

Collecting three of Texas' five hits with a single, double, and solo home run, Jimmy Hunt was unable to help sustain the 'Horns as they fell to SMU 5-3.

Starting its SWC momentum rolling with a 9-2 victory over Baylor, Texas demonstrated its hitting power as Pat Brown belted two home runs over the fence, one in the third inning with two men on, and one in the fifth with no teammates aboard. Tommy Moore allowed the Bears only four hits in picking up his fourth victory with no defeats.

Top: All-SWC first baseman Bob Snoddy made the big stretch. Middle: Centerfielder Kelly Scott slid safely into third against Sam Houston State. Bottom: A side of the Longhorn baseball team seldom seen by fans—the practice session.

Top: Coach Bibb Falk made one of many decisions that eventually led the Longhorns to a Southwest Conference co-championship, his twentieth in 25 years. Right: Bob Snoddy exemplified form which won him the SWC batting crown.

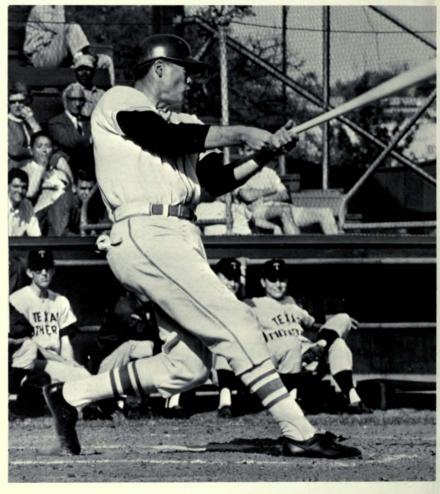

STAUNCH TEXAS NINE POSTS 16-9 SEASON

The Longhorns continued to flex their hitting muscles against the Baylor Bears during the spring break. Texas moved to the SWC lead by defeating the Bears 12-0 and 11-7, collecting five home runs in the first contest and four consecutive ones in the second to erase a 10-year-old record. Texas led 6-4 when the bombardment began in the seventh inning with Kelly Scott, Pat Brown, Bob Snoddy, and James Scheschuk each blasting one out of the park.

Further securing its position on top of the SWC with a two-game sweep of the Rice Owls, Texas won the first contest by a 2-1 margin, as pitcher Tommy Moore allowed only five scattered hits. Gary Gressett was the winner in the second game, taking it 4-1. Pat Brown led Texas hitters with a perfect day of four hits, and Kelly Scott powered a pitch over the right field fence.

Following a 1-0 shutout in the first round of play with TCU, league-leading Texas was one game ahead of the second-place Frogs when the second round series began. The standings were identical when the Frogs left town, with Texas winning the first come-from-behind thriller 7-4, and TCU downing the 'Horns 5-3 in 10 innings in the second game.

The 'Horns traveled to Dallas for a crucial two-game series, with SMU's Mike Livingston again proving to be the Steers' nemesis as he struck out 15 Texas batters in the first game. The second contest was a different story as the Longhorns came through with six runs in the sixth inning to defeat the Ponies 10-2. All of the Longhorns gained hits, as Gary Gressett pitched a five-hitter.

As so often has happened in the past, the final Texas-Texas A&M series determined the conference champion. The Longhorns needed a sweep to win the conference outright and a split to share the championship. Handing the Steers a 6-1 loss in the first contest, the Aggies could muster only three scattered hits in the second. Texas hitters were led by Don Johnson, Kelly Scott, and Bob Snoddy. Snoddy, who contributed four hits in nine times at bat in the weekend series raised his average to .397, making him SWC Batting Champion. The win gave Texas a co-championship with TCU and the title by virtue of two victories over the Frogs.

Opening a best-of-three series with the University of Houston for the NCAA District 6 title, Texas fell 11-8. Recovering in the second game, Texas downed Houston 5-1 behind Tommy Moore's pitching and a homer by George Nauert, but fortune reversed itself and Texas bowed to the Cougars 4-3 in the third game when Houston staged a four-run rally in the ninth inning.

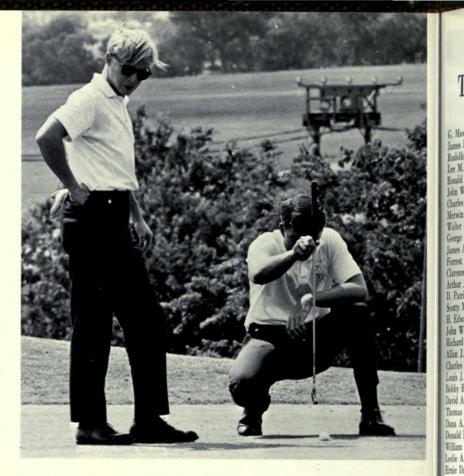

Ending with a 17-11 season, Longhorn baseballers gave Coach Bibb Falk his twentieth conference championship in his last year as UT baseball coach.

1967 VARSITY GOLF

Beginning the season slowly, Longhorn golfers crushed their last three opponents to tie Baylor for second in the Southwest Conference. Coached by George Hannon, three players placed in the SWC Individuals meet. Sophomores Chip Stewart, Rik Massengale, and Buddy Hamilton took second, fourth, and fifth places respectively. Texas golfers defeated Arkansas $3\frac{1}{2}\cdot2\frac{1}{2}$, A&M 4-2, SMU 6-0, and Rice 5-1. Tying Texas Tech 3-3, Texas lost to TCU $2\frac{1}{2}\cdot3\frac{1}{2}$ and Baylor 1-5.

Letters in golf went to George Mason Adkins, Dee S. Finley, William Buddy Hamilton, James Mike Holbrook, Rik Gregg Massengale, Jerome Duncan Smith, and Earl Richard Stewart III.

Kneeling: Rik Massengale, Mike Holbrook, Captain Mason Adkins, Bruce Miller, Chip Stewart. Standing: Jerry Smith, Dee Finley, Marshall Parker, Bobby Seaholm, Buddy Hamilton. FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Amassing 84 points and allowing opponents 58, the Shorthorns won four games and tied one in the 1966 season. Stressing a ground game, the freshmen gained three more yards by rushing than opponents did on total offense. Shorthorn defense was also tough—on 17 occasions, they stopped opponent drives inside the 35-yard line.

Pat Sheehan led in scoring, times carried, and rushing yardage, with Rick Sable taking top punter honors. James Street was the Shorthorns' best passer, and Robbie Patman was credited with the most pass receptions. Glen Halsell led in defense with three interceptions.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Splitting the season with six wins and six losses, the Yearlings scored 987 points to their opponents 984, tallying 100 points in two games. High score for the season was the 106 in the 116-106 defeat by Wharton Junior College. Wayne Doyal led the Yearlings in field goals made and number of rebounds, while Mike Tennison held the record for free throws, total number of points scored, and most points in one game, 28 against Tyler Junior College.

The Yearlings were coached by Charlie Shannon.

FRESHMAN TRACK

Breaking three school records, the freshman track team defeated competing freshmen teams in the Rice-A&M-Texas and the Baylor-ACC-Texas triangular meets. The freshmen tracksters amassed 60 points in the first meet and 66 in the second to hold the winning scores.

Freshman records fell in the pole vault when Jim Mallard soared to a 15'1" first place in the Southwest Conference meet, and in the discus with a 154'1½" toss by John Walker for a second place in the Rice-A&M-Texas meet. The two-mile relay team of David Ramsey, Fred Cooper, John Robertson, and Mike Mosley set a new best time when they posted a 7:36.4 for second place at the Kansas Relays.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Striving to provide girls the chance to compete in sports and learn cooperation and self control, the Women's Intramural program offered girls an opportunity to use leisure time wisely, acquire a knowledge of and liking for sports, and enlarge their circle of acquaintances on campus.

The year's program offered a wide variety of team and individual sports to all University women. Trophies were awarded to tournament winners, those who amassed the largest number of points throughout the year, best manager, and for sportsmanship.

Intended primarily to afford students an opportunity for athletic participation, Intramural sports allows participants to cultivate skills which can be used for recreation throughout life.

Organized competition in at least 27 sports aided in developing a sense of fair play and satisfaction as well as physical benefits. Living groups and organizations participated as groups or individuals entered independently.

SWEETHEART FINALISTS

Each spring the student body elects the girl to be their official representative, the Sweetheart of The University of Texas. The Sweetheart Election Commission is responsible for the nominating procedures to select the sweetheart candidates. The members of the Sweetheart Commission nominate persons to serve as the Sweetheart Nominating Committee. The Committee, which actually nominates the girls that the student body votes on, is made up of the top twenty-five persons nominated by the Commission members. Each of the members of the Nominating Committee submits a list of five girls he believes are qualified to be Sweetheart. The Commission tabulates these lists, and the top twenty-five girls are submitted to the students to be voted upon. The five finalists are announced, and the students again vote. The Sweetheart is presented at the Round-Up Presentation Dance.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

The selection of Outstanding Students was made by a committee of deans and student representatives from 230 nominations received from student organizations and the University faculty.

An Outstanding Student must have an approximate two point grade average, junior classification, and not be a former Outstanding Student. The committee's selection was based on each student's outstanding contributions to The University of Texas, scholarship, leadership, awards and honors received, and participation in campus organizations and activities. The committee considered both the activities and the quality of the student's performance in an activity.

GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

JOHN B. CONNALLY

THE BOARD OF REGENTS

Governor John B. Connally and the Texas Legislature headed the state administration of Texas education and its state supported colleges and universities which included The University of Texas System. Capably administered by Chancellor Harry Huntt Ransom, The University of Texas System increased in size and scope. A growing enrollment was matched by growth in facilities and in academic achievement. The nine member Board of Regents was responsible for the overseeing and planning for the Main University and its nine branches including 47,000 students. The Development Board worked closely with the Regents to solicit private funds for the Texas System. These private contributions made possible the recruitment of distinguished scholars, the acquisition of library collections, student financial aid, and the development of more research laboratories and equipment.

HARRY HUNTT RANSOM

THE DEVELOPMENT BOARD

The University of Texas Development Board is the agency of The University of Texas responsible to the Chancellor and through him to the Board of Regents for all private fund development for the entire University System.

The Board established in 1939 by the Regents is composed of prominent citizens who voluntarily devote time and effort to the welfare of the University. The Board members are named by the Executive Council of the ExStudents' Association and by the Board of Regents, including one who is a member of the Board of Regents. The Chancellor of the University is an ex-officio member of the Board.

DEAN OF WOMEN

The Staff of the Dean of Women is responsible for the administration and coordination of specific areas of student life, particularly those related to the interests and welfare of women students. In this coordination, the Staff works with students, faculty, and the administration sharing responsibility for student success in academic and co-curricular areas of student life.

In addition to daily work with individual students and general student life, each staff member has special areas of responsibility as a Student Group Advisor. These areas encompass such interests as scholastic honoraries; service organizations; University Orientation; student-faculty-staff committees; Symposia and discussion groups; councils of the Women's Cooperative Houses, Panhellenic, and Upperclass Advisors.

The Staff works with student housing in the belief that a housing environment which reflects the educational purposes of the University contributes to the development of mature citizens and leaders. In the women's dormitories the Dean of Women's staff sponsors a program of peer advising through a council of 260 upperclass women.

Through continual counseling with individual students and student leaders, the Staff endeavors to create an environment in which students may assume increasing responsibility, may experience the values of self-discipline, and may achieve major intellectual and personal goals.

LAWRENCE TURNER FRANKS, Dean of Men

DEAN OF MEN

The Staff of the Dean of Men has a wide range of responsibilities in student life at the University. Specific areas of responsibility include Fraternities, Housing, Student Organizations, Discipline, and the enforcement of Parking and Traffic regulations.

Students and their families turn to the Dean of Men's Office for counseling and information in these and other areas related to University life. In addition, staff members serve on faculty-student committees and as advisors to several student groups.

The faculty and staff turn to the office for information and assistance in matters relating to University policy and procedure in student organizations, fraternities and clubs, housing, discipline and traffic.

Students have found that the general information provided by this office is most helpful, and they can also look to the office for referrals to the appropriate office for more specific information.

EX-STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

The Lila B. Etter Alumni Center is the home of one of the oldest organizations on the campus, The Ex-Students' Association.

Organized in 1885, only two years after the University opened its doors, the Association is the independent organization through which more than 200,000 Texas Exes serve their alma mater. An 18-member staff directs the alumni program, including more than one hundred Texas Exes Clubs throughout the world.

The Ex-Students' Association's services to the University vary. It recruits students through its "Operation Brain-power" program. It interprets the University's problems and aspirations to the people of Texas through its "Operation Information" program. And its sizeable Loan Funds and Scholarship Program annually benefit more than 150 students.

The Association also contributes thousands of dollars of unrestricted funds to the University each year. This money represents all of the profits from campus vending machines and the concessions at athletic events. These funds are used by the University for fellowships, scholarships, and programs of excellence for which tax funds are not available.

More than 22,000 Texas Exes make these activities possible by the payment of dues to the Association. In return for their support, Association members receive a subscription to the alumni magazine, the ALCALDE; the opportunity to purchase football tickets in advance of the general public; free privileges in all University libraries, and many other benefits.

Affairs of the Ex-Students' Association are governed by a 46-member Executive Council elected by the members. The full-time staff is headed by Jack Maguire, executive director since 1956.

UNIVERSITY WRITINGS COLLECTIONS

Published writings of students, ex-students and members of the faculty have been issued since the first session of The University of Texas in 1883. Although these items were available in various libraries on campus, they have now been focused into a single representative collection, which is colloquially termed the University Writings Collections. The wide range and depth of the interest, skills, and arts of the Collection's writer groups is shown by their diversity of subject matter. Printed volumes, reprints, scholarly journals, technical publications, monographs, and official publications of the University are included. Undergraduate writings comprising student newspapers, magazines, and the Cactus yearbook are available for use in the library, which is located in the Undergraduate Library and Academic Center ground floor.

An exhaustive bibliography of ex-students, and faculty writings is maintained. A permanent and expanding collection is sought. All items are welcomed. The sole requisite is that the writings be that of someone who was at one time a student or on the faculty of the University. The project has been planned and executed by volunteers, who contribute time and materials to the undertaking. The collections are maintained permanently as the Richard T. Fleming Library of the University of Texas Writers. He was the founder in 1961 and has remained as the collector and curator of the Project. He graduated in Arts & Sciences, 1912 and Law, 1915.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

The College of Arts and Sciences, as the largest educational unit in The University of Texas at Austin, enrolls more than forty per cent of the student body of some 27,000 members and teaches approximately seventy per cent of all semester hours offered. Its 600-member faculty is about one half of the General Faculty, and graduate students serving as Teaching Associates and Teaching Assistants augment this regular staff.

The College of Arts and Sciences offers instruction in the broad fields of the sciences, the humanities, and the social sciences. The purpose of this instruction is to give to the student an understanding of himself, of his cultural and historical heritage, of the world and the universe in which he lives, and of the intricate and complex relations that exist among men in society. The goals are the enrichment of the human mind, the development of intellectual independence and curiosity, and a knowledge of moral and ethical values as reflected in human progress.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

ADMINISTRATION

The current pace of technology has no parallel in history, and this surge of technology will accelerate the forward thrust of our economy creating new processes and increasing productivity. During 1966-67 several programs designed to meet the needs and the responsibilities of a changing business world were initiated. For example, significant changes have been made in the college's approach to research. The vitality of a university depends upon both its teaching and its research performance. In addition, there is a tremendous need for more knowledge in such areas as: the impact of science and technology upon business and the economy; relations between business and government; the international operations of business; urban development; the process of innovation; and the social responsibilities of business.

To investigate these and other areas, cross-disciplinary research projects which should be of broad use to numerous business organizations and to society generally are being developed. A vital part of this new approach will be the speedy communication of research results to business and society so that applications of new knowledge can be made readily.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION

By the middle of its second year of existence, the School of Communication had registered an increase of 49 per cent in enrollment over the first year.

The School consists of the Departments of Journalism, Radio-Television-Film, and Speech, with degrees offered in all three departments. In the spring semester of 1966-67 a graduate seminar brought to the campus seven of the most distinguished authorities in communication for public most distinguished authorities in communication for public lectures and discussions with students. The Center for Communication Research has brought cooperative efforts from faculty members in the departments of educational psychology, sociology, psychology, linguistics, business communication, and the departments of the School.

Each of the School's departments is associated with services to the campus. Journalism contributes many staff members for The Daily Texan, The Ranger, The Cactus, and other publications. Radio Television-Film is closely tied to KLRN and KUT. The Speech Department maintains the Speech and Hearing Clinic and supports intercollegiate debating. debating.

Chairmen of the departments are as follows: Norris G. Davis, Journalism; Stanley T. Donner, Radio-Television-Film; and Jesse J. Villarreal, Speech.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

New programs for the preparation of teachers are rapidly growing under the auspices of the Research and Development Center for Teacher Education, the Science Education Center, the Foreign Language Education Center, the Laboratory for Computer-Assisted Instruction, and the regular academic departments within the University. The experimental projects in team teaching, video tape feedback, elementary science concepts using the inquiry method, teaching chemistry, mathematics, reading by computer-controlled typewriters and cathode-ray tubes, and special approaches to Spanish-speaking children are only a few of the fresh ideas having a major impact on the University's program for preparing teachers. New programs for the preparation of teachers are rapidly preparing teachers.

Undergraduates as well as graduate students are partici-pating in major demonstration and research programs designed to meet today's challenges in education. Special education offers unique opportunities to enter the rapidly growing fields of vocational rehabilitation counseling and teaching of the deaf, blind, orthopedically handicapped, mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed, learning disabled, or unusually gifted child for whom the normal classroom approaches are ineffective.

The College of Education serves as a professional school for preparation of elementary and secondary teachers. Together with other colleges within the University, it provides a variety of programs leading to legal certification to teach in Texas and elsewhere.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

The College of Engineering, with more than 10 per cent of the Main University's students, is a school of dynamic change.

New materials reflecting technological advances are constantly being introduced into the flexible "block option" undergraduate curricula in eight basic engineering fields. Degrees and programs in 57 areas of specializations are available to the students.

available to the students.

The College's Teaching Effectiveness Colloquia, which have received national attention are attended regularly also by faculty from other colleges on evaluations of teaching are submitted evaluations of courses are used in planning curriculum improvements.

Those qualifying for the Freshman Honors Program are placed in accelerated classes. The top five per cent of the student-scholars in the higher undergraduate levels are recognized as Engineering Fellows.

Although its services to industry have increased and its areas of research have expanded substantially, the greatest concern of the College continues to be the education of its students.

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

The College of Fine Arts includes departments of art, drama, and music. The college seeks to give to each student the insights of the artist and to help him achieve the skills of an artist to the capacity of his talent; to furnish him with the broad education which is the intellectual foundation of the cultivated man or woman; and to train teachers of the arts. Courses in the arts, art exhibitions, concerts, plays, and association with distinguished artists and teachers help students develop discriminating taste and sound critical judgment of the arts.

The College of Fine Arts and the School of Architecture have inaugurated a joint Program in Creativity. Outstanding features of this program have been exhibitions, forums on creativity involving the Fine Arts and Architecture faculty, as well as the faculty of other colleges in the University; the premiere of an opera with the composer in attendance and lectures by him to composition students; and a symposium featuring compositions of students, faculty and other professional composers of North and South America.

Chairmen of the departments are as follows: Donald B. Goodall, Art; Loren Winship, Drama; Bryce Jordan, Music.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

The function and objectives of the College of Pharmacy are to expose young men and women who desire an education in the pharmaceutical sciences to the tutelage of teacher-scholars and an intellectually stimulating curriculum within adequate physical facilities so as to produce competent practitioners in the various branches of pharmaceutical services: community pharmacists, hospital pharmacists, medical sales representatives, public health pharmacists, industrial pharmacists; and equally important, to stimulate and provide facilities for research and reflection at the graduate level with the aim of producing teachers, scholar-scientists in pharmaceutics, pharmacognosy, pharmaceutical chemistry, pharmacology, toxicology and pharmacy administration, who will be qualified to join with members of the other health sciences in the promotion of public health.

Another important function of the college is to provide a program in Continuing Education for alumni and other pharmacists. This program consists of annual seminars and conferences held at the college, area seminars throughout various sections of the state and is a function of the Extension Division of the College.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

The primary function of the School of Architecture is to assist each student to acquire an education that will allow him both to make sound value judgments and to accept an active and positive role in society. Toward this end, the curriculum offers training not only in professional subjects but also in the humanities. The adoption of an optional six-year program with expanded liberal arts experience reflects an increasing awareness of the fact that the thoughtful contemplation of man, his accomplishments, and his potential, is the best preparation for fruitful work in any field, including architecture. The expanding role of the architect today requires highly competent professionals who are capable of understanding important aspects of many other fields and activities in addition to architecture.

The School is accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board. It is a member of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. Its curriculum meets all the requirements of the Texas Board of Architectural Examiners.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

An organization represented throughout the system, the University Graduate School consists of professors and scholars designated as members or associates of the graduate faculty and students duly admitted to pursue their studies beyond the baccalaureate degree.

Graduate work is divided into several departmental and non-departmental programs involving courses and research. Emphasis is placed on development of creative ability, individual and inventive work, and the development of leadership qualities. The graduate program which is directed toward research excellence is intended to give depth of knowledge in the student's field of specialization and to lead toward possibilities of original research. Facilities for graduate instruction and research include a vast system of libraries and special collections, Computation Center, Balcones Research Center, Marine Science Institute, McDonald Observatory, and interdepartmental laboratories.

SCHOOL OF LAW

With a student body of 1550 and a faculty of forty-five, The University of Texas School of Law ranks second to Harvard in size. More importantly, through the scholarship, experience, and leadership of its faculty and the quality of its student body the law school ranks among the very best in the nation. Distinguished legal scholars and teachers from within and without the United States are regularly invited as visitors. For example, Dean Robert F. Drinan of Boston College Law School and Professor Ole Lando of Copenhagen School of Economics visited during 1966-67.

A baccalaureate degree is now required for admission. Most of the students are pursuing a three-year course of study leading to a Bachelor of Laws, LL.B.; however, a few who have an LL.B. or an equivalent foreign degree are seeking a Master of Laws or Master of Comparative Juris-prudence

A law library with over twenty full-time staff members and 165,000 volumes serves the faculty, students, and visiting lawyers.

DIVISION OF EXTENSION

The Division of Extension extends the teaching function of the University by providing continuing education programs for adults. This year thousands of leaders from business and industry, education, engineering, government, pharmacy, social welfare and other fields came to Austin to participate in programs conducted by the Division in cooperation with colleges and schools of the main campus. At the same time, thousands of other adults from many professions and occupations participated in continuing education programs conducted throughout the State. An academic credit evening program in Austin enrolls several hundred students, while the correspondence course program enrolls students throughout the nation and foreign countries. The Division also maintains the largest audio-visual library in the southwest.

Over a half million contestants from 1,116 public schools in Texas participated in the academic, athletic and musical contests of the University Interscholastic League.

Dean James R. D. Eddy, who has been chief administrative officer of the Division since 1951, will retire in August. Under his leadership the Division has seen improvement and growth in all its activities. Dr. Norris A. Hiett, Associate Dean, will succeed Dean Eddy on September 1, 1967.

SILVER SPUR AWARD

The Silver Spur Award is presented each year to the most outstanding senior woman student. The selection is based on outstanding scholarship, service, and extracurricular activities. The award was presented to Joanie Amacker, a senior math and history major from Beaumont. She has served as vice-president of Mortar Board, treasurer of Orange Jackets, and president of Pi Beta Phi sorority. An education assemblywoman, she has been chairman of Blanton advisors and a Summer Orientation advisor. A member of Scope scholastic honorary, Joanie was chosen a 1966 CACTUS Goodfellow and a 1967 CACTUS Outstanding Student.

SPOOK AWARD

The Spook Award to the outstanding international student is given annually in recognition of the contributions and loyalties of a foreign student to The University of Texas. Criteria for the award are based on leadership, scholarship, friendship, and service to the campus. This year the award was presented to Teresa Wang, a senior linguistics major from Taipei, Taiwan. She has served as director-at-large and treasurer of the International Club, president of the Chinese Student Association, and a member of the Asian Studies Club. Teresa has served as International program chairman of Spooks, and a member of Orange Jackets. She has been active in MUN, Challenge, and a member of the Asian Studies Club. An honorary member of Pi Beta Phi, Teresa was chosen a 1966 CACTUS Goodfellow.

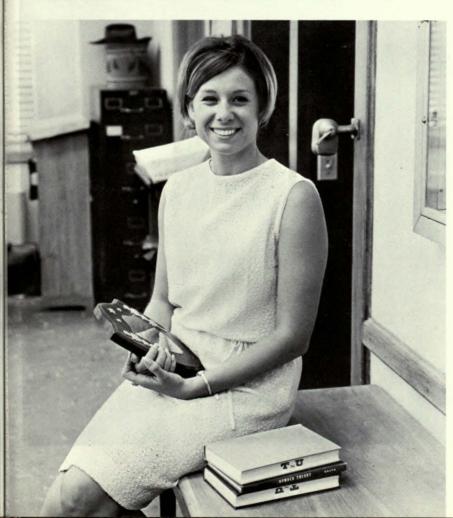

LEADERSHIP AWARDS

MIKE FLYNN CITIZENSHIP AWARD

The Mike Flynn Citizenship Award is presented each year to the male student who most nearly "fills Mike Flynn shoes." Selection is based on service and extracurricular activities. This year the award was presented to David Roy Lambert, a senior business major from Garland. David has served as president of the Texas Union Council, chairman of Texas Today and Tomorrow, chairman of the Union Board of Directors, and as a member of Chancellor Ransom's Advisory Cabinet. David has been elected to Friar Society, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Order of Alcalde. A recipient of the Texas Union Leadership Award, he was also chosen as a 1966 CACTUS Goodfellow and a 1967 CACTUS Outstanding Student.

The Marjorie Darelik Memorial Award is given each year to the most outstanding independent woman student. The selection is based upon service to the University, scholarship, and extracurricular activities. This year's recipient was Carol Ann Rulfs, a junior Plan II major from Houston. She has been active as president of Spooks, a member of Orange Jackets, and president of the All-Campus Upperclass Advisors. A student assemblywoman, Carol has been a Freshman Council and Orientation Advisor, and has served on the Challenge reception committee and the University "Y" committee on counseling. Carol was chosen a 1966 CACTUS Goodfellow and a 1967 CACTUS Outstanding Student.

DADS' DAY AWARDS

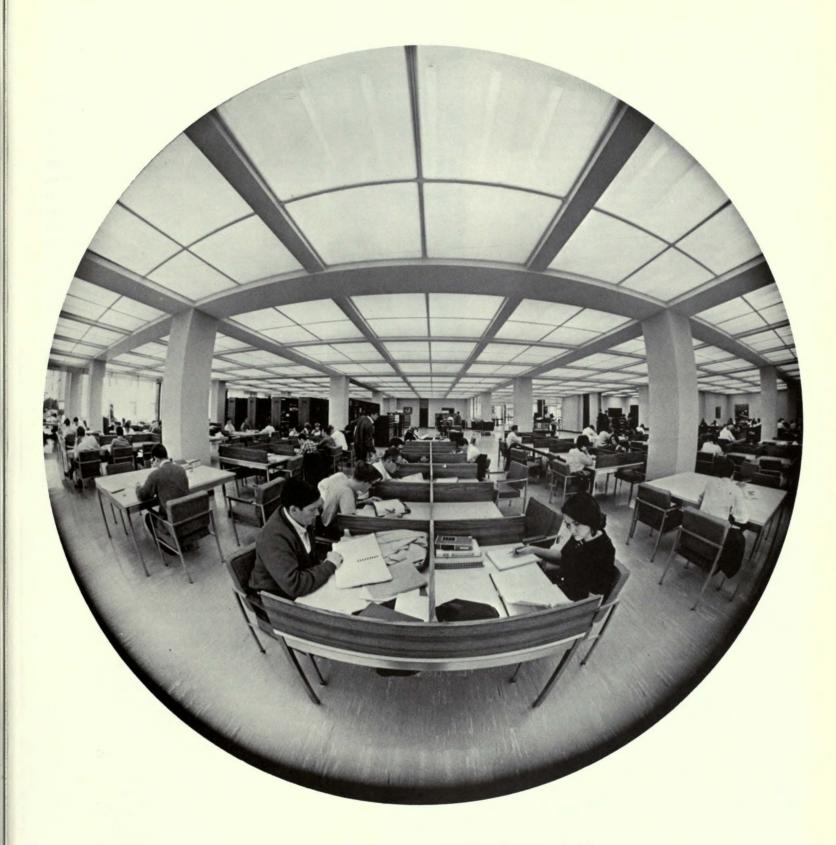

Each year, the Dads' Association of The University of Texas presents an award to the Most Outstanding Girl and the Most Outstanding Boy of the University. Selection is based on leadership, scholarship, and service to the University. This year the awards went to Mary Ann Mellenbruch and Jack LeRoy Howe, Jr.

Mary Ann has been a member of the Student Assembly from the College of Arts and Sciences. A Latin American studies major, she has served as a member of the Texas Today and Tomorrow committee, a discussion leader of Challenge, a member of the student-faculty conference, and as a representative from the assembly in conferences with the Board of Regents. She has been parliamentarian of Alpha Phi, past president of Orange Jackets, and past chairman of Littlefield advisers. Mary was named an Outstanding Student in the 1965 CACTUS and a Bluebonnet Belle in the 1966 CACTUS.

Jack, a mechanical engineering major, is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He has been active as a member of the Cowboys and Phi Delta Theta, and was named a 1966 CACTUS Goodfellow. A three-year football letterman, Howe received the Ex-Students' Scholarship Award and the Travis County Ex-Students' Scholarship Award, which is given to the senior football player with the highest scholastic average. He also received the Longhorn Sportsmanship Award, and has served as an assistant freshman football coach. In 1965 Howe was named to the All-Southwest Conference football team and the Academic All-SWC roster.
