

Dear Mr. Massouridis

I have just received your three volumes/ I was just about the same time in Athens, and therefore I am not prompt in replying to their arrival.

I am very grateful to see them, but in fact, my eye-sight, and my skills at modern communication are not at all sufficient for any serious consideration of your work on Mycenaean and pre-mycenaean studies.

Therefore I have copied a few pages, and have sent them to trusted friends, who will, I am sure, carefully consider a response.

With your permission I will send the three volumes to my colleague, Thomas Palaima, and I will consult with Yves Dehou, in the hope that he will communicate with you.

I am copying

With my best wishes,
July 2003
