SUPPLIES OF FISH

The Ministry of Food announces that landings of white fish are exceptionally heavy at the moment and are likely to continue so for the next few days. The Ministry therefore appeals to fishmongers and fishfrickers to increase their purchases up to the maximum that they can handle and to keep open their shops every day in the holiday period for as long as is necessary to clear supplies. At the same time they should inform their customers by notice or otherwise when they will be open.

Housewives and caterers are urged to take full advantage of the present plentiful supplies.
