COUNCIL TO ELECT COACH

Met Last Night to Consider Election of a Coach for Track—Halbert Awarded "T."

A coach for track was the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Athletic Council last night, but no definite selection was made. One will be selected in the near future. Track work will begin soon after Christmas, and efforts are being made to secure a good coach as soon as possible.

H. A. Halbert was awarded a "T" in football. Halbert has been on the squad four years and has played in many games for Texas, but did not quite make the required number of games to secure the letter before this year.

Nothing new was given out regarding the game with Notre Dame.

Hamilton Lee of Dallas will continue his visit at the Phi Gamma Delta house throughout the week.

SIXTY CENTS IS HAUL OF NERVY NEGRO BURGLAR

Burglar Enters Room of J. F. Tobin, an Engineering Student—Makes a Thorough Search of Room, But Is Disappointed.

Lying awake in bed and watching a burglar rifle his pockets and grips was the rather disagreeable experience of Mr. J. F. Tobin, a student of the Engineering Department, who resides at 1714 Lavaca Street. Mr. Tobin was awakened by his roommate when the man entered the room, and knowing that he had nothing of real value exposed, decided to remain in bed and watch the nervy intruder.

Speaking of the affair, Mr. Tobin said: "Coming into the room, the man, who was apparently a negro, walked to the window and removed the screen and raised the window, evidently preparing a way for a hasty retreat if such action became necessary. Finishing his work at the window, he came over toward my bed, and though I closed my eyes I instinctively felt that he leaned over my bed and looked to see if my roommate and myself were asleep. Apparently satisfied with his inspection, he returned to the middle of the room, where my trousers were suspended over a chair. A coat on the back of the chair shaded him somewhat from my view, but I could see that he was going through my pockets, by the light of a match which flared up, and was immediately extinguished, when he found what he was looking for. Sixty cents was the exact amount in my pocket, and I chuckled to myself when I saw him throw my trousers back on the chair, evidently disgusted with his haul.

"After looking through Anderson's (my roommate) pockets, and finding nothing, he began his search of the room. I remembered that my cornet was in the corner on my trunk, but I was not disposed to worry about this, since I did not think he would lug anything like that off. He was in the room probably ten minutes, and made a thorough search. When he left he walked leisurely to the window and climbed out with no apparent haste or fear of detection. After he had left Mr. Anderson and I arose and began to check our belongings to see what was missing. The 60 cents he got from my pocket was the extent of his haul, and in all probability he will not trouble us again."

It will be remembered that several fraternity and sorority houses have been entered by burglars the past few weeks, and it is the opinion of many that there is a regular gang of thieves operating in the University neighborhood. The affair yesterday was probably the work of these intruders.

SENIOR GIRLS' MEETING.

At a meeting of the girls of the senior class, Tuesday, a committee was appointed to confer with a committee of the boys in regard to the days and time of wearing the cap and gown. The following were appointed: Misses Whitehouse, Pauline Murrah and Ada McLendon. The two committees will arrange the details and report to the class in the near future.

"T" WATCH FOBS ARRIVE.

The three "T" fobs which should have been awarded earlier in the fall were received yesterday by the Athletic Director. Each of the fobs has three bars. The one for Pete Edmond has a bar for football, baseball and basketball. The one for Clyde Littlefield has a bar for football, basketball and track, and the one for E. R. Berry has bars for football, baseball and track. These fobs were delivered yesterday.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF HIGH SCHOOLS IS AS YET UNDECIDED

Nine Undefeated Teams Make It Hard to Pick the Winner—Austin and North Fort Worth Probably Strongest.

Though there is no official State football contest among the high schools this year, the season has been an unusually good one. In North, South and West Texas several strong teams have been developed. In South Texas, Austin, Cuero and San Marcos are undefeated. Each of these teams has played a number of games. By defeating Cameron, McGregor, Waco, San Antonio and Houston, the Austin boys have made themselves the strongest contenders for the South Texas championship. Rusk, in East Texas, is undefeated. In North Texas, Sherman, Denison, Bowie, Wichita Falls and North Fort Worth have not suffered defeat. Several attempts have been made to have these teams meet, but no satisfactory agreement has been reached. By eliminating Oak Cliff High School of Dallas, the strong Amarillo team and several other strong teams, North Fort Worth High has become a strong contender for the North Texas championship.

Austin will play North Fort Worth at Fort Worth Saturday, December 4. Both teams have been playing excellent football and are coached by men who know the fine points of the game. The contest promises to be one of the hardest fought high school games ever staged on a Texas gridiron.

Mr. Allen of Waco is visiting his daughter, Miss Ethel Allen.

THE RIFLE CLUB IS NOW CERTAIN

Papers From Government Have Been Received—All Who Desire to Become Members May Join.

The government has authorized the establishment of the Rifle Club at Texas University. Since the club is now an assured thing here, the requirements and rules for membership have been obtained from the governmental authorities, and everyone who contemplates joining is urged to read and observe them.

Any male student or member of the faculty is eligible. The government furnishes a gun to every five men and 120 rounds of ammunition to each man per year. Additional ammunition may be bought by the club for $15 a thousand rounds. The militia subcaliber range and Camp Mabry outdoor range are the ranges to be used for practice. The annual expenses need not be over $3 a year, providing only the original rounds of ammunition are used. Anyone joining now avoids the initiation fee. Inducements for expert marksmanship are offered to all members. Badges will be given to all satisfying government requirements in marksmanship, sharpshooting and general handling of the rifle.

GILLESPIE GETS GOOD POSITION

Julian Gillespie, a senior law, has been offered a position in the United States Senate by Senator Culberson. The position requires about six hours per day whether the Senate is in session or not. The position pays very well and will not hinder him in the study of his law course.

Gillespie will withdraw from the University in a day or two and leave for Washington the latter part of the week. He will enter George Washington University as a senior in the Law Department. Classes in this school do not begin until 6:30 p. m.

PROFESSOR WEBB SPOKE TO LARGE AUDIENCE AT "Y"

Famous School Man and Ex-Senator Entertained Crowd With Personal Experiences as Boy in Confederate Army.

Ex-Senator Webb spoke last night in the University Y. M. C. A. on "What a Boy Saw in the Confederate Army." He is widely known as a schoolmaster who was honored by the people of Tennessee with a seat in the United States Senate. Professor Webb came to Austin upon the invitation of the lecture committee of the University, and admission was free. The speaker was introduced by Dr. Battle, who referred to the honor and distinction Professor Webb had won both before and after the war.

Professor Webb was a freshman in the University of North Carolina when the war broke out. He was among the first to offer his services to the South.

His regiment went into the first battle without officers or experience, but won by a daring charge on the enemy. The first time he ever saw a wounded unarmed enemy he gave his blanket to protect his wounded opponent.

He was wounded in the famous charge up Malvern Hill. After he had recovered enough to re-enter service he was placed in the cavalry, which was serving under General Lee in Virginia. The speaker lauded the bravery of the soldiers who wore the blue and those who wore the gray.

Professor Webb's lecture was very entertaining. His optimism he aptly expressed by the quotation:

"So let the wild world wag its will, I'll be gay and happy still."

A large crowd, composed principally of pupils and University instructors heard the lecture.

PIERIAN SOCIETY MEETING.

Pierian Literary Society met yesterday at 5. The following program was given:

"The Trend of Art in the Age of Raphael"—Lucille Terrell.

"Raphael's Madonnas"—Maud Barnes.

"His Characteristics and Rank"—Frances Winn.

Four new members have been taken into Pierian this year. They are Stella Hemphill, Ruth Kennedy, Florence Pearson and Elor Osborn.

CHAPEL NOTICES.

One Thing Is Needful.

This theme was begun Tuesday by Mr. Worsham and will be continued through the week. As indicated before, it is the statement of Jesus to Martha when she was too much worried with housekeeping cares. The application in yesterday's talk was that Christ enunciated the principle that men and women are on a parity spiritually, and that this principle of equality must direct them in their relations one to the other. There is no single standard for either one. The one question with either or both of them is whether the thing is right or wrong. No other issue enters into anything. Until we come to this high standard of living for both men and women we will not fulfill our mission on earth.

Let us follow Mr. Worsham in his treatment of this subject.

FIFTY OPOSSUMS RECEIVED BY THE ZOOLOGY SCHOOL

Shipment of Marsupials From West Texas Arrives to Be Used in Special Research—Two Species Are Among Number.

Fifty opossums were received Tuesday afternoon by the Zoological Department, to be used in research work. The opossums were shipped from Pettis, Bee County, Texas, where they are very numerous. Out of the fifty started from Bettis, all but four arrived here alive. More are to come later on, making a total of 200 to be used.

Mr. Carl Hartman of the Zoological Department, when interviewed, said that the animals were to be used in special research, and stated that the breeding of opossums in Austin is more successful than in most places. He said that the breed received were mostly of the Virginian variety, but that four of them were black and of the Mexican breed.

The State of Texas is the meeting place of these two species, the Western part of the State having many of the Mexican variety.

Representatives Are Chosen to the Women Students' Assembly.

The girls of the junior academ class elected representatives to the Women Students' Assembly yesterday. Misses Sarah Gaskill and Vida Barrett were elected. The meeting was called and presided over by Miss Vera McNew, vice president of the class. A fairly large crowd was present.

SECOND CONTEST HELD YESTERDAY

Debaters to Enter Final Preliminary Were Chosen Last Night—Many Good Speeches Made.

Eighteen men entered the second preliminary for the intercollegiate debates. Every man showed first-class material. The final decision was hard to make. The judges finally chose the following men:

R. L. Skiles, Crossman, O. W. Wood, V. T. Seaberry, Raymond Myers, Clarence Lohman, Callaway.

C. I. Francis, E. P. Howard, E. C. Nelson and T. V. Smith were chosen in the first preliminary. The judges were:

Dr. Butte, John Keene, Dr. Leonard, Dr. James, Mr. Robinson, Dr. Shurter and Dr. Pelsma.

The final try-out will be held Saturday, December 5. Prizes will be awarded by the University Law Association and Delta Sigma Ro to the best speakers.

TOWNES-FINCH.

The marriage of Miss Anne Townes, only daughter of Judge and Mrs. John C. Townes, and Mr. Herbert H. Finch will take place at the home of the bride's parents this evening. The wedding will be solemnized with only relatives and close friends present.

Both parties have been reared in Austin and have many friends here. Miss Townes is a graduate of the University and was a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority. She has been teaching in Whitis School for the last several years. Mr. Finch is also a graduate of the University and was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. At present he is a member of the Engineering Faculty.

NEW BOOK ISSUED.

A new book on "How to Spell" has just been issued by Dr. L. W. Payne of the English Faculty. It takes up the common errors of spelling and discusses them in a practical manner.

$52.00 A MONTH IS SUM AVERAGE STUDENT SPENDS

Economics 1 Students Figure Out Average Expenditures of Texas Students.

OVER A MILLION A YEAR

Students Spend About $950,000 Each Year in Austin Exclusive of Books and Registration.

In its study of economic consumption the students of Economics 1 have brought together some interesting information in regard to the weekly expenditures of the average student during his thirty-four weeks' stay in Austin.

If the figures of this large class of over a hundred students are applied to the student body as a whole, a number of interesting approximations are brought out.

Calculations show the average monthly expenditure of each student to be $52; the total expenditure for the University year (less cost of books and registration fees) is $941.150—nearly a million dollars, practically all of which is spent in Austin.

One-third of all students are smokers, but as this includes girls, the percentage for the men is higher.

Over half the students contribute to religious or charitable purposes, the average amount given being 28 cents per week.

Great variations are shown between the cost of living of the extravagant student and the one possessed of limited means. As great a difference as $7.44 is seen between the amounts spent for a week's board by two of these extreme students, the maximum being $8.25, the minimum 81 cents. Many average as low as $1.50 to $2.50 per week.

The 102 students of Economics 1 filled out reports for the week ending the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. Each report contained a detailed account of the amount spent for board, room, dress, luxuries, religion and charities. Professor L. H. Haney, who compiled the statistics, thinks that the amount spent for luxuries may be slightly abnormal, owing to the nearness of Thanksgiving. Following are the statistics for one week:

Board Bill—$437.48; 34 per cent of total expenditure for class; average for class, $4.33; great concentration at amounts between $5 and $5.50; maximum, $8.25 (two came over $8); minimum, 81 cents (one came to $1.45).

Room Total—$149.27; 12 per cent of total expense; average for class, $1.60; distribution, 50 cents to $7.50; two-thirds of class from $1 to $2; ten paid only 50 cents or $1.

Dress Total—$304.76; 23 per cent of total expenditure; average for class, $2.98; irregular distribution—eighteen spent nothing, one spent $55. Luxuries—$350; 29 per cent of total expenditure; 90 per cent of class enjoyed luxuries.

Smoking—$19.72; 33 per cent of class are smokers; average for class, 19 cents; average for smokers, 60 cents; distribution, 5 cents to $5; ten spent 10 cents or less.

Religion and Charity—$16.32; 50 per cent of class are contributors; average for class, 16 cents; seven give $1 or more, ten give 5 cents.

Average of all expenditures for the individual: Total expenditure, $12.16; board, $4.33, 34 per cent; room, $1.65, 12 per cent; dress, $1.31, 10 per cent; luxuries, $3.43, 29 per cent. This represents 85 per cent of total expenditure.

Miss Georgia Hewson of Orange returned home Sunday after a holiday visit with Miss Flavin Wignall at the Kappa House.

LET'S HOPE IT WILL BE SOON.

Our friends in the School of Journalism are, of course, anxious for the time when they will be not merely a school but a department. We understand that the students of the school have met, and, in effect, declared themselves a department by electing a president and setting a date for a "department" reception.

Whether declarations can change facts, we leave to the representatives of the duly constituted departments in the University, but we would advise the journalistic beginners to bide their time. They will be taken care of by the Regents, we doubt not, in due time.

Looked at from the viewpoint of the sure enough departments, it's a case of "Hush, little journalists, don't you cry; you'll be a department bye and bye."

WHAT THE UNIVERSITY ASKS FOR.

The University, with around 2500 students, asks for $3,261,760 for the coming two years, and, we believe, ten dormitories. If the other State institutions demand in proportion, the appropriation bill from the Thirty-fourth Legislature will total something less than $25,000,000 for the biennial period.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

We believe that the sum mentioned is approximately correct. From the tone of the Record and Chronicle's remarks we judge that the editor of the paper has not had the opportunity to inspect the University and to know its needs.

It is, of course, natural that those of us who are here and see every day the poverty of the University should emphasize its extremity; we could scarcely exaggerate. The Record and Chronicle man does not know, we suspect, that the Bureau of Economic Geology, which has already done work worth thousands of dollars to the coal using industries of Texas, is housed in what was once a brick boiler shanty, to which further space requirements have twice compelled the addition of a pine board "lean-to." Doubtless the Record and Chronicle man did not know that all of the basement and a part of the first floor of the single men's dormitory, that we have, is given over to faculty offices and storerooms, and that the condition of the remainder is such that when an upper-story man turns over in bed the sleeper underneath him spits out plaster. He had no way of knowing that the waiting list of girls who want to get into the Woman's building is longer than can be accommodated by the probable vacancies of the next year. He forgot, perhaps, that a first-class faculty man is not liable to remain where he is expected to office in a leaky, drafty shack and lecture in another structure of equal discomfort, doing 30 per cent more work at 50 per cent less pay than he could get elsewhere under more satisfactory and comfortable circumstances.

From our reading of the Denton paper from time to time we gather that it is a true friend of the University, as are most of the newspapers of the State. If, in the opinion of the newspapers, the University has been overambitious in desiring to come up to something like the equipment of other universities of its size, there is nothing to do but worry along with crippled equipment, niggardly support and such faculty as can be induced to stay here because they like to teach in barns long hours for low pay. The newspapers have real power over the interests of the University. They should use it as the good of the State, in their judgment, demands. Certainly, they should take pains to inform themselves about the needs of the head of the educational system of Texas.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

It is astonishing that a usually clear-visioned and fair-minded paper like the Denton Herald should indulge in comment of this character:

"The board of directors of the A. & M. College declare the time is inopportune to ask for the adoption of a constitutional amendment providing for a special tax to support the State's schools of higher learning, and has notified the regents of the State University to that effect. This decision on the part of the board will meet with practically unanimous approval. The people are in no condition now to stand an increase in the tax burden, and instead of levying an additional tax upon them to support these institutions, some means ought to be devised whereby the enormous expense of their administration might be reduced. The University, it is reported, will ask the next Legislature for an appropriation of $2,000,000 or more in addition to the regular income from its permanent fund. Just where these demands will stop there is no way of telling because of the impossibility of filling the maws and appeasing the appetites of the hungry horde of the States dependencies, ever waiting to be fed from the public treasury."

The proponents of the amendment the Herald unjustly condemns have not in mind a plan for increasing taxation. Their purpose is to bring about the collection, without disguise, of the money which is given the University, the Agricultural and Mechanical College and other like institutions for their maintenance. As matters stand, this money is included in the lump sum annually collected by the State. It is not the product of a separate levy, such as is ordered for the purpose of obtaining funds for the support of the public schools. From this lump sum comes the money the Legislature sets aside for the educational institutions for superior instruction, and it is the rule that the regents of these institutions must biennially lobby before the Legislature for their portion of the appropriations that are made for them.

It is to bring lobbying of this character to an end and establish a calculable fund for the institutions referred to that the special tax plan has been proposed. Under this plan the people would not necessarily pay more taxes, but the institutional tax would be deducted from the general State tax and levied under its right name.

The estimate the regents of the University have filed with the Governor calls for an appropriation of $713,780 for maintenance and support for the year 1914-15, and $847,980 for the year 1915-16. These amounts are practically the same as those carried in the estimate submitted two years ago. They are not excessive. On the contrary, they are hardly great enough to meet the financial requirements of a first-class University, and Texas would better close its University than to undertake to maintain it on a skimmed-milk basis.

The Herald's concluding remarks are unworthy of it. There is no one connected with the management of the State University planning a raid on the State treasury; no one engaged in carrying on the work of the institution who is not giving value received for the meager financial reward obtained from the State. The truth of the matter is that no other State in the Union gets from its university as great results as Texas does, taking the amount it appropriates for maintenance as the basis of comparison.—Houston Telegram.

"Backward, turn backward, oh, time in your flight,"
Give us a man that never gets tight.
Give us a man both honest and brave,
Who still wears something when he takes a shave.

Give us a man, no matter what age,
Who won't make the world a vaudeville stage.

Give us a man with fine, manly face,
Who won't shed all his clothes when he's running a race.

Give us a man, who, when playing a game,
Won't try to show off all of his frame.
Give us a man that has something to do
Besides watching us women, oh, please do.

This was clipped and copied for the special benefit of those few in the University who aspire to the office of moral censor of their fellow students.

The Exam Schedule.

Why can't we hear something about the exam schedule? The Council and Assembly have both petitioned the Faculty to start the exams at the first of the week, and it is well known that over 90 per cent of the students favor it. It is not fair to the students to start the exams at the time they are scheduled to start, unless the Faculty has some good reason which makes it inconvenient to start them the first of the week.

Under the present catalogue the exams extend over two days into the next week, and many students will be kept in Austin three whole days later than they would be if the schedule started the first of the week. What benefit will the extra two days be, compared with the convenience to the student?

The faculty treated us right last year, and I believe they will this year, but let's hear as soon as possible, so we can make our plans for leaving Austin. The exams will start in less than two weeks.

ANXIOUS STUDENT.

When Do Exams Begin?

According to the catalogue, the final exams are to begin on Wednesday, December 1st, and are to continue through Tuesday, December 22. Why could not the "powers that be" have arranged the exam schedule so that the students would at least arrive home before Christmas day? It will be remembered that last year there was a kick raised because the exams began in the middle of the week and that the schedule was set back so that the final exams began on Monday and ended on Saturday, thereby giving everyone time to arrive home a day or two before Christmas. Why the said "powers that be" have not profited by this experience is not clear. Evidently it is only an oversight and will be remedied without delay. Let us have the final examinations begin on Monday, December 14.

A STUDENT.

More About the Dance.

From recent perusal of the Firing Line, we infer that the students of this University are all united in the pursuit of at least one activity.

To me this seems a good omen. It denotes a spirit of unity heretofore lacking at Texas; it means that the student body is acting as one in regard to at least one thing.

This is certainly a sign of life, and, as the old proverb says, "as long as there is life there is hope." So the most that we can do is to hope that at last the student body is far on the way to the place where factional feelings are as rare as refrigerators at the North Pole.

However, I am afraid that this article will only serve to retard this wonderful progress, so I beg of you, "if you love your Alma's mother," read no further.

But to come at last to my subject, the activity that the student body seems united in its support of the "pursuit of the devil," and the race seems to be along the "path to hell" (or should I say "road" or highway, on account of its great popularity?)

The reasons for the inference lies in the fact that the students dance, wear full dress suits, send flowers to their girls and take them home at 4 a. m. on the street cars at 5 cents per.

But the most amazing thing of all

GERMAN DRAMATIC READINGS.

The most important of Hebbel's dramas, "Maria Magdalene," will be read by prominent members of the German Faculty this week. These readings will be open to all who take an interest in them, and promise to be of unusual interest. The following members of the German Faculty are scheduled to take part in the readings:

Mrs. Dr. E. Prokosch, Dr. F. Rittinghaus, Mr. Hans Kurath, Mr. K. Meusinger, Dr. M. Kuehne, Professor Lerski, Miss Spaeth.

Everybody is welcome to attend these readings. Announcement of date will be made later.

NEW BULLETINS TO BE ISSUED.

University Methodist Students to Publish Annual and Weekly.

At a meeting of the officers and teachers of the student section of the University Methodist Sunday School, held on last Sunday afternoon, it was definitely decided to begin the publication of two bulletins, one to be a weekly, the other an annual. The former is to contain a church directory, announcements and news notes of interest to Sunday school students; the latter is to contain articles reviewing the activities of Methodist students and of the University Methodist Church, with interesting cuts and illustrations that usually go with such publications. It is hoped to give this latter bulletin a wide circulation over the State, in order to acquaint church people with religious conditions at the University.

The meeting also decided on a definite social program for the students, to be inaugurated after the holidays, and appointed a committee to work out the details. It is hoped that the resident membership of the church will be interested in airing this movement for a broader influence of the church.

A number of other important movements are being considered, but definite plans have not yet been made.

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED.

Thorough Examination of The Texan's Books Will Be Made.

The Students' Assembly appointed a committee Tuesday night to examine and audit the books of The Texan and to recommend whether or not any change be made in the size of The Texan after Christmas. Tom Popplewell, S. B. Garrett and Jack Atkinson were appointed. A committee is also auditing the books of last year's Texan, and will report in a few days.

is that they actually support and attend the Thanksgiving reception nowadays.

A glance at the Firing Line articles of the past two weeks, and especially at the one in Wednesday's paper entitled "Another Blow at Dancing," will convince all unbelievers of the truth of my remarks. D. O'W.

By Way of Objection.

I object most emphatically to the issue editor of yesterday's Texan making a regular Coca-Cola or Spearmint advertisement out of my name. He probably thought it cute, but it comes far short of that, although this is one of his usual stunts. If he spent more time on The Texan and less on trying to advertise himself and others he could probably retain his job. Se should have put the right signature to the notice.

COLLEGE NOTES.

McGill, Canada.—Recruiting for the English army has started in earnest. A regiment is being formed among the students, and forced night marches are being made as training for the recruits. The alumni of the institution are equipping the regiment.

The university authorities will grant degrees to fourth-year students who enlist in the expeditionary forces being sent to England. A full year's credit will be given all first, second and third-year students who enlist.

Drake.—During the recent football game between Drake and Ames a game of "donkey polo" was played between halves. There were three men on each side, each provided with a more or less energetic donkey and a long mallet.

Kansas.—The lid came off the pepper box when 600 enthusiastic co-eds held a rally at Fraser Hall to encourage the football team. This was the first rally ever held by Kansas girls.

Ohio.—Last year the University paid out to student employees $17,803. Ten students who work in the library received $5770 of this sum.

Minnesota.—The soccer team was disbanded after a very successful season, having won four games and lost none.

Missouri.—Over one thousand students heard the reports from the Missouri-Kansas football game. The profits were given to the Belgian sufferers. The reports netted $63 for the fund.

Purdue.—Purdue celebrated its victory over Indiana by a nightshirt parade. A big fight occurred in front of a prominent theater, the management having promised a free show and later refused it. Eggs were used as ammunition by the students, and no one was injured.

Illinois.—The baseball schedule has been arranged. Practically all colleges in the Conference will be played. Illinois held the championship of the Conference last year.

Harvard.—Mahan will probably be elected to lead the football team next season. He has played halfback this year and had a fine season. Several newspapers are predicting his election.

NEW CONFERENCE WILL BE FORMED

Schools of Southwest to Complete Organization of Conference at Houston Meeting.

A Southwestern Athletic Conference will be formed among the leading schools in the Southwest at Houston, December 8. The following schools are expected to send representatives:

Texas, Louisiana, State University,
Rice, Texas A. & M., Oklahoma University, Oklahoma A. & M. and Southwestern University.

This conference will formulate eligibility rules to govern all athletic contests between these schools. The question of allowing baseball players to play independent ball during the summer will be brought up for discussion. Indications are that the present rule again college players playing independent ball during the summer be changed.

A meeting held in Dallas last winter began the agitation, which will probably result in the formation of the organization. The conference will bring the schools of the Southwest in closer athletic relations. Its formation is a long step toward putting athletics in the Southwest on a higher plane.

JONES COUNTY CLUB.

The organization of the students from Jones County into the Jones County Club of the University of Texas, was completed last Tuesday afternoon. The club is social in nature, and its efforts will be directed toward three ends, as follows:

1. Inducing the high school graduates of Jones County to come to the University.
2. Placing the needs of the University before the voters of Jones County.
3. Cultivating the "Texas Spirit" at home and abroad.

Committees were appointed by the president to form a plan of action to be followed by each member of the club during the holidays. The club is wideawake and in earnest, and a strong effort is going to be made to help Texas.

EXAM SCHEDULE ABOUT READY

The exam schedule is now being prepared and will be out in a few days. It will probably be printed in The Texan and posted on the bulletin boards Saturday.

Cal Estill, who has been staying in the Sigma Nu house, has returned want.

Sometimes we go them one better and "think up" something their fertile brains have overlooked.

(They don't overlook much.)

Anyway, we have always been popular with said studes, and do considerable work, such as Stationery, Cards, Booklets, Dance and Banquet Programs, for individuals and organizations.

We want to do more.

Would be glad to confer with you on that next piece of work.

Between us we can do a good job of it.

WRESTLERS MAY MEET NEBRASKA

If Other Colleges Can Be Met on Some Trip, Invitation of Nebraska Will Be Accepted.

The athletic authorities of the University are making preparations for the second Varsity wrestling season.
The University of Nebraska has invited the Texas team to come to Nebraska this spring for a contest, and the Athletic Director is trying to make arrangements to meet the teams of several other Western colleges while the team is on the trip. All three of last year's "T" men in wrestling—Joe Glenny, S. W. Smith and C. E. Turner—are in school this year, and the outlook is promising for a successful season.

BASKET BALL BEGINS MONDAY

Basket ball will start Monday, when all new men are expected to report.
The old men are not required to report until after the Christmas holidays.
The work before Christmas by the new men assists in getting them in shape and also giving the coaches a line on their ability.

The schedule for basketball is practically complete and will be announced in a few days.

A trip among the larger colleges of the State is on the schedule, and several good games are to be played on Clark Field. No games have yet been scheduled with out-of-State teams.

WOMAN'S PAN-HELLENIC MEETS

Miss Collins, Grand President of Chi Omega, Addresses Open Session.

At an open meeting of the Woman's Pan-Hellenic Council yesterday afternoon, Miss Mary C. Love Collins, grand president of Chi Omega, made a short talk to the girls of the University on the subject of the relation of women's fraternities to college life.
She said that the main business of fraternity life is the attainment of ideals, and that college people are instruments through which ideals can be effected for the Nation. National Pan-Hellenic, at its last meeting, echoed something of this idea by emphasizing the ideals of scholarship, by delineating the bounds of social life and considering the regulation of the life of the students in our colleges.
The problem in student life is the proportioning of time and energy between social life, study and student activities, and student activities mean co-operation, not merely the holding of offices. We have only so much vitality, and since we must put it everywhere and have enough to go around, we have to choose and apportion.

The meeting was well attended, quite a number being present to hear the address.

NEW RULES MADE FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

District Contests of Interscholastic League Will Be Held Under
New Rules This Year.

Several new rules for the district meets were adopted by the committee of the State Interscholastic League at the San Antonio meeting. Several important changes were made, the principal one being that the girls are now allowed to enter the district contests in declamation. The principal changes are as follows:

1. Girls were admitted to the district contests in declamation. Committees of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs are undertaking to raise prizes of $25 in amount for each of the district contests in debate and declamation. A committee of the Federation attended a meeting of the League and asked that the girls be permitted to participate in the district contests, which was, upon motion, unanimously carried.

2. Boys in high schools who may be under 15 years of age were made eligible for the senior declamation contests.

3. Rule No. 6, in track, was amended to allow not more than three men in each event at the State meet.

4. It was the sense of the meeting that junior high schools for athletic purposes might be considered as belonging to the central high school.
The proposal to provide for State contests in football and baseball and to merge private schools with Class A high schools for athletic contests, was deferred indefinitely.
