ELLIS RECEIVES APPOINTMENT TO MEXICAN SCHOOL

Second University Professor to Secure Honorary Professorship There

HACKETT IS OTHER MAN

Many Will Attend National University of Mexico During Second Term

Dr. A. C. Ellis, Professor of Education, and Dr. C. W. Hackett, adjunct professor of Latin-American history, are the two faculty members of the University of Texas who have been officially designated by President Vinson to do research work in the National University of Mexico under the conditions of the honorary professorships offered to the University of Texas by that institution. These professorships are given for a period of six weeks and carry an honorarium of $300 each, plus expenses to and from the border.

Purpose of Offer
The purpose of the offer, according to the National University of Mexico, is to arouse interest among students of American universities in educational opportunities of Mexico through the professors of American universities. No teaching is demanded by the offer; research work in the archives of the Mexican institution will constitute the fulfillment of the honorary professorships.

Work on Education
While in the University of Mexico, Ellis will concentrate his work in the field of education. He will have an opportunity to study the methods of education used in Mexico and make a detailed investigation of the history, and especially the philosophy of education. Dr. Ellis is chairman of the department of Philosophy of Education in the University.

Research Work
Research work on early Spanish Mexican regimes is the field that Hackett will carry on his work in Mexico. He will study the documents of the 15th, 16th, and 17th centuries relative to this field and will be copied by a Spanish stenographer and corrected by a trained Mexican scholar both of whom have been engaged in this work by Dr. Hackett for the past two years. This information will add to the already existing collection of Spanish data in the University.

Others Will go
Among others who will accompany the honored professors to Mexico are: Mr. J. R. Spell and wife, Mr. J. E. Pearce. Mr. Spell is chairman in the Garcia library of the University and Mr. Pearce is associate professor of anthropology. Now Randolph, a student in the University will also be among those attending the Summer Sessions of the University of Mexico.

New Books Recently Acquired Are Now Being Catalogued

Cataloguing of the law books recently acquired from the Thirty-seventh Legislature is now being done by the law librarians. This collection, consisting of about four thousand volumes, has been in the possession of the State and was obtained from the University Law Library through a bill introduced by representative Tom Pollard from the ninth district, and who is at present a student in the Law Department. The collection is made up of original reports, comprising the Supreme Court Reports, beginning with Dallas and the Reports of the Courts Criminal Appeals and of Civil Appeals.

VESPER SERVICE TODAY

Vesper services will be held this evening at 7:30 at the open air theater. Because of the nearness of the season, a regular program will not be given, but selections of music will be given instead.

"AFTER US THE DELUGE"

President Vinson Delivers Address To Baylor College Students By Radio On "The Teacher"

LARGE NUMBER PRESENT AT DRAMATIC READING

Faculty Meets With Success in Presenting "Man Who Married a Dumb Wife"

Amusing a very large audience, members of the faculty presented "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France last night on the campus in front of the Main Building at 8 o'clock. The reading was originally prepared for presentation at the faculty party last week, and met with such success at that time that the faculty agreed to read it in public.

The plot of the play is the story of a judge who married a beautiful young wife, who is unfortunately dumb. He sends for a famous surgeon who can cure this malady, and who, by giving the young wife a pill, restores the power of speech to her. The wife then turns into a constant "chatter box," and so disturbs the Judge's peace of mind, that he begs the doctor to make her dumb again. The doctor explains that he cannot make her dumb again, but tells the Judge that he can make him deaf. At first the judge will not listen to such a state of affairs, but finally is driven to this bad end by his wife's constant talk.

The part of the Judge was taken by Mr. Harris, who ably displayed a sense of humor in getting out of the embarrassing circumstances in which he found himself. Mrs. Spurgeon Bell played the dumb wife of the Judge, and the role of a chatter box was taken as naturally as that of the dumb wife. Other members of the faculty were seen in action, and the story ended in a laughable conclusion.

Following is the cast of characters: Giles Boiscourtier, Secretary to Leonard Botal—Mr. Hanley.

Allison, servant of Leonard Botal, Miss Dodson.

Master Adam Fumee, lawyer, Mr. Battle.

Master Leonard Botal, judge, Mr. Harris.

DEAN ANNOUNCES NEW COURSES FOR SECOND SESSION

Early Registration, Payment of Students Activity Fee, Etc., Discussed

Dr. D. A. Penick, assistant dean of the summer school, in charge of the second term, announced a list of new courses which would be given during the second term of the school.

These are: Education 118, an advanced course on Secondary Education dealing with the psychology of adolescent control.

Education 5a, the History of Ancient Education. These two courses will be given by A. J. Hall, of Baylor University.

Education 174A, Statistical Methods in Education.

Education 177 A, The Psychology of Learning. These two courses will be given by J. J. Weber from the University of Kansas.

Business Administration 14c. Given by Professor Carus.

Government 15c and Government 31b given by adjunct professor Patterson.

Pay the Activity Fee

Dr. Penick expressed complete agreement with the editorials which appeared in yesterday's Texan on students paying the activity fee. Dr. Penick said, "I am fully in sympathy with it, and believe in having a unanimously unified proposition. The Texan must be supported, and students who receive the benefit of all entertainments on the campus ought to feel that they have a part in these."

The student's activity fee goes to support The Texan, to keep up the Tennis courts, pay for the equipment for the play hour pay for the speakers who appear here, and many other things.

SPEAKS FIVE MINUTES

Says Teacher Is Fundamental Necessity to Any School. More So Than Equipment

Dr. Robert E. Vinson, president of the University, spoke for about five minutes this morning to the students of Baylor College on "The Teacher." Dr. Vinson used the University or Texas Radio phone in making the address, and reports from Baylor state that they heard him with great clearness.

The address follows:
"Mr. President, Members of the faculty, nd students of Baylor College:

New Experience
"This is to me both a unique and an interesting experience, the first time in fact that I have been able to make use of this apparatus to address an audience over a hundred miles of intervening space, and without any visible connection. But I appreciate your invitation and the opportunity which it affords, and desire first of all to convey to you very cordial greetings and to congratulate you upon the earnestness of spirit which leads you to brave the heat of a Texas summer in order to improve yourselves and the quality of the service which you are rendering in the educational advancement of your state.

Large Demand
"The large demand and the increasing facilities for summer study which mark our day are to me of outstanding significance, and sooner or later they are bound to affect for good the entire educational system of the state. The teacher is the soul of every school—no matter what its grade may be, more than buildings—though good buildings are important, more than equipment, though good equipment is advantageous, and these together, under the supervision and in the hands of the right sort of teacher, really make the school. But, and this should not be overlooked—the teacher is the fundamental necessity. His character, his attitude, his culture, and love of high things, his ambitions, his whole per-

Round Table Discussion To Form Code Of Teaching Ethics Is Held

NO TEXAN DURING EXAMS

Today's Texan is the last issue for the first term of the Summer Session. The Texan will not be issued during the days designated for examinations. The first issue of The Texan for the second term of the Summer Session will appear Tuesday afternoon of next week.

EIGHT LIBRARY STUDES RECEIVE APPOINTMENTS

List Includes Number of Graduates and Undergraduate Students of University

Appointments of eight Library Science students of the long session have recently been made for the coming year.

Marguerite Bengener, of Austin, has been appointed Librarian of the Houston Heights Branch of the Houston Public Library.

Mamie Ruth Camp, of Garland, has been appointed head cataloguer of the A. & M. College Library, at College Station.

Lucy Conolly Foster, of Marlin, has been appointed Reader in Economics in the Loan Package Library, of the University Extension Department.

Tyty Mayes, of Austin, has been appointed Head cataloguer of the University of Tennessee Library, at Knoxville, Tennessee.

Erin Lucile Miller of Austin, has been appointed Reference Assistant of Government Research Bureau, for the University of Texas.

Anne Louise Parmele, of Granger, has been appointed Loan Assistant for the University of Texas Library.

Elizabeth D. Runge, of Galveston, has been appointed Librarian of the Medical College, at Galveston.

Ruth Underwood, of Houston, is assistant during the summer in the Harris County Library at Houston.

Of this number, Miss Mayes, Miss Miller, and Miss Runge were graduate students. Miss Bengener, Miss Camp, and Miss Foster graduated in June. Miss Maier, who completed all the Library Science courses, graduates at Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee, in August. Miss Underwood is a junior, and returns for her senior year this coming year.

UNIVERSITY GIRL IS HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

Miss Hallie Maude Neff, daughter of Governor Neff, who was a student in the University during this past long session, and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was painfully injured yesterday when the auto in which she, Mrs. J. N. Gallagher, and Judge Gallagher of Waco, skidded and overturned on the road near Waco.

Mrs. Gallagher sustained a broken collar bone. Both Mrs. Gallagher and Miss Neff are reported as resting well. Miss Neff is at Baylor hospital, she being a student in the Baylor University summer school.

TWO UNIVERSITY MEN WILL ATTEND C.M.T.C.

Transportation certificates have been received from army headquarters by S. M. Pool and P. W. Lyons who will attend the Citizens Military Training Camp to be held at San Antonio from July 27 to August 26 inclusive. Both of these men are University students and are from Austin.

The notices received by the above applicants contained instructions for equipment to be conveyed with them to the camp, and other information relative to time of leaving for the camp, etc. The transportation certificates entitle the holder to free transportation to the camp over the shortest route possible at a rate of five cents per mile.

REGISTRATION FOR CREDIT

Announcement has been made that Monday, July 31, will be the last day on which a student may register for credit in the second term of Summer School, even tho he pays the late registration fee.

Feeling Is That Existing Low Plane Should Be Raised

By Frances Pitts

On the petition of a number of students of the summer session, a round table discussion was held last night in Room 312 of the Education Building for the purpose of beginning a movement for the forming of a code of professional ethics. A feeling has been growing among teachers that something should be done to correct the low plane of ethics existing among members of the teaching profession at present. The idea of holding this meeting grew out of a discussion arising in Dr. Sutton's education class, culminating in the gathering last night.

To Standardize Views

Action was taken in the form of resolutions to standardize the views of public school men, public school teachers, and boards of trustees. It was decided that a vital question had been raised; a committee was appointed by Mr. W. W. Clement of Kansas City, who was in charge of the meeting, for the purpose of considering the formulation of a code of ethics, and, more particularly, to confer with Superintendent Moore of Fort Worth, President of the State Teacher's Association, to secure adequate time on the program of the Association this fall for a thorough discussion of the questions involved.

Committee Members

Members of the committee are Dr. Frederick Eby, chairman, Mr. O. A. Ullrich of Southwestern, Mr. P. R. Wallace of Mount Pleasant, Mr. J. D. Bramlett of Stephenville, and Superintendent D. R. Hibbetts of Memphis.

What the Question Is

Specifically, the question has to do with the proper modes of conduct on the part of educators—first, the relationship of the superintendent and the school board, and between the superintendent and other superintendents. Should one superintendent criticize another? Or should he apply for the position of the other, knowing at the time that the latter wishes to remain? Should one superintendent try to steal teachers from another by offering them more money, without first consulting the other? Especially important is this question: if a teacher wishes to leave one school system, should the superintendent and board use their influence to prevent the teacher accepting the other position at a higher salary?

To Build Up Profession

After all, according to Dr. Eby, who is one of the best authorities in the state on educational matters, the whole thing resolves itself into a question of building up among the teaching profession an "esprit de corps" of professional etiquette such as exists among lawyers and physicians of today.

FORMER STUDE RUNNING FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE

Henry Houston Jones, who is a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct number 3, place number 2, Travis County is well known in the University, having received the B. A. degree in 1918, and the Bachelor of Laws degree in 1920.

While in the University Jones made a letter in tennis, and took an active interest in University affairs. He is a member of the American Legion, and of the Young Men's Business League. He has been practicing law in Austin since leaving the University, at present being associated with Jones and Martin, attorneys at law.

Editorials

END OF THE FIRST LAP

The end of the first term of the Summer School is a time for inspection, summation and retrospection. The knowledge and information acquired during the past six weeks of classes must be reviewed, classified and arranged, so that the storms of examinations may be weathered without mishap.

Those students who will not remain for the second term are earnestly asked by The Texan to "Remember Texas." With the entire system of education in the state undermined by a lack of support and vacillation of public policy, it is very important that the friends of education be ever active in its behalf. The public schools are facing a serious financial deficit for the approaching session; while the University, as the capstone of the educational system, is seriously hindered and impeded by lack of a permanent policy for its proper maintenance and growth. Many citizens of the state are ignorant as to the true conditions and the pressing needs of the public schools and the institutions of higher learning. It is high time that the educational policy of the state be based on real information, rather than political propaganda, ignorance, or misinformation. The dissemination of accurate information in regard to education must rest in the hands of students and ex-students of the University, in cooperation with other friends of education. Aggressive action, individual and collective, must be taken to arouse public sentiment in favor of placing the public schools and educational institutions on a firmer foundation.

Students who remain for the second term of the summer session will find their time well spent. Many desirable courses are being offered by regular instructors of the University and by visiting instructors from other colleges and universities. A splendid program of public lectures, play hours, moving pictures and other activities has been arranged for the recreation and entertainment of second term students.

With the close of the first term, The Texan desires to express its sincere appreciation of the co-operation and assistance which it has received from students and faculty during the past six weeks. The Texan has earnestly endeavored to serve as a real newspaper for the summer session of the University. This same policy will be continued during the second term. Whether the paper succeeds in its mission must be decided by the readers.

QUICKER REGISTRATION

The announcement by Dr. D. A. Penick, assistant dean of the Summer School, that arrangements have been made to eliminate much of the delay in registration for the second term indicates that some effort is being made to do away with needless standing in line. It has been a matter of complaint for many years that students must wait for several hours in various lines before they finally pass through the red-tape mill of registration. Earlier registration, more places for enrollment, a larger corps of officials, together with the elimination of all unnecessary details, will result in a quicker and more satisfactory registration system.

BRAN SHOT

Applied common sense will enable you to solve any question, no matter how intricate or vital it may be. To apply common sense, however, necessitates a small amount of wisdom, which refuses to be overridden by undue agitation. Those who hit only the high spots in the road are like to forfeit their best, and jump to a quick conclusion—which foregoes the use of reason. Reason demands reasonableness, and to be fair to ourselves, we must be reasonable with others as well as with ourselves. Common sense is the great pillar upon which rests success and this pillar is set in the solid rock foundation of character and ability—not in the sand of unrest and hastiness.

Queen—"One Clear Call."
Texas: Norma Talmadge in "Poppy."
Hancock: Mary Miles Minter in "South of Suva."
Bell Air Dome—"Where the River Shannon Flows," with Bee Harris and Bobby Warren.

Queen

For the entire Week "One Clear Call" which has been heralded as the equal to "The Birth of a Nation" will be shown at the Queen. Claire Windsor is one of the stars in the picture, of which there are a great number.

It is essentially a story of conflict of emotions, the outcome of them, and the way they effect people. The movies are noted for this portrayal of conflicting emotions, and a picture concerning them is almost sure to be a success.

In this picture, there is the conflict on the part of the mother whose love for her husband and for the son whose name is never mentioned in the family cannot be reconciled. There is the conflict between the loyalty of the son's wife to him, and her hatred of his moral code, and the love of the son's sworn friend with his love for the woman whom he is supposed to reunite him with.

The scene is laid in a town in Alabama, with all the southern traditions and customs. The white-capped clansmen play a large part in the production.

Texas

Piquant Norma Talmadge is playing in "Poppy" at the Texas Wednesday and Thursday. This is one of the most charming plays Norma has ever put over, and she has incorporated in it much of her youthfulness, beauty, personality, and fun.

The picture shows a little girl with much daring and spirit about her, defying a group of negro boys about her own age, and taking charge of some younger children. She can fight and run as well as any of them, and has no fear that they can outdo her. There is a great deal of comic action, but there are many thrills, and the end is satisfying to the most romantic.

Hancock

"South of Suva" portrays the lazy beauty, and the wonderful scenery of the south seas, which makes a fine background for the beauty of

Today's Bible Thought

God's Wonderful Love—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16.

Mary Miles Minter and the story which is woven around the girl whose part she plays.

The author, having lived for several years on a coconut plantation, has used his actual experience in the play, and there are many novel incidents. The cast is made up of people well suited for the parts, and who play them with zest.

Bell Air Dome

"Where the River Shannon Flows" will be presented by Bobby Warren's stock company for the remainder of the week. This is a play the scene of which is laid in Ireland, and in which there is plenty of pathos and dramatic action. The cast of the play has been admirably chosen, and each actor is well suited to his part.

Majestic

"I Am The Law" is at the Majestic for the rest of the week. This is a picture of the frozen north, where the thermometer stands at 50 below, and the people who survive must necessarily be the fittest. It is a play of vigor, and red-blooded life. All the things familiar to poems of Robert W. Service are vested in this story, which was written by James Oliver Curwood.

It is the story of two brothers, both members of the Northwest Mounted Police, who are in love with the same girl. Each is hunting the other for a crime which has been committed. The way it is discovered who committed the crime, and the end of the play is very exciting, and unusual.

THE KID WINS

There was a school teacher who wanted to find out how smart her pupils were. She asked a little girl for a number and she said: "Eighty-six," and the teacher wrote 68. Nobody said anything.

She asked another number and a little girl said: "Thirty eight," and she wrote 83.

Then she asked a little boy to give a number and he said: "Thirty-three-monkey with that."

sonality in fact, makes the one ineffaceable impression upon the youth in his charge and determines to a greater extent than any other factor their future.

Teachers Only Students

"That the teachers of Texas in such growing numbers are themselves students, eager to learn, to add to their attainments and avail themselves of every such advantage even at great personal discomfort and cost, is a hopeful sign. Sooner or later, under such conditions, we shall remove the stigma from the name of our state and because of the quality of the service given we may expect greater public appreciation and a more nearly adequate compensation.

"I am sure you who are at Baylor have been having a profitable session, and that you are facing another year with the zest of a workman whose tools are sharp. Good-by."

FOOTBALL GAME ENDS IN GOOSE-EGG SCORE

Toland Is Star of Game—While
Moore Pulls the Prize
Bone-Head

Varsity fans were given an exhibition of football on Clark Field Tuesday afternoon that will long live in their memories.

At the end of the hour the score was 0-0. But that doesn't mean anything. It doesn't tell of the fumbles at critical times nor the missed passes that would have won the game. Nor does it tell of the drive that Toland and his team mates made just as the first half was closing and that carried them from their own ten yard line well past midfield in two plays. For a minute it seemed that the struggle was going to turn into a football game, but the whistle called them off the field and they never could get started again. However, remembering the weather and making allowances for the short practice time given, the game was good; better than could be expected.

Weaver Moore won himself a place in the hall of fame when he pulled the prize play of the game. It happened after this wise. Moore and his teammates had forced the ball within inches of the enemy's goal line and were all set to puncture that line. But the enemy bucked up and held them for two downs. Then the generallissimo determined to use strategy. The quarter called signals and took up a station about twenty yards to the left, all by himself, leaving Moore to take the snap. But Moore saw something that was more interesting than the ball and when it was snapped to him his mind was some place else, or let's hope it was. At any rate the ball slid between his legs without ever finding out that he had hands. And the Tolandites were out of danger.

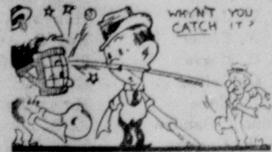

Toland, by the way, was easily the star of the game. He tore through the line for a forty yard gain, was in every play, and usually carried the ball for a nice gain whenever he got hold of it. If he can keep up the gait he set Tuesday he should be good enough for the squad this year.

WILSONS WIN AGAIN IN PLAY HOUR BALL

Last Game of First Term Ends in 13-7 Victory Over the
"Bran-Shots"

"Bran" Pool P. T. 1 indoor baseballer extraordinary, led his team to a glorious defeat at the hands of Wilson and his gang in the weekly play hour indoor baseball game last evening on Jordan Field to the tune of 13-7.

"We out played them from the start," said Pool this morning, "why we ust have made two errors to their one, and errors are what count in indoor baseball." He neglected to say for whom the errors counted. However, Pool was modest enough to admit that some of the credit for the defeat of his team might be due to the playing of other members. In this connection he commented very favorably on the work of C. M. (Flozzie) Pearce, the pride of Rosebud.

"Pearce," said the skipper, "is naturally fitted for a great indoorer. He has the physique and the natural swing at the ball that is bound to develop him into a strike out king. He is also good in the field.

Pool was loud in his praise of the play hours and expressed the hope that they be made compulsory during the long session.

In addition to the indoor baseball game, two games of volley ball were staged on the other end of the field.

TEXAS "U" STAFF CONTAINS MANY NOTABLE WRITERS

Publications of Nation Show
Contributions From Teaching Body

That various members of the University teaching staff in the departments of English, romance languages and comparative literature are engaging in productive research may be judged from examining the files of American philological journals, for the past six months. These journals published monthly or quarterly, contain many articles written by Texas teachers, reviews of books by Texas teachers, and articles of special interest to the University. For example in a noteworthy article, "American Bibliography for 1921," which appeared in the Publications of the Modern Language Association of America Bryn Mawr, Pa., for March, comment is made on articles or books issued by the following faculty members of the University.

A. C. Judson, J. B. Wharey, F. A. Waterhouse, A. E. Trombly, Aaron Schaffer, H. L. Norman and H. M. Jones. The same number of the Publications includes an article, "More About Chaucer's Wife of Bath" by Walter C. Curry, who is now teaching English in the summer school; another article is "An Interview With Jean Jacques Rousseau" by F. A. Waterhouse. The June number of the same periodical contains "In-Principio," by R. A. Law.

Modern language notes, Baltimore, for January contains a review of A. C. Judson's edition of "The Captives," by Prof. S. C. Chew of Bryn Mawr, and also a note from B. M. Woodbridge, "Sylvester Bonnard and Philetas." The leading article in the March number of this monthly is "The Dative of Time How In Old England," by Morgan Callaway, Jr., in the same number B. M. Woodbridge writes of "Flaubert and War Brides." The April number has a review by J. W. Draper of the catalogue of the Wrenn Library of the University of Texas. The May number contains a note by R. A. Law on "The Background of Browning's Love Among the Ruins" and the June number has a longer article by Aaron Schaffer. "The Trentesix Ballads Joyeuses" of Theodore de Banville. Modern Philology, Chicago for May has an article by W. C. Curry on "The Malady of Chaucer's Summoner" and a review by Prof. C. R. Baskerville of the University of Chicago of Judson's edition of "The Captives."

The Journal of English and Germanic Philosophy, Urbana, Ill., printed in the January number a note on "Tony Aston's Fool's Opera," by R. H. Griffith and in the April number an article, "A Source for 'Annabel Lee,'" by R. A. Law.

Studies in Philosophy, Chapel Hill, N. C., for April has "Another View of Spenser's Linguistics" by F. F. Covington, Jr., and the July number has reviews by Prof. T. S. Graves of North Carolina on Judson's edition of "The Captives" and of H. M. Jones' monograph "The King in Hamlet," published by the University of Texas.

IT WAS NO ACCIDENT

The insurance man was putting questions to a former cowboy, as he wrote out his application.

"Ever have any accidents?"
"No," was the reply.
"Never had any accidents in your life?"
"Nope. A rattler bit me once, though."
"Well, don't you call that an accident?"
"No, you boob! He bit me on purpose!"
