FRESHMAN ELECTION IN LAW AUDITORIUM TONIGHT AT 7:30

BASKETBALL SQUAD THrice VICTORIOUS

S. M. U., Baylor, and T. C. U. Defeated. Hard Fought Games Despite Heavy Scores—Fast Goals Chief Feature

The Longhorn basketball squad made a clean up on its three day trip to Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco. All three games were won by decisive scores, though they were strongly argued by the opposing teams. The scores were: S. M. U., 19, Texas 33; Baylor 13, Texas 21; T. C. U., 25 Texas 40.

The squad left Austin Tuesday morning and played the Methodists in Dallas that night. The game was played in the Y. M. C. A. and was well attended. Both teams were in the best of condition and the Methodists were confident of winning, but the men from Texas put it over them in the second half. S. M. U. will have a chance to retaliate however, as they will come to Austin on the eighth of February to play two more games. On the twenty-second T. C. U. was defeated at Fort Worth by a score of 40 to 25. According to Coach Henderson this was the hardest game of the trip despite the one-sided score. The score was close nearly all the time except in the last part of the first half when Texas drew ahead by a series of fast goals.

THREE PRIZES TO BE AWARDED BEST MISSIONARY ESSAYS

Through the Y. M. C. A., various prizes are being offered for the best essays written on "The Significance of the Foreign Missionary Enterprise in Making the New World." Any number of students may compete. This is a method chosen by a friend of American students to get them interested in foreign missions, and at the same time to submit material that will probably help the general cause of missions along. Nothing but original essays will be accepted. Each essay must be 1000 words in length. When the article is finished, authors are requested to enclose the same, signed by a nom de plume, in a sealed envelope. In the same envelope the name and address of the writer should be put. This insures impartial judging. Articles must be rewritten on sheets eight and a half by eleven. One side alone may be used. Articles are to be sent to the student department, 347 Madison avenue, New York City. They must be in the office by April 15, 1919.

Judges from all parts of the country have been selected. This was probably done so that there might be a variety of the best opinion. The judges are as follows: Professor D. J. Fleming of Union Theological Seminary, Rev. William P. Schell of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and Rev. S. M. Zwemer, F. R. S. of Cairo University. Prizes are offered to all grades of students. But the one concerning college and university students is of special interest to the University. The first prize is three hundred dollars, the second is two hundred dollars, and the third is one hundred dollars. The Y. M. C. A. of the University is especially anxious that a great number of students submit articles.

HOUSTON JONES RE-ENTERS

Lieut. Houston Jones of Call Field, Wichita Falls, has registered in the War Department for the present term. Jones was a J. A. student in '17-'18 and left in the spring of that year to join the U. S. Air Service.

BAYLOR GAME WON BY SCORE 21 TO 13

Good Guarding Strong Points of Both Teams—No Game With Kelly Field

(By Buddy.)
The squad left Fort Worth Thursday morning and played Baylor at Waco the same night. The game was a fast one and was characterized by good guarding on both sides. The score was 21 to 13 in favor of the Longhorns. When the game was over the squad found that they had about eight minutes in which to catch the train, so they dashed madly forth in their uniforms with the blankets wrapped around them. They arrived at the station just as the train went out of sight. They spent the night at Waco, so missed another day of school. Baylor will come here February 18th for one game.

All the men who were taken were given a chance at one time or other to play. DeViney, Russell, Snyth, Greer, McCullough, and Dennis held up the big end of the work. Others taken were J. L. Dittart and Bladale. Coach Henderson accompanied the team. Osborne, a Y. M. C. A. man from Dallas, refereed the S. M. U. game. Stein, of Fort Worth, refereed the T. C. U. game, and Slater of Waco, refereed the Baylor game.

The game with Kelly Field, to be played January 28th, has been canceled due to the rule barring spectators from the game. The next games that will be played in Austin, will be on February 7th and 8th with S. M. U. S. M. U. played T. C. U., and beat them in two games. The team takes its next trip to Houston, on the 30th of this month. Games will be played on the night of the 31st and on the 1st. While the Rice team has a good record, Coach Henderson is confident of victory for Texas.

Wowie! Seniors Fooled by Alec's Valiant Vassals

Senior academic students are ordinarily reputed to have perspicacity enough to make the average college student green—or even purple—with envy.

But the Senior Class of 1919 allowed itself to be most thoroughly sold yesterday. Listen, by children, and you shall hear the exploits of an engineer.

Senior academic meeting time arrived and in filed a goodly number of the wise ones, together with some wiser ones. The engineering department had sent a delegation to assist the worthy pedoggies in their organization.

When the chairman asked for nominations for vice-president, a doughty follower of Alec proposed the name of Maurice Dannebaum, the same being a freshman engineer. He was unanimously elected.

SUMMER SCHOOL TO HEAR LECTURE EVERY SATURDAY

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, and Judd Mortimer Lewis Among Speakers

A series of special lectures by noted people is being arranged for Summer School this year. Among those who have already consented to lecture are Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent of public instruction, and Judd Mortimer Lewis of the Houston Post. There will also be lectures by several out of State people whose names can not now be given. A different person will speak every Saturday afternoon; the exact time has not been set. The talk of Mr. Lewis is not properly a lecture, but the reading of his own poems and the telling of his own stories—some original, others culled from various sources.

In the School of History several new professors have been employed for the first term of Summer School. Among these are A. P. Brook from the University of Georgia, T. M. Marshall from the University of Colorado, and A. K. Christian, a graduate of the University of Texas who is taking a doctor's degree at Pennsylvania. For the second term, C. S. Boucher of Washington University at St. Louis and L. M. Larson of the University of Illinois have been engaged. These new men with some of the regular faculty, it is thought, will comprise an excellent teaching staff in the department of history.

Inquiries for Summer School are even now becoming numerous and it is thought that the Summer School this year will be a great success.

COLD WEATHER RETARDS WORK IN SWIMMING

Tuesday was the last day for women students to sign up for "T's" in different sports. On account of cold weather very few have gotten in practices this winter in swimming. Every now and then a splash is heard in the pool of the Woman's gymnasium, when some enthusiast is trying to get in a few of the thirty practices required for a "T."

None of the girls so far have shown enough love of the sport to go in out to the lake, yet. The point in Bee Creek looks deserted. In about a month, however, the girls working for a "T" will begin their practice in earnest.

The swimming manager is going to try to have the University barge tied out in mid-stream so it will be easier on the beginners.

PUBLIC SPEAKING ASSISTANTS

Emil Corenbleth, senior law, and Ernest May, senior academ have been named as student assistants in public speaking. Both were assistants last year before they left school. Corenbleth and May are prominent students having been closely connected with student affairs. Both are University debaters, Corenbleth won against Tulane last year, and May debated with Oklahoma.

Corenbleth returned this session from an officers' training school; May from the Marines.

FELSING TO SPEAK TO CHEMICAL CLUB ON WAR-FARE WORK

Speaker Just Returned From Edgewood, Maryland Where Poisonous Gas Made

"Some of my interesting experiences while in the chemical warfare work," will be the subject of a lecture to be given to the chemical club by Dr. W. A. Felsing, Saturday night. The meeting will be held on the second floor of the chemistry building and the public is cordially invited to attend. Advanced students in chemistry are especially urged to be present. Dr. Felsing was a captain in the chemical branch of government work and has just returned from Edgewood, Maryland, where much of the poisonous gas used by the American forces was made. Dr. Felsing has taken charge of the Chemistry 1 work, relieving Dr. Schoch, who will give his attention to advanced classes in chemical engineering.

The lecture promises to be very interesting, as the speaker will tell of his own experiences and observations in his line of work. There should be a large attendance, because the information that he will give, should be beneficial to every student; it brings into light a phase of offensive warfare that has seldom been touched upon before. Few realize that chemistry has played as large a part in wining the war as any other science that is taught. The speaker will bring out the importance of a knowledge of this subject. Chemistry is one of the most interesting and valuable sciences that we have, and its usefulness is just now being fully realized.

This meeting will be the first of the chemistry club for the year, and with such an attraction, promises to be a successful one. The membership of this organization has always been large, and attempts are now being made to build it up to its pre-war standard.

RUSK TO MEET

Rusk literary Society will meet in the Law Building Saturday night at 7:30. This will be a closed meeting for members only as the purpose of the meeting is to give members practice in the intercollegiate debates on government control of railroads. Sides will be drawn for the debate at the meeting.

Visitors are always welcomed at the Rusk in any meeting except practice meetings in debating contests with other societies. All who want to take part in the practice discussions are asked to be there promptly at the appointed time.

Sweet Youthful Things Out With Their Kitties

Two sweet young things were out with their "kitties" this morning. Each cat was securely collared and chained so that escape was impossible. To incur the hatred, and stir the claws of a cat is a very easy thing so the young men were compelled to diligently stroke the backs of the animals to soothe them into a gentle mood.

Another striking characteristic of these initiates, was their manner of dress. Evidently they had gotten out on the wrong side of bed with their sense of rightness overturned. Their suits were wrong-side-outers. The special merit of this was the whiteness of the inner lining.

The expressions on these several men's faces were very unhappy. The girls all got a fit of giggling at first sight of them and said, "Poor kitty." Worse than the giggles of the co-eds was the insipid expressions on the faces of the men. Oh!

FRESHMAN POLITICAL CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

First-Year Students Defy Help of Upper-Classmen--Hartfield of Lockhart, Thos. Scott of Dallas and Others to Enter the Race for Coveted Honor

ELECTION TONIGHT

The election of Freshmen Officers will be held at the Law Auditorium tonight at 7:30, according to the announcement of Reagan R. Huffman, President of The Students' Association.

Contrary to the practice of some of the other classes, it is thought that the results of the election will not be kept secret, but will be announced at once.

A large attendance by the Freshman Class is predicted for the meeting tonight.

Realizing the necessity for controlling their own class affairs, the Freshmen are arousing themselves to new activity. Politics in the Freshman Class is now taking a decidedly different angle from the course it has been running during the past few days. In fact, the majority of the freshmen are showing great interest in the approaching election, and much speculation is being voiced as to the outcome.

A number of leading members of the Class of '22, who were approached today about the subject, spoke as follows:

"The Class of '22 neither desires, nor will permit, any further interference in its class affairs by upperclassmen. In fact, the Freshman Class is alive and full of pep, and does not need the help of solicitous upperclassmen in perfecting its organization.

HISTORIES OF WAR SCHOOLS BEING MADE

Bryant at Helm of Work—Reports to Be Written in a Free Style

Histories of the three military schools which were conducted by the University of Texas for the War Department are now being written under the supervision of J. M. Bryant, head of the board of control of the University Army Schools. These records are being made as the result of a general order from Washington. They are to include descriptive matter of the buildings, camp activities, and other points of interest with accompanying photographs. A copy of each will be added to the archives of the University.

These records are not to be in a stiff outline form but in a breezy short story style. The letter from Washington said:

"I hope in writing your report you will not allow the formality of the outline to squeeze out all of the many items of real, grippy, human interest. Consider each heading as a chapter in a free and running story, not merely tabulated facts, which you might write for the Saturday Evening Post and say anything you please in any way you like that bears on each heading and then at the end add anything 'under the sun' that you care to."

VARSITY HERO HERE

Jas. D. Ward, a former member of the Law Department of the University of Texas was on the campus recently. At the beginning of the war he entered the Y. M. C. A. service. Later he was transferred to the regular army, commissioned, and saw active service in the famous battle of Cantigny. While in a raiding party with the French, he was wounded by a hand grenade so that he had to be relieved from active duty and returned to the United States.

The upperclassmen have attempted to create amusement at the expense of the freshmen. It is needless to state that the men, posing as "Aloysius Pentagram Smith of San Antonio and Will Williams Wilson of New Braunfels," who announced themselves as candidates for Freshman president at the speaking on the campus Tuesday, are, in fact, not Freshmen, but upperclassmen. This attempt to create amusement at our expense deceived very few, if any one. We intend tonight to elect only serious, earnest officers who will make the class of '22 the best Freshman Class that Varsity has ever had."

The man who announced himself as a candidate for president a few days ago states that he is no longer in the race, and therefore, does not desire his name to be used any further in that connection.

Hartfield for President
Many freshmen are urging the nomination and election of Lieut. Wiley A. Hartsfield of Lockhart, a genuine freshman, for president of the class. Hartsfield received his commission of first lieutenant at the second Leon Springs, officers' training camp, and saw active service with the 19th Infantry of Regular Army at Camp Travis. He served in the army over eighteen months, receiving his honorable discharge on January 3. He is the possessor of a sharpshooter's medal, given to him for his efficient marksmanship. He is staying at the Freshman Barracks, located on the Campus.

When interviewed by a Texan reported this afternoon, Hartsfield said: "Yes, I understand that my friends are presenting my name for the nomination of president of the Freshman Class. It is needless to say that I am deeply grateful for this consideration. Since my friends have seen fit to put me up for this office, I will agree to enter the race, and will, if elected, perform the duties of the office in a serious, dignified manner, working ever for the good of the Freshman Class, a class of which I am proud to be a member."

It is also rumored around the campus that there may be other candidates for Frosh president, among them Thomas Scott of Dallas. However, an interview could not be obtained from Scott concerning his candidacy, if he is running, because the reporter could not get in connection with him.

TOWNES TALKS AT CAPITAL

Judge Jno. C. Townes, Dean of the Law Department of the University, recently made an address at the State Legislature, favoring an amendment proposed by prominent members of the State Bar Association, regarding the reorganization of State Governments.

A PERMANENT PLAN FOR THE UNIVERSITY.

A more favorable time to propose and inaugurate a permanent plan of development of the physical plant of the University of Texas could not be found than the present, and moreover unless it is done soon the advance strides which the University is making will be performed checked.

The present campus is dear to the hearts of thousands of ex-students who have gone out from the University during the past thirty-five years, but it will have to be enlarged to care for the present and future needs for new buildings and dormitories. Obviously it would seriously hamper instruction if additional land and buildings were located any distance from the present campus unless the whole campus were to be moved elsewhere to a larger plot of ground. Although this last might have been seriously considered before the erection of even the last two buildings on the campus it would, we believe, be unwise to discard the present campus and the buildings thereon. The most feasible solution is to enlarge the campus to the east.

The University Regents have already made a start in that direction. The tract of land to the northeast of the campus and between Speedway and Clark Field belongs to the University. Clark Field, which joins this, could also be utilized if another athletic field is furnished the Athletic Council in its stead, which also is necessary if athletics and physical education and training are to receive their best development here. Only a few years ago hardly any houses had been built east of the campus, but now an enlargement of the campus will necessarily involve the removal of the houses along Speedway and Duval streets and on the cross streets between Twenty-first and Twenty-fourth.

We believe that a campus at least double the present size will be necessary, and so considerable expense will attach to the process of enlargement. How this expense can be met best we do not know, but it could probably be met in the same way that the cost of constructing the new buildings which will have to inevitably come soon will be met, either by the issuance of bonds on the income from University lands, or some other means that the legislature may provide.

We believe that the people of the State desire to do what is best for the University and through their representatives in the legislature will pass whatever measures are necessary for remedying the serious lack of campus space and buildings, if the Board of Regents will formulate their plans and submit the same to the legislature. The time could never be more ripe and the need is imperative.

You can judge how long a man will be sick when you see his nurse.

Not so many moons ago one woman thought so little of her sister on the dollar, that she gave $75,000 for a coat. Speaking of economic injustice when some of us haven't even seen one dollar 75,000 times.

There is much talk about barring reporters from the Peace Conference. Looks like some learned head would discover that there'll be no peace until they are admitted.

The next thing that we will hear on entering a class room will be, "Now all together, all tongues out for inspection."

When the eating-joint gets too high-brow for toothpicks, a broom upside down should be inclined in a conspicuous corner of the dining room.

There'd be no need of all this fuss about a league of nations if we'd had our way when we were small—our dad's would have all been policemen.

It is a wonder that somebody didn't realize ages ago that the reason some men stood out so strong against Woman Suffrage was because they were loathe to encourage their wives in pocket-picking along about the time for poll-tax receipts.

In the attire of some of our ultra-modern young women there is very little to show for "Friend Father's" hard earned money.

All we need is someone benevolently turned to serve refreshments in the library and we'd have a successful five o'clock tea club.

JOURNALISTS AT WISCONSIN

In the section devoted to student opinions the following attitude on the continuation of compulsory military training at the University of Toronto recently appeared in the "Varsity": Editor of the Varsity:

At this time, with the war over, one begins to wonder how the Caput can see it fit to continue the system of compulsory military training in the University. The C. O. T. C. was organized about four years ago for the purpose which its name implies; not for any physical cultural reason, but purely to train those students intending to enlist as commissioned or non-commissioned officers in the army. This training was, moreover, undergone by the students voluntarily, and credit was allowed them for the time spent, in one of their academic subjects. Now, with the cessation of hostilities and the consequent disappearance of the necessity for sending troops overseas, the C. O. T. C. has

Of something 'gainst the rules of grammar,

My sentence structure raised a clamor.

And sentences too oft redundant; My diction's inexcusable;

My words too oft confusable.

Mine was bold enough to give me 'G.'"

TEXANO.

THERE ARE BOYS AND GIRLS.

O the boys and boys, Overload us with joys,

And we love them both "great and small";

But the sweet, dainty girls, With both black and gold curls,

How we love them! Yes, we love them all.

Now strangers and brothers, Besides many others,

Since when did we get that way? That we love them when tacky,

And love them in khaki, And love them just any old way.

Just because the war's over, Is each boy then a lover,

And each girl's affection so vast, That when Co-eds and Eds meet,

There's a "sure 'nuff" love feast? HOW LONG WILL THE ARMISTICE LAST?

"Where You Are Always Welcome"

logically finished its work, and should be disbanded.

The only possible excuse for continuing the system of compulsory military training in the C. O. T. C. is that new reasons for its existence, distinct from the one for which it was originally organized, have since been discovered. Two of these have been put forward. A rather absurd and laughable one that is being advanced is, that we are being given a military training for the reason that it may stand us to some use in some future conflict which may arise. In other words, we are being trained for a future war, which is evidently being darkly suspected by some people, in spite of the determination of the victorious allies to the contrary. When "the future war" breaks out the University of Toronto C. O. T. C. will prove its long doubted usefulness by proudly marching forth single-handed and saving the Empire by striking down the foe that had been so foolish as to think that he could withstand the indomitable military power of the U. of T. C. O. T. C.

The other reason advanced for the continuation of this militaristic system is, that it is for the physical well-being of the students! If that were its purpose surely something more congenial, with more life in it, could be devised. There are other and better methods of exciting muscular activity among healthy red-blooded young men. If it is our physical well-being that is being looked after, could not a system of games or athletics be established, that while exciting us to the same muscular effort, would at the same time do away with the sickening monotony of having to do the same old lifeless, stiff movements, year in and year out.

The felling against compulsory military training is as strong among students as among all other classes of the Canadian people. In view of the changed conditions since the adoption of compulsion the Caput should reconsider their decision and have this militaristic system abolished.

FLO FLO

John Cort's hilarious, musical pageant of beauty, wit, and fashion entitled "Flo-Flo" will open at the Hancock Opera House here on Monday and Tuesday, January 27 and 28 with a matinee on Tuesday. It has enjoyed a long and popular run at the Cort Theatre, New York City, where it is now playing to crowded houses at every performance.

The "perfect 36" chorus of the show which Broadway has dubbed Mr. Cort's "war-bride" production is credited with being the only comedy chorus ever seen on a New York stage. Its eccentric dancing never fails to bring down the house and is an effective background for the work of a star cast.

Flo-Flo, a pulchritudinous though vampirish corset model gives the show its title. A dash of international match-making is contributed by a scheming mother, a fake count and an heiress.

The notable cast includes Jack Norton, Cordelia Haager, Joseph Elvey, Martha Lawrence, Thomas Gordon, Maude Nolan, Leon Leonard, Betty Booth, Francis and Ross, Gus Vaughan and an augmented orchestra under the direction of Vernon Bestor. Seats now on sale.

CHAPEL NOTICE.

Rev. Mr. Talley read the story about Peter and John going up to the temple at the ninth hour to pray, and healing the lame man at the gate. The formation of the habit of regular daily prayer and devotion was one of the secrets of Peter's power. Rev. Talley said that a student's habits are largely settled in college. If a student says that he will form a habit after he leaves school because he is too busy now, he will find then that he has no time. We do the things after college for which we formed the desire in college.

Peter not only prayed for the lame man at the gate, but he reached down his hand, and helped the man to his feet. A Christian who does not tie affections and impulses of his great humanitarian movements that are helping to build the Kingdom, will find that his own life is growing shallower day by day.

Tomorrow is the last day Mr. Talley will be with us for a while. It is hoped, therefore, that a large number of students will be at chapel to hear him. Room 158, 8:35 in the morning.

LAW BANQUET QUIESCENT

The committee on the annual law banquet, has not as yet determined the exact date when this festive occasion will be held, due to the uncertainty of the "flu" situation. However, it will probably be held during the week preceding winter term examinations.

It's Perplexing Not Knowing Just Which Way to Turn

Maybe it will help a bit to know that our Standards here are just as high as before the war.

VARSITY SOLDIER VISITS

H. W. Whisenant, of San Antonio, a Junior Law at the University of Texas in '17, was a recent visitor at the Law Department. Lieut. Whisenant gave up his law work and went to the first officers' training camp at Leon Springs in the fall of '17. Later on he was commissioned and sent to France. He saw quite a bit of the real war, was engaged in the first great counter offensive of the Allies and was severely wounded. He had invalidated home and will enter the University in the fall to complete his law work.

Ancient Mound Builders Believed Inhabited Austin

Dr. Pearce, professor of anthropology, unearthed recently from an old Indian mound what he believes to be positive proof that the famous mound-builders really inhabited Texas. The find is the burial offering of one who was very high among this rare tribe of American Indians and consists of arrow heads, axes, tomahawks, and knives. They are many times larger than the ordinary articles because the Indians thought that the God to whom they were offered was very great hence must have "heap big things."

discovery that he took a collection of his "stone wreaths" to Dr. Fewke, the famous anthropologist of the Smithsonian Institute.

Plans are being made for an extensive survey of Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona in order to secure more definite proof of the conclusion by Dr. Fewke that the Mound-Builders came through Texas.

All finds are to be the property of the University. The Smithsonian Institute is to finance the project.

Dr. Pearce will have charge of the field work, and Dr. Fewke will gather data, records, etc., for the Smithsonian Institute.

MID-JANUARY ORGAN OF INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MAILED OUT

The mid-January number of the Interscholastic Leaguer, the official organ of the Interscholastic League published by the Department of Extension, has been printed, and copies were mailed Thursday to the various schools over the state that belong to the league. The number contains several articles regarding league activities and has three pictures of last year's contestants. In addition, there is an account of the Junior Red Cross "Health Crusade" to be launched on February 9 by the Texas Public Health Association. This campaign is for the purpose of improving health and sanitary conditions surrounding school children, and will be continued until May 24.

The Leaguer also gives publicity to a recent bulletin issued by the department and prepared by E. E. Davis, lecturer on rural education. The title of the bulletin is "Experiments in the Elementary Sciences for Country Schools."

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The University Association has received from National Headquarters a resolution regarding the protection of women under international law, with the request that the faculty women, and women students sign it for presentation to the governments of the world.

The resolution will be on the desk in the Girls' Study Hall tomorrow. Those who wish to sign may do so either there or at the Y. W. C. A. information desk.

Only twenty of the two hundred hyacinth and narcissus bulbs it was hoped to have "adopted" by the University girls have been taken.

The bulbs and bowls may be secured at the information desk at any time. The price is twelve cents.

SENIOR ACADEMS ELECT

The first meeting of the Senior Academs was held yesterday afternoon. Donald Nail called the meeting to order and declared the election of officers on. Louis Hexter was elected president for the winter term and Alvin Naugle for the spring term. Other officers chosen were: for the winter term: Maurice Dannebaum, vice-president; Maud Milam, secretary and Ed Angly, sergeant-at-arms. For the spring term: Norman Berg, vice president; Cora Blakeley, secretary, and Donald Nail, sergeant-at-arms.

It was decided at some near date the class should meet in some outdoor social function, and thus get better acquainted. After a short business session the class adjourned.

"Thermometer Brigade" Now Well Organized

Miss Ruffner, the trained nurse assisting Dr. Gilbert and the Faculty Committee on Public Health, have almost completed the organization for the daily taking, reporting and checking of temperatures. The few "temperature takers" who have not yet called at Dr. Gilbert's office to get thermometers and instructions are requested to do so today or tomorrow, for by next week no student should have any excuse for coming to classes without having had his temperature read.

This measure is regarded by the

WAR PLEDGES OVERDUE

Have you paid the pledge you made during the United War Work campaign? If not, your card is being held at the Registrar's office awaiting the receipt of your subscription. The pledges are payable at any time, and will continue to be collected until Mar. 1. This is the last date specified on the card for payment.

Out of the $15,418 pledged during the drive by faculty members and students, only $7,116, or less than one-half, has been paid at the Registrar's office thus far. This amount includes both full and part payments. As announced during the campaign, the first payment of 50 per cent was to be made on December 2, the second of 25 per cent on January 15 and the third of 25 per cent on March. However, the suspension of classes during December interrupted the collection, and it is thought that but few, if any, have given the matter any attention since their return. Consequently, an appeal is made to all who have not completed their payment to do so at once, or, if that is impossible, to at least start saving.

We want 50 per cent over our quota! Will we be delinquent in paying our promises?

physicians as the most effective precaution that can be taken against the spread of the flu. Every day from one to six students have been discovered with fever and a number of these hases have developed into typical influenza. On Wednesday morning, for example, one girl had a temperature of ninety-nine and three-fifths; she was sent to the hospital and by afternoon her fever had risen to 104. Cases that are sent to bed during the first day of their fever have had very slight attacks, and as a consequence, their recovery has been rapid, which probably would not have been the case if they had dragged themselves around trying to carry on their work and fight the disease at the same time. Furthermore, the entire student body has been protected against infection from these cases.

Miss Ruffner wishes to give out the last of the thermometers tomorrow morning. Students at boarding houses where temperatures are not being taken should get together and elect a temperature taker, if one has not already been appointed.

Students living in the smaller boarding houses (where there are fewer than five) will be waited on by Miss Ruffner in Dr. Gilbert's office at any time between eight and one o'clock.

Most of the faculty members are also taking their temperature daily or having them taken by Miss Ruffner.

KANE KLUB AGAIN ACTIVE

William Alvin Naugle of Ft. Worth was elected King of the Kane at a recent meeting of the University Kane Klub, the senior academic men's organization. Other officers of the club this year are: Jack Ball of Farnsworth, Knight of the Kane; Arthur H. Deen of Austin, Keeper of the Kane and Katalog; and Donald Nail, Keeper of the Kane.

An initiation is being planned sometime soon for the men of the senior class who were not initiated last spring, according to the new King of the Kane. President Vinson is an honorary member of the organization and takes a very active part in its ceremonies and rituals.
