CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD-- YES, PERHAPS

Notre Dame Defeats the Army; Army Noses Out on Colgate, Who in Turn Clean Up on Yale. Harvard Our Rival.

The Longhorns have a chance for the football championship of the world—or so the dope now shows. Notre Dame won a decided victory over the strong Army team yesterday; Colgate defeated Yale; a few weeks ago the Army beat Colgate, 7 to 6. As Yale played Maine a 0-0 tie and Harvard defeated the same team, 33 to 0, this gives Harvard a 33 point lead over Yale. Notre Dame has also a 33 point lead over Yale by virtue of the fact that they defeated Army by a lead of 22 points; Army defeated Colgate by one point; then Colgate nosed out ten points on Yale—making a total of 33 points lead that Notre Dame has over Yale. This brings the Crimson and the Catholics to a tie. Harvard is undoubtedly the strongest football factor in the East while the Catholics have one of the strongest teams in the West. The defeat of Notre Dame by Texas would add materially to Varsity's long string of football honors for the year. Championship of the world—that sounds nice, doesn't it?

But that Southern championship. Vanderbilt was decisively defeated by Virginia and Sewanee suffered the same humiliation at the hands of Georgia Tech. A comparison with our scores does not help our chances for Southern honors to any great extent—but with the world's championship—we should worry!

Following are the results of games played yesterday:

SOME CLOUT

Sam Crawford's three bagger yesterday in an exhibition game with the White Sox may have been a record-breaker, but those of us who happened to see the Tiger outfielder connect with one while playing a practice game with the University team in 1909 can certify that that hit wasn't any "slouch." The ball cleared the right field fence, the street, and landed on top of one of the houses across the way. Such a clout has never since been approached on Clark Field, and if measured it would no doubt prove to be about as long as this recent record-breaker.

CO-EDS TO INITIATE NEW GRANDSTAND AT SOUTHWESTERN GAME

Freshmen Will Probably Send Band to Game at Houston. This and Other Events of Interest Discussed at Rally Last Night.

Those who did not attend the rally last night missed one of the best "pep" meetings. Pep galore, an interesting talk by Mr. Belmont, a word from the freshmen, and yells made up the program.

Baggot, president of the freshman class, gave a short talk in which he told of the proposed gift of his class to the band.

"We hope to collect sufficient funds to defray the expenses of the band on the trip to Houston. In previous years the freshman class has been a mere name and had little or no interest in University affairs. This class will be quite different in this respect. We are much interested in all school affairs and our present action is only an indication of this interest. The freshman class says 'On to Houston!'"

Mr. Belmont spoke of the initiation of the new grandstand by the co-eds. The admission has been reduced for the girls attending and they will meet at the woman's building at 3 o'clock on Monday. The affair has been endorsed by Mrs. Kirby and a big crowd is expected.

Arrangements for the trip to Houston have been completed, and reservations may be made. There is no reason that we should not have a great many students attend the game. The rate is low, the admission has been reduced from $1.50 to $1.00, and lots of free entertainment. Texas needs support in this game. Will you help?

Misses Grace Paddleford, Net Reynolds, and Julia Mastin of the Zeta chapter at Southwestern, came over yesterday to attend open house.

The Delta Delta Delta sorority entertained with an enjoyable Hal-low'en party and dinner Friday evening.

We received last week, a copy of The Daily Texan, published by the students of the Texas State University. It claims to be the first college daily in the South. It is a neatly printed sheet and editorially it is bright and newsy.

We are glad to X—West Texas News, Del Rio, Texas.

CHAPEL NOTICES

Today.

The Cross of Christ is the central pivotal fact of history, secular and sacred.

Mr. Glasgow showed with graphic clearness that the attitude of those who had our Lord crucified was one of antipathy, that the attitude of those who executed the order was one of apathy, that the attitude of those women and John, the beloved disciple, who watched afar off, was one of sympathy.

All people today belong to one of these three classes. Which?

Monday.

Special music will be rendered at the regular Monday song service.

Tuesday.

The ladies will have a meeting at the regular hour in the regular chapel room.

A special meeting for men will be held at the same hour in the auditorium. Mr. Hall, America's greatest authority on sex hygiene, will speak.

Mr. LeSeur, a missionary to Mexico, will speak at the University Baptist church in the Sunday evening service. Mr. LeSeur is at the head of a Baptist Seminary in Torreon, Mexico. He has returned to Austin, his home, only for a brief visit, and brings with him many interesting details of the conditions in Mexico. During his last stay in Mexico, Mr. LeSeur was shut off from all communication with the outside world. At times, he did not know even of the Mexican situation in regard to the federal rebel troops. His talk Sunday evening promises to be one full of interest. The students of the University are cordially invited to be present.

BIG HARDEST COURSE CONTEST ENDS

Loyal Followers of Perry are Rewarded for Their Efforts in Feature Contest by Success of the Pet Course of Law Department, "How to Use 'Em."

The great feature contest to determine the hardest course in the University of Texas is at an end and, after the most spirited rally of the contest, "Use of Law Books" has barely retained its lead and is duly declared the choice of the student body. The phenomenal success of the supporters of this course in winning out over apparently impossible odds furnishes a fine example of the effectiveness of department spirit and organization. From a position only four places from the bottom of the list and with no apparent hopes of victory, the ambitious leaders of the junior law class, "railroaded" their pet course through the thick of the fight until their lead was too great to be overcome by the furious economics 1 supporters. When the press of numbers seemed too great for their younger brothers many loyal "Mid-landers" and even a few dignified seniors, raised the old "Rah-rah-rhos, Simpkins, Simpkins, Perigrinus-laws," and burst into the fray. Be it said, however, to the credit of the active ones among Dr. Haney's disciples, that they were overcome by force of numbers and superior organization and not from any lack of "fighting qualities" on their part. For these plucky academs were game to the last and, on the very eve of the contest, polled almost enough votes to carry off the prize.

This contest has been enlightening in many ways. In the first place it has shown beyond a doubt that the students of the University take a real live interest in whatever movement their College Daily is back of, and that they are ready to support it in all its efforts. Also the heavy vote polled goes a long way to disprove recent statements to the effect that students of the University of Texas cannot be persuaded to cast their votes in an election. Practically seven hundred students have voted in this contest, although no personal canvassing was done and the only notices of the contest were those printed from time to time by the contest editor in The Daily Texan.

HOUSTON ALUMNI RECEPTION.

Elaborate Plans Being Made for Entertainment of Visiting Students and a Big Time is Expected.

There is no doubt but that the alumni in Houston are in earnest about wanting a full representation from the University when the Longhorns meet the Sooners. The whole alumni club is working together, and working hard, preparing for the entertainment of the visitors from the University. They plan to leave nothing undone to make the trip to Houston and the stay in that city worth while. The following telegram was received here Saturday:

"Hon. Jno. A. Lomax, University of Texas:

"Making great plans for entertainment. Will meet all at train and escort to breakfast. Arranging headquarters, probably Rice Hotel. Parade will be great. Faculty, twenty pretty debutantes, and several floats in University section of parade. Students and alumni also marching. Big dance and reception in evening. Rousing time expected. Sterling Myer, President Houston Alumni."

With this prospect in view, and the further prospect of seeing Varsity defeat the strongest team in the Southwest and Middle West, there is no doubt but that an unusually large number of students will take advantage of the low rates, and accompany the team to Houston on Monday, the 10th.

SENIOR HALLOWEEN PICTURES.

All seniors who desire pictures of the Halloween party may secure them from Frank Elliott, at the Cottage Studio, 109 West Ninth street.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

Maximum temperature, 65; minimum, 42; precipitation, none. Forecast for today: Fair and warmer.

From the very first the result of the election was in doubt. From the initial count when History 2 was found to be leading by five hundred majority with Physics 1, and Freshman Gym as its closest rivals, to the final count when "How to Use 'Em" lead Economics 1 by six hundred votes with Physics 1 and History 2 next in rank, the competition was close and exciting. After retaining its lead for the first week of the contest, Dr. Gutsch's course was at last nosed out by Economics 1, which in turn had to yield to the furious assault of the J. A.'s. But at no time was there a safe distance between any of the four or five leading courses.

The only really disappointing feature of the contest was the failure of the followers of his honor, Alexander Frederick Claire, to rally to the support of their representative contestant. These, however, instead of boosting Calculus as the hardest course in school, were content to decorate the walks and steps of the law building "Spook Night."

The final standing of the contesting courses is given below. As announced, only those ballots received before noon yesterday, were counted and the following list represents the official count of the contest:

Use of Law Books	13800
Economics 1	13200
Physics 1	10300
History 2	9700
Freshman Gym	3800
Calculus	2500
French 1	2100

Latin 104	800
Public Speaking 109	800
History 5	700

FOOTBALL MEN ON INJURY LIST.

Possibilities are That Barrell, Berry, and Goodman Will Not be in Southwestern Game.

Injuries have laid several of the men off the football team. Barrell is suffering with a bad ankle, and it is not known how soon he will be able to report for practice again. "Big Gene" Berry still has a lame shoulder. But he is rapidly getting into shape again. Goodman's ankle is still game. However, he is able to report for practice, and will soon be in first class condition.

Though the game with Southwestern will come Monday, it is not supposed that the team will be put to a very hard test. Hence, for the time being, there will be no necessity for those on the injured list to get into the game. It is hoped that all the men will be in good shape by the time the Longhorns meet the Sooners in the game at Houston.

The Kappa Alpha Theta sorority entertained yesterday afternoon with an informal tea in honor of Miss Besie Eilers who is to be married on November 5.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

H. Y. BENEDICT.

Y. W. C. A.

Mr. Glasgow, who has been conducting the chapel services for the past several days, will talk at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Monday afternoon at five o'clock.

Meeting of education department Monday at 2:30 in room 218.

PREPARATIONS FOR THANKSGIVING BALL ARE PROGRESSING

Committeemen are Busy Making Preparations for Entertainment. Many Novel Features Promised.

The preparations for the first annual Thanksgiving reception are going on smoothly. Mr. Russell is fortunate in having a corps of committeemen who are willing and capable workers, and no stone will be left unturned to make the affair the most entertaining and enjoyable one in the history of University functions.

The finance committee reports an excellent advance sale of tickets at the special $4 price, even though it is yet early for the students to interest themselves in Thanksgiving affairs.

The programs have been selected, and Mr. Jones was fortunate in securing a novelty in programs for the ladies that has never been used here before. The programs for the men are not only beautiful, but useful.

The decoration scheme for the hall has been decided upon, and they promise to be both novel and elaborate. A new and interesting cotillion will be introduced, and the favors for this feature are something quite different. A departure from the conventional will be found in the special stunts, which are under the direction of Teddy Reese, and those who know Mr. Reese can safely anticipate something amusing and entertaining.

It is expected that a large number of the alumni will return for this function, for many inquiries have been received from ex-students in regard to the plans for entertainment. Every sorority and fraternity house is expected its share of returning students, and preparations are being made to entertain great numbers.

The presence of these old students, the elaborate preparations that are being made, and the general holiday atmosphere that pervades a Thanksgiving function, augurs for one of the most successful receptions ever given by the University students.

THE PRESENT B. HALL.

Many of the B. Hall denizens have been there since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. D. E. McArthur, who is now 45 years old, came there in the spring of 1901 for the summer school. Since at that time there was no woman's building, the young ladies occupied the first floor; and dances were held on the fourth floor of old B. Hall, too.

Ed. Slaughter was one of the famous "light brigade" that charged old B. Hall so valiantly in 1906; but Ed. did not until the present session recover his courage sufficiently to enter B. Hall as a resident.

D. J. Brown, alias "Pennsylvania Brown," arrived from Pittsburgh safely in 1906. D. J. can tell you of the arrival of the "Braying Teddy" in the following year. He can also tell of many other heart rending scenes.

Neighbor Burrows, Teddy Reese, and John Bunyan Rhea arrived as real live freshmen the following year. These famous freshmen helped to kidnap Tom Henderson once upon a time, but soon discovered that they had made a bad job of it.

Jack Focht is probably the youngest engineer to be ground out. Jack is only 19, but will receive his degree this year. It is planned to give him a birthday party.

This year it was planned to exclude the frosh from the sacred portals of old B. Hall; but Dr. Benedict had compassion on them. Since there are some very rigid pledges, the frosh remain undisturbed. To be sure, they have been initiated into the "Anti-hazing Club," but they cannot be tossed from the fourth floor, "bounced," or even hung out of the windows to dry. The old-timers lament the fact that times are not as they used to be; and sulk around all day. Times are indeed dull. The Bible classes are about the most romantic activities now in B. Hall. The proctors rule with an iron hand.

Rev. J. W. Shuler, father of the pastor of the University Methodist church, will preach Sunday morning in the church named. At night, the pastor will preach a temperance sermon. Sunday school and league at regular hours. Shuler's Baracas meet in Y. M. C. A. promptly at 9:45.

Mr. T. O. Cheatham, '11, is attending school at Harvard this winter.

MARSHALL LOSES TO SCRUBS BY SCORE OF 20-0

San Antonio Team Did Not Show Up Especially Well Against the Sturdy Playing of Varsity Scrubs.

Mr. "Tex" Rasmdell and his bunch from the Marshall Training School, paid us a visit yesterday afternoon, and although his eleven were defeated by the Scrubs, 20 to 0, it was by no means an ignoble defeat. The San Antonio boys were "present" from start to finish.

Marshall Training School won the toss and chose to kick to the Scrubs who defended the south goal. The entire first quarter was devoted to punting from one side to the other, the ball being on M. T. S.'s forty-three-yard line with three yards to go when the whistle sounded.

The second quarter opened with a thirty-five-yard run by Nielson, who fumbled the ball on M. T. S.'s five-yard line. Scott recovered it. A moment later Scott kicked to the center of the field, the ball getting by Halbot. The Scrubs recovered the ball on their own thirty-five-yard line. By constant gains, the Scrubs carried the ball to Marshall's twenty-five-yard line, where runs by Nielson and Shelmire resulted in the first touchdown. Mayes kicked goal.

Rayland opened the second half by kicking ball over Texas' goal. Ball brought back to fifteen-yard line. Mayes kicked to center of field. An attempted forward pass, Rayland to E. Waits, failed. Scrubs held them for downs, and by consistent and long gains by backfield put the ball over for the second touchdown. Again Mayes kicked goal. A minute later, the last touchdown of the game was made by long end runs, and by a twenty-yard run for a touchdown by Shelmire.

The last quarter was made interesting by several long runs of Dudley, who relieved Shelmire at quarter.

For the Scrubs, Shelmire, Nielson, Halbot, and Mayes starred, while Scott, Rayland, and Gilmore played stellar ball for Marshall.

University students will be interested to learn of the approaching marriage of Dr. Chas. W. Stevenson, of Terrell, to Miss Gladys Grant, of Houston. Dr. Stevenson is a graduate of the State University and of the State Medical College at Galveston.

RUSK MEETS.

The Rusk Literary Society held their regular meeting last night. An interesting program followed by a spirited debate were features of the evening.

Miss Ruth Freeman, of Baylor, is a guest at the Phi Mu house.

Miss Elsie Desenberg has returned from Dallas where she has been the guest of Miss Esse Bromberg.

Miss Clara Chrisman, of Conroe, is spending the week end at the Theta house.

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity entertained with a delightful informal dance at their chapter house Friday evening.

Miss Elinor Baker has returned to the University after attending the wedding of her sister, Miss May Bird Baker, in Cuero.

Adrian Poole, of El Paso, passed through Austin, en route to Galveston. He was manager of B. Hall and founder of the P. E. C.'s (Poole's Election Club); leaving here in the spring of 1907.

The members of the faculty were unusually pleasant yesterday, considering that it was the day after Hallowe'en. Perhaps the pay checks did it.

At the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon there will be a talk on the subject of "Gambling." The subject sounds interesting. It will, no doubt attract a large audience from the boys.

The mid-term reports are now in the hands of the registrar. They will be given out within the next day or two. Meanwhile we await with much anxiety the grades that have been allotted to us by the professors—or, more appropriately put, the grades that we have made, not the ones that have been given us.

FROM OTHERS.

The University of Texas reports the adoption by the faculty of a constructive policy towards the fraternities. We sincerely hope that this means the end of frat trouble there. At the same time comes another report announcing Texas' destructive policy towards Sewanee, 13 to 7—Orange and White, University of Tennessee.

We approve of both.

On to Houston! The Longhorns have a hard row before them to defeat the Sooners. The decisive Oklahoma victory over the University of Kansas makes the Sooners look more formidable than ever. A victory by the Longhorns over Benny Owens' team would entitle the University of Texas to the highest ranking in football circles in the South and Southwest.

The student body of the University of Texas is now civilized. On Hallowe'en night the steps of the law building were decorated with the engineer emblems. In the days of old this would have been the incentive of a department rush. This time it passed away with nothing more exciting than a few swipes of the janitor's brush. We congratulate the members of both departments on their civilized conduct.

Two students in the University of Texas almost ready to graduate, failed last week in a test to tell who Connie Mack was. This is unpardonable. Every primary pupil from Bangor, Maine, to Bingville, Texas, ought to know all about Connie. We heard a little Mexican refugee exclaim, as he entered the United States the other day: "La pais de Con Mackie y jugo de uva."—Val Verde County Herald.

The View is indebted to the athletic association of the State University for a season ticket for "self and lady," to the various athletic contests in which they will engage during the season 1913-14. We appreciate the remembrance and will endeavor to take advantage of a portion of the meets.—Jarrell View.

"ALL TEXAS FEELS PROUD OF TEAM," SAYS DALLAS MAN

R. N. Watkin, President of Dallas Alumni, Thinks Speakers at Banquet Harped on Wrong Theme. Alumni Are Active.

The Texan is in receipt of the following interesting communications from R. N. Watkin, president of the Dallas alumni:

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28, 1913.

Editor The Texan, Austin, Texas.
Dear Sir: All Texas feels proud of the results of the Sewanee game. The alumni in Dallas feel sure that Texas will prove itself superior to any team in the South, not excluding Vanderbilt or any other.

Following the Texas-Sewanee game, a banquet was held in Dallas, which was a big success. I am enclosing a copy of a letter addressed to Dr. John A. Lomax which will bring out one point which I think should be considered at the next alumni banquet, whether in Dallas or in Austin. With best wishes, very truly yours,

ROBT. N. WATKIN.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28, 1913.

Prof. John A. Lomax, Austin, Texas.
Dear Sir: It was a privilege to be present at the banquet Saturday night and hear the speeches regarding the University and plans for the future success of the University.

Merely as a suggestion for future policy, I have something to offer. A great deal of the burden of the talks went to show on Saturday night that the alumni and friends of the University of Texas were neglecting her. This is the same kind of talk which has been used for several years.

One of the best ways to secure help and assistance for the University of Texas is to praise those who have already rendered service to this institution. It seems to me that this should be emphasized in all of the talks regarding the University and should not be overlooked.

Now I will not take time to mention any names in this letter of those who have not done their duty towards the University for doubtless there are very many of them, including the writer, but there are several who have done a great service for the University of Texas, but they have not received any attention at least not at any banquet I have attended lately. Not a single reference was made about those at the banquet Saturday night. Among such benefactors of the University are such men as Brackenridge, of San Antonio, then there are other names too familiar and coupled too much with the University to need any mention in this letter.

I notice that other colleges are always praising the assistance which is rendered them by the alumni and this causes others to feel like doing something for their alma mater as well. If Texas should take this attitude I believe it would be helpful, not because the alumni wish any praise for any little thing that they may have done, but just simply that an example for others to follow in their walk.

With best wishes,
Very truly yours,
ROBT. N. WATKIN,
President.

Is Main Building A Pool Hall?

Early arrivals on the campus Saturday morning were greeted with many reminders of Hallowe'en, and the customs that have made the night famous.

The pool table from the University Club was installed in the main building, near one entrance, and down at the other end of the corridor was a hay rake of doubtful origin. Various other farm implements were scattered about near the law building. Mr. Beck's wagon was gracing the steps of the woman's building, and suffered a smash-up in being removed.

Dr. Benedict's ducks had been transplanted to Beck Lake, and his prize roosters were staked out near the main building.

A large "For Rent" sign decorated the Chi Omega house, while one of Hailey & Vining's "For Sale" cards were swinging over the front door of the Kappa house.

Of course, the street cars came in for their share of the trouble, and aside from the annoyance of running over countless torpedoes, they were compelled to make frequent stops to remove gates and stray telephone poles from the tracks.

FRESHMEN TO PLAY ACADEMY.

Disch's Squad to Meet Austin Academy on Next Tuesday. Many Good Men Will Try Out.

The freshman football team will play Austin Academy on Clark Field Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Disch says that he has some of the best freshmen football players in the entire history of the institution. Prospects are good for a real stiff game.

In commenting further, Mr. Disch pointed out that Bass, Shelmire, Holliday, Mays, Thweatt, Lindsey, Dittmar, Dudley, and Hammond are already with either the scrubs or the first team.

Among the others who are reporting and who are likely material are: Collins and Hawthorne, halfbacks; Hill and Watson, quarters; Davis, Garth, and LeBaure, linemen. These are good men and ought to add much to the strength of the team.

GREGORY BACK.

T. W. Gregory, an alumnae member of the athletic council, and special prosecutor for the United States government in the anti-trust investigation was an enthusiastic rooter at the football game yesterday. He was formerly a resident of Austin, being in the law firm of Gregory, Batts & Brooks, and has always been a loyal University supporter.

Dallas Times Herald: The child of the common citizen of the state of Texas receives a little less than $7 per year from the state educational fund, while the "higher education" pupil is given a sum of something like $387 per annum. And still there is a clamor for more funds for higher education. There is really more need for funds for the common schools, as there are more common people to be educated.

Editor Gooch of the Times Herald and Editor Green of the Tyler Courier-Times ought to hold a reunion. Editor Green says the people are in a humor to abolish the University, and Editor Gooch says "the child of the common citizen" receives $7 per annum for education while the "higher education" contingent comes in for hundreds. Who is the "common citizen"? If he is the man who works for his living, then reflect that 90 per cent of the students at the State University are sons and daughters of men who depend now, or did depend in their active years, upon their own efforts for their families' sustenance. Is the so-called "common citizen" a farmer? Then consider that 80 per cent of the students at the State University are from farm homes. The sons of the "common citizen" may have access freely to the higher education in Texas, and they are taking advantage of it in increasing numbers year after year. To rage the University, the state's greatest free school, would be equivalent to taking higher education out of the reach of the poor and making it a privilege exclusively of the rich. It was that sort of thing that the public school system was designed to prevent, as long as institutions for the highest education are available to all classes of young citizens the class distinctions which have so long throttled parts of the old world will be impossible in this country. Would Editor Gooch and Editor Green have only millionaire's sons eligible for the boundless riches of a university education? Of course they wouldn't; but they do talk wild.—Dallas Daily News.

The students of the University will be sorry to learn that Miss Mary F. McAdams had recently suffered the loss of her mother.

LAW PLAN FOR BANQUET.

The law department met in call session yesterday to discuss plans for the annual banquet. It was decided to have the banquet on the Friday night before the last optional week, which will be December 5. The president was empowered to appoint appropriate committees for the carrying out of the plans for the feast.

A motion was passed that the president appoint the entire junior class as a committee to look into the matter of who painted the sign on the law building steps on the night previous. The sign aroused considerable indignation in the department as it consisted of "Texas Engineers '16."

CACTUS ANNOUNCEMENT.

Monday will be picture day on the campus. All the classes will be photographed for the Cactus, and every loyal student will be on hand to help out.

Following is the schedule:

Laws: Juniors, 10:30 a. m.; Mid-dlers, 11:30 a. m.

Engineers: Whenever the "Old Man" says. Notice will be given today.

Academics: On the steps of the woman's building: Juniors, 3:00 p. m.; Sophs, 3:30 p. m.; Freshmen, 4:00 p. m.

All pictures will be taken promptly on the hour.

Senior pictures MUST be in before Christmas. They will be accepted if taken by either The Elliotts or by Frank Elliott at the Cottage Studio. Both have caps and gowns.

MOORE AND MORRISON MADE
 FIRST FOOTBALL TEAM.

It is a fact not generally known that Moore and Morrison played on the first regular football team Texas ever put out—and it won the championship. Only the particular Moore and Morrison were not the members of the present firm of that name known to fame as makers of college men's clothes.

Moore, of that team, was Judge Victor Moore, of El Paso, who watched the Dallas game with keen delight. He is a brother of Arthur Moore—an older brother, Morrison has not visited the Varsity since his college days, but his performances on the field are still talked of by the old timers.

A picture of this team and in fact nearly all of the Texas teams to date are on display in Moore & Morrison's windows up town.
