Dear Curt:

Your letter of May 27 is most welcome. I am glad to hear that Ray went under medical care. It was the logical thing to do. If he works only a few hours a day that is enough. Better for him to work only 3 hours a day selectively than to work 15 hours a day and courting a collapse. Give him my warmest wishes.

I am glad you started looking into my manuscript. You were right in finding a large part of the manuscript missing. When I sent the manuscript to Ray years ago that part was being typed and could not be sent. It is now being typed and could not be sent. It is now being mailed to you by insured mail.

As to that article of mine entitled "Nomenclatural clarifications of the generic name Rastellum Faujas-Saint-Fond, 1799 1802?, the subgeneric name crist. Schlotheim, 1820, and the generic name Cristacites Schlotheim, 1823 (Bivalvia, Ostreidae)," I have not yet been able to shake it loose from Lankford, but have hopes of receiving it soon. I believe it should not be printed in small type, because that sort of procedure downgrades it immediately. Small type subconsciously signals to the reader: "Don't read 'on' This is unimportant".

Best Wishes,
Sincerely,
