OPENING PLAY OF DEVEREUX COMPANY SET FOR APRIL 12

Plays Illustrate Development of Modern Drama from Plautus to Ibsen.
Tickets On Sale Thursday.

Clifford Devereux and his company who will appear at the University of Texas on April 12, 13, and 14 are playing their fifth consecutive season with an established reputation for the artistic production and performance of the favorite comedies of Shakespeare and Goldsmith. Not content with resting on the laurels of past performances, Mr. Devereux is presenting this year a wholly new repertoire of six plays in historical sequence illustrating the development of modern drama from Plautus to Ibsen. Of the six plays all but one are pure comedies. The exception is the morality play, "Everyman," which is like all the dramas of the middle ages, religious in character, and rather sombre in tone. Even here, however, there are unmistakable touches of humor in characterization. "Everyman" has demonstrated too often its power of appeal to a modern audience to leave any question as to its popularity.

"The Fisherman's Rope" of Plautus will be a surprise to many who suppose that the classics are merely stiff and boring to the casual spectator. The Roman comedy is in fact very closely related to the earliest form of English comedy; the step from Plautus to Shakespeare, who borrowed largely from him in the "Comedy of Errors," is a very short one. Lively humor and plenty of action are the elements which will give the Roman comedy a continuous interest on the stage.

Shakespeare is represented by "Much Ado About Nothing," which ranks high among the comedies of his period of maturity. It is a comedy of character rather than of romantic interest, although the element of romance is present. We should call it today a melodrama. Realism of character portrayal has always been the basis of its appeal, and Beatrice and Benedick, the quarrelsome lovers, and Dogberry, the amateur magistrate and fountain head of solecisms, are perpetual favorites with Shakespeare lovers.

Moliere's "The Learned Ladies" is an excellent example of his satirical vein in its less bitter mood. It is a comedy of manner of the purest type, calling for exquisite acting. Moliere was invariably at his best in satire, and the daintiness as well as the penetration of his wit is admirably registered in this play. The "blue stocking" and her affected culture is an eternal subject of satire, and never more so than today, but no one has ever equalled Moliere in depicting it.

Mr. Devereux's policy of producing plays with the fullest respect for the integrity of the text, giving every part its due importance without regard for any star system, will be in force this year. A well balanced company is his ideal, and his performances this season are notable for that quality. It is his policy to demonstrate that the highest educational value and the highest degree of popular enjoyment are possible at one time. A new scenic outfit, designed to obviate the limitations of halls and auditoriums imperfectly equipped for stage production, is an important addition to his working efficiency this year.

Another addition to the scheme of making the classics of dramatic literature thoroughly enjoyable is the lecture work of Mr. Will Hutchins, a well known stage director and critic of art and the drama, who is appearing one week ahead of each performance to give public lectures on the plays and their production in the light of the literature and life of the periods represented. This work is adding greatly to the appreciation of audiences, and marks a step forward in the work of building up co-operation between the professional actor and the educator.

Tickets will go on sale Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the corridor of the Main building.

GARLAND DAY WINS E. P. WILMOT PRIZE

Winner of University Oratorical Contest Is Awarded $25 in Freshman Declamation Contest.

First place in the Freshman declamation contest, held last night at the Law Auditorium, was awarded to Garland Day of Dallas. The winning speech was "World's Progress and Peace," by R. P. Winter. Second place was won by Louis Hexter, also of Dallas. Both Day and Hexter represented the Speakers' Club.

Dr. Shurter, who announced the decision of the judges, gave it as his opinion that this was the best contest in Freshman declamation ever held in the University; that it was uniformly a good contest. He also made some announcements as to the debates to be held in the near future.

Judges in the contest were Dr. M. R. Gutsch, Judge Tarlton, Dr. Jewett, and Dr. Shurter. First place in the contest carried with it a prize of $25 offered by Dr. E. P. Wilmot. The winner of this contest was also winner of the University Oratorical contest held sometime ago.

CHI PHI'S BEAT S. A. E.'S 20 TO 12

Result Produces Tie in Inter-Fraternity Basketball League—Championship Game Wednesday.

The Chi Phi came back strong last night and even up the series with the S. A. E.'s by a score of 20 to 12. It was a fight from start to finish. The S. A. E.'s started off strong and scored five points while the Chi Phi were scoring one. Then two long field goals by Miller and Martin evened up the score. Taylor then threw a foul. At this juncture the Chi Phi changed their line-up, and threw three goals in quick succession. The score at the end of the first half was 11 to 6 in favor of the Chi Phi. Both teams came back strong in the second half, and when the whistle blew the score was 20 to 12 in favor of the Chi Phi. Miller of the Chi Phi team was easily the star of the game, making ten of the Chi Phi's points. The line-up for the game was: Chi Phi, forwards, Miller and Johnson; center, Holman; guards, Martin and Trask; Collier, substitute. S. A. E., forwards, Taylor and Harding; center, Smith; guards, Boynton and McCullough. Goals scored, Miller, Holman 2, Collier 1, Martin 1, Taylor 2, Boynton 1, Harding 1; fouls, Martin 1, Johnson 1, Taylor 4.

The final game to determine the inter-fraternity championship will be played at the men's gym Wednesday at 7 p. m.

AGGIES WIN ANOTHER

Daniel Baker College Swamped By Fast Farmer Machine—Heavy Hitting Features Contest.

Special to the Texan.

College Station, Texas, April 2.—A. & M. trampled all over Daniel Baker here this afternoon by the score of 16 to 2. The Farmers slammed the pill to all corners of the lot, making twelve hits, including a home run, three three-baggers, and two two-base hits. Loose fielding on the part of the visitors and the heavy hitting of the A. & M. boys made victory possible.

ORR ELECTED CAPTAIN.

C. L. Orr, a Junior Engineer and member of this year's wrestling team was yesterday afternoon chosen as captain of the team for next year. Orr was the unanimous choice of all the members of this year's team. He did not take up wrestling until his Sophomore year, but has developed very rapidly. Although outweighed several pounds and pitted against an experienced man, Orr wrestled Captain Rhinehart of the Oklahoma A. & M. team to a draw in the match that was recently held at Stillwater, Oklahoma.

JUNIORS CREATE PRECEDENT FOR FUTURE CLASSES

Junior Class First in America to Have Special Junior Sermon. Currie Preaches.

The University has established a precedent. To the Junior class is due the honor of being the first Junior class in any large university of America to have a regular Junior sermon. In other words, not another Junior class of any university of the first-class has a sermon preached especially to its Junior class. The officers of the class decided in making plans for Junior Week to do something unusual, not thinking at the time, however, that they were establishing a precedent.

In the absence of President Vinson, who had been asked to deliver the address, Mr. T. W. Currie filled the position. The services were held in the Auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning, and were attended by practically all of the Junior class and a large number of Seniors and undergraduates, besides a few residents of Austin. The meeting was presided over by Mr. John Weeks, and the singing was led by Mr. R. E. Tedford. An excellent violin solo was rendered by Miss Myrtis Watkins, and Miss Maud Slaughter pleased the audience with a vocal solo. Mr. King delivered the invocation.

In an able manner, Mr. Currie talked for forty-five minutes to the "rising Senior class" on the subject, "The Real Task of Religion, Clarifying of the Vision of Men With Reference to Deity." The speaker's main thought was that the world needed Christian people who could be leaders, and he pleaded with the Juniors to hold themselves up to that ideal and to strive to attain that which the world expects of the educated man.

Man, he said, has had the veil that hides the Deity from his view lifted a few times, and at such times the world has seen great leaders come forth. The first time that this veil was lifted was by Abraham, but the people wandered off into sin, and the Deity was shut out from man's view until Christ came into the world. Since Christ's death, such men as Robert Morrison, David Livingstone, and Mr. Moffett have received a glimpse through the veil, and have become world leaders. Mr. Currie pointed out to those present the calling of India, Africa, Japan, China, and America, with their countless millions for leadership. It behooves us to wake up to our opportunities, and to help supply these needed leaders.

At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Currie offered the benediction. The following program was rendered:

Invocation, Mr. King.
Violin solo, Miss Myrtis Watkins.
Vocal solo, Miss Maud Slaughter.
Sermon, Rev. T. W. Currie.
Benediction, Rev. T. W. Currie.

ENGINEERS PLAN TO ORGANIZE COMPANY FOR SERVICE IN U. S. ARMY

In event of declaration of war, the Engineering Department is going to organize a company of engineers for the army. The Engineering Corps is one of the highest branches of the army, and the commissioned officers must have their degrees in Engineering. However, all men in the department will be eligible to join the company, and even men from other departments can be taken.

An attempt will be made to make this strictly a Texas Engineer company, admitting only students in good standing in the "Old Man's" school of surveyors, bridge builders and road contractors. All persons interested should see J. V. Matejka or C. S. Glazbrook in regard to particulars.

RECEIPTS OF BAYLOR GAME.

Director of Athletics Belmont reports that only $40 in cash were taken in at the Baylor game last Saturday. This amount, together with the receipts from the coupon books, will barely pay expenses.

DANIEL'S FUND GROWS.

Much interest has been shown in the foreign mission work represented by the Daniel's Fund. Old magazines and papers are being collected and sold by some enterprising students as a means of increasing their allowance. This means is now being used by Miss Decherd's Sunday School class. A chairman has been appointed to see to the collecting of all the old magazines and newspapers possible to sell, in order that more money might be obtained to increase the amount of the Daniel's Fund. It is thought that this plan will not only aid financially, but will also create interest by giving every member an opportunity to help.

CLERK CLOCK AT THE CO-OP.

One of the latest novelties in the Co-Op is a clerk clock, that checks up on the clerks working there. The clock was installed at the beginning of the spring term, and cost about $200.

Each clerk in the Co-op has a number, and when his time to go on duty comes around, he goes to the machine and punches the number, thus registering the exact hour and minute that he "goes on" and is to stop.

This is a splendid device for the manager to check up on his force, and also for the men to check on each other. There is no chance for "fudging," but every minute is counted.

SAVING WASTE PAPER.

Owing to the high cost of living, and particularly to the constant rise in the price of paper, the Co-op has started a movement to save paper. The waste paper that was once burned is now being saved and sold. A bale of paper is saved at the Co-Op a day, and this paper is sold to a local merchant here in Austin. The small revenue gotten from the paper goes back into the profits of the Co-Op.

FACULTY PLEDGES AID TO PRESIDENT IN PRESENT CRISIS

Telegram Is Sent to Woodrow Wilson Promising Loyal Support to Government During Crisis.

Telegrams stating that the faculty of the University of Texas pledges its loyal support to the government at this critical moment to uphold the dignity, honor and self-respect of the nation were sent yesterday to President Wilson, United States Senators Culberson and Sheppard and Congressman J. P. Buchanan. They were sent as a result of a meeting of the faculty, and are in keeping with action taken by other universities throughout the country. The telegram sent to President Wilson is as follows:

Austin, Tex., April 2, 1917.
President Woodrow Wilson,
Washington, D. C.

Reposing confidence in your good judgment, the faculty of the University of Texas unanimously passed a resolution pledging its loyal support in whatever step you take at this critical moment to uphold the dignity, honor, and self-respect of the nation.

G. C. BUTTE,
J. F. ROYSTER,
E. C. H. BANTEL, Committee.

RED CROSS SEEKS STUDENT MEMBERS

Effort Will Be Made to Secure a Thousand Austin and University Members.

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday will be Red Cross days in Austin. A patriotic effort is to be made to obtain at least a thousand Austin and University members of this humanitarian society. The organization calls for at least a million members in the country to support its hospitals, nurses, and doctors. America can do what other nations have done.

University classes will be visited by members of the student group taking instruction in first-aid to the injured today and tomorrow to put information in regard to the service of the Red Cross before the University public. A committee, dressed in the official uniform of the society, will furnish membership application blanks in the corridor of the Main Building and in the Woman's Study Hall.

By the payment of a small membership fee—one dollar—you have a chance to support your government in its greatest humanitarian work. No field service is required of members; no obligation is assumed to do anything you do not want to do. One dollar and your support go a long way toward this organization for helping humanity in times of great crises. The Red Cross reports to Congress; its accounts are audited by the War Department; all that it does is open to public scrutiny.

Y. W. C. A.

At the Monday vesper service, Miss Anne Aynesworth led the devotional and Miss Grace Whitsett furnished the musical number.

Miss Casis gave a helpful talk on taking advantage of the opportunities for service about us. In this service each girl definitely relates herself to the association as a whole, realizing any small task well done is of infinite value. Because of this she cannot afford to slump on a single occasion. Miss Casis said, for success we must believe in one another, co-operate with one another, have faith in one another. We must work willingly with the additional "plus" so necessary.

AIRTIGHT PITCHING BY LEFTY THOMAS WINS FOR TEXAS

T. C. U. Unable to Hit Texas Flinger, and Meets Defeat By a Score 2 to 1.

By Ed Angly.

Before a crowd of fifteen hundred people, a young man dexterously rode a bicycle around a little white sphere, popularly known as a baseball, on Clark Field yesterday afternoon. And thereby hangs this tale:

The little white sphere had been lammed out in the environs of the Longhorn pen down at the southwest corner of Clark Field by slugging "Red" English, after two men were down in the sixth inning of a baseball game between the Texas Longhorns and the T. C. U. Horned Frogs, the score at that time being a deadlock, 1 to 1. The hit looked good for a double, but when it rebounded from the right field fence, the above-mentioned young man got his bicycle in the path of the pellet and circled it twice, making it impossible for the Christian's fly-catcher to pick it up and return it until English had reached the third cushion. After a confab in the center of the diamond, play was resumed and English came trotting home with the winning run, when Port-wheeler Lee cut loose with a wild pitch. That ended the scoring of the game, both teams having tallied a run in the opening inning.

The game yesterday was as pretty a pitchers' battle as has been waged on Clark Field in recent seasons. Disch sent Milton Thomas to the mound for the locals, and the left-hander turned in a card showing but two measly singles garnered off his delivery, and eleven strike-outs to his credit. Opposing Thomas was the sinister-sided Horned Frog, Lee. And he proved almost as adept at fooling batters as the Longhorn hurler. Five hits were slammed out by Longhorn batsmen, two of them were triples, but they were scattered over as many innings. He struck out nine men, and walked but two. The Longhorns did not hit his offerings hard, not a put-out being made by a Christian outfielder.

T. C. U. got the jump on the home-ings in the initial stanza. McKee, the first man up, rapped a pretty single over second base. The diminutive guardian of the keystone has-sook stole second and third bases, and came home when Joe Secor muffed Hart's peg to second to catch Vaughn, who was attempting to pilfer that bag.

The Christians outplayed the locals in the field, putting up an errorless

Benedict Accuses Blunderbuss of Misrepresentation

Some April fool jokes can get by, but others are followed by grievances and solemn shakes of the head. An individual answering to the feminine characteristics ambled into Dean Benedict's office and found the discipline committee sitting on a serious question.

The creature, with the reporter's thirst for news, concealed herself behind the waste paper basket. The atmosphere was equal to Poe's "Quoth the Raven." In this conclave of superior minds Dean Benedict made an assertion accompanied by wind-mill gestures that he had neither cut nor combed his hair, as was stated in that yellow sheet, "The Blunderbuss." He rambled on in his accustomed way, as if he were addressing his Math. 1 class, until he felt the pressing necessity of a grand finale, since his associates were displaying symptoms of drowsiness. He stated that there were two reasons why he had never followed the policy as given in the paper; first, because it gave him less jaw to wash, and secondly, that he had once attempted such a thing, but had not been recognized for a solid week.

KEEP COOL.

In this time of international crisis we, as students, should refrain at all times from participating in useless discussions that tend to arouse the sympathetic comments of some in our midst who are more or less partisan. There is no time for play. We students should respect the will of those who have the future of this nation in their control. We should stand willing to answer the call when needed, but at the same time our anxiety to show our willingness should not overcome our better judgment in the matter. There is no time for arguments as to which of the belligerents are right. We are still Americans, supposedly, and as Americans, we should respect the judgment of those in authority. Keep cool, and refrain from unnecessary comment that can do no good, and which, if prolonged, might do harm.

VISION, FAITH, COURAGE.

No young man can hope to build a great life who does not possess the three above named elements or powers. The power of vision puts a young man in among the many. He sees things in a clear light, his imagination is heightened, his soul is lifted up and inspired. Faith in one's

Diamond Dust

By D. & R.

The northern zephyrs chilled various players as well as Col. A. M. Prater's rooting energy.

The "Hep, hep, hep, whoa" offerings of the Texas rooters were rewarded with numerous broad grins and air-tight pitching on the part of Lee.

"Peanuts" McKee was the original get-on man, pushing out a safety in self enables him to venture forth to the accomplishment of his vision. Faith in God nerves his soul to do and to dare. Nothing so saps one's fighting power as the apprehension that he is sure to fail. Courage to reject the motto, "Safety First" and to substitute "Duty First" is another essential to success. One should be bold to enlist in a great cause, and be firm in its maintenance. Give Texas more young men of vision, faith, and courage, and we shall astonish the world with our achievements.

The re-election of Champ Clark as Speaker of the House shows that our delegated representatives have, in some instances, ignored party lines for the benefit of harmony. Surely we can eliminate our useless talk concerning our likes and dislikes for the various nations now waging the greatest war the world has ever known.

Clifford Devereux and his troop of players will be with us again this year, presenting four plays for the approval of the Shakespearean period. Every English student will attend and others will profit by doing likewise.

"Lefty" Thomas deserved a shut-out yesterday, and his adversary, another port-sider was not far behind when it came to retiring the boys by the strike-out route.

You can't wonder that the Christians are so goo. Another Texas alumnus is serving as coach. Everyone remembers "Big" Daniels, both on the baseball and football field. He is welcomed in Austin any time, either in the capacity of coach or private citizen.

the first, getting hit, and walking. A slide into second bag, while he was in process of making the lone T. C. U. tally, procured a base-runner for him in subsequent frames.

Two outs and a grounder to Fernandez always equals nine benchward bound Longhorns.

"Red" English brought the stands to their feet by two electrifying stabs of sure hits to his garden. Incidentally the auburn-haired one poked a red-topped triple to right field.

Bobby Cannon played a stellar game in the territory he holds down, besides contributing another triple to his already mounting batting average.

"Lefty" quickly became acclimated to the cold weather, and had the Horned Frogs eating out of his hand. He kept the opposing hits well scattered, and deserved a shut-out.

Lamar Hart continues to lead the club in the art of swat. By singling once yesterday out of his three trips to the plate, the former back-stop made his average for the year .437.

Cannon and Fernandez had a beautiful run and hit play started in the second inning, but a first baseman from North Texas ruined it.

COLLEGE NOTES

Nathaniel Jacks, Editor
Lawrence Rhea, Assistant.

Correll School.

Correll will open the Summer School this year with the largest enrollment that the University has ever had.
There will be 240 courses and 152 teachers to teach them. This is an increase of 88 courses over last year's Summer.

Quartermaster's Course.

Arrangements are being made the School of Business Training at Harvard to give courses for preparing men for service in the Quartermaster's Corps of the Army. The instruction is to be given to those men who hold commissions in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Letters have also been sent out to all alumni who have knowledge of this work, especially as it concerns war supplies.

Colgate's Varsity.

Colgate is particularly fortunate as to her baseball prospects this year.
Every man except one who was on last year's squad, has returned, and, although this one was one of the star pitchers, others have been discovered.
In all, eleven of last year's letter men returned.

Spring Practice.

Spring practice will soon start for the big teams in the East. Harvard has issued the call for football players to start practice on April 10. In the event of war there will be no spring practice at Harvard, however.

Teaching Chinese.

Michigan is to inaugurate a new course in foreign languages. It is the intent of the University Chinese Club to give this course in order to fit students graduating for work in riculum.

Students to Vote.

A bill has passed both House and the Senate of Ohio permitting students at college to vote. According to this bill the election for students is to take place at the various colleges and universities on the day before the regular election, and will be in charge of a member of the Board of Deputy State Election Supervisors. The votes will then be sent to the homes of the students in order that they may be counted in their proper districts.

Dogs Know Where to Rest.

Even the dogs at the University of Iowa know where to seek their refuge.
The Daily Iowan tells of a tired bull pup who remained in peace all day at the foot of the flag pole, resting under Old Glory.

Student Marksmanship.

The students at Syracuse University showed themselves more able to defend their country than the faculty.
In a recent meet between student and faculty members, the students outshot the faculty by 767 to 708.

Stars Are Married.

Even the stars are married, so says a professor of Astronomy at the University of Minnesota. But the stars resa Martin will spend a few days this week with friends in San Antonio.

The University of Texas Dames entertained their young people at the beautiful home of Mrs. A. Brundett in Aldridge Place. Mr. Cavinish of the University Cash Store donated the cakes. Every one who was there had a fine time. The University of Texas Dames is a woman's club, made up of the mothers, who are in Austin, while their children are attending the University. This club gives a social for the young people every month.

one respect in their matrimonial relations. There has never been a divorce in Starland, in spite of the fact that some of the stars have been married for millions of years. The scarcity of marriages among the stars during the last few millions of years is due to the high cost of living, accord-exhibition. There were no star fielding features, the game being uninteresting except for the pretty battle which the two hurlers were staging. The same teams will meet again today at 4 o'clock. Vaughn, the hard-hitting first baseman, or Willie will probably go to the mound for the visitors. Disch expects to start Brooks Henderson for the Longhorns. Sellars Thomas will be ready to go to the mound at any time, if Henderson weakens.
