Class Reunions Will Bring Old-Timers Back to Campus

By FRANKIE BARNES

All year the campus has belonged to the students of today, but during the class reunions of the Round-Up the campus and the University itself will belong to the students of yesterday. The old timers will take the place of youthful students in the corridors of the buildings and on the walks and paths all over the campus. This year there will be special reunions for three groups of classes. The classes of '88, '89, '90, '91, '07, '08, '09, '10, '26, '27, '28 and '29 will hold reunions, said John McCurdy, secretary of the ex-students Association. This system of four consecutive classes holding reunions at the same time is known as the Dix plan.

Unity of Chinese Means Downfall for Japan-Timm

Lecturer Relates Basic History, Comments On Boycott

By LOIS ODOM

"Japan's real aim seems to be to keep China from becoming westernized and uniting her people," C. A. Timm, associate professor of government, said in a talk to the International Relations Club Thursday night. "If China with her immense population is ever successful in uniting her forces, it will almost inevitably result in Japan's becoming a second or third-rate power in the East," he added.

Mr. Timm declared that the invasion of China seemed to have been due to a blunder in the military and naval camps of Japan. The army and navy commanders did not expect the resistance they met with.

Manchuria Is Motive "Japan's chief motive lies in taking Manchuria, which has rich resources and fertile soil."

Mr. Timm gave a survey of the history of the conflict between China and Japan, and of geographical and historical background of the two countries. He commented upon the remarkable efficacy of the Chinese boycott, which shows the seriousness with which the average Chinese regards the conflict. He remarked that the Chinese resistance of the Japanese invasion has been marvelous.

"If the United States had entered the League of Nations at the proper time, we should be able to do more in the present crisis," Mr. Timm asserted. "Japan's resources are being rapidly exhausted; she feels it necessary to expand in China. No country in the world is faced with such an economic problem as that with which Japan is faced."

"It is not probable that Russia will interfere in the present crisis unless Japan invades North Manchuria. Popular opinion in the United States seems to be almost universally in favor of China. Japan violated the Nine-Power Treaty and the Peace Pact. China violated treaties which she was forced to sign. Students in China are leading the way into a new era of Chinese nationalism," he declared.

"A military solution of the problem is not a solution the rest of the world is likely to applaud. It is merely a show of brute force that has no reference to justice." In the business meeting which preceded Mr. Timm's talk, the club adopted a newly-drafted constitution.

The deadline for art material for this issue has been set for March 1. Written materials will be due on or before March 5. Cox has issued a special call for contributions.

The feature of the issue will be drawn by Bubbi Jensen and the cover will be by Cox.

Austin Commission Part Of Nation-wide Move For Employment

Sixteen unemployed were given work Thursday through the efforts of the Austin Employment Commission, working under the auspices of Travis Post No. 76 of the American Legion with the cooperation of civic organizations, A. M. Gribble, head of the commission, announced yesterday. This brings the total of Austin unemployed given work by the campaign to 41, thirteen jobs having been filled Wednesday and twelve Tuesday.

The commission works as a part of a nation-wide United Action for Employment Campaign. Up until noon Wednesday 78,076 jobs had been found for unemployed all over the nation during the campaign, according to a telegram from Mark T. McKee, national director of the drive in New York.

Bellmont, director of physical training for men in the University and chairman of the local committee, stated, Dr. Frank Jewett, head of the Texas Bible Chair, spoke at the University Baptist Church concerning this campaign Wednesday night. The Lion's Club was addressed by Mr. Bellmont Thursday on the same subject. Seventy-five letters have been sent to prominent business men of Austin by J. W. Ezelle, president of the Chamber of Commerce, asking them to attend a meeting at 7:45 o'clock tonight to discuss the unemployment situation here in Austin, Mr. Bellmont said.

There are 10,800 towns and cities in the United States which have organized in this great movement for unemployment relief. The slogan of the campaign is "a million jobs for a million unemployed," Mr. Bellmont said. Hundreds of newspapers throughout the country have allied in their attempts to relieve the situation. William L. McGill, manager of the Texas Student Publications, said that The Daily Texan will co-operate in giving publicity to the campaign.

The jobs which are given through the Austin Employment Commission are varied in quality and labor required. Everything from sales jobs to piano tuning has been given, Mr. Gribble said.

Epidemic of Flu Shows Decrease, Gilbert Reports

Only Twelve Students Now In Hospitals; Number Has Reached 45

'Not Worst Form'

Amount of Illness Around Campus About Normal, Doctor Explains

The worst of the flu epidemic which has been felt on the University campus during the past few weeks is past, Dr. Joe Gilbert, chief of the University Health Service, announced Thursday. Only twelve students are now in the hospitals, whereas there have been as many as 45 or 50 ill at one time during the last several weeks, Dr. Gilbert explained.

"The flu has been of a minor form and not nearly so widespread as in many other cities in Texas," he declared.

Several thousand cases have been reported in some of the larger Texas cities, particularly in Dallas. The amount of illness among University students, whether from flu or other causes, has about reached normal, and with clear weather all the flu patients will recover within a few days, Dr. Gilbert added.

The flu epidemic has swept the northern part of the country for the past several weeks, striking the University campus about February 1. During the first two weeks of the epidemic here the University Health Service treated about three hundred cases, Dr. Gilbert said.

The type was not the serious kind prevalent during the World War, he explained.

Author Praises Rostand's Play, Scheduled Here

Critic Was Rommate Of Walter Hampden In College Days

"Nothing has ever happened in my lifetime that has thrilled as many people as did the opening of Edmond Rostand's drama of 'Cyrano de Bergerac' in Paris a third of a century ago," Clayton Hamilton, lecturer and author of dramatic criticisms, said Thursday in a talk at the Y. M. C. A. "We have had several wars and assassinations during my life, and nothing has been so eventful as the opening of Rostand's wonderful play," Hamilton said.

People living at the present time read and enjoy the plays of Shakespeare and the people of a thousand years hence will read and enjoy 'Cyrano de Bergerac,' he declared.

Success Phenomenal

When 'Cyrano de Bergerac' was first acted on the stage in Paris, the world was shocked by its success the next day, Hamilton said. The wire received in New York told of how a young poet of 29, who was practically unknown out of France, had launched the greatest drama of all time, he related. Mr. Hamilton believes the drama was the greatest one since the time of Shakespeare.

During his college life Hamilton roomed with Walter Hampden, who has presented his portrayal of 'Cyrano de Bergerac' more than seven hundred times and has begun a tour which will terminate on the Pacific coast. The play will be presented at Gregory Gymnasium on Tuesday, March 1, under the auspices of the Amateur Choral Club of Austin. Mr. Hampden has also played Shakespeare's dramas many times, but none will be presented in Austin.

Clayton Meeker Hamilton, who lectured at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday is the author of the following books which are found in the Main Library of the University: "Manual of the Art of Fiction," "On the Trail of Stevenson," "Problems of the Playwright," "Seen on the Stage," "Materials and Methods of Fiction," and "Theory of the Theater and Other Principles of Dramatic Criticism."

Other books of Mr. Hamilton's, but which the University does not have in the library, are as follows: "Conversations on Contemporary Drama," and "Wanderings."

Mr. Hamilton edited "Representative Plays" by Henry Arthur Jones. "Plays" by Richard Brinsley Butler Sheridan, and "Treasure Island" by Robert Louis Stevenson. He is co-author with Bernard Voigt of "Friend Indeed," a comedy in three acts. He collaborated with Albert Ellisworth Thomas on "Better Understanding," "Big Idea," and "Thirty Days," all three-act plays.

Penitentiary terms of five and seven years were given Charles and Calvin White, respectively, when they were found guilty in the Fifty-third District Court Wednesday afternoon of the armed holdup of a University student and his companion on the night of November 9.

Volunteer Workers Criticize Headlines

Criticisms were made of various types of headlines, and practice in headline writing was given at the meeting of The Daily Texan training class of volunteer reporters Thursday.

Those who failed to report to the class are privileged to meet with the second group, which will meet Monday, February 28, in Hall 301. The meeting will be held Monday, instead of Wednesday, because of the holiday. Mary Lee Weston, associate editor of The Daily Texan, has charge of the class.

To Replace West Walk

The Architecture Building is to be situated west of the Main Library and south of the west walk. Dirt removed by excavating for this building is being placed just north of the excavation. This dirt will raise the grade between the west side of the campus and the west end of Main Building. It is planned to raise the west walk and replace it with two walks similar to those in front of Main Building. As soon as the general excavation is complete, work will begin on digging holes for pier footings, after which concrete will be poured in them.

At present fencing is being constructed around the site of the Auditorium for convenience of the workmen and safety of the students. The office for the work is practically complete now.

In preparation for the Union Building only relaying of water main has been done. The sites for this structure and the Physics Building have been staked out, but it is not definitely known when excavation for these two buildings will be started. Neither is it definitely known at what time razing of the north wing of Main Building will be started.

Several blasts of dynamite were used in excavating for the valve room for the Men's Dormitory yesterday. This room is to house apparatus for controlling heat in the dormitory. Work has been started on digging pier footings, and it is expected that this will be completed by the end of the week.

The only progress toward work on the Geology Building has been the cutting down of trees and the staking out of the corners of the site for the structure.

Hijackers Get Pen Sentences

Brothers Found Guilty Of Student Holdup

Penitentiary terms of five and seven years were given Charles and Calvin White, respectively, when they were found guilty in the Fifty-third District Court Wednesday afternoon of the armed holdup of a University student and his companion on the night of November 9.

A separate indictment was returned against Charles and Calvin White, James Franklin, and Howard Armstrong for the theft of Voigt's automobile, valued at $800, which was taken at the time of the robbery.

The major portion of the hour was used for a detailed explanation of grammatical structure of Esperanto.

100 STEER THINLY CLADS WORK OUT DAILY

Tracksters Face Poor Weather Conditions For Work

Approximately one hundred Varsity and freshman track aspirants are working out daily at Texas Memorial Stadium in preparation for the Southwest Conference meet, which is held the latter part of May. Inclement weather, however, has reduced the intense schedule outlined by Coach Littlefield, but work-outs under the stadium proper are inserted during such weather.

Among the leading contenders for the coveted "T" on the Varsity squad are Edgar Meyer, who is developing into a quarter mile runner and dash man, and who won his award last spring by virtue of a position on the mile relay team; Adolph Schiller, diminutive half-mile runner, and member of the 1931 relay team; and H. S. "Oochie" Earle, track man of ability from Waco. Earle is showing excellent early season form, says Coach Littlefield.

Holmes Out
Others striving for a position on the squad are Joe Holmes, hurdler; George Adams, half-miler; Captain Hill Hodges, javelin; and Edmond Blitch, quarter miler. L. L. Blakeney and O'Neal Archer will represent the squad and the University in the distance races, while Levin Hyneman is displaying excellent form in the pole vault. The squad will miss the services of Osborne Hodges, freshman football star and brother of Captain Hill Hodges, who has not sufficiently recovered from a leg injury received during the past football season.

Outstanding on the freshman squad are Granger and Greenlee, both of whom are high jump prospects; Edwards, hurdler; and Darby, quarter miler. Intra-squad competition is held each Saturday afternoon between members of Varsity and freshman teams. The first scheduled meet will be held March 26 when the Abilene Christian College team comes to this city. Stiff competition is expected from these West Texas tracksters. A few members of the Varsity squad will see service at an earlier date, however, during the Fat Stock Show meet, March 4 to 13 in Fort Worth.

Sharpe McCullough and Bill Terrill, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, are going to San Antonio this weekend.

Boxing Entry Date Set For Saturday

Entries in the intramural boxing tournament will close Saturday, February 27, and the tournament will begin Thursday, March 3. The ability of the men who have been turning out for training guarantees some good bouts during the Fite Nite program, March 11, at which the final fight will be held.

A number of punch bag enthusiasts have been turning out for the training periods held at 7:30 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, in Gregory Gymnasium. The instruction which is given during these periods by Marty Karow enables the men to get in condition for the tournament.

The physical fitness of all men entering must be approved by a representative of the intramural office. Tryouts for all men not approved will be held on Monday, February 29.

Unlike the other intramural tournaments, the boxing and wrestling tournaments will not be conducted in divisions, and only tournament points will be awarded toward the All-Year Trophy. The intramural champion of each weight will be awarded the intramural medal. Each organization is entitled to as many entries as it wishes.

FRESHMEN PLAY HOCKEY

Six teams, selected from the freshman women's sport classes, will play in a hockey tournament to be held Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the sports field.

All freshman girls in the classes are eligible. Lillian Watts, team sports manager, said Thursday. The winners will receive awards at the "T" Banquet, to be given in May.

means an excellent exhibition of form and grace.

C. I. A. Swimmers To Battle With Texas Coeds

A telegraphic swimming meet between the Triton Club of C. I. A. and the Turtle Club of the University will be held Wednesday night, March 16, from 7 until 8 o'clock, Virginia Nalle, leader of Turtle Club, has announced.

Four 25 yard races will take place. These races will include free style swimming, side stroke, back stroke, and breast stroke. A relay race of 100 yards will be made in laps of 25 yards. Life saving will also be included in the meet with races demonstrating the cross-chest carry and the tired swimmers carry.

Each contestant may enter two events and the relay. Four girls from each school will enter in every event. The scores of the best two participants will be recorded and exchanged by special delivery.

Members of Turtle Club should begin practicing immediately, Miss Nalle said. Due to the holiday March 2, there will be no meeting of the club next week. The next meeting will take place Wednesday night, March 9.

Barlow Maintains First Place In Squash Meet

The squash tournament under the direction of Berry M. Whitaker, director of intramural athletics for men, is holding the interest of the squash players of the University according to reports posted from the intramural office.

Ed Barlow defeated Wayne Jones to maintain his position in first place, which he has held since the tournament started. Earlier in the week Jones defeated Barlow.

Play during the past week gave the following results: Mitchell Mazur won from Loyd B. Keel; Wayne Jones defeated Seymour Mantel; Bob Manley defeated Joe Bryant; Jones defeated Ed Barlow, and Collier Noguess defeated Mantel.

"The tournament is an open challenge squash tournament, and any boy or man, whether student or faculty member, of the University may enter by submitting his name at the intramural office," Mr. Whitaker said. "The tournament is being held to encourage participation among the better players and to give every player an opportunity to match his skill with the best in the University."

Mr. Whitaker said that the complete results of the games, the names of the players challenged, and the ranking of the participants, are posted on the bulletin board in the basement of Gregory Gym.
