RESOLUTION FROM MIDDLE LAW CLASS.

Whereas, the Almighty Father, in accordance with his own divine plan, has taken from our midst Ramon A. Hume, our friend and classmate, and

Whereas, Ramon's connection with the Middle Law Class of the University of Texas, has been attended with such earnestness and marked devotion; his fellowship with his classmates characterized with such sincerity, that we have learned to love him as a true friend, and

Whereas, he has so distinguished himself by his untiring devotion to every task imposed upon him as a student, that we, his classmates, entertained for him the highest respect and admiration,

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that we the members of the Middle Law Class of the University of Texas, take this means of expressing our sorrow at the death of our beloved classmate, recognizing in this sad event the class has lost a faithful student and each of his classmates an earnest friend; be it further Resolved, that we, his classmates, tender the bereaved family our sincere sympathy in their great sorrow; that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them, and that copies be furnished the State Press and the University publications.

STUDENTS COUNCIL HOLD INITIAL MEETING

QUESTION OF HAZING AT THE UNIVERSITY DISCUSSED.

STUDENTS ASSAIL IT

The initial meeting of the Student's Council was held in the Regent's room, on Wednesday afternoon. In response to a call by President Mezes, most of the old members of the last year's Council with the officers of the new one and the Deans of the different departments in the University, met in room 49 at 4 o'clock.

Pres. Mezes called the meeting to order and in a few words explained its purpose. Definite action was to be taken upon hazing in the University.

The President stated the difference in college fun and hazing as he saw it, and complimented the students upon the decrease of the latter in our school during the last few years. But, because some hazing was still indulged in, and because the faculty were desirous of placing the control of student affairs in the hand of the student body, the University authorities invited the support of the students.

Prof. Sutton supplemented Pres. Mezes' talk by stating, that the abolition of hazing was in the hands of the students themselves; the faculty did not wish to interfere. He pointed out the evils resulting from hazing, showing that the indignities thus practiced, destroyed true college spirit, and hurt the reputation of our school. He said that already many parents refused to send their children to school here because of the fear of hazing. "This must never do," he concluded, "hazing has been abandoned in all the great colleges, and Texas must step in line."

A paper, signed by 600 students of the University, pledging themselves not to engage or assist in any class rush in any of the University buildings, was shown and commented upon, in the meeting.

The paper was gotten up last year, practically all the men students in school signing it and binding themselves to the following pledge:

"We, the undersigned students, do hereby voluntarily agree, that we will not engage in any class rush in any of the University buildings where classes are held, nor aid or abet in the same; nor interfere with any class meeting held in the said buildings. We further agree to use no loud or vociferous language in any class room.

VARSITY SQUAD DEFEATS TEXAS SCHOOL

FOR THE DEAF IN PRACTICE SCRIMMAGE—FEATURES WERE SNAPPY GAME OF T. S. D. BOYS AND LOOSE

PLAYING OF VARSITY

The Varsity squad had a practice scrimmage Saturday, with the T. S. D., the features of which was the snappy work of the T. S. D. team.

Their speed was a noticeable contrast to that of the Varsity squad. Evidently the Varsity squad has not forgotten their weaknesses of last year and the sluggish playing was inexcusable. The offense at times, was good and then again was bad. The men showed they knew how to interfere when they wanted to, but kept lapsing into listless work altogether too often. The line charged slow and the light T. S. D. got the jump on our big men every time. For some reason or other every man was waiting for someone else to do the work. If a tackle was to be made, or a fumbled ball, there was usually some hesitation and a T. S. D. man would dive under the Varsity men and secure the ball.

We have the material for a team that ought to be up to the best standards of former teams. So it is up to the men on the field who are competing for the honor of representing Texas on the gridiron, to see that no team can outclass them in speed and endurance. Texas has a reputation to sustain, but every man on the squad must realize it is up to him individually, to play faster ball than his opponents.

Several of the freshman candidates showed up even better than the old Varsity candidates, and unless the old men play up to their limit, some of the new men are likely to displace them. Also, the work of the scrub team was in contrast to that of the Varsity. The men, though outweighed, showed a fighting spirit, that is the most essential quality for a team to have and the grit they showed, was a good example for some of the Varsity men to follow. Cullom, Battersby, Mike Hogg, Soule Moore, Phillips, Darter, Horton, S. H. Kennard, Kelleher, Morgan and Massingil are men who will make the Varsity squad men hustle to hold their places.

The game next Saturday, with Southwestern, is the opening game, and the result of last year's contest with the Georgetown eleven shows that Texas has got to play the hardest and fastest kind of football to successfully meet the trained Georgetown bunch. As it is, the opening game everyone should come out and help root.

No team, no matter how good, can win without the whole-hearted support of the student body. Be sure to get behind the team at the start and stay behind the whole season. Never knock, but keep boosting all the time.

Manager Krah! wants to remind everyone of the game at Dallas, on the 16th. The "Katy" has put on a rate of one-half the fare one way for the round trip. The train leaves mid-night, Friday, and leaves Dallas, Sunday. Haskell has practically the same team that beat A. & M.

FRESHMEN CLASS HOLD FIRST MEETING

DEAN BATTLE PRESIDES—REGISTRAR WILLIAMS ACTS AS SECRETARY—PERFECT ORDER PREVAILS.

MEACHUM IS PRESIDENT

The perfect decorum which characterized the meeting of the University freshmen today established unquestionably the fact that the student body is a well disciplined army, and that the restraint is imposed not from without, but by the students themselves. The meeting was called for the purpose of electing class officers, and to be addressed by Dean Battle. Whatever degree of boisterousness may have characterized previous meetings of the sort, there was nothing objectionable in the meeting held today. Last year seven hundred of the University men voluntarily pledged themselves to abolish all class rushes, and Texas men and women have a way of keeping their word. No University in the land can boast of more satisfactory discipline.

As president pro tem, Dean Battle called the meeting to order. In behalf of the University, he extended the freshmen a cordial welcome, and for about thirty minutes he held their close attention with his address whose prominent characteristics were conciseness, practicality, and earnestness. At the outset, Dean Battle said, that the University has as its highest function the training of leaders for Texas, calling attention to the fact that the State appropriates considerable sums of money in order that its sons and daughters may enter life well equipped. He said, "Privilege implies responsibility. To you the State is generous, and in return it expects much of you. You will do well to observe the French motto, 'Noblesse oblige.' Nobility demands it. Upon you is incumbent honorable conduct and faithful discharge of duty. You are no longer high school boys and girls; you are University men and women. We grant you perfect freedom; but freedom suggests caution. You are here primarily to study, and yet I commend heartily to you daily recreation, and on one day in the week total cessation from all work. 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.' I know this sounds very much like a sermon, but I am claiming the same privilege used so freely by Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, and would-be-president Bryan. In all things be honest; the liar is despised by all men. You will find that many times University life will try your integrity. Finally, remember that the faculty are all your friends and that at any fit time they stand ready to serve you."

Election of Class Officers.

After Dean Battle's speech, with unusually well chosen words, Mr. Edward Dougherty nominated for the presidency, of the freshman class, Mr. Winfred W. Meachum, of Anderson, Texas. Amidst great enthusiasm, Mr. Meachum was unanimously elected and conducted by Mr. Dougherty to the platform where he made an efficient executive for the remainder of the meeting. Miss Francis Jalonica was chosen vice-president. Mr. Claude E. Hill was given unanimous election as secretary-treasurer of the class. Mr. William Neblett, Jr., of Anderson, was made sergeant-at-arms. It is a significant fact, that all three of the men elected to office are graduates of the Ford School. The freshmen class of this year is a splendid body of promising young men and women who will doubtless achieve distinction in their University careers.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL.

The first meeting of the Athletic Council was held Thursday afternoon, and the plans for the coming year discussed. A rally for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm in Women's Athletics will be held in the Woman's Gymnasium, on the night of October the ninth, and already, there are rumors afloat concerning a Halloween party which will surpass even last year's memorable affair.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSO-CIATION.

The Bible study campaign which started last Sunday afternoon, in the Young Men's Christian Association, will continue until the policy of the committee is accomplished.

This calls for an enrollment of 700 men and as that number was reached last year, the same will be expected this year, then some more.

Prof. John H. Keen, of the Department of Philosophy, gave a strong address on "Why and How a College man should study the Bible," and as a result, but few men present, failed to sign up for one of the courses approved by the Association.

Further word will be given concerning this feature as space allows.

FOOTBALL RALLY FRIDAY NIGHT.

The first football rally of the season will be held in the auditorium, at 8 o'clock, next Friday night. A yell leader will be elected and following the songs and yells will be practiced until all of the men become quite proficient.

Inasmuch as the opening game will be played on the day following, with Southwestern, it is expected, that a large body of students will attend the rally. The presence of everyone is desired, because a rooters' gang must be organized to offset the noise of the Georgetown Methodists.

After much discussion as to officers, the Sophomore Academic Class which has just graduated from its Freshman days, held its first election on Saturday.

The following were chosen: President, Thornton Hardie, El Paso; Vice-President, Lucile Borden, Corpus Christi; Secretary, H. J. Harris, Austin; Sergeant-at-Arms, J. A.
Rucker, Temple; Member of Students' Council, H. W. G. Chandler, Plano.

WHERE DO YOU STAND?

On Saturday, of this week, an aggregation of some five hundred pegged trousers will journey from Georgetown, with Southwestern team, to witness the game between Texas and the Methodist University, of Georgetown. Regrettably do we recall the defeat which that team handed us last season. They departed in highest glee while we, with heads bowed, shamefully admitted our defeat. They are returning this year, so they say, to repeat the same noble achievement. As things now stand we are unprepared to say, that they will not. We do state, however, that if the student body will lend their efforts toward certain ends, the aggregation headed by their band, will march away keeping step to that ever appropriate selection, "The world's turned up side down."

Texas might have the heaviest, the strongest, the swiftest and best trained team in her history, and then be defeated. However well their duty may be done, the lack of interest, and sufficient appreciation on the part of the student body, will "gum" the entire season. Draper, with his men of the gridiron, is working overtime, but a student body, whose duty is as clearly defined, is sitting by, manifesting no concern and prophesying discouragingly, as to the outcome of the season.

It seems never to have occurred, that their duty is as specific as is the duty of Draper and the squad. They forget, that we are all members of the same great organization, and we are fighting ultimately, for the supremacy of Texas.

There is no dearth of good material, which barely knows where Clark Field lies. Scores of heavy men who are as strong as bulls, are students here, yet some of them believe it beneath their benighted dignity to don the mole skin and enter the scrimmage—can't win a place of distinction! Of course you can't, until you have made an effort. President Mezes and the faculty will see that the University is properly conducted from four until six in the afternoons, if you have the grit to excuse yourself, from the corridors, and enter the arena. What if you don't win a place? You do give the team superb training and contribute to our victories. Why not, then, every big man from this time on, crowd into a suit and fight like a lion at bay? If you owe any duty to the University, that is one of them.

In addition, there will be a football rally in the auditorium, on next Friday night.

It is evident, that a person, who is physically unable to play, is peculiarly fitted for yelling. It is useless to say, that frequently, when otherwise a game would be lost, the cheers, yells and songs, of an enthusiastic student body, inspire a team so greatly, that they win against heavy odds. Especially should every University man attend this rally, because by beginning at the opening of the season in that way, we will be in high spirits all down the line. But to begin with a drag, means a drag until Thanksgiving—why not, then, every male student, from freshman to past graduate, be present on Friday night, and play his role in the rally—it is your duty—will you do it?

Attending rallies and participating in the scrimmages, are not the only things. The games are coming and spectators must be present.
Evidently, most students will attend the games, but there is a certain per cent, commonly classed as grinds, who spend their time behind closed doors, in the unceasing task of grinding. To be a student, is commendable. To be a grind, is deplorable. Put aside your class room worries for two hours, to witness a good game, thereby signifying your interest in the Varsity and her team. Every University student is wanted on Clark Field, at every football game played there this season. What sort of a team do you expect, when you deny it your patronage? For them to practice three hours a day, through two months, occurs to you as being nothing, but for you to refuse to attend the games, occurs to them, as being a lack of interest on your part, and discourages them in their work.

The Alumni of Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth Galveston, and in fact, every place in and out of Texas, are manifesting the deepest concern, about this year's football prospects. At a banquet, recently given in Houston, the Alumni appealed to the active students to line up with the team and to give their support unsparringly for this season. The banquet given Coach Draper, by the Austin Alumni, evidenced the same feeling. These fellows have pledged their support, financially, and otherwise. In Houston, for the A. & M. game, the Alumni, have, for weeks, been making elaborate preparations. Reserved seats for 8800 persons have been secured and then standing room for thousands of others. They have arranged to entertain in honor of the University people. This is what the Alumni, persons who are not active students, are doing for us, yet some think the team and Athletic Association should deem it a favor, for them to attend a game, to say nothing of joining the rooters gang or participating in the scrimmage.

The greatest form of amusement indulged in by some is, that of knocking the team. If they make an error, some fellow yells "rotten;" if they fail in a forward pass, some body else screams "punk;" thus the word passes along the grand stand.

At last, if you have confidence in that team, and if you want them to win, manifest your interest, by rooting and attending the games. When luck goes against the fellows, show them that it hurts you and that you still believe in them. If you are a knocker, stay away from the game, keep your head closed, join the "nutters" association and then bury yourself. Nobody wants to see you about this University.

You must be either a Knocker, or a Booster. You can't be on the fence. Show your colors! Line up! Boost!

IN MATRICULATING.

Who of us failed to see Dr. Griffith at his duty in the door of Room 44 last week? And some of us were eager to say goodbye to him! witness—the timid little freshman girl of modest step and mein, having given them the ordeal of sectionizing, started again—as they all do—back towards Dr. Griffith's door. As usual when she was near upon him Dr Griffith waved his hand slightly, saying softly "other door please," whereupon the shy Miss mistaking his wave and not hearing his words clasps his hand in a heartily appreciative handshake of goodbye.

The Freshman boy walked in to consult Dean Battle, forgetting to doff his hat. Whereat our Dean does with a smile attempt to call the young fellow's attention to that fact, by patting his own head, keeping his eye clear on the boy at the time—the freshman notes the Dean's head, nods his smiles, says "uh, hu," and then laughs sympathetically at Dean Battle—well he tries other methods for removing freshmen hats!

Yes, Mr. Hale had a sectionizing table and was about to assign the young lady an English section. "Have you any preference," he asked. Only one boon the freshman craved and that "to escape that Mr. Hale." I have been trained by a friend of mine who suffered him in English to "Avoid Charybois." "And who was this friend," asks the flushing professor. "You'll tell him." "No I'll give you my word I'll not tell Mr. Hale or reveal your friend in any way"—Well then I'll tell you—"It was ————" It was a fair trade and the freshman was put in the kind care of Mr. Hill.

ENGINEERS ORGANIZE
AND ELECT OFFICERS.

The three upper classes of the Engineering Department met in different rooms of their building, Monday afternoon, and effected organization. Very little business was taken up except the election of officers for the present term. The Sophomores appointed a committee to prepare resolutions of regret at the death of J. H. Skinner, which happened during the past summer.

The officers elected are as follows: Seniors-President, W. W. Hol-len, of Austin; Vice-President, H. L.
Justiss, Paris; Secretary-Treasurer, E. E. Pendleton, Temple; Sergeant-at-Arms, R. A. Wood, Belton. Juniors-President, G. H. Brush, Austin; Vice-President, C. G. Smith, Waco; Secretary-Treasurer, Crow Brothers, Henderson; Sergeant-at-Arms, W. H.
Geary, San Marcos. Sophomores-President, F. W. Denison, Temple; Vice-President, E. K. Rowe, Dallas; Secretary-Treasurer, K. G. Howard, Devine; Sergeant-at-Arms, L. H. Cullom, Dallas.

For the Department H. M. Miller, Ballinger, was elected President; G.
E. Schultz, of Houston, Vice-President
N. N. Lacy, of Marble Falls, Secretary; and J. P. Estill of Grapevine, Sergeant-at-Arms. G. M. Thomas, of Temple, was elected Department representative in the Athletic Council.
The most important office of all—that of the Presidency of the Engineers' Annual Reception—was conferred upon Mark Hannah of Paris.

DR. LAW WRITES AN ARTICLE.

The President is in receipt of a letter from the editor of Key, the publication of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity, asking for pictures to be used in illustrating an article on the University, written by Dr. Robert A. Law. The editor states that the article will appear on the first page of the magazine, and prophesies that it will be read all over the United States. This is quite a compliment to both Dr. Law and the University to have an article given a place so prominent.

After the meeting had adjourned, President Towne Young, of the new Council, called a meeting of the council present, and immediate action was taken upon the matter in hand.

Copies of the pledged names were ordered to be posted on the bulletin boards in each department, and The Texan reporter was advised to inform the student body of the Council's actions.

And we hereby pledge ourselves to use our influence to see that the above is kept in good faith."

It is generally believed in University circles, that hazing is becoming a thing of the past, and the student body is to be commended for the efforts to suppress such indignities, that accompany this form of amusement. When the reputation of our school is at stake and the attendance upon it hindered, the students should rise to meet the situation.

Hazing must be abolished in the University, and abolition is entirely in the hands of the students. It is to be hoped, that every Varsity loving student will use his influence in the year just begun, to promote true college spirit and suppress all forms of rowdiness.

Young Women's Christian Association Prospering.

Monday's meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was in charge of the Bible study committee and was very largely attended, 155 girls being present. Ten new names were added to the membership list.

Since the main purpose of this, the second meeting of the Association, was to encourage systematic Bible study among the women students, the program was rather short. Dr. Mather gave a "chatty," but very forcible talk on the importance of Bible study from a literary as well as religious standpoint, after which many of the few not already enrolled in classes, registered in either church or University Bible-classes. Mrs. Morris, accompanied by Miss Well-er, sang "Teach me Thy Way," and which was a decided treat to all. Following Mrs. Morris's solo, were a prayer led by Miss Anna Roe, announcements by Miss Aden, and several songs by the Association.

All joined in the Lord's Prayer at the close of the meeting.

PROMPT DELIVERY.

On time every time is well nigh a motto with us. Whatever day and hour we set for the delivery of your washing, that day and hour you will get it. We have no thought of doing anything but the best laundry work possible, none of returning it except as promised. It will take many a long day's search to find a better laundry than this.

Europe has already seen evidences of plum-colored frock coats and morning coats, white hats and evening dress coats with colored facings, but the latest suggestion is knee breeches with evening dress. Austinites are very good dressers, but according to Moore & Morrison they are satisfied with American fashions for the present.

RAMON A. HUME.

On Thursday last, the spirit of Ramon Armistead Hume sought the sphere of nobler and more exalted duties; the soul of him whom we have learned to love as a true and cheerful companion; the soul from whose depths emanated the highest principles of chivalrous Southern manhood. And now, in return for earthly accomplishment, he enjoys the blessings of a heavenly reward.

Ramon Hume was born in Galveston, October 21st, 1887. The son of a learned parent, he was naturally endowed with the marked qualities of mentality that have made Major Hume one of the foremost of East Texas barristers. His early childhood was spent on Galveston Island and then the family removed to Houston, where now a host of young friends mourn the sad bereavement.

After completing the grammar school course of study, young Hume was enrolled at the Bellview High School in Virginia. In the varied activities of preparatory school life, he not only figured prominently, but was the recognized leader. He was ever known as an athlete, student, good fellow, and as such he was hailed, respected, and loved.

It was last year when our friend first became affiliated with this University, and in so short a time, he had an established prestige. In the class rooms of the Law Department, he evidenced his scholarly attainments. On the baseball field, he made known his athletic prowess. And among the student body at large, he was acknowledged socially. For this young man, a prospering future was insured, if earnest endeavor is a certain guaranty of success.

In the premature demise of Ramon Hume, the University has lost an upright and high-principled scholar, his friends a bon companion, and his fraternity, a dear brother.

MIDDLE LAWS ELECT CLASS OFFICERS.

The Middle Law Class had its first meeting this year, last Saturday, Oct. 2. The class organized by electing the following officers for this term: V. W. Taylor, President; J. Y. Powell, Vice-President; and C. F. Cable, Secretary-Treasurer. The election of other officers was postponed until the next meeting, which is to be held in a very short time. The nomination of two men for the Students' Council was also laid over to another day.

Much enthusiasm prevailed; strong speeches were made; and the Law building echoed with the cheering. The class is still the largest in the Law Department, and, as one member of the faculty has said, the loudest as well.

PRESIDENT MEZES GONE EAST AND NORTH.

President Mezes, accompanied by Mrs. Mezes, left the latter part of last week for an extended visit to the North and East, which will probably cover a period of three weeks.

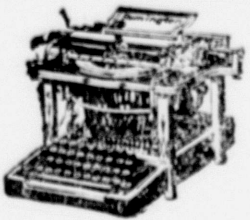

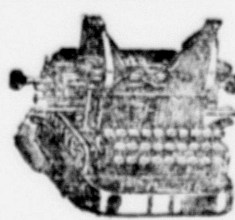

President Mezes represents the University at the inauguration of Harvard's new President, Dr. Lowell, which takes place this week, but many other functions have been planned in connection therewith, which will consume the greater part of the week.

On Friday of this week, the Fourteenth Annual Convention of the National Association of State Universities convenes at Cambridge. President Mezes also represents the University at that meeting. It is a representative association of all of the state universities, and very elaborate program has been prepared.

Dr. Mezes will possibly attend the inauguration of the new President of Dartmouth College, at Hanover, Mass before returning to Texas. He will also spend a few days in New York City.

The idea of Dr. Mezes is, that if Texas University would always have representatives at these affairs in the North and East, she would command a greater representation when she asked it. In both ways the University would be more extensively advertised.
