'VARSITY WINS AT WACO

'Varsity Defeats the Baylor Football Team at Waco
by a Score of 23 to 0.

Last Tuesday the University defeated Baylor in a well played game. While the result was anticipated, it was nevertheless joyfully received, when it became definitely known. Owing to the delay of a telegram, we have not secured a write-up of the game. The following short notice of it in the Baylor Lariat will probably prove of interest:

"Baylor has played her critical game and now knows her position in Southern football. Although we had some hopes of holding Texas a closer game, yet we did not expect to beat them.

Coach Thompson of the State team summed the situation up when he said Baylor did as good work as any 150-pound team could expect to do against such odds, and that no 150-pound team could beat his aggregation. That the State plays a good scientific game of football must be admitted by every one, but they earned every score that they made against the Baylor team. At no point of the game was it a walkover for Texas; more than once they were held for downs and more than once forced to kick the ball.

The game from start to finish was fast and spectacular, abounding in end runs and kicking, which made it very exciting. Baylor was unfortunate, she having three of her strongest men laid out during the first half, which weakened the team to some extent.

The line-up was as follows:

State.	Positions.	Baylor.
	Center.	Lester.
Cathings.	Right guard.	Gantt.
Prendergast.	Left tackle.	Garrett.
McMahan, (Capt.)	Right tackle.	Batson.
James.	Right end.	Pierce.
Hyde	Left End.	King.
Brown.	Quarterback.	McCreary.
Watson.	Left half back.	McCollum.
McMahan.	Right half back.	Fisher.
Leslie.	Full back.	Moore.
Bewley.

CACTUS BOARD MEETS.

At a meeting of the Cactus editorial staff last Saturday afternoon Mr. Frank T. West was unanimously elected editor in chief for the present session.

Mr. Benefield was then elected secretary of the board. We are informed by Mr. West that it was agreed by all that they thought the Cactus should be published earlier in the year, and that the board resolved to commence its work immediately.

MEETING OF ATHLETIC COUNCIL.

The Athletic Council was called to order on October 31 by Dr. Mezes. Those present were Dr. Mezes, Judge Townes, Dr. Benedict, Jno. W. Brady, C. H. Miller, J. M. Taylor, S. F. Leslie, Clinton Brown, and Randon Porter.

The following officers were elected for the season of 1901-1902: Dr. Mezes, chairman; Judge Townes, treasurer; Randon Porter, secretary; Dr. Mezes and Dr. Benedict, managing committee.

Manager Taylor's report on the games with Baylor, A. & M., and Oklahoma was read. On the Baylor game a loss of $6 was incurred; on the game with A. & M. a profit of $103.05, and on the Oklahoma game a loss of $134.20.

At Manager Taylor's suggestion, W. E. McMahon was elected to assist the manager in his work.

The council here gives notice that only members of the Athletic Association are allowed to use the tennis courts. If you are not a member of the Athletic Association, and desire to use the tennis courts, turn over your library deposit to the manager or assistant manager of the football team.

CACTUS EDITORIAL STAFF ELECTED.

Pursuant to the call of President Taylor, the Athletic Association met last Wednesday night for the purpose of electing an editorial staff of the Cactus.

The object of the meeting having been stated by Mr. Taylor, Mr. Moore made a motion that each man sign his ballot, and then remain in the hall to answer to his name when it should be called. This motion was carried.

When nominations were declared in order, the following twenty-four nominees were placed in nomination; Frank T. West, E. E. Bewley, W. T. Boyd, J. Barry Benefield, J. M. Newsome, Thomas Fletcher, I. J. Curtsinger, E. Crane, C. N. Campbell, Clinton Brown, J. S. Bardin, S. Neathery, Misses Laura Williamson, Minnie Pettey, Edith Clark, and Laura Rose, Mr. E. T. Moore, Jr., S. C. Audrain, E. E. Witt, A. S. Kramer, Ed. Connor, A. A. Cother, H. W. Key, and P. C. Burney.

After nominations had closed, Mr. Hatchett moved that a committee of eight, four from each faction, be appointed for the purpose of taking and counting the ballots. This motion carried, and work began.

During the count everyone was held in the greatest anxiety, for it was seen that it was to be the closest race in the history of the University.

When the final count was made, it was seen that the twelve editors were to be the following persons:

Misses Laura Williamson and Edith Clark, the former of Paris, and the latter of Austin; E. T. Moore, Jr., Austin; W. T. Boyd, Columbus; C. N. Campbell, Houston; Frank T. West, Waco; Ed. Connor, Dallas; E. E. Witt, Bartlett; J. M. Newsome, Fort Worth; H. W. Key, Austin; Thomas Fletcher, Houston, and J. Barry Benefield, of Jefferson.

It should be stated in justice to Mr. Bardin that his vote was 192, the same as that of Mr. Benefield. The tie was settled in the "Biblical" way of choice by "luck," and Mr. Benefield won.

FINAL BALL ELECTION.

At a mass meeting of the friends of Mr. Geo. S. Wright and such others as chose to come, a president of the Final Ball was elected last Monday night.

Prof. Shurter called the meeting to order, and declared nominations for chairman of the meeting was the next order of business. Mr. Borden then placed Mayor Brown in nomination for the position of chairman. He was unanimously elected.

Nominations for Final Ball president, 1901-'02 being in order Mr. Allen in a few well chosen words placed the name of Mr. Geo. S. Wright before the house. He set forth the qualifications of Mr. Wright in a forcible manner. Mr. Dibrell seconded Mr. Wright's nomination, and he was unanimously elected, there being not a dissenting vote cast.

After Mr. Wright's election he was called on for a speech, and he responded in one of his strong characteristic speeches.

Some resolutions were then introduced by Mr. Powell, and read. Their adoption was moved by Mr. Randolph and seconded by Mr. Files. They were unanimously adopted.

TENNIS NOTICE.

Sign for courts in the hall of the chemical laboratory. The court must be signed for on the day on which it is to be used.

SCIENCE GIVEN BY THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS.

The library has become generally recognized as an important part of the educational system of the country. In consequence the librarian's occupation is now considered a profession, and special preparation is necessary. The University, true to its policy of advancing education along all lines, is offering a course in library science. The aim will be to cover the more important phases of library work thoroughly, rather than to undertake the more extended courses offered in the various library schools. The library staff has been strengthened by the addition of Miss Wandell, a graduate of the library school of the University of Illinois, who will devote considerable time to this class, cataloguing being emphasized. Maturity of mind and general habits of study are to be especially desired in this work, and as the instruction is largely technical a good general education is necessary. The class this year will be limited in number, and no entrance examination will be required. Students who show the best preparation and general fitness for this work will have first consideration. In order that this may be ascertained it will be necessary that all non-resident applicants send with their applications a full and plain statement of their qualifications for this work.

The only charges will be the annual fee of $10, a library fee of $1, and a deposit of $4, which will be returned at the end of the year, less the amount of any fines or damages for books lost or injured. Expenses for supplies and text-books will not exceed $10. Students taking this course will be allowed remuneration for their services to the extent of the matriculation fee of $10, when they shall have become sufficiently trained. The course of instruction will be along the lines followed in the leading library schools, and will include selection of books, ordering, accessioning, classifying, cataloguing, bibliography and reference work; and will be supplemented by a course of collateral reading, so that students may become familiar with the history of the library movement in this country, and with methods other than those employed in the University library. As proficiency can be attained only by experience, each student will be required to work six hours a week in the various departments of the library under the direction of the members of the library staff.

The course will begin November 11, 1901, and will end with the college year, June 11, 1902. Certificates will be granted to those students who satisfactorily complete the course. As the announcement of this course has been unavoidably delayed, students who intend to enter should make immediate application. Address all communications to Benjamin Wyche, Librarian.

WM. L. PRATHER, President.

The above announcement of the course in library science should interest a great many of the students. Even though you may not care to make a librarian of yourself, still there are other advantages which will accrue from the taking of this new course.

Many students do not know how to use a library. They do not know where they can find the books they desire to read. After they find them they do not use them to the best advantage, for they do not understand the best method of finding in the book what they desire to know.

The study of library science should cure all these deficiencies and it is to be hoped that there will develop a general interest in this course.

The following interview and editorial comment will prove of interest to the students. It is needless for us to say that the sentiments therein expressed have our hearty approval:

"Senator Joseph W. Bailey in a recent interview, when speaking of why he intended to place his sons in the University of Texas, says: 'I shall do this because I believe they will meet there the men who will be the most important in the future life of the State. They will make acquaintances in that university, which is not deficient in any respect as an educator, who will be of more value to them in their lives as citizens of Texas than any they would meet elsewhere. One of the great advantages of a university education is the associations which are formed in college life. There is no stronger bond than that which exists between the men of the same university, the members of the same college fraternity, and the chums of the same class.'"

Commenting upon this interview, the San Antonio Express says: "Mr. Bailey undoubtedly has the right idea as to the advantage of a home education, especially for young men who expect to continue to live in the State and to engage in business or public life. It is the most natural thing in the world for a man who has business to entrust to a lawyer or other professional men in another part of the State to think first of one whose acquaintance at school had ripened into friendship. If in later years the graduate of the university should be seeking political preferment from the State at large, or even from one of the districts, there would be no question of the value of his associations at the university or finishing school of his own State, and the hundreds of friends he made there and who were afterwards distributed throughout all the localities from which the aspirant for political honors desired influential support. Senator Bailey is politician enough to understand this, and it may be that he intends that his sons shall follow in his footsteps and become statesmen. But his point in favor of the home school is well taken, whether that be the purpose or whether a business career has been mapped out for them."

The treatment accorded our boys by the Baylor people is worthy of the greatest commendation, and the same should, and we feel sure will, be appreciated by all of our students.

It is the testimony of all who have been seen, that went on the team that they were never more courteously treated in their lives.

There is no reason why the very best of feeling should not exist between Baylor and our own university, and we hope to see the former strained relations wiped out.

We are glad that Baylor has pushed athletics to the front, and we wish to congratulate her upon the good showing she has made. While she has not now the championship in Southern football, still she has done remarkably well, with a team that is the first in her history.

Long live the football spirit at Baylor!

As a result of the Texas game:

To the Vanquished.

No more are ye laurel-crowned,
In sore defeat ye bite the dust,
No victors vaunt rends now the air,
Go down, the Fates decreed ye must.

Yet why should ye crestfallen be?
Ye nobly faught, ye did the best!
The odds were 'gainst ye in the fray,
They conquer not, mere honors wrest!

Though glad their shout, your sorry plight
Belongs to the oblivious past;
Lament not what was lost. Look up!
Ye stood them bravely to the last.

The meed which triumph brings departs,
Shouts die upon the autumn air,
The golden luster soon is dimmed
And time corrodes the fair.

The future yet unsung for you
Hold a thousand hopes in store
Your faces, flint-like set, doth mark,
Ye will go down no more.

—J. M. D.

The attraction at the Hancock opera house Saturday night will be the first representation in this city of that much talked of farce, "A Stranger in a Strange Land," which won great success during its ten weeks' run at the Manhattan Theater, New York. It is described as a roaring, frolicking farce on the same lines as "My Friend From India," "Why Smith Left Home," "The Man From Mexico," and "What Happened to Jones." Managers Thall and Kennedy promise a strong company. The play is from the pen of Sidney Wilmer and Walter Vincent. The production for the coming week is identical as to scenery and every appointment with the New York engagement.

Frank T. West is editor-in-chief of the Cactus this year.

J. W. Claywell spent Saturday, Sunday, and Wednesday in the Alamo City.

T. J. Palm has been elected to the position of student assistant in engineering.

Our football team expects to leave on its western tour about the 12th of this month.

The University of Nashville defeated Sewanee by an overwhelming score last Saturday.

The Senior Law Class has taken up the subject of partnership under Judge Gould as instructor.

There is to be a football game with the soldiers from Fort Clark some time during the present week.

Chester Bryan, who was with us for about ten days, left for his home in Houston last Saturday morning.

Lewis Maverick, an alumnus of the Law Department of the University was here on a visit to his friends last Wednesday.

The union revival services at the tent seem to be well attended by the student body. All who can will find it profitable to attend these meetings.

Mr. Budley Fisher left last Saturday morning for Houston, where he expects to attend the entertainment given by the grand Grau Opera Company.

The Athenaeum Society held its regular meeting last Saturday night, and a reasonably large crowd was present. We hope to see the crowds continue to enlarge.

The University Tennis Association has arranged a local tournament for next month. Tennis is very popular here. The eight courts on the campus are in almost constant use.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Bess Stephens and Mr. Ned Lanham. Miss Stephens was at one time a popular student in the University of Texas.

The crowds in the corridors have greatly diminished this week, owing to the fact that the political races are over. The general good feeling which seems to exist can not be too highly praised.

Graham & Andrews,

Druggists.

Students, did you know that Mrs. White, of the Elite Café, will furnish you the nicest bouquets or dinners in town? Try her, at 911 Congress avenue.

The production of "Florodora" at the opera house last Thursday night was a drawing card to many of the students. They all came away feeling that they had spent their time and money profitably.

Mr. Dabney White, of Tyler, a student in the Law Department of the University during the session of 1893-'94 was in the corridors last Tuesday. He was the business manager of the first Cactus that was published.

The Junior Laws are having a hard time just at present. They have two quizzes a day, one in the morning under Judge Lewis, the other in the afternoon under Quizzer Burford. The examination in Blackstone is to be on the 16th inst.

Professor D. F. Houston visited the High School at Waco during the past week. This school is on the affiliated list with the University, and Professor Houston's report to the committee of its work and equipment will be a favorable one.

Royall G. Smith, a graduate of the law school last year, visited Austin last Saturday on business. While here he, of course, visited his friends at the University. Mr. Smith is president of the law class of 1901, which has a permanent organization.

Dr. E. Green, professor of history in the University of Illinois, is here visiting Professor Houston and Dr. Mezes, his former classmates in Harvard University. Dr. Green will spend some months in the State, his mission being a study of social conditions in the South.

Thomas H. Botts, of last year's law class, visited his friends at the University last Saturday. "Tommie" is looking fine, and seems to be in close friendship with the ladies, as of yore. He is connected with the well known law firm of Baker, Botts, Baker & Lovett, of Houston.

President Prather left last Monday on a visit to the leading universities of the east and north. He goes for the purpose of inspecting the dormitories for ladies, which are located at many of these universities. He expects then to be better able to submit suitable notices for bids for the erection of our woman's building.

In accordance with a recent act of the Board of Regents, the land department of the University has been moved from Austin to Dallas. It will continue under the management of Mr. R. E. L. Saner. In 1895, when the Board of Regents was given control of the University lands, the receipts from that source that year were $8636.40. The report of 1900 shows that during the present year the University will get from this source $45,634.46, an increase in income of about 500 per cent, at a cost of scarcely 4½ per cent for conducting this department.

The Spanish Octette furnished an abundance of pleasure to those who were so fortunate as to hear them in their two entertainments given last Friday and Saturday nights. They are musicians of the highest class. Their final engagement occurs Tuesday night, as we go to press. We promise a more extended write-up next week.

Collin Calvert, of Denison, was here last Sunday. Collin was here during the sessions of 1898-'99 and 1900-'01. He made a good record, and is now working in the ticket office of the H. & T. C. Ry. at Denison. While he did not state positively what called him here, we believe it was in obedience to his longing desire to see a lady friend who is now in the University.

It is funny that Mr. Taylor did not know who was business manager of the football team when he reached Waco last week. We are told that some one asked Taylor where the manager was, and he (Taylor) told him he didn't know. Later when Taylor had gotten through with his conversation with some one else, this same man, spoken of above, came to Taylor and asked him again who was manager. This time Taylor said (pointing to himself) "Here he is."

Mr. Edward C. H. Bantel has been elected to the position of instructor in civil engineering by the board of regents. Mr. Bantel was graduated from the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute with the degree of civil engineer in 1897. Since that time he has been employed in engineering work by the New York & Ottawa Railway Company and by the Mexican National Railway Company, with headquarters at Laredo, Texas, where he was stationed two years. Resigning this position he has since been assistant engineer with the Cambria Steel Company of Johnstown, Pa., one of the largest steel manufactories in the world. Professor Bantel comes to the University of Texas highly recommended by the directors of the Rensselaer institute, and by the professors under whom he studied there. His instruction will be especially helpful on the practical side of the work in engineering.

GRACE HALL NOTES.

"There was a sound of revelry by night,

And Grace Hall's fairest ones had gathered there"

As tacky as old clothes and much labor could make them. All last week gayly colored placards pinned to every available curtain and door had informed the curious that the old girls would give a tacky party in honor of the new girls Saturday night. So promptly at 8 o'clock the wide doors were thrown open, the grand marchers in all the varying stages of gaudy tackiness, pranced through the halls, and the ball had begun. Then for two hours scenes followed which beggar description as regards ludicrousness. Finally, when the laughter-sick comedians had grown weary of waltz and Virginia reels, refreshments were handed around. These very appropriately consisted of peanuts, popcorn, apples, macaroons, striped stick candy, and lemonade.

After much deliberation the judges awarded the prize, two enormous sticks of candy and a fashion book, to Miss Howard Hearne, whose dress, Dallas imported, had officiated at a wedding ceremony twenty years ago. Besides the Hall girls, those present were Mrs. Doom, Misses Mollie and Gusta Shropshire, Bella Rosenfield, Agnes Brady, and Aline Gano.

Now that politics, in so far as the girls are concerned, is a thing of the past, the Hall has resumed its wonted serious air and peace reigns undisturbed. Though matters grew intensely interesting towards the last part of the "campaign" especially, still the calm after the storm is very welcome.

Miss Hallie Powell of Baird came last week to stay at the Hall and swell the ranks of the freshmen. The freshmen now number about fourteen.

RUSK SOCIETY.

The Rusk was called to order at 7:30 sharp, President Slay in the chair. Messrs. Terrell and Jones, were elected to membership, after which followed an interesting program which was as follows. A declamation by Campbell; an oration by Ashby; then the decision of the house for the debate, the subject of which was, "Resolved, that anarchistic utterances should be made treason by the national Congress."

The roll call showed fifty-eight members present. The society adjourned to meet at 7:30 sharp next Saturday evening.

KAPPA SIGMA BANQUET.

On Friday night the Kappa Sigma Fraternity initiated into the mysteries of its order Messrs. A. O. Singleton and T. C. Cole, of Waxahachie.

Immediately after the ceremony the members of the fraternity repaired to the Driskill Hotel, where an elegant banquet was spread in honor of this year's initiates. The enjoyment of the evening was up to the Kappa Sigma reputation as hosts upon occasions of the sort. Those around the banquet board were Messrs. Budley Fisher, Hal Thomson, Arthur and Ted Moore, Chester Bryan, George Dowell, Verdo W. Wood, Ralph Porter, John Hancock, E. M. Mann, Rembert Watson, Liston Paine, Joe Hogsett, A. O. Singleton, and T. C. Cole.

Baylor's poets, at least, are beginning to realize the true state of affairs after the Oklahoma game.

The Last Lament.

(During this recital, the Baylor band should play with appropriate solemnity, "There wasn't any hot time in this old town that night.")

I've a hard luck story this time, so get ready with your weeps,

For the tale that I will tell you will give you the "jimmies," "creeps,"

Or whate'er you choose to call it—the effect is just the same—

When I tell you the particulars of that Oklahoma game. Now that game we had at Dallas, which last week I told you 'bout,

Made us kinder fancy, honest, there were none could put us rout.

Oh, but we were sadly wrong there, for those Territory boys

Put the "fixin's" on us surely, robbed us of our fore-won joys.

When they got the ball on kick-off and lined up their giant pack,

And their captain, a six-footer, signaled for their tackles back.

That you fellows who were absent, who don't know this kind of play

Can see the situation when they lined up in that way,

Let me first give you description of that husky lot of jays

From the land of boom-town races and of Indian war-dance days.

Well, their smallest man was quarter, and he was as big as Cocke,

With a head shaped like a walnut, which was just as hard as a rock;

And their biggest, well, I reckon he was just about the cow

Coxey'd be if he weighed double what he tips the scales at now.

Oh, they were a bunch of beauties, each with wash-pot on his head,

Shoulder pads as big as pillows, faces tanned a sunburnt red;

Arms as long as engine pistons, feet built on the flat-boat plan;

Bodies like a flock of chimneys, tilting forward when they ran.

Now, imagine for a moment, just what show you'd have indeed,

Stoppin' still a herd of cattle on a head-long, wild stampede,

And you may get faint conception we were up against it fine

When those yahoos fixed their headgear, snapped, and bore down on our line.

Why a snow-ball tossed in shoel has more chance of stayin' snow,

Than our boys had chance of stoppin' that there rippin', rollin' row.

Oh, they came a-plungin', and the field shook 'neath their sway,

And we longed for home and mother when they made at us that way.

But we had to stand and take it, and it was a bitter pill,

And I think I can yet taste it, and am 'fraid I never will

Blot the picture from my mem'ry which those gawky boosters made

Runnin' rough-shod over Baylor on the day that game was played.

Why, I dreamed about it last night, and in fact the night before,

Dreamed that I had been transported to that "dark Plutonian shore,"

Where again I saw those fellows, each now dyked in fiery red,

With his boiler-helmet perching still there on his walnut head,

Saw them make again towards me, just as they had come before,

And must confess I bolted—and awoke upon the floor.

Dry your eyes, though weepin' brothers, what's a lickin' now and then?

For it all comes in a life-time; take the medicine like men;

And lay low for the next comers who have conquered where we fell,

And be sure we stay their rushers, and make them of hard luck tell.

SOPHOMORE CLASS MEETING.

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Sophomore class was called to order by President Crane. The only thing accomplished was the election of two electors to the electoral college that was to choose the three student members of the Athletic Council. Messrs. Weisberg and H. M. Hargrove were elected to fill the places.

JUNIOR LAWS MEET.

Last Thursday Mr. E. E. Witt, with Mr. C. C. Hatchett as alternate, were elected to represent the Junior Law class in the meeting of the electoral college, chosen for the purpose of electing three student members of the Athletic Council.
