BILL CREATING CENTRAL BOARD IS INTRODUCED

Plan Submitted by Governor Ferguson
Is Before Committees on Education—Legislators Express Opinions.

A bill was introduced into the House Monday morning providing for a central board of control for the various schools of Texas, along the lines of that proposed by Governor Ferguson. The measure places the State University, A. & M. College, The State School of Mines at El Paso, and the Prairie View Normal, under the management of one board, which is to be known as the "Board of Regents of the Universities and Colleges of Texas."

The board will be composed of nine members, three of whom shall hold office for two years, three for four years and three for six years, to be determined by lot. These regents will be appointed by the Governor, and five of the nine must be farmers or cattlemen of at least seven years actual and practical experience in their vocations. Not more than one person can serve from each county.

The new board shall have all the powers of the boards of the University and the A. & M. College, but cannot remove the A. & M. College from its present situation.

The bill further provides that all persons who have been or may be a student or alumnus of either the University of Texas, or A. & M. College, shall be regarded as students or Alumni of the University of Texas, though in awarding degrees the institution by which they were conferred may be designated.

The bill declares an emergency that the Constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act be placed on its final reading.

Section 4 deals with duties of the board and provides that the board shall have an office which shall be maintained during alternate years at A. & M. and Texas, beginning with A. & M. It further provides that all persons holding positions now shall retain positions until expiration of their terms or until removal by the board.

The bill was introduced by Representatives Jones and Pearson and was read in the House Monday morning. Representative Myron Blalock said of the bill: "I am for the bill strong, and we will fight hard to put it through. I am against separation in any form."

Mr. Jones, when interviewed stated: "I believe the bill will settle all the wrangles between the two schools, and will be the greatest thing for the State institutions that was ever introduced in the Legislature. It will not, as some think, have the effect

CHAPEL NOTICES.

Mr. Cunningham of the Seminary sang with telling effect at Chapel yesterday. He has a splendid tenor voice and it is always a pleasure to hear him. His selection was good also.

The general singing was good, though the first song selected did not meet with the approval of the crowd, if one can judge by the number who sang. It was a beautiful song, but not one specially adapted to general singing.

The services this week will be in charge of Rev. William Hall Williams of All Saints Chapel. He will bring us a good message. Come and see.

SOLONS FEED IN GRAND STYLE AS GUESTS OF "CAF"

Members of Lower House Accept the Invitation to Lunch at Caf—No
Punch or Chicken Salad Served.

At noon yesterday twelve members of the Legislature were the guests of the Cafeteria for dinner. Promptly at 12:15, the gentlemen climbed into the autos which had been kindly provided by Messrs. Hartman, Gieseck, Schoch, and Bellmont. They drove rapidly up Congress avenue to the University and around to the Cafeteria. Within they were shown to places at a special table decorated by a center piece of ferns in an orange-draped bowl and two big trays heaped with fruit. The menu was made up from regular Cafeteria bill of fare, but a colored citizen took the place of the "stand-in-line and carry-your-tray" process that the students use to get their dinner. Evidently the variation from the Legislative routine was not displeasing. The members ate with relish, and the colored citizen kept going back for more. Several of them complimented the Cafeteria on the quality and flavor of its food and expressed considerable surprise at the low prices. It was an unusual opportunity to observe the University student in the course of his daily affairs, and they made good use of it. They were so interested in watching the men and women waiting their turn in line and eating their dinners at tables that at times they showed signs of neglecting their own dinners. They talked with the students, and discovered that the average cost was 13 cents per man per meal. "I had not

SHULER DEBATES WITH ADVENTIST

Both Sides Make Points—Shuler's
Oratory Stirs Up Enthusiasm.
Much Cheering.

Dr. Shuler of the University Methodist Church and Dr. R. L. Routt of Keeney, Texas, fought out the question of Sunday legislation last night on the floor of the House of Representatives. The debate was arranged through a resolution in the House in reference to some bills that have been proposed to withdraw the present State laws on Sunday observance.

Dr. Routt started the debate by declaring that he was not going to preach, but would back up all of his arguments by actual proofs, pointing to a small library of law books on the desk. He maintained his side of the discussion by straight and definite statements, and backed up each one by a reference.

His outstanding arguments were: First, that the seventh day had been appointed as the Sabbath by the fourth commandment, and second, that it was in defiance of both the State and National constitutions to enact laws that regulated a man's religious activities.

Then Dr. Shuler came up and gave a regular old-fashioned revival sermon. He used all his powers of oratory and eloquence. He based his argument on the Bible and the belief of the majority of the people in the United States. He laughed to scorn the idea of a very small minority of the citizens of Texas trying to have State laws repealed just because they interfered with their beliefs. And last of all he said that the moving picture show people and the Adventists were the only people in Texas who wanted the laws repealed, and that the former wanted money, but he didn't know the latter's trouble.

METHODISTS ARE DOWNED IN SLOW GAME YESTERDAY

Boys From Southwestern Put Up Warm Fight But Were Unable to Cope With Fast Longhorns—Last Half Good.

In a rather slow game of basketball yesterday on Clark Field the Longhorns defeated Southwestern by a score of 31 to 21. The feature of the game was the close guarding which each side manifested throughout the game. The Methodists put up a stubborn fight throughout the whole game, and though the Texas team was successful in scoring first, the boys from Southwestern apparently had the edge on them during the early part of the game. This was soon overcome, however, by the steady passing of the Texas team, and the superb goal-tossing of Ross. The Southwestern boys rallied at the end of the half, and ran the score up within four points of their opponents. The half ended with the score standing 19 to 15 in favor of Texas.

Blaine was sent in to his old position at forward in the last half, relieving Robertson. The second half took a decidedly different turn at the outset, and if any doubt remained in the minds of the spectators as to the probable outcome of the game they were quickly dispelled by the lightning-like speed which the Longhorns exhibited from the start. Six goals were registered by the Texas quintet, to one by Southwestern in the latter half.

Smith of Southwestern guarded Littlefield effectively, while Betts starred in field goals. Ross and Littlefield did the best work for Texas.

The line-up:

Texas—Forwards, Ross, Robertson, Blaine; center, Littlefield; guards, Edmond and Blackburn.

Southwestern—Forwards, Betts and Hays; center, Smith; guards, Weimers and Knickerbocker.

Goals—Ross 8, Robertson 1, Littlefield 4 field, 3 foul; Edmond 1, Betts 4 field, 2 foul; Hays 3 field, 5 foul.

FRATERNITY BILL INTERESTS HOUSE

Both Sides Are Confident of Victory.
Members Now Lining Up—Vote
Next Week.

According to various members of the House, preparations for one of the sharpest fights that has yet come before the Legislature are being made by both sides of the Frat-Barb abolition measure. The bill had not come from the printer late Monday afternoon, and according to the general program would not come up for consideration until next Monday or Tuesday. However, it is not unlikely that the bill will be made a special order week.

There is very little outside indication of interest on either side apparent in the House, but the lines are rapidly being tightened. A great deal of lobbying is going on in connection with the bill and the House is lining up rapidly on one side or the other.

The leaders of the two parties are "sawing wood and saying nothing" at present. It is thought that Judge Hill and Mr. Wortham will lead the attack on the bill while Judge Wagstaff and M. G. Blalock will champion its passage.

Each side is well organized and each is confident of the success of their interests, predicting a large majority in their favor. The most sanguinary of those who favor the bill is Judge Wagstaff, who predicts a Trial Soon.

University sorority girls will have the novel experience of taking the witness stand in the city police court during the trial of Will Kennedy, the young man who perpetrated the daring robberies at Mrs. Spear's residence and the Theta House across the street, last, last Saturday afternoon. Kennedy was surrounded and captured by 8 officers about 8 p. m. that night while attempting to enter another house. He has made a full confession to the police department concerning the many crimes which he has committed. The hiding place of the valuables secured has been divulged and a large pile of articles of value found.

Some interesting developments are expected when the trial is held. Girls from the sorority and boarding houses that have been entered will be asked to appear as witnesses.

Kennedy is 23 years old and has been under suspicion by the police department for the last three months. His father is a saloon keeper and has a place of business at Twenty-ninth and Guadalupe. The young man was well dressed and his method of attack was unique. After driving up in a buggy to Mrs. Spear's house he entered the front door and went into a room. Having secured a few valuable articles he was frightened away and entered the Theta House across the street where he secured some cash and jewelry. After his capture, he was identified by girls who room at the two houses entered.

DR. MANNING GAVE LECTURE ON SPAIN

Customs, Manners, Geography and Scenery Discussed—Original Pictures Shown.

Dr. Manning delivered an intensely interesting stereopticon lecture before the Spanish Club last night, on the manners, customs, geography and scenery of picturesque Spain. The pictures used were taken by himself when on his bridal tour.

At the beginning of the lecture Dr. Manning spoke of the Azores Islands and their distinctly Portuguese characteristics. Next he treated on Gibraltar, whose outline resembles the form of a crouching lion, patiently and jealously guarding the narrow straits that connect the Mediterranean and the Atlantic. Algeciras, a town which figured in the diplomatic give and take over the Moroccan question, was thrown on the screen.

An interesting feature of the lecture was Dr. Manning's description of a Spanish railway train. The railroad facilities remind one of the pre-maevial American train whose picture we see in an American history. Compartments are very small and in-commodious. The trains move at a snail's pace.

The gorgeous, quaint Cathedral of Seville was described by the lecturer. This edifice is an irregular combination of byzantine and gothic architecture, but these two types blend in a delightful manner, making the Cathedral one of the most attractive in all Christendom.

In regard to the hotel rates in Spain, Dr. Manning stated that luxurious accommodations were available at unusually reasonable rates. For $1.50 per day excellent service and meals were to be had. According to Spanish custom only two meals are served each day.

ASSEMBLY ACTS ON REPORT OF TEXAN AUDITOR

Poppelwell's Work on Texan Books is Approved—Reports of Other Committees Are Discussed.
Appropriations Made.

The Student's Assembly at its meeting Monday night accepted the reports of the various committees recently appointed to audit the books of the various publications and of the Student's Association. These reports will be run from day to day in the Daily Texan.

The Assembly further passed a resolution amending the rules regarding University dances so that in future no one student, group of students, or club can give more than one dance a week. If this resolution is approved by the President it will become a law of the Students' Assembly. The law, it appears, will not further restrict the number of dances that may be given in the University, but refers only to the number of dances that may be given by any one club or group of students during one week.

The Assembly made several appropriations. One was of one hundred dollars to the Woman's Students' Association for running expenses. Another was of two hundred and sixty-seven dollars and fifty cents to pay for typewriters and desks purchased for the Texan. A third appropriation was to remunerate Tom Poppelwell for recent services in establishing a system of bookkeeping for the management of the Texan and consisted of thirty dollars and forty cents.

A fourth appropriation of two hundred dollars was made to pay a debt incurred by the Texan management for last year.

It was decided to employ a student bookkeeper for the Texan whose duty it will be to supervise the Texan books and prepare a monthly report on the financial condition of that publication.

Two committees were appointed to arrange for the celebrations to be held March 2. The following men were in honor of Texas Independence on appointed on this committee: Thompson, Clerk and Seaberry. The other committee was appointed to arrange for the circus to be held this spring in accordance with the custom of the Students' Association of holding a circus each spring. The following men were appointed: Johnson, chairman; Ries, Fisher, Garrett, and Moore. Fred Cotton will be asked to act as publicity agent for the committee.

A THREE-RING CIRCUS.

When you were little and your folks took you to your first three-ring circus—or maybe you found your way out to the circus grounds early in the morning and sweated and grunted and tugged at boards and ropes and buckets until a dirty tent boss gave you a greasy pastboard pass—don't you remember how your neck hurt and your eyes hurt from trying to watch everything at once? The Frontenelli family were turning themselves wrong side out right in the middle of the arena before your horrified gaze, while out of the tail of one eye you got a hazy impression of an India rubber lady who was bouncing up and down on a pudgy little pony, and from the corner of the other distracted eye you sensed a preposterously clown doing things to his mate with a slapstick.

Sometimes it seems to be the same way with University life. The Austin are lovers exhibit paintings worth while and urge the student to come; the legislature is doing stunts with fraternities and investigations and such like, and the student doesn't need any urging to come; somebody lectures on something or other in the Age of Chaucer, and the English 2 student finds it safest to come; somebody else starts a debate down at the Capitol and of course the student comes and all the while the quizzes and examinations are bursting overhead and round about the student, busting though he be,—still he has to come.

And yet people wonder why men and women get so little out of college life. But sit you down and tell me everything that happened at the last three-ringed circus you saw, without reading the handbill, and then you may ask your poor unsettled student to give you an orderly account of himself and his studies.

UNIVERSITY INVESTIGATION.

At this writing we do not know what action the legislature has taken on the Blalock and Burmeister resolutions ordering an investigation of the State University, but we indulge the hope that both were defeated. We indulge this hope despite the fact that Dr. J. W. Battle, acting president of the University, has written a letter to the Speaker of the House asking for an investigation of certain charges of sectionalism and unfairness made by some of the student partisans in the anti-fraternity fight now going on.

We do not know, nor do we care, how many Northern men are in the faculty of the University. All that we care to know about the faculty is that the instructors are competent and of good moral character, and we prefer to look to the administrative officers and the board of regents for information on this subject, rather than to a legislative committee. As for the charge that members of the faculty discriminate in favor of fraternity men, we believe it to be a matter that can be inquired into and handled much better by the board of regents than by a lot of politicians.

We do not believe in freeing state educational institutions from all supervision and restraint by the legislature, but such supervision should not extend to details of administration which can be much better attended to by the governing authorities.

The unwisdom of a legislative investigation is accentuated at this time by the controversy now being waged in the legislature over the future relationship of the University to other state institutions of higher education. It would be wellnigh impossible to keep a legislative inquiry free of the taint of partisanship at this time and about the only result of such an inquiry would be to intensify the anti-fraternity row among the students and by the magnification of minor matters of small import in University government bring that institution into disrepute and render the labor of its officers and governing board more difficult.—Waco Morning News.

ART LEAGUE GIVES PRIZE FOR ESSAY

Five Dollars Will Be Given to Student Submitting Best Original Paper On Suggested Subjects.

Under the auspices of the Austin Art League, an exhibit of original paintings by American artists is being held in Gregg Hall this week.

The league is offering a prize of five dollars to any student of the University who writes the best paper on this exhibit, the winning article to be published in the March issue of the Magazine. Papers must not be over one thousand words, and must be dropped in the Magazine box with the name of the author in a separate envelope. The contests ends February 15th.

The articles may range from a humorous character sketch to a psychological appreciation of aesthetic values. Some general discussion, such as: American Landscape Painting, The Trend of American Art, as seen in this exhibit, will be as acceptable as an appreciation or criticism of some special picture. "What Is An Art Exhibit?" is another subject suggested, which may treat the exhibit from the viewpoint of the spectators or with regard to the collection of paintings as an artistic selection.

FUTURE MINISTERS ORGANIZE.

Feeling the need of closer acquaintance and fellowship among themselves, the students of the University intending to become members of the Christian Ministry have organized the Society of Service. This organization is not only to bring its members into closer relationship with one another, but it will afford them a better opportunity to do social work.

NEWMAN CLUB ACTIVE.

Sunday at 11:30 the Newman Club met in regular executive session in the assembly room at Newman Hall. President Loftus in the chair, disposed with the formalities of the meeting with expedition, and read the recommendations of the cabinet, which met the week previous to consider proposals referred from the last meeting of the club, and to initiate new business. The recommendations were accepted with few changes, and the meeting was thrown open for the consideration of measures proposed by non-cabinet members. At the conclusion of the regular order of business, Dr. Ross was given charge, and he delivered a short lecture on a matter of vital importance to the membership.

The meeting then adjourned, to be followed immediately by a call for the boys of the club only. At this meeting several matters of particular concern to the boys were considered, among which were proposals for a dance to be given by the club and the formation of a baseball team. Norwood, Gittinger and Tobin were appointed as a committee to organize the team, and were empowered to take all steps necessary. No further business coming up the called meeting adjourned at 1:15.

UDDEN DENIES CHARGE.

In yesterday's issue of the Texan there appeared a writeup of an accident in which it appeared that a motorcycle ridden by S. M. Udden had run into a team and buggy driven by a Mexican. Mr. Udden states that he was going west on Twenty-fourth street when the driver tried to pass around him on the left side; the mules which the Mexican was driving became frightened and tried to turn around, turning the buggy over in the gutter. Mr. Udden claims he was thirty of forty feet ahead of the Mexicans at the time the accident occurred.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT Y. W.

The Y. W. C. A. had its regular meeting Monday afternoon in the girls' study hall. The meeting was a memorial service as well as an "echo" meeting of Dr. Henderson's talks to the girls. Mrs. Jewett conducted the memorial service. She spoke of the life and work of Miss Grace Dodge, who was president of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association during the last eighteen years. Miss Grace Whitsitt sang one of Miss Dodge's favorite hymns. Miss Mary Evans made a short talk on the benefits derived from Dr. Henderson's lecture while here.

BOAT CLUB PLANS TO BE REALIZED

Athletic Council Spending Much Money to Improve and Beautify Property at Dam.

Within a very short time, the plans of a University Boat Club will be realized. Improvements are being made as fast as possible on the site owned by the Athletic Council on Lake Austin. The concrete wall has been poured and the sidewalk, which will run along the front of the grounds is practically completed. This walk will be finished off with an iron railing on the water front.

At the meeting of the council Wednesday night it is expected that the plans for the boat house will be accepted and if this is the case, work will start on it immediately. The boat house, however, though only a temporary structure, will be modern and artistic. No pains are being spared to make it the most beautiful and popular resort on the river. The building of the club house alone will necessitate an expenditure of between $500 to $1000. Around this house will be plotted out an even, sloping terrace, with as much shrubbery and flowers as possible. It is the intention and hope of the Athletic Department to make the place very attractive and inviting to the students and faculty of the University, for whom it is being built. The site of the structure is directly across from the beautiful folded mountain, the view of which is not obstructed by the public boat house which is now in operation over the lake. The location gives one a beautiful view up and across the lake, and is spoken of by many as being the best and most preferred spot anywhere on the lake. As soon as the club house is completed a University Boating Club will be organized, composed of students, faculty and alumni of the University of Texas. A minimum fee of about $1 will be charged each applicant. This will entitle every member to full use of the club house as well as a reduced rate on the boats. Several canoes and row boats will be ordered direct from the factory and for these a rent price of about one half that of the public boat house will be charged. Boats will also be stored for any member for about one half of what is now charged by the company operating on the lake.

There is one person at least down at the House who is a practical upholder of the cause of education in Texas. Old Capt. Dunaway, though only a doorkeeper at the House, has probably educated more people than any two legislators. He has sent all of his thirteen children to college and has eleven diplomas from State universities hanging on the walls of his home in Grayson County. The other two of his boys left college in their junior year.

Capt. Dunaway is a warm friend of Texan reporters and though he cannot vote, is in hopes of a large appropriation for the University.

M'GILL DEBATES CENSORED

Because the debate between Ottawa and Toronto Universities had for its subject that "Russia is a greater menace to the British Empire than is Germany," the debate was prohibited by the military censor.

The board of censors prohibited the debate on this subject because, "such a question should not be the subject of a public debate."

The subject seemed to have aroused considerable unfavorable comment from various quarters, and partisanship was feared.

There is no censor at Texas University, but the subjects for public debate are chosen by the professors.

There are probably some Freshmen here who do not understand what we mean by the "Beauties." It is perfectly simple. Do you understand? Well, its this way. There are a few fellows who put off paying their subscription to The Texan until the end of the year, and the management needs the money now. According to custom we will print a list of the delinquents a little later. We have no time to mail bills, and a fellow knows if he hasn't paid. Look for your receipt. If you have none, the proposition is very simple. Just bring three dollars around to the office and have us to write you one.

The circulation manager will go to work on the "Beauties" next week. If you want to avoid this list it is your privilege. We hope that most of our subscribers will look to this at once, for it will cost more more to get the pictures of a big group.

TENNIS RANKING CONTEST STARTED

Lawrence, Jones, Penick, J. Thomas and Bradley Are Successful In First Contests.

Fast tennis characterized the play in the round robin for the ranking tournament that started yesterday afternoon. The committee selected 11 men and started the tournament. All men challenged will have to wait until the tournament is over to play their matches. The bottom man of the 11 will be dropped at the end of the tournament.

The matches yesterday were as follows:

Lawrence defeated Dodd, 6-3, 6-4.
J. Thomas and Dr. James won a set each.

Bradley defeated Thomason, 7-5, 6-4.

Dr. Penick won one set from Lawrence; the other will be played Wednesday.

Stacy and Broad played to 100 all when the match was called on account of darkness.

thought that possible," said one of them, "for such a good meal."
"This is my idea of true democracy," said Speaker Woods. "Here are men from all classes in the University rubbing shoulders in line and eating side by side at the tables. And I understand that a great many men who have ample means and opportunity to eat elsewhere come here by preference. That I consider a very good sign of wholesome condition in the University. I consider this Cafeteria one of the finest institutions that could exist at a State University. I would like to bring the people over the State who consider the University a school for rich men's sons, down here and let them look on for a few minutes. I think they would find out a great deal they had not known before. These prices have certainly been a revelation to me. I think I'll send some of those facts home to my wife." And he looked again at the bulletin board that announced pumpkin pie for 4 cents and spaghetti Italiane for 3 cents.

Only once was there the slightest dissatisfaction in evidence. Middleton of Raines called long and lustily for chicken salad, but there was no chicken salad forthcoming. He expressed surprise that the Cafeteria had not yet heard of the functions of the class distinction they produce, and further stated that in his opinion there was no foundation of truth for the reports of the unsatisfactory moral conditions attributed to the organizations.

Representatives Flores and Decherd brought in the minority report against the bill.

The guests yesterday were: Speaker Woods, of the House; Representatives Bell, Fry, Haney, Le Gory; Middleton, of Raines; Rogers, Smith, Savage, of Shelby; Spencer, Wagstaff and Upchurch.

Today the following men are invited: Bates, Biggers, Blalock, Bolin, Bryant, Carter, Ellis, Florer, Jones, Laney, Magee, Parks, Stayton, and Templeton.

It is planned to give several of these luncheons to legislators this week.

of injuring A. & M. or other State institutions which will be under the control of the board. I think that the bill, if carried, will settle disputes for all time, and that Texas will soon have institutions that will be the envy of all States."

Mr. Pearson, the other member who introduced the bill said: "When I first came to Austin, I was in favor of separation, but after studying conditions that prevailed between A. & M. College and Texas University, I decided that it would not be well to separate them, because the State land could not be divided up between the two schools. It would work a hardship upon A. & M. and weaken her."

"I am strongly in favor of the clause providing that five of the board be farmers or stock raisers of at least 7 years experience, as set forth in the bill—men not entangled with any political alliances or grievances with regard to A. & M. or the University, neither biased or prejudiced but capable, conservative men who would be capable of handling the business of the schools. I believe the farmers are entitled to a majority because they pay 75 per cent of the taxes that support these schools."

Mr. Pearson further stated that Governor Ferguson was in full accord with every item in the bill and was strongly supporting it.

The measure was referred to the committee on education.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Louisiana—Prospects are very bright for a winning baseball team this season. Louisiana will probably have a better team this year than it has had for a number of years past. About twenty-five men are reporting daily for practice, and keen competition is being exhibited for places made vacant by varsity men who did not return. Only five letter men have reported thus far. The corn club boys short course was completed January 29, after one of the most successful periods of instruction given to the young farmers since the institution of short courses at the University.

Arizona.—The athletes of the University of Arizona have organized an "A" club, whose main purposes are to promote athletics, to insist upon a high scholarship, for athletes, and advertise athletics through the State. Only men of sophomore standing, who have won two "A's" are eligible to membership.

Minnesota—The Honor System has been tried at Minnesota University, and judging from the consensus of opinion, about the campus, it was successful. Classes ranging from fifteen to one hundred and fifty were placed entirely on their sense of honor during the past week semester finals, and the student body as a whole proved itself worthy of the test given it.

two-to-one victory for the passage of the measure.

Representative Fry, one of the members who introduced the bill, when interviewed stated that the reason he is opposing the fraternities is because of the class distinction they produce, and further stated that in his opinion there was no foundation of truth for the reports of the unsatisfactory moral conditions attributed to the organizations.

Representatives Flores and Decherd brought in the minority report against the bill.

ALL Classes ALL people ALL the Time

USE THE STREET CARS.

The mission of the street car is to afford the maximum of transportation service at the minimum cost. Proof of this is manifested in the numerous classes of people who use the street car all of the time. It is surely an indication of good judgment. The street car is the connecting link between suburbanite and urbanite. It eliminates thoughts of distance—worry of delays and loss of time. The street car does more: It is a positive means of economy to the man with a family whose income does not permit of his living in localities where house rent is prohibitive. It gives him all the conveniences without the expense. These are good points to bear in mind.
