Dr. Webb's 'Frontiers' ChallengedTodayat4 In

Dr. Walter Prescott Webb's thesis that the Western frontier has disappeared, endangering its offspring-democracy, capitalism, and freedom-will be challenged at Wednesday's Coffeorum.

"Are There New Frontiers?" will be debated at 4 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Union. Jan Scurlock, former chairman of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee which sponsors Coffeorums and Pop Lectures, will moderate. Students may question speakers after their talks.

Dr. Webb, professor of history, and Dr. Fulmer Mood, professor of history, will defend the thesis advanced by the former in his article, "Ended: 400 Years' Boom," in October's Harper's Magazine. Challenging the thesis will be Dr. C. E. Ayres, professor of economics, and Dr. David L. Miller, chairman of the Department of Philos-

Pie Sale at Union Means More 'Pie-eyed' Friends

The Campus Chest Committee pie auction will be in front of the Union, Thursday from 10 to 12

Dick McKaughan, public relations director, is in charge of the pie auction, at which pies to be thrown at "friends," will be sold to the highest bidder. Jitter Nolen, Union director, says that the pies, which won't contain any sugar, will be "good, mushy ones.

Star targets are expected to be the "Ten Most Hated," and it is hoped that the "Ugly Man" candidates will turn out for the occasion. "Just bring your friends," the auctioneers say, "and we'll set them up as targets for you."

Kazmaier Passes Bright For Total Offense Lead

DES MOINES, Nov. 20 .- (A)-Johnny Bright finally has been etired as college football's total offense leader.

But it took a broken jaw and Princeton's Dick Kazmaier to overtake the great Negro halfback from Drake.

Bright has led the nation in total offense yardage since his sophomore in 1949 and until the injury which cut short his playing days apparently had his third straight title put away. The Drake star fell behind Kazmaier and Don Klosterman of Loyola of California this week and unofficial figures give Kazmaier 1,707 total yards, Klosterman 1,589, Bright 1,553 and Ollie Matson of San Francisco 1,454.

Why Egypt Had to Rid

(The publicity committee mocracy for everybody every- and refused to comply with of the Arab Students' Asso- where, the health and customs meaciation presents the official position of the Egyptian government.)

Under the smashing fire and the burning guns of the British troops in the Egyptian land, the people of Egypt scream out: Liberty, Freedom, and Democracy. By the same scream and for the same principles the founders of the great United States of America gave their lives. Egypt today, asks the British Empire to abide itself to the principles of the United Nations on which charter she put its signature. Egypt today, asks the British Empire to respect the general principles and customs of the international community. The empire is asked not to violate the charter of the United Nations, it is asked ot to ignore the Magna Carta principles, it is asked to be democratic in reality and not Egypt are inspired by the only principles for which humanity have been struggling since Equality between nations is that principle by which they want democracy and justice and not communism or colonfalism. In reply to a New York judge's vehement attack on intercollegiate sports, University Athletic Director D. X. Bible gave this apt appraisal:

According to the Convention, Egypt as the proprietor of the region has been placed in charge of the defense of the neutrality of the Canal and the safety

BRITISH VIOLATION

2. The British overstepped

In 1946 (the agreed date for revision of the Treaty of 1936), one full year after the collapse of the Axis and the defeat of Japan, Egypt initiated negotiations with the United Kingdom for the mutual revision of the 1936 Treaty. A project for the Treaty was arrived at and initialled

by the two parties according to which Britain agreed to withdraw its troops from Egyptian territory within eighteen months from the formal ratification of the Treaty. The evacuation, therefore, was expected to be effected in 1949. Egypt was to take over the Suez bases two years

This was the 62nd promise of evacuation since 1882, and England with repeated diplomatic procrastination on any definite settlement rejected this initialled draft Treaty. Again no agreement was reached.

In 1947, Egypt presented its case to the Security Council and after six weeks of debate the Security Council called upon the two parties to solve their differences by negotiation. Since that date, Egypt has tried in vain to come to an agreement with Great Britain.

In 1950 the present Egyptian Foreign Minister negotiated in London with the British for two months with no result whatsoever. The negotiations continued for another 15 months in Cairo without solving the issue. At length, realizing the futility of securing British cooperation in the revision of this Treaty, Egypt has been forced to take measures for safeguarding of her national interests. She was forced to abrogate this Treaty to fight openly the British colonialism which the Americans fought in 1776.

Daily TV from UT. A Forty Acres FM radio station! The time when both of these will be with us might not be so Austin has been assigned a channel for an educational TV station. UT is the logical institution to assume the responsibility. The FCC has warned that the institutions that have been granted these go-ahead signs should act immediately, or else such opportunities will be snapped up by commercial interests. Those who know their TV on the campus offer us encouraging words.

As far as FM is concerned, we have the personnel for daily programming. We could establish a 10-watt FM station-enough to service all of Austin-for about $7,000.

Texas A&M dropped its FM station because it was duplicating its AM broadcasting day. The Board of Regents could grant us that appropriation.

There is hesitancy, however, even with funds seemingly available. Those who could initiate sucha program would like to feel that students and faculty and townspeople would back them on such a proposal.

For the arguments, although not too valid, are strong, there are few sets in Austin-but this puts the cart before the horse; there are no space-facilities-but the initial cost would take care

Educational-wise, FM stations have been on the increase and in order to preserve its leadthroughout the country during the ership among the nations of the past year. Texas alone has added five stations on college campuses. SMU, Texas Western, the Uni-

The Firing Line

'Othello'

TO THE EDITOR: Just a word on Frederick B. Pike's criticism of "Othello."

Let us remember that the Texan is a college newspaper and the opera was staged by college students. It should have been criticized from that angle.

True, the talent wasn't up to the standards of the Met, but NTSC, no doubt, has the best musical talent in this section of the country. Considering they were college students they deserved such praise—not the cool ripping the Texan gave them.

Or maybe, he was hiding the fact that UT doesn't have anything to compare with it.

Franco Alliance

TO THE EDITOR:

I am profoundly disturbed at the recent article, 'Should the West Accept Totalitarian Spain as Ally?', appearing over the name of Wayland Pilcher. Apparently Mr. Pilcher believes that American opinion is growing more favorable to Spain, and one can only infer from the tone of his article that he considers this to be a good thing. May I suggest that the misgivings that the world shares at certain aspects of American foreign policy are grounded on questions such as this. We still believe that less than a decade ago the United States entered a war in order to free mankind from just the type of police state that General Franco stood for in 1941 and still stands for today. The countries of the world that support America in the atconnection with a new course oftempt to stem communism can only be deeply shocked at such a partment, the first of its kind in change of view.

By ANNE CHAMBERS

Although two University students took an ordinary tour of Europe several summers ago, they brought back with them an idea that soon became one of the greatest services ever performed by this campus.

Few people now remember John Langley and Herman Neusch, but more than a dozen displaced persons and thousands of University students are experiencing now the effects of their idea.

While these students were in Europe, they became deeply concerned about the quality and quantity of the displaced persons in camps-particularly those of college age. They set to work immediately after school began the next falltold of their experiences to whomever would listen, organized com-mittees, brought DP students who were already in the country to the campus to share their experiences with a student body, which on the whole, was oblivious to the plight of students in other countries.

The idea sparked and exploded into an almost wholesale action of concern and giving by the campus and the Austin community.

Fourteen students are receiving a college education and are becoming American citizens, several having already graduated. In addition provisions have been made offered in the place of commu- for the families of some of the nism. If Europe is to fight, she DP students.

Education at UT Fraternities, sororities, co-ops, church groups, and individuals have provided room, board, jobs for incoming students. Book stores gave books, clothing stores—clothes, the University gave each one tuition scholarships, and the students have even attended theaters and nightclubs free. This has been made possible by a volunteer student committee, working over a period of three years. Although personnel has changed and enthusiasm has often been in spurts, its work has had a continuous effect.

$200 from Campus Chest this year will aid this work. Combined with the foreign student advisory fund, the money will be used in case of emergency when a DP student is without employment or upkeep during the summer or is delayed in enrolling in the University. The advisory fund, it-self, provides scholarships for needy and worthy students whenever necessary.

This smallest asking from Campus Chest is yet one of the largest givings to the campus.

Conservatives Using Socialist Devices

Faculty-student opinion in general seems to favor the election of Churchill in Great Britain, agreed Dr. W. S. Livingston, professor of American Foreign Relations, and H. Malcom Macdonald, associate professor of Government.

Churchill's election and the reinstallation of the conservatives will not bring much change, if any, in British foreign policy, said Livingston, but it has aiready brought about a severe re-tighten- ain than anyone else. ing of the British belt. The flow of imports, tourist allotments, and home heating and building have been cut, along with raising the bank rate.

"The use of these socialist devices by the Conservatives who so reently severely criticized them, has set the British Socialists hooting and howling," said Dr. Living-

Dr. Macdonald felt the British foreign policy will be more competently conducted as a result ofthe election and that every attempt will be made to prevent East-West conflict by diplomatic means. "The tone for this was set by Anthony Eden's Paris address which called for a last minute dose of common sense before we are consumed in the flames of an atomic war."

Churchill's foreign policy will probably include a general stiffening of British resistance to further disintegration among the dominions, colonies, and home government, predicted Dr. Macdonald.

servative government than to the labor group. The pleasure of the administration at having Churchill address a joint session of Congress in his visit to the US after the first of the year, was ventured by Dr. Livingston:

"The Republicans will be glad to have him, and the Democrats utterly delighted. He will have a better chance persuading Cons to financially aid Great Brit-"Churchill probably has greater prestige here than in Great Britain, since we do not have the British memory of him as a sort of 'bad boy' of politics in the 1920's, but only the memory of a great living statesman." Professor Macdonald felt that the US can't afford the collapse of England, so we will pay her regardless of the cost. "Key to the chaotic British situation is the foreign situation, said Dr. Macdonald. Money spent now on armament could be used for economic improvement. Why, right here on the campus, think of all the money that could be saved if there was no need for the military." When questioned about any suggested remedies for the world situation, both professors agreed that there was no immediate prospect for relief. Dr. Livingston

"Although there is constant bickering, I'm not one who thinks war is inevitable. Our (US and Great Britain's) present world policy is good and sound, and "The Iranian situation is hope- about the only way to deal with the situation." Dr. Macdonald felt:

and plodding in its progress. Hostesses will be the Adven- ever resulted in a most entertaintures in Eating Club, Mrs. A. S. ing evening. Veteran Irra Petina Kasperik and Mrs. Paul J. Thomp- dominated the performance both son are chairman and co-chairman, vocally and histrionically despite the fact that her voice is placed too low for an ideal Rosalinda. The Law Wives Club will have Her delivery of the Czardas lacked the brilliance which the aria enjoys when sung in its original higher key. Adelaide Bishop brought charm and vocal ability to the role of Adele although her voice was not up to the coloratura passages of her second act aria. Tenor bloyd Thomas Leech commenced in poor vocal condition, managed to improve, but not enough. Enacting Eisenstein, Michael Bartlett produced hoarse outbursts rather than musical tones. Added stage credibility was attained by substituting rich voiced baritone Earl Redding for the usual mezzo-soprano or contralto in the role of Orlofsky. The only defect in the switch was diminished voice contrast in ensembles.

Third act slapstick was provided by John Pelletti, as the joker whose jokes were humorous but un-Viennese.
