ASSEMBLY SAYS PAPER MUST BE MADE SMALLER

Popplewell Appointed to Institute An Accurate System of Bookkeeping.
Texan Is In Debt Due to Financial Condition.

From now on when you step out to get your paper in the morning you will secure one of five columns instead of six. This came about as a result of a meeting of The Students' Assembly Tuesday night. It was found after an investigation of the business affairs of The Texan that it would be impossible to continue the paper at six columns, unless according to Business Manager Hinton, a heavy debt was incurred.

During the past term an inch or so was clipped off of the bottom of the paper and this second reduction brings it down to about two-thirds of its original size. This change was necessary so the business management declares on account of the business depression, which affected thesecurings of advertising. A report showed that there is a debt of about seven hundred dollars at present, with about five hundred dollars worth of advertising uncollected of which one hundred and fifty dollars is estimated worthless and cash on hand amounting to about one hundred dollars.

President Lawhorn stated that about one-third of the subscription money had already been spent and that the prospects for advertising during the next term did not warrant the continuation of the paper as a six column daily. He further stated that a committee had been appointed to go over the books and see that things were in order.

Mr. Lawhorn said that Tom Popplewell had been appointed to take charge of the books and audit them. After auditing he is directed to inaugurate a system of bookkeeping so that the business of Texan and Magazine can be kept separate, and to see that they are kept so. The Assembly desired an accurate set of books, as the present system consists of only a cash account, and was not at all satisfactory. There is a check on all the money that has been taken in and paid out, but a committee appointed to audit could not tell the difference between the Texan and the Magazine accounts, and for which publication the money had been paid out for there was no record.

Under the present construction of the Constitution the Assembly has control over the officers of the Texan, and control of the paper subject to the Students' Association. The Advisory Board which in the past has controlled the paper is now sheared of all power and can only advise and direct, any action of theirs being subject to the Student's Assembly. The Advisory Board ordered that the paper continue as a six column paper last Monday, as in their opinion it could be run throughout the year at that size under proper management and a close curtailment of expenses. The business manager was of the opinion that a debt would be incurred by a continuation of the present size as things stand, so the Students' Assembly cut the paper down.

PIERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

Tuesday afternoon the Pierian Literary Society met and enjoyed a program on French Art. Miss Gertrude Whitehouse discussed the "Themes of Millet's Pictures." Miss Ruth Kennedy gave an appreciative criticism of "The Gleaners" and Miss Amelia Benson compared Millet and Corot, who was the subject of the last meeting.

The new members admitted to the society were: Miss Naomi Gonger and Miss Rosamund Williams.

FORMER STUDENT CLAIMS ELECTION TO SPEAKERSHIP

Hon. John W. Woods of Fisher County Has Seventy-one Votes Pledged But Hon. Newt Williams of Waco Is Strong.

John W. Woods, a former student of the University of Texas and candidate for the Speakership of the House of Representatives, has formally opened his headquarters at the Avenue Hotel. Mr. Woods stated last night that he had seventy-one votes, enough to elect him on the first ballot, already pledged to his support. He also stated that many more representatives had expressed themselves favorably toward his candidacy.

However, Hon. Newt B. Williams of Waco is said to be well up in second place, and his friends claim his election to be very probable.

Speaking to a reporter of The Texan last night Mr. Woods said that he favored everything that meant a greater University. He said that he was in favor of appropriating enough money to erect substantial buildings for the University. Speaking of the system of the erection of "shacks" on the campus, Mr. Woods said:

"It seems to me that it is a great economic waste to the tax payers of the State to continue the erection of such non-permanent buildings. If all of the money spent for these buildings were put into the erection of modern structures, it would result in a great saving to the people of Texas, even if it took more just at the present.

"If money cannot be appropriated, I favor some kind of Constitutional Amendment that will enable us to erect adequate buildings and finance the school. I would like to see the University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College second to none in the United States."

Mr. Woods has secured the same apartments of the Avenue Hotel that the three former successful candidates for the speakership, Rayburn, Kennedy, and Terrell, used in their campaigns. However, Mr. Williams stated that he was not superstitious.

Mr. Williams, too, is a supporter of the educational institutions of Texas. He graduated in the Department of Law in 1891. He said, as a member of the State Legislature, he would do every thing possible for the up-building of all educational institutions of the State.

ADVISORY BOARD SAYS CONDITIONS MUST BE CHANGED

Wythe and Baker Propose Amendments That Place Responsibility and Control in Hands of Body That Knows Conditions.

After an all day session yesterday, the members of the Advisory Board came to the conclusion that it is useless to try to continue a daily newspaper on the present basis. Not wishing to discontinue the Daily Texan, they have evolved a plan which will place responsibility on someone. They have the following statement to make:

"The majority of the students have probably been aware for some time that the Daily Texan was suffering from some malady. Those who had not noticed the symptoms heretofore will certainly realize the presence of trouble after scanning this morning's bob-tailed, five-column issue.

"What is the nature of that trouble? The editors have done their best. The business manager has been handicapped by a financial stringency as the result of European war. Without blaming either editors or managers, the undersigned wish to state that the constitution of the Students' Association, as far as it relates to the control of The Daily Texan, is a hopeless muddle; that there are contradictory clauses in the constitution conferring the same power on three different bodies; and that it is absolutely useless to attempt to straighten out the affairs of the paper until these contradictions are removed.

"For over two months the Advisory Board has met and talked and 'resolved' and devised plans to better conditions. All these efforts have been dissipated because they could not carry anything into effect and make it stick.

"The Advisory Board wants to make somebody responsible for the Daily Texan. Under present conditions everybody does as he pleases. Last year's Texan is in the hole three hundred dollars. Why? This year's manager gave bond today, although Article III, Section 12 (a) expressly provides for it. The year is almost half gone. The Texan now owes the printer seven hundred dollars. We repeat, somebody must be made responsible for the paper.

"The amendments which are being submitted do make somebody responsible. The Advisory Board is given the authority to run the paper; it is expressly provided in this amendment that the members of the Advisory Board shall be subject to impeachment by the Council; if this Board makes a failure of running the paper, its members will be the responsible parties.

"The present members of the Advisory Board are not asking for more power. Both of us are serving against our wishes and hereby promise to resign the moment these amendments go into effect—if not before. But this year's troubles, as well as our experience of several years on the Texan, have taught us that the change we are proposing must be made.

"GEORGE WYTHE."
"REX G. BAKER."

The amendments to the constitution follow:

Amend. Art. II, Sec. 2 (b) to read: "The Association shall elect a board of editors, consisting of an editor-in-chief and eight associate editors, of which number three associate editors or the editor-in-chief and two associate editors shall be women.

WINSONIANS TO PRESENT COMEDY

"The Marriage of Kitty" is Title of Play to be Given February 21 By Dramatic Club.

At an important meeting yesterday the Winsonian Dramatic Club made final decision as to their play and date of presentation. The play selected was "The Marriage of Kitty," a rollicking three act comedy, by Cosmo Lennox, which is being played at the present time in New York by an all star cast of English actors.

The first performance will be given in Austin on February 21st after which the club will probably make a tour of other colleges throughout the State.

The cast will be chosen from the members and tryouts, and will represent the best in dramatic ability which the University possesses. Among those taking leading roles will be: Fred Hibbard, Robert Skiles, Richard Mather, Hubert Wheelless, Arthur Spann, Sol Gordon, Gordon West and Adrian Levy.

When interviewed yesterday in regards to the play Mr. Houston, director of the club, said:

"We have very bright prospects for a successful year, and if present plans are carried forward there can be no doubt that our prospects will be realized. Our talent is among the best in school, and with such a delightful play an enjoyable performance can be safely anticipated."

FIRST GAME OF BASKETBALL TO OCCUR SATURDAY

Strong Team of Austin High School Will Meet Texas—Four Regulars Back and Many Strong Freshmen Trying Out.

Basketball in the University of Texas, will start the season next Saturday by playing the first game with the Austin High School team. Mr. Belmont stated that the Austin High School quintet was a strong team, and would furnish a good contest.

The prospects for Varsity's quintet this season are the best for several years. Littlefield, Edmond, Ross and Dittmar of last year's regulars are back. It is said that Thomas, of last year's squad is showing up well.

Besides these old men, Mr. Belmont said that Secor and Blaine of Houston High School, Kingsley of Saint Mary's, Stroud of V. M. I., Dillr of San Antonio High School, and Sisterman of Austin High School were making a good showing, and were likely candidates for the squad. Wallace and Barrell of last year's squad

"Y" EVANGELISTIC WEEK WILL HAVE MANY FEATURES

An Elaborate Program is Being Prepared by Local Religious Organizations—Four Prominent Speakers.

The Evangelistic week to be held under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. promises to be one of many features. The most elaborate program ever attempted by these organizations will be marked out. The entire week will be marked by luncheons, conferences, chapel hours and devine services. The feature of the week will be the presence of four of the most prominent Y. M. C. A. workers in the country.

Beginning on January 12th there will be two buffet luncheons each day. Every one of the classes in the University will be entertained in this manner. At these luncheons, aside from the "eats" there will be short addresses on topics effecting college life by one of the visiting evangelists. Bishop Henderson, of the Northern Methodist Church and formerly pastor of one of the largest Methodist churches in Brooklyn, is especially fond of this character of work and devotes most of his time to it. Mr. W. D. Weatherford, aside from being International Secretary of Students is also widely known as an author on the negro question. His latest book "Negro Life in the South" is considered an authority on this subject. During his stay here Mr. Weatherford will also make addresses in the negro schools.

One of the most novel and beneficial features of the Evangelistic week will be a series of conferences between the students and the visiting evangelists. Five hours a day will be devoted to these conferences and in them the individual student may talk over every phase of college life with these men who have had many years of experience along these lines.

The following students have been appointed to secure the attendance of their respective classes at the luncheons: Fred Cotton, General Chairman; Seniors-Academics, Jesse Wilson and Claxton Parks; Engineers, Richard Blucher; Laws, Billie Bates, Milton Daniels and Wright. Juniors-Academics, Alfred Wackers; Engineers, Julius Blucher and Douglas; Middle Laws, Oscar Speed. Sophomore-Academics, J. C. Hidgon and Dan McCrummen; Engineers, Eddie O'Hair and Will Nash; Junior Laws, Ward, Fristoe, Rogers and Sutton; Seminary Students, J. Joekel and F. Paisley; Freshman-Academics, Sam Low, Engineers, George Anderson and O. S. Petty.

Bishop Henderson will preach at Chael next Tuesday morning and on each morning during the week one of the visiting evangelists will preach at Chapel hour.

CHAPEL NOTICES.

Dr. Bishop continued his theme of the social force of home missions. He recalled the message of Jesus to John the Baptist when he was in prison and wanted the testimony of Jesus that he was the Messiah. The only testimony offered was to the effect that he was improving the social condition of the community by ministering to its wants in general as well as in particular; sight was being given to the blind, the lame were being made to walk, the dead were being raised, the people were being ministered unto. Such is the mission of the church today in the foreign field; why not also in the home field?

"PAY YOUR POLL TAX."

This is the season of the year when every State paper dins into the ears of its readers the slogan "Pay Your Poll Tax." Have you paid your poll tax yet? If you are of legal age you should pay this tax and be a full-fledged voter and a citizen who realizes his responsibilities, not one who leaves the government in the hands of others and then complains because it is not run according to his ideas. It is true that there are no important elections this year, but the feeling of self respect a poll tax payer has is well worth the $1.75.

Don't neglect the opportunity. The tax must be paid by the 31st to enable you to be a voter.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

This morning's Texan bears an interview with the two candidates for speaker. The striking feature of this article to the University student is that both of the candidates are graduates of the University of Texas, and favor liberal appropriations for their Alma Mater. More and more it is becoming evident that the leading men of Texas in the future will largely be graduates of the University of Texas. Such is the case in Wisconsin, where the University wields a wide influence in the affairs of the State. The comparative youth of the University of Texas has prevented it having the position which it should, but its influence is beginning to be felt and will be more widely felt in the future. Education is now recognized to be essential whether it comes from schools or the harder teacher—experience.

CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP.

Texas Spirit means clean sportsmanship and courteous treatment of visiting teams. Last year when the baseball team from the Chinese University of Hawaii was here we gave them courteous and sportsmanlike treatment, and they greatly appreciated it. Monday's Texan told of a letter received from the manager of that team, in which he mentioned the fair treatment received at the hands of the Texas students. Every letter received from the manager of this team contains similar expressions.

The Chinese played over one hundred games in the United States and they should be in a position to know and appreciate the spirit of our student body. Their expression of appreciation means that their reception at Texas was of the kind to make a lasting and favorable impression. It is this spirit of courtesy and fair dealing which has given a real and vital meaning to the term "Texas Spirit."

ON THE FIRING LINE

Co-Ed Athletics.

I noticed, in an issue of The Texan, before the holidays a sweeping challenge from the T. C. U. co-eds asking for basketball games. When I went home several of them informed me in no uncertain terms that the challenge was meant especially for the University of Texas. I had to painfully explain about certain rules about co-ed basket ball rules hereabout.

It brought to my mind those foolish closed game rules. As long as certain antediluvian persons have charge of the girls athletics here we can never have the spirit among our girl students that we should have.

The co-eds are more than willing to enter into the inter-collegiate contests provided they have the support that other branches of athletics have. Every other school of note in the State except the one that should be the leader have the open games. Let us hope that these persons who are in charge of the co-ed athletics at present resign their positions and a new governing body be appointed or the former wake up. Personally I would like to see Dr. Schoch put at the head of the present committee or a new one, if some thing can't be waked up then the case is hopeless. F. H. B.

B. Hall and the Prophet.

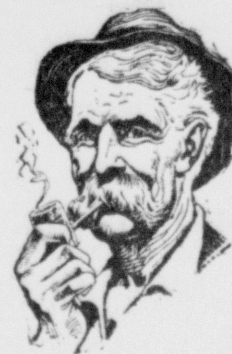

I have just read in this morning's "Texan" the account, more or less facetiously conceived of yesterday's visit to B. Hall of the queer old man who calls himself "The Prophet Henri" and all the sort that followed. The facts as there related agree with the story told me by this Mr. Henri Fretelliere himself immediately after the incident.

Perhaps I run the risk of being accounted uncommonly stupid when I confess that before reading your interesting article I really had not discovered the delicately humorous aspects of the case. In fact, so subtle and elusive a thing is humour, that even now I don't feel sure that the spectacle of a venerable man of perfectly obvious and perfectly inoffensive mental infirmities, drenched with water, pleading for the fantastic banner that seems to mean so much to his clouded mind, furiously angry because of such indignities and quite

SPELLING MATCH TO BE REVIVED AMONG SCHOOLS

Extension Department Will Revive Old Time Contests in An Effort to Diminish the Number of Poor Spellers.

The latest undertaking of the University Interscholastic League is a revival of the old-time spelling match. The move is due to the alarming number of poor spellers that the schools are now turning out. Since practically no time can be given to teaching spelling in the University, the League seeks to reach the heart of the matter by encouraging the study in the lower schools.

The State Executive Committee will prepare three graded lists of words and send them under seal to the Director General of the County. These lists are to be opened in the presence of contestants from the various schools in that County. In case the contestants do not "spell down on" these lists, resort will be had to Payne's "List of Words Commonly Misspelled," and finally to "Webster's Blue Back Speller." While it is not the intention of the Executive Committee to carry the contests farther than the County at present, still district officers may arrange a district contest among the "winners" in Counties comprising that district. In case the move becomes very popular, a State contest may be arranged.

Although it is said in the Bulletin which is being sent to the various schools, that there may be some doubt as to whether or not "oral matches" are pedagogically the best method of teaching spelling, still it is the intention of the Committee to call attention to a badly needed reform rather than to actually supply the measures for reform. At any rate, it is hoped that the contests will have a material effect in cutting down the number of "busts" in English I.

There are several blind students living in B. Hall and it has seemed to some of us that the considerate and chivalrous treatment accorded them has been evidence of a fine spirit among the men. It is not clear to me why an aged man, not less cruelly afflicted, should receive such very different treatment. And unless I quite mistake the nature of my own emotions in recalling old Henri's story they are not those of mere amusement.

It would be a fine thing if the men of B. Hall could find some way of assuring this old "prophet" that it was all meant as no doubt was the case—in fun.

Really, there should be a stop to the useless talking in the library. Where such a large number of students congregate there is always some unavoidable noise, and the avoidable noise should be kept at a minimum. No one can effectively stop it but the students themselves. It is useless for the library officials to attempt to do so with any hope of success. The proposition is up to those who use the library.

POETS' CLUB TO RENDER SERVICE

Verse Writers Organize to Facilitate
 Art Among Students—Magazine
 Will Be Aided.

Big things are looked for during the coming year from the Poets' Club, which has already made remarkable progress, considering the short time it has been in existence. Members of the club feel that the new organization answers a long-felt need in the literary life of the University, and will be able to accomplish much in the way of creating an interest and developing skill in the writing of verse.

Frank Loftus, editor of the Magazine, has expressed the view that through the club the standard of verse contributed to the Magazine can be improved, and thinks it can be used as an unofficial board of censors in selecting the verse for each issue. The two members of the club who are on the Magazine board have been asked to serve as a selection committee, and pick out, from the poems submitted to the club, such as can be made use of by Mr. Loftus in making up his issue.

Shortly before the holidays, the members of the club met at the Elliott's and had a picture taken for the Cactus. At the next meeting the complete plans for the Cactus page will be decided upon.

The members of the club are as follows: Stella Shurtleff, Mrs. Zinneker,
 A. R. Currie, Thos. McNeal, Miss
 White, O. W. Wood, Israel Chasman,
 Roselle Gould, and Miss Miller.

MR. R. M. JAMESON BACK.

Returns From Municipal Investigations at Kansas City.

Robert M. Jameson, secretary of the Bureau of Municipal Research and Reference, returned from Kansas City last night and in conversation with a Texan reporter today Mr. Jameson said, "I had a great trip to Kansas City although I found it very cold,
 the ground being covered with snow and ice when I arrived. The Municipal authorities were very courteous to me in my investigations. I collected considerable data in regard to the municipal administration of the city.
 I stopped off in Dallas two days and also went over to Terrell for a conference with the City Manager of that city. Although I had a very pleasant trip and as State Press always says, I am glad to get back to Texas."

WOOLEN UNDERSHIRTS.

For Baseball Candidates—Coach Requires Garment Suited For Such Exercise.

"When a candidate for the baseball team found yesterday that we were offering a $2.00 woolen undershirt for $1.00 he was greatly pleased and suggested that we let the other boys know through the columns of The Texan," said Mr. Morrison of Moore & Morrison, "and we gladly accepted his advice. This $2.00 garment is of the very best texture—a Dr. Kalm Sanitary shirt and a wonderful value at half price. We also have a few mixed cotton and wool $1.00 garments at 50c each that would probably be acceptable to many."

BANQUET IS GIVEN TO HAYNE ALUMNI

Varsity Students Are Guests of San Antonio Prep School Club
 During Holidays.

Alumni members of the Hayne Debating Club of the San Antonio High School were entertained in San Antonio when the boys returned home for the Christmas holidays. A Mexican supper was given to the returning collegians on the night of December 31, which was followed by a watch party given at the home of Miss Lucy Newton, one of the honorary members of the club.

The Hayne Debating Club, which has long been recognized as the leading debating club of San Antonio has been in existence about seventeen years. Many interesting and some exciting anecdotes go to make up much of its history. It has proven itself to be the most successful club in the Alamo City school and the victories are represented by cups and medals
 that members of the club have won.

Last year the administration of Fred Goeth, now a student at the Varsity, and Gilbert Lang, a freshman at Pennsy, was probably the most successful of the entire life of the Hayne. Robert Field, the 1914 senior champion high school declaimer, now at the Varsity, was a member. Henry Lee Taylor, another Varsity member, and Gilbert Lang, the president, won second honors in the High School debating contest in the same year. In addition to this the Hayne showed much activity in the school entertainments.

The banquet given on the night of the 31st was well attended. The speeches, however, were cut short, to enable the celebrants to go to the home of Miss Newton for the watch party. Members of the Shakespeare Club, a girls organization of the same school, were present and the evening was spent by the guests enjoying dancing and amusements appropriate to the occasion.

 and making creditable showing are:
 McCamas, Law, Moore, Younger, Hill,
 Blackburn, Davies, Smith, J. A., Kel-
