

DAILY TEXAN TO ISSUE FEATURE PAPER THURSDAY

First Rotogravure Section Produced in South Is Feature

WILL BE SIXTEEN PAGES

Individual Pictures of Longhorns and Aggies to Be Included

The first rotogravure section to be issued by any college paper in the South, and as far as is known the first section of this type produced by any college paper in the United States, will be distributed by the Daily Texan on Thanksgiving Day. This announcement was made Friday by Wm. Harry Jack, editor-in-chief, and Tomas G. Pollard, business manager, who together with Henry C. Fulcher, managing editor, and Victor O. Cook, sports editor, have completed arrangements for the new section.

Eight Pages of Rotogravure

The special Thanksgiving Day edition of The Texan will consist altogether of sixteen pages, eight pages of rotogravure and eight in the regular news and feature section. The entire issue will feature the annual game between the University of Texas and A. & M. College, with special stories and pictures of both teams. There will be 5,000 copies printed in this edition, allowing a surplus for alumni visitors.

The first two pages of the rotogravure section will be taken up with group and individual pictures of the Texas Longhorn football team and pictures of the Texas Cowboys and the yell-leader. The next two pages in the section will be devoted to similar pictures of the A. & M. football team, and also special views of the Longhorns in action in previous games of the season. A number of miscellaneous pictures of interest will appear on the remaining pages, together with greetings from various advertisers and supporters of the institution.

The athletic authorities of the University and of A. & M. co-operated with the editors of the Texan in securing material for the section.

JUNIORS TO GET TAGS WHEN DUES ARE PAID

Membership in the Club Will Admit Couples to Mask Dance

Every possible effort has been made this week to give every junior girl an opportunity to pay her dues to the Bluebonnets. This organization is to be the permanent organization of junior girls and will have charge of all the class functions. Until the girls have joined the Bluebonnets by paying their dues, they are not eligible to take part in the festivities of Junior Week, of which the Junior Prom is possibly the best known.

When the girls pay their dues, they receive tags which admit them and their escorts to the junior mask dance to be held December 8. This dance will be given by the junior girls and each junior boy will receive an individual invitation. The girls will favor junior boys preferably.

All girls who have not yet paid their dues may do so by seeing Kathryn Lemly at the Woman's Building. Dues are fifty cents a year.

Benedict Addresses Frosh On History And Traditions Centering Around Varsity

Benny Is Preparing Book on University of Texas

Members of the freshman class were addressed by Dr. H. Y. Benedict, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Dr. Benedict's subject was "History and Traditions of the University." Dean Benny is at present preparing a book on this subject which will comprise four parts: The History up to the opening; the finances of the University; the University as an educational institution; and the student life.

Discusses Finances
The first part of Dean Benny's speech dealt with the history of the founding of the University.

"In 1881, the first appropriation was made," said Dr. Benedict, "and amounted to the enormous sum of $496."

"After Texas' Independence was established, Congress passed a law locating the seat of government in Austin, which was then called Waterloo. There was a great amount of controversy and argument as to where the University would be established, but it was finally decided to locate it in Austin."

Roberts Founder
"Governor Roberts was the man directly responsible for establishing the University. In 1881 he succeeded in persuading the Legislature to pass a law legally establishing the University. There was much trouble in getting appropriations, but later the legislature loaned $125,000 and then, through the efforts of Col. Simkins, appropriated $200,000. With these sums the first buildings were constructed."

A. & M. Was Branch
"A. & M. used to be a branch of the University," said Dr. Benedict, "and still legally is, though no more than legally."

Very little of Dean Benny's speech dealt with the traditions of the University, the "Eyes of Texas" being the only one he touched upon. According to Dr. Benedict the "Eyes of Texas," which we hold so sacred, was written as a joke, and made its first appearance at a minstrel show.

Kaufman Klub Will Give Weiner Roast in Early December

Meeting for the second time this year the Kaufman Klub met Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Unlike its namesake the K. K. K., no masks or other paraphernalia were worn, and no oaths required from the new members who were received into the Klub—the only requirement being that the applicant should be a resident of Kaufman County. The K. K. K., although only a little over a week old, has become quite a husky infant and preparations were made at this meeting to put on the best "weinie roast" that any organization has ever attempted. To see that every member of the Klub is advised as to the date and to be doubly sure that there would be plenty to eat, the president appointed on the social committee the following, S. B. Dickson, Mamie Able, Mary Louise Clyette, and Gordon Wells.

No other meeting of the Klub will be held until after the "weinie roast" in East Woods on December 9.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

Dr. Payne's Sunday School class will hike from Congress Avenue bridge to Barton Springs Saturday afternoon. The hikers will roast weiners and marshmallows at Barton Springs. Each member of the class will invite a girl and meet at the church at 5 o'clock where the picnicers will take a street car for the bridge.

Austin To Greet Visitors To Big Turkey Day Game

Ex-students and friends of A. & M. College or of the Texas University coming to see the Texas-A. & M. game next Thursday, will be welcomed by the Austin Chamber of Commerce, according to the secretary.

The visitors arriving by train will be given cards of welcome on the trains running into Austin. These cards will give information concerning the checking of baggage at the Chamber of Commerce which will be open on Thanksgiving Day until after midnight, the open house in the Woman's Gym between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock a. m. when the University ex-students will meet old friends and the way to get on Clark Field to avoid the rush.

PEREGRINUS WILL MAKE APPEARANCE AT LAW BANQUET

Committees for Yearly Function Are Announced

Perigrinus, the patron saint of the School of Law, will make its one appearance of the year at the annual banquet of the Law School which is to be held at the Driskill Hotel on December 11.

Tickets for this event were placed on sale Thursday and from all indications the interest of the juniors has been aroused in their first law banquet.

The followers of Perigrinus have asked Governor Neff and the judges of the Supreme Court to be present, and the speeches of the evening will be made by the guests and a speaker elected from each class in the department.

The chairmen of the committees are as follows: Invitations, F. W. Hicks; program, Lee Dittert; recreation, Gladys Rowntree; finance, A. D. Moore; arrangement, A. B. Coffee.

Old Liveoaks May Be Sacrificed To Science

Last of the noble and imposing grove of liveoaks which once crowned the hill on which the University of Texas is situated, three beautiful old trees on the northwest corner of the campus are to be sacrificed for the projected Biology Building, unless plans to save them are quickly fulfilled. The trees are said to be among the largest and finest specimens of their kind, and their history is interwoven with that of the University; whether these sentimental considerations will be allowed to interrupt the march of progress as represented by the building of the projected edifice is yet to be determined.

Grove Covered Campus

At one time the entire hill on which the University is built was covered with a thick and imposing grove of very fine liveoaks. When General Magruder was stationed here with a detachment of the Confederate Army during the Civil War he ordered the cutting down of several trees for the purpose of building a blockhouse, and since his time the work of destruction has gone steadily forward, until now not a trace remains of the once beautiful grove except these three lone trees, soon to be sacrificed to the ax of the construction gang.

These trees are especially dear to students and ex-students of the University, for it was under them that the Longhorn baseball teams of former years used to sit and wait their turn at bat, when the athletic field of the University occupied the north side of the campus and Clark

CO-EDS IN T FORMATION WILL APPEAR AT A. & M. GAME DRESSED IN WHITE

Last Rally Will Be Monday Night—Much Spirit Is Shown

Co-eds of the University who are to sit in the white section at the A. & M. game held a peppy rally Friday night, meeting at the gymnasium and marching to Clark Field, where the marching and "T" formation were practiced.

At the Thanksgiving game the co-eds will demonstrate their ability to work together, and perform clever stunts, which should make the Exes and student body proud of the fact that Texas is a co-educational institution.

The girls, who will be dressed in white, and carry orange decorations, will enter Clark Field at the southeast gate, marching around the field to the 50-yard line in front of the grand stand. Here they will form a huge "T" marching to the center of the field. A song will be sung, and stunts, which members of the gym staff refuse to divulge, will be performed. They promise, however, that it will be even more effective than the balloon ascension in 1920.

The cheer leaders, Bee Lytle and Dorothy Fisher, have had special costumes presented to them by E. D. Rather, manager of the Co-op. These costumes have not yet appeared in public, but will make their debuts Thanksgiving. Margaret Belmont, mascot of the W. A. A. will also have a costume exactly like those of the cheer leaders. The mascot will lead the co-eds onto Clark Field.

Fifty cents was taken up from each girl at the rally. Those girls who did not pay this fifty cents, which will be used for decorations will be expected to do so Saturday.

The last rally will be held Monday night at 7 o'clock. After meeting at the gym, the girls will again go to Clark Field to go through their program again. Since this is to be the most important rally of the year, it is imperative that all girls who have white section tickets be at the rally.

Forenoon Dance May Be Held as Thursday Event

Definite announcement that there will be an All-University dance Saturday night and that plans are being made for a dance to be held from 8 to 11 Thanksgiving morning have been made by the committee in charge. Contrary to former announcements, these and all other All-University dances will be held in the Woman's Gym due to the courtesy of Miss Anna Hiss and W.A.A. Plans for the dance Thanksgiving morning are only tentative as the Social Calendar Committee has not yet given its approval.

That the dances are growing in popularity is shown by the increase in the number of students who attend them. With the new floor the Woman's Gym will accommodate 250 couples. In order to reduce the number of stags, fifty cents admission will be charged whether they bring girls or not. As usual the Apaches will play.

WESTERN TITLE IN DOUBT

Southwestern Conference Not Only One That Has Muddle

Because of the muddle that may result in the Southwestern conference race, football fans of this district may be interested in knowing that a similar situation exists in the Western Conference, with the exception that in that conference there are three teams that bid fair to finish with perfect percentages.

Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of Athletics of the Western Conference, announced Tuesday that there was no provision for playing a post season game in case the existing triple tie for the championship remains at the end of the season. Iowa, Michigan and Chicago have teams undefeated in that conference so far and each has one more game to be played.

Major Griffith points out that there have been several disputed titles during recent years and that no steps have been taken toward a post season game. In 1919 Illinois lost to the twice defeated Wisconsin team. But since Illinois played seven games within the conference that year they were popularly awarded the championship. Last year Iowa won on a percentage basis, though they did not meet Chicago, Wisconsin, Ohio, or Michigan, any one of which would have given them an awful battle.

Longhorn Rifle Club to Use Camp Mabry Range for Practice

Longhorn Rifle Club is ready for work on the range. Rifles and the ammunition are furnished free by the government. When the members wish to practice, they can see James Beverly, custodian of the rifles, at B. Hall and sign up for the necessary equipment. Practice is restricted to use of the range at Camp Mabry and the range is open at all times.

Those who wish to join the club may see either James Beverly or H. H. Welborn. Miss Grace McClellan, who is an expert shot and member of the club, stated that she would be glad to instruct any girls who wished to join the organization.

The Rifle Club met in the Y. M. C. A. Friday night. Several new members were admitted and plans for the year were discussed.

CLUB TO HOLD PICNIC

The Lower Rio Grande Valley Club will hold a picnic Saturday afternoon at Barton Springs. All students whose homes are in the Valley are invited to attend, regardless of whether or not their names are on the club roll. The party will assemble at 3 o'clock at the end of the walk from the Main Building to Guadalupe Street.

OKLAHOMA U. AND AGGIES TIE IN HARD FOUGHT GAME FRIDAY

Aggies Win Cross Country Meet in Oklahoma Friday

Texas A. & M.'s cross country team won the Southwestern Conference cross country meet which was held at Stillwater, Oklahoma, Friday. The A. & M. team, led by Captain Heard, finished with 28 points.

The University of Texas entry was second in the meet with a total of 37 points, while Oklahoma A. & M., title winner last year, and considered as a strong contender this fall, was third.

WORK TO STRENGTHEN CLARK FIELD BEGUN

Proposed Recommendations of Architecture Class Will Be Followed

Work has been started on the strengthening of the bleachers on Clark Field which have been constructed to take care of the large number of spectators that will be present at the A. & M. game. This work will be completed the early part of next week.

The strengthening of the bleachers on the grounds is a precaution which is taken every year by the athletic council. It was in a letter written on October 24 to Professor F. E. Giesecke, of the Engineering department, that L. T. Bellmont, University director of athletics, proposed that members of the architecture class inspect the bleachers. The letter which Mr. Bellmont wrote at that time follows:

"About two weeks before the Thanksgiving game, I would appreciate your cooperation in inspecting the temporary seats erected on Clark Field for the contest and suggest any other braces that might be necessary. Scott Yeaman is the contractor."

It was upon this proposal from Mr. Bellmont that the inspection was made, and engineering students taking part in this inspection recommended reinforcements in certain parts of the temporary bleachers.

Longhorn Band Will Complete Plans for Thanksgiving Game

Members of the Longhorn Band will meet Saturday at the Law Building at 2 p. m. to complete plans for the Thanksgiving game. The committee that was appointed by president Maloney Thursday night to confer with L. Theo. Bellmont and other athletic authorities regarding the part the band will have in the program of the day will make its report.

Erwin F. Smith, manager of the organization, stated last night that it is imperative that all members of the organization attend this meeting, so that all arrangements between the band and those in charge of the holiday celebrations may be completed.

Former Director of Co-ed Athletics Is Visitor on Campus

Miss Eunice Aden, who for fifteen years was director of physical training for women at the University, is spending the week in Austin.

Miss Aden, who resigned her position in 1921 in order to start a girls' summer camp on Medina Lake, which is the only girls' camp in Texas, was at the University when the Woman's Gym was in the basement of the Woman's Building. She got the idea of having cabins for the girls from Dartmouth, and purchased Mammy Cabin from a family of negroes, and had it hauled to its present position. Later she secured an appropriation for Oak Lodge, and in 1920 had the house boat installed on Lake Austin, for the use of University girls.

Other Conference Games Will Be Played Thursday

Oklahoma A. & M. and the University of Oklahoma played a 3 to 3 tie in their game Friday afternoon, marking a game in which each team was fighting to the utmost. Field goals were the only kind of scoring that either team could accomplish, both teams showing a strong defense when their goal lines were in danger of being crossed for touchdowns. Oklahoma A. & M. is the only team in the Southwestern Conference which had a game scheduled for this week.

Big Games Thursday

It is on next Thursday that the big games all over the conference will take place, and it is for these games that the respective Southwestern Conference teams have been preparing during this week. On the results of the Thanksgiving Day clashes hinges the championship of the Southwestern body.

To University students, the main game of next Thursday will be played in Austin, when the Bible-coached cadets from Aggie land invade the Longhorn stronghold for the yearly combat. Both A. & M. and Texas have been devoting the week to hard preparations for the Turkey Day clash, and when the two teams line up against each other next week there will be a real game from start to finish.

Baylor-S. M. U. Game Attractive

Baylor and S. M. U. will be in another Southwestern Conference game Thursday that will attract the attention of sporting fans over the state. Baylor at the present time is in a tie with Texas for first place in the conference standing. The S.M.U. Mutangs, who had been showing up to advantage this year, fell by the wayside last week when the University of Arkansas sprang an unexpected 9 to 0 victory over them.

The third conference game of Thanksgiving Day will take place at Fort Smith, Ark., between Oklahoma A. & M. and the University of Arkansas. Rice Institute, the other member of the conference, plays the University of Arizona, a non-conference eleven, on Turkey Day.

LONGHORN SQUAD IS PREPARING FOR GAME

Coaches Taking All Precautions to Insure Classic Contest Thursday

Although they have no game scheduled for this week-end, the University of Texas Longhorns will be working harder than if they were in a real clash in preparing for the big game of next Thursday with the Texas Aggies.

The Orange and White players have been going through intensive afternoon workouts all this week, and the shadows of night have not served to halt their practices for the Aggie clash. A painted ball has been brought into use by the coaches, and the men are kept at their posts until some time after darkness has fallen. Large searchlights on Clark Field also are brought into use for this night practice.

The Longhorn coaches are taking no chances for the A. & M. game, but are putting their men through every phase of the game in an effort to have them in tip-top shape when the time for the game arrives. There probably will not be such intensive workouts in the three days of next week, but the men will be watched carefully against any possibility of growing stale. Too much practice can prove as harmful as not enough, and the Texas gridiron coaches are watching carefully for any detrimental signs that might be caused by overpractice.

Editorials

ENLARGING THE CAMPUS

The aggressive policy of the University Land Acquisition Board in its attempt to purchase the additional acreage for the campus, as authorized by the Legislature, promises an early completion of this important movement. Although the board over a year ago began its task of enlarging the forty-acre tract by the addition of 135 acres, its work has been delayed by various technicalities and necessary formalities. With the successful prosecution of the board's present plans, the University will acquire the required room for its future growth.

Detailed plans and arrangements for the University's development necessarily must await the purchase of the remaining tracts of land. Tentative plans for a Texas stadium and a Texas Memorial Union are being made; but the actual realization of these projects must await the enlargement of the campus. The early construction of a new building on the present campus is being arranged for, but this one building will bring relatively little relief to the overcrowded plant of the University. The unsystematic and faltering support of the institution in the past naturally has resulted in the plant and facilities being far unsuitable and inadequate to the pressing needs and requirements.

When the enlarged campus has been secured, the University can proceed to formulate a comprehensive program and plan for its future development and growth. A proper slogan would be "a greater University for a greater Texas."

VIOLATING "DEAD WEEK"

In previous terms there have been a few violations of the University regulation for "dead week." The official rule adopted by the faculty provides that during the last seven days of each term before examinations no written examinations or reviews shall be given; and all essays, theses, synopses, and the like, must be handed in before this period begins. This regulation was not adopted on any foolish or arbitrary ground; it was established in order to furnish the student with one week in which to prepare for examinations, without having to devote any of this time to quizzes and theme writing.

If the real object of examinations is to lead the student to secure a general view of the whole subject and readiness in the use of it, rather than to find out how much he knows, there should be a strict observation of "dead week," so that he may have time for such study and preparation.

The Musical Criticism

The Texan editor's two-column assurance that the note appearing at the end of the Garland Day firing line of Wednesday's issue did not mean what it seemed to the average reader to mean is most gratifying. There is no disposition on the part of the writer to have the Texan anything less than an independent, progressive college newspaper; but when its news columns carry a criticism such as that of Mr. Kendall's in Tuesday's issue, the dividing line between independence and gross injustice has been crossed— injustice to those who have been at once our invited guests and our gratuitous entertainers in a program whose excellence is to be judged by the enthusiasm of the applause rather than by the opinion of a single individual. It is doubtful whether there is in existence a proper organ for the publication of such a criticism as that referred to. Certainly there is none such on the campus of the University of Texas.

Independence and progressiveness (and aggressiveness) forever as a Daily Texan policy; but ingratitude and injustice to invited guests of the University of Texas never! In the words of the Texan editor's perilled criticism on the "graded copy" of the Tuesday issue: "Be sure you are right before you throw any bricks."

League Publication Being Mailed Out to State High Schools

November issue of the "Interscholastic Leaguer," the official organ of the Interscholastic League is just off the press and is being mailed to the various high schools over the state. Over five thousand high schools in the state are subscribers to this publication, which is supervised and edited by the Interscholastic headquarters here and printed on the University press.

Among the many articles pertaining to interscholastic league topics, there are several special writeups by high school faculty members and students. Rod Bedichek, head of the Interscholastic League division of the Bureau of Extension is editor of the official publication of the League at the present time.

Pre-Med-Frosh Game Slated As Curtain Raiser on Saturday

A hard battle is expected this afternoon at 1 o'clock on Clark Field when the Pre-Meds clash with the freshmen in a game preceding the Longhorn-Freshman game to decide which team will loppose the Engineers in the final game for the Intramural championship. Neither the Pre-Meds nor the freshmen have been in actual combat having won their way to the semi-finals by default. Both are said to have been practicing hard and are ready for the tussle. The winner will meet the Engineers either Tuesday or Wednesday for the title.

BUTTE AND STEWART GO TO LEAGUE MEETING AT FORT WORTH SUNDAY

To Help Frame Public Utilities Bill for Texas Cities

In order to attend a meeting of the Public Utilities Committee of the League of Texas Municipalities Saturday, Dr. G. C. Butte, Professor of Law and Frank M. Stewart, Instructor in Government, left for Fort Worth Friday night. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the League's public utilities bill, of which a tentative draft is to be submitted by Dr. Butte. The bill, as it now stands, would place all such utilities under the supervision of the Railroad Commission.

After consideration by the public utilities committee of the League the bill will probably be further considered by a general meeting of the officials of League member cities before being presented to the legislature.

City Attorney J. Bouldin Rector of Austin is general chairman of the committee. The city attorneys of Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Cisco, the mayors of Breckenridge, Orange and the city manager of Bryan are members of the committee. Mayor Cockrell of Fort Worth, president of the League of Texas Municipalities, and Frank M. Stewart, executive secretary, are ex-officio members.

TEXAS REVIEW WILL BE OFF PRESS SOON

Autumn Issue Contains Articles by American and English Writers

Copies of the autumn issue of the Texas Review, quarterly publication of the University of Texas, will soon be ready for distribution, according to Dr. R. A. Law, professor of English in the University, and editor of the publication. Articles contributed by writers from various parts of the United States and England will appear in the current issue. Other members of the University English faculty on the staff of the publication are J. P. Dobie, associate editor, and Miles L. Hanley, managing editor.

Charles E. Young, of Iowa State University, has contributed an article on "Edmund Rostund." Articles by two professors of Smith College, Massachusetts, will also be published; namely, "John Taylor, Water Poet," by Willard Thorp, and "On Being Curious" by Stanley Alden. Stanley T. Williams of Yale University has contributed an article on "Whitwell Elwin, A Critic of the Eighteenth Century in Literature."

Writing from England, Will Hays comments on an account of Walt Whitman that was written by an alumnus of the University of Texas. His subject is "The Birth of the Bible." Verses by H. M. Jones, professor of comparative literature in the University of Texas, are contained in the Review. Another instructor, B. M. Woodbridge, who is now on leave of absence at Reed College, Oregon, has contributed an article on "Maupassant's Realism." There is an article on "Spanish Novelist: Juan Valera," written by Clyde Chew Glascock of Rice Institute. "Sketches of Texas Prairie" is the title of a poem to appear, written by G. B. Bond. The poem was awarded three first prizes in a competition open to all Texas citizens and American College students.

STUDENTS MAKE SURVEY
The students of the civil engineering department are now making a survey of the northwest corner of the campus so that they may furnish Herbert Green, University architect, with additional material to work with in his plans for the new Biology and Botany Building.

Theodora Cammack of Dallas will be the guest of Murrell May next week.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Bradley of Roswell, N. M., will visit their daughter Roberta during next week.

Julia Lobban of San Antonio is spending the week-end in Austin.

John Corley Jr., of Mexia is spending the week-end in Austin.

Margaret Marsh of Tyler will visit at Mrs. Legg's during next week.

Ed Robertson has gone to Dallas for a few days on business.

Ben Proctor of Wichita Falls will spend the week-end in Austin.

INDOOR BASEBALL IS ORGANIZED BY GIRLS

Indoor baseball teams of University of Texas girls have been organized for this season and are under the direction of Johnnie Gilkerson, of Jayton, manager for this sport. A definite plan for match games has been worked out and the winning team will be awarded a silver loving cup. The teams which play on Mondays and Fridays will meet the teams which play on Tuesdays and Thursdays in several match games during the term. Competition between the teams is made stronger by the fact that those playing on the different days are under instruction of different members of the staff of physical training.

COACH PENA HAS HAD STREAK OF HARD LUCK

Kangaroo Star Declared Ineligible Near Close of Season

Dave Pena, former varsity star who is now football coach at Austin College, has had a streak of hard luck. Just when it seemed that he was to win a championship his first season it developed that his star player is ineligible and all games played this season have been thrown out of the official standing. The action came as a complete surprise to Austin College officials as earlier in the season the player in question had been declared eligible.

The player in question is Hub Hollis, veteran fullback and captain of the team. Hollis played baseball with a professional team in Oklahoma during the past summer and had received pay for his work. However, he had not signed a contract and as the rules were interpreted this fact saved him. Now the coaches of Trinity and Simmons Colleges have pointed out to the officials that a ruling was passed about a year ago that to play for money, with or without a contract, makes the player ineligible. The action of the eligibility committee leaves the title of the T. I. A. A. between Simmons and Howard Payne, both of whom have been defeated by Austin this season.

Strong Team

Whether or not Pena gets credit for coaching a championship team, he certainly will get credit for putting out the strongest team the T. I. A. A. has known in years. Austin has lost only one game this season, their first game which was against the Longhorns on Clark Field. In this game the kangaroos held the Longhorns to a 19-0 score, the best showing they have made for some years. Austin defeated Howard Payne after that team had walloped the Farmers in their opening game by a 13-7 score. They also took the rampaging Mustangs from S. M. U. into camp by a 10-7 score.

Other victims of Pena's fighting eleven from Sherman are Daniel Baker, Simmons, T. C. U. and Southwestern. The present season has been the most successful the Kangaroos have experienced in many purple moons and even if they do not get credit for the championship of the T. I. A. A. it is pretty certain that Dave Pena will have a home there for some time to come. Most of the credit for the coaching goes to Pena because he has been in charge of the team most of the season. ## ELDERS DEFEATED BY YOUTHS FRIDAY IN TENNIS MATCH

Thalheimer and White Show
Good Form in Defeating
Stacy and Penick

By Leon Radoff

Fighting against odds that must have seemed conclusive from the very beginning, Penick and Stacy dropped three straight sets to Thalheimer and White that counted for the match and the University open doubles championship. The first and third sets went to extra games and the second was won decisively by the younger team. The scores were 7-5, 6-2 and 14-12.

Stacy who played with Penick on the defeated team was by far the outstanding star of the match. Time after time he recovered returns that looked impossible. He won his service games consistently and despite the weakening effects of a recent illness he played strongly throughout the game and was fighting for every point at the finish of the third set. His left handed, overhead serve repeatedly won straight service points and his versatile defense and steadiness at all times easily placed him ahead in individual performance.

White Brings Victory

White was greatly responsible for the victory of the University team. He was unsteady at the start but after the first set he played the same brilliant tennis that carried him to the Southwestern Conference championship last year. His placements were puzzling to his opponents at all times and many of his shots found his opponents flat-footed on the other side of the court. White did not, however, play the net in his usual form and many returns that should have been easy for him were driven into the net.

Penick played the same conservative game that he has used throughout the tournament and several times he redeemed points that brought applause from the spectators.

Thalheimer was never able to gain his usual form and his wildness was as evident at the conclusion as at the start of the match. His service was not of championship calibre and many of his returns cleared the fences at the ends of the courts. But whatever he lacked in his service and service returns he more than made up by his brilliant net work and easy lobbing.

Final Set Hard Fought

The third set and final set soon resolved itself into an endurance test. White and Thalheimer played on the defense during the early games and several times Stacy and Penick led by one or two games. After about the fifteenth game, however, Stacy began tiring and although he fought hard he was no longer able to flash over the entire court as he had done earlier. Penick also seemed affected by fatigue, and White and Thalheimer, who by virtue of their strenuous training were still fresh, won their twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth games in succession for the final result.

This match concluded the first annual University Open Tournament. White and Thalheimer will receive the trophies offered by Will Caswell of Austin. Thalheimer also won the singles trophy in the singles matches that were completed last week.

Isn't Nature Wonderful
"But surely," said the haughty dame, "if I pay the fare for my dog he will be treated the same as other passengers and be allowed to occupy a seat?"

"Of course, madam," the guard replied, "provided he does not put his feet on it."

FRESHMAN-SHORTHORN GAME SATURDAY WILL BE COLORFUL CLASH

Stars on Both Elevens Indicate
Fight Between These Two
Rivals

One of the most colorful clashes of the football season will be staged this afternoon at 3 o'clock on Clark Field when Freddie Moore's Shorthorns meet Clyde Littlefield's freshman eleven in battle. The Shorthorns are smarting under a couple of defeats administered to them by the freshman eleven during the last two seasons and they will be out there battling stubbornly for a victory this afternoon. But the freshman squad realizes the stiffness of the battle and will endeavor to turn back the charges of the Shorthorns successfully for the third straight year.

Great rivalry is anticipated in the game because the game is a grudge affair. Both teams will fight with all of their power to put across a victory. There is no basis for a comparison between the two rival elevens of this season, except through their scrimmages with Varsity. Both teams have demonstrated in the scrimmages against the Longhorns that there is little difference between them.

The freshmen are expected to use the forward pass as their main offensive weapon, while the Shorthorns will rely on the strength of their line plunging to march them to victory. Bill Bethea, freshman half and punter, will give his team an edge in punting as the Shorthorns do not have a kicker who can compare with him. Captain Fly, brilliant quarterback of the freshman squad who has starred in both games played by the freshmen will meet a worthy opponent in the game in Joe Dawson, Shorthorn quarterback, who is very dangerous in a broken field and likely to bid with the freshman fash for stellar honors.

BUREAU OF EXTENSION IS OFFERING SLIDES FOR USE OF FACULTY

Work Heretofore Has Been Restricted to Place Outside of Austin

Heretofore the field of the Visual Instruction Division of the Bureau of Extension has been mainly restricted to the schools, clubs, and other organizations outside of Austin in furnishing slides and educational films. Only a few slides and films have been used here in the University, but circular letters are now being sent out to all instructors in the University extending to them all facilities of the division in teaching students by means of the eye.

Some examples of what University instructors have done in this way may be given in the work of Professor L. W. Payne, who has prepared a list of lantern slides, together with a lecture entitled "Early English Stages and Playhouses." Professor H. M. Jones has just completed a similar set of slides. A now famous set "Texas Wild Flowers" was prepared by Professor B. C. Tharp, adjunct professor of Botany. Others are "Why Germany Failed" by Dr. J. L. Boyesen, "Germany's Dream of a World Empire" by Professor T. W. Riker, "Scenes from Mexico" Dr. C. W. Hackett, and "From Texas to Yellowstone" by Dr. J. M. Kuenne. A particularly interesting set is that of George Pinlay Simmons, called "Texas Shore Birds" and when shown at national meetings of ichthyological and ornithological associations this fall by Instructor Simmons induced several eminent ornithologists to contemplate a visit to Texas for the purpose of studying Texas birds.

The service also includes the booking of educational films in correlation with various departments in the University. Recently "Julius Caesar" was exhibited before students of the classical languages. An attempt is now being made to book the film clarifying the Einstein Theory for the physics department. A special offer has been made to the whole faculty to investigate the co-operative measures of the Visual Instruction division.

Natural Climax

Engineers Have New Paper

The first edition of "The Amplifier," a new paper published by the Engineering students of the University of Ohio, recently appeared on the campus. The paper will be distributed free of charge to the students and faculty of the Engineering College. The purpose of this sheet is to bring before the Engineers information that will be beneficial and instructive.

Women's Sports to be Regulated

To regulate the new interest in athletics for women, which some authorities say is destined to ruin the race and make it weak and puny, the American Physical Education has been formed at the University of Wisconsin. The purpose of the organization is to determine the kind of athletics suitable for women and what amount of time should be devoted to them. The committee also tests the corrective exercises for girls who are as strong as they should be.

Work on Bonfire Begins

The work on the huge bonfire that is constructed annually by the Aggies of Oregon for the University of Oregon, has been started. Before the work has been done by the freshmen, who have lost much sleep and time from study but this year the work will be done by the different classes. The structure will be twenty four feet square at the base and twenty seven feet high. Material has already been donated for the fire. The different classes will guard the fire all the night before it is touched off.

CHAPEL NOTICE

The leader of Chapel Friday was Miss Alma Stack of Brownwood, who has charge of the work among the students in the Baptist institutions in West Texas. She spoke on one of Paul's most well known chapters in which he gives the recipe for happiness and success. He exhorts to "joy in the Lord" with the promise that the Lord will be true to every one who depends upon Him. He urges contentment upon the basis of alliance with God. From this chapter, Miss Stack produced the formula that "Life plus failure multiplied by God equal success."

The speaker this morning will be Rev. O. P. Campbell, who has charge of the Bible Chair and the educational work of the University Baptist Church.

They like to go to the "Cactus" on Sundays. Special dinner, 12m. to 2 p. m. Open evenings till 7:30 p. m.
