Traffic Safety Group Meets with Officers

Citizens to Help In Austin Police Drive Against All Violators

In line with the Austin Police Department's drive on traffic violators which came out of orders of the Austin City Council, a citizens' Advisory Traffic Safety Committee, with Dr. R. C. Martin, associate professor of government in the University, as its chairman, met last night. The committee was named, and Dr. Martin was appointed chairman, by the City Council in meeting last Thursday.

William L. McGill, director of the University Exposition, V. I. Moore, dean of student life, Ray E. Lee, lecturer in journalism and managing editor of the Austin American, and J. W. Calhoun, comptroller of the University, are also members of the committee.

Discussion of several means of bringing about traffic enforcement and formulation of rules of procedure occupied the opening session of the committee. J. Bouldin Rector, city attorney, and R. D. Thorp, chief of police, spoke to the committee on the pressing need for some means of cutting down Austin's accident and fatality rate. L. G. Phares, newly-appointed director of the Texas Bureau of Public Safety, mentioned the work of his department, and suggested education of school children as the only way to bring on enlightened public opinion for traffic safety.

Authority was given Dr. Martin, as chairman, to appoint an executive committee, and to appoint, with the help of the executive committee, sub-committees to handle each type of problem confronting the committees in traffic safety work.

Mr. McGill commended the work of the police department at the opening of the present session of the University, and spoke for more authority behind the laws.

Other members of the committee are as follows: Louis Blenderman, J. Harris Gardner, the Rev. Joseph McGuire, Walter Long, J. E. McClain, H. T. Knappe, Charles E. Green, Walter Paulsen, John Zelle, David Lamme, A. S. Hull, C. A. Schutze, E. A. St. John, John Keen, B. J. Rupert, Charles H. Berg, Mrs. Ethel Wood Roberdeau, Mrs. Clarke Campbell, Mrs. Viola Spiller, T. R. McKeever, Noel Amstead, A. F. Smith, Charles H. Newell, Police Captain Tom Neal, Fire Chief John Woody, Walter Seaholm, and J. E. Motheral.

Castaneda Ends Absence Leave

Dr. Carlos E. Castaneda, Latin-American librarian, has recently returned from a two-year's leave of absence during which time he has written a volume entitled "History of the Texas Mission Era." The completed work consists of four separate volumes including the period from 1674 to 1731. It will be published this winter by the McMillan Publishing Company.

The Quivera Society of California will release "Marfi's History of Texas, 1637-1779" next month edited by Dr. Castaneda with introduction and notes. The manuscript history was lost for over one hundred and fifty years and found by the editor in the Franciscan Archives at Mexico City in January of 1931.

While Dr. Castaneda was away on leave of absence, the Latin American Collection was in charge of Miss Maurine Wilson.

Men's Glee Club Tryouts Extended

Tryouts for the Men's Glee Club will be extended over the rest of this week and probably Monday and Tuesday of next week, Gilbert E. Schramm, director, announced Wednesday. Tryouts being held from 10 to 11 o'clock and from 2 to 5 o'clock for the Girls' Glee Club will probably be finished today.

Because the manager suddenly resigned last Saturday, the usual notices were not issued concerning the men's tryouts which should have been held Monday and Tuesday. Only about fifty men were selected out of those reporting at that time, while there are usually from 100 to 150. Any men wishing tryouts should report to Mr. Schramm, who directs the tryouts in the Tower Room of the Texas Union.

Austin Police Issue Warning To Students

With one more victim added to Austin's already heavy traffic fatality list for 1935, the Austin police department Wednesday had issued a second warning to student drivers.

Thirteen deaths in less than nine months led the Austin city council to issue orders for intensive traffic enforcement drive. Begun August 19, the drive in the form of tests for mechanical defects, landed many an Austin motorist before Judge J. W. Maxwell of the Corporation Court. No excuses were accepted, and fines ranging from $1 to $200 were slapped on the careless motorists.

With the opening of school, added traffic problems have sprung up. Around Austin's schools, police direct the movement of traffic, protect school children. Parking and safety zone lines have been repainted, leaving no excuse for illegal parking or driving.

"Traffic complaints already marked up for September total 273," said Captain Tom Neal, chief of the traffic bureau. This is 120 more than the 153 complaints for the first 25 days of May of this year, which month he selected at random for comparison.

Police pencils have been busy making out traffic violation tickets, and as Captain Neal says, "A ticket means a fine."

"University students, as well as others, should remember that violation of moving traffic or parking ordinances means a fine of from $1 to $200," Captain Neal warned. The Austin speed limit is 20 miles an hour.

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University, and J. W. Calhoun, comptroller, have been asked by Police Chief R. D. Thorp to cooperate with city officials in the traffic safety drive. Safety posters will soon appear on the campus.

Mexican Students Will Enroll

Two students from Mexico will be sent to the University on the Farmer Scholarship, E. J. Mathews, registrar, announced Wednesday. Only one student has been chosen, Ignacio Galvado-Salamanca, who is a former student of the University, having taken his bachelor of arts degree in June, 1935.

The students which The University of Texas will send to Mexico have not been chosen, Mr. Mathews said. Applicants for these scholarships may be of either sex. This exchange of students is supported by the income from the E. D. Farmer International Scholarship Fund and the awards are made on a competitive basis by a special committee of award in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Board of Regents.

Women Architects Plan Vase Exhibit

Alpha Alpha Gamma, professional architectural fraternity for women, met Tuesday to discuss plans for the school year. The program will coincide as nearly as possible with the one received from national headquarters.

An exhibition of rare vases owned by Dewey Bradford, Austin artist, was planned for the week of October 7 to 13. Florence Smith, president, is to arrange for the exhibit, and, if possible, a lecture by Mr. Bradford.

A combined luncheon and business meeting is to be held Friday at the Home Economics Building.

Arrowood to Give Illustrated Lecture

Dr. C. F. Arrowood, professor of the history and philosophy of education, will give an illustrated lecture on his trip through Europe at the meeting of the University Club, Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. Arrowood were in Europe during the past summer. They have returned with pictures and snapshots from several countries.

Mathews Warns Late Registrants

Total Reaches 7165, 811 More Than Last Year at Same Time, Auditor Says

With the registration total at 7,165 yesterday, E. J. Mathews, registrar, was urging students to complete their registration before the first six days of classwork have passed and thereby avoid the penalty of the loss of two hours credit for late registration. Enrollment through Wednesday was 811 more than for the same day of registration last year, the University Auditor reported.

Mr. Mathews said, quoting from the current catalogue, "No student may enter for credit later than the sixth class day this fall, Friday, September 27 of either semester, except under unusual circumstances, and then only with the approval of the registrar, and of the dean and instructors concerned."

"Any undergraduate student, except in the School of Law, who, with these permissions, registers after the first six days of classwork this fall, Friday, September 27, will be charged with two semester hours of negative credit if he settles with the auditor on the seventh or eighth day of classwork, three semester hours if he settles on the ninth or tenth day of classwork, and four semester hours if on or after the eleventh day of classwork."

"I want to stress the fact," he continued, "that a student, as stated in the catalogue, is not registered, is not in the University, is not entitled to University privileges, until he has paid his fees."

"I hope," concluded Mr. Mathews, "that every student expecting to register in the University this fall will complete his registration, including the payment of fees, not later than 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, September 27."

Roosevelt Seeks Advice of Clergy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—On the eve of his departure on a trip to the Pacific President Roosevelt has sought the counsel and guidance of a number of clergymen throughout the country on the administration's policies.

He has asked them to advise him about conditions in their respective communities and to "tell me where you feel our government can better serve our people."

This unprecedented action was disclosed today not by the White House but by recipients of the letters. They evidently were widely distributed for clergymen of all denominations have received them in Maryland, Rhode Island, Indiana and other states.

It is believed that they went to a selected list of churchmen, but how many were circulated has not been revealed.

Alves Becomes Head Of Education Bureau

H. F. Alves, master of arts of The University of Texas and candidate for the degree of doctor of philosophy, was formally made the head of the Federal Bureau of Education for the state of Texas at a luncheon held in the banquet room of the Texas Union at 1 o'clock Wednesday. The luncheon was presided over by Dr. C. F. Arrowood, professor in the School of Education.

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University, made a short address during the ceremonies on the administration of the Texas system of higher education. Other authorities who spoke at the luncheon included Dr. C. F. Ayer who made a short address on the scope and work of the Federal Bureau of Education, Dr. B. F. Pittenger, dean of the School of Education who recalled Mr. Alves' former connection with the University, Mr. Stigler who spoke for the State Department of Education, and H. M. Lafferty who spoke for the graduate students.

Three other candidates tossed their hats into the ring last week. They are Congressman Cleveland Dear of Alexandria, who consistently has opposed the Long forces; Judge Richard W. Leche, who has the backing of the Long forces; and Lieutenant Governor James A. Noe, who is running independently on a platform made up of Senator Long's political doctrines.

Dwight Hunter Now Attending Columbia

Dwight L. Hunter, an ex-student of the University is enrolled in Columbia University this fall. Mr. Hunter spent the summer in Europe, having worked his way over on a fruit boat. He took his bachelor of journalism degree here last June and is now planning to specialize in advertising at Columbia.

Mr. Hunter in a letter to one of his former teachers mentioned the very complicated catalogues, with which he said he needed some help before he could understand them.

Mavericks All-Male Review Will Raise Funds for Trips

"The Mavericks' First Annual Review," an all-male musical show to be put on by the Mavericks in order to help pay the expenses of the yell squad on out-of-town trips, will play a one-night stand Wednesday, October 2, in Hogg Memorial Auditorium, Cliff Hagy, director, said Wednesday.

Varsity football players will star in the production, but any man who wants to try out for a part in the show may do so Friday at 2 o'clock in Hogg Memorial Auditorium. Any male student who is talented in any way, or who thinks he is, may try out, Hagy explained.

V. I. Moore, dean of men, has heartily approved of the show. Jack Chevigny, football coach, is also backing the project, which is a real attempt to have an organized rooting section at all University football games, both local and out-of-town.

No Reserved Seats
Tickets to the musical show will go on sale Friday at the Co-Op.

New Codes Up To Industry, Roosevelt Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—President Roosevelt today justified continuance of the skeleton N. R. A. by pointing out it was now engaged in many surveys to ascertain what effect, if any, code abandonment has had upon industry.

If industry can go along without codes, that is satisfactory to the government, the President said, but if the chiseling fringe is continuing to make trouble for honest industry something should be done to remedy the situation.

What might be done would depend in a large measure upon what industry proposes itself, Mr. Roosevelt declared.

The President denied that a top-heavy payroll still prevailed at N. R. A. He said only about 2,700 employees are now on the rolls and that this number will soon be cut to 2,000.

He pointed out that 900 field workers are busy in the survey. They have been instructed to ascertain where industry is still voluntarily living up to the code and also how far "chiselers" have been able to cut in on such efforts.

The President expressed the opinion that 90 per cent of industry has no desire to work employees 72 hours a week at sweatshop wages or employ children, but recognize that this great bulk of employers is confronted with unfair competition.

Another in Race Against Long Men

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 25.—(INS)—The gubernatorial race on Louisiana's tangled political front became a four-cornered affair today with the announcement by Mason Spencer of Madison Parish that he would be a candidate.

Spencer announced he would run in opposition to the powerful political machine built up by the late Senator Huey P. Long, and also would support the federal administration in his campaign.

Spencer, a lawyer and former member of the state House of Representatives, was chairman of the house committee that brought impeachment proceedings against Long when he was governor of the state.

Three other candidates tossed their hats into the ring last week. They are Congressman Cleveland Dear of Alexandria, who consistently has opposed the Long forces; Judge Richard W. Leche, who has the backing of the Long forces; and Lieutenant Governor James A. Noe, who is running independently on a platform made up of Senator Long's political doctrines.

Candidates May Now File Petitions

Assembly, Council Aspirants Will Run In Elections Next Month

Candidates for offices on the Students' Assembly and Judiciary Council may now file their petitions with the Secretary of the Students' Association, Ann Bentley announced Wednesday. According to the Constitution of the Students' Association, all candidates for offices shall file with the secretary at least ten days, and not more than thirty days, prior to the date of the election the following papers:

1. A petition announcing the intention to run for the office desired, stating that the candidate is a "bona fide" student of The University of Texas and signed personally by at least fifty students of the University.

2. A statement signed or countersigned by the registrar of the University stating that the candidate is at the time of filing said petition registered for at least twelve hours of scholastic work in The University of Texas, and that he or she during the last semester in which he or she was registered in the University passed at least nine hours of scholastic work with a grade of at least C average in the nine hours.

At Least Sophomores
Only students of at least sophomore standing are eligible to serve on the Assembly. Each school or college whose enrollment exceeds 300 is allowed one representative, and each 1,500 students, or a major portion thereof, above 300, in each school or college entitles that school or college to an additional representative.

The number of representatives will be determined upon the basis of the number registered for 1935-36. Representation for the schools and colleges in the 1934-35 session was:

Arts and Sciences: three men and two women. In this school if there is an equal number of representatives, half are men and half are women, but in case of unequal representation, the majority are men.

Business Administration: two representatives.
Education: one representative.
Engineering: two representatives.

Graduate: two representatives.
Law: two representatives.
Pharmacy: one representative.
Journalism: one representative.

To vote in this department, a student must have received credit for at least two courses in journalism by the end of the scholastic year in which the election is held.

Six members for the Judiciary Council will be elected from the student body. Three of the members shall be men and three women. To be eligible to serve on the Judiciary Council the candidate must be of at least junior standing at the time of entering the duties of the office.

The date of the fall election is set for October 15, according to the Constitution of the Students' Association which reads that elections shall be held on the third Tuesday of October.

Allred's Visit With Garner 'Pleasant'

Governor James V. Allred had a "very pleasant visit" with Vice President Garner Tuesday but he declined to say yesterday what was the subject of their conversation.

"What did you talk about, Governor?" he was asked.

"Bout three hours," the Governor grinned, then added, "I considered it a pleasure to visit the Vice President, our No. 1 Texan."

The Governor said that while the Vice President would not be able to be in Austin when the Jesse H. Jones portrait in the state senate is unveiled, he insisted that Mr. and Mrs. Garner visit Austin "in the near future."

Mrs. Frank Kerbow In Critical Condition

Mrs. Frank Kerbow, who is ill with typhoid fever at St. David's Hospital, was still in a serious condition late Wednesday night. Attendants at St. David's reported no improvement.

Mrs. Kerbow, the former Vivian Wimberley, is a former student of the University. Her husband, who is also an ex-student of the University, is an Austin lawyer.

Students Lose Nearly $300 in Burglaries

Emperor Haile Orders General Mobilization

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
Copyright, 1935, By International News Service

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Imperial war drums today boomed the order for general mobilization throughout Ethiopia.

The call to arms came as Addis Ababa entered the third day without rain, confirming the end of the rainy season that will make it possible for Italy's war machine to move.

For the first time since the beginning of this Italo-Ethiopian quarrel, for the first time since Menelik called his warriors to fight the Italians in 1896, the emperor let his war drums roll, to tell the tribesmen in the only language they understand that war is at hand.

This is an official mobilization. It requires no written edict, and so far as is known none has been issued.

But it is the only real mobilization that is recognized by the tribesmen.

From historic Adowa in the far north to heat-stricken Dolo in the far south the emperor's war drums, the "negarit," carried their message in Africa's age-old telegraphy.

From each provincial capital and each feudal stronghold the imperial drummers drolled the jungle call of battle with forty-five beats of the negarit. Forty-five times they spelled out "War! War! War!"

GENEVA SORRY

GENEVA, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Emperor Haile Selassie's order for a general mobilization of Ethiopian tribesmen today was considered a grave mistake in most League of Nations circles today.

The move, reported here in news dispatches, was regarded as risking prejudicing Ethiopia's case, which hitherto had been considered stronger than Italy's under the League covenant.

However, it was not believed likely to change the situation immediately, because the mobilization had been expected for some time.

Maverick Denounces 'Liberty Lawyers'

Roundly denouncing the American Liberty League for "counseling disrespect for law," Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio Wednesday said that Liberty League lawyers are advising their clients to disregard and disobey the Wagner labor disputes law.

"The reason President Roosevelt is being criticized so much today is because he is now getting to fundamental things," Maverick said, "and he's stepping on lots of toes. But despite this criticism he will carry the entire South, the West, and the Northwest next year. The real battleground will be in New England."

"The big boys are strong for the constitution so long as it protects their property, but they are willing to violate the bill of rights and the right of freedom of speech with their Kremer bill which would throw a man in jail for criticizing a thieveship-builder," Maverick declared.

University Student Given Police Job

George C. Shannon, University student, has been added to the Austin police force and will work part time with the traffic division.

Shannon is the first of three men to be added to the force in the city's campaign for greater traffic safety, according to Raymond Thorp, police chief. Shannon will assist in safeguarding children against street hazards at Peace School on Rio Grande Street.

SICK LIST

Tommy Hudson Is Heaviest Loser As Thief Takes $51 Of Money for Fees

Austin's cash burglar, or burglars, invaded the University neighborhood Monday and Tuesday nights and managed to pilfer nearly $300 from two fraternity houses, a sorority lodge, and several rooming places.

Lambda Chi Alpha members awoke Tuesday morning to find $68 stolen from the trousseau of L. D. Ruth and Bill Boggess. The clothes had been taken from the bedrooms, carried downstairs, and searched for money. Entrance was made through an unlocked door, police officials announced.

$34 from Purses

The losers at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority house were Rachel Campbell, Eunice Lewis, Margaret Williamson, Harriet Gardner, Joanna Law, and Peggy Moore. The total theft amounted to $34 which was taken from purses. Officers found the purses Wednesday morning on a vacant lot near the sorority house.

Tommy Hudson was the heaviest loser in the ransacking of the Chi Psi house, the burglar getting $51 that Hudson had planned to use in paying his fees. Jeff Austin and John Worral reported the loss of small amounts.

Pocketbooks Found
The pocketbooks and trousseau of the three were found downstairs and apparently had been taken outside as mud and burrs were found on them. The burglar made no attempt to ransack the whole house, but visited only the rooms on the south side of the second floor.

W. A. Dealy, 300 West Nineteenth Street, reported the loss of property totaling $60 which was taken Monday night. Byron Russell, 1607 Lavaca Street, lost about $35 in property also Monday night. Belongings were taken from 707 West Twenty-fifth Street amounting to nearly $10, police were told.

Accounting Frat To Hear Expert

Dr. Henry J. Rehn, secretary-treasurer and comptroller for the American Far-Eastern Match Company in Shanghai, China, will speak at a meeting of Beta Alpha Psi, honorary accounting fraternity, tonight at 6:30 o'clock in the Texas Union faculty dining room.

In 1927, Dr. Rehn was research accountant in the Bureau of Business Research of the University, and was associate professor of accounting here in 1930-31. From here Dr. Rehn went to China to head the Department of Business Administration of Chiang Tung University, which is supported by the Chinese government.

The subject of his address is to be "Business Practice in China." All members have been urged to be present.

Exchange Club Meets Next in Detroit

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Detroit was chosen as the next convention city of the National Exchange Club today.

Officers were to be elected later in the day. W. H. Beck, Jr., of Griffin, Ga., first vice president, is scheduled to be elected president. Harold Harter of Toledo will be re-elected secretary.

Resolutions adopted called for a more equitable distribution of taxation. The air progress program of the National Aeronautical Association was endorsed.

Among speakers today were Tom Bailey, former speaker of the Missouri house, and Lieut. Richard Aldsworth of the Newark, N. J., airport.

The attendance club went to Salt Lake City and the progress membership trophy went to South Carolina.

The Weather

For Austin: Cloudy today.

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—(INS)—East Texas: Thursday cloudy, occasional rain. Cooler.

West Texas: Partly cloudy, local showers Thursday. Cooler in north portion.

Javelinas Disregard Mud and Rain to Prepare for Longhorn Game

Coach Uncertain About Starters At Two Posts

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 25.—The Texas A. & I. Javelinas disregarded mud and rain here today as they again took a hard workout in preparation for their Saturday clash with the University of Texas Longhorns.

Passing out new formations and new plays to his charges, Coach Bud McCallum held a long session of dummy scrimmage in which he stressed the need for perfect timing in execution of plays. The Javelinas were apparently mastering the new plays and formations in grand style as almost perfect execution marked the completion of the plays.

The starting line-up appeared quite certain with perhaps the exception of the center and half-back posts. Perhaps the outstanding candidate for the center position is Johnny Adams, 155-pound midget. Adams' superior play, despite his weight disadvantage, has put him ahead of Chester Prejean, converted halfback, and Lindell Ramey, 175-pounder who only today returned to practice after being out with an injured ankle.

In the backfield, McCallum has five lettermen ready to carry on the offensive attack. Jimmy McMillan is a fairly certain starter at quarterback and Ace Carson is practically assured the fullback post on the starting eleven. But when McCallum attempts to select a starter at halfback from Lowell Ramey, two year letterman, Captain Jack Schuepack, and Johnny McNabb, the decision is tough. Add to this two promising sophomores, Grady Lester and Clarence Jarvis, and you may see the position McCallum is in.

The line will no doubt include: Rader, 195-pounds, and Ford, 210 pounds, tackles; King, 175 pounds, and Lerma, 180 pounds, guards; Massey, 170 pounds, and Richards, 180 pounds, ends. Of these men, five: Rader, King, Ford, Massey, and Richards, are lettermen.

There remains only one Javelina on the injured list. "Red" Owings, tackle, is still out with an injured ankle. Jimmy McMillan, quarterback, has been suffering from a slight illness, but it is not thought that it will hinder his appearance against the Longhorns Saturday.

Thursday's workout will be the last before the Javelinas leave Friday morning for Austin.

Fresh Water Kills Marine Life

Millions of dead fish strewn along a 50-mile strip of coast near Brownsville recently further substantiate the belief that the catastrophe to marine life has been the result of large quantities of fresh water pouring into the Gulf. Rio Grande floods of the last three weeks temporarily changed the temperature of a portion of the Gulf water. Dr. E. J. Lund, professor of zoology, believes.

With Dr. A. H. Wiebe of the Texas game, fish, and oyster commission, Dr. Lund studied the causes of previous extensive deaths of fish through the late June, July, and August months on the beaches near Port Aransas. After a three week's study of Gulf conditions, the scientists returned to Austin to report their findings to the game commission.

Embodied in the report were the findings that the unprecedented amount of flood waters that drained into the Gulf during June and early July, increasing the temperature of the surface several miles out by four or five degrees and that the salinity of the water was measurably decreased by the fresh water forcing the salt ocean water into the Gulf before the two had a chance to combine. These two factors were contributory to the deaths of the fish, Dr. Lund believes.

The reports made by the scientists entirely refutes the popular belief along the coast that the fish were poisoned by gasses liberated from crevices formed by shifts of the ocean floor. The dead and decaying fish themselves liberate the "gas" which has been associated with the destruction of marine life, Dr. Lund said.

The report stated: "The escape of irritating gas dissolved in sea water was facilitated by prevailing winds blowing on shore. Appearance of gas was always associated with the simultaneous or immediately previous appearance of decaying fish. No occurrence of gas apart from the appearance of decaying fish was observed or reported. The peculiar irritating sensation produced by the gas and its close association with putrifying fish, along with other considerations leads to the reasonable inference that the 'gas' may have certain volatile amines which commonly appear during putrefaction of fish in alkaline media.

Dr. Lund, who had for more than twenty years been a student of marine biology, has established a small laboratory at Port Aransas from which he and Dr. Wiebe

High School Pals Meet Saturday At A. & I. Game

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 25.—When the Texas A. & I. Javelinas meet The University of Texas Longhorns in Austin Saturday there will be two old teammates playing against each other for the first time.

Back in high school days at Robstown High School, "Tooter" Rader, 195-pound A. & I. tackle, played side by side with Buster Jurecka, star halfback on the University squad. Rader played full-back while in a Robstown uniform.

Rader has pointed out that he has been training "extra hard" for the Longhorn game. "I just want to show my old pal that there is a team in Kingsville which can beat that crew," Rader remarked.

Louis May Fight Walter Neusel In November

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (INS)—Mike Jacobs, promoter of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, today announced he would promote one more fight this year, matching Joe Louis, the sensational negro conquerer of Max Baer, with an opponent to be selected.

Jacobs said the bout, for the benefit of the New York American Christmas fund, would bring together Louis and Walter Neusel, German heavyweight, if the latter defeats Primo Carnera in their fight November 1. If Neusel is defeated, another opponent would be selected for the Brown Bomber, who put Carnera away on June 25. The fight will be held indoors.

Louis said today he would rest for a short time, and might take an extended honeymoon through Europe with his young bride.

Louis expressed a desire to meet Max Schmeling, German heavyweight champion. Told of Schmeling's willingness to meet him, if the match can be made, Louis declared: "Sure I'll meet Schmeling—or anybody else. I'll fight Schmeling next spring if the match can be made."

Schmeling Ready To Fight Louis

BERLIN, Sept. 25. (INS)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, whose chief activity of late has been on the movie set, is "ready and willing" to fight Joe Louis, and expects an early offer from Promoter Mike Jacobs, he told International News Service today.

"I know I am the only serious rival of Louis," Schmeling said. "Nothing would please me more than to get a chance to prove which of us is the better."

What sort of a financial guarantee Max would demand was not specified. It was this little detail—a matter of something like $150,000 to be posted in German bank—that prevented Schmeling's fighting either Louis or Max Baer this month.

Schmeling indicated his confidence that he can beat Louis, and smiled broadly when he was told that Baer, after his defeat, said "Schmeling could give Louis a good battle and might lick him."

Louis' victory, said Schmeling, "was what I expected."

"But the Baer who beat me two years ago was someone else, and the fact that Louis knocked him out does not necessarily prove that Louis could do the same to me."

AGGIES PLAY

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 25. (INS)—Intra-squad practice games, and clashes with the freshmen had begun today on Kyle Field as the Aggies continued their workouts. The regulars engaged the freshmen yesterday for a long scrimmage and then two teams composed of veterans and youngsters clashed for a while.

will be able to make further studies of the occurrences.

Mrs. Marcelle L. Hamer has recently been appointed as assistant to take care of the Texas Collection, which is housed in the Library in the same room with the Latin-American Collection.

Co-Ed Sport Organizations Plan Activities for Season

By LILLIAN HESTER

Plans for co-ed sport activities throughout the ensuing year were made with high enthusiasm and pleasant anticipation Wednesday afternoon by the various sports clubs open to University women.

The open house to be held Wednesday, October 2, at the Woman's Gymnasium was an important item in all discussions and plans were formulated for the Sunday morning breakfast for the officers of the U. T. S. A. which will take place September 29.

The Te-Wai-Hiss outing club held a business meeting and finished their calendar for the year. Their part in the open house will be a demonstration camp club supper on the camp site adjacent to the tennis courts. After open house a new office will be added to the club, that of freshman counselor. The girl to fill this office will be appointed by the executive committee, and suggestions to the committee have been requested from dormitory and faculty members. The club hopes to secure an outstanding student for this office, because Te-Wai-Hiss is the only club to which freshman girls can belong.

Margaret Louise Hill, leader, will represent the club at the Sunday breakfast of the U. T. S. A. council. Era Stephen, treasurer, will also attend. Miss Thelma Dillingham is sponsor.

The Orchestra club members, of which Miss Mary McKee is sponsor, decided to give as their contribution to open house several numbers selected from the program presented last year at Hogg Memorial Auditorium. They will be presented in the dance studio of the Gymnasium.

The Bit and Spur Club announced that tryouts would be held October 7, at Westernfield stables, and that a fee of 10 cents each would be charged all applicants. Other tryouts will be held in the spring.

A donkey polo match to be given at open house promises unusual amusement and plans were made for a display table. Former members of the Bit and Spur club who will be active again this year are Mary Blanche Bower, leader; Mary Russel, assistant leader; Betty Adams, Demra Collins, Monda Marie Hoesy Thompson, Victoria Keidel, Marion Kelly, Jo Nash, Bobbie Purvis, Jamie Ragsdale, Susan Sanford, Ganel Stuart, Lois Schwartz, and Sitty Waring.

Admission to the Bit and Spur club will be based on a practical examination scored on a basis of ten. Such things as mounting and dismounting, general horsemanship, seat, form, gaits, walks, trot and canter will be judged. Miss Leah Gregg is the sponsor.

Tryouts for the Racquet club will take place next Wednesday, Miss Shiela O'Gara, sponsor, announced at the Racquet club meeting. Plans for open house were discussed and formulated, and the business to be brought before the U. T. S. A. Sunday was decided upon. Shudde Bess Bryson, leader, Nanine Simmons, assistant leader, and Virginia Crews, treasurer, will attend the Sunday morning breakfast.

The Turtle club met, as turtles should, in the pool, and exhibition dives and form swimming to be presented at open house were practiced. Plans were made for relay races and other water sports. The year's activities were outlined, and Miss Margaret Hodgins, sponsor, announced that they would be divided into two parts. The first term the club will be divided into two teams, and the gold turtle competition contest will be held to determine the best club swimmer. The second term the Turtle club will present a pageant. Those to attend the breakfast are Frances Hall, president; Dorothy Leedom, secretary; and Mary Jean Murry, treasurer.

The club is very interested in finding girls interested in swimming, and tryouts will be held October 1 and October 9.

The sports managers will meet Thursday, and the entire set-up of the intramural activities will be introduced. These will last throughout the year, beginning October 3 and ending April 28.

PONIES DRILL IN DRIZZLE

DALLAS, Sept. 25. (INS)—Improvement in the smoothness and speed of execution of plays was noted yesterday by Coach Matty Bell as he reviewed the progress of the S. M. U. Mustangs. A better game against the Austin College Kangaroos Saturday than was played against North Texas Teachers last week-end was expected.

Rain interfered some with practice yesterday but the Ponies went through their paces in the drizzle.

Clyde Littlefield Will Referee Tiger Game

University students will have an opportunity to see two familiar faces among grid officials tonight when Clyde Littlefield and Tim Moynihan call the plays at the game between St. Edward's University and Westmoorland College, to be played at House Park, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Littlefield will be referee, and Moynihan will be head linesman. "Hop" Hopkins, former Oklahoma A. & M. player, will umpire.

Coach O'Brien of St. Edward's will probably try out his whole squad in tonight's game in order to get a line on his men before the opening of the Texas Conference schedule next week against Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene.

The St. Edward's coach has announced that bargain rates will prevail for tonight. The general charge will be 50 cents. Students with blanket tax tickets will be admitted for 25 cents, O'Brien said.

HOGS DEFENSE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 25. (INS)—Defensive plays designed to stop the Kansas Teachers were before the Arkansas Razorbacks today. The game with Kansas here Saturday is the Porkers' first of the season and is being watched to give some indication of what to expect from them when they clash with Southwest Conference foes. Formations for use in attempts to make gains were stressed yesterday.

BEARS LOSE TACKLE

WACO, Sept. 25. (INS)—The Bears will be without the services of Emmett Kriel, tackle, when they meet the Hardin-Simmons outfit Saturday night. Kriel has malaria and will be out for ten days or two weeks it was said today. The Bears were put through hard practice yesterday in the rain by Coach Morley Jennings.

Chevigny Will Have Triple Threat Quarterback in Charlie Johnston

Coach Jack Chevigny likes quarterbacks who can pass, kick, and run with the ball besides calling plays well and running the team masterfully. But what coach doesn't? Anyway the point of this story is that with the return of Charles Johnston of Kerrville to the Longhorn football camp there will be at least one quarterback on the squad who can do everything well.

A letter man on the 1933 team, Johnston did not return to school last year, and Chevigny was forced to juggle halfbacks and sophomores around at the signal calling job all season. With the 33 star back in harness, Ney (Red) Sheridan, former Sweetwater all-state halfback, improving rapidly at the post, and John Morrow and Frank O'Rourke, a pair of classy sophomores, coming along, Chevigny has allowed his troubled thoughts to swing elsewhere—say to the center or tackle positions.

Johnston's kicking has been almost on a par with that of Pitzer and the two are likely to divide time on this assignment. His passing has been on a par with that of any of the veteran halfbacks, and he appears at home running a team through the Notre Dame system.

Sheridan, too, has improved his kicking and passing, and his blocking has become so accurate that the Sweetwater "red-head" must be conceded at least a part time job in the Longhorn lineup. His greatest fault last season was recklessness and daring in handling punts and attempting dangerous plays. Much of this gambling instinct overcome, he bids fair to take over a part of the key job this year.

And speaking of rugged and daring field generals—Chevigny has a pair in his two sophomores, John Morrow of Austin and Frank O'Rourke of El Paso. The former, weighing 170, is one of the speediest men arrayed in Orange and White, and the latter, weighing only 160, is just plain "tough."

Morrow is ranked as the leading safety man on the squad and blocks with deadly precision. Only his inability to pass and kick with the older men will keep him out of the lineup this season.

While in high school, O'Rourke was always told he was too light

Tennis Entries Close Tuesday

Entries for intramural tennis doubles will close Tuesday, October 1, Joe Greenhill, senior manager, announced Tuesday. Tournament play will begin Friday, October 4.

Double elimination play-offs will be conducted in the preliminaries. More independent men are needed, says Greenhill, emphasizing that the primary purpose of intramural athletics is the sport and not the finding of the best men. There is no charge for entering any of the intramural events.

Last year's intramural champions were Joe Key and O. W. Harrison, representing the Newman Club. Entrants numbered 611 players.

PHOTOS BEING TAKEN

All students who have paid their blanket tax fee are advised to have their pictures taken at the University Co-Op before Saturday's game. Those who have not paid their fee may still do so at the Auditor's office.

ATHLETES SAY:

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND"

JOSEPHINE McKIM, Olympic champion swimmer. "One of my hard and fast rules in connection with smoking," she says, "is that I always choose a Camel. Camels are such a mild cigarette. I can smoke them steadily, and they don't interfere with my physical condition. They never bother my wind. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

GENE SARAZEN: "It's important to me that Camels are milder. Extra millions are spent for the choicest tobaccos in Camels. They never get my wind or upset my nerves."

LESTER STOFFEN, U. S. tennis doubles champion: "No matter how steadily I smoke, Camels are so mild that they never get my wind. And Camels have a better flavor."

YOU'LL LIKE CAMEL'S MILDNESS TOO. Your own physical condition—your wind... your energy... the good health of your nerves—is important to you. So remember this about smoking: it is a fact that Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They are so mild you can smoke all you want. Athletes say Camels never get their wind or throw their nerves off key.

Work Relief Fund To Be Allocated Before Tonight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Substantially all of the $4,000,000 work relief fund will have been allocated or earmarked before President Roosevelt leaves Washington tomorrow night, the executive declared today at his final press conference.

Among allotments he intends to approve sometime within the next 24 hours is one for $200,000,000 to Secretary of Interior Ickes for a series of limited public works projects. Under conditions laid down by the President these projects must be completed within a year, and must cost not more than $850 per man. As a result they will consist largely of school buildings and water works.

More for N. Y. A. Coming

Rural resettlement has received a substantial allotment in addition to the $31,000,000 already had, but the President did not recall the exact figure.

A great many farms-to-market road projects will be included among work progress allotments, he added. The President also discussed briefly the problem of low cost housing, where again the cost of land is the big stumbling block. If the cost is high it automatically raises the rent to be charged per room. Such projects can be built much cheaper in the South where land is cheaper than in metropolitan areas such as New York and Chicago.

Rents to Be Low

Slum clearance will proceed, however, under a policy that rents must be substantially low—although naturally not as low as those prevailing in the slum which the government is trying to clear. Additional allotments also will be coming up for the national youth administration. Commissioner of education, John W. Studebaker, has prepared four or five projects, the President said, which will provide employment for unemployed college men and others between the ages of 16 and 25.

The major purpose of N. Y. A. however, is to assist boys and girls to complete their education who otherwise would be unable to do so, Mr. Roosevelt said, and approximately $27,000,000 already has been allocated to this end.

University Club Seeks Members

The new directory prepared for members of the University Club contains 160 names together with the profession and phone number of each person. A drive is now being made to increase the membership to 250.

A list of officers of the club since its founding reveals that Dr. W. J. Battle, professor of classical language, was the first president of the organization and that Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University, was the first secretary. The club was founded in 1904 for the purpose of bringing those interested in the University into closer contact, establishing a social center for all interested in educational problems, and providing a place of entertainment for distinguished visitors.

Mavericks --

Card tricks are a favorite with the roofing sections of northern and eastern universities, but the Mavericks and the University are the first to try the tricks in the Southwest.

Mavericks Will Parade

The Mavericks will parade Friday in uniform, Simpson said yesterday, when the first rally is held. The yell club will wear white trousers and an orange jacket.

"It costs almost nothing to be a member of the Mavericks," Marvin Simpson, head yell leader, said Wednesday.

There is no initiation fee or dues of any sort, Simpson explained. The only cash cost will be $1.90 for a uniform and 30 cents for cards to be used in tricks at football games.

In return, members are admitted to all home games free of charge and also receive special traveling rates for out-of-town games. Traveling expenses will be partly defrayed by funds raised by the club.

"Come to Memorial Stadium Thursday," Simpson said, "and join."

with a cowl and with a U. T. emblem on the back.

Members of the organization will be admitted to all local games free of charge. Special rates will be extended them at all out-of-town games. The review scheduled for Wednesday night is the beginning of a drive to raise funds to help finance the out-of-town trips. The first major journey for the Mavericks will probably be made to Baton Rouge October 5.

The organization is planning to support the Steers at the L. S. U. football game. The yell leaders, backed up by a trained yelling section, feel that they can help the team against the L. S. U. eleven.

Ship Canal, Providing Short Cut Across Florida, Gets Under Way

Work has begun on the greatest project of its kind since the Panama Canal—a waterway which, within the next four years, may bisect Florida and make the southern part technically an island.

The new $150,000,000 "Big Ditch" will save the long, perilous ship haul around Florida's reef-strewn tip on which, recently, the steamer Dixie was hurled by hurricane winds.

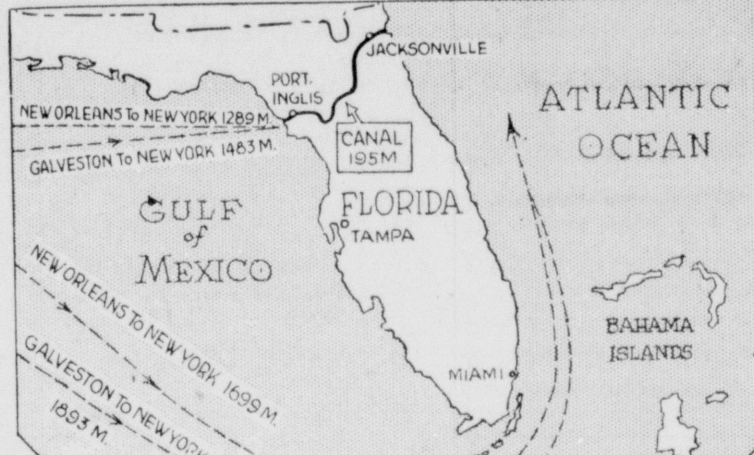

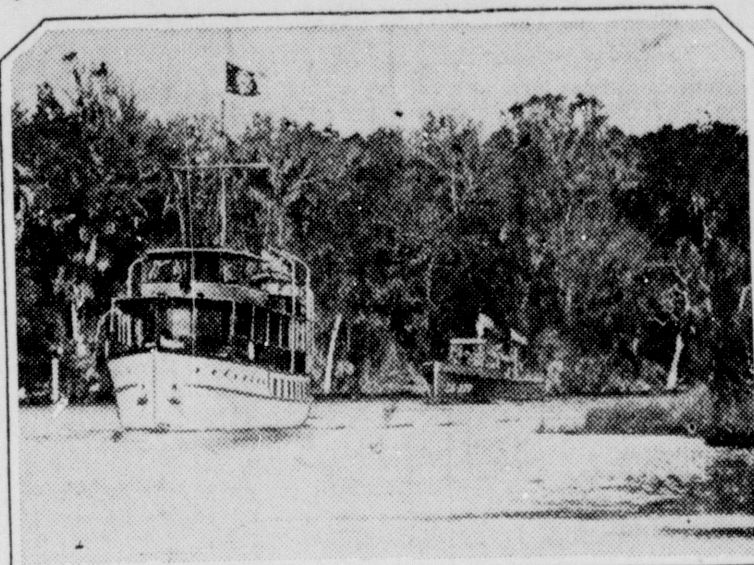

On each trip, it is claimed, vessels plying between New York and Gulf ports such as New Orleans, Galveston, and Tampa, will save several hundred miles, at an estimated annual savings in transportation costs of $7,500,000.

The projected short cut across the top of Florida will extend 195 miles from Jacksonville, on the Atlantic, to a Gulf point near Port Inglis. Creation of half of the projected canal will simply mean dredging to a depth of 30 feet, since 100 miles of its route will coincide with the courses of the Withlacoochee, Oklawaha, and St. Johns rivers. The other 95 miles will be carved through high, open country near Palatka, and between Dunnellon and Silver Springs.

There will be no locks, it being a sea-level canal; but four spill-water dams will be needed to adjust the canal channel to those of the rivers and lakes with which it will connect.

President Roosevelt's approval of an allotment of $5,000,000 to launch work on the Florida ship canal successfully culminates a long campaign on the part of north Florida and the other Gulf states.

The canal seems already to have divided Florida in opinion on its merits. South Floridians are bitterly opposed to the whole thing. Naturally, they don't relish diversion of ship traffic to the north; and they point to the possibility—suggested in an old Geological Survey report—that infiltrating salt sea water might pollute underground water sources and lay waste thousands of acres of rich farms and citrus lands. Despite this opposition, construction of the canal is under way and, if the next Congress sees fit to provide needed additional appropriations, it will go through to completion.

Much of the projected route of the Florida ship canal coincides with existing rivers and lakes. Along banks lined with tropical vegetation, as shown above, stately steamships and luxurious pleasure craft alike soon may wend their way between the Gulf and the Atlantic along the "short cut" pictured in the map below.

Legion Urges Recognition Of Russia Be Withdrawn

'Unceasing Battle' Against Radicals Voted Unanimously By 1,207 Delegates

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Calling for rescinding of American recognition of Soviet Russia on the ground the Soviets have violated their pledge not to carry on or encourage communistic activities in this country, the seventeenth annual convention of the American Legion today dedicated itself to "an unceasing battle" against Communism and all other radical movements.

Rapping "Communism, Nazism, Fascism and every other 'ism' inimical to our American form of government," the Legion's Americanism program was adopted unanimously by the 1,207 delegates to the accompaniment of thunderous cheering.

The program called for anti-communistic activity to be "a major activity of the Legion," instructed every post in the organization to make itself active in the fight, urged school authorities to investigate the nature of organizations utilizing school houses for meetings, and recommended that educational officials take all possible steps to prevent spread of subversive propaganda among students.

Wants Immigration Stopped

The Legion also called for immediate stoppage of all immigration into the country for a 10-year period, immediate deportation of all alien members of radical groups and of criminal aliens, finger-printing of all alien residents, and the immediate deportation of destitute aliens.

As was expected, the Legion also went on record for strong national defense forces, "sufficient to permit us to stay at peace and to defend ourselves if war is forced upon us."

It approved the recently authorized expansion of the army and the War Department's program of modernization and mechanization. The Legion platform also called for a full strength treaty navy, adequately manned, a strong air corps and increased training facilities for pilots, and an adequate merchant marine to act as a navy auxiliary.

Today's session got down early to the business of selecting a site for the next year's convention.

Representatives of the four states seeking the convention site took the platform to extol the advantages of their sections. Governor Ed C. Johnson of Colorado outlined the claim of the mountain section for the 1936 meeting. Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, painted the delights of the New Jersey shore resort.

Legion Parade Colorful Show

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Sons of war and glory, sixty thousand American Legionnaires today put on the show St. Louis has awaited for a year—the most colorful event of the Legion's seventeenth annual convention—the massed march of Legion delegations.

Rank after rank, in a seemingly endless flow, they came, striding as jauntily as they did seventeen years ago when they marched in kiki to the grim business of war. Colors snapping in a fresh breeze that tempered the rays of a late summer sun, units from every one of the 48 states and from Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines were in the march over a route slightly longer than three miles.

Overhead roared a squadron of attack planes from Scott Field, Illinois. Along the route of the march more than 175,000 spectators packed every vantage point, jammed twelve deep on the sidewalks, sweltered cheerfully to view the spectacle.

New Co-Op Laws Adopted by Board

Including a new manner of electing the board of directors and changing the time of installation of the board from September 1 to May 5, a new set of by-laws for the University Co-Operative Society were adopted by its directors last week.

Members of the board who were installed are Dr. H. Y. Benedict, ex-officio member; Dr. J. L. Boyesen, professor of Germanic languages; Dr. C. T. Gray, professor of educational psychology; C. E. Rowe, professor of drawing; and Paul J. Thompson, professor of journalism (chairman), all faculty members; and Joe Riley, Lewis Wilkerson, Jim Daugherty, and Bill Murray, student members. Mr. Thompson was named chairman.

Reason for Change

In the future the board will take office May 5. The reason for this change, Mr. Thompson stated, is that it will be more logical for the board to make plans for the coming school year as well as the coming fiscal year during the summer. The new board will be able to meet before school is out and also to form its plans during the summer vacation, he said. The fiscal year begins July 31.

The by-laws also include a new method of electing the board. The board shall consist first of the president of the University as ex-officio member. Second, there shall be four faculty members appointed by the Board of Regents on recommendation of the President. To complete the board, four student members shall be elected by the Students' Association on the nomination of the president of the Students' Association.

Shakeup in Spring

The student members of the board must be elected after January 1 and before the annual student spring elections. The only limitation to the election of the faculty members of the board is that they be elected after January 1.

Following a student campaign for lower prices and changed policies in neighborhood bookstores last spring, the Society abolished paid membership and changed its policy of buying and selling second hand books.

J. W. Calhoun, comptroller of the University, was elected president of the Society for the twenty-fifth year.

line of march was a gallery. Every lamp post held its full quota of small boys clinging desperately to precarious footholds.

By noon, some two hours after the parade got under way, its very magnificence became almost monotonous. The measured tread of marching feet was almost sporadic. But the crowd held its places, fought for better locations.

The eye ached from the constant passage of steel helmets, polished to mirror brightness, throwing back the rays of the sun. The ear blended the music of more than 300 bands, drum and bugle and life and bugle corps into one vast, overwhelming wave of sound that beat against the air, mingled with the cheers of the spectators and resolved itself into one gigantic drumbeat and bugle-blast. The reviewing stand, where National Commander Frank Belgrano, Jr., Governor J. B. Park of Missouri and other distinguished guests and legion officials stood to take the review, was packed to the suffocation point.

Girl Pre-Med's To Pick Chews

"— And if they don't smoke, we'll have Spark Plug, Levi Garrett's, and chewing gum all there."

There had been quite a bit of discussion as to the tobacco consuming power of freshmen as plans for a freshman pre-medical smoker were discussed Tuesday night by members of Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary pre-medical fraternity.

Someone then added to the general confusion by remarking about the title for the affair:

"If we call it a smoker, the girls won't come, and if we call it a reception, the boys won't; so there you are," Ed Leaton solemnly stated.

After the smoke cleared away, "it" had acquired the name smoker.

"However," Mortimer Bannister pointed out, "the girls are urged to attend, and any interested upperclassmen will be admitted, too."

The freshman pre-med smoker is the first move in a unification plan for pre-meds on the campus being sponsored by the honorary group.

RUSK WILL MEET

Rusk Literary Society will have its first meeting of the semester in Garrison Hall 3 tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Willis Maddox, vice president, announced yesterday.

All old members and any new members interested in extemporaneous speaking and after dinner speaking are invited, Maddox said. In addition to a special program, several faculty members will make talks.

Centennial Head's Resignation Accepted

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The board of directors of the Texas Centennial Exposition today had accepted the resignation of Walter Cline of Wichita Falls, as manager, effective October 1.

Cline, in a statement issued last week at Washington, said he was "forced out." He said he had given notice that he would resign if his salary was cut and if his authority was curtailed to the extent proposed.

No permanent successor to Cline was selected. The management committee is composed of R. L. Thornton, Harry Olmsted and Arthur L. Kramer. Otto Herold, now assistant director, will become acting director when Cline's resignation becomes effective.

The management committee is now making a study of the personnel and organization of the Centennial.

MRS. COLLINS HOSTESS

Mrs. Emerson Collins will be hostess this afternoon to members of the civics committee of the Austin branch of the A. A. U. W. at her home, 212 La Grande, Norwood Heights.

Anyone interested in the work of the committee, particularly the free baby clinic, is invited to attend, whether a member of the A. A. U. W. or not.

Produced by Winfield Sheehan, directed by Victor Fleming, screen play by Edwin Burke, based on the novel, "Rome Haul."

To one who has never felt a love for farming or for the soil, the picture, "The Farmer Takes a Wife," now playing at the Paramount will be a painful dragging ordeal. But to one who can understand and respond to the feeling Henry Fonda puts into words like "It ain't dirt, it's soil, sweet smelling soil," the show is an accurate conception of a man, who regardless of criticism and sarcasm, pursues and attains an ambition which is scorned by his companions.

The picture, based on the life on the Erie Canal in 1840, introduces to theater goers, Henry Fonda of stage fame. It falls short of being fair as a debut picture, for he is cast as wistful, timid, unexcitable Dan Harrow whose thoughts are always on the farm he will buy with the $12 a week pay he gets for guiding a canal boat. He plods along; only one time his temper changes. When he packs and finally leaves the canal, he raises his voice and gets so excited that it's a jarring shock to know that he is alive and vital and that were he cast in a modern fast moving play, he would bid for fame.

Playing with him is Jaynet Gaynor, the high tempered cook for canal boater, Charles Bickford. Instead of sweet Miss Gaynor there is Molly Larkin who "gets her dander up" if anyone mentions railroads or farms. Thus the love story is a turbulent conflict of a boy, fresh from the farmlands and eager to get back and a girl who is attached to the water life. Bitter hatred toward the railroads which are threatening the popularity of the Erie Canal adds its bit to the confusion.

Slim Summerville as the helper who specializes in extracting teeth and Andy Devine who can never escape taking a load of hogs down the canal, are invaluable to the picture.

If nothing more, students will find that the tune of "The Eyes of Texas" was sung way back in 1840 when "they were working on the railroad."

Aeronautical Club To Hold Meeting

The University Aeronautical Society will begin its activities for this long session tonight at 7 o'clock in Engineering Building 217, Cooper Richards, president, announced.

The Aeronautical Society was reorganized last year by a group of students interested in aviation. During the year much progress was made in stimulating interest in aviation among University students, Richards said. Among the accomplishments of last year was the acceptance of the society as an official University organization, the holding of an air meet, and exhibits in the University Power Show.

Semi-monthly meetings were held throughout the year, at which times talks and demonstrations were given by various authorities on aeronautical subjects. Notable among the speakers of last year was Major A. C. Strickland, flight director of Randolph Field.

A special invitation has been extended to new students to attend the meeting tonight, as it will be given over to summarizing the work of the society and discussing plans for the coming year.

Betty Nichols Given Crystal Shower

Frances Pfafflin added another attractive courtesy to the group of parties honoring Betty Nichols, bride-to-be of the Rev. Glenn Murray, when she entertained with a crystal and china shower Wednesday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock at the Pfafflin home, 405 West Twenty-seventh Street.

Guests were asked to donate a recipe to the bride before being invited into the dining room where the tea table was laid with silver and jade appointments.

A centerpiece of pink zinnias was used with green candles in jade containers to carry out the scheme of decoration.

Queen's crown, matching the pink of the centerpiece, was used throughout the living room.

Besides the bride-to-be, guests included Misses Maureen Biggs, Doris Shanklin, Mary Jean Murray, Mary Lucille Stachley, Lucille Spreen, Fannie McLaurin, Mary McLaurin, Betty Love Rugely, Maude Archer, Katherine Archer, Catherine Gramon, Nan Gilbert, Ann Cloud, Helen Johnson, Mildred Johnson, Frances Brunner, Ann Fleming, Mary Fleming, Eva Hart, Bertha Lee, Catherine Cox, and Mesdames Houston Stinson and J. A. Nichols, mother of the bride.

Wesley Foundation Holds First Social

Get-acquainted games formed the principle feature of a reception given by Wesley Foundation to old and new students Tuesday night. The affair was the first of a series of weekly social events planned by the Foundation for the winter.

Approximately one hundred guests were welcomed at the door by a receiving line composed of officers of the Foundation, Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Heinsohn, the Rev. and Mrs. Troy Hickman, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Hall, and others interested in the work of Wesley Foundation.

University Church To Hold Reception

The University Church of Christ will hold a reception at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Steck, 305 East Thirty-fourth Street.

Students attending the reception will meet at the church on Nineteenth Street and University Avenue, where transportation to the Steck home will be provided.

On the committee in charge of arrangements are Mrs. Gertrude Heath Sullivan, C. D. Steck, Carlos Leggett, Ella Caskey, Athleen Frazier, Fern Holler, and Mary Ruth McAngus.

Grace Hall Reception Friday

Residents of Grace Hall, girls' dormitory, will be honored at a reception and lawn party to be given at the dormitory Friday night, September 27, from 8 to 11 o'clock.

Friends of the girls and of Mrs. M. P. Cavin, director of the dormitory, and her staff are invited to be present at that time.

All-freshman Party Planned by Union

With "of the freshmen, by the freshmen, for the freshmen" as the keynote of the Texas Union's annual party for freshman men and women, to be held Friday night from 8 to 11 o'clock in the main lounge, the first year students will have a chance to get acquainted unhampered by swarms of upperclassmen.

Because dancing and bridge tables were monopolized last year by upperclassmen attending the party, Charles Zivley, manager of the Texas Union, urged that this be a party strictly for freshmen.

Dancing, bridge, and other forms of entertainment will be available for the guests. All freshmen may attend whether they have dates or not, Zivley said.

The election will be conducted by Cap and gown, senior girls' organization, represented by Carolyn Malina, Evelyn Braden, and Fletcher Metcalfe. All freshman girls are urged to attend this meeting.

Plans for Reception Made by Theta Sigma Phi

A reception honoring members of the Department of Journalism was planned by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary and professional journalism fraternity

Freshman Girl Diving Champ

ALICE BRAIN, 16-year-old freshman from Humble, Texas, is the holder of the Gulf A. A. U. diving championship, which she won last August at the River Oaks country club in Houston.

Miss Brain, who lives at Littlefield Dormitory, is a Phi Mu pledge and is enrolled in the home economics department. She plans to fit herself to be a county home demonstration agent, saying she is more interested in her studies and her pledge duties than in sports records. She would like to give the Olympics a try, however, for she thinks "it might be fun to try for them."

Elected worthy advisor to the Humble chapter of the Rainbow Girls organization, Alice plans to return to her home regularly to preside over the meetings of the group. She hopes to try out for Turtle Club at the time set for tryouts.

Members of the Sophomore Club Council will hold their second meeting of the year tonight at 7:30 o'clock to make plans for the coming year's work, Miss Margaret Peck, sponsor of the club, reported yesterday.

The Sophomore Club is the organization that followed last year's Freshman Fellowship Club, and is composed of the members of last year's organization. The group will hold its first regular meeting next Thursday at the University Y. M. C. A.

Former Tutor Dies in Byers

Marion Clive Fambrough, graduate student and tutor in chemistry in the University last year, died yesterday at his home in Byers, according to word received last night by Dr. H. R. Henze, professor of chemistry.

SENATOR LEWIS BETTER MOSCOW, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois continued to rally today in his fight against pneumonia.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Adolph Rumreich, physician of the American embassy, read:

"Although not yet out of danger, the patient's condition has improved. The heart action is stronger and the pulse is lower. The toxemia is slighter and the pneumonia shows signs of clearing up."

for women, last night at its first meeting of the year.

Joint meetings with Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity for men, were discussed and arranged for by Theta Sigma Phi. Definite dates for these meetings will be set by the presidents of the two organizations.

Professors in the Department of Journalism will be asked to make announcements very soon about the annual award given by Theta Sigma Phi to the outstanding woman in journalism in the University not a member of the fraternity.

The standing committee for the ward is made up of the president of Theta Sigma Phi, the chairman of the Department of Journalism, the editor of The Texan, and the sponsor of Theta Sigma Phi.

A definite date for the reception will be set by the end of the week. The committee on arrangements for the reception is made up of Marjorie Arp, Louise Herling, and Lucile Nemir.

University Ladies Plan Tea October 2

The University Ladies Club met for a short business session Wednesday at the University Club.

The President announced a committee composed of Mrs. Arno Nowotny, Mrs. J. C. Colley, and Miss Elsie Perlitz to take charge of the Lucile Taylor Moore Loan Fund for graduate students which is sponsored by the club.

Announcement was also made of a tea to be given October 2 in honor of Mrs. H. Y. Benedict and the new women of the faculty eligible for membership in the club. The officers will arrange for the affair and the standing committees will serve in the house party.

New officers taking over their duties with the beginning of the new semester are Mrs. Frederick McAllister, president; Mrs. S. Leroy Brown, first vice president; Mrs. Frederick Eby, second vice president; Mrs. Banks McLaurin, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles N. Zivley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. B. Swanson, treasurer; and Mrs. C. F. Arrowood, membership chairman.

TODAY IN BRIEF

10 o'clock—Girls' Glee Club tryouts, Texas Union, tower room.

2 o'clock—Girls' Glee Club tryouts, Texas Union, tower room.

Alumnae Association Chooses Officers

Officers were elected and plans made to further the national and local philanthropic work of Alpha Xi Delta Austin alumnae association at a meeting in the chapter house Tuesday night, Maxine Fincher, president, announced.

The following officers were elected: Maxine Fincher, president; Margaret Graham, vice-president; Mildred Duderstadt, recording secretary; Dorothy Childs, corresponding secretary; Catherine Faulk, treasurer; Ora Eubanks, Oklahoma, parliamentarian; Jane Kone, historian; Elizabeth Bradford, journal correspondent; and Jacqueline Eckert, reporter.

The Austin group received its charter from the national office in May. Plans made for drawing up a constitution will be reported on at the next meeting, and new pledges of the local chapter will be entertained in order that the alumnae may become better acquainted with them.

Book Club to Meet With Mrs. Haynes

Mrs. R. A. Haynes will entertain members of the Book Trailers' Club this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the opening session of the group. "Texas Under Six Flags" will be the topic of a paper to be given at the close of the business session.

Mrs. Haynes is the wife of R. A. Haynes, instructor in Romance languages in the University. The meeting will be held at her home, 3121 Hemphill Park.

Alpha Phis Elect Officers

The Alpha Phis elected the following officers to fill vacancies at their last fraternity meeting: Clara Stearn, house president; Mary Hearne, corresponding secretary; Elizabeth Johnston, quarterly correspondent; Winnie Jo Ramsay, activity chairman; Peggy Bell, study hall manager; and Martha Broderson, song leader.

The following Alpha Phi pledges took office yesterday: president, Buster Quist; vice-president, Kathleen Wilie; secretary, Anne Johnston; treasurer, Dorothy Jean LeMay; and reporter, Juanita Whittlesey.

Alpha Phi pledge services will be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

Dallas Club To Meet Tonight

The Dallas Club will hold its first meeting tonight in Texas Union 316 at 7:30 o'clock. This will be a short but very important meeting, Bryson Martin, president, stated yesterday. All Dallas students are invited to become members.

The club was organized last year by a group of Dallas students, solely for the purpose of benefitting Dallas students while they are in Austin. The meetings are open to all for fellowship and social recreation. The Dallas Club of last year sponsored two dances. Martin said there would be many changes this year and there would be entertainment at the various meetings.

Byron Cain of Quitman has enrolled in the University as a freshman. He expects to take a degree in business administration.

In the Texan's Business News

The Austin Municipal airport, located on the highway directly north of the city, is now equipped with all modern devices for teaching a beginners course in flying.

Harry Hammill, manager, has announced that a special course of instruction has been arranged for University students. A fee of $30 has been set and the new plan of instruction enables University students to pay for the course at the rate of $1.50 a lesson. The number of lessons will be entirely governed by the speed with which the student advances.

Specially built training planes will be used during the course of instruction.

Bright Stage Lights Shine As Campus Actors Parade

By MILDRED SMITH

Bright overhead lights glaring down on a bare stage, air heavy with cigarette smoke, the murmur of voices from the few scattered members of the audience down front—the set for the tryouts for the Curtin Club's new play, "Merrily We Roll Along."

Mounting the steps to the stage walked one after another of the active members of Curtin Club interpreting roles either strikingly similar and contrastingly different to roles played last year, the year before or even the year before that.

Recalling former Curtin Club successes necessitates mentioning that:

DICK WAITE gave an interesting performance in "Her Master's Voice," acting the part of the chauffeur. His activities in the Curtin Club Workshop have been well balanced with his work done in skits and one act plays.

JACK SUCKE gained his name as a good member of the club by his acting in "Another Language" and one act plays done last year. MARGARET KNIGHT has been known through her work with the Curtin Club plays for the last two years. Her star plays were "The Young Idea" and "Lady Windemere's Fan."

RAMON TRAVIS, whose dramatic ability was realized with a principle role in "The Late Christopher Bean," has also played roles in skits and radio plays. He was cast in "Lady Windemere's Fan." He is a member of the Board of Governors. VIRGINIA LIVINGSTON was prominent in her role in the "Ninth Guest." She gave a splendid characterization of Magdalena in the Christmas play, "The Holy Night."

CREEKMORE FATH whose role in "Another Language" and "Hayfever" is well remembered. His conscientiousness as a member of the Board of Governors in 1934 was proof enough of his value to the Board for 1935.

ELI WALLACH, whose stage performances are recalled by his excellent portrayal of character parts, is important to the club because he has roles in several major plays, "The Ninth Guest," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "The Patriarch of Prouty Acres." He is a member of the Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, and is a member of the Board of Governors. PEGGY SOULE'S name is linked with her role in "The Holy Night" in the lead, the Virgin Mary. She has also played roles in one act plays and radio skits.

FRANK MURRAY has done a great deal of back stage work and had a role in "The Holy Night." KARL HARDIN'S very appearance indicates his striking fitness for the parts that he has acted in "The Young Idea," "The Holy Night" and one of the principle roles in the murder mystery of last year, "The Ninth Guest." LA VERNE WALKER did some acting in "Lady Windemere's Fan" which made her an important member of Curtin Club. She has done several radio plays and studio skits.

EUGENE YOUNG is invaluable

because of his constant service to the Club in the production of the plays. His membership in the Club has placed him in playlets for the studio and radio skits. DOROTHY SHELLEY is invariably remembered for her many leads in plays the last few years. One of her important leads was in the play, "The Young Idea" and "She Stoops to Conquer."

KATHERINE PITTENGER is as important this year as she has been for the past two years. Her principle role in "The Late Christopher Bean" gave her her campus stage name. As important to the club is the directing that she has done on one act plays. The directing of "The Tangled Web" was the best done by any member in several years. This play was presented before the Faculty Club, presented over KNOW and taken out of town once. She is also a member of the Board of Governors.

WILSON ATER is justly remembered for his presentation of major roles and one act plays during the last few years. He played one of the principle roles in "Hayfever" and a character part in "The Patriarch of Prouty Acres." He is a member of Alpha Psi Omega.

WHEELER LYON has steadily maintained her name as a splendid actress because of her part acting as the leads in "Her Master's Voice" and "The Patriarch of Prouty Acres." She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega and has also done many roles in skits and radio plays.

OLLIE HEARD has the lead in "Lady Windemere's Fan." He was the vice-president of the club in 1933. Radio work and one act plays have been part of his work as a member.

CHARLES MCKENZIE whose part now important to the club is the job of being president again for the second time. His entrance as member was in the capacity of program manager. He is a member of Alpha Psi Omega and played a leading role in "Lady Windemere's Fan."

VERNON RODGERS'S ability is well marked by his acting in many of the major plays. He has played in "The Tangled Web," "She Stoops to Conquer," "Another Language" and "Her Master's Voice." He is vice-president of the club for this year, and is acting on the board of governors.

JEAN CRADDOCK played in "The Tangled Web," "Another Language" and "Her Master's Voice." She has also done radio play work.

MILDRED COOKE has the reputation in the Curtin Club as having been one of the best publicity sources that it has had. She served one year as editor of the Curtin Club programs and has been reelected. She has done some acting in studio plays.

Public Lectures Committee Plans Fall Programs

The public lectures committee under the leadership of a new chairman, Dr. C. F. Arrowood, professor of the history and philosophy of education, began Wednesday to arrange its program for 1935-36.

No information concerning the program will be forthcoming for several days, Dr. Arrowood said. For several years the committee has sponsored a series of lectures given on alternate Wednesday afternoons during the college year. The lectures cover a wide range of subjects. An attempt is made to make them timely. As the committee operates without a grant of funds from the University, most lecturers are members of the University staff; a few lectures are delivered by noted authorities from elsewhere.

Serving with Dr. Arrowood on the committee are Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, professor of educational administration; Dr. William August Felsing, professor of chemistry; Dr. W. E. Gettys, professor of sociology; and Dr. C. F. Lay, professor of accounting and management. Members of the committee are appointed annually by President H. Y. Benedict.

Missing from the committee will be the face of genial Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, whose place was taken by Dr. Arrowood. As chairman of the group, Dr. Weeks has introduced almost every speaker on the program for several years. His stock figure, vibrant voice, the curled hair over the massive face, have become as well-known here as his most famous lectures.

Wheat Supply Again To Exceed Market

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The wheat supply this year will exceed domestic needs by 121,000,000 bushels, George A. Farrell, head of the wheat section of the A. A. A., reported today. Discounting reports of danger of a wheat shortage, Farrell estimated this year's production at 593,000,000 bushels, with a 153,000,000 bushel carry-over from last year, this makes the nation's total supply 746,000,000 bushels.

Raw Materials Not Considered War Implements

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—Raw materials were missing in a long list of "implements of war" proclaimed by President Roosevelt today upon recommendation of his munitions control board.

Only the generally accepted offensive weapons were listed in six categories.

The President's proclamation was issued in order to facilitate the registration required under the recent neutrality act of manufacturers, exporters, and importers of arms, which must become effective by November 29.

First Category Listed

In the first category of war implements subject to license were six sub-heads as follows:

"1—Rifles and carbines using ammunition in excess of caliber 26.5, and their barrels;

"2—Machine guns, automatic rifles, and machine pistols of all calibers and their barrels;

"3—Guns, howitzers, and mortars of all calibers, their mountings and barrels;

"4—Ammunition for the arms enumerated under (1) and (2) above, i. e., high-power steel-jacketed ammunition in excess of caliber 26.5; filled and unfilled projectiles and propellants with a web thickness of .015 inch or greater for the projectiles of the arms enumerated under (3) above;

"5—Grenades, bombs, torpedoes, and mines, filled or unfilled, and apparatus for their use or discharge;

"6—Tanks, military armored vehicles, and armored trains."

In the second category were "vessels of war of all kinds, including aircraft carriers, and submarines."

Aircraft Included

The third category included all types of aircraft, both heavier and lighter than air, designed for combat or bombing use, together with such appurtenances as aerial gun mounts and frames, bomb racks, torpedo carriers, etc.

The fourth category listed revolvers and automatic pistols of a weight in excess of one pound six ounces using ammunition in excess of caliber 26.5 and ammunition therefor.

The fifth category included all aircraft assembled or dismantled, not mentioned in the third category together with aircraft engines.

The final category took in poison gas and chemical warfare. It listed "mustard gas, lewisite, ethyldichlorarsine, and methyldichlorarsine" and flame throwers.

Strike Committee Making Progress, Reports Say

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(INS)—The subcommittee of four, attempting to reach an agreement to end the strike of 400,000 bituminous coal miners, made "some progress" during this morning's deliberations, it was reliably reported this afternoon.

The two miners' representatives and two operators temporarily laid aside the chief controversial point—the miners' demand for a 9 cent per ton rate for piece workers as compared to the operators' offer of 7 1/2 cents—and tackled relatively minor district problems. When these are ironed out the tonnage wage issue will again be taken up.

A Victory for the People!
--A Worry for the Lobby

The House of Representatives state affairs committee yesterday gave a favorable report to an old age pension bill, and one clause of that bill was a tax on domino halls.

To the average citizen, this means nothing, but in reality it means that a great victory has been won for the people. For the addition of this unimportant tax clause means that any representative may try to add heavy taxation amendments to the bill when it gets on the floor of the House.

During the entire regular session friends of the people tried to get the House revenue and taxation committee to report bills taxing sulphur, oil, gas, public utilities, and other natural resources, but the committee refused.

Now the vested interests—the sulphur lobbyists, the oil lobbyists, the chain store lobbyists, the utility lobbyists—are very worried. The membership of the revenue and taxation committee was opposed to heavy taxes, if any taxes at all, on these natural resources. The vested interests felt that they would safely escape a raise in taxes.

They hoped to do in Texas what they did in Arizona—pass an old age pension bill and then kill the tax measures which would finance the pensions—but a hard-fighting group of young liberals yesterday beat the mercenary lobbyists. They brought the question of taxation out on the floor, and the lobbyists are scared.

Texas should have more revenue than any state in the nation because of her natural resources, but up to now these resources have escaped adequate taxation because of the tremendous lobbies that descend upon the Legislature. Now the lobbyists really have something to worry about. The House is certain to vote some heavy natural resources taxes, and these vultures preying upon the public welfare will have to pay up.

Some Ladies Have It In For The Spoils System--Watch Out

At last, women (just women in general) who choose to enter public life give promise of lifting their efforts from the rut of "equal rights for women" and the "evils of drink" and directing themselves to really important phases of government.

A chic, middle-aged lady, with conservative yet modern dress, who speaks with intelligence and background—who appears to have been a level-headed young mother in times when husbands became panicky—typifies the new trend of womanly effort in public life. The run-down heels, the scraggly hair, and the worried look seem to be conspicuously absent from the picture.

"We want to create an intelligent interest in government," she says, "among the young women in supposedly educated walks of life. We represent the National League of Women Voters. And at present we are sponsoring a two-year campaign for better government personnel."

Whether the organization was "inspired" by the words of a man or a woman, does not matter. Whether the movement is backed by ministers or anti-prohibitionists who want to give women something else to do, makes not the slightest difference. The fact remains, that an increasingly large group of women are working on the overthrow of the "spoils system" in government and the substitution in its place of a career service in government.

This is very encouraging.

"The real villain of the peace . . ." the League Quarterly, publication of the national organization, states, "is not the 'spoils system'—that time-honored method of employing a great part of the three and a quarter million men and women who perform the work of supplying government services to the other 123 million citizens of the United States—but the public's attitude toward the system."

"Most people believe the 'spoils system' is the price of democracy. Some of them are rumored even to think it is written in the Constitution. Certainly the overwhelming majority of the people believe that political parties could not function without patronage."

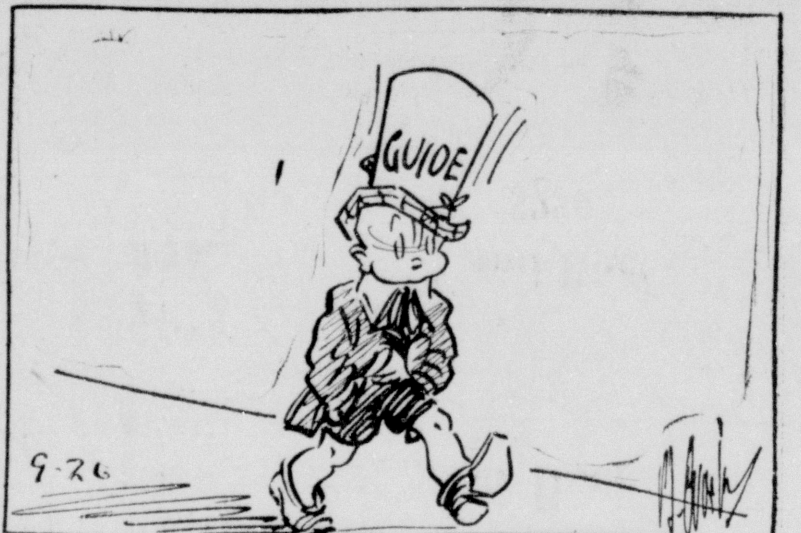

Now, this is very good observation and reckoning. It reminds one of the precision of the usual womanly talk that pervades the surroundings of a bridge table.

"What has happened to democracy in Texas," an old timer asked during Governor Dan Moody's administration.

One of his tobacco-eating cronies replied, "Well, I'll tell you. It's gone one of three places—either to Louisiana, the pork barrel, or to hell."

"Now let's consider," said the other. "It could have gone to Louisiana, but, if it did, there is no indication that it stayed there. And I would hardly say it went to hell—it might have gone to heaven, for that is the place for all good things, but since it did not go there, it must have gone to the pork barrel."

"It doesn't make a whole lot of difference," said the other, "now that you have it all figured out; for, to me, they are all the same; the democracy is as sunk in any one of the places as in the other."

This kind of talk makes very good gossip—even for bridge parties. And it is only natural that the fair sex should tie onto any subject that makes good gossip.

But the ladies are to be heartily congratulated for choosing such a pertinent subject for the target of their lips. It is hoped by all who have the interests of democracy at heart that these ladies will give the "spoils system" the full sting of a million tongue lashes if they can maneuver that many.

Anyway, this bunch of public spirited women have a bee in their bonnet. We're for them. We wish more women, and a lot more men, were with them.

Headline on a story in the Houston Chronicle dealing with initiation of freshmen women at Rice Institute: "New Co-Eds Baptized With Tea." That's so disappointing. I always thought champagne was the proper beverage for launching anything or anybody.

A University of Syracuse professor has been conducting experiments to determine the reactions of a person to certain procedure. In one experiment he blind-folded a co-ed, attached a number of recording instruments to her, and kissed her. You know, it's terrible how these professors refuse to reveal the results of their experiments to the reading public.

Tactful freshmen at Baylor University, on being interviewed on why they chose that particular school, replied, "I came to Baylor because of the good sophomores here."

The story comes out of New Orleans that a Loyola University freshman found that he couldn't write as fast as his biology professor could talk. He proceeded to bring a stenographer to class with him, and with all the precision of the business man who catches up on his sleep in his downtown office, cooled his heels on a desk while the stenographer took the lecture notes in shorthand.

Two new students at Abilene Christian College believe in following instructions to the letter. They had been told that at a certain hour each night a bell would be rung notifying them that it was "Quiet Hour." When the bell rang they were very quiet for one hour. Neither said anything; each moved but slightly. When the hour was up, one broke the silence by saying, "And now I'm sleepy." So they went to bed instead of making the noise they had planned to make after the close of "Quiet Hour."

The latest story on fee-paying comes from the University of Kansas. A boy at the desk was trying to sell the University Daily Kansas, student newspaper, to a girl in the registration line. He repeated the word, "Kansas," several times. The girl shook her head, replying, "No, Missouriian."

$600,000,000 . . . the estimated value of Henry Ford's estate. And that is quite a little nest egg in anybody's language. In fact it is such a large egg, the government is thinking of relieving Mr. Ford of it just as soon as he dies. This could possibly be a reflection upon the capability of Henry's offspring, Mr. Eidsel Ford, but we are doubtful if this were ever taken into consideration.

Mr. Robert H. Jackson, counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue, is very much in sympathy with the proposed tax-the-wealth program, and would like to do his part in spending the Model-T millions. In a report to the Senate, Mr. Jackson made the statement that this money could be used much more beneficially through government supervision . . . and they can probably get rid of it as fast as anyone.

It kinda looks to us as if old Henry is being "put on the spot." But if it is worrying him, he is keeping it a deep, dark secret, from all reports. He has probably found out by now that the person who makes money also makes trouble keeping hold of it.

If anyone had any doubts as to the good intentions of Henry Ford toward the betterment of business conditions, it would be answered in the question of H. D. Ralph, writing in the Chicago "Journal of Commerce" . . . "If the government will take over the Ford factories on the death of the elder Ford, why shouldn't they close up shop now, discharge their employees, let their plants stand idle, and spend the rest of their lives eating up the capital?" And the fact that Mr. Ford does not do this very thing, which he could just as well do, seems reason enough to let him and his son hatch their egg as they see fit.

Ever since the "Blue Eagle" blew its first blow, the government and the Ford interests have been having difficulties with each other, and it looks like Mr. Ford is now going to have to re-line the old bird himself. Watch out for that "bird," Henry.

threat to his gridders last week, "If Hardin-Simmons defeats the Matadors, the whole squad is going to walk all the way back to Lubbock, even if I have to walk the distance myself to see that it is done." It is a flat 180 miles from Abilene, where the game was to be played, to Lubbock. Anyhow, I see by the paper that Hardin-Simmons lost a football game to the tough Matadors of Tech last Saturday.

Wesley Players
Continue Tryouts

Tryouts for the first production of the Wesley Players will be continued next week, Helen Margaret Hanchey, director, has announced. Forty-three students have announced their intention of petitioning for membership. Ten students participated in the tryouts held Tuesday night.

Norton Lacy, president of the group; Jack Rutledge, assistant director; and the Rev. Troy Hickman, associate director of the Wesley Foundation, addressed prospective new members on the aims of Wesley Players.

The first production, to be staged on October 27, is "The Rock," a character development of Simon Peter. Selection of characters will be completed soon, and rehearsals will begin at an early date.
