

Genocide Archive Rwanda & One Million Bones Spring 2012

Mass grave in Nyabikenke, Gitarama, Rwanda. Photographer unknown.

The Human Rights Documentation Initiative (HRDI) and Fine Arts Library (FAL) are collaborating on a genocide awareness exhibit featuring photographs from the HRDI's Genocide Archive of Rwanda collection and an installation of the nation-wide public art/advocacy project, One Million Bones. The exhibit was coordinated by Martha Tenney, a second year iSchool student and Graduate Research Assistant for the HRDI, and Matthew Remington, a master's student in Art Education. The exhibit runs from late March to late April. FAL and HRDI will contribute funds for a small reception in April.

You can learn more about the One Million Bones project at:
<http://www.onemillionbones.org/>

Photos and design by Mark Doroba