CURTAIN CLUB GIVES THREE ORIGINAL ONE ACT PLAYS MONDAY

VARSITY SENIOR WEEK OPENS WITH RITUAL CEREMONY

Reagan Literary Society Will Entertain Seniors With
Sing Tuesday

SWINGOUT FRIDAY

To Be Followed by Banquet at University
Commons

Senior vespers, which officially opened the ceremonies and festivities of Senior Week, were held Monday afternoon in the Girls' Study Hall. Rev. L. H. Wharton gave a special message to the seniors in a short talk while Miss Helen Knox led the devotionals. Johnnye Gilkerson, past president of the YWCA, introduced the speakers. Vida Hall and Kathryn Buckner sang a duet. Catherine Wharton rendered the second special musical number for the vespers.

Senior Sing Today

On Tuesday Miss Knox will be the principal speaker at the conference between the seniors and ex-students. On this day also Reagan Literary Society will entertain the seniors with their annual Senior Sing at the Texas Bible Chair from 4 to 6. Old Varsity songs will be sung and other features for an interesting program have been arranged. Although no personal invitations have been sent out, all seniors are urged to come to the Senior Sing, according to Ruth Penick, president of Reagan.

Miss Newton's lawn party for the seniors at the Women's Faculty club is on Wednesday from 5 to 8 in the afternoon. Cap and Gown initiation for juniors is scheduled for Thursday evening from 8 to 10 in the Girls' Study Hall.

The Senior Swingout with the blue-bonnet chain will be held on Friday at 6 p. m. Immediately following the Swingout the YWCA is entertaining the seniors with a banquet at the University Commons. Invitations have been sent to all seniors, but they are requested to make reservations by signing up at Miss Spear's office. Johnnye Gilkerson is to be toastmistress and Miss Helen Knox will give the principal address of the evening.

WAA to Meet for Important Business

Women's Athletic Association will meet Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the gym for the passing of the new changes in the constitution and for the passing of a new system of points.

All juniors will be excused for the junior meeting, according to Anna Hiss, Director of Physical Training for Women.

Were Written, Directed, and Acted by Univer- sity People

In the first of two showings of three original one-act plays, the University Curtain Club showed itself to be an entirely independent unit. The plays were written, directed, and acted entirely by University persons, and lacked only a club-owned hall to make them entirely independent.

Sets for all three plays were made by Gilford Crowell, aided by John Dunn and Harry Akin. They were built, planned, painted, and tested out for lighting effects in the Curtain Club workshop in the basement of the Education Building.

Symbolic Settings Used

"Yoked With an Unbeliever," a play of a small Texas town, with its prejudices and narrowness, was given a realistic setting of a dull room with ugly wall paper. The only touch of brightness was the sunset seen through a window at the back, and this, as it fades into the black of the night, is symbolic of the influence of the turn of events in the life of Molly Craig. Charles Heimsath, the author, in the role of Molly's father was one of the most convincing actors.

Humorous Note Struck

Mrs. Mussey Sees It Through," a burlesque on the Little Theater movement as debased by ambitious egotists, was a riot from beginning to end. Paul Page, joint author of the piece with Clara McClure, in his role of harassed director, opened the scene. The play is startlingly and realistically informal. Stage hands, directors, and wandering persons appear suddenly from places in the audience. The sets are awry. The lights fail and the curtain does not work. Only a director of home-produced plays can fully appreciate it, but any audience can enjoy it.

Tragedy Is Climax of Evening
"King Gunnar Takes a Wife," a romantic tragedy by Howard Mumford Jones and Harvey Eagleson, was the climax of the evening. The setting was impressionistic and the effects of the lighting were vividly symbolic.

The characters in this play were particularly well cast. Billy Gaines, as a Norwegian sea-earl, played the leading role opposite Mildred Chambers and Annie Laurie Mewhinney who were both in good character.

Ben Howell, as the bluff King Gunnar, was effective both by his acting and his height. The climax of the play, when the troubled, nearly childlike Helga disfigures herself with a most convincing-looking bowl of glowing coals, is so entirely free of amateurishness as to make an audience forget that it is only a play.

SENIOR SWINGOUT

Senior swingout will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Texas Bible Chair under the direction of the Reagan Literary Society from 4-6 o'clock.

Dr. Pflueger of the French department will give a one-act French play with the following people in the cast: Ethyl McCaleb, Irene and Tacquard. Varsity song will be sung after the play.

All seniors will be invited to attend. Refreshments will be served as a conclusion of the afternoon.

CRAIN IN NEW YORK

Word has been received that Maurice Crain, a former student of the University of Texas, is now working in New York City, on the staff of a Bronx newspaper. Until recently, Mr. Crain has been with the Dayton Herald which is published at Dayton, Ohio. He took the B.A. degree from the University in 1922, and the B.J. degree the following year. While on the campus, he took prominent part in the journalistic activities of the campus, being an issue editor of The Daily Texan during 1922-23.

Political Expenses Must Be in by Noon

All expense accounts for student political campaign must be turned in to the Students Association, for Polly Thomson, secretary of the organization before noon today. Votes will not be valid unless this account is turned in.

If no one is in the room the account, which must be itemized, is to be put on the desk.

MEXICAN OFFICIAL TO LECTURE HERE

Won International Fame by Reform Wrought in Education in His Country

With Senor Jose Vasconcelos as the final attraction of the year's series of lectures, the public lecture's committee of the University announces that the University of Texas will have the honor of entertaining one of Mexico's most distinguished citizens during the present month. Professor C. W. Hackett is in receipt of a telegram from Senor Vasconcelos accepting the offer of the committee to have him speak here.

Has International Fame.

The speaker is at present Minister of Public Education in Mexico, and is now being mentioned as the next ambassador of Mexico to the United States. He has won international fame by the reforms he has wrought in Mexican education since the revolution. Educators from many of the European countries and from the United States have gone to Mexico to study his methods.

Speaks Excellent English.

Senor Vasconcelos speaks excellent English. He has spent many years in the United States and understands American universities. He was at one time the head of the University of Mexico.

President W. S. Sutton has appointed a committee of the faculty to arrange for the reception and entertainment of the guest. Professor Hackett, Dean Pittenger of the School of Education, and Professor H. M. Jones of the Public Lectures Committee constitute the committee. Although the committee has not as yet formulated plans, it is understood that prominent state officials are to be included among those whom Senor Vasconcelos is especially to meet.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMEN'S PRESS OPENS AT CAPITOL

Welcome Address Delivered
By Dean Mayes of Journalism Department

The thirty-first annual meeting of the Texas Women's Press Association was held last night at 8:30 at the Capitol, as which time Dean W. H. Mayes, of the Department of Journalism, delivered the welcome address. Mrs. Bettie Magruder of San Angelo, the president, presided.

The actual business meetings of the association will be held in the Senate chamber, but the headquarters of the meeting are at the Driskill Hotel.

The members of the association are the guests of the Austin Kwik Klub. Assisting Mrs. R. H. Griffith, president, are Mrs. Paul Goldman and Mrs. Joe Gilbert, and Miss Lilian Wester. Entertainment for the visitors has been planned by this club.

ELECTIONS TODAY

BILLY DISCH

Here is the greatest intercollegiate baseball mentor of all time. In fourteen years of coaching he has set the almost unparalleled record of producing twelve conference winners. Yesterday he set another record when his team clinched the conference title before they had lost a game.

Disch is a great coach in more ways than one. He not only leads mighty teams to pennants, but he develops mighty teams from no material. The Longhorn team is great, but it is safe to say that no other mentor in the conference could have accomplished what he has accomplished with it.

Yes, Disch is a great coach. He is more than a coach, however. He is a man, one of the whitest and cleanest of men that ever walked across a diamond. Much can be said of Disch, but these four short lines would fit his character better than any stirring oration:

"For when the one great scorer comes

To write against your name,
He asks not if you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

EDITORIAL

Three constitutional amendments will be submitted to the voters by the Students' Assembly in today's election. The first provides for the official recognition of The Ranger as a constitutional publication, just like the Cactus, The Longhorn and The Texan. It also provides that the editor of The Ranger and a member of the faculty of the Department of Journalism shall be a member of the publications board.

This amendment is but a show of formality, as The Ranger has already been soundly established by the Texas Students Publications, Inc. The addition of the editor to the board of directors is the only change in the status of the publication which will result from the passage of this amendment.

The second amendment provides for the addition of the Dean of Men to the student social calendar committee. The third gives a representative of the School of Business Administration a seat on the Men's Council.

To pass these amendment, at least one-half of the student body must vote and two-thirds of this number must be in favor of the proposed amendment. A very desirable amendment failed in the elections last fall, when less than 30 per cent of the student body voted.

Whether you are opposed to these amendments or not, it is your duty to vote on each in today's election so that at least one-half of the student body will cast ballots on these proposals.

The Texan advocates the passage of the amendments, believing that the changes will be beneficial to the operation of student governmental machinery. But whether you are for them or not, it is your duty to vote on them, so that at least fifty per cent of the student body will vote on the amendments.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity for women, will meet in the Girls' Study Hall Tuesday afternoon at 5 p. m., according to Judith Porter, president. The purpose of the meeting is to select an all-round girl to represent the fraternity in the race for the loving cup given every year to a co-ed selected by a committee.

Law Finals Begin May 20.

The law finals begin May 20 and will last ten days. The law term ends June 6 with the main University. There are sixty-five candidates for degrees. Four senior laws receive degrees in February at the end of the first semester, the first time degrees have been conferred in the middle of the session.

No Electioneering Near Polls Will Be Per- mitted

Voting for the candidates to fill University offices for 1924-25 will begin this morning at 8:30 and will end at 1:30. Students will cast their ballots at one of six places: all men academic students, main building rotunda; co-ed academics, Girls' Study Hall; Education and graduate students, corridor of Education Building; law students, Law Building; engineers, Engineering Building; and business administration students, R Hall.

Judges of the election have been announced by J. C. White as follows:

PONSFORD GETS HOMERUN

Freeze Is Wild and Is Driven
From Hillock in First Stanza

—Special to The Texan

Waco, May 12.—Neither Jake Freeze or Lane Gore could stop the rampaging Longhorns today, led by Southpaw Manny Ponsford, the Dischmen proceeded to gain revenge for 1923 by chalking up the victory that means the Southwestern Conference championship without the loss of a game.

Large Crowd Sees Game

The largest crowd that ever witnessed an intercollegiate baseball game in Waco saw the Steers win today's 8-4 contest on Carrol Field. The crowd was rabidly rooting for a Baylor victory, but the Steer slugers seemingly had in mind the fact that they had never defeated a Budge's coached team in Waco—and they were not to be denied. The conference title is now ascertained for 'were Texas to lose all their remaining games and Baylor finish the season without another defeat, the standing would be:

Texas 16 7 .696
Baylor 13 6 .694

Southpaw Tight in Pinches

Southpaw Ponsford was not able to overcome the Baylor jinx for left-handers in its entity, but he did succeed in scattering the nine Bear hits in all but one inning. Also he led the Longhorn attack with a homerun, the only one of the game, and a single. The fourth inning was his nemesis in which the Bears tied the score, but afterwards the star portside was invincible in pinches.

Today's game proved conclusively that there is no greater coach in the United States than Billy Disch. The Longhorns on only two more hits, scored twice as many runs as the Bears chiefly because they played heads up baseball and were fighting at all times. Tonight the conference race is over and only a chance for an unparalleled string of victories remains, but the fact that for the first time in its history the Southwestern title has been won without the loss of a game, is a tribute to Coach Billy Disch.

The Steers won the championship in the fifth when with the bases loaded Smalley, who against the Bears came out of his batting slump in a glorious fashion, slammed a double over Strickland's head. This gave the Longhorns a 5-3 lead and the Bears could gain only one more

Freeze Driven From Box

Jake Freeze had been groomed by Bridges to stop the Longhorn sluggers, but wildness caused his exit after one inning on the hill. Freeze had nothing and the boast of Baylorites that he would stop the Longhorns seemed to turn and come home. It was an act of unpoetic justice on the part of his to double in the fourth and tie the score, thus necessitating the charging of the defeat to Gore, who really pitched much better ball than Freeze. However Freeze may come back against Eckhardt tomorrow and cause a real hurling duel.

Pittman Stars

Baseball in its every variety was served up to the peppy throng. There were scintillating feats in the field, including a circus catch by Ralph Pittman of an apparent Texas leaguer, and a sensational glove-hand stop of Freeze's apparent hit by Smalley, the Texas third-baseman in the sixth. Ping Collier also had a big day in the field as did Horace Kibbie, the brilliant Texas second baseman. There was loose playing at times and this fact coupled with the manner in which both pitchers were pounded made the contest in serious

BASEBALL RESULTS

The Jackson Radio Laboratories will again broadcast the results of the Texas-Baylor game today at Waco and play by play will be announced at the University Co-Op. Manager Rather stated that Mr. Jackson of the Radio Laboratories had made arrangements to broadcast the results more clearly than was the case yesterday.

At the same time results of the campus elections will be announced as received.

doubt until the ninth inning when Texas, in its half of the final inning, scored two runs, bringing its lead to four.

The Bears rallied in the last round, but after getting two on with only one out, could not produce the necessary hit. Ponsford had splendid control and it was due to the control that he managed to go the route. The Bears had him tottering in the run lead, and had the fourth run on fourth when they overcame a three-third with only one out, but the visitors broke up a squeeze play, and Ponsford came out without further damage.

Ponsford gave his club a three-run lead in the third when he cracked out a homer, but in the fourth, singles by Pittman, Collier, Williamson and a double play by Freeze, coupled with an error by Smalley, gave the Bruins three runs knotting the count. The powerful Longhorns, however, came back with two more in the fifth when Kibbie walked, followed by Eckhardt's single, Odom forced out, but was safe at first. Carson got a scratch hit as Pittman delayed throwing the ball, motioning Kibbie back to third. With the bases full Smalley smacked a double to center, which scored both Kibbie and Odom. Gore, however, was fortunate to come out without further damage, striking out Pratt and forcing King to ground out.

Ponsford's single and Kibbie's line drive to left, gave the Steers another in the sixth, while the final pair came in the ninth on a walk to Carson, a stolen base, a hit by Smalley, and a single to right by Pratt which scored both runners. Although Baylor threatened in nearly every inning, the Bears final score came in the fifth when Coffey beat out a bunt, and scored on Strickland's long double to the left field board. The latter, however, was thrown out in attempting to stretch the hit into a triple, killing the rally. Bell tripped with only one out in the seventh but Coffey and Strickland went out in rotation, ending the inning. Sniper Connally had a big day at the bat, slamming out a long single, in the first, a line drive to the right field screen, which lacked only one inch of being a homer, and then hit a double down the left field line in the ninth.

HOW THOSE LONGHORNS WON THE SOUTHWESTERN PENNANT

First inning: Texas—Pittman went into short center to take Kibbie's fly. Eckhardt walked. Freeze tries to catch Eckhardt off first. Odom lines over second for a single, advancing Eckhardt. Carson walks, filling the bases. Eckhardt scores, and Williamson attempts to catch Odom off second. Odom and Carson advance on passed ball. Odom out trying to steal home, Carson going to third. Carson scores on a wild pitch. Pratt flies out to Collier at short. Two runs, one hit, no error.

Baylor—Strickland flies to Eckhardt in right field. Pittman flies out to Carson. Collier flies out to center. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second inning—Gore now pitching for Baylor. Freeze goes to right field for Hollis. Southpaw Ponsford knocks Gore's first offering over the right field fence. Kibbie flies out to right field. One run, one hit, no errors.

Baylor—Kibbie tosses out Williamson. Freeze is thrown out by Smalley. Connally fouls over the right field fence. On the next pitch he hits to extreme right, but fast fielding by Eckhardt holds him at first. Gore fans. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third inning: Texas—Odom pops to Collier. Carson fans. Smalley walks for the second time. Pratt skies to Connally. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Baylor—Bell breaks bat flying out to Smalley. Coffey fans. Strickland also fans. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth inning: Texas—King flies out to Pittman. Leissner singles over Coffey's head. Leissner advances to second when Ponsford is thrown out by Pittman. Gore throws out Leissner when he tries to steal third. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Baylor: Pittman singles. Collier is safe on Ponsford's error. Williamson singles, filling the bases. Freeze doubles, scoring Pittman, Collier and Williamson, but is out trying to stretch it into a triple. Connally flies out. Gore grounds out to first. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Fifth inning: Texas—Kibbie walked, Eckhardt singles to left. Odom forces Eckhardt at second, Kibbie going to third. Carson gets an infield single, filling the bases. Gore fails to catch Carson off first when Smalley doubles over Strickland's head. Pratt flies out, Smalley is caught off second on King's hit. Three runs, three errors.

Baylor: King gathers in Bell's high fly. Coffey singles along the left field foul line. Coffey scores on Strickland's double to left, and Strickland is out trying for third. Kibbie throws out Pittman. One run, two hits, no errors.

Sixth inning: Texas—Leissner is thrown out by Coffey. Ponsford singles between short and third. Ponsford goes to third when a wild pitch by Gore hits home plate. Kibbie triples to right, scoring Ponsford. Eckhardt fans. Gore fails to catch Kibbie off third. Collier throws out Odom. One run, two hits, no errors.

Baylor—Collier singles between Kibbie and Odom. Williamson flies to Kibbie. Gore forces Collier at second, Ponsford to Odom. Kibbie throws out Connally. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh inning: Texas—Carson grounds out to Bell. Smalley out, Pittman to Bell. Pratt grounds out via Pittman. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Baylor—Hollis grounds out to Carson. Bell gets a triple when Pratt misjudged his fly. Coffey fans. Ponsford catches Bell off third. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eight inning: Texas—Pittman makes a leaping barehanded catch of King's fly, falling down but coming up with the ball. Leissner gets a double when his grounder takes a freak bounce over Pittman's head and goes into center field. It is his third hit of the day. Ponsford sacrifices Leissner to third. Kibbie knocks a high fly to center which Strickland bags with a pretty catch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Baylor—Smalley throws out Pittman. Collier is also thrown out by Smalley. Williamson fans. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth inning: Texas—Eckhardt pops to Collier. Odom pops to Coffey. Carson walks and steals second. Gore tries to catch Carson off second, Carson going to third on Smalley's single. Smalley steals second. Pratt singles to deep center, scoring Smalley and Carson. King grounds out, Odom to Carson. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Ninth inning: Baylor: Freeze is thrown out by Smalley. Connally singles. Gore draws the first pass off Ponsford. Bell flies out. Phillips, pinchhitting for Coffey, fans, to Kibbie. Freeze forces Collier at second. Ponsford catches Bell off third. No

SPEAKERS

Election of officers for the fall term of 1924-25 session will be held at the regular meeting of Speakers' Club at 7:30 this evening in Education Building 205. In addition to election of new officers, a program of impromptu speeches will be given, different members being called on by the president for a short talk on some familiar subject. Rip Underwood of Amarillo, president of the club, urges that all students on the rolls of the club be present for the meeting tonight.

You wear collar-attached shirts, of course. There is a lot of comfort in them and a lot of individuality, too. "What," you have said, "if they are a little messy? The other good qualities make up for the wrinkles."

But here is a shirt that is trim and smart and never mussy. Because it has the Van Heusen Collar attached. Just as comfortable as the old sort of collar-attached shirt—more so, some say—but with that trim, unbeatable Van Heusen look. It solves the college man's problem.

No bands or seams in the collar, no starch to irritate the neck. Cannot wilt. Faultless fit without a wrinkle—plus the Van Heusen—more comfortable than a soft collar, better looking than a stiff collar.

Repair of cabins	500
Yearly publications	100

Total necessary additional expenditures $ 5350
Present budget 1728

Total immediate needs of WAA $ 7078

Comparison

Compulsory PT work: Men, freshmen and soph; Women, freshmen, soph., juniors.

1. Number of instructors in department: Men, 8; Women, 5.
2. Salaries of instructors paid by blanket tax: Men, 3; Women, (should have one).

3. Income from blanket tax: Men, $26,449.10; Women, $1,688.

4. Percentage buying blanket tax: Men, 74.21 per cent; Women, 75 per cent.

5. Support from University for equipment: Men, $3,360; Women, $700.

6. Income from Intercollegiate athletics: Men, $62,864.68; Women, 0. (Texan statement showed intercollegiate athletics more than self-supporting.)

7. Field space: (a) tennis courts: men, 13; women, 4. (b) fields: men, 3; women, 1. (c) floor space: men, 3; women, 3.

8. Example of comparison of sport equipment: men, 75 basketballs, 70 footballs, 75 dozen baseballs; women, 2 basketballs, 2 volleyballs, 2 baseballs.

9. Organizations pledging for stadium: (a) sororities and fraternities; men, 71 per cent; women, 90 per cent. (b) campus organizations; men, 3; women, 8.

Advantages Offered by Women's Department to All Students

1. Use of Woman's Gym for all University dance every Saturday night.

2. Use of gym for basketball practices of Engineers. (Fraternities before this year.)

3. Use of gym for dances by men's organizations, such as Cowboys, Pre-Meds, etc.

4. Use of gym for band practices.

5. Cooperation with men for co-ed support during the football games. Continuous rallies held in Women's Gym to practice for games. One football rally in charge of girls each year, and stunts on the field. Each girl had to pay for her costume individually.

6. Admission to men to all activities to which it is possible for men to attend, as exhibition, Orchestral demonstration, etc.

7. Use of House Boat for diving and swimming at all times except when classes are held.

8. Use of tennis court when the classes are not held.

9. Selling of the University Cactus at a price which no men's organization would consider doing.

10. Use of gym for orchestra recitals.

11. Give $100 from proceeds of Fortieth Anniversary Celebration to floor Men's Gym.

12. Pledged $500 for stadium.

Conclusion

1. An increase of intramural work made possible by a raise in the women's portion of the blanket tax would increase the sale of the blanket tax, as it would serve as the admission to all clubs instead of dues.

2. Each student has pledged to the stadium. Why should blanket tax money be used for stadium expenses, and thereby making students pay doubly?

'TRAVEL NUMBER' TO BE THE LAST ISSUE OF RANGER

Summer Edition of Publication Is to Appear Early in Term

"Travel Number" of The Texas Ranger will appear just before final examinations, according to Julian Brazelton, editor-in-chief. The editors are planning to devote a page to each foreign country, and jokes and illustrations will accord with this policy. Next Saturday is the last day for handing in contributions.

A summer issue of The Ranger is also being planned and will appear early in the summer session, according to Morris Midkiff, managing editor.

If the amendment, which will be placed before the student body today, procures enough votes to insure its passage, The Ranger will become a constitutional publication, just as The Longhorn, Texan and Cactus, and the editor-in-chief will be given a place on the publications board.

A proposed amendment, in order to become a part of the constitution, must receive a favorable two-thirds vote of one-half of the student body. This means that at least one-half of the students must cast ballots, or an amendment fails to pass, regardless of the fact that it might receive a two-thirds majority vote of those voting.

SOUTHERN CHAMPIONS

The great Texas Longhorn track team became champions of the South Saturday when they won the Southwestern meet, while Mississippi A. & M., who succumbed to Littlefield's stars earlier in the year triumphed by a large margin in the S. I. C. meet at Montgomery, Ala. The Mississippi Aggies scored 64 points against 36 for L. S. U., their nearest rivals.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF MEN'S MUSIC FRAT INSTALLED SUNDAY

Young Men's Music Club Is Granted Charter by Phi Mu Alpha

Installation of the local chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary musical fraternity, was completed Sunday night. This organization was formerly known as the Young Men's Music Club, and has been organized for some time. The members had hoped to obtain a charter from the national honorary musical fraternity, and about two weeks ago their hopes were realized. Sunday night, twenty-one men received the initiation into the Phi Mu Alpha under the guidance of H. O. Ferguson, of Lincoln, Nebraska, who had charge of the installation services.

This is the first men's musical fraternity ever attempted on the campus, and it will strive to better the general appreciation of music among the students.

Those initiated were: C. D. Brown, Burnett Pharr, F. W. Ruff, Harold Cory, Harold Broome, Rudolph Sippola, C. C. Locke, Harry Hauser, Royal Caulder, Clel Silbey, Francis German, John Guinn, Jess Daniels, Chester C. Wright, W. G. Camp, Dick Hittson, Ben S. Woodhead, George Mueller, F. L. Reed, W. L. Newsom, and Anton Berkman.

RUSK

Rusk Literary Society will hold its final meeting of the year Saturday night at 7:00 p. m. The Morris Sheppard prizes of $15.00 and $10.00 will be given for the best six-minute humorous speeches. The officers for the coming year will be elected.

Hancock: Mary Pickford in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." Two performances daily.

Majestic: Jane Gray in "The Governor's Lady."

Queen: Mae Marsh in "Daddies" and Jimmie's Joys.

Crescent: "The Marriage Market," a Columbia production.

Mary Pickford Film Opened at Hancock

Eighteen dressmakers were kept busy for three months preparing the twelve gowns that Mary Pickford wears in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," her latest United Artists offering, now at the Hancock Theater.

The gown worn by Miss Pickford in the banquet scene was made of black and gold brocade with heavy metal lace sleeves adorned with 100 gross of seed pearls, totaling 14,400 pearls. It took five women two weeks to string the pearls that decorated the sleeves. The underskirt used with the gown was of gold metal cloth with patterns of roses made from pearls. The bottom fringe of the skirt was of gold embroidery, set with topaz from Czechoslovakia.

Each costume and gown worn in Miss Pickford's latest production is a truthful design taken from the Elizabethan period.

Allan Forrest supports Miss Pickford in the leading male role, that of Sir John Manners. Others in the cast are Clare Eames, Anders Randolph, Marc McDermott, Estelle Taylor, Mme. Daumery, Malcolm White, Courtenay Foote, Lottie Pickford Forrest, and Eric Mayne.

"Governor's Lady" a Great Film

The entertainment value of a picture is best judged by the manner in which an audience receives it. Using this standard as a criterion, the Fox screen creation, "The Governor's Lady," is one of the outstanding film successes of the year.

This production is showing at the Majestic Theater. The work of Robert T. Haines and Jane Grey is particularly praiseworthy.

In the photoplay the role of the man who rises from mine boss to the highest executive office in his state is played by Robert T. Haines. Jane Grey is the Governor's Lady.

Brilliant Cast in "Marriage Market"

"The greatest all-star cast of the year" would in no way exaggerate the ability of the players who make up the brilliant roster of stars in "The Marriage Market," the Columbia production that opened last night at the Crescent Theater for a three-day's run.

Headed by the attractive Jack Mulhall and piquant Pauline Garon, the players do much to make this production one of the finest pictures of the year.

Any picture that deals as frankly and sincerely with the problems of marriage as does "The Marriage Market" is bound to interest the most jaded picture goer.

VOTE FOR

Ray E. Lee

FOR

OF THE

Daily Texan

Today the student body will settle on the class and quality of newspaper it will have on the campus during 1924-1925. The selection of the editor-in-chief merits careful consideration, as the man chosen will guide the ultimate destinies of the publication.

The student body ought to elect the man who will support all forms of student activities and who has had a year's experience exercising the independence which the paper has developed during the past six years. That man is present managing editor of The Texan.

For three years Lee has given the University, The Texan and the student body his best services. During 1923-1924 he has supported every student activity and every student movement. He is worthy of the promotion to the chief position on the paper.

VOTE FOR LEE

To elect him will insure the continuance of support for all student activities and the maintenance of journalistic independence in The Texan.

Experience and Ability Will Count.

CAPABLE ADMINISTRATION BY A CAPABLE EXECUTIVE

POLITICAL PRODDER FOLLOWS TATTLER -- DISTRIBUTED FREE

Following the Campus Tattler, The Political Prodder which appeared on the hill yesterday morning came rather as an anti-climax. "The paper with a missing purpose" evidently paid expenses with its ads, for this new razz-sheet was distributed gratis to all unwary enough to have their senses of humor tickled by a grand summary and re-hash of the season's political bull and gossip.

The lead story was, of course, a hectic review of the race for editor-in-chief of The Texan. Following in the steps of the Tattler, the feature board of The Prodder evidently collected their "dope" first-hand; one recognizes most of the stuff to be nothing but the truth. However, the references to the Ku Klux Klan and to His Holiness are a little unguarded.

Undoubtedly many students will be guided in today's voting by the political maxims of The Prodder. The observation that, in the past, second votes have frequently been determined by the election judges, failing proper indication by the voter, is very significant; further, the admonition to students in general to use their heads for something more than barbers' playgrounds is ethically sound.

The editorials of The Prodder are particularly brilliant. Using astronomy and calculus, the publishers came to the conclusion that only 2,800 of the 4,365 students in the University are going to vote today. But, after, carefully following their computations through two hours' maze of math, we found that they made a mistake multiplying 3xy by PDQ; hence their solution is hardly to be found in the answer book. As usual, everyone prodded enjoyed it: those who were not prodded will offer themselves next year.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Bible thoughts memorized will prove a priceless heritage.

Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.—Psalm 107:21.

CAST YOUR VOTE TODAY

Today University students elect the student officers who will guide the school's government during the coming year, and who will have charge of a great many of the more important student activities. This fact alone should be of sufficient importance to bring every student to the polls, but in addition, there are three important amendments to the constitution which deserve attention.

If every voter in a democracy exercised his privilege of voting, undoubtedly democracies would be more efficient and nearer perfect, and less under the control of the politician. Unfortunately, a great many people decide on election day that their vote does not really mean anything, that one vote either way will have no influence upon the election. A single vote, of course, very seldom decides an election. But a great many single votes—the votes of the persons who stay away from the polls—are always enough to swing an election.

Voting is a matter of duty, if nothing else. Every student—each citizen of the University—student body—is obligated to his school to cast his vote in every election. The careful selection of a candidate, the study of the qualifications of each office seeker, the election of capable and efficient student officers is a matter of vital importance to the student himself, as well as to the school. A light vote usually means that the poorest candidate will win—the poorest candidate will turn to politics to secure votes—and the politician usually controls, through personal influence and pull, sufficient votes to decide an election in which there is little interest.

Citizens of a university community, it seems, should realize the importance of voting, yet the percentage of those exercising the right of suffrage at the University compares rather unfavorably with the average of the State, or of almost any city. Today the students who will have charge of the school's government for the next year will be elected. They should be carefully selected—and elected by a record vote. Your single vote is of vital importance—use it.

THE MARGIN OF DISHONOR

Many are they who, referring to the enforcement of our Honor System, confidently assert: "There are only two classes of students, those who cheat and those who do not cheat; those who cheat will cheat under any and all circumstances, and those who are inherently honest will surely never cheat." Revolutionists like Napoleon, teachers like Christ, and scientists like Einstein—all comparatively recent arrivals on this jubilant planet—have long been trying to demonstrate how little of matter and life is absolute, and how much is dynamic, relative, evolutionary. It would seem that the lesson is yet unlearned.

Let us be frank with ourselves and admit that there are a few students among us—light of conscience, unbound by ethical considerations, untrammelled by mortality—who regard cheating on quizzes, assignments, or examinations as a most natural expedient to "get by." These people are crooks, thieves, swindlers; they do not blush when they cheat; their venality is their only moral fibre; they shed no tears for their perjured honor, nor are any tears shed for them. Fortunately, this class is indeed small.

Let us flatter ourselves that, in the University, we have also a class of students who have been so thoroughly and rigidly trained in the principles of honesty, and who are such sincere lovers of truth, that the number of occasions on which they would violate the Honor System can be said to approach zero as a limit. As the Portuguese say, "Rare is this bird, for we killed all its feathered predecessors!"

The truth is that the line of demarcation between cheaters and non-cheaters had better be conceived as a margin, toward which many on both sides of the line lean. The group of students gathered next to this margin is very large, and any of a variety of circumstances is sufficient to disturb the margin. For the time being, the student crosses the line and mingles with the publicans. We might name, among others, the following considerations which operate powerfully near the margin: (1) the need of a small number of points, in the student's calculation, to "pull over"; (2) that irresistible sympathy when a girl asks you a question during a quiz; (3) a case where the risks of cheating are negligible; (4) any instance where cheating is going on wholesale, and the individual merges with the group; (5) cases where the instructor has been notoriously unfair, in which accessibility of information; e.g., texts and note-books taken to the examination room; (7) the fact that no names are published at the University of Texas, anyway, and the consequent surety of preserving one's reputation.

We repeat: these and many other considerations operate forcefully near the margin of dishonor. Any of them, in most instances, would be sufficient to move a student to cheat. Further, a combination of several among this number certainly proves too strong for many an ordinarily honest soul. If the administration of the Honor System is to be bettered, faculty, Assembly, and Councils should endeavor to eliminate these conditions which sometimes cause dishonesty. We have no arbitrary division of students: the good and the bad, the cheaters and the non-cheaters. Instead, we have a very healthy and very human student-body, who respond to environmental conditions just like the rest of the animal kingdom. It is the job of the Students' Association to see that these environmental conditions are ameliorated, particularly the seven which we have pointed out. Failure to do so will be their own condemnation.

BELLMONT CUP TO BE AWARDED SOON TO BEST ATHLETE

Seven Events Form the List For the Try-Out

Coach Clyde Littlefield has announced that competition for the Bellmont cup, awarded annually to the best all-around athlete, will take place Monday, May 19, on Clark Field. This will be the fourth year in which the Bellmont trophy has been awarded.

Raleigh Sapp won the first cup in 1921. The 1922 prize went to Gilstrap, and Thames triumphed last year. Competition is always spirited, but because of the excellence of his track team Littlefield is looking for greater rivalry than ever. Seven events form the list for the trophy and are as follows: The 75-yard dash, the 75-yard low hurdles, the high jump, broad jump, pole vault, discus throw, and the half mile run. Points are awarded for placing in each event and the athlete having the greatest total of points receives the cup.

Any athlete who is good in scholastic standing is eligible to compete for the trophy unless he is a former winner of the cup.

Tryouts for Sigma Delta Psi, honorary athletic fraternity, will be conducted on the days on which no ball game is scheduled on Clark Field, stated the Longhorn mentor.

BREAKFAST GIVEN BY NEWMAN CLUB

Griffith and Qualia Speak on Cultural Value of Religion

The annual breakfast of the Newman Club was held Sunday afternoon in the Newman Club Rooms, Roger Peters, president, presiding. About seventy members were present.

Among the speakers were Dr. R. H. Griffith, professor of English in the University, and Charles Qualia of the Romance Language Department. Both speakers spoke on related subjects, emphasizing the cultural value of religion. Mr. Qualia showed that thorough knowledge of Catholicism means a thorough knowledge of history since century one. Doctor Griffith said that material knowledge was not the only important factor in our lives. He pointed out that we do too many things through our emotions to consider absolute facts as the only foundations for our lives.

The ladies of St. Austin's parish took charge of the breakfast.

The last meeting of the long session will be held next Sunday when the election of officers for 1924-25 will be held.

assistants, N. K. Wright, B. H. Peacock, T. T. Word, Archie Hunsucker, E. C. Ponder.

Education and Graduates—Judge, Thomas M. Hammond; assistants, Claire Carsner, Theresa Henniger, Lillian Baldwin, Hattie Cannon, Dorothy Nail, Francis Wiseman, Andrew Moursund, Leonard McCollum.

B.A. Department—Judge, J. B. Marley; assistants, Ed Polk, Porter A. Bywaters, Richard McKinney, Rigsby Hammond.

No electioneering will be permitted near the ballot boxes, J. C. White declared.

The preferential ballot will be used in all student elections. For each office the voter must indicate his first, second and third choice, by placing 1, 1, and 3 in the margin opposite the candidates' names, when there are more than two in the race. This is done to do away with the need of holding a second election to determine who has won the office when no candidate has a majority.

Each voter shall indicate his choice only for those offices for which he is eligible to vote. Hence no men are to vote for members of the Women's Council, no women for the Men's Council, and no members of any school for the councilmen of other schools. All other offices are to be voted on by the entire student body.

The number of each ballot will be recorded with the voter's name so that a check may be made to eliminate those having no right to vote.

COMPARISON OF BATTLE SHIP AND LINER

U.S.S. Colorado and the Leviathan

The superdreadnought Colorado, largest battleship afloat, was moved temporarily into a unique position—alongside the largest liner owned by America and the second largest in the world—the Leviathan—in New York harbor. This is the first time an accurate comparison between the largest warship and the largest liner has ever been obtained, and the mighty Colorado seems like a towboat alongside the Leviathan.

Take a Look at Your Luggage— Is It Smart? Is It Up-to-Date?

You wouldn't think of carrying a carpet bag, would you? It's useful enough, no doubt, but out of style.

When you arrive home you don't want to blush for your luggage. The modern traveler now checks a wardrobe trunk. It is as strong as an iron box, is a good traveler, takes the place of a clothes closet in your room, and it's smart looking, too. The hand luggage of the up-to-date woman today is a hat box and a dressing case, preferably a fitted one. A man chooses a sturdy masculine traveling bag or suit case.

You'll find the newest things in our luggage section, down stairs.

Wardrobe Trunks, $27.50 to $147.50.
Steamer Trunks, $6.85 to $31.50.
Traveling Bags, $6.75 to $29.50.
Suit Cases, $7.98 to $29.50.
Women's Cases, $3.50 to $29.50.
Fitted Cases, $5.75 to $66.00.
Hat Boxes, $2.75 to $25.00.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE ADOPT ROUND-ROBIN BASKET BALL PROGRAM

Teams Will Play Fourteen Games Each in 1925

Only fourteen conference basketball games will be played by each team in 1925, according to the schedule adopted by Southwest Conference officials at Saturday's meeting held at the Y.M.C.A., Austin. The schedule is on a round robin basis with each team playing each other in a home and home basis.

Because of the long jump necessary from any Texas school to Oklahoma A. & M., it was decided to divide the six Texas schools into two groups styling Texas, T. C. U., and S. M. U. Group 1, and Baylor, Rice, and Texas A. & M. Group 2. Group 1 will play two games with Arkansas at home and two games with Oklahoma A. & M. abroad, and Group 2 will invade Arkansas for a two-game series while meeting the Oklahoma Aggies on their own court. The reverse process will be followed in baseball where a round robin schedule of 14 games has also been agreed upon.

In cutting the program from twenty to fourteen games the conference has eliminated much of the time that teams must spend away from home. The adoption of a round-robin basis for the schedule is a progressive movement following the example of other important conferences.

'TEXAS LEGENDS' LATEST BOOK OFF UNIVERSITY PRESS

Is Third Annual Publication Edited by Folk-Lore Society of Texas

LAW SAYS IS VALUABLE

May Be Secured From Miss Burch at Registrar's Office

"Legends of Texas," edited by J. Frank Dobie, former instructor in the University, now teaching in the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater, is the latest bound book to be issued from the University of Texas Press. The book, which is illustrated, is the third annual publication of the Folk-Lore Society of Texas.

The publication begins with a preface by Mr. Dobie in the general subject of legends and their sources, in which he says: "If the ballads of a nation are as important as its laws, its legends are almost as important as its ballads. I must confess a great hope that some man or woman who understands will seize upon these legends and use them as Irving used the legends of the Hudson and the Catskills, as Whittier used the legends of New England." Of Texas legends in general, Mr. Dobie says that the folk-lore of any people illustrates the genius, the spirit, of that people better than anything you can pick out; not only are legends entertaining, but they are valuable in interpreting the spirit of Texas.

Twenty-five or thirty separate legends of buried treasure and lost mines arranged according to their geographical locations are found in the first division of the book. Legends of the supernatural and of lovers are under the next division. The legends of lovers include three versions of "Antoinette's Leap: The Legend of Mount Bonnell." Pirates and pirate treasure legends follow, which include various legends relating to Jean Lafitte. A section is devoted to legendary origins of Texas flowers, names and streams, which contains a version of the Blue Bonnet legend. A concluding series of miscellaneous legends are found under the last division of the publication.

Dr. Robert A. Law, of the English department of the University, says of the book: "I think it has a good deal of valuable historical material. The legends are of interest on account of the light they throw on the history of Texas."

A copy of "Legends of Texas" may be secured from Miss Ethel Burch in the Registrar's office. The unbound copy is $1.50 and the bound copy, $2.50.

GREATEST TRACK MENTOR IN SOUTH

"The Longhorns have exceeded my fondest dreams," said Coach Clyde Littlefield, after his stars had again won championship laurels. "At the beginning of the year I did not think we could approach 1923, but the 1924 team is the best in the history of the school. I have compared our records with the records of the Missouri Valley and leading Eastern schools and find that we beat their records as a team."

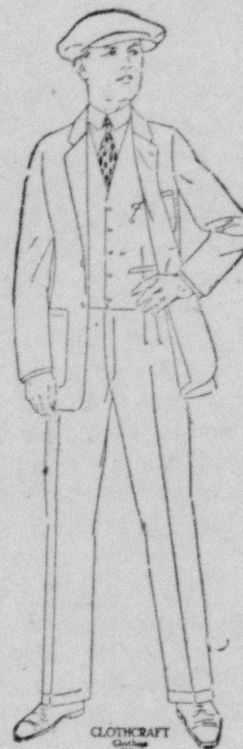

University American Legion Holds Last Meeting Wednesday

When the members of the University Post of the American Legion assemble Wednesday night at East Woods for their wiener roast and last meeting of the year, they are due for a big surprise in the way of speakers for the occasion, according to "Doc" S. N. Eckdahl, who is in charge of the program. He refuses to give out the names of the speakers, but promises that there will be a number of them present. The KP detail of the expedition which will leave the Main Building, room 158, at 7:30 is in charge of John R. McCann and James P. McMahon.

Eldon Dyer is QUALIFIED to hold the office of student president.
