Professor Emmett L. Bennett

The Old Observatory,

Madison,

Wisconsin, 53706

U.S.A.

Godalming 14th July 1964

Dear Bennett,

Thank you for your letter & later card. Indeed we intend to put in the cretulae. I have never understood the neglect that has always been accorded them as they are presumably one's safest source of ~~xxxx~~ words as opposed to proper names.

I wrote to Platon to try to deduce him into publishing with us or at least PUBLISHING & then having a second shot with us. No good as yet though. He says he wants to wait till he has found some more tablets. A very great pity as it will throw all our vocabularies etc. out. We will have a further shot. If you can help I shall give you a most powerful and triple papal blessing.

Gallavotti has tentatively suggested that we might publish the book in his series, which we tend to think a good idea.

Re numbering. I'll show you our present ideas when I get to Madison. This will be, according to our present plans, on Sept ~~20th or thereabouts~~ 22nd or thereabouts for a fortnight. We want to get to Los Angeles by approx. 16th November - how long roughly does it take to drive there via THE GRAND CANYON in moderate comfort + pauses for "observation" in terms of my grant & to preserve the sanity of ourselves and children. Ten to twelve days enough?

Snow-boots, rain-coats, & bikinis we shall bring. Also UMBRELLA and SUNSHADE. Can you suggest a child-worthy hotel/motel suitable for a non-dollar income? I assume you will be around if not on the 22nd soon after. Also the Chadwicks. Who is replacing Marshall Clagett as your ancient scientist?

Best wishes,

Maurice Pope

Will you be at Philadelphia?
