DISTINCTIVE TEXAS FLAVORS FEATURE STORIES IN LONGHORN

DISTRIBUTION OF MAGAZINE TODAY

First Issue of Literary Publication Under New Editor

Beginning at 9 o'clock this morning, the March number of the Longhorn Magazine will be distributed today and tomorrow to students bringing their publications cards to Main Building 155. This is the first issue of the Longhorn under its new management and the second issue of this school year.

The outstanding feature of the issue is its distinctive Texas flavor.

"The Longhorn is a Texas magazine," said DeWitt Reddick, editor, "and as such, I think it should embody the spirit and ideal of Texas, and should devote itself principally to portraying life in the Lone Star State."

Following the program laid for the magazine, the editorial of the first issue discusses Texas as a field for literature, and a special department is devoted to literary activities in the Southwest.

Two of the short stories have their setting in Texas. "Water Hyacinths," by Vivian Richardson, describes the life of a Swedish farmer in the Rio Grande valley. "The Chandler Kid," by Henry Simms, deals with one of the problems which confronts the police of a midsized Texas city.

The third short story, "Wandering Justice" by W. D. Dixon, steps across the border into the desert wastes and the scorched, barren mountains of New Mexico for its setting. Dealing with a University activity, the feature story of the Curtin Club by Melvin Williamson is interesting because it traces the growth and development of an organization which is now one the outstanding amateur dramatic societies in the Southwest.

Succeeding issues of the Longhorn, according to Reddick, will continue stressing Texas and Texas life in its stories and features.

Three Nominated for Positions on 1925 Senior 'Y' Cabinet

Three nominees for offices in the senior Y. M. C. A. cabinet for the 1925 session are Sterling C. Holloway of Cisco for president, Francis Smith of Port Worth for vice-president, and Marion A. Olson of Cisco for recording secretary. These candidates, together with any others that may be nominated, will be subject to the election that will be held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at 7 p. m. Friday night.

The three selected above are the nominees of the members of the present cabinet, but anyone else wishing to make other nominations must file the name, or names, of their candidates with Block Smith at the office of the association not later than 6 p. m. on Wednesday, March 4.

The final election to vote upon the candidates will be held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, March 6, at 7 o'clock. All men who are members in good standing of evangelical churches are invited to come out to the election. The officials in charge are anxious that a large number be present in order that the election may be truly an indication of the wishes of the student body.

EXES HOLD 75 BANQUETS MONDAY

Definite Reports Have Not Been Received; Taylor Speaks at Port Arthur

There were something like seventy-five banquets held Monday by ex-students of the University of Texas at different points throughout the state in celebration of March 2. However definite reports on these banquets have not come in yet, according to Reavis, Cox, managing editor of the Alcalde, the ex-student magazine.

There were several members of the faculty that went to attend the banquets and to deliver speeches to the ex-students. Dean T. U. Taylor of the College of Engineering spoke to the ex-students of Port Arthur at their annual March 2 banquet Monday.

He said that the banquet was very successful, especially a skit put on by the girls, who were dressed as cowboys and sang several songs, the chorus of which the whole group sang. Over sixty ex-students were at the banquet and several local speakers gave addresses.

PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS WILL MEET THURSDAY

Students Desiring to Teach Should Register With Committee Early

All students who wish to be registered with the Teachers Appointment Committee are to meet Thursday afternoon at the Education Building, room 312, at 5 o'clock, according to Miss Miriam Dozier, secretary of the committee. Those students who wish help in securing teaching positions are urged to come to this meeting so they may have their names on file when the spring call comes.

At this meeting, Chairman Frederick Eby and Secretary Dozier will give instruction as to filling out of registration blanks. They will be given out at the meeting and filed later at the office of the committee. The students are told the types of positions that are open to them, according to their training and experience.

According to Miss Dozier, the students should not wait until May and June to register with the Appointment Committee, because by that time most of the calls are in and have been filled.

Athletic Coaches Worth More Than Profs Hoggs Decide

A good athletic coach is entitled to receive a larger salary than a professor, was the verdict of the judges in a debate on the subject last night at the Hogg Debating Club. The winning side, which was represented by Lavon Lovinggood and Frank Steine, pointed out that it requires years of training, a magnetic personality, and a leader of men to be successful as a coach in athletics. The other side was well represented by Emanuel Reichman and Frank White. Lovinggood was voted the best speaker among the debaters.

"The Significance of March 2" was discussed by David Heath, while Robert Brown gave the weekly grunt. The club voted to participate in the Alpha Phi Epsilon social affair, which will be held in the spring term. Ernest W. Belcher of Stephenville, a transfer from John Tarleton College, where he won the state contest in oratory, was admitted into membership in the club.

Student Injured in Clash Rush Reported Improving Rapidly

John Burt, University student who was injured in the clash Sunday night between freshmen and sophomores, is doing nicely. While he is not out of danger, his condition is satisfactory to the attending physicians.

Burt suffered a fracture of the skull, was immediately taken in charge by the University physicians, X-ray made, consulting surgeon called and operation performed. He is receiving every attention possible.

His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Burt and a brother and sister of Dallas arrived at his bedside Monday afternoon. The father, brother and sister returned home Tuesday. His mother will remain a few days longer.

C. W. GODDARD, M. D., Dean, University Health Service.

FROSH FORENSIC MEETING TONIGHT

Will Debate on Foreign Language Requirement; Alvin Hutson Will Talk

Members of the Freshman Forensic Society will hear a debate tonight at the Wesley Bible Chair on the subject "Resolved, That the foreign language requirement should be abolished for the B. A. degree." Alvin W. Hutson will give the society a talk on a subject of his own choosing, after which the president will call upon several members to give impromptu speeches on various subjects which he will assign them.

The meeting tonight will be the last one this term. The first meeting next term will be given over to the election of the spring term officers and to the acceptance of a constitution which is now being prepared, it was stated. The meeting will begin at 7:15 sharp, and all members are requested to be on time.

500 WOMEN DEANS ATTEND MEETING

Miss Newton Reports on Problems Taken up at National Convention

Five hundred deans of women were present at the meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women held last week in Cincinnati at which a resolution was passed to make a two-year study of sororities and their contribution to the modern campus, according to Miss Lucy J. Newton, secretary of the organization. A preliminary report will be made next year and the final report will be given at the association meeting held in 1927. The deans will co-operate with national and local Pan-Hellenic in all work done concerning sororities.

This question was discussed at the recent meeting of the association by both sorority and non-sorority women. It was found that many sorority women are opposed to sororities existing on the modern campus. Miss Newton presided over the meeting at which the sororities were discussed.

At the same time that the meeting of deans was being held there were 13,000 educators in Cincinnati for the purpose of discussing educational problems of the country. Many interesting and instructive talks were made by the outstanding educators of the country concerning campus life and campus problems, stated Miss Newton.

TWELVE SPEAKERS WILL COMPETE IN CONTEST TONIGHT

Finals for Univ. Extempore Speaking Prizes to Be Held in Law Bldg.

SIX AWARDS OFFERED

Four Campus Literary Societies Have Representatives Entered

Twelve men and women, winners in the preliminaries in the Extempore Speaking contests held recently, will compete Wednesday night in the auditorium of the Law Building for the six cash prizes offered by Elwood Griscom of the public speaking department yesterday.

Six men representing various literary societies on the campus were chosen from a total of twelve entrants who participated in the preliminaries held Friday, February 20. Honors were nearly evenly divided among the four literary societies which were allowed to enter three men each in the contest. The men selected were: Bob Calvert, of the Speakers Club; Joyce Cox and M. A. Olson of the Athenaeum Literary Society; Moulton Cobb, of the Hogg Literary Society; and Raymond Gerhardt and Morris Wise, of the Rusk Literary Society.

Sibyl Alexander, Mary Barkuloo, Dorothy Cooper, Flora Holman, Mary Lena Jones and Violet Schaffer were the six girls selected in the girls preliminaries held Thursday, February 26, when nineteen girls competed for places in the finals.

In both the men's and the women's contests three prizes were offered. The first prize amounts to $25, the second $15, and the third $10, and are offered each year.

The rules for the finals will be the same as those employed in the preliminaries, it was announced. Each speaker will be given a sealed envelope in which will be found several subjects from which he will choose his speech. Fifteen minutes will be allotted to each contestant to prepare a five minute speech.

The contest tonight will be open to the public, and all interested are invited to attend, Professor Griscom stated.

FACULTY MAIL INCREASES

Delivery of faculty mail on the campus of the University of Texas has reached such proportions as to require the services of two carriers daily, according to I. P. Lockridge, business manager of the University. Students employed as carriers in the system are George R. Hefley of Cameron and Robert I. Sample of Austin. Both men are residents of B. Hall.

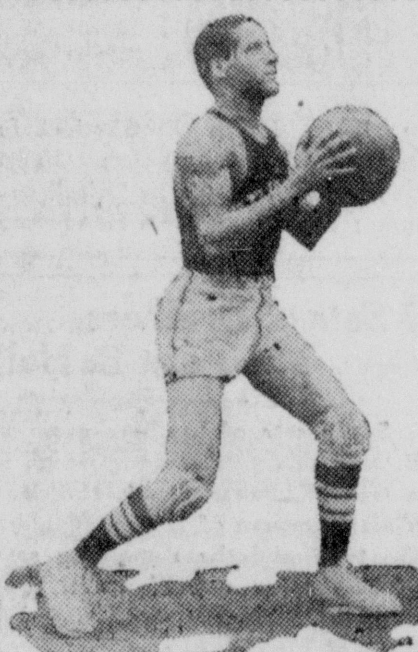

ESQUIVEL ELECTED CAPTAIN 1926 BASKET BALL QUINTET

Sandi Esquivel, star forward on the Longhorn basketball team for the past two years, was elected captain of the 1926 basketball team yesterday afternoon by his teammates. Esquivel closed a successful season in basketball last Saturday night, when he scored 8 points against the Farmer Aggies. He has played an aggressive game throughout the season, and was one of the most dependable men of Stewart's quintet. Esquivel is not only a good basket tosser, but is also a very hard man to tire out. His durability was exemplified in many of the battles of the past season.

Aside from being a letter man in basketball, Esquivel is also a track artist of no mean ability. Last fall,

GOLF MAJOR SPORT IN INTERFRAT ATHLETICS

Three Men Represent Each Fraternity; Scores Do Not Count to Cup

Golf was made one of the major sports in the inter-fraternity spring term athletic contest by a ruling of the inter-fraternity athletic council Thursday afternoon, according to Lester Setegast, president.

The ruling reads: "Each of the fraternities shall have three men to represent them in golf. Each of the three men from each fraternity presented shall play eighteen holes, and turn the score card in to director Whitaker. These scores are to count nothing toward the cup."

From the cards submitted in this way Director Whitaker shall put four men together, no two of whom are from the same fraternity, and whose score cards are about equal, to play the next thirty-six holes. This plan of grouping will be followed until all participants have been given an opportunity to play. Individual scores are to be counted, and the three men from any given fraternity, whose score is the least shall win. The individual whose score is the least shall be acclaimed the best golfer in the tournament.

WOMEN'S CLUB SCHOLARSHIP

Awarding of the annual fifty-dollar scholarship of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will likely be made in May, according to Miss Annie Webb Blanton, who is receiving student applications.

INTRAMURAL FINALS IN WRESTLING AND BOXING TONIGHT

Students Will Be Admitted Free of Charge; Matches Will Alternate

Finals in intramural boxing will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Men's Gymnasium, according to Berry M. Whitaker, intramural director. The men who are to participate in tonight's contest are survivors of two previous tournaments, and the winners will be declared University champions in their respective weights.

Weed, hundred and fifteen pounder and winner of last year in that event, is expected to give Payne a good battle for the boxing championship of this weight. Both men won their previous matches easily. In the hundred and twenty-five event, Swift and Butler should give a good exhibition of scientific boxing.

Fred Ford, captain of the wrestling team for the University, will meet Boggess for the 135 crown. Although Ford is a man of great experience in boxing, Boggess is by no means a novice, and he will make things very interesting for the captain of the Longhorn wrestlers. Perkins and Craighead will fight it out for the one hundred and forty-five pound title; Malone and Estes in the one hundred and fifty-eight; and Hargrove will meet Hammond in the hundred and seventy-five pound weight.

In wrestling, Close vs. Basila, hundred and fifteen; Butler vs. Hoffmann, hundred and twenty-five; Nichols vs. Harris, hundred and thirty-five; Miller vs. Lughlin, hundred and forty-five; Hammond vs. Lynn, hundred and fifty-five; Rember vs. Hammonds in the hundred and seventy-five; Campbell vs. Hammond in the heavyweights.

R. W. Hammond will participate in four different events, one in boxing and three in wrestling, and although he will meet strong competition, he is expected by his supporters to win most of his matches.

Berry Whitaker, director, stated that no admission will be charged for these contests. Only one bout will take place at a time. The matches will be alternated between boxing and wrestling. A large crowd of eds and co-eds is expected to witness these contests. The winners will be eligible for membership in the newly organized fistic fraternity, Phi Lambda Uperkut.

Richard Blalock Elected President Athenaeum Society

Richard W. Blalock of Marshall was elected president of the Athenaeum Literary Society for the spring term at a meeting of the society Tuesday night. M. A. Olson, retiring critic, was elected as vice-president; A. B. Cox, treasurer; R. B. Voight, secretary; A. W. Cowen, critic; and Frank Stubbeman, reporter.

A very spirited discussion arose over the proposal to postpone the election of the sergeant-at-arms. Despite the custom that has prevailed by which the retiring president is made sergeant-at-arms, the motion to postpone the election of this officer until next meeting was carried.

FROSH MEETING CALLED TODAY

B. Hall Association Committee Says Reports of Damage Exaggerated

By Elmer Callihan

University administrative machinery set in motion Tuesday to work harmoniously towards a satisfactory adjustment of the disorder and damage resulting from the freshman attack upon B. Hall Sunday night. Meeting at the request of President W. M. W. Splawn the University Administrative Council, composed of the deans of the several schools of the University, met yesterday in the president's office and began a thorough investigation of the March 2 affair.

Though refusing to make any statement to the press in regard to considerations made at the meeting of the council yesterday, President Splawn stated that the investigation had got well under way, with the aim of searching out the truth of the affair from the students and other persons in a position to know the true facts of the class scrap. Testimony in the investigation will probably be heard by the council in meeting today.

The calling of a general convocation by President Splawn of all freshman men today at 12 o'clock at the Men's Gym, indicates that the University officials will first take steps to secure the co-operation of the first year men in handling the investigation fairly and satisfactorily.

Damage Is Exaggerated

Reports carried in state newspapers in regard to the damage done to Brackenridge Hall by the freshman invasion were greatly exaggerated, as revealed in the report made by the B. Hall Association committee Tuesday. Personal damage was placed at the comparatively low sum of $500 in the report made by the B. Hall committee after a careful survey yesterday. This authorized announcement refutes exaggerated press statements and rumors which placed the personal damage at an absurd figure.

Students injured in the traditional class fight are all reported as having received only minor injuries, with the exception of John Burt, Dallas freshman whose skull was slightly fractured in the melee, and who late yesterday was officially reported by his physician as being well on the road to recovery.

Hostilities Ended

Hostilities between the rival freshman and sophomore classes were all definitely concluded with the tug-of-war contest staged at the Stadium field Monday morning by several hundred of the rival students. Unable to hold the pushball contest on account of the bursting of the big ball at the first rush of the contestants, the contending classes contented themselves with a tug-of-war contest, in which the sophomores avenged the partially successful freshman attack on B. Hall by pulling the "slimes" into the ice-cold water of Waller Creek.

Both the freshmen and the upperclassmen are now resting on their laurels. The freshmen, though they did not succeed in capturing the upperclassmen's stronghold as was erroneously reported in state papers, are priding themselves on having come nearer capturing B. Hall than any other freshman class in University history. On the other side, B. Hallites scoff at the "newspaper decision" awarded the freshmen, and are proudly flaunting the red banner of the hall over their stronghold, which, they declare, "has never been taken and never will be, as long as upperclassmen are upperclassmen and 'slimes' are 'slimes'."

SIXTEEN SCHOOLS SEND BI-DISTRICT CHAMPION QUINTS

Fifth Annual Interscholastic Basket Ball Meet Friday and Saturday

TROPHY FOR WINNER

El Paso and Oak Cliff, Dallas, Are Doped as Favorites in Clash

Sixteen teams representing practically every corner of the state of Texas will meet here Friday and Saturday for the fifth annual interscholastic basket ball meet. The different teams are bi-district winners and will compete for the state championship in high school basket ball.

Elimination contests will begin Friday morning at 9:30 and will extend to Saturday night. A special price of one dollar will be made to the students who wish to see these games, provided the ticket be bought before Friday. Roy Henderson stated that the tickets could be procured at the Co-op or at the athletic office.

Spawn to Present Trophy

Saturday night there will be two contests. The first game will decide the third place winners, and the second game will decide the championship. Dr. Spawn will present the trophy to the state champions.

Great interest is manifested throughout the state over the outcome, and for the first time, a committee of sport writers has been appointed to pick an all-state high school basket ball team. Venne of Carlyle and Alderson of Texas will referee the games.

The title winners will be awarded gold basket balls and a large silver basket ball will go to the team as a body. The team that loses in the finals will receive silver basket balls and bronze basket balls will go to the third best team. The second and third best teams also will receive silver loving cups.

16 Teams to Compete

The teams that are to participate in the tournament are as follows: Beaumont, Brownwood, Estelline, Eustace, Nacogdoches, New Waverly, San Antonio, Sherman, Stephenville, Sulphur Springs, Taft, Tuleta, Tulla, Waco, El Paso, and Austin.

The El Paso team is considered by many to have the best chance. They won the championship in '21 and '22 and lost in '23 and '24 in the finals to Oak Cliff, Dallas, San Antonio, Beaumont, and Nacogdoches have strong quintets, and they should be able to give El Paso a good race. Austin high with Bobby Robertson as coach is the team that will get far into the race and may cop the championship. The strength of the other teams, comparatively speaking, is unknown, and it is impossible to say just what may result.

Guests of Frats

Director Roy Henderson announced that the different teams will be the guests of the fraternities at the University with the exception of El Paso and Austin. The boys from the border will make their headquarters at a local hotel. Following is a list of the fraternities and their guests: Beaumont, A. T. O.; Brownwood, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Estelline, Sigma Nu; Eustace, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Nacogdoches, Acacia; New Waverly, Kappa Sigma; San Antonio, Theta Xi; Sherman, Phi Delta Theta; Stephenville, Delta Theta Phi; Sulphur Springs, Delta Chi; Taft, Delta Tau Delta; Tuleta, Kappa Alpha; Tulla, Lambda Chi Alpha; Waco, Phi Kappa Psi.

The Longhorn Magazine will be distributed today and Thursday only. Bring your publication card to room 155, M. B. for your copy.

BAYLOR COLLEGE CHORUS FEATURES GIRLS' ORCHESTRA

Will Appear With Varied Program at First Baptist Church March 8

When the Baylor College Choral Club appears at the First Baptist Church in Austin, March 8, one of the outstanding attractions will be the orchestra, which is composed of girls who also sing in the choruses. Eight instruments are included: three violins, a broomstick fiddle, a guitar, a ukelele, a banjo and a saxophone.

The most unusual feature of the orchestra is the broomstick fiddle, which is played by Miss Eugenia Daniel, of Honey Grove. It consists of a ordinary child's broom unadorned save for two pegs, one at the top and one near the broom straw. A bridge similar to the ordinary violin bridge is placed near the straw and the string is held taut by a peg similar to those used in inexpensive ukeleles.

Instead of using her fingers to secure tones Miss Daniel uses a small wooden box. In one corner of this box there is an aperture. By moving the corner of the box opposite the aperture up and down on the single string, Miss Daniel is able to

The Misses Olive Henderson of Cameron, Edrie DeWitt of Cooper, and Lois Love of DeRidder, La., play the violins. Miss Ailen Moore of Hillsboro plays the ukelele and Miss Jennie Catherine Kerr of Houston, the banjo. Miss Sara Roberts of Mayfield, Ky., is the saxophone soloist. Miss Merle Minkert of Bryan plays the guitar.

The Choral Club will make its first trip March 6, 7, and 8 when it goes to Austin and San Antonio.

INCREASE IN CALLS FOR TEACHERS IS REPORTED

Out of State Calls Total 144 But Show Decrease From Last Year

According to Miss Miriam Dozier, secretary of the Teachers Appointment Committee, the number of calls for teachers during the year from February 1, 1924 to January 1, 1925 is 1553, the largest number in the history of the committee. This number shows an increase of 52 over that of the previous year.

There is an increase in the demand for superintendents, principals, grade teachers, rural school teachers, governesses, and public school music teachers, while there is a decrease in all other lines of work. The demand for young men to teach in the upper grammar grades and to act as ward principals has been unusually large, according to Miss Dozier.

Out of the state calls for teachers were not as numerous this year as they were last year, there being 70 less. The total number of calls was 144, New Mexico and Louisiana leading. There were three applications from Turkey and one from Cuba.

Calls are most numerous during April, May, June, July, and August, those being the months during which most of the schools are electing their teachers for the coming year.

Dr. Schoch Improves Method of Dehydrating Coal After Seven Years' Work

HEATING CAPACITY
LIGNITE INCREASED
BY THE PROCESS

Ton of New Fuel Has Heating
Capacity Equal Two Tons
Raw Material

BIG SAVING FOR SCHOOL

Dehydrated Lignite Will Cost
Less Than Cheapest Raw Material

After seven years of tireless effort, Dr. E. P. Schoch, professor of Physical Chemistry at the University, has perfected a process of dehydrating lignite coal which will give it twice the heating capacity of its raw state, and at the same time enable the dealer to sell the finished product at a lower price than raw lignite now brings.

Process Reduces Cost

As a result of Dr. Schoch's process, a ton of the dehydrated lignite will cost delivered at the University, $4.23. A ton of the "new" fuel will have a heating capacity equal to that of two tons of the raw lignite which now costs the University $4.86 per ton. The dehydrated lignite produced by Dr. Schoch's process will cost less than the cheapest raw lignite ever furnished.

The dehydrated lignite also has another great advantage over the raw lignite in that it does not "slack" to a fine powder. The raw lignite slacks extensively within two days, even as much as 60 or 80 per cent. The resulting powder is lost mostly through the grate bars of a fire box, it ignites with difficulty and is unpleasant to handle.

Does Not Slack

After some of Dr. Schoch's dehydrated lignite had been hauled about three miles and unloaded into a bin, over 90 per cent of it was in the form of lumps with diameters with at least 50 per cent having ranging from one to four inches, diameters larger than two inches.

It has been used as fuel in a large stove and in a kitchen stove—all hot air furnace, in a small coal with absolute satisfaction to three different users, reports state. A fire is started easily with it, and it will form and hold a good bank of hot glowing coal, always burning out completely.

Experiments with raw lignite have been carried on several years by chemists in practically every part of the world. The Canadian Lignite Utilization Board reached the conclusion that the cost of utilizing the raw lignite as a fuel made its use prohibitive, and in its 1924 report set forth that conclusion. The U. S. Bureau of Mines reached the same conclusion and published a statement to that effect in Bulletin 221.

Solves Difficult Problem

In spite of these authoritative decisions, Dr. Schoch continued to work on his process. But for awhile, the problem seemed not to admit of final solution and until the spring of 1924, it remained unsolved. Then the last difficulties were overcome, and during the summer of 1924 an experimental plant was built on the grounds of the Austin Gas Company, and a small quantity of the dehydrated lignite was produced. The process was demonstrated before a number of lignite producers, railroad officials, public service corporation officials, and technical experts of concerns interested in Texas lignite.

The process consists of forcing coal petroleum oil upward through a large container filled with lignite, and allowing the oil to overflow in a large flat vessel, where the oil foam separates into oil and steam. The oil is driven through by means of pipe coils, and is gradually heated to 570 degrees Fahrenheit. During this operation, the water is steamed out of the lignite, and it is condensed to regain the vaporized oil. When the above temperature has been reached, the oil is drained from the container, and superheated steam is blown through the lignite. To cool the charge, some ordinary steam is blown through it until the temperature is brought to 300 degrees Fahrenheit, when a shower of cold water is poured over it. When it is cooled to 150 degrees Fahrenheit, the charge is dumped. The whole operation lasts only about four hours.

Burleson College Athletes Expected to Provide Strong Competition in Texas Relays

Strong competition in the junior college division of the Texas Relay Games, to be staged in Austin March 27, is assured by the entry of Burleson College of Greenville, Grubbs Vocational College of Arlington, and the Southwest Texas Teacher's Normal of San Marcos. Each of the three school listed will enter relay teams in the mile, half-mile, and medley relays, feature events of the junior college competition. A number of other junior college have tentatively filed entries with L. Theo. Bellmont Varsity athletic director.

Burleson College, coached by Woodrow Wilson, former Texas Aggie football captain, on advance dope figures to be the strongest school entered in the junior college division, since many of the men, who last season won the state junior college track and field championship, will be available for a competition in the Texas Relay Games.

Wesley College, another strong junior college located at Greenville, will not enter relay teams, but will send a shot putter who in the open-for-all individual events may outclass the weight heavies from the large universities. Hooks, the young giant who last spring won the Class B championship of the Interscholastic League by heaving the 12 pound shot 48 feet is the athlete to whom reference is made. "Bud" Sprague and K. L. Berry, veteran shot putters of Texas University, and Sam Coates, star shot putter of Baylor University, will be hard to defeat the young star of Wesley College.

CAVE MEN SCARCE NEAR AUSTIN, SAYS VARSITY GEOLOGY PROF

Cave men are scarce in central Texas because there are few caves in this vicinity, according to F. L. Whitney, associate professor of Geology and Paleontology in the University of Texas.

"Probably the most interesting hollows in the earth of this region are the two at San Marcos, the Wonder Cave and the Ezell Cave," declared Whitney. "I explored them several years ago."

"The Wonder Cave extends back approximately 100 yards in the Edward's limestone, and was most likely caused by faulting in the rock after part of the foundation was worn away by underground water. This conclusion was reached after observing that a line of flint was broken. The cave is large enough to walk erect in at some places and small enough to be uncomfortable to get through at others.

"The Ezell Cave has water in it which runs at the same level as the San Marcos River, and blind fish have been caught there. It is located south of San Marcos.

"I had heard that there was a cave from the rock quarry at Lake Austin, running for several miles under the city of Austin, but was unable to penetrate far as the blasting for the Lake Austin dam had caved in some of the rock. The other caves in this district are little more than holes in the wall, but exploring any of them is dangerous business."

$3,000 SAVED BY P. B. X. SYSTEM

Present Telephone Exchange on Campus Serves 127
Phones at Low Cost

"Working like a charm," is the expression used by I. P. Lochridge, business manager of the University, in commenting on the private branch telephone exchange recently installed at the University.

"With the constant increase of the University," said Mr. Lochridge, "we found that we could save about $3,000 a year by putting in this board. Until things got into a working order there were many persons dissatisfied with the system, but for the past month I haven't heard a complaint. Of course, during busy hours people have to wait a while, but the operator does the best she can."

Operators are on duty from 7 in the morning until 10 at night. After and before these hours ten trunk lines connect the busiest stations. During the day 127 telephones in the University can be used. "Even though we have a large number of stations," commented one of the operators, "we have always been able to accommodate the public and have never had all ten trunk lines busy at the same time. That is because most of the phones are used for business purposes and the connection is only for a few minutes."

The busiest hours are from 9 until 11:30 in the morning and from 2:30 until 4 in the afternoon. The greatest rush comes just between classes, according to Mr. Lochridge. With the constant growth of the University, provision for thirty more stations was allowed for. These will be added from time to time.

LEGISLATURE MAY SOON GET BILL AUTHORIZING MUSEUM ON CAMPUS

By Elmer Callihan

When the dream of a greater University is fulfilled one monumental structure in the campus group probably will be a great State Museum. This edifice, proposed to be erected on the University campus at a cost of a half million dollars, would be the concrete reality of an ideal long entertained by one of Texas' true friends, Professor James E. Pearce, head of the department of anthropology in the University and chairman of the University committee on museums and archives.

Originating the idea of a great state museum for the state of Texas to be located on the campus of the state's foremost institution of higher learning, Professor Pearce has planned continuously since that time to make his idea a reality. So zealous in his work for such a cause is Professor Pearce that it is a well-known fact that the professor often pauses in his anthropology lectures to explain and advocate his museum plans to the students.

After devotion of much time to a close, detailed study of the problem of a museum for Texas, Professor Pearce inaugurated the move for an institution in 1924, with both the University faculty and the Board of Regents approving the resolution of Chairman Pearce's committee that the state should establish a museum on the University campus, in which all the fine arts, natural sciences, history and anthropology should be represented. If the proposal for such an institution is not brought before the 39th Legislature, it will be presented before the next Legislature, according to the author of the proposal. And it is highly probable that the legislators will see fit to establish this worthy institution and fitting memorial to Texas heroes upon the campus of the University, thus elevating Texas, as a state, to a rank among the cultural states, and the University, as a school, to a rank among the highest educational institutions. Thus Professor Pearce's dream will come true.

The students are now making the last lap of the winter term race, and many of us are preparing desperately for the final drive. The two holidays this week were enjoyable but were not conducive to studying. "Dead week" starts Thursday, and this week is certainly in order, for most of us are about dead from the holiday affairs. Between term themes and preparing for final exams, most of us will have to hustle like Jim Reese did in the final lap of the medley relay races.

The Supreme Court of the United States Monday held that officers could search automobiles for liquor without having a warrant. This decision is meeting with considerable criticism, but it shows that the government is at last becoming serious about enforcing the Eighteenth amendment. The Texan believes that twenty years from now bootlegging will be a forgotten occupation, and that violations of the prohibition law will be few. All admit that the government, and especially the federal government, has been lax about enforcing the prohibition law because the Eighteenth amendment was enacted before public sentiment was ready for it. However, each year finds less drinking throughout the United States, and everywhere sentiment is in favor of a strict enforcement of the prohibition law.

Coach E. J. Stewart and the University of Texas basketball team staged a great comeback Saturday night when the local team defeated Texas A. & M. here, 17 to 13. The game was won in the last few minutes of play when Carl Nation, the University's greatest "pinch-hitter," tossed a couple of goals. This victory enabled the basketball season to close as gloriously as did the football season, and Coach Stewart deserves much credit for the splendid manner in which the team finished the season. Baseball and track will now come before the spotlight.

CAMPUS FIGHT IS A PROBLEM TO BE SETTLED BY UNIVERSITY AUTHORITIES

The freshman and sophomore class fights that occurred on the campus Sunday night and Monday are to be regretted; thorough investigations should be made by University authorities, and the guilty parties should be brought to trial.

These class fights are similar to those that frequently take place in institutions of higher learning and in high schools throughout the United States. Class contests are the natural results of the exuberance of youth, and this year's fights were less serious and disastrous than were many of the class conflicts in the past. The freshman-sophomore class fight is a University tradition, and a friendly encounter between the two classes should not be censured too severely by public opinion. However, this year the boys who were responsible for the damage to B. Hall and for the losses sustained by several students, should be disciplined, and should be made to reimburse those who had their valuables destroyed.

This matter doubtless will be handled correctly by University authorities. The purported statements by several members of the Legislature that "we ought to cut the University off without a cent" and that the University appropriation bill is endangered as a result of the class contests, are incredulous. It was wrong for the students to damage University property, but to reduce the University appropriations because of this act on the part of a few students, would be a far greater wrong, and two wrongs will not remedy the situation.

As long as the University is properly regulated, it should be free from legislative hindrances. The University of Texas should continue to operate just the same, irrespective of the legislative branch of the state government. If University officials fail to attempt to discipline the students for this misconduct, then and then only would legislative action be in order. It is absurd to think that members of the Legislature would favor reducing University appropriations and thus crippling the State University's service to the people of Texas just because a few youngsters were indiscreet in a traditional class contest.

This year's Legislature has been friendly toward higher education and has attempted to be of the best possible service to its constituents, the people of Texas, and it is unbelievable that many members of the Legislature would favor curtailing the benefits of the University of Texas on account of Sunday night's fracas.

Student Opinion

FORESIGHT IS BETTER THAN HINDSIGHT

Once more the University authorities must come forward and make their apologies to the political demagogues of the State for the acts of over-enthusiastic students. On the night of March 1st, the freshmen of the University felt that they were under obligation to precedent laid down by former freshmen classes to make another effort to take B. Hall. We all know the result to both freshmen and some antique furniture in B. Hall. There are also others who have become acquainted with the results by flaring headlines in newspapers over the State; that's the tragedy of the event. Now the politicians over the State have begun to belch forth acrimonious words of condemnation on the University and all officials, in an effort to make political capital out of the situation. No one will approve of members of the freshman and sophomore classes going so far as to damage property belonging to the State, which has been placed on the campus for the use of students by the hard earned money of the people of this State.

The question is for the authorities of the University to handle, and I have no doubt but what they will do so in a judicious manner, and not for the politicians in our legislative bodies and over the State.

The moral is—let every student of this institution use all his power and influence in a common effort to educate the people of the State as to the good the University is doing and that such outbreaks among a few students should not be laid on the shoulders of the University as a whole.

We are also justified in looking at the matter from another viewpoint. If the University authorities had used a little more foresight, they could have seen that such an event would likely occur. Neither the president nor any one in authority took steps to forewarn the members of the freshman and sophomore classes that if they engaged in such a fight they would stand a good chance of seeing the old home town before June. In view of the fact that the president of the University and the discipline committee failed in this respect, we might deduce another moral.

Second moral: A little foresight is better than a carload of hindsight, to say the least, and more characteristic of intelligence.

HARDY HOLLERS.

$600 PROFITS CAMPUS DANCE

Every Saturday Night $20 to $75 Is Cleared; Many Students Attend

"There's close to $600 in the treasury from University dances," said Arno "Shorty" Nowotny of San Antonio, who is floor manager. "The dance clears between $20 to $75 each night," he added.

University boys have regular positions at these student dances. They work as hat checkers, doorkeepers, and generally help take care of the crowd. The Woman's Gymnasium is the scene of these dances every Saturday night, and the floor capacity is from 250 to 300 couples.

The funds derived from the dances are turned over to the auditor of the University for the student government fund. Each term various orchestras try out for contracts to play for the students. This term the Texas Night Hawks have been awarded the contract.

Students say they like these "Gym Germans" because they are informal and represent the good fellowship that should exist in a student gathering. Only a moderate price can be charged due to regulations by the Student Assembly.

TURTLES PRACTICE FOR SPRING MEET

Practice for the big swimming tournament which will be held at Deep Eddy early in the spring is being held every Wednesday night in the basement of the Woman's Building by Turtle Club. There are twenty four members of Turtle Club with Juliette Pagenstecker as president. Miss Olga Anderson, a member of the Physical Training staff, is the instructor for the girls. The girls are practicing stunts and new formations from which to select stunts for the tournament.

CO-EDS TAKING GREATER INTEREST IN ATHLETICS

Larger Classes of Girls Engaged in Basketball, Baseball, Swimming, etc.

More co-eds are taking part in the minor and major sports at the University of Texas than ever before in the history of the school, recently stated Ruth McMillan of Paris, who has compiled a record of the girls.

Under major sports are basketball, baseball, volley ball, tennis, and swimming. Each sport is divided into three class teams for tournament contests. The class which has won the most points at the end of the year will be awarded a silver loving cup. Tournaments for volley ball and basketball started February 21. The baseball teams will swing into action the first part of March, while the tennis tournament is already under way.

Fencing, bicycling, golf, riding, and roller-skating are included in the list of minor sports for co-eds. These sports have for the most part been started this year, and as more students register for the courses, more credit will be given. In the fencing class are twenty-five girls, who practice every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for one hour under the direction of Melvin Williamson. In golf, ten or fifteen girls learn the points of the game under the direction of Miss Ellen Jervey. In bicycling and roller skating, the girls take lessons only once a month. Horseback riding classes are held once a week under the direction of Edward Steere.

Glee Club to Visit Rio Grande Valley

The University Glee Club will make its last tour of the year early in the spring term, when they will take a nine days' trip through the Rio Grande valley. Four trips have already been made, the club having just returned from a swing into North Texas. On that trip three programs were given at Fort Worth, and one each at Denton, Cameron, and Giddings.

At Denton 1800 C. I. A. students heard the program. The spring term trip promises to be the best of the year and all the 35 members of the club will likely make the last tour. They will go by way of San Antonio where the first concert will be given.

Senior Dance Given Monday

Texas colors formed the motif of decorations of the Senior class winter term dance, given Monday night at the K. C. Hall. Twisted crepe paper of orange and white was draped from the walls to the center light, which was shaded by a scarf of two colors. Texas pennants and banners adorned the walls.

Charles Ward, favoring Emily Stephens led the cotillion. Just as the strains of the "Robert E. Lee March" died away, the curtains at one end of the hall were drawn revealing a huge orange "T". This was the signal for the singing of "The Eyes of Texas," after which dancing began.

Chaperones for the occasion were: Dr. and Mrs. W. M. W. Splawn, Mr. and Mrs. L. Theo. Belmont, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Eby, Coach and Mrs. E. J. Stewart, Dean and Mrs. L. H. Hubbard, Dean and Mrs. H. Y. Benedict, Miss Lucy J. Newton, and Dean Parlin. The floor committee in charge consisted of Stella Slade, Charles Bannister, Morgan Davis, and C. P. Bordages. Music was furnished by Jack Gardner's orchestra of Dallas.

Bebe Daniels Has Lead in "Dangerous Money"

Bebe Daniels comes to the Texas Theater on Wednesday next in her first starring role for Paramount. "Dangerous Money," directed by Frank Tuttle.

The picture is based on Julie Herne's adaption of the novel, "Clark's Field," by Robert Huerick.

In joining the constellation of screen stars, Bebe Daniels realizes a life-long ambition. It wasn't so very long ago that she was lending her beauty and talent to comedies. Then Cecil B. DeMille "discovered" her, and overnight millions of picture fans found a new idol to worship. Her climb to stardom has been steady and certain. It was inevitable that sooner or later she would receive the reward that her work so richly deserves.

"The Bridge of Sighs" Closes at Queen

"The Bridge of Sighs," which opened at the Queen Theater Monday, proved an absorbing motion picture—one that contained all the thrills and heartbreaks of a great classic.

Creighton Hale and Dorothy MacKaill, in the parts of Billy Craig, a carefree spendthrift, and Linda Harper, the lovable, courageous daughter of a man wrongly accused of theft, do splendid work. Their sincere portrayals depict the weary struggle two young hearts make against life and its hardships, while love beats its wings against circumstances and carries off the prize.

The cast, which also includes Alec Francis, Richard Tucker, Ralph Lewis, Clifford Saum, Aileen Manning and Fanny Midgley, is uniformly good, while the story moves with a tremendous sweep of dramatic intensity.

"The Warrens of Virginia" at Hancock Wednesday

The stage play, "The Warrens of Virginia," which was written by William C. DeMille and produced by David Belasco, was one of the greatest successes of the American stage. The colorful story presents interesting sidelights of the Civil War period. Elmer Clifton, who directed this production, will be remembered for his work with "Down to the Sea in Ships" and "Six Cylinder Love."

Wilfred Lytell plays the part of Lieutenant Burton in "The Warrens of Virginia," with J. Barney Sherry in the role of General Robert E. Lee. The cast includes, George Bachus, Dorothy Kingdon, Robert Andrews, Jimmie Ward, Rosemary Hill, Frank Andrews, Harlan Knight, James Turfler, George Strickland, Helen Ray Kyle, and Mrs. Frances Grant. Many of the exterior scenes were taken in Texas. The film will be shown at the Hancock Wednesday and Saturday.

Majestic Showing "Wife of the Centaur"

To those captious, cinematic critics who are always decrying the lack of "intelligence" in pictures, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company might well say: "See Wife of the Centaur." This picturization of Cyril Hume's sensational novel opened Monday at the Majestic Theater, and proved itself to be one of the best offerings of the season.

The story—instead of a familiar plot—is based upon a serious theory; the theory being that every man is a "centaur," that he is half beast and half man, a battlefield in which the war of conflicting emotions is always being waged.

Hume's story has been transposed to the screen faithfully by King Vidor, and told with all that director's skill.

The Longhorn Magazine will be distributed at room 155, M. B. today and Thursday only.

Due to the return of Alvin Cockrell, freshman star of last year, the stock of the University track team has risen considerably. In the competition held among members of the squad Saturday afternoon, Cockrell won both the hundred yard dash and the 220, and was the only man who succeeded in snatching two first places. Being laid up for several weeks, with a pulled tendon, Cockrell's victory came as a surprise as it was thought that he would be slightly off form.

In order to keep his men in condition, Coach Littlefield has been running his entire squad through the events that they take part in each Saturday afternoon. This is the fourth competition meet that has been held, and the first one in which the men were allowed to run the full distances.

Because of the large number coming out for the century, Coach Littlefield had the men run two heats. In the first race Landa and Baggett tied for first, but in the run-off Cockrell broke the tape a yard in front of Baggett. Showing form equal to that of mid-season, Cockrell led the field of runners in the 220 by more than five yards. Baggett beat Landa by a scant foot.

The half mile was one of the prettiest races of the day. After running last for more than a lap, Glass out-sprinted Coale at the finish and captured first. Conner, star long-distance runner from last year's frosh team, came in third.

Jim Wins Mile

Without kicking over the dope bucket, Captain Jim Reese tucked away the customary first place in the mile. Briscoe crowded on the heels of Reese for three-quarters of the way, but the pace was a little too fast for Briscoe who slackened up slightly the last few yards. Finishing in a perfect tie, Sol Blonstein and Neblett nosed out Harris in the 440-yard dash. Harris came back strong and took first place away from Blonstein in another 440.

Baldwin, all-round freshman athlete from Wichita Falls, easily led the field going over the hurdles. Mitchell came second and Celaya third. The one-two position was maintained in clearing the high sticks.

"Red" Williams, a long distance runner from the championship team of last year, beat Bubar by four yards in the two mile, after Bubar had set the pace for several laps.

Field Events Close

The field events furnished the closest competition. Instructed by Coach Littlefield to "put everything they had into it," the "thinly clad" made good records for early season. "Bud" Sprague in the shot put beat Baldwin and K. L. Berry. Baldwin and Berry threw the ball almost the same distance.

Celaya sailed the discus two feet farther than Gooch. Harris, last year's letter man, captured first in the javelin.

Hammond made six inches higher in the pole vault than Patterson, Sandberg and Shepherd, who tied for second, third, and fourth places, respectively.

Shepherd, frosh high jumper cleared the bar at a height three inches more than Acton. Cowles, Haggard, McLeary, and Haughton tied for third. Cavanaugh captured first in the broad jump.

8 Letter Men Back

As a nucleus for a prospective championship team, eight letter men from last year's squad are working out daily. These men are: Captain Jim Reese, Bud Sprague, G. A. Harris, Alvin Coale, K. L. Berry, R. L. Harris, and Archie Cowles.

UPKEEP OF SHACKS GREAT-LOCHRIDGE

Repairs of Shacks Comprise
About 60 Per Cent of Total Bill of Varsity

That the University campus will not again be humiliated by the erection of another shack was the belief expressed by I. P. Lochridge today. "They have been an enormous expense to us," said Mr. Lochridge in speaking of the shacks, "and the University will save much on overhead expense when they are entirely gone. They require constant attention. The floors, the ceilings, the roofs are always demanding repairs. We don't have to do any repairing on the permanent buildings more than once every ten years. Repairs on the shacks compose about 60 per cent of the expense bill for the entire University.

"The expense of heating them alone is staggering. Why we have to heat the whole Forty Acres in trying to keep those things warm enough to house the students." Mr. Lochridge said that, owing to the rapidity of the growth of the University, the campus would not likely be cleared of the present shacks until the building to be located near B. Hall is erected. Test holes are already being dug for this building, and Mr. Lochridge expressed the hope that with the erection of it, the campus would be cleared of the shacks.

NEW STEAM TABLES AT 'CAF'

In order to give better service to the customers of the University Cafeteria, Miss Anna Janzen, manager, has installed two new steam tables for serving. When the improvements are completed, the customers will be enabled to form two lines instead of one as heretofore, thus almost doubling the efficiency of the service.

NINETEEN ENTER ALEC HORSESHOE CONTEST

Competition in the newly formed intra-engineer athletic conference will begin Tuesday, March 3, when the preliminaries in horse-shoe pitching take place. Entries closed at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. At that time the following nineteen men had signified their intention of participating in the tournament: V. J. Albrecht, Joel Alsop, J. L. Bair, J. F. Benovitz, F. L. Cohen, A. C. Cook, S. Coppock, G. W. Fernandez, B. Friedlander, L. D. Golden, L. H. McCutcheon, A. C. Mearon, Fred Nagle, R. N. Niven, W. C. Noren, W. F. Reagan, L. M. Swift, O. G. Wolf, and J. F. Wolff. These men will hold a meeting at nine o'clock this morning in Dean T. U. Taylor's office to draw from places. It is expected that only the first round in horse-shoe competition will be held this term, according to Dean Taylor. The finish of this tournament, and the competitions in swimming, baseball, and track will take place during the spring term. The College of Engineering has been divided alphabetically into groups of those whose names range from A to K and L to Z. Already these teams have been dubbed the "Aches" and the "Lazies."

"MASTER" CLEANING WORK MEANS ABSOLUTE PROTECTION FOR YOU!

A "Master" is SURE of his methods. If a BETTER process of cleaning garments is evolved he ADOPTS it! He not only wants to please you, but sees to it that your garments are handled as carefully as though they were his OWN. His hope for success is "future trade" from YOU and he GETS this future trade ONLY if he pleases you THIS time.
