Announcement of the judges' decision.

The annual contest for the E. P. Wilmot prize in declamation came off last Saturday night, April 7, in the auditorium. The two literary societies—the Rusk and the Athenaeum—were well represented by the young men who contested for the prize. The audience was rather small, which was a great pity, since the entire program was an enjoyable one.

Preceding the beginning of the contest, the Varsity Band rendered several selections, at the close of which the declaimers took their places.

Mr. J. I. Kercheville, president of the Oratorical Association and presiding officer, briefly stated that the prize should be awarded to the declaimer who had the best and most effective delivery. The judges, President David F. Houston, Major Ira H. Evans and Judge Tarlton, would consider the delivery only. In conclusion, Mr. Kercheville thanked the band and the Glee Club and the judges in behalf of the Oratorical Association.

Mr. Toy T. Clark of Temple, the first declaimer, put up a nice appearance on the floor. Despite the fact that he was the first speaker, Mr. Clark held his wits about him, and gave his selection, "The Conquerors," with suitable gestures.

Mr. John J. D. Cobb of Claude, the second declaimer, started out in a slow

D. AND D. 3; TEXAS 1.

On Saturday last, Texas met defeat at the hands of the Deaf and Dumb Institution. The Dummies took the Varsity in to the tune of three to one. The game was interesting and both teams put up an exhibition of the national sport. Texas was unable to hit safely when hits meant runs and this fact accounted for her failure to score. Janak pitched an excellent game for the visitors and showed remarkable coolness when "in a hole." Sears pitched for Texas and held the visitors down to four safe ones and allowed but two passes on balls.

Texas went to the bat first, but only one man reached the initial bag. La Prelle and Robertson flew out and Francis fanned. In the first inning, three up and three down told the story for the still boys.

In the second and third innings both sides were retired in one two three order. In the fourth inning Varsity again drew blanks. Weyerman, the first man for the deaf boys in the fourth inning, made a three-bagger and scored on Alf's single. Alf stole second, advanced to third on a wild throw and came home on Janak's single. Janak was thrown out in attempting to steal second. H. Stanley fanned; Miller was given a free pass to first; E. Stanley struck out, and the side was retired, two runs to the good.

In the fifth inning Texas stock seemed to take a rise. Mannie rapped out a single and Tarleton raced down to the righthand corner on an error; Mannie slipped to third at the same time. All looked lovely, but Janak didn't see it that way. He unlimbered and shot the horseshoe sphere over the plate, and three Long Horns smashed the atmosphere in rapid succession. In the sixth the visitors got one run.

In the seventh inning, Francis reached first base on a wild throw and stole second; Graham received base on balls; Tarleton flew out to Rendon; Samuel singled, and Francis came home; Samuel was thrown out in attempting to steal second, and Richey struck out.

In the eighth and ninth both teams drew blanks.

Hits, D. & D.'s, 4; University, 3. Errors, D. & D.'s, 4; University, 3. Struck out, by Janak, 10; by Sears, 7. Bases on balls, off Janak 3; Sears, 2.

Following was the lineup:

D. & D.'s—Weyerman, shortstop; Alf, catcher; Janak, pitcher; H. Stanley, first base; Miller, third base; E. Stanley, second base; Prescott, left field; Cargill, right field; Rendon, center field.

INAUGURATION EXERCISES.

The coming inauguration of President Houston and the loyalty of the student body has attracted the attention of the papers over the State. The Texan is glad to note the response by the student body so early, and that the State press recognizes that college spirit at the Varsity is not confined to the pent up enthusiasm that spends itself with such force at the football games, but that in the intellectual fields it shows itself with equal force. The behavior and the attendance of the students at the coming exercises will demonstrate beyond any point of speculation the real trend of college spirit and loyalty here. The Houston Post had the following to say in a recent issue:

"There is a pronounced manifestation of college spirit among the student body and this spirit is growing, that they will have an important part to play in the inauguration exercises and that they will lend their best aid to making the best showing possible for the University. Several holidays coming at once naturally turned the thoughts of many toward home at first, but the importance of the occasion is dawning upon them and their college spirit is beginning to reach such proportions that they now look upon the approaching event as one of vast importance to them. The tendency now seems to be toward an individual interest in the exercises and the grand showing to be made by the University. Their relation to their president is that of love and admiration, and each student feels drawn by personal ties to a participation in the exercises."

The authorities have every confidence that the students will manifest to the visitors that their share in the inauguration is a real and an important one, and that their loyalty to their president would be the most conspicuous part about it. Numbers of the students have already announced that they have abandoned all ideas of a trip home and seem to understand that the honor as well as the pleasure of listening to such men as Dr. Wheeler, President of the University of California, Chancellor Kirkland of Vanderbilt, President

CONCERT A SUCCESS.

The Band Concert Tuesday Night Made a Hit With the Students.

The third public concert given by the great Varsity Band Tuesday night in the auditorium was a tremendous success, and scored another hit for the student musicians. It was the largest and most enthusiastic gathering of students that has filled the auditorium this year. The students seemed to realize that this was an opportunity to enjoy a great treat as well as to show their spirit by supporting a worthy organization.

The program was well arranged and splendidly rendered. Mr. Stone's cornet solo was an especially good number.

Undoubtedly the University has the best college band in the State, and probably the best in the South. There will be a series of free concerts during the spring, which will be looked forward to as real treats by the students.

TOMORROW'S GAME.

Tomorrow the Varsity crosses bats with the crack Southwestern team from Georgetown. There's no use talking, our neighbors up the railroad have a strong team this year, and we will have to get up early to hold them down. Big Tarver, their star pitcher of last year, and Gustafson, a sophomore twirler, will be with the visitors, and that means that there will be something doing from start to finish. This is one of the best matches that will be pulled off on Clark field this season, and it's up to the students to turn out and back the team.

Remember, 3:30 Saturday on Clark field.

ATHENAEUM.

The Athenaeum held no meeting last Saturday night on account of the E. P. Wilmot contest in declamation held in the auditorium. This is the home stretch we are on now and every member should gird up his loins and make this term the most successful one of the session in society work. The Athenaeum is now running under its new constitution, published a few weeks ago, and is now ready for earnest and effective work.

The following is the program for Saturday night:

Declamation—Bean.

Oration—Feuille.

Debate: Resolved that the law department of the University of Texas should not be open to women. Affirmative, W. R. Perkin, Montgomery, R. R. Smith, J. Horley; negative, H. E. Bell, E. L. Harris, C. Renfro, L. W. Haynie.

SAN JACINTO DAY.

Rent a Kodak from Jordan, 610 Congress Avenue upstairs, next to Smith & Wilcox.

LOCALS.

Don't forget what is going on: Ball games tomorrow with the Georgetown players; Easter German Wednesday night at Eighth street hall; installation of the President Thursday; and the big picnic at New Braunfels on San Jacinto day.

Everybody seems to skate!

The open air concerts by the Varsity band will be more than welcomed by the students.

The Glee Club left Tuesday night on its annual spring tour. The club is in good condition, and with Wolfe as comedian is sure to make good.

On to the picnic Saturday week. It will be the most enjoyable student gathering of the year.

Manager Sewall Myer has arranged a game with the Southwestern university baseball team to be played Saturday, April 14, on Clark field. The Georgetown boys have always played the Longhorns a close game, taking several games from them in the past two seasons by good scores. They are reported to be unusually strong this year. The pitching staff is especially good, one pitcher in particular having a remarkable knockout record. The team is reported as being a fast fielding and heavy hitting aggregation.

Dr. Frederick W. Simonds, head of the school of geology at the University, is in receipt of an interesting series of photographic views of Mauna Kea, one of the loftiest volcanoes of the Pacific, sent by Sterling F. Fulmore, an alumnus of the University, now located at Honolulu, in the Hawaiian Islands. The pictures include views of the volcanic scenery common to the islands, the frozen lake in the crater of Mauna Kea, burial caves in the lava caves, and other interesting and rare photographic views of Hawaii. From the pictures will be made a number of valuable lantern slides for use in lectures on dynamic geology. A consignment of 350 pounds of lava and coral specimens are now on the way and will be added to the splendid collection already donated by Mr. Fulmore. Statesman.

INSTALLATION.

The students are looking forward to the exercises on Thursday with great expectations. The occasion will be one of unusual interest, and the institution will be honored by having some of the South's greatest speakers present that day. The students who go home and fail to attend the exercises will return to regret the fact for the rest of the year. It is both a privilege and a duty on the part of the students to attend, and they should all come out to do honor to our President.

SAN JACINTO DAY.

Rent a Kodak from Jordan, 610 Congress Avenue upstairs, next to Smith & Wilcox.

NOTICE.

The play "Anna Lisa," presented by the students of the German School will be given on the 16th. The company is well cast and a splendid performance is assured. Admission 25 cents.

On to New Braunfels.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. had its Easter program at the last meeting. The program, with two exceptions, was composed entirely of musical numbers. Miss Louise H. Wright read the Scripture lesson, after which Miss Littlefield rendered a very pretty piano solo. Then Mr. Dick Wall sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Littlefield. After Miss Lavender read an article from a Y. W. C. A. paper, Miss Katherine Wright played a violin solo. The last musical number was a vocal solo by Miss Praefflin.

It was the regular time for the election of officers, but that was postponed until next meeting in order to have the Easter program.

THE RUSK.

Conditions Flourishing—Program For Next Meeting.

The program for April 14 is as follows:

Declamation—W. E. Dunn, A. C. Heath.

Oration—Chris. Emmitt, O. Kendall. Debate.

Question: Resolved, "That the signs of the times point to the downfall of the government."

Affirmative: Hatch, Holbrook; negative, Householder, Griffin.

Class Parliamentary Law.

With the coming of the spring term, the Rusk has taken on new strength. The members are enthusiastic, and are working hard to close the year in much success. President Dolany is pushing every department of the work in such a way that each phase is characterized by earnest, honest effort. Naturally, great benefit, as well as much pleasure, is being derived therefrom.

If there are any men who are thinking of entering society work next year, now is the best time to join. If there are any others who may desire to enter next year, right now is the time to join and get started in preliminary practice.

Now men, come out and become associated with this work. Now is the time. REPORTER.

TRAC KNOTES.

Everything is booming on the track. Mr. Howser said a few days since that he thought Texas had a good chance to win both of the meets that she will enter. Lots of material is out and the aspirants to places on the team are working hard. All of the old stars in college are coming out daily to limber up. There is a surprising number of good prospective track men in the Freshmen Class. There are several new men at work with the weights, in the jumps, distance runs and dashes. Among the old men who are out are: Jones, Hendrickson, Gilreest, Fink, Parrott (capt.), Montgomery, Skinner, Hall, Robinson, Widen and many others. Kendall, a new man, will prove a winner in the pole-vault. Altogether the prospects are very encouraging.

Our College Brand Clothes at the Young Man's Store

This was the first young man's store hereabouts. It is still "first" in all the ways that count for most. You'll always find us with exclusively different toggery, clothes and fixings, never the "same" despite that they cost "no more." We have learned to choose our stocks with two eyes. One open for the smart chap, the other for the mature man—and the contrast shows how little we have let "the right eye know what the left eye doeth."

SECOND ANNUAL CONTEST

and deliberate manner, but as he proceeded he became enthusiastic. His deep voice, stressing several passages, rolled over the auditorium, impressing everyone. His subject was an excellent one and well suited to the speaker's talent.

Mr. William Frederick Duncan spoke on "The Influence of the Panama Canal on the South." Mr. Duncan's voice is rather high; his gestures, many and earnest. His motions are very dramatic, quick and eager. He reflected a great deal of credit on himself by the manner in which he enforced his delivery.

Mr. Hardie Leon Davis of Itasca, in "The Alamo and the New South," showed little enthusiasm in his delivery until he came to the prophecy at the close of his declamation.

Mr. Austin Cleveland Hatchell of Granger, in "The Eulogy on Grady," was perfectly at home on the floor all of the time. He had an excellent voice and very pleasing appearance. Mr. Hatchell was at his best during the first half of his declamation. Towards its close, his voice was a little strained. Mr. Hatchell's delivery, expression and intonation were very fine, and his declamation was one of the best rendered.

Between the fifth and sixth speakers the Glee Club rendered several selections, some of which were encores, to the very much delighted audience.

Mr. E. M. Davis of Lampasas was very calm and deliberate in the delivery of his speech. In some respects the speaker had an excellent delivery.

Mr. Thomas Clarence Kendall of Richmond delivered his declamation in an excellent manner. His position on the floor was good; his appearance pleasing and the inflection of his voice excellent. Mr. Kendall seemed very much at home all the time; he thoroughly controlled himself. And in the rendition of his subject, "The Division of Texas," Mr. Kendall placed himself forward as one of the best declaimers in the University. He was enthusiastic or cool as the occasion demanded. Especially did he give the following lines in a way that went to the hearts of all.

"But, sir, Texas was not divided in the beginning; she is not divided now; and under the Providence of God, she will not be divided until the end."

Mr. William McCurrie McCutcheans of Dallas was another one of the good declaimers. He had a touch of the dramatic, which came in very well in "The Victor of Marengo." Altogether Mr. McCutcheans showed up as one of the foremost declaimers.

Mr. Eugene Lievmann Harris of El Paso was another excellent declaimer. He appears well on the floor, and perfectly at ease. He possesses the dramatic touch in a high degree. His voice is well suited to speaking and he gave an excellent rendition of "The Unknown Rider."

Mr. Herbert Henry Cook of Groveton closed the contest with a speech of Lincoln's "Speech at Independence Hall." Mr. Cook held himself well on the floor, but his voice and gestures lacked that enthusiasm that is necessary.

At the close of the speaking the vote of the judges was announced. Each had picked out a different man. After a few moments consultation, the judges decided that Mr. Kendall of Richmond was the best declaimer of the evening. The decision was very hard to make, as there were so many excellent declamations given.

Everyone enjoyed the declamation contest, as was evinced by the appreciative audience. Every one of the young contestants did themselves honor. And the contest was one of the hardest ever fought, as is shown by the difficulty the judges encountered in deciding upon the best declaimer. At no time did the interest lag, although the contest was one of the most interesting ever given here.

INAUGURATION EXERCISES.

McLeant of Iowa and others on the program, far outweigh any vacation they might take.

The fact that a student is to be given a place on the program with big educational figures of our country, emphasizes the students' part as a body, and calls to mind their parts as individuals. F. M. Ryburn is to represent the student body on this occasion, which lends additional interest to the exercises on behalf of his scores of friends in the student body. Mr. Ryburn is the president of the Students' Council and the honor rightfully falls to his lot.

SAN JACINTO DAY.

Next week the great New Braunfels Picnic will take place. It promises to be the biggest and best picnic ever participated in by the Varsity public. Every one should go and make the day one to be long remembered. The management has secured the usual round trip rate of seventy-five cents per, and tickets will be put on sale today or tomorrow at the co-op, Registrar's window, and in the corridors. Those wishing to secure tickets are urged to do so as soon as possible, as the committee wishes to form some estimate of the number that will go.

As a special compliment to the band and to the Varsity itself the I. & G. N. railroad will present the musicians with free tickets.

Y. M. C. A.

On account of the men's meeting at the Hancock Opera House Sunday afternoon, the attendance at the Y. M. C. A. was small. But those present enjoyed a treat in the talks of Messrs. E. W. Brehnan and H. L. Davis. Mr. Brehnan spoke of the scope and possibilities of the State convention and Mr. Davis told what the State convention meant to him individually. Next Sunday C. N. Moore and T. A. Keith will talk on the "Needs and Possibilities of the Local Association."

CACTUS IS KOMIN'

Only a matter of four more weeks and the blooming, blossomy volumes of "Cactus" will greet us and vice versa. Work on the big annual has been progressing not only steadily but even rapidly, and every volume is guaranteed to be out of the publisher's hands by the middle of May. In fact, so sure is the board of this that it has seriously considered putting the sum of a thousand dollars on it if anybody feels a bit shy about making a good bet on the greater part of the annual having been looked over by Editor Buckley already, and judging from all that anyone can get out of him this year, Cactus is going to be the finest yet. The art work will be its great feature, and Editor Buckley goes him assurance that this part at least can't be beat. Just let's have patience for a few weeks longer and then we can judge for ourselves. Those who are no longer in the fresh, green heyday of youth, will be incredulous about guarantees of the Cactus' arrival, but the board is going to have the laugh on their sophistication this time. Wait and see.

THE NEW SPORT.

No other new sport has taken so well and so quickly with the students as roller skating. For the last few weeks half the Varsity has been on skates, and since the management of the rink has procured a couple of hundred new skates and has put on a new floor, the students have thronged the place. The rink is on Ninth Street just east of the Avenue, and is open all afternoon and until 10:30 at night. The manager stated to a Texan reporter that there was another large amount of the most modern ball-bearing rollers en route to Austin, and that the rink would be run with special reference to the students.

Miss Vera Morey of Belton was the guest of her sister, Miss Ethel Morey, last Thursday at the Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter house on Wichita street.

Miss Nora Orr, a former student of the academic department of the University, visited University friends at Grace hall last week.

Walter E. Monteith of Belton, a graduate of the law department and end rush on the famous 1900 foot ball team, was the guest of the Kappa Alphas yesterday.

Hon. A. P. Barrett, of Bonham, senator from Fannin county, left for home last week after being entertained by the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Y. Burgher of Dallas last week visited their son, Ballard Y. Burgher, at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house.

Professor R. H. Griffith last week returned from a visit to the affiliated schools of the State. Dr. Frederick W. Simonds, head of the school of geology, and Professor E. J. Villayusso, of the school of French, are now absent from the University on similar trips.

The University German club gave its regular fortnightly dance at Protection hall. A large crowd was present and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed. The dance last night will be the last one given by the club until the big Easter german. This function will be given at Eighth street hall the night before the inauguration of President Houston. Preparations are being made to make the affair one of the most brilliant given by the club during the college year.

number of guests Wednesday afternoon number of guests yesterday afternoon and night with a delightful moonlight picnic. Among the club members are Messrs. Ben Robertson, Charles Nibbi, John Singleton, Lewis Grinnan, Edgar Gilcreest, John C. Townes, Jr., Webster McEvoy, J. B. Adoue, Clinton Brown, Joel Watson, Fred Fisher, Billy Blocker, Edgar Monteith, Burford Isaacs, Harvey Richey, Ed Samuel and Hugh Lamar Stone.

The greatest social attraction in the near future in Varsity circles is the Easter German next Wednesday night. The affair will be at the hall on Eighth street, and all possible arrangements are being made to make it an elaborate success. It is noteworthy that Bessner's full orchestra will furnish music. As distinctive of the Easter occasion, there will be dainty refreshments and specially attractive program. It will undoubtedly be a great social event, and when it is remembered that it is on the night before a holiday, it will be hard to keep away. Make your date now.

THE ASHBEL.

Preparations Being Made For Show to Be Given Soon.

The Ashbel Literary Society has begun preparations for its annual open meeting. Those of us who were fortunate enough to see "A Midsummer Night's Dream," as presented by these young ladies last year, will be delighted to know that they have selected another one of Shakespeare's comedies for this year. "As You Like It," with its woodland scenes, its romantic situations and its comic characters, will afford an excellent opportunity for the kind of talent we have seen to be theirs. The exact date of the performance has not yet been decided upon; it will be sometime about the middle of May, however.

TENNIS.

There is unusual interest displayed in tennis this spring. It is yet too early to pick the winners, but a hot contest is assured. The courts are crowded morning and evening and there are numbers of new men working besides the veterans. Watson, Parks, Botts and Bryan are all back, so the men who win will have to be good ones.

Don't forget the big picnic on the 21st.

EXCHANGES.

The faculty at the University of Minnesota has made Good Friday and the Saturday following a holiday.

In order to meet an increased demand from students throughout the State, the University of California is now making plans for a course in forestry to compare with that given in the eastern colleges. Instructions in the courses generally given in the forestry curriculum has been given to the departments of agriculture, botany and engineering.

At Northwestern University much interest is taken in the inter-fraternity whist tournament. Sigma Chi is the only fraternity which has not lost a game.

Games are being played daily by some of the teams engaged. Each fraternity will play one game with each of the other eight and the team holding the highest percentage at the close of the tournament will receive the cup, which becomes the property of the fraternity which holds it for two successive years.

The Big Nine of the West have at last come to an agreement in regard to football reform. In the future, Freshmen will be excluded from Varsity teams; a player must be at a college one session before he will be allowed to play; no man can play more than three years; Freshmen teams will not be allowed to compete with teams outside of the institution; five games will complete the schedule; and 50 cents is fixed as the maximum admission fee. A player must have a certificate that he has passed all entrance examinations, that he is up in his work, and that he is taking a full course.

Honors were even on last Saturday night at the conclusion of the international cable chess game between Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Brown, representing the Triangular College Chess League, on this side, and Oxford and Cambridge, for England, on the other side of the ocean, and in consequence the Rice trophy, under the law of possession, stays abroad, where it has been in the custody of the English collegians for the last four years.

Judging by the number of athletes who will compete and the wide area of territory they represent, the University of Pennsylvania's twelfth annual relay races to be held on April 28, will surpass every athletic meet to be held this year in this country. All told, there will be fully 1200 athletes in competition, representing every educational institution east of the Mississippi, and some from beyond.

The following thirteen colleges were represented at the convention of good government clubs held recently: Cornell, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Amherst, Brown, Chicago, Michigan, Williams, Dartmouth and Yale. "The Intercollegiate League of Civic Clubs" was chosen as the name of the federation, and a provisional constitution adopted.

The Harvard Mission has started a subscription in the University to raise a sum toward the relief of the famine in Japan. The Japanese students of Yale gave an entertainment and raised about $500 for the relief of the famine sufferers of their country.

North College, the oldest building at Wesleyan, has been destroyed by fire. Many of the students were driven out, but accommodations were found for them and they have been enabled to continue their work. The actual loss has not been determined.—Ex.

It has been suggested that a public square be condemned near the University of Pennsylvania and that the city of Philadelphia co-operate with the State and the university in the erection of a suitable statue to William Penn, with the ultimate purpose of having the remains of Penn disinterred in England and buried in this park.

Leland Stanford University has accepted the challenge of Waseda University of Japan for a return game of base ball to be played at Waseda. The Japanese players came to California last year and were defeated.

Eighteen Cornell base ball men, including two coaches, two managers, and fourteen players, are now in the Southern States. When a schedule of eight games has been completed, the team will return to Ithaca, arriving there on April 2.

All baseball games between Tulane University and Texas have been cancelled.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has donated to Georgia Tech. $20,000 for a library, provided the Board of Trustees will guarantee $2,000 per year for its proper maintenance.

By the will of Mrs. Thompson Sevan, $100,000 was left to Princeton University for the erection of a building for the use of the graduate department.

WHY COLLEGE MEN SUCCEED.

A few interesting facts

It is the trained mind of the college man that gives the employer confidence in him. When he finishes his course at the university, college or technical school, says Mr. Hapgood, president of Hapgoods, in a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, he may have little practical knowledge of business, but he has the ability to get to the bottom of things, to grasp a vast amount of detail, to profit by his own mistakes and learn how to achieve results. He does not work blindly. Before he has been at work long he knows exactly what part his duties play in the routine of the business, and such knowledge enables him not only to fill his position well but to grow into something better. He is a man who will be ready for promotion whenever it comes.

Take the case of the young college man who had a clerical position in the advertising department of one of the largest department stores in Pennsylvania. When the advertising manager suddenly died one day there was no man available for his place. But the department must have a head, and as a temporary makeshift the college man was allowed to step into the position. To the firm's surprise, the work of the department—preparation of copy, purchase of space, and the like—went on without a hitch. The college man had been quietly fitting himself for this very opportunity, and after a month's trial he was appointed manager.

Two young graduates of a New England college began work last fall at ten dollars a week. Before many months they decided that they were not getting what they were worth and that the thing to do was to go into business for themselves. So they scraped together a few thousand dollars and bought a magazine. It took just six months to sink their money and find out what they didn't know about business. It was a bitter pill, but they took it bravely, went back to their old positions, and earned their promotion.

This ambition to make money is another reason for the college man's success. He believes the world owes him a large salary, and sets out with a firm determination to collect the debt. When he finds out that the only way to get a large salary is by starting at the bottom, working hard and earning it, he goes about his task in that way. A year-old graduate of Cornell says (not in a boasting way) that within three years he will be earning $10,000 a year. Although this amount may be a trifle large, it would not be surprising to see him earning $5,000.

The fact that the young graduate's head is crammed full of theories used to be a strong argument against him. Now it is used in his favor. Men who can devise theories and put them into successful practice are in demand. The vertical filing system, the card ledger, the loose leaf ledger—these and a hundred other ideas that have worked revolutions in business methods are the result of theorizing. The college man has the ability to theorize developed to a remarkable degree. All he needs is the practical knowledge and experience to bring his theories down to earth.

YALE PRESIDENT TO LECTURE AT BERLIN.

The Kaiser and German University men are gratified at the information that President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale, is to occupy the Theodore Roosevelt chair of American history at the University of Berlin in 1907, under the recent endowment made by James Speyer, of New York.

The sending of men of Dr. Hadley's renown is interpreted as indicating that America is in hearty accord with the Kaiser's desire for a German-American intellectual alliance.

Another link in this alliance will be supplied by Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin, of the University of Chicago, who will lecture in Berlin in May on the American trust and labor questions.

"The King of Korea" held its first rehearsal Wednesday night. Every one of the players is enthusiastic and the show is as good as over. The next performance is scheduled for the 23d, in Austin. The company will play in San Antonio on the 3d of May.

THE WISCONSIN TANGLE GETTING WORSE.

Students Burn Effigy of Professor and Have Shirt-tail Parade.

Two thousand students congregated Tuesday night and vented their indignation against the faculty suppression of foot ball in a shirt-tail parade. An effigy of one of the leading professors was hung and burned. Things seem to be in a very chaotic condition.

Charges of graft and professionalism are made and denied repeatedly. Many of the best athletes are competing in meets without the sanction of the university, and even going to other schools, showing the inherent evil of the situation.—Daily Cardinal.

The question of governmental regulation of railway rates seems to be the most popular of all the questions for inter-collegiate and interstate debates that has come up for some time. Last fall Harvard and Yale locked horns over the question, Harvard winning with the affirmative. Michigan and Chicago then tried it, but this time Chicago, with the negative, won out. Besides being the subject of the triangular debate between Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, it will be the subject of debate between Missouri and Kansas, Missouri and Texas, Texas and Tulane, Idaho and Whitman College, Whitman College and Pacific University, and Iowa and Notre Dame. With one victory for and one against rate regulation, it will be interesting to watch the outcome of those other contests.—Independent.

Don't forget the "King of Korea," April 23.

At the University of Michigan an organization has recently been effected to superintend class elections and investigate graft on part of students at the head of college publications or social functions. All departments of the college elected members to the body, which is to be called the Senior Council.

RADIATOR

A SPRING ODE.

Published by request.
The blue bonnet is a pretty thing
It heralds in the coming spring
Findings to me it doth bring.
Of love and ecstasy.

It looks at me all amile.
Alluring me all the while Furtive hours to beguile
In love and ecstasy.

But when upon its stalk it dies
And no more greets the sunny skies
Ah! say not that with it lies
My love and ecstasy.

MONK E. RENCH.

DO YOU SKATE?

"O let me dear," he softly plead.
"My love to thee relate."
She sneered at him and coldly said:
"You don't know how to skate."

"I vow by all the saints that pray
At heaven's golden gate,
That I will love you every day."
She smiled—"You do not skate."

"Yes, Hayler, for you I will buy Strawberries by the crate."
She stared him squarely in the eye.
"You dolt, you cannot skate!"

"Ah me," he wailed, "I must be dorned
By all the jealous fates,
To lose out, till at last I've learned
To skeet the roller skates."

POE'S ADVENTURE UP TO DATE.

A poem just unearthed, produced here on the theory that it's better late than never.

'Twas upon a midnight dreary, and I tumbled sick and weary.
Thinking sadly of the good times that had made me very sore—
Suddenly there came a tumbling, a little snort, a gentle rumbling.
Just as if a horse was stumbling—stumbling at my chamber door.
"Tis my roommate," I muttered, "tumbling at my chamber door—
Only this and nothing more."

All my bones indeed were aching, every nerve and muscle shaking—
And each separate moonbeam breaking through the window on the floor.
"Bill," he called, "it gives me sorrow and I say with greatest horror, That your key I'll have to borrow—now for this stubborn door.
For I think I could not budge it—budge
this blasted, oaken door,
Though I tussled overmore."

Ere my part began, his screaming, pleased as I lay there sweetly in dreaming.

Of the pleasant times of childhood
and of hidden gold treasure;
At his words so harshly spoken, beginning silence quick was broken.
And you bet I longed to sock him—
him with an apple core.
"What in heaven are you doing, banging on a preacher's door?
I'm only drunk on nuthin' more."

From the bedclothes I got leaping, silently, yes, merely, creeping.

Lest I wake the "doctor" sleeping—sleeping with his usual snore;
Cautiously, yet forward groping, half awake, yet fondly hoping That my roommate with his dozing—standing just beyond the door—shall make this his "puttin' evening" evening at the corner store,
Getting drunk for evermore!

"Now my dear," I heard him calling, "if you'll kindly quit your squallin', I can tell you why I'm 'all in'—yes 'all in' and running over."

"Bill, my boy," he said, "please hurry, for my stomach's in a hurry.
And my sight's becoming blurry, blurry from that Papst Big Four.
Started out to place my comrades
neath the table on the floor;
Took two straights and several more."

As these words my anger ceases, then
I hear his snorts and sneezes,
Which remind me of the breezes breaking waves upon the shore;
Without further contemplating, and supposing Zeke was waiting,
I seized hold the large iron grating—opened wide the heavy door.
There indeed my Zeke was standing with a large placard which bore
These three words "Turn me over."

"What's that you have?" I straightway giggle, but he even fails to wiggle.
Only stands there sullen like, really looking rather sore.

"Don't you hear the roosters crowing,
sure you feel the March wind blowing."

To bed, to bed, if we are going—we should be asleep before—

Before the "doc" has time to tell us as he knocks upon our door.
"Boys, boys, cease this rort."

Now his acts to me seemed madness, really there he stood with gladness.

Glad because the March gate had changed into a pour.
In my night clothes I was shivering—very chilled, yes, actually, shivering.

And to Zeke these words delivering, "If you wait a minute more I shall be compelled to drag you—drag you through this open door."
He stood there silent as before.

From the doorsteps I saw washing through the mud and water
splashing.
Grasped my comrade, and his burden
swifly to the house bore.

But he seemed to me so nervous, and his legs in truth unsteady.
That I dropped him ere I was ready—dropped him just inside the door;
And he didn't groan or murmur as he lay upon the floor.
Never spoke, no never more.

How I raved when I discovered that my "comrade" was just covered with cheap canvas, and stuffed tightly with some hay cut by a mower;
I stood there sadly sighing, very "drow"
and almost crying.

For just then I was seeing—seeing something on the floor
On which two words were shining as I turned the "big card" over.

"April Fool" and nothing more!
I. L. KOMAGIN.
