TEXAS NET STARS GET HARD DRAW IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

Doubles Play for Intercollegiate Honors Begins Tuesday Morning at Haverford

DOPE UPSET BY WHITE

Varsity Men Eliminated in Delaware State Meet—Now Ready for National Contest

Special to The Texan.

Haverford, Penn., June 26.— All Texas entrants have difficult draw in national tournament.
White meets Emerson, Columbia University; Granger meets Barreda, Cornell; Hilliard meets Stagg of Chicago, and Gregory meets Thornton of Cornell. Double play starts Tuesday morning.

Letters have been received by Dr.
A. Penick, Varsity tennis coach, from Lloyd Gregory, captain of the Texas tennis team, telling of the progress of the Texas men in the Delaware state tournament. The letters were written by Gregory from Willington, Del., where the tournament for the Delaware state title is in progress.

Texas Men Eliminated

By Thursday night the singles were down to the finals which were to be played between Pearson, a Philadelphia star, partner of Wallace Johnson, and Phil Neer, last year's intercollegiate champion who hails from California. Lewis White lasted till the semi-final where he was put out by Pearson. Pearson had previously put out Gregory in a close match.
Granger had been eliminated by Guild Harvard in a sizzling three-set match, in which Granger played one of the best singles games of his career, according to Gregory. Hilliard did not arrive in time to take part in either singles or doubles, but was getting in some hard practice and was hoping that his chop stroke was very effective on grass.

White Upsets Dope

White's defeat of Edwards in the north round was one of the big up-sets of the tournament, as Edwards was one of the four big men in the set. Even at that, however, Gregory said that White was not yet at home on grass.
In the doubles Granger and White won their first round match and were up against the winners of the Missouri Valley champions, Brown and Kammon, who had defeated Parks and Harrington in the Missouri Valley Conference. If the Texas men in that they were to play Pearson and Thayer who were scheduled to meet. The winner of that match would play Neer and Davies of California.

Texas Players Good

The reports as far as they go to indicate splendid play by the varsity men considering their long tiresome trip and their lack of practice on grass. The week's experience will prepare them for this week's test, which, after all, is the important thing. Gregory says that the class of play in the Delaware state meet, except for a few outstanding men, was well below the average in the Texas state meet.
The National Intercollegiate Tournament opens today at the Merion Circuit Club, Haverford, Pa., and continues through the week. They play singles today and the doubles begin tomorrow.
Gregory is optimistic about the doubles. He says, "If Lewis (White) can bring his game up to its height on grass, I believe that Chili and he will bring to Texas that national title."

FALK MAKES GOOD

In a game between Washington and Chicago White Sox a few days ago. Manager Milan of Washington led Mostil passed, as he had the winning run was on third two out in the ninth. B.B. Falk, knocked out two hits, one a double, a Texas graduate, upset the dope by going to short and sending the winning run home.

NEW DORMITORY FOR GIRLS

This is a photograph from the architect's illustration of the new Scottish Rite dormitory for University girls in Austin. It is situated on North Whitis Avenue and Twenty-seventh street. The building is in the shape of the letter "H," the design of the exterior of the building is in the Georgian style and the body of the wall of red colonial brick with trim and ornamentation of stone and terra cotta. The dormitory will house over 300 girls, is modern in structure and fireproof throughout.

New Dormitory for Girls Built by Scottish Rite Will Open in September

Formal date for the opening of the new Scottish Rite dormitory for University girls will be set by the Scottish Rite Educational Board when that body meets on July 10. The meeting was to have been held earlier in the summer, but owing to the absence of the Grand Sovereign Commander of Masonry in Texas, Sam T.
Cochran, who is the president of the board, the meeting has been put off until July 10. Mr. Cochran is now in Honolulu with the Shriner's party.

Rooms Go Fast

Mrs. Martha R. Johnson, matron for the new dormitory, states that requests and registrations for rooms at the dormitory are being received from all points of the state, and even from outside of the state from New York, Ohio and Louisiana. She says that the rooms are filling rapidly and that by fall it is doubtful if any room will be left.

Mrs. Johnson stated that as far as she knew there is only one other Masonic dormitory for college students in the South which reaches the same magnitude at the Scottish Rite Dormitory for University girls in Austin.
It is located at the University of Oklahoma; it is for boys.

To Be Fine Building

University co-eds who are of Masonic families will have the finest dormitory home in the South next fall when the Scottish Rite dormitory for University girls opens. There will be sleeping porches and fudge kitchen.
There will be a large dining room in the central basement which will seat 350 girls, an assembly hall with a nicely equipped stage which will be used for entertainments, assemblies, and dances.

The dormitory is situated on a lot having a frontage of 450 feet on Twenty-seventh street and extends north 708 feet on North Whitis Ave.
The building is in the shape of the letter "H," the east and west wings being three stories in height and the central wing four stories. The design of the exterior of the building is in the Georgian style, the body of the wall being of red colonial brick with trim and ornamentation of stone and terra cotta.

Have Nearly 200 Rooms

Altogether there are 191 finished dormitory rooms, the basement of the east wing being left unfinished for the present but so arranged as to be convertible into dormitory units sh-lar to those on the floors above. This number, 97 are double rooms, with commodating two girls each; 56 single rooms, accommodating girls but with only one bed, and 38 single rooms.

The architect and building committee have developed an innovation in the dormitory units through the use of permanent, built-in furniture.
Each room will contain a large built-in dressing table, a tray case, a hanging closet and a lavatory, all but dressing table being enclosed by doors. The only portable furniture in the rooms will be the beds, study tables and chairs.

There will be no toilsome stair climbing for wornout girls, unless they choose to patter up and down the stairs for the sake of the exercise, for the building committee has equipped the dormitory with two up-to-date elevators. The central portion of the main floor is given over entirely to social and entertainment space. In this part of the main floor there are four small reception rooms, a library and a reading room, a music alcove and a general lounge, and a large fire place. At the east and west ends of the building are the sleeping porches, two to each of the three floors. These porches accommodate twelve double decked beds each, with each porch with a sleeping capacity of 144 girls. The porches are open on three sides, and in connection with each is a large lounge and a fudge kitchen.

UNIVERSITY GIRLS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Letters received from University students of the home economics department who attended the child welfare conference at Chautauqua, New York, report them to be enjoying their trip very much. Some of them attended a meeting of women's clubs at Lake Mohonk recently.

Among those who went was Elizabeth Andrews, a graduate of the home economics department, who is now with the extension department of the University of Oklahoma. Those from Austin were: Pauline Pinckney, Jeannie Pinckney and Irene Lovell. Most of these will return in about six weeks. Some of them will attend Columbia University before returning to Austin.

RADIO CONCERT

The first radio concert of the spring term was sent out from the University broad-casting station last Saturday night from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. The program was rendered by Mr. Seivers, who is instructor of a class in violin in Austin.

BEN WRIGHT RETURNS TO TEACH FOR SUMMER

Ben F. Wright, former student in the University and master of arts of 1921, has returned to the University to teach in the second term of the Summer School. He is studying at Harvard University toward a doctor of philosophy degree and will write his thesis on political theory. Wright has a scholarship to Harvard.

While in the University he took a prominent part in student activities and was tutor and assistant in the department of government, having taught Government 1 before leaving the University. He was an intercollegiate debater and a member of the Rusk Literary Society while in the University.

EDUCATION FACULTY MEETS

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the faculty of the Department of Education will meet in room 312 of the Education building. Only routine matters of business will be discussed according to W. S. Sutton, who called the meeting.

BRIGHAM ARRIVES TO GIVE DRAMATIC AND SONG RECITAL TONIGHT

Entertainer Is Highly Praised by Places in Which He Has Appeared

Edward Brigham, basso-profundo, dramatic reader and pianist, who will give a recital on Clark Field this evening at 8 o'clock, arrived this morning at 11:45 o'clock. He was the guest of Dr. Frederick Eby at a Kiwanis Club luncheon at 12, and will stay at the Driskill hotel while in Austin.

That he is an entertainer of marked ability is evidenced by the reports that have come in from other places where he has given programs.
The Baltimore (Md.) Sun says of Mr.
Brigham: "Mr. Brigham is a singer possessed of a bass voice of phenomenal vibrancy and compass and a dramatic reader of great breadth and intelligence."

The New York Evening Post says,
"Mr. Brigham has a remarkable bass voice—big, resonant, full of fire and passion." His last program was given at the Sul Ross State Normal at Alpine before an audience of several hundred people.

An admission fee of 50 cents will be charged by the University entertainment committee to cover expenses. It is said that this evening's performance will be one of the best things which the Summer School will have a change to hear this year.

LECTURE ON AMERICAN ART COMES THIS WEEK

Miss Stella Shurtleff Will Give Talk Illustrated With Slides
Next Saturday

What is perhaps the first University public lecture to be given during the Summer School will be presented next Saturday night at 8 o'clock by Miss Stella Shurtleff, who will talk on "A Review of American Painting." The lecture will be delivered at the open air auditorium in front of the Main Building.

One hundred slides, showing as many representative American paintings, will be used as illustrative material. Each slide has a definite pictorial or historical interest, and each is related by the lecturer to some well known historical fact, thus giving an educational value through the historical connection.

The lecture has been previously delivered inouston and also in Austin, in the latter place under the auspices of a number of Austin women acting as patronesses.

Miss Shurtleff is a graduate of the University and has made an extensive study of painting.

Former Student to Write Woman's Page in Wisconsin Paper

During the summer months, Miss Ruby A. Black, a graduate of the University, will be employed by the Wisconsin State Journal, published in Madison, Wis., to write a woman's page and to study the needs and wishes of the women readers.

Miss Black has been instructor in journalism in the University of Wisconsin during the past year. She received her degree of bachelor of arts from the University, specializing in journalism and English, and was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, because of distinct scholastic merit, as well as Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalistic fraternity. She is now editor of the Matrix, the official magazine of the latter organization. She was formerly manager of the Woman's National Journalistic Register, Inc., in Chicago.

She will continue her teaching work in the University of Wisconsin next winter, giving a special course in the writing of women's pages in newspapers.

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE BUSY

Committees are working during the summer in interest of the campaign for a memorial union building to be erected upon the University campus.
In order to erect a building it will be necessary to raise a million dollars. No campaign for contributions will be launched until next fall, and the Ex-students' Association probably will have charge of the money.

FINANCING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS IS DISCUSSED

Superintendents of State and University Faculty Tell of Poor School System

FAVORS NEW TAX PLAN

Ellis Suggests Scheme for Raising Revenue by Taxing Natural Resources

By Roscoe Martin

Dr. W. S. Sutton, dean of the School of Education, presided over a meeting of the educational administration round table held this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The subject of discussion was "Educational Problems Demanding Serious Consideration and Wise Solution in Texas Today." The problem of financing public schools, rural and urban, for the scholastic year of 1922-23 was discussed at length by the forty or fifty school superintendents who attended the meeting.

Tells of Poor Schools

Superintendent Wallace of Mount Pleasant opened the session with a talk on the evils of the present school system of Texas, laying special emphasis on the poorness of a majority of teachers, the shortage of funds, and the general attitude of the public at large toward these problems.
Superintendent Higgins of Memphis next took the floor and advanced an idea with the view of remedying these evils. He advocated the dollar tax for school districts, and cited instances where this means has been used to solve the financial difficulties.

Shelby Talks

T. H. Shelby, director of the Bureau of Extension, next spoke, giving statistics on the status of Texas as compared with other states. He showed that, although Texas ranks well up toward the front in every other field, she is thirty-ninth in education. He also showed that the tax last year amounted to about $14.50 per pupil, whereas this year it will amount to only $9.50 per pupil.
Superintendent Clough of Tyler corroborated these statements with statistics which proved that all the above and more is true. Professor Shelby and Mr. Clough advanced no plans for overcoming the financial problems, merely stating the problem and giving statistics on it.

Advances Solution

Dr. A. C. Ellis, professor of education, took the floor after Mr. Clough and spoke at some length on various solutions which might be tried. He agreed with the former speakers inso far as they had gone, but argued that they had been entirely too optimistic in presenting the facts as they really exist. He showed that, although there was $574,000,000 spent in Texas in 1920 for luxuries alone, there was spent in that year only $18,100,000 for education. He also showed that in 1920 $52,000,000 was paid to the government in income taxes, as compared to the $18-000,000 spent for education. Dr.
Ellis ended his talk by advancing the idea that the natural resources of Texas, as oil, sulphur, etc., should be taxed a certain per cent for the public schools of the state. He cited

EDUCATION FOR PARENTHOOD

Training for parenthood should form an important part of our educational system, according to Dr. Henry S. Curtis, who lectured on the campus last week. To support this proposition, the speaker pointed out the present high infant mortality rate, the rapidly declining birth rate, the growing amount of delinquency, and the fact that the education of a child is largely in the hands of its parents.

Dr. Curtis touched a tender spot in the present system of education: a vital omission that results largely from the common belief that man and woman are prepared for parenthood by instinct, with no further training necessary or desirable, while the misconception is aided and abetted by useless prudery. Education is instructing young men and women in cultural and professional subjects, but is giving them practically no preparation to cope with the greatest problems of life, those of parenthood. A few courses in the ordinary academic curriculum may touch on this subject in a half-hearted and superficial way, but there is not provided the thorough and effective instruction that this matter demands.

The methods that were sufficient fifty years ago in solving the problems of parenthood are inadequate in the complex life of modern society, with its increasing dangers and pitfalls. Letting Topsy just grow up is a dangerous and often disastrous process in this day and time. Education, elementary as well as higher learning, is not fulfilling its mission unless it prepares men and women to meet and solve these vital problems intelligently and effectively, rather than in a haphazard and blind fashion.

TOO BUSY

When the average student refuses to do some friend a favor, or when he foregoes a picture show or cuts a class or misses a dance, he sighs or moans or snaps: "Too busy." We, who also have our minor obligations of classroom activity, and society, take him at his word and offer him a bit of brotherly sympathy; for we also are wrestling with the hallucination that we are likewise "too busy."

And so we continued our way of bending beneath the burdens of a fast and furious college life, until we heard of one student whose business was exceeded only, by his ambition and his physical endurance.

This student is in the College of Agriculture. He waits table for his board and tends furnace for his room. He works five hours a night in a restaurant, finishing up at midnight; then he takes a turn as night-watchman for a manufacturing company until 4 a. m., when he goes to bed for his less than six hours daily sleep. When he studies no one can tell, and yet he is carrying an average schedule, making good grades, keeping physically fit, paying his expenses, and saving up money for a rainy day.

This man is determined to get a college education, and it looks as though he were going to succeed. And we have learned that we, after all, are possibly not so busy as we thought.—Daily Illini.

GARCIA LIBRARY HAS PICTURES OF FIFTY MEXICAN PRESIDENTS

Other Notables of Southern Republic Are Contained in Unique Collection

Among the valuable literary and historical items being disclosed daily in the work of cataloguing the Garcia Library of the University, there is a collection of 52 pictures of former presidents and other supreme executives of Mexico. The series is made up of photographs of oil paintings and were collected by Genaro Garcia, along with the other notable collections of Mexicana in his library.

The series of pictures begins with Juan O. Donoju, member of the regency of the first imperio, in 1821, followed by Augustine de Iturbide, emperor, 1822-23, and contains a likeness of all the chief heads of the Mexican government up to the reign of Diaz. General Guadalupe Victoria was the first to bear the title of president of the republic, 1824-29.

There is the well known picture of Santa Anna, who was president nine times in a period of twelve years. General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, as he is called held the ruling power from 1833-35, and again in 1839, then at various intervals until 1855. Juan B. Coballos, a lawyer and head of the supreme court, succeeded to the presidency in 1853, in the absence of a vice-president.

The only woman whose picture appears in the collection is Maria Carlota, the wife of Maximilian I, Emperor from 1844 to 1866. She was named as Regent by Maximilian to succeed him after his death in the absence of an heir. The succession did not take place, however, as the Empress went insane because she was unable to save her husband from death. She is still living in Belgium, and her palace was in the territory devastated by the Germans during the World War. Her home was not molested, however, because the palace was flying the Austrian flag.

ON COMPOSING A POEM FOR THE DAILY

In the good old summer time, When we try to make a rhyme, While the clatter and the chatter Of typewriters here and there, Disturb our sense of beauty,
And make us forget our duty, While we feel like saying something blue,
To the "deer ed" sitting there.

Of a sudden comes inspiration (Not a totally new sensation) And we madly dash the lines off as They dart into our brain; Then we hand our brain-child in To the bird who sets the "tin," And we hear the damning words that, "We can't run it. Try it again!"

The three business sororities of college women in the United States are planning to combine and make one big national sorority. Miss Stullken expects to be in Chicago by July where she will take special work at the Gregg school. Before leaving, Miss Stullken was the honoree at several farewell parties, one given by the Bachelor Girls last Monday evening at the home of Miss Nell Rhodes, and another given by about twenty-five members of the Austin Chapter No. 304, Order of the Eastern Star, Wednesday afternoon at her home on the Georgetown road. At both of these affairs, Miss Stullken was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts.

TAYLOR BEATS LEGION BY COUNT OF 3 TO 3

Flanagan Holds Locals Scoreless After Taking Mound in Second

Too much Irish tells the tale of Taylor's victory over the Austin American Legion warriors yesterday afternoon by a score of 5 to 2. After the Warriors had counted twice in the first inning, Mike Flanagan took the mound for Taylor and allowed the locals only three hits during his eight innings of mound duty. It was impossible for the Warriors to do anything with Flanagan's deceptive change of pace.

The locals touched Gregg for four safeties and two scores in the first inning but that ended their scoring for the day. Taylor was unable to score until the fourth when they counted once. They scored three runs in the fifth and their lead was never headed. The visitors counted once in the seventh, which ended all of the scoring for the day.

The locals need offer no alibi for their defeat at the hands of the Taylor team, for the Warriors played a stellar fielding game, although their hitting was rather low to one Mike Flanagan. Talley of Taylor lead the hitting with four hits out of four times at bat.

Score by innings:

Legion.....	200	000	000-2 7 2
Taylor.....	000	130	100-5 10 2

Batteries:

Gerrish, Davis and Woolsey; Gregg, Flanagan and Ferguson.

UNION WORKERS PLAN PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Memorial Building to Be Pushed Throughout State During Summer

With the opening of offices in room 1111, Main Building, the summer work of the committee in charge of the Memorial Union campaign has gotten well under way. A permanent organization for summer work will be formed, and an educational campaign will be conducted over the state through local and state papers and by means of pamphlets to be sent out to all students and ex-students.

A complete list of the names and addresses of all ex-students is being prepared to aid in the work. This list is largely a revision of the Alumni directory which was published several years ago.

The organization of local University clubs and ex-students associations will be pushed vigorously, and every effort will be made to arouse great interest among all former students.

Henry C. Fulcher has been placed in charge of the publicity work. He will form his own organization to assist him. W. D. Hornaday, director of publicity for the University, has offered his services to help with the publicity work.

Frank K. McGehee, chairman of the

Benedicts to Play Ball With Freeman

The married men in L. Theo. Belmont's basketball coaching class have issued a challenge to the single men in the class for a game in indoor baseball. The challenge was accepted. The game will be played in the near future. Berry Whitaker's football coaching class voted in favor of the annual summer football game. The class will be divided into two camps and active preparation for the annual clash will begin forthwith.

He Covered All Fields But the Cotton Fields

He stood sadly by the side of the Education Building and sobbed silently as great tears, salty with remorse, rolled down each fresh pink cheek. Above him the magnificent blue heaven shone with the fairness of a summer day, but within his heart the winter of despair had come, had settled, had killed every proud joy and ambition.

"Don't take it so hard, old kid," counseled a friend coming from the door of the registrar's office. "I busted some courses too, and I'm standing up under it."

"It's not the fact that I busted any one course that troubles me," the heart-broken one sighed. "It's because there is nothing left for me to do."

"Five years ago I came to the University with an ambition to get a technical education. I enrolled with the engineers. By the grace of Dean Taylor I stayed in school that year, but I didn't pass a course."

"Wisdom, therefore, seemed to counsel me to go elsewhere. I became a student of business administration, and just before exams I studied voraciously. But I busted. Shades of Carnegie, how badly I busted."

"Thereupon I wandered over into the fields of journalism. Again the story was somewhat similar. While I managed to pass a few courses, I was informed by the faculty at the end of the year that they really thought it advisable that I should be something besides a Horace Greeley."

"I at once decided to be a great scientist. I took all the courses they would give me. But I busted. I think I passed a term or two of physics, but, my memory being uncertain, I do not know for sure."

"So it came to pass that, after many years of wandering Israel at length was deposited in the school of law. Ah, what a J. A. I made. I think I hold the record for answering unprepared. Suffice it to say that I got this report just now, and I busted every course."

Again he sighed heavily. "And so I have covered the field. There is nothing left for me to take. I have tried to absorb every kind of knowledge, but I am a dumbell. For this reason I sob and say sadly that I must go back to the land from whence I came and return to my own profession. I must again become a digger of postholes."

committee elected last spring to have charge of the campaign, is putting in his full time on the work this summer. The other members of the committee, Alexa Rhea, Selwyn Sage, James R. Beverley, and Cecil R. Chamberlin, will continue to act in the new organization which is to be formed this summer and next fall.

fornia and Oklahoma, and argued that Texas might obtain the necessary money for financing her schools in this way. He ended his talk with this, and was accorded prolonged applause for the stand he had taken on the matter.

A committee consisting of Dr. Ellis, Professors Day, Stilwell, Hibbetts and Goodman was appointed to formulate plans for coping with the educational problems of the day, and the round table adjourned to meet again later in the week at the call of the chairman.

GEOLOGISTS GO WEST

Professor Bybee and the company of geologists who went on the summer trip left Pueblo, Colorado, Wednesday and will arrive at Mantiou where they will be for some time. It was stated that no serious accidents had happened to the company, but that one car had caught fire and was damaged considerably. Everyone is enjoying the trip very much, according to Professor Simonds.

Queen

Not to know the name of your mother and then to learn that the man whom you thought was your father is not your father after all, is a terrible experience for any beautiful and well bred young girl to undergo.

But Mary Gray, splendidly portrayed by Katherine MacDonald in her latest First National starring vehicle, "The Woman's Side," playing at the Queen Theatre this week, lives through it to a very happy and romantic conclusion.

Mary learns, after she has saved the career of her foster parent, that Judge Gray had taken an oath to bring up Mary, his brother's daughter, as his own child without letting her know her father's story.

A beautiful love story is worked into the absorbing plot. Edward Burns portrays the role of the lover, while Dwight Crittenden is seen as the white-haired judge.

Hancock

The Hancock theater is showing "A Wide-Open Town," Selznick picture starring Conway Tearle, for a two-day engagement. It opened Monday. As the title would seem to indicate, there is some gambling stuff in the photoplay, a considerable amount of the action depending upon the activities of group of devotees of the Goddess of Chance who are operating in a small American city. The big interest in the picture comes from the development of the principal character from a ragged little urchin, born amidst the most unhappy environment, into a successful young business man after having gone through a reform school and
