Dear Dr. Stenzel:

The Liquidambar trees on the campus are all red and look very beautiful growing in a bed of golden chrysanthemums.

At last I have made arrangements whereby I am in a position to serve you to best advantage as an advance agent. Tomorrow I start to work ^{1/2 time} "on" Foram drawings for Mr. Graham of the Pale Dept. I shall actually be working in Dr. Clark's old office. I have already learned a good deal about the job here. Dr. Clark's position is still open according to Mr. Graham. Mr. Graham is teaching Clark's courses for one year only. Graham told me you were a good man. He thinks they are trying to decide now whether or not they should get someone from outside California as California geology is so specialized that they consider it helpful to have grown up with it. On the other hand all Californians makes the department too ingrown. Are you still interested in coming here? I think I might have some influence on Camp.

What has become of Sawin? If you see him tell him I shall be happy to serve as his advance agent also if he wishes.

Best regards to your family and to friends at the Bureau.

Sincerely,

Lois C. Taylor
