

MANY CHANGES BEING OFFERED IN AMENDMENTS

Would Have Treasurer to Handle the Finances—Reform Would Effect All Publications—Are to Be Voted On.

The following amendments have been proposed by the Students' Assembly:

Be it resolved by the Students' Assembly that the following amendments providing for the appointment of a permanent treasurer and prescribing his powers and duties be and the same are hereby submitted to the Students' Association at a special election to be held therefor on the 25th day of February, 1916.

Be it resolved that these amendments shall go into effect on the 1st day of June, 1916.

1. Amend article I, section 3 (a) to read as follows: "The officers of this association shall be a president, a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer."

2. Amend article I, section 4 (c) to read as follows: "It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep a correct record of the proceedings of the Students' Association, the Students' Council, and the Students' Assembly."

3. Amend article I, section 4, by adding the following subdivisions:

"(d) The treasurer of the Students' Association shall be a member of the faculty of the University, and shall be appointed by the president of the University.

"(e) He shall receive and keep all moneys belonging to the student body, to wit: that arising from or for the use of The Texan and Magazine combined, the Cactus, the Band, the Glee Club, the Oratorical Association, the Woman's Association, and the Students' Association.

"(f) He shall keep separate accounts for the different activities and organizations named in (e) above, and shall pay out or transfer money from those accounts only as shall be hereinafter provided.

"(g) He shall keep account of all property belonging to The Texan and Magazine combined and to the Cactus.

"(h) He shall advise the managers of the publications, and he shall have power to reject any contracts made by the student managers.

"(i) The treasurer shall give bond to the president of the Students' Association in the sum of $5000 for the faithful and honest performance of his duties.

"(j) He shall pay money out of the account of the Students' Association only on order of the president of the Association.

"(k) He shall pay out money from the separate funds maintained for the several publications only for the purpose of discharging the debts and obligations contracted for the publications by himself or upon his order by the student managers.

"(l) He shall pay out money from the accounts of the Band and Glee Club only on the order of the directors of the respective organizations.

"(m) He shall pay out money from the account of the Woman's Association only on order of the president of the Woman's Association.

"(n) At the end of the school year all net profits from The Texan and Magazine combined and from the Cactus, after the paying of the salaries hereinafter provided, shall be transferred to the account of the Students' Association.

"(o) For his services the treasurer shall receive not more than $400 a year out of the net profits of The Texan and Magazine, and not more than $300 a year from the net profits of the Cactus.

"(p) The treasurer shall present to the Students' Assembly at its first meeting of each term of each session for auditing and publication an itemized account of the receipts and disbursements made by him on behalf of the Students' Association, and shall render an annual report to the Assembly not later than the third Thursday in May.

"(q) Nothing in this article shall be construed to mean that the Students' Assembly shall not have final control of the actions of the treasurer or of the managers of the activities under the control of the Students' Association.

4. Amend article II, section 2 (b), 11., 1-2, by striking out the words "a business manager and."

5. Amend article II, section 2 (c), to read as follows: "The business management of the Magazine shall be merged into the business management of The Texan, and the latter shall have control of all business affairs of the Magazine as well as of The Texan.

6. Amend article II, section 2, by striking out all of subdivision (c).

7. Amend article II, section 3 (c), 11., 5 and 11, by substituting the word "treasurer" for the words "business manager"; 1., 8, by adding after the words "disbursements made by him," the words "for the Cactus"; 1., 3, by adding after the words "the printing of the publication" the following: "All collections made by him shall be turned over to the treasurer of the Students' Association. He shall not contract or make debts for the publication without the approval of the treasurer. He shall make no payments for the publication except by order of the treasurer"; 11., 15-20, to read as follows: "Over to the account of the Students' Association all funds in his hands in excess of his remuneration and remuneration of the other managers, as hereinafter provided, taking a receipt for the same, at which time he shall turn over all unsold or undelivered copies of the Cactus to the president of the Students' Association."

8. Amend article II, section 3 (f), to read as follows: "The net profits of the Cactus shall be divided between the treasurer of the Students' Association, manager of the Cactus, and assistant manager as follows: The treasurer shall receive 50 per cent, the manager 30 per cent, the assistant manager 20 per cent, provided that the treasurer shall not receive more than $300, the manager not more than $200, and the assistant manager not more than $100.

9. Amend article II, section 4 (b), 1., 2, by striking out the words "a circulation manager."

10. Amend article II, section 4 (c), 11., 4-9, by striking out the words: "It shall be the duty of the circulation manager," and making the remainder of the sentence a part of the preceding sentence; 11., 7-9, after the words, "provided that," change the present section to read as follows: "All the collections made by him for the publication shall be paid over to the president of the Students' Association, and provided that he shall not contract nor make debts for the publication without the approval of the treasurer, and provided that he shall pay out no money to pay debts contracted for the publication except by order of the treasurer."

11. Amend article II, section 4 (d), line 2, by substituting the words, "treasurer of the Students' Association," for the words, "business manager."

12. Amend article II, section 4 (p), to read as follows: "The net profits of The Texan shall be divided between the treasurer of the Students' Association, manager of The Texan and assistant manager of The Texan as follows: The treasurer shall receive 50 per cent, the manager 30 per cent, the assistant manager 20 per cent, provided that the treasurer shall not receive more than $400, the manager not more than $400, the assistant manager not more than $300."

13. Amend article III, section 3 (c), 1., 1, by substituting the word "secretary" for the words "secretary-treasurer."

14. Amend article III, section 12 (a), by inserting after the words "shall also require" the words "the treasurer of the Students' Association and."

15. Amend article III, section 12 (b), by substituting the word "treasurer" for the word "secretary-treasurer."

16. Amend article III, section 12

LAST SESSION OF ECONOMICS WEEK IS TODAY

Fourth Annual Meeting Will Come to Close as Best Convention Yet Held Here—Lectures Yesterday Were Well Attended.

Program for Today.

9:15-9:45—Conference for State Home Economics Teachers. Mrs. Thomas.

10-10:50—Social Welfare for the Community. Dr. James.

11-11:50—The Government's Share in Planning the Town. Mr. Ford.

12-12:50—The One-Piece Gown. Mrs. Carson.

2-2:50—Conference. Mrs. Carson.

3-3:50—Woman and the International Ideal. Mrs. Thomas.

4-4:50—What Do Literature and Art Mean to a Community? Mr. Surette.

Today's program ends the fourth annual home economics week under the direction of the school of domestic economy and the home welfare division of the department of extension. It has been by far the most successful week since the custom was inaugurated both from the point of view of attendance and of interest shown. Exhibits and informal receptions were given each afternoon in the D. E. shack. Charts dealing with sanitary matters, economic matters, civic art, and municipal playgrounds were on exhibit and attracted favorable attention.

In the program yesterday, Mr. Ford, landscape architect and university lecturer, of New York, addressed a meeting on "Planning the Town for Homes." Mr. Ford showed the necessity of systematic planning of towns.

The artistic object of folk songs was the theme of an address by Mr. T. W. Surette, of Boston, university lecturer on music. Mrs. Thomas spoke on "The Child and the Community," showing the fundamental principles underlying their relationship.

In the afternoon Mrs. Carson, who is proving a popular lecturer among the students, continued her series of talks on fashion and dress, her subject yesterday being "The Personality of Clothes," an explanation of how different clothes were suited to bring out or destroy personality in different people.

Dr. James finished the program with an address stressing the importance of education to the community.

(c), to read as follows: "The Students' Assembly shall furnish financial backing for The Texan, the Magazine and the Cactus as may be necessary."

17. Amend article IV, section 2 (b), by changing the word "secretary-treasurer" to "secretary," in lines 1 and 2.

18. Amend article IV, section 4 (b), by striking out the word "treasurer" in line 2.

19. Amend article V, section 3 (a), by changing the word "secretary-treasurer" to "secretary" in lines 1 and 7.

20. Amend article V, section 3 (c), change the word "secretary-treasurer" to "secretary."

21. Amend article IV, section 3, by inserting the words "and the treasurer of the Students' Association" after the word "association" in line 3 of the present section.

Amendment Providing for Recall of the Officers of the Students' Association and Councilmen and Assemblymen.

Be it resolved by the Students' Assembly that the following amendments providing for the recall of officers of the Students' Association and of Councilmen and Assemblymen are hereby submitted to the Students' Association

FRESHMEN PLAY POLITICAL GAME LIKE OLD HEADS

New Candidate Has Entered Race for Freshman Honors—Several Stump Speeches Made by Would-Be Class Presidents.

A new brand of political campaigning was exhibited on the campus yesterday when Peter M. Scardino, a freshman from Bryan, made addresses in the gym, in front of the chemistry building and the woman's building.

Upperclassmen posing as freshman opponents debated with him on the woman's building steps before a large crowd. Scardino declared that he favored open athletics for women, the blanket tax, the referendum and recall and socialism.

Evidently duped by various students, he explained the blanket tax as a plan whereby each man in the University would receive a large blanket and each woman a robe, for a fee of $6, the blankets and robes when worn insuring the student admittance to all athletic events. The color, he declared and the uniformity of garb would add much to the effect of the rooting. In regard to the recall, he said that if elected he would gladly respond to calls of his classmates at any hour. If he should be calling upon a young lady or be engaged in any work, he would gladly be called and even recalled if his services should be needed.

When asked how he stood on socialism, he said he favored socialism; that he favored all kinds of social affairs. One of the alleged opponents threatened to whip Scardino, and produced a long rubber knife. Scardino, terrified, tried to gain admittance to the door of the woman's building just behind him. Failing there, he leaped from the steps and ran for his life.

A debate between Wadel, another freshman who had been induced to enter the supposed race, and Scardino was arranged for the evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Wadel was escorted to the Y. M. C. A. by a committee of students and introduced to a large crowd that had gathered for the occasion. He spoke from the Y. M. C. A. steps, and declared that his opponent had some misconceptions of the blanket tax. The blankets, he said, should be orange and white, instead of green, as proposed by Scardino. If elected, he intended to be loyal first to the University and second to the freshman class. For this reason he opposed the green blankets, inasmuch as green is the color of the freshman class and not of the University at large.

He favored the segregation of saloons on Lavaca street and disfavored open athletics for women. The cheering for Wadel was loud and frequent. The name of Scardino was frequently shouted from the crowd, but Scardino did not appear. Students who roomed at the same house kept him away, fearing that the excitement would not be good for him.

Following is a written statement given to The Texan by Mr. Wadel, announcing his candidacy:

"I have been persuaded by my friends to run for the office of freshman president. This is not my first year away from home. I have attended the Pennsylvania Military College for two years. I have had some experience in leading men there. At a military school is where one is trained to become a leader of men, not merely a follower in the wake of some one. I hope by earnest effort to obtain your favor, and would greatly appreciate your vote.

"The following is my campaign committee: E. D. Norment, J. B. Mastin, Robert B. Allen, Alva Charlton, F. L. Peyton, Dundee Mayfield, Emory Roberts, Ben Marable, Raymond Myers, Baker Duncan, E. P. McCormick, Nick Carter, Pete Edmond.

"I am not ready yet to announce a definite platform. I am in favor of the blanket tax if it has been a success in other schools. I don't know

WOMEN STAGE TWO BASKETBALL GAMES

Juniors Defeat Seniors 25-10, While Sophs Conquer Freshmen 8-6. Juniors Retain Lead.

In two fast games yesterday, featured by rather wild playing on all sides, the junior girls defeated the senior team by a score of 25-10, and the sophomores overcame the freshmen 8-6. The junior-senior game was the better of the two, good playing and skill being exhibited by the junior forwards. Helen Mobley and Vera Coffee, and by Merle Sowell, junior center. Angela Mondrick starred for the seniors.

Loose playing and poor goal shooting by both sides accounts for the low score in the sophomore-freshman contest. For the sophomores Willie Shaw did good work, while Opal Porter played a strong game for the freshmen.

By defeating the senior team, the juniors retained their lead in the race.

SIGMA DELTA PSI HAS FIRST TRIAL OF CURRENT YEAR

The first tryouts for the year for the Sigma Delta Psi, athletic fraternity, was held yesterday afternoon on Clark Field. With six men elected to membership by their ability in athletics last year and the host of tryouts who were successful in the first line of tryouts yesterday, the fraternity gives promise of being one of the largest of the honorary organizations in the Southwest.

Director L. T. Bellmont, Charles Turner of the football and wrestling teams, and Assistant Director Roy B. Henderson were the judges of the affair yesterday which attracted thirty athletes.

The events staged yesterday were the 100-yard dash, in which the time is not to exceed twelve seconds; 220 hurdles, two-mile run, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, throwing baseball, punting football, shot put. Certain qualifications were demanded in all of the above named events, and before a man is eligible to membership in the organization he must comply with all the requirements.

The following qualified in some of the events, but yet have some to work off: Rumph, Young, Woodward, Cole, Luter, Gibbs, Pate, Hartman, Gresham, Normand, Burgess, Trout, Derfman, Ball, Stork, Taylor, Little, Cox, Coe, G. Johnson.

SCHEDULE FOR BASEBALL GAMES NOW COMPLETE

The baseball schedule for the coming season has been practically completed. One or two more games, it was stated, will probably be added to the schedule if agreeable dates can be secured. The schedule follows:

March 21-22—Rice, at Austin.
March 27—Southwestern, at Austin.
March 30-31—Chinese, at Austin.
April 7—Howard Payne, at Austin.
April 10-11—Baylor, at Austin.
April 13-14—A. & M., at Bryan.
April 15—Rice, at Houston.
April 19-20—Arkansas, at Austin.
April 21—Southwestern, at Georgetown.
April 28-29—Austin College, Austin.
May 15-16—A. & M., at Austin.

how I stand on the initiative, referendum and recall, but I will decide soon and give out an announcement. I am opposed to having the girls' basketball games, etc., open to everybody, as I think it unbecoming for girls to play before a crowd of men."

TRADITIONS THE UNIVERSITY HAS.

What do you know about the University, its past, its present, its future? Do you know when it was founded, who its first president was, and where classes were first held?

The University is a great institution of learning now, but it has grown to be such in less than four decades. In fact, there are a number of men and women now in the faculty who have been connected with it all during or the greater part of this time. Do you know who they are? They have seen the University grow from an institution which could almost have occupied the largest of the shacks which now adorn the campus, into an institution whose remarkable growth has necessitated the erection of so many shacks.

The history of the University is the history of the student days of some of the State's most interesting people and of the activity of some of the country's most interesting teachers. To one who knows something of this history it is a living, breathing institution with a human career.

The Alcalde each month contains fragments of this interesting history. It tells of the experiences of those who once figured in University life as students, and of members of the faculty, many of whom are still here. Cultivate the habit of peeping into the Alcalde once in a while. It is an exceedingly interesting publication, it is unusually well edited, and contains some mighty good literature. Those who have never read it know not the joys they are missing.

True, it is not a student publication; that is, it is not a publication of the present student body. But it is the publication of all former student bodies of the University. It is therefore of value to the student who wishes to feel the school's venerable influence, which he can not feel unless he has intimate knowledge of the traditions and history of the University.

CHAPEL NOTICES.

After the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "Lord, Speak to Me That I May Speak," Mr. Williams took as the basis of his remarks the incident of the raising from the dead the son of the widow of Nain. He gave this as another instance of glimpsing heaven while on earth, of being translated, as it were, in the midst of our dull routine of life. He is trying to lift us up this week to where we can see the glories of the higher and better world. The incident cited yesterday showed two processions—the one bound for heaven, the other not. The interesting comment at that point was the fact that these processions must meet; there is a place where the environment is about the same, though the direction is different. When we meet Jesus, we have only to face about and go with Him.

WHARTON REACHES AFRICA.

Conway Wharton, a 1914 graduate of the Austin Theological Seminary, has safely arrived at his destination, Luebo, Central Africa, according to an interesting letter to his father recently.

Mr. Wharton describes his many adventures on his long journey up the Congo to Luebo, a three months' trip from New York. He was royally received by a crowd of several thousand natives.

Mr. Wharton was accompanied by his wife, who was Miss Ethel Taylor, a graduate of the University, class of 1914. Frank Mackelroy and his wife, who was Miss Janie McCummin, a niece of Dean Benedict, were also in the party. All four persons sailed from New York last September.

He has felt the breath of power,
And we realize now—what he always knew—
Scardino's the man of the hour.

He does not come with a canting phrase,
Or a wheedling note in his voice;
He fears no censure and asks no praise—
Scardino, the people's choice.

Let the hypocrites rave; their twisted lips
Shall give themselves the lie.
We stand united in studentship—
Scardino! is our cry.

The hills resound his glorious name;
The clouds his greatness know;
Beloved of us, betrothed to fame,
'Tis he—all hail! Scardino!

COLLEGE NOTES

Syracuse.

The results of the one week examination period, which was put into effect this year for the first time, proved that the new system was a failure. There were more failures than in other years, and the questions were no more difficult. With six or seven examinations in one week there was practically no time for systematic reviewing, which is the purpose of examinations. There was much cramming and cribbing. The editor of the Daily Orange says the defects of the system are greater than the advantages, and urges the return to the two weeks plan.

Kansas.

If present plans are to be carried out, the women as well as the men of the junior class will pay for the junior party. Eight men have been provided with the class roll, and each junior girl as well as each man will be solicited. Several sororities have promised that their junior girls will pay their share.

Colorado.

Texas will send to Boulder two experienced debaters backed by long and successful practice. Francis is probably the foremost debater in the Southwest. His speech against Colorado last year was a masterpiece. Wood, the other man on the Texas team, helped defeat Louisiana last year.—Silver and Gold.

Tulane.

The Tulane Weekly advocates the awarding of degree credit to the staff of various student publications.

Utah.

The following question is before the student body: "Will there be sufficient interest shown in football, basketball and track work to justify the regents in securing the services of a coach?" If the sentiment is strong enough in favor of a coach, the regents will probably comply.

Ohio.

Fifty dollars in prizes will be given to five students who make the best orations at the second annual prohibition oratorical contest which is to be held in the near future. The orations will be limited to ten minutes each, and the number of contestants will be limited to ten.

Brown.

Excitement over the freshman banquet reached a fever pitch when a party of sophomores followed and kidnapped the freshman "prexy" on the night of the banquet. A number of other freshmen were induced to go into a building where it was reported the president was held, and they, too, were confined for a while. Some of the members of the banquet committee escaped, however, and the banquet was held.

Northwestern.

The co-eds of this university have opened a barber shop containing four chairs. It will soon be enlarged. The profits will go toward the construction of a new woman's building.

Washington.

The grandstands on the athletic field have been crushed by the heavy weight of the snow.

The university will publish a new business magazine, "Better Business." It will be edited by faculty members and will contain articles written by business men from all over the State. A wide circulation is expected.

Nebraska.

The co-eds are becoming enthusiastic swimmers. At the first of the year very few had the nerve to use the springboard, but now so many are anxious to dive that the board is in continual use.

DRAMATICS

N. H. RATHER

The University German Club has arranged to introduce an innovation on the occasion of the next regular german, which will be on the night of February 26. Especially for this event, the management of the German Club has secured the services of the Troubadours Orchestral Troupe, better known as the Venetian Troubadours. This is a company of musicians, each of whom is an artist with the instrument on which he performs. They are accompanied by a young lady of versatile ability, Miss Laska Elray, a contralto soloist of no mean ability, banjo artist and impersonator. This young lady will render various selections in each of her accomplishments, singly and in conjunction with the others.

This company is famed for the dance music it plays, and during the intermissions they will give selections classical in nature, instrumental specialties, etc., for the amusement of the dancers.

This is an entirely new idea, having never been tried before by the German Club, and its object is to stimulate attendance at the germans, and to show the appreciation of the club to those who are regular attenders. The troupe has been secured only by the guaranteeing of a considerable sum of money, but the advance in price for attendance will probably be only nominal, as the large crowd expected will take care of the extra expense.

TO SHOW MASTERPIECE.

"The Man of Galilee," one of Carl Thomtays masterpieces, is to be placed on exhibition at T. H. Williams & Co.'s store today for two weeks.

The management of the store, in making the announcement, expressed the desire that all University students might see this picture painting, believing that a study of the Prince of Peace in these militant times may tend to increase the spirit of good will among Americans who have not been called upon to suffer the horrors of war.

Carl Thomtays, the artist, was born in Copenhagen, in 1865. He took up the study of painting while still a youth, and became a student of Jerome and Constant of Paris. He is a medalist of the Grand Salon. His greatest work, "The Two Marys at the Tomb," now hangs in Luxembourg and is the property of the French government.

In "The Man of Galilee" Christ is shown kneeling in prayer amid the mountains of Capernaum, six miles from the Sea of Galilee. His head is bowed and his face is not visible, his arms extended in supplication. A soft moon casts its half-light upon the scene. The evening star glows in the distance as the beacon of eternity.

He who "looked for some one to take pity on him"—"and there was no man"—kneels there, a figure of solitude, unutterably lonely.

Art critics have written much in praise of this painting. They say it exhibits the highest type of the assured technique of the Danish school. People who go to look at the picture sometimes sit for hours drinking in its spiritual significance. (Adv.)
