EIGHT CAMPUS POSITIONS DETERMINED TODAY

LONGHORNS BATTLE BAYLOR HERE TONIGHT

BEARS DESIRE REVENGE FOR WACO DEFEAT

Stalling Game May Be Played by Crow's Proteges

HARD FIGHT SEEN

Brock, Camp, Rose, Rees, Wray, To Start

By BOB CANTRELL
Texan Sports Editor

With a two-day rest period behind them, the Steers will take on the Baylor Bears tonight on the Deaf and Dumb gym floor in their second meeting of the year in a game that will be anything but a pleasant 40 minutes for them. The Bruins held Texas to a 23-19 win in Waco in the season opener, and will be out to show that it was no accident. On the other hand, the Steers will be maddened by the thought of the score which the Bears gave them, and will do their best to run up the score.

Stalling Game

Baylor has been using the stalling game in their last few frays, and may attempt to use it on Texas tonight. It was the stalling antics of the Bruins that gave Texas so much trouble in their first game of the season, and should Crow's charges resort to that game tonight, Walker's five would find it pretty hard to run up their total.

Captain Barksdale and Jake Wilson have been the shining lights in the wins of the Bruins, and these two men will bear the brunt of the Bear attack, thought Smith and Kiersky are dangerous scoring threats. Witcher and Guice are the pair on whom the Steers depend to stop the Steer scorers. The Bruins have improved a great deal since the opening game of the season, and tonight's fray will be anything but a walk-away for the locals.

Steers Ready

Tired and restless from their strenuous schedule of the last three weeks, the Steers will start the same five that has been getting such good results in the last few games, but reserves will be worked into the game whenever possible. Captain Holly Brock and Sug Camp will start at forwards, Big 'Un Rose at center, and Rees and Wray at guards. This five has been stepping along pretty fast in their scraps of late, and will give the Bears their first taste of the battle tonight. Rut Vining, Earl Taylor, Jake Looney, Frank Cheatham, and James Fomby likely will get in the fray before it is over. The combination of Rose and Camp at forwards, Fomby at center, and Rees and Cheatham at guards may be used at some time during the game. Jake Looney, Rut Vining and Earl Taylor can play the game with the best of them.

TWO ALECS OMITTED FROM HONOR ROLL

The honor roll for the College of Engineering as published by The Texan Sunday omitted the following students in the list of highest three per cent, H. A. Turner, G. T. Hamblen.

JEANETTE WADDELL ILL

Jeanette Waddell, who was taken to Scott and White Hospital at Temple last week for a serious operation, is in a critical condition, according to Margaret Francis, her roommate at the Littlefield Dormitory.

Miss Waddell is a freshman in the University and a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Legislative Highlights

Texan Capitol Correspondents

Voting 74-55 to cut out the enacting clause of the so-called horse-racing bill, the House Monday brought to a culmination what promised to be an interesting fight between certain moral forces of the state and those who wished to legalize the making of books at horse races. Representative Ray Hilder's resolution to have an open discussion on the bill Monday afternoon was defeated at the beginning of the morning session and a motion of Representative Carl Roundtree to suspend the regular order of business and consider the bill at once was passed. The bill would probably not have been reached Monday had Turn to Page 4, Col. 3

Issue Editors of The Daily Texan To Hold Meeting

Issue editors on The Daily Texan staff are urged to be present at a meeting in the editor's office, room 127, B. Hall, this Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

"All issue editors should be present at this meeting as important business will be discussed," said Jimmie S. Payne, editor-in-chief of The Daily Texan.

LOVE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF U. T. SCRIBES

New Leader Is Member Of Theta Sigma Phi

Everetta Love was chosen president of the Journalism Association at a special meeting of the students of journalism Monday night.

Miss Love is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalistic fraternity, a member of the Spanish Dramatics Club, and editor of the Scottish Rite Dormitory annual, the Sardinia. She is a senior in the department of journalism.

The office of president of the organization was left vacant by the withdrawal from school of Wendell O'Neal, former president. O'Neal is journal clerk of the Senate at the present session of the Legislature. He was a senior journalism student.

Other officers of the Journalism Association are: Alex Murphree, vice president, and Dorothy Edmiston, secretary.

PLUMMER AND ADKINS HELP PLAN GEOLOGY FIELD TRIP

F. B. Plummer and W. S. Adkins of the Bureau of Economic Geology returned Sunday from Fort Worth where they met with Dr. H. W. Winton and Dr. Gayle Scott of Texas Christian University to plan a map of the field trip which will be taken following the meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, which is to be held in Fort Worth March 21-23. The field trip is part of the program planned for the meeting. It will cover 180 miles of territory.

Students of the department of geology of the University will attend the meeting. A committee from the Southwestern Geological Society is planning a special feature of entertainment.

SOLONS VISIT IN UNIVERSITY ON WEDNESDAY

Sports Day Program Is Feature of Open House

GIRLS IN CHARGE

Littlefield Dorm Is Marked as End Of Tour

Active preparation for tour of the University campus by members of the Texas Legislature Wednesday is being made by various committees under the general direction of Gyneth Stugard. The transportation committee, with John T. McCullough as chairman, will have cars at the Capitol at 4:30 Wednesday, and University co-eds, acting as hostesses, will be on hand to point out places of interest in the course of the tour. The hostesses are in charge of Bess Olsen.

The Senate and the House of Representatives have adopted resolutions accepting the invitation of the students.

Due to the pressure of official business, legislators have found it impossible to give time for an extended visit to the various departments, as was previously contemplated. It is hoped by the committee, however, that this automobile tour will be followed by visits to the campus by the members of the Legislature later on during the session or during the special session.

The tour of the campus will end at the Littlefield Dormitory where refreshments will be served. Gyneth Stugard, Marvin Brown, and Bess Olsen constitute the student executive committee for this affair.

A Sports Day program, the third event of this type to be held at the University, is a prominent feature of the open house activities for the legislators Wednesday. Four hundred girls, members of the freshman sports classes in the women's physical training department, will take part in the program which will be held from 4 to 5 o'clock.

The two events of this kind held at the University before were staged during the state W. A. A. convention in 1927 which met here and another in the spring of 1928, which was a city-wide affair. These Sports Days are a definite example of the type of physical activity that is beginning to dominate, and meet educational approval. Every girl is encouraged to participate in Sports Days since participation is dependent not upon skill but upon Turn to Page 6, Col. 3

Fireside Forum Plans Completed for Term By Official Sponsors

Speakers and program dates have been announced for the second semester series of Fireside Forum lectures by officials of the University Y. M. C. A. with the Inter-Fraternity Council, who are sponsoring the movement.

The following men have been asked to serve as leaders for the second semester: John Bagwell, instructor in psychology; E. C. H. Bantel, professor of civil engineering; Dr. W. J. Battle, professor of classical languages; L. T. Belmont, professor of physical education; Father Blakeslee, director of student work for St. Austin's Chapel.

D. F. Bobbitt, professor of law; J. A. Burdine, instructor of government; J. W. Calhoun, professor of applied mathematics; Dr. O. R. Chambers, professor of psychology; Dr. L. L. Click, professor of English; R. A. Cox, instructor in economics; G. C. Engerrand, associate professor of anthropology; Dr. W. A. Felsing, professor of chemistry; Dr. J. A. Fitzgerald, dean of the School of Business Administration; Ellwood Griscom, professor of public speaking.

Dr. M. S. Handman, professor of economics; William James, assistant football coach; F. L. Jewett, Texas Bible Chair; Dr. R. A. Law, professor of English; Clyde Littlefield, football and track coach; W. L. McGill, president of Ex-Students' Association; John W. McCurdy, secretary of Ex-Students' Association; E. K. McGinnis, professor of business administration; Dr. W. T. Mather, professor of physics; Dr. R. H. Mont O. R. Chambers, professor of psychology; Dr. L. L. Click, professor of English; R. A. Cox, instructor in economics; G. C. Engerrand, associate professor of anthropology; Dr. W. A. Felsing, professor of chemistry; Dr. J. A. Fitzgerald, dean of the School of Business Administration; Ellwood Griscom, professor of public speaking.

Division of Extension Shows Rapid Increase

In the score of years since the organization of extension work at the University that department has increased the scope of its activities many times over and has expanded in size from a single bureau offering correspondence and lecture work to a division comprising seven bureaus, each with its own staff phase of work to do, according to T. H. Shelby, dean of the Division of Extension.

The Bureau of Extension, as it was then known, was authorized by the Board of Regents in 1909. Provisions were made for offering courses by correspondence and for lectures to be delivered by members of the University faculty. President H. Y. Benedict was named director.

In 1911, the University Inter-scholastic Debating Society was added to the extension work; it later became known as the Inter-scholastic League Bureau. Other departments were added from time to time.

When Dr. A. Caswell Ellis succeeded Dr. Benedict as director a few years later, he instigated a campaign against hookworm and malaria, sending out groups from the Bureau of Extension to lecture and conduct the work in the rural communities and schools. Under the direction of F. M. Bralley, former state superintendent of instruction, who became director of the bureau in 1911, school studies and surveys were added to the activities of the bureau.

Dr. Ellis again took charge of the department when Mr. Bralley left to become president of the College of Industrial Arts. He was succeeded by Professor E. D. Shurter, who held the position until 1920, when T. H. Shelby, superintendent of the Tyler schools, became director. For a short time in 1920 and 1921, while Mr. Shelby was doing graduate work in Chicago, Dr. D. A. Penick was in charge of the bureau, and it was during this period that extension center classes were begun.

It was not until 1925 that the name was changed from Bureau of Extension to Division of Extension. At the same time the title of the head of the organization was changed from director to dean, and the various departments became bureaus.

The work of the Division of Extension increased rapidly from year to year. The bureau of government research, which was under the supervision of the government department of the main University, was transferred to the Division of Extension. The bureau of industrial teacher-training, formerly independent, was also transferred to the same division.

In 1921, extension classes were Turn to Page 4, Col. 4

Mrs. Crowell Lectures On 'What Poetry Means to Me'

BOOKS PRAISED

Payne Speaks Highly Of Writer's Subjects

Grace Noll Crowell, who is to lecture in Garrison Hall tonight at 8 o'clock on "What Poetry Means to Me," arrived in Austin Monday afternoon. She and her husband, Norman H. Crowell, made the trip from Dallas by automobile. While in Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Crowell will be the guests of Mrs. I. M. Primer and Mrs. W. G. Franklin.

Mrs. Crowell will be in Austin through Wednesday. Plans have been made for her entertainment, the most prominent affair being the tea at the Faculty Women's Club today from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Popular Poet

Mrs. Crowell is one of the most popular women poets, according to critics. Dr. L. W. Payne of the University English faculty speaks highly of her in his "Survey of Texas Literature." He says:

"Mrs. Crowell writes about the simple, everyday things of home life—about 'Aprons' and 'Kitchens,' about the 'Pines' and 'Sycamores' and 'Shining Poplars,' and other familiar but intrinsically beautiful objects."

Two Books Written

Mrs. Crowell has written and published two volumes of verse and has a third ready for the printer. Her first volume, "White Fire," won the award in the first annual book publishing contest of the Poetry Society of Texas. The volume contains many poems previously published in national periodicals of both England and America.

Both Mrs. Crowell and her husband have been active in stimulating interest in poetry in Texas. She is recording secretary of the Poetry Society of Texas and Mr. Crowell is corresponding secretary.

WILLIAMS ELECTED GERMAN MANAGER

W. T. Williams was elected floor manager of the Saturday night German at a meeting of the social calendar committee which was held Monday afternoon. Williams is a member of Delta Theta Phi fraternity which is now managing the German.

Facts About Former U. T. Students Who Now Fill Solon Chairs

Ernest C. Cox of Corsicana, a member of the House of Representatives, received his bachelor of laws degree from the University School of Law in 1917.

While in the University, he resided in B. Hall and was a member of the Rusticusses. He went out for track and football and took part in the University debates.

Representative Cox offered the bill requiring physical education to be offered in all state supported schools and is interested in the junior college bill. He has worked for the series of American bills providing for the teaching of patriotism, civics, and American history in public schools, for the amendment to the vital statistics law, for the amendment

Holiday Declared For Students on Washington's Day

Thanks to the "Father of Our Country," students will not have to attend classes Friday. Among the many things that George Washington did for the American people was to be born on February 22, thus making possible a holiday that probably never will be denied the students. It is an official holiday; the University catalogue says it is; and the President's office said Monday that the catalogue read correctly.

VENUE CHANGE IN M'DONALD TRIAL ASKED

Hearing on Motion Is To Come up Monday

Special to The Daily Texan.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Hearing on a motion for change of venue in the McDonald will contest has been set for Monday, February 25, by Judge Newman Phillips of the Sixty-second district.

The third trial is scheduled to be heard in Judge Phillips' court early in March. Contestants have asked a change of venue on grounds that a fair and impartial trial can not be obtained in Lamar County. A million and a quarter bequest to the State University for an astronomical observatory is involved in the suit.

BALLOTING TO LAST FROM 8 TO 10 O'CLOCK

Voting Booths Placed In Nine Campus Buildings

HEAVY VOTE URGED

Students Mark Choice In Order of 1, 2, 3

The special election of student officials made necessary by the resignation of some officers and ineligibility of others will be held today, beginning at 8 o'clock, at which time the polls will open. The polls will close at 1 o'clock, according to August Spain, chief judge of the election.

All students are urged to vote early and in the right box, stated Spain.

Nine Boxes

Nine boxes have been placed in various buildings for various schools and departments: department of journalism, B. Hall; College of Engineering, Engineering Building; School of Education, and Graduate School in the same box in Education Building; Law School, in the Law Building; College of Arts and Sciences, girls' study hall for women; Rotunda of Main Building for both men and women; Garrison Hall for both men and women of the academic department; School of Pharmacy, V Hall; School of Business Administration, R. Hall.

All students both men and women in all schools will vote for the managing editor of The Daily Texan and for the editor of the Cactus, and all men will vote for the chairman of the Men's Honor Council.

Today's ballot:

FOUR FRATERNITIES REGAIN ELIGIBILITY

Omega Beta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Sigma Phi, and Phi Mu, whose scholastic standings were below the University average for the scholastic year of 1927-28 and who were therefore unable to initiate this last fall, are now eligible for initiation, stated Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men, Monday.

The average will not be taken until June. It was due to the change of term systems that necessitated the taking of the last average.

SARAH THAXTON VISITS Sarah Thaxton, former assistant to the director of publicity of the University, visited on the campus Monday.

The Steers meet the Baylor Bears tonight in their second clash of the year in the Silents' Gymnasium. The Bears have developed into a powerful club since their opener with the Steers, and tonight's fray will be hard fought from start to finish, with the Longhorns favored to win. The Steers have been through one of the hardest strains a team can be placed in for the last two weeks with their schedule sending them against the strongest clubs in the loop one after another, and final examinations thrown in for good measure.

Fresh baseballers got their first taste of work yesterday afternoon when Karow called them together for the initial workout of the 1929 season. Some promising men are found on the frosh roster, and Disch will watch the development of these men with interest.

The intramural boxing bouts are creating a great deal of interest, and big crowds have jammed their way into the small wrestling room in Z Hall where the matches are being held. On both nights, the crowds have filled every available inch of space in the small room and many have been turned away. The finals in the wrestling will be held this afternoon, while boxing finals will come tonight. Several interesting bouts are promised for fans witnessing tonight's scraps.

The finals in the intramural basketball race will be played Wednesday night when the engineers and Stovall's Wichita clash at the frosh gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. The Wichita five has had to fight its way through a tougher schedule than the one faced by the Ales, and if anybody is favored to win, it is the Wichita five. The Wichita club won the independent title when it defeated the Little Campus "B" club, and then defeated the D. K. E. quint for the right to enter the finals. On the other hand, the engineers, in the weak league in the organization, the Departmental League, won the title without any trouble, and then topped the Newman Club five in a dull clash. All in all, it looks as though the Wichita five will win the University championship.

The ancient and honored game of pitching horseshoes is fast coming into its own in this part of the country. Horseshoe pitching tournaments are being held all over the state, and The Dallas News is sponsoring a state-wide meet. We wonder where they will find enough shoes to use in the meet.

The Ponies from S. M. U. have slipped badly the past week or so. Since their one point win over Texas, they haven't been able to do anything. A. & M. outstalled 'em win 18-16, and then Baylor did the same to win 23-19, while little Jake Wilson was giving the Mustangs fits with his basket caging.

Big league clubs are sending their hurling staffs south now, and within the next week or so the main contingents will be basking beneath the sunny skies of the south. In the American League, everybody is pointing to wins over the Yanks, while in the National the Giants and Cards are coming in for the most consideration.

Kel Kelley, Varsity trainer, has a unique record of the 1928 football season. Kel has compiled this record from all papers in the state, and every time a state paper carried an article about the Steers, Kel tore out the whole page, and put it aside, and at the end of the season fastened them together in a big volume.

The tumbling team of the Aggie, which entertains the crowds between halves at their games, is quite an attraction. The team is composed of Aggie students, and can do some of the best tricks that a tumbling team can do. A couple of clowns add to the fun and enjoyment of the crowd.

Florida Enters 15 Men; Far West Team Booked

Entries and requests for information in regards to the fifth annual Texas Relays are being received from both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The University of Florida yesterday signified its intention of entering 15 men in the games, marking the entrance of teams east of the Mississippi in the carnival. The Gators will enter both the Texas and S. M. U. relays, and the trip from Gainesville, Florida, will constitute the longest trip made by a Florida track team, and one of the longest in the history of the school. In 1925 the Gator football club invaded Texas for a game with the Steers.

P. A. Pipal, head coach at Occidental College, San Francisco, California, has written for specific information in regards to the events, and adds that the school will probably enter two relay teams. This is the first time that a Pacific coast team has been entered in the Texas relays.

Claude Rothgeb, track coach at Rice Institute, has asked if it will be possible to arrange a special race for J. N. Greer, who was captain of the Rice track squad in 1928. Greer wants a special race for 660 yards. He has run this distance in 1 minute, 21 seconds, which is 3-5 of a second under the world record.

OKLAHOMA FIRST SCHOOL TO ENTER

To the University of Oklahoma goes the honor of being the first school of sending in their entries for the fifth annual Texas Relays. The list of 13 entries was received from the Oklahoma School yesterday and includes the best track men in the Missouri Valley, and one member of the 1928 United States Olympic track team. Tom Churchill, who placed fifth in the decathlon in the Olympic Games at Amsterdam last summer, will be entered in the all-around championship. Churchill was one of the outstanding college athletes in the United States in 1928.

The Sooner team will be entered in four relays, the 440, 880, medley and mile relays. The Sooners always have put out some of the fastest relay teams in the south, and their entrance in these events promises some fast times for the relays.

The men entered by Oklahoma are: Earl Flint, Harold Adkinson, Jack Carmen, Earl Baker, H. Johnson, Russel Carson, Dick Dudley, John Bell, High Roberts, Tom Churchill, Bruce Drake, A. D. Howell and Parker Shelby.

Drake, Howell and Shelby will have to be watched in the pole vault, shot put, discus and high jump. Drake went 13 feet in the Rice Relays last year, while Howell has registered 47 feet in the shot, and 145 feet in the discus. Shelby holds the Missouri Valley high jump title with a leap of 6 feet 3-4 inches.

JOHNSON CHOSEN HOGG PRESIDENT

21 Men Report To Opening Baseball Workout

Special to The Daily Texan.
FORT WORTH, Feb. 18.—Twenty-one uniforms were issued this week to members of the varsity baseball team at Texas Christian University. Coach Leo "Dutch" Meyer has been giving his boys some indoor limbering up with his pitchers and catchers working several hours a day.

With the loss of only a few men from last year, Dutch is expecting to put a team of veterans on the diamond this year. His infield is almost intact and his pitching staff has suffered the loss of only one regular. J. C. "Jake" Williams has dropped out of school, but his loss is lightened with the report that several promising freshman pitchers will be eligible for competition this year.

It is in the outfield that the Frogs will be hard hit for with the graduation of Jimmy Grant, Orin Steadman and Lowell Parrish, Dutch loses his entire list of gardeners. However, with several promising freshmen and some good material recruited from the ranks of the reserves last year, the Purple fly-chasing department is expected to give a good account of itself.

WEDNESDAY ENDS CONTEST ENTRIES

Entrants for the inter-group contest of aerial dart must leave their names with the sponsor of the group they wish to represent by Wednesday noon, February 20, according to Margaret Kirkner, intramural manager. Independents wishing to enter the tournament should see Ruth Junkin some time this Tuesday. Dormitory girls should see Margaret Kirkner, and sorority girls should see either Frances Tarleton or Mary Ruth Holmes.

Names may also be left with Mrs. Lynn in room 45 in the Woman's Gymnasium. Each sorority and dormitory is supposed to have two entrants, one to play and the other to act as substitute.

The tournament will be made Thursday and the schedule of the matches will be posted Saturday morning. Four cups are being awarded; one for each division, dormitories, independents, and sororities, and one large inter-group cup.

The jury system should be abolished" was the main feature of the program. It was upheld affirmatively by Milburn Lathan and Hugo Heimann, and negatively by Chilton Greer and Buford Green. Frederick Peterson made a short declamation, and Dyt Johnson gave the weekly grunt.

"MALARIA MUGGS"

Orange Quint Defeated by Nick Linz, 47-37

The Frosh Orange basketballers lost to the Nick Linz quintet by a score of 47 to 37 in the Intramural Gymnasium Monday night. The Linz team led in the scoring for the first half but slackened up their offense during the third quarter to allow the frosh to get a 31-24 lead on them. They came back in the last quarter and made things hum with fast floor-work and accurate shooting to pile up a decisive score. The frosh were fast on the floor, especially at dribbling, but were only fair at passing, in which department of the game the Nicks proved very adept.

For the frosh, high point honors were equally divided between Howle, Leary, and Taylor with eight field goals and two free throws each. Blacklock with eight field goals and three free throws to his credit, and Darby, lanky center, with six field goals to his credit, were best men on the Linz team.

Wyatt Starter For Fifth Annual Games

Jay Wyatt, sales manager of the colleges and schools department of the A. G. Spalding Athletic Goods Company, will be official starter for the Fifth Annual Texas Relays, according to an announcement made yesterday by "Ox" Higgins, director. Mule Frasier, former Baylor hurdle star, has been acting in that capacity since the relays were first begun five years ago. The selection of Wyatt to act as official starter completes the list of officials, which includes Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, as chief referee, Ted Canty, foremost announcer in the United States to act in that capacity for the Texas games. Canty was head announcer for the relays in 1928, and was assisted by Tiny Gooch, Texas' star athlete.

Krahl to Play With Chicago Racquet Team

W. F. (Bill) Krahl, former student of the University, has won a place on the racquet team of Chicago which played last week in the national doubles racquet tournament in that city, according to a letter received by Dr. W. T. Mather, professor of physics.

Mr. Krahl since leaving the University in 1908, has been active in the Ex-Students' Association and in support of enterprises of the University.

Recently he gave $25,000 to the University Y. M. C. A. endowment fund. He contributed $500 to the Stadium fund, and has supported other University projects.

Mr. Krahl attended the University from 1905 to 1908 as a student in the College of Engineering. While here he played on the football team and took part in other forms of athletics. He married a University co-ed.

Since leaving the University, Mr. Krahl has been in the contracting business in Chicago. "Bill," said Dr. Mather, "is a fine example of what a famous college president called a 'conserved boy.' His wife, too, has conserved her youth and is just as pretty now as she was when he married her."

SCRIMMAGE TO END GRIDIRON SPRING WORK

Saints to Offer Wall To Thrusts of Longhorns

The Steers will bring their four weeks and two days of spring football work to an end this afternoon when they engage the St. Edwards spring gridders in a practice scrimmage on the Memorial Stadium grid at 4 o'clock.

The last two weeks have been devoted to the more essential parts of the game, and the men who will participate in the scrimmage will be in good shape for a rough and tumble affair. A large number of Varsity men, and prospective frosh have been on hand for the workouts each afternoon, and coaches James and Karow are satisfied that the Steer spring gridders will be on their toes for the scrap.

The scrimmage will bring to an end all forms of football, with the exception of a small class under Bill James, until this fall when Coach Littlefield will call his 1929 club together for the first fall practice.

CHORAL CLUB TAKES IN NEW MEMBERS

The University Choral Club has started a rehearsal for a joint program to be held in connection with the Men's Glee Club and the Girls' Glee Club some time this semester. Several new members were added to the club Monday night.

60 Freshmen Report for Baseball Work

Sixty freshmen reported for the initial frosh baseball workout yesterday afternoon under Marty Karow. Half of the potential Varsity stars were fitted out in uniforms, while the others were dressed in uniforms of their own. More uniforms will be issued to the members of the squad within the next few days.

Among the most promising men who reported for the first day's work are: Lewis, a big right-handed pitcher; Ader, an infielder, H. Tyson and Hunt, pitchers.

"We will have a good freshman team this year, and a regular schedule," declared Karow.

Changing Horses

AT the portals of our large cities—New York, Baltimore, Detroit, and soon Cleveland—a semaphore halts a luxurious flyer drawn by a puffing steam engine. A simple switching maneuver, and electricity takes charge. A giant electric locomotive, quickly under way, glides silently into the home stretch with its long string of Pullmans.

Like a thoroughbred it makes the run—tirelessly. Passengers alight in a clean terminal—clean because there is no smoke or soot.

Another milestone in transportation—another event in the life of the iron horse!

Civilization is progressing, with electricity in the van. How far this advance will take us, is a problem for our future leaders. It is for them to develop and utilize new applications of electricity—the force that is pointing the way over uncharted courses, not only in railroad-ing, but in every phase of progress.

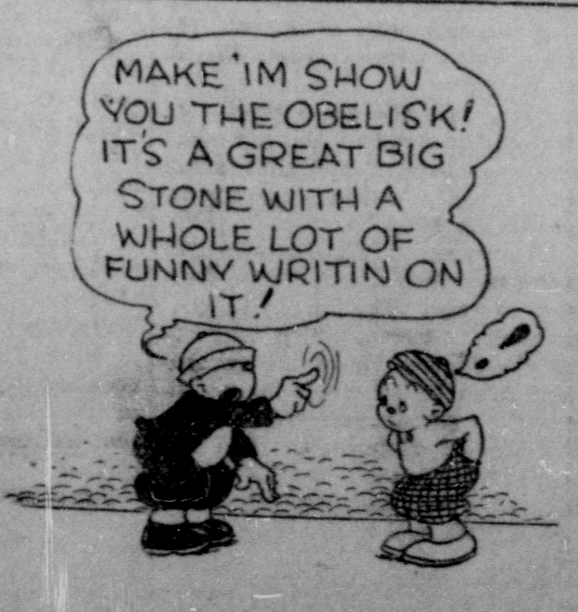

The G-E monogram is found on large electric locomotives and on MAZDA lamps, electric vacuum cleaners, and a multitude of other appliances which serve us all. It is the mark of an organization that is dedicated to the cause of electrical progress.

Miss Ruby Alyene Wooten of Chickasha, Oklahoma, will be married to Richard W. Blalock of Marshall Wednesday night, February 20, at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. B. P. Siddons, at Chickasha. The sister of the bride will act as matron of honor, Miss Miriam Austin as maid of honor, and Misses Kathrine Bond and Betty Brewer as bridesmaids.

Miss Wooten is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Blalock was formerly a student of the University and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is now an attorney at Marshall, where the couple plan to make their home.

FACULTY CLUB HOLDS WASHINGTON'S PARTY

Pioneer games and dances will be features of the annual Washington's birthday party given by the University Faculty Club at the club house, 2304 San Antonio Street, February 23, at 8:15 o'clock.

All guests are required to be in costumes characteristic of the early American and pioneer days. Masks also will be worn.

Mrs. Banks McLaurin or Mrs. D. K. Brace will receive reservations for the party until Thursday, February 21.

CLUB NAMES ETTLINGER AS FACULTY ADVISOR

The Delta Club, local sorority in the University, was organized by a group of Jewish girls in 1927. It was formed for the purpose of setting and attaining higher ideals, and for the promotion of friendship among Jewish girls on the campus. It was further developed to establish a better spirit of Judaism and to promote a higher scholarship among the members of the group.

The club sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. L. Frank, with Miss Lydia Littman and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gellman as co-sponsors. Dr. H. J. Ettlinger has been named as faculty advisor.

HIESTAND AND WHITE MARRY IN OKLAHOMA

Miss Lucille Hiestand, former University student, was married to Dennis White of Beaumont, February 12, at Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. White was a junior in the University during the past semester.

The couple will make their home in Dayton, Texas.

Marian McDowell of the Delta Zeta house spent last week-end in San Antonio.

Lorraine Mehl returned Monday morning from a visit with her parents in Fort Worth.

Pauline Stahl has returned to the University after having spent the week-end in Gonzales.

Minelma Curling of the Delta Zeta house spent last week-end at her home in Bartlett.

WHICH CO-ED WOULD YOU SELECT?

Here are three co-eds of the University of Missouri who have been entered by the sororities of that school as beauty

Eloise Sherer, Kappa Alpha Phi; Virginia Estes, Pi Beta Phi.

GRADUATES OF U. T. WED AT GALVESTON

The marriage of Mary Hope Robinson and John Thomas Suggs, Jr., both graduates of the University, was solemnized in Galveston January 30, at the home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Will R. Johnson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Galveston. The bride was given in marriage by her father, her only attendant being her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Steele.

John Thomas Suggs, Sr., father of the groom, acted as best man. Mrs. Suggs was a member of Phi Mu sorority and Mr. Suggs was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Two student bootleggers caught in Kansas State Agricultural College, at Manhattan, have been punished rather severely for their illicit occupation.
The youths, a junior and a freshman, were apprehended last week peddling "third rail" to those scholars who wished to libate their larynxes. Suspension until August 1.

"If I were as bad as I'm reported to be, I'd be afraid of myself," says Scarface Al Capone, having his little joke.
Mr. Capone, in case you don't know, is retired, and has been for some time. At present he is living the life of a millionaire sportsman on his picturesque estate in Miami, Florida. The man that gangland once knew as "Scarface" is now a genial host whose invitations are much sought after by men and women of wealth who are his neighbors.
His one resentment is that his name is constantly connected with Chicago killings, and especially the recent massacre of seven racketeers.
"I think it is absolutely unfair to tie me up with every gun explosion in Chicago," he complains. As yet Capone has not been questioned in regard to last week's mass murder in "gangster city."

Meanwhile a discouraging lack of progress is shown by Chicago police in their efforts to apprehend the slayers of the unfortunate liquor "mob."
In the six days that have elapsed since the septuple slaying (that hurt!) there has been no arrest of a single suspect.
Another famous man spoke Saturday in Washington.
Senator James A. Reed, Missouri Democrat, roared out another attack on existing prohibition conditions and the Jones bill, increasing penalties for liquor law violations.
In Saturday's speech the fiery Senator charged that the desire to provide heavy penalties for prohibition violators had turned temperance into persecution. He protested against "atrocious penalties."
Yesterday he declared prohibitionists were seeking to "substitute force for reason, penalties for persuasion, and cruelties for charity."
"Where they once sought to rescue the perishing they now send them to jail. They abandon the Bible, the church book, and the temperance tract for the lash, the prison, the gun, and the bludgeon."

BULL BELLOWS

THOUGHT FOR TODAY
I wouldn't write such tripe as these
If inspiration grew on trees.

POLITICS
TODAY is the day of election
When candidates hand out their cards
And euss the names of their enemies
And pat the backs of their pards.
The day of heart-aches and tear-drops
And pains that reside in the liver
Contracted while smoking a rope
Handed out by a candidate-giver.
And counting votes and voting them
And shaking people's hands
And slapping backs and playing tricks
And organizing bands.
In fact there isn't nothing
These politics won't do
To any hardy fellow who
Has nothing else to do.
But if you're sorta sensitive
About this slinging mud
As a politician you're Pretty much a dud.

HIGH POINTS OF SOLON'S MEETING

it not been considered at a special order, as it was far down the calendar. The Rev. J. Frank Norris, was scheduled to speak at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel Monday night at a mass meeting organized in protest to the bill. Similar meetings had been held in Fort Worth and Dallas during the past week. Twice the House had voted not to allow Norris and others to enter the bar of the House to discuss the matter.
The Horse-race bill, number 279, was introduced by Representative J. D. Davis. The provisions were that a Fair Commission should be created that would be given the authority to accept donations, etc. to this board. The donations were construed by opponents of the measure to be merely a camouflage that covered a very heinous law that would legalize gambling in Texas.
A resolution to send the Congress of the United States a memorial calling for the construction and establishment of a $1,200,000 hospital for disabled veterans in Texas was passed by the House Monday.
The House voted the acceptance of the invitation of the University of the solons to make an inspection tour of the University Wednesday afternoon. A resolution to adjourn at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon was introduced and adopted by Grady Woodruff and Homer C. DeWolfe. Transportation to the University will be provided. Some student from each district will escort the legislators about the campus.
Judge Walter Acker of Houston, the only member of the House who is an ex-Confederate soldier, was the author of a bill that provided for woman members of the Confederate ranks who are living at the Confederate Home. Judge Acker stated that the surviving line of grey was becoming thinner each year, and the pensions of these members should be applied to the women members of the Confederacy. The bill passed.
Governor Dan Moody's message to the Legislature concerning pending prison legislation in both houses urgently called for drastic reorganization and centralization of the prison farms. He charged that the disjointed and scattered condition of the various prison farms necessitated much duplication in the administration of affairs, such as the keeping of numerous sets of books. The prison system is veritably scattered all over Texas, he said. The control of the system under the Legislature or the Governor has proven a failure and there should be substituted a board to control the prison, Moody's message read.
Modernization should be the keynote of reform, and experts from the University of Texas, A. & M. and Texas Tech should be consulted on the matter of plans rather than depending on the Legislature for this as it is not equipped to consider these matters, Moody said. Moody offered to call an extra session of the Legislature to consider the problem if an expedient percentage of the members desired him to do so. There are three bills on prison reform before the Senate, and one before the House at the present time. Prison reform seems to be one of the most vital orders of the present session.
Texas' Sunday movie law was revealed by the House Monday by a vote of 74-42. The bill will place control of the Sunday shows in the hands of the cities, making the affair "local option." The cities will be empowered to close any show in one hour.
The Senate spent the day considering a bill that would authorize the issuance of bonds to build highways. They adjourned without finally acting on the measure. The bill originally called for an issuance of more than $300,000,000 worth of bonds but was amended to be $175,000,000. "Lateral roads" came in for a begun in San Antonio and Houston. In 1922, the bureau of Home economics was expanded and renamed the bureau of nutrition and health education. Activities of the division were also expanded at about the same time to include surveys of county schools. Classes in salesmanship and business psychology have recently been organized in Austin, San Antonio, Port Arthur, Amarillo, Beaumont, Houston, Waco and Dallas. Others will be organized in Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Corpus Christi, and El Paso. Over 5,000 students have been enrolled in these classes, according to Dean Shelby, and the work has met with approval among business and professional men.

The bureau of industrial teacher-training has introduced a new feature in its special classes for industrial groups in large manufacturing and producing plants in the state. Representatives from the bureau conduct teacher-training courses in the various trades and professions, establishing centers in the larger firms and industries. Hundreds have been trained in these classes, Dean Shelby said.
The Division of Extension is now composed of the following bureaus: Extension teaching bureau, with Dr. D. A. Penick as chief and Dr. J. O. Marberry as director of class instruction; industrial teacher-training bureau, with Miss Laura Murray as chief; Interscholastic League Bureau, with Roy Bedichek as chief; nutrition and health education bureau, with Miss Jeannie Mary Pinekey as chief; package loan library, with Miss Mary Lula Barrett as acting chief; visual instruction bureau, with Mrs. Charles Joe Moore as chief; and school inquiry bureau, with dean T. THEATERS

"THE AIR CIRCUS." Here's a wow if you're interested in sprouting wings and Sue Carol. David Rollins and Arthur Lake aren't so bad themselves, and Louise Dresser contributes another of her inimitable mother roles. On Movietone. At the Hancock.

"THE WOLF OF WALL STREET." Chiefly George Bancroft and his H. A. laugh; Baclanova in a sorry role, she sings, but who cares; and Nancy Carroll in one good hysterical scene. All-talking. You'll like it. Everybody does. All week. At the Queen.

"THE REDEEMING SIN." Dolores Costello as a little Apache whirlwind comes under the gentling and ennobling influence of Doctor Conrad Nagel, Md., to the accompaniment of sounds and talk which sometimes comes in like the news to Ghent—too late. At the Majestic.

"MARRIAGE BY CONTRACT." Total destruction of all modern ideas you may have on companionate marriage is guaranteed, for look what happened to Patsy Ruth Miller in this one. Grandma knew best, after all, it seems. But see for yourself. At the Crescent.

"SOMEONE TO LOVE." A charming picture with Charles Rogers and Mary Brian looking like Clara Bow, both of 'em. Rather "sweet," with comedy playing an open hand because little Charlie as a music clerk can't seem to win the heiress. At the Texas.

COMING:
PUBLIC CELEBRATION WEEK: The last seven days of February. Special shows. Watch for announcement. Queen and Majestic.

'REDEEMING SIN' AT THE MAJESTIC

I probably cannot tell you anything about "The Redeeming Sin," which is still showing at the Majestic, for you know all about it already.

Remember all those underworld scenes, which you beheld, in which habits make scandalous whoopee and neck right out in front of everybody? Remember all those church scenes with organ music, fat ministers, beautifully smiling saints, etc.?

Remember all those scenes in which the heroine clasps a child to her breast and gazes up to heaven with her soul in her eyes and all those scenes in which lovers stroll into the country and do their "navajoing" beside a rustic brook?

Well, you now have your chance to see them all over again, this time with sound effects and spoken dialogue.

The picture rises above the plane of mediocrity several times. Just for example, the stabbing scene is very effectively done. And when Conrad Nagel's body goes floating off through the Parisian sewers—oh, my goodness! Then there was the time Conrad Nagel discovered Dolores Costello committing sacrilege by taking the church jewels.

Miss Costello supplies the rest of the scenes which stand out in one's memory. She is almost good when the parish priest says the Lord's prayer over her—yes, brother, the Lord's prayer on the Vitaphone! She is best of all, however, when she wilts into the arms of her nefarious lover and commits the sin for which the picture was named. Somehow, she has a way of swooning which cannot be beaten.

The musical score is not particularly noticeable except when it continues during the talking sequences. The rest of the bill is fair enough not to be painful and bad enough for you not to want to see it a second time.—W.B.S.

ROGERS-BRIAN AT THE TEXAS

A charming picture softly colored here and there with humorous twists and sly fun is "Someone to Love," now playing at the Texas theater. Here is Charles

NOW AT HANCOCK

DAVID ROLLINS appears in "The Flying Circus," Movietone feature now at the Hancock. Louise Dresser is the mother.

Rogers' second starring picture and the second in which he is assisted by Mary Brian, of the sweet girliness. This time she surprises everybody by looking like Clara Bow, in one scene where her lover pursues her through the daisies and she falls with her head right in the camera; while Charles Rogers is his own sweet handsome self, walking through a part with the most apparent ease on the screen. "Someone to Love" presents a whimsical heart interest that will please you and a buoyant youth that is little short of entrancing.—C. B.

ALL-TALKIE AT THE QUEEN

Let us again hand the laurel wreath for acting honors in "The Wolf of Wall Street" to Nancy Carroll, the vivacious little Irish Colleen who is heading inevitably to brilliant stardom. Although the characterizations of George Bancroft as the Wolf and Baclanova as his faithless wife have moments which are worth talking about, it is Nancy Carroll who will be most remembered by the spectator. The universally-generalized hokum regarding the furor of the stock exchange and the futility of the efforts of small investors to avoid being crushed by manipulators is generously sprinkled throughout. The tensest moments of the film shift, however, from the stock exchange to the home of the ruthless Wolf. In the Wolf's home are the best scenes in which George Bancroft or Nancy Carroll have ever participated. Someone sitting back of this writer when he first viewed the production stated, "Now, that's what I call a real movie!" And without having to think very long over the matter, we think that the average person will say the same thing. It's a talking picture, of course, and all-talking at that. —A.N.C.

BEAUTIFUL Dolores Costello appears in "The Redeeming Sin" with Conrad Nagel, both talking, now at the Majestic theater. It is a story of the redemption of a Paris gamine through sin and repentance and the love of a noble man; and after all, who, besides Dorothy Dix, can say which is of the most importance? George Stone is in the cast.

WEDDING FILM AT CRESCENT

"Marriage by Contract," a snappy come-back at the companionate marriage ruckus, is making its final protest at the Crescent today. Don't go to see it with the idea that you will come away holding any modern impressions you may have formed in favor of contract marriage. The argument is severe enough to move the most steadfast—in fact, I am afraid it may be a little bit too severe for thorough enjoyment unless one senses the real situation, which is—but Gee, that would be giving it away. There's argument clear down to the last subtitle. Everybody from Grandma to the cook is in favor of the good (?) old-fashioned church marriage—excepting, of course, Patsy; and she has to live and learn. And boy, how she lives and learns! You ought to see the picture just to see Patsy Ruth Miller's characterization, which is at times one more of art than of beauty.

Grandma says this new-fangled companionate idea is just a mess of applesauce; and Nora, the cook, wouldn't work in any house where there were such hanky-panky goings on. But Pat thought she was right until she tried it, and there-by hangs the story. Claire McDowell, who played the mother in Ben Hur, also portrays the mother role in "Marriage by Contract." You may depend on a good performance whenever she is men-

AYER TO READ TWO PAPERS AT MEETING OF EDUCATORS

Dr. Fred C. Ayer, professor of educational administration at the University, will read two papers at the meeting of the National Education Association to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, February 24-28. Before the American Educational Research Association Saturday, February 23, he will read his paper on "Duties of Public School Administrators," and Tuesday, February 26, he will read on "The Teaching Load in State and Other Universities," before the National Society of College Teachers.

There will be about fifty departments of the association holding their separate meetings at the same time, and approximately ten thousand professors or superintendents will represent their respective districts or schools.

STUDENTS EXPLORE INDIAN CAVE SUNDAY

The University Archaeological Society made a trip Sunday to Salado, where they explored the Barton cave in search of ancient Indian remains and signs of Indian civilization. The members also explored several ancient kitchen middens near Salado. Several fragments of prehistoric tools were found in the kitchen middens and in the cave, excellent specimens of stalagmites and stalactites were observed. Other trips are being planned by the society to different places of archaeological interest.

Those making the trip were: Miss Florence M. Stulken, adjunct professor of business administration, Dorothy Underwood, H. L. Scott, Dick Norman, Lon Ogg, S. D. Quay, Russell Cumley, R. L. Breedlove, and Fred Wright.

12-WEEK GEOLOGY CAMP SITE DESIRED

Dr. F. L. Whitney and R. H. Cuyler of the department of geology and Lon Ogg, T. J. Hemphill, and Jake Patton, advanced geology students, explored territory near Boerne, Comfort, Kerrville, Fredericksburg, and Johnson City Saturday, preparatory to the selection of a site for the summer geology camp. Several excellent fossils were found.

The geology camp will be held for 12 weeks, beginning June 7, and two advanced geology courses will be offered during that time. Attendance is limited to advanced students. The location has not yet definitely been decided.

THREE CHOSEN ON COMMITTEE FOR BANQUET

Athenaeum Society
Plans Annual Affair

A committee to make arrangements for the Athenaeum annual banquet was appointed at the regular meeting of the Athenaeum Literary Society, Monday night. The committee is comprised of Scott Hughes, chairman, Arthur Bagby and Leroy Jeffers.

The program was a tribute to George Washington, and after an address by the president, Fowler Roberts, on "The New Term," Hugh Gossett talked on "Has Honesty Among the Younger Generation Declined Since the Day of Washington?"

"Washington as a Speaker," by S. T. Garonzik; "Washington as a Magazine Salesman," by Luther Lynn, and "Our Debt to Washington," by C. T. Nemir, were other talks on the program.

The members of the society will meet at the front steps of the Main Building this Tuesday, at 8 o'clock, to have their pictures made for the Cactus, according to Fowler Roberts, president.

BELL OFFICIAL TO VISIT CAMPUS

J. H. Hubbard, representing the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, will be on the campus this Tuesday to interview seniors who will graduate in June concerning appointments with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company or the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Mr. Hubbard will be in the office of Dean J. A. Fitzgerald, of the School of Business Administration from 9:30 to 12:15 this morning in B. Hall 109. In the afternoon, he will be in the office of Dean T. U. Taylor, of the College of Engineering.

Mr. Hubbard is a 1928 graduate of the University.

C. OF C. AND R. M. A. ADVERTISE UNIVERSITY IN RELAY GAMES

Co-operation of the Austin Chamber of Commerce and of the Austin Retail Merchants' Association in advertising matters is expected to aid considerably the athletic officials of the University in their plans for the fifth annual Texas relay games, scheduled for March 29, according to Glen "Ox" Higgins, relay manager.

The Chamber of Commerce has offered to decorate the business district of Austin with flags and pennants for several days before the meet, while the merchants of the city will arrange to display in their windows trophies of former years and placards advertising the coming games.

M. G. BURNSIDE

This advertisement appeared in the Sunday TEXAN as propaganda for the candidacy of my opponent Roy M. Canon.

I brand it as MISLEADING, and PREPARED in a last minute attempt to discredit my candidacy.

The ONLY list of qualifications which I have ever published was the following one—

1. An ALL-AROUND man—letterman in two sports and holds two degrees, conferred with highest honors.
2. Two years of LAW.
3. President of International Relations Club.
3. Organizer of International Relations Clubs in FOUR southwestern states.

5. Member of Pi Gamma Mu—honorary social science fraternity.
6. Delegate from United States to International Conference of College Students in London.
7. Preparing to fill appointment in U. S. DIPLOMATIC CORPS.
8. He puts the interests of the STUDENT BODY ahead of GROUP AFFILIATIONS.

The only qualifications issued by my opponent have been unsubstantiated attacks directed at me.

I NEVER CLAIMED to be chairman of the Honor Council of Furman University. I NEVER CLAIMED to be president of the Student Council. Despite the allegations of the "letter" above.

I WAS Chairman of a committee to reorganize the Furman University Honor System.

The effectiveness of my work is proved by the same report with which my opponent sought to discredit my candidacy. I still stand on my original platform of:—

IMPARTIALITY — PERSONAL HONESTY —
FAIR ADMINISTRATION—UNBIASED JUDGMENT
On this platform I solicit your vote today.

M. G. Burnside's Qualification No. 5

Which reads as follows:

5. Chairman of Furman University Honor Council, the second to be established in the United States.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER HAS BEEN RECEIVED CONCERNING HIS RECORD
THERE.

CENTAURS
Furman University,
Greenville, S. C.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

As to whether Mr. M. G. Burnside was ever chairman of the Student Council here at Furman I have made inquiry and I have found that in his Senior year which was my Freshman year he was NOT chairman, and, since it is in the constitution of the student government that the chairman or president shall be a senior, I am reasonably certain that he was never chairman or president of the Student Council.

Our Honor System has proved comparatively successful. It seems to be improving each year.

Sincerely yours,

CHAS. W. BURTS,
