Spotlights On the Union

By JOHN H. FLEMISTER

With only a few hours remaining until the present Union drive will be history, workers are being urged on to last-minute efforts in putting the campaign "over the top." The drive will end this Wednesday at 1 o'clock with a luncheon for all workers at the University Commons. All workers and solicitors are asked to be present.

At the last meeting, held Friday, $11,510 in pledges had been reported. This amount had been raised after a week of effort on the part of the solicitors. However, they had been severely handicapped in their work by the inclement weather, and for that reason the campaign was extended until today.

Today's meeting will tell the story of whether the goal of $20,000 has been reached. Entertainment is being planned for the luncheon guests. "Shorty" Tennant will preside over this part of the program.

It is planned to decide definitely whether a freshman and transfer alliance will be given in celebration of the end of the drive. The question of giving the dance has been brought up at former meetings, but definite action was postponed until today's luncheon.

All the workers are urged to see as many prospects as possible before the luncheon. "See that everyone has a chance to take part in this campaign. Those prospects that have refused to pledge heretofore may have reconsidered," leaders have advised their teammates.

Freshmen and transfers who have not had the opportunity to pledge, or have reconsidered after having made a refusal to pledge, have been asked to call one of the following students and give them their pledges: Betsy Franklin, Ralph Hill, Vera Eikel, Joe Fisher, Nellie Berwick, or Carl Stautz. Leaders of the campaign are looking forward with confidence to today's meeting to see the drive successfully completed. The goal is in sight, and both workers and leaders are confident that it will be reached.

Legionnaires Of Austin Parade Armistice Day

Freund Leader

Armistice Day Dance Held At Stephen F. Austin Monday Night

University students and faculty members, by special invitation from Eugene Sanders, chairman of the Armistice Day exercises, joined the Travis Post of the American Legion as their guests in the annual observance of Armistice Day Monday. Warren S. Freund was made commander of the post.

F. E. Dickerson, as marshal, accompanied by the legionnaires, Confederate veterans, and Spanish-American War veterans, led a parade six blocks long down Congress Avenue as the opening feature of the day's program.

Various civic clubs, fraternal organizations, and service organizations, including the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, the Knights of Columbus, the Boy Scouts, and others joined the parade. The company assembled on West Eleventh and Colorado Streets.

The Labor Temple Band played "America," and as the bugle sounded "taps" the marches faced west and were silent in respect for the men who went "west" overseas.

Armistice Day services were held at the First Methodist Church. Dr. George Green delivered the invocation. The services were opened by Mr. Sanders, who introduced W. A. Tarver, state insurance commissioner, who in turn introduced Dr. King Vivion, president of Southwestern University. Dr. Vivion made the Armistice Day speech.

The subject of his message was the Unknown Soldier who, he said, generated the ideal of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man as the sure road to everlasting peace—the ideal for which the Unknown Soldier gave his life on the battlefield in the World War. Dr. Vivion also urged his listeners not to forget the disabled war veterans.

"Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget," were Dr. Vivion's concluding words.

St. David's vested choir, under the direction of Lester Brenizer, sang the hymn beginning with Dr. Vivion's last words. Dr. K. P. Barton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivered the benediction.

At the Legion Home a turkey dinner was prepared for the "buddies" by Louis Margos and his committee. Five entertainers from the Francis carnival entertained with a group of songs. The legionnaires sang several service songs and dedicated them to their new commander, Warren Freund. Past Commander Sanders then installed the new officers.

The program was concluded by the Armistice dance on the roof of the Stephen F. Austin Hotel Monday night. Music was furnished by Fred Gardner and his Troubadours.

Hildebrand Society To Meet Thursday

Because of the holiday Monday, the Hildebrand Law Society did not meet in regular session Monday night, but will meet instead Thursday night, November 14. T. W. Adkins, president, announced Tuesday. The meeting will be held in the practice court room in the basement of the Law Building.

"An attempt will be made to conclude the evidence in the damage case we are now trying," Adkins said, "and the argument of the issues will be made at the next meeting, November 18."

The plaintiffs in the case Thursday night are Goggin, Adkins, Duke, and Neil. The counsel for the defense is composed of Dorbantz, Gilmer, Bryan, and Harris.

BLAKESLEE ILL

William Blakeslee, father of the Rev. William F. Blakeslee of Newman Hall, is not expected to live. He has been ill with heart trouble for two months at his home in Austin.

Fire in Servants' Quarters Causes Early Excitement

"I smell smoke." "Let's call the fire department!" And they did! At 11:30 o'clock Monday night, the fire department, en masse rushed to answer the call sent in by a sorority house.

Instead of finding the house practically consumed by flames, the firemen found waiting for them over a dozen girls—a la negligee—and an excited housemother.

All were sniffing and trying to locate the fire that caused the smell of smoke that was hardly noticeable at times.

The be-slickered firemen with hose and flashlight examined the supposedly burning building and even the neighboring houses, but failed to locate a fire.

Finally, one ingenious man of the hook and ladder brigade came to the conclusion that the smoke was caused by burning feathers or rags, and after many anxious moments the fire was located in a stove in the servants' room at the rear of the sorority house.

One of the chief aims of the conference was the program of establishing new clubs throughout the South. Schools in Texas having Newman Clubs are A. & M. College, College of Mines and Metallurgy, Southwestern State Teachers' College, and the University of Texas.

Delegates attending from the University were Theodore Weiss, chairman of the Province; Menton Murray, president of the University Newman Club; Dan Driscoll, treasurer; Lucy Hermes, historian; Katherine Spiller, Margaret Oberkamp, Ernest Joseph, Daniel Keane, and the Rev. Registrars Close Meet on Campus

The annual convention of the State Association of Registrars, which was held at the University Monday and Tuesday, closed Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The visiting registrars were entertained with a luncheon at the University Commons Monday at 12:30 o'clock by President H. Y. Benedict. A short program, consisting of a talk by President Benedict, a song by Fred Ohl, and two readings by Minnie Blundell, was given at the luncheon.

Tuesday afternoon the members of the Women's Faculty Club entertained with a tea for all women here attending the meeting of the registrars. All delegates to the convention were taken to visit the Elisabet Ney Studio and the French embassy.

About forty-five delegates, consisting of registrars, assistant registrars, deans, and one college president, attended the convention. The meeting place of the convention next year was not announced.

Ex-Students Plan Class Round-up for Spring

Plans were made for the Texas Round-up to be held in the spring under the auspices of the Ex-Students' Association, at a quarterly meeting of the executive council of the Ex-Students' Association Saturday. The new Auditorium-Gymnasium will be formally opened at the Round-up.

The council decided to adopt the Dix plan of class reunion, which will be put into effect at the spring meeting. The plan provides for the meeting of the individual classes rather than the general meeting of all ex-students at one time every five years.

A complete report of the Union campaign and its progress was given and the work was discussed. The remainder of the time was devoted to a discussion of plans for financing the work of the association.

Roy Bedichek of Austin, first vice president, was in charge of the meeting.

Among those present were Mr.

Law Librarian Returns After Visit in East

After three weeks of visiting the law libraries of the north and east to observe the general organization and administration employed, Miss Lucy M. Moore, secretary, librarian, and instructor in the School of Law, returned Saturday to the School of Law of the University, where she teaches classes in legal bibliography.

Since October 17, when Miss Moore left for the East, she has visited in Washington the following: the Law Division of the Library of Congress; the Law Library of the United States Supreme Court in the Capitol Building; and the Library of George Washington University School of Law.

In New Haven, Miss Moore visited the library of the Yale University School of Law and in Cambridge the library of the Harvard University School of Law, which, she related, is the largest law library in the world, containing over 300,000 volumes. While in New Haven, Miss Moore attended the Yale-Harvard football game.

"I enjoyed my visit in Cambridge," Miss Moore declared, "since it was there that I visited in the law classes. Since women are not allowed to enter the classes at Harvard, and very few are ever seen on the campus, I felt that I was doing something of the unusual when I visited the classes there."

In New York, Miss Moore observed the methods of the libraries of Columbia University School of Law and of the Bar Association of the City of New York, which is composed of over 400 legal firms of New York City.

Miss Moore left New York November 2, and returned via New Orleans on the steamship "Dixie."

Several one-night concert trips, possibly every three weeks, are being planned by the club, and a week's tour will be made in the spring.

Former Student Acquires Fame As Pearl Expert

"Making the Grade in Gotham"

is the title of a feature story which appeared in Sunday's feature section of The Dallas Morning News. The article tells of the progress of Paul Flato, former student of the University, in his rise to fame as an oriental pearl expert. The feature was written by Miss Lorene Morrow and is one of a series of articles dealing with Texans who have made good in New York City.

Mr. Flato has acquired international fame through his ability as a pearl expert. Not only is he widely known in New York, but also he is recognized as the leading pearl expert in Paris as well. He is only 29 years of age, and, as Miss Morrow states, "He has the appearance of a freshman."

Beginning as a jeweler's apprentice, he earned enough to start out for himself with a small "hole in the wall" shop.

After several years, he married and spent his honeymoon in Europe where he became American representative of a Lucerne, Switzerland, watch company. His fame grew through his associations gained by this connection.

His hobby was collecting pearls and diamonds. Last winter Mr. Flato sold the finest collection of pearls that were ever put on sale in the United States for the sum of $500,000.

Mr. Flato was a pre-medical student while in the University, and a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. After leaving the University, he attended Columbia University.

He is related to R. G. Flato, a student in the University.

Everett Gives First Lecture

"Professor Everett has distinguished himself in the fields of architecture, painting, and woodcarving. His exhibitions are important events in Austin's artistic circles, and this lecture will be of great interest to all lovers of art," said Dr. Aaron Schaffer, chairman of the public lectures committee.

Fifteen public lectures will be given by various members of the University faculty this year.

Edith Fox Works On M. J. Degree

Edith Fox, instructor in journalism at Brackenridge High School, San Antonio, was on the campus Monday to confer with Professor Paul J. Thompson, chairman of the department of journalism. Miss Fox is planning to take a master of journalism degree next year.

Miss Fox received her bachelor of journalism degree in 1927. While in the University, she worked on The Daily Texan as a reporter and issue editor.

Orange Jackets will attend the T. C. U. game in Uniform.

Burial Services For Alexander At Runge Today

University Student Injured In Motorcycle Crash Dies Tuesday

Freshman Here

Victim of Accident Spent Armistice Day With Parents

Special to The Daily Texan
RUNGE, Nov. 12.—Funeral services for Clarence R. Alexander, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Alexander of this city and a freshman in the University of Texas, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Runge city cemetery.

Alexander was fatally injured Sunday night about midnight when the motorcycle on which he and Maynard Rowan were returning to school after spending Armistice Day with his parents here, skidded and overturned as it left the end of the new pavement on South Congress Avenue in Austin. Rowan escaped with minor injuries.

Alexander's parents were notified of the accident and left immediately for Austin, but arrived too late to see their son before he died.

His death occurred at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning from a fractured skull received when his head struck the pavement. On arriving in Austin, his parents took charge of the body and sent it to Runge from Reed's funeral home in Austin, where it was held pending completion of funeral arrangements Tuesday night.

Young Alexander is a second cousin to Mrs. Jane Y. McCollum, Secretary of State. Besides his parents, the youth is survived by a younger brother, Milton, who resides with his parents here. Local funeral arrangements were made by H. N. Matula.

Group Pictures For Cactus Due

Letters have been sent to all fraternities and sororities announcing the scheduling of fraternity and sorority pictures which must be made between November 15 and December 1 for the 1930 Cactus. Burt Dyke, business manager of the Texas Student Publications, Inc., announced Tuesday.

In keeping with the practice of the larger university yearbooks of the United States, the Cactus will use group pictures in the fraternity section; and following the policy of trying to enlarge upon each section of this year's book, the editors state that the fraternity section of the 1930 Cactus will be more elaborate than that of any previous year.

All class sections of the Cactus will be closed in a few days and the Cactus Studio will take the fraternity and sorority groups, it was stated.

Library to Get Mission History

Arrangement are being completed for the Garcia Library to secure copies of a heretofore little known manuscript of Fry Alonso de Benavides relative to the history and early missions in New Mexico, Carlos E. Castaneda, Latin-American librarian, said Tuesday.

The manuscript was written while Benavides was in Rome in 1627 pleading for help to carry on his work in Mexico.

Father Guilday of the Catholic University of America discovered the document during his recent trip abroad. Photostat copies were made by Father Guilday for St. Edward's University of Austin, through whose courtesy copies will be secured for the Garcia Collection.

SUBSCRIBE $1,900

Approximately $1,900 has been subscribed to the Austin Community Chest fund by campus workers in the community chest drive, according to information given by Dr. R. A. Law, chairman of the campus division.

"The final figures will not be given until all the subscriptions come in," Dr. Law said.

Texas supporters can begin hoping for two things to happen next Saturday. First, they want to take the T. C. U. Horned Frogs into camp, and then a tie between Baylor and S. M. U. would be lovely. There is an even chance that the first half will come about, but a tie between the Bears and the Mustangs is not probable.

This Week

The Dallas clash will hold lots of interest for the pigskin followers of the state, but will have to share honors with the Frog-Longhorn game here. Everyone is waiting to see just how potent the dark horse proteges of Francis Schmidt are, and if Texas is to go through the ninth game of the season without being scored on. If the Frogs win, they will be ruling favorites to win the championship. If they lose, the winner of the Baylor-S. M. U. game will be the favorite. If the Bears and Mustangs tie, and the Longhorns win, the public will be ready to give Clyde Littlefield the championship.

For several days, there has been a banner flying on the T. C. U. campus, bearing the words "On to a Conference Championship." On the front page of the T. C. U. Skiff, campus newspaper, there are "ears" carrying the same motto. The real test for them will come Saturday, when the Frogs, the student body, the faculty, and the school move to Austin for the day. The school has made November 16 a holiday, and special trains will be run by the railway lines.

Shelley Wilson

Since the Texas-Baylor scoreless tie, there has been a press war over the relative merits of Wilson and Shelley. An industrious member of The Texan sports staff spent an hour checking up on the play-by-play reports, and prepared the following statistics:

"Shelley carried the ball 12 times for a total of 36 yards. Four times he was stopped for no gain. Twice he was thrown for losses, once for three yards, and the other times for one yard. Shelley passed four times, completed one to Rose for 12 yards, had two intercepted, and had one knocked down. He took one pass for a gain of 5 yards. He punted 10 times for an average of 32.1 yards.

"Wilson carried the ball 14 times for a total gain of 27 yards. He was stopped for no gain five times, and was thrown for a loss on two occasions. He was chased back by Rose 10 yards on a punt. Wilson passed three times, one was intercepted by Rees, who ran it back 35 yards, and the other two were knocked down. He punted 14 times for an average of 44 yards."

Hip Injury To Baumgarten Causes Loss

Hopes for a Longhorn victory over T. C. U. next Saturday are ready to move up a notch if spirit means anything, for all the fire and "snap" that preceded the Texas-S. M. U. game was evident in the Longhorn camp Tuesday as the proteges of Littlefield went through their second workout of the week. A muddy Memorial Stadium Field that still showed the effects of Saturday's mud contest combined with a cold rain and norther to send the Steers to New Clark Field, where they romped around on Uncle Billy Diech's outfield.

The Steers seem to have completely recovered from the mid-season slump that characterized their workouts last week, and have apparently settled down with a determination to win their last two games. A desire to keep their goal line uncrossed, coupled with the necessity of winning every other game if they are to retain a shot at the conference title is surprising the Steers on this week.

The Bear game took its toll, and for the first time a regular will be out of the line-up Saturday. Dutch Baumgarten, only sophomore to gain a berth, was taken from the game in the first period with a pulled hip muscle, and will be kept out until the Thanksgiving tilt at College Station. The injury is not serious, although it is very painful. His place will probably be filled by Nemir and Gattora, although Emerson, Hargroves, and Mills alternated there during practice Tuesday.

A few new plays have been pulled from the pet bag of Littlefield for the Frog game, and he has been drilling his men on them during practice. Towards the last of the week, or probably today, he will let the big boys work them on the Frogs, and see how many yards they are good for. Tuesday the Blue freshmen were brought over, and told to work a few Frog plays while the varsity men looked them over in dummy scrimmage.

The T. C. U. team is in good condition after the muddy go with Rice last week-end, and Schmidt will bring a primed eleven down. Austin Griffith, fullback who has been out since the Daniel Baker game, is back in condition and will be ready to alternate with Green at his old post.

The Frogs looked as good in the mud Saturday as they have at any other time this year, and the theory that they are a passing team is regarded as exploded. They made their biggest gains on steady smashes through center, guard, and tackles.

Mary Eleanor Rike of Baylor University was a guest of Ida Vernon at Scottish Rite Dormitory.

Schmidt Looks Toward Conference Cage Race

Special to The Daily Texan
FORT WORTH, Nov. 12.—Preparations for the approaching Southwest Conference basketball season were begun in earnest this week with the erection of four more goals in the Horned Frog gymnasium and the second call for varsity candidates who are not yet working out with the football squad.

Despite the fact that Coach Francis Schmidt's Fighting Frogs are facing important conference tilts, the Purple mentor is spending a portion of his time with the dozen or so cage candidates that have been working out three nights a week for the past month. The workouts are in charge of ex-Captain Horace Wallin, guard, and Al Flynn, star forward of last year. Wallin and Flynn will be in active charge until regular practice begins after the close of the football season. Only three or four of the football squad are taking part in the night sessions. These include Noble Atkins, Harlos Green, both guards; and Clyde Robertson, forward.

Six letter men will be available when Schmidt begins regular practice. They are Captain Roy Eury, center and one of the conference's outstanding scorers last year; Noble Atkins, Lester Brum-below, and Horace Wallin, guards; Al Flynn and Ellsworth Chappell, forwards.

Aubrey Elkins, center; Harlos Green, guard; and Ray McCullough, Hal Wright, Vance Woolwine, forwards, are outstanding last year's freshman cagemen who will be on hand. Clyde Roberson, crack forward who became inel-

THE NEW STUDENTS' CHANCE TO BE LISTED AS LEADERS OF "TEXAS."
Be on the Union honor roll.

THEY MAY LOOK ALIKE— But do they act alike?

Out on the field, two football players look much alike in their mud-colored uniforms—it's when they snap into action you get the difference. One falters, stumbles, to go down before the interference. The other gets into action with a sure spring, and goes down the field like a flash, bringing the crowd roaring to its feet.

To most people, all gasolines look very much alike. It's only when you call on your motor for its best performance you note a difference between gasolines.

With Humble Flashlike Gasoline in your tank, you get away from the stop light in a flash. No need to bother with starting in "low"—powerful Humble Flashlike Gasoline shoots you ahead in "second"—a quick shift to "high" gives you added speed—then—you slip into the coveted position—out ahead—with the open road before you!

Give your motor a fair chance. Put Humble Flashlike Gasoline in your fuel tank and notice the difference in your car's performance. May be bought wherever you see the Humble signs.

Win From Temple Juniors, 14-0, In Clash Monday

Fresh from a 14-0 victory over the Temple Junior College eleven gained in an Armistice Day clash at Temple, the Texas freshmen settled down Tuesday to a week's work in preparation for the Yearling Round Robin tournament which will begin next Friday with a game between the Reds and the Ineligibles. The Blues do not go into action until Thursday, November 21, and will be used this week as cannon fodder for the varsity.

The Frosh coaches took a squad picked from the ranks of the Reds and Blues to Temple Monday, and thoroughly whipped the Temple team, although the score was comparatively small. The first year men scored both touchdowns in the second quarter, and muffed several chances to score by listless playing during the second half. Hughs, gritty little halfback, again stood out with his vicious tackling, while the line work of the frosh was pretty to look at.

The Round Robin tournament has been devised to determine the best team developed from the three squads, and at the same time give all men competition that will enable them to show their wares to the best advantage. These encounters will be the only games for the Ineligibles, and will be the last Austin appearance for the regular freshmen, for their last game is with Allen Academy at Bryan, on the day before Thanksgiving.

In the game with the Houston Junior College team here last week, the Blue team seemed to be superior to the Reds, and led, by Captain Koy, gained more ground than their fellow squad members. The Blue line was working as a unit, and as a whole turned in the best work of the afternoon, although there were individuals among the Reds that stood out. Jimmie Burr, captain of the Reds, is probably the most finished back on the freshman roster, and passes and punts with a nicety that is hard to beat.

The complete schedule for the tournament calls for the Reds to play the Ineligibles Friday, November 15, and for the Blues to play the Ineligibles Thursday, November 21. The Reds and the Blues do not meet until December 3, in the last game of the season. The winner will be determined on the percentage basis, with tied games counting half a game won and half a game lost. All games will be played on Memorial Stadium Field if the field is dry, but in case of a muddy field, the games will be played on Freshman Field.

Take These Precautions Against "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

Maybe you never heard of "Athlete's Foot" but quite likely you've got it!

You don't have to be a letter man to acquire ringworm parasite—you don't have to be a man at all—co-eds are just as susceptible to it!

It lurks on locker room and gym floors—it lies in ambush on the edges of swimming pools and showers and attacks spaces between the toes.

Sometimes it cracks the skin—sometimes it appears in the form of tiny itching blisters—sometimes the skin becomes unpleasantly moist and soggy—sometimes it peels in little dry flakes—watch for these warnings!

50% of the Students in Some Colleges Have "Athlete's Foot"

But you needn't catch it if you'll bathe the feet with Absorbine Jr. It kills this parasite wherever it can reach it and helps prevent its spread.

Keep an extra bottle in your locker and douse it on generously after every exposure.

And, of course, you know that for years thousands have found Absorbine Jr. unequalled for sore muscles, aches and sprains, bruises, burns, cuts and abrasions. At all druggists—$1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

The Union Goes Over!
AGAIN the student body has responded most nobly to a call from dear old Texas; the second supplementary student Union campaign enters upon its last day with every promise of a glowing success. Those in charge of the campaign are to be congratulated while the rank and file of new students on the campus merit the hearty applause of the entire campus.
Today marks the last day of this drive for additional funds with which to complete and furnish the Union Building proper, and those who have been slow to contribute thus far cannot afford to let this last opportunity pass without their notice. Those who have given of their time and talent to make this drive a success are on the job today for the sole purpose of making that last goal-line drive.
They have wrought well, not without the backing and cooperation of those who have responded when called upon by some member of this organization.
That bunch is going to be out today gunning for some large game that has not as yet been captured; that bloomin' thermometer is just ready to blow up in red flames.
All together, gang, to make this a finish amid the blare of trumpets, the like of which has not been seen for many moons.—Let's go!
Headline from the San Antonio Express reads: "Woman Clerk Leaps or Falls 15 Stories." What difference does it make? The result is the same.
The market has crashed and recovered again. Somebody's been doing a bunch of high class sawing.
The word "cafeteria" is of Spanish origin. We'd have sworn it came from Greece.

Another Tragedy
TRAGEDY has again visited our campus to smite another life of promise, and removed from our midst the friend of those whose pleasure it was to have known him. In spite of the grind of scholastic discipline and the heyday of college life, we yield to the tragedy of death and pause long enough to permit our heart-beats to throb in unison with those whose hearts are torn asunder. All men become equal at the grave; unconsciously men approach death with less feeling of superiority than do they approach any other state of human affairs.
Those who knew Clarence Alexander for the brief two months he was with us learned to love him and admire his personality and his perseverance. Some of us knew him back in his little home town and had seen him as an outstanding high school student. We knew him as the idol of an ever-thoughtful father and the companion of an anxious mother and brother. We felt the joy and pride that swelled in the hearts of those loved ones as he left that family fire-side to enter upon what they hoped was to be a successful career—full of promise for themselves and their boy. Vividly they visualized the fruition of their aspirations as they sat around the family fireside on Armistice Day Monday, and then came the sad announcement that Death had suddenly intervened, and a cruel fate had decreed otherwise.

To those who mourn the blight of so promising a life we can only extend the understanding and sympathetic hand, and remind them that through the veil of tears that dims their vision just now they can see their boy as all that a son could be for the short time that he was with them.

In its second report to the Senate, the Senate lobbying committee condemned William Burgess, former member of the tariff commission, for his activities during the consideration of the pending tariff legislation. Chairman Caraway told the Senate that Mr. Burgess was "a paid lobbyist, who had no regard whatever for his reputation, no hesitancy in committing perjury, and was perfectly willing to slander members of the Senate."
Dr. Carlos Washington Lencinas, political boss in Argentina, was assassinated and 21 persons were wounded Sunday night at a political meeting at Mendoza. It is believed there were many unreported casualties.
The intervention of the police in London Monday morning prevented the mobbing of a truck driver who had left the engine of his machine running after the Armistice Day two-minute silence had been announced. The mob consisted chiefly of women.
Two motorboats operated by Federal prohibition enforcement agents were bombed and sunk in Wolf River harbor early Monday morning. Dynamite was thrown from a passing boat which escaped under cover of the fog. Government agents say that is a "renewal of warfare against prohibition law enforcement."
President Hoover, in an Armistice Day address, declared: "I am for adequate preparedness as a guaranty that no foreign soldier shall ever step on the soil of our country. We will reduce our naval strength in proportion to any other. Having said that, it only remains for the others to say how low they will go. It cannot be too low for us."
On the ground that the English talkie invasion into Mexico is a step in the "North Americanization of Latin America," the unions of actors have issued a joint appeal to the Mexican government to prohibit the display of talkies in English in Mexico.

These things remember, if you can
For they will make you more a man:
Make haste with care when'er you chance
To meet a maid with welcome glance.

Presbyterians To Consolidate Three Colleges

Austin, Baker, Women's School Will Be United

Three Presbyterian colleges, Daniel Baker at Brownwood, Austin College at Sherman, and the Texas Presbyterian College for Women at Milford, are to be consolidated into one large college, the Rev. L. H. Wharton of the University Presbyterian Church, said Tuesday.

One of the schools, the Texas Presbyterian College for Women, has been closed. The enrollment last year was a little more than 100 students, and it was not believed worth while to keep the institution running on such a small scale.

The decision to consolidate the three schools was made at a meeting of the Texas Synod in Austin last January. At the same time, an educational commission was appointed to choose a site for the new college.

The commission will meet in Austin Thursday, November 14, with full power to name the new site for the college.

The new college probably will be located at the site of one of the colleges in operation, although several cities have sent in bids to the commission expressing a desire to have the college placed in their communities.

The educational commission is made up of fourteen members. W. A. Vinson of Houston is chairman.

Psychology Talked By Housemothers

Respect for property rights of others will be the general theme of the program at the meeting of the housemothers for women in the girls' study hall this Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, said Miss Ruby Terrill, dean of women.

Miss Annie Giles will give a talk on "Respect for Others' Property."

Dr. Helen Koch, professor of educational psychology, will speak on "Kleptomania." A special invitation has been extended dormitory directors, chaperons of sororities and housemothers for men.

"The recent interpretation or adjustment of the rule for students, which requires students to give the housemother ten days' notice before moving out, will be discussed. The special phase of this rule applies especially to fraternity and sorority pledges at the beginning of the next term," Miss Terrill said.

'Architexas' Shows Freak Art Work

"Architexas," junior bulletin board posted in the junior drawing room on the second floor of B. Hall, has as its feature for the new issue a story clipped from a Sunday paper. The story makes a comparison of the art work of Parisian insane patients with the work of "freak" artists who advocate new movements in art known as "neo barbarism," "subism," and "ultra realism."

Quoted verses, an editorial, and an original cartoon complete the contents of the board.

Rabbi J. Weinstein, director of the Hillel Foundation in the University, is spending a few days in Galveston and Houston. He will return Thursday morning.

Sylvia Hankins of Baylor University was the week-end guest of Helen Bailey at Scottish Rite Dormitory.

No class has yet failed the University. '33 must not break that record.

Study Course Held At Baptist Church

A study course for all those interested in Sunday School work is being given at the University Baptist Church this week. Classes will continue to meet every night at 6:15 o'clock through Friday. There are two class periods of 50 minutes each, and a light supper will be served each night between the classes by the Woman's Missionary Society.

The books studied are part of the Sunday School convention normal course. Completion of the "Normal Manual" is rewarded by presentation of the King's Teacher Diploma which is issued by the Baptist Sunday School board at Nashville. Completion of the other books give seals for the diploma.

Miss Ruby Terrill, dean of women, will be the instructor for the book, "The Teacher That Teaches"; the Rev. H. C. Morrison, pastor of the East Avenue Baptist Church, for "Secretary and Six-Point System"; the Rev. A. L. Aulick for "Pupil Life"; and Mrs. A. L. Aulick for the "Sunday School Normal Manual."

Persons interested may enter the classes as late as Wednesday night and get credit for the course, it was announced.

Goldsmith Heads Architect Branch

Goldwin Goldsmith, chairman of the department of architecture, was elected president of the Austin branch of the West Texas chapter of the American Institute of Architects when the branch was organized Saturday, November 9, by Austin members of the chapter. Hugo Kuehne and A. W. Harris, Austin architects, were elected vice president and secretary, respectively.

Other members present at the meeting were R. L. White, supervising architect of the University, and Professors S. E. Gideon and W. T. Rolfe of the department of architecture.

The Austin branch was organized to enable the local architects to take a wider and more concerted interest in civic and architectural affairs, Professor Goldsmith stated.

Helen Louise Davis of the Scottish Rite Dormitory spent the week-end with her parents in Houston.

Cynthia Connally visited at her home in McGregor over the week-end.

Discipline Group Suspends Five

Plagiarism is one of the charges that the discipline committee has had under consideration this year. A student in one of the English courses copied large sections of material out of a well-known magazine for a theme. The student was suspended for one semester as a penalty.

One of the five discipline cases that have come before the committee was concerned with cheating on a mid-term examination. The student was found not guilty as he proved his innocence conclusively. Three other cases concerned violations of other University regulations. Two students were suspended for one year each.

Two of the cases that the committee settled had to do with violations of the old honor system. Two students have been dropped from the University for failure to make "hot checks" good.

Alpha Alpha Gamma Promotes Exhibit

Alpha Alpha Gamma, honorary architectural fraternity for women, recently has placed on display in the architecture library a group of etchings by George ("Pop") Hart, president of the Brooklyn Society of Etchers. Mr. Hart has traveled extensively and his pictures portray the life of the various countries he has visited. The same group of etchings, a number of which are priced as high as $75, are being displayed this week at the Elisabet Ney Studio.

Later in the week, the chapter will exhibit a large number of Japanese prints and will take orders for them from people who are interested.

Membership in the fraternity means more than mere recognition for their good scholarship in their chosen work, Dorothy Hill of Austin, president of the local chapter, said Saturday.

Harriet and Elizabeth Harper spent the week-end in their home in McGregor.

The extra goals were placed in the gym for the benefit of the number of intramural teams that will begin playing soon. They will also be used by the varsity, Schmidt explained, so that everybody will be doing something all the time. The goals were placed cross-wise of the regular floor, allowing six goals to be used at the same time.

New Students

Say There Is No Doubt About

The Need for a Union!

More than 180 workers in the New Student Union drive believe in their cause enough to continue the campaign through four additional days. They know the need for a Union building. They are determined to "bust the darn thing" by making the red line of the Unionmeter cross the $20,000 mark.

If you haven't had your part during the past week, your fellow New Students are asking you to have that part now. Will you stand by and let the other fellow do the job? Or will you join the game for Texas by making your pledge as large as possible?

When you decide the amount of your pledge, remember this: Other students have given $130,000 within the past two years. They have this without much hopes of enjoying the use of the buildings. You New Students will USE the Union, yet you are asked to give only $20,000. Many students working their way through school have given $50. Remember, also, you have three years in which to pay your pledge.

There is no doubt about the need for the building. The question is: Will you have your part in building this concrete expression of the Texas Spirit? Can you afford to "let George do it," then let George have the satisfaction of knowing he played the game for Texas while you sat by?

The Union Must Be Built! What Ought to Be Done Can and Will Be Done!

Pledges are payable within three years. A few cents saved each day will make a substantial subscription within three years.
