Local Committee Selects Five For Rhodes Awards

Connally, Worsham, Elkins, Davis, Quereau Chosen

Try with Others

Students to Compete With Representatives From District Six

Five candidates for Rhodes scholarship honors were chosen by The University of Texas committee on Rhodes Scholarships at a meeting Monday, Dr. D. A. Penick, chairman of the committee, announced. The students chosen are Ben Connally, Ben Davis, Wilson Elkins, Edmund Quereau, and Irion Worsham.

The names of these students will be sent to the State committee along with other candidates from all over Texas. The State committee will select two candidates to represent Texas in district six which includes Oklahoma, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas. Four will be chosen from this group to receive the Rhodes scholarship.

Appointment for Two Years

An appointment is made for two years but a scholar may remain for a third year upon the acceptance by his college and the Rhodes trustees of a definite plan of study. No restrictions are placed upon the student's choice of study, Dr. Penick said.

The students named should come by Dr. Penick's office immediately to see about sending their recommendations to the State committee. These recommendations must be in by October 22. Election of State representatives will be held December 10 and the meetings of the district committees will take place some time later.

Must Be a Junior

A candidate to be eligible must be a male citizen of the United States and unmarried. He must have completed his sophomore year at the University and must be between the ages of 19 and 25. A candidate does not necessarily have to be a resident of the state in which application is made but applications must be made in the state where the college is located in which the applicant has received his education, Dr. Penick added.

Selection is based on literary and scholastic ability and attainments and interest in outdoor sports. Qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship and an exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and take an interest in schoolmates are also considered in the selection, Dr. Penick said.

Some Out of School

Dr. Penick pointed out that it was not necessary for a candidate to be in school in order to be eligible to receive the scholarship as long as he fulfilled all the requirements.

Members of the local committee are Dr. Penick, chairman, E. J. Mathews, registrar, and F. B. Marsh, professor of ancient history. The secretary of the committee of selection in Texas is Professor Troutham of Baylor University.

"Although there are several other students deserving of mention in the University, the committee is unable to name more than five," Dr. Penick concluded.

Freshmen Lose News Spotlight

Well, freshmen aren't the only ones!
It took an upperclassman until last Saturday to discover that she had two classes meeting at the same time. She had been meeting one on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and the other on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. It developed that one of them met six days a week, and she had just been cutting class every other day for three weeks!

Tau Sigma Delta Sponsors First Sketch Contest

Prizes Offered for Best Work; All Architects Eligible

Mu chapter of Tau Sigma Delta, honorary architectural fraternity, will hold its first annual sketch competition this year. The contest opens this month and continues until May 1, 1933. "This competition is being sponsored to develop student talent and professional interest," Howard Barr, secretary of the chapter, said.

Faculty to Judge

A minimum of two sketches a month will be due on the first of each month. The October sketches will be due November 1. Sketches may be copies or original compositions, but originality will be encouraged. The sketches may be done in pen, pencil, water color, or any other desirable medium. The compositions will be judged by the faculty of the department of architecture. The chief considerations in the judging will be originality, composition, and subject matter, Barr explained.

Suitable prizes will be chosen and presented at the Architects' Wind-Up Ball in May. Prizes will be given to the two individuals presenting the best group of sketches, and honorable mention will be given to the class presenting the best group of sketches. All sketches of high quality will be retained as property of the department of architecture.

No member of Tau Sigma Delta will be eligible for the main prize, but there will be a consolation prize for the member presenting the best group of sketches. No sketches submitted for class credit will be accepted, Barr explained.

Former Student Dies of Poison

Gloria Wheat Takes Life In Mexia

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon for Miss Gloria Wheat, 23, a student in the University last year, who died from poison at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Hopson, near Mexia Sunday.

Miss Wheat was employed as stenographer in the state service department of Austin which is in charge of veterans' relief. She and her sister, Elba Wheat, also a State employee, accompanied by her niece, Georgia Leila Hopson were visiting in Mexia the past week-end.

She was found dying Sunday morning. A carbolic acid bottle was near her. No note was left. A verdict of suicide was returned by the coroner.

Athenaeum Receives Member, Applicants

John Boyd was accepted as a member of the Athenaeum Literary Society at its meeting Monday and six students announced themselves as candidates for membership. The candidates were Jack Leaverton, Fred Ward, R. Newton Waite, Leonard Frank, Gilman Stubblefield, Ross Doughty, and John Boyd.

The program for the meeting was begun by Frank Knapp, who gave a recitation, "The Face on the Barroom Floor." Jesse Villarreal presented "The Death of Socrates," and Martin Casey gave a talk entitled "Patriotism: A Sentiment for Fools." Robert Tharp, who was to have spoken on "In Defense of My Intelligence" will present the defense at the next meeting.

Senior Engineers Begin Inspection Tour Wednesday

Industrial Plant Operation Shows Application Of Class Work

32 Students Go

Shortest Course in Catalog Required for Degree In Engineering

Senior engineering students of the combined electrical and mechanical engineering departments will leave on their annual inspection trip to South Texas Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock. Itinerary of the trip follows: Wednesday, the Texas Gulf Sulphur plant at New Gulf, after inspection of which the students will be guests of the plant at luncheon, and the Imperial Sugar Company at Sugarland; Thursday, in Houston, the Lone Star Cement Company, Reid Roller Bit Company, Mid-West Piping Company, Wyatt Metal and Boiler Works, and the Sacket Carbonic Company.

Party Splits

Friday, the group will break up, the electrical engineers remaining in Houston for inspection of the underground distributing system, and the control stations, of the Houston Light and Power Company; the Houston Telephone Company, and the Otis Elevator Company. The mechanical engineering group will go to Port Arthur and Port Neches to the Texaco refining plants, where they will go through the refinery, the case and package plant, and the asphalt and roofing plant. They will be guests of the Texas Company for luncheon.

Friday night the whole group will meet at the Rice Hotel. Saturday morning, they will inspect the deep water plant on the Houston ship channel of the Houston Light and Power Company. The engineers will go en masse to the Rice-Texas game Saturday afternoon. They will return to Austin, by the buses which have been chartered for the entire trip, some time Saturday night.

Students Pay Own Way

The object of this trip, according to a statement made by Byron Short, adjunct professor of mechanical engineering, is to let the students see things being done in the various industries so that (Continued on Page Three)

Hill Makes Plans For Cheap School

College for Poor Students Opens in Virginia

Further proof was offered that education is keeping in tune with the times when announcement of the faculty of the "depression college" at Port Royal, Va., was made today by Dr. Arthur C. C. Hill, Jr., organizing secretary of the Port Royal College and originator of the idea from which the institution is developing. Plans are being made for its opening on November 1.

The "depression college" is designed to bring together experienced teachers who are without positions because of the depression, and students who, because of financial stringency, are unable to continue their courses in existing institutions. The faculty, which comprises fourteen professors, of whom ten have studied abroad, will serve without pay. The undergraduate fees are $250, which covers all living expenses as well as tuition.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the old town hall will be placed at the disposal of the college for public lectures and the more important social gatherings. A library of 5,000 selected volumes, contributed by other educational institutions and interested individuals will shortly be established in the bank building at Port Royal.

Texas Schools Use Dobie's New Reader

"On the Open Range," by J. Frank Dobie, associate professor of English in the University, has been adopted by the State Board of Education, as a supplementary seventh grade reader to be used in the Texas schools. W. P. Webb, associate professor of history, and Professor W. E. Boyd, formerly of the University faculty, are the authors of a new beginners' history which has been adopted to supplement the old text.

FORMER TEXAN EDITOR GIVES VIEWS ON CAMPUS IN VISIT

Ty Cobb, former editor of The Daily Texan, returned to the campus yesterday for the first time since leaving six years ago. Mr. Cobb, upon leaving the University promised friends that he would not show his face around the "Forty Acres" until he had made good. Ty Cobb was the first student ever to defeat the managing editor of the Texan for the editor-in-chief position. It is perfectly clear how this might happen, for the little fellow seems to bubble over with enthusiasm and personality.

Took Two Degrees

Mr. Cobb was on the campus of the University off and on between the years 1918 and 1926. It was in the latter year that he received both a bachelor of arts and bachelor of journalism degree.

While stopping at old B. Hall, Ty Cobb made the following remarks concerning personalities and general conditions about the country:

"In my humble judgment Bill McGill knows more ex-students than any one else. When a student, perhaps the most popular boy that The University of Texas ever had.

"Professor Paul J. Thompson was just an instructor in journalism during my days in the University. Governor Mayes was at the head of the department, which was a separate school in my days. Mr. Thompson is now regarded as one of the outstanding deans of journalism in the entire country.

Disch Most Popular

"The University never had a better president than H. Y. Benedict. He probably would have been president many years ago had he not told so many jokes. Now we all know an executive needs a good sense of humor. "Uncle Billy Disch is the most popular man in the University ever had.

"Clyde Littlefield has certainly snapped out of it. He now coaches with reckless abandon and that, of course, is what makes him good. "The students of the University should certainly support the centennial movement, which is headed by the former head of the department of journalism, Governor Mayes. If people do not vote for this on November 8, they are unworthy to be beneficiaries of (Continued on Page Three)

Auxiliary Will Hear Centennial Address

Dr. Frederick Eby, professor of the history and philosophy of education, will address the American Legion Auxiliary at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday, October 19.

The auxiliary, which is composed of the wives, mothers, and daughters of the men who fought in the World War, will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. J. S. Brownlee, 2502 Nueces Street.

In addition to Dr. Eby's speech which will be on the proposed Texas Centennial celebration, several musical numbers will be given by Mrs. S. N. Ekdahl. Tea will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Students to Cast Straw Votes For National Leaders

Schools Over Country Take Similar Poll On Presidency

On the lower portion of the ballot each voter that casts his vote today will find a straw ballot to determine how the presidential campaign would result if The University of Texas were the determining factor in the coming November election.

The majority of the students on the campus believe that they could safely predict the outcome on such poll at this University, but the purpose of this vote is to cooperate with other schools throughout the United States that are holding a similar election on their campus.

The results of this straw vote on The University of Texas campus will not be announced until (Continued on Page Three)

Klein Will Lead Freshman Group

Club Will Elect Officers At Meeting Today

Dr. D. B. Klein, associate professor of psychology, will lead the Freshman Fellowship Club in an informal discussion centering around the subject "How Can a Student Develop Efficient Study Habits?" at the first meeting today at 7:15 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., M. D. Woodbury, associate secretary of the Y. M. C. A., said Monday.

Raymond Todd, chairman of work with new students on the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, has extended a personal invitation to every freshman in the University to take advantage of this opportunity to improve his study habits by hearing Dr. Klein discuss this topic. The program of the Freshman Fellowship Club is open to all freshmen. Special features will be a violin solo by Bill Sinkin and a devotional service led by Beverly Sheffield. Officers for the club will be elected at the conclusion of the meeting.

105 JOIN GLEE CLUB

"Total membership in the Men's Glee Club is now 105," Gilbert E. Schramm, director, said Monday. Copies of the selections to be used in the tryouts for determining the members of the quartets have been given to the candidates, and these tryouts will be held in Z Hall about November 1, Mr. Schramm announced. No definite plans for concerts have been considered yet.

the boxes in the various buildings were announced yesterday by John Junior Bell, election judge. They are as follows: In the College of Arts and Sciences, Mat Schon and D. B. Hardeman; in the Graduate School, Calhoun McCutcheon; no one had been named yesterday afternoon for the box in the College of Pharmacy; in the College of Engineering, Hall, Armstrong, and Andrew Brown; in the School of Law, Ruel Walker and Charles Strieber; in the School of Business Administration, Howard Lee; in the School of Education, Bower Crider, and for the department of journalism, Jackson Cox.

Below are listed the voting instructions.

1. All students read carefully the instructions printed at the top of the ballot.
2. Voting is to be done by numbering the candidates in the order of the voter's choice.
3. No ballot is to be scratched.
4. All students shall vote for both men and women candidates in their particular school.
5. All students of the University shall vote for candidates for the Judiciary Council.
6. There shall be no soliciting of votes in the buildings in which the balloting is taking place.

All candidates must file their expense accounts before 12 o'clock today with Zula Williams, secretary of the Students' Association, in Main Building 212. Failure to file this expense account, even though the candidate has not spent one cent on campaigning will disqualify that candidate, even though such candidate should win first in the election.

Where to Vote

Election boxes will be located in the following buildings: The College of Arts and Sciences, Main Building and Garrison Hall; department of Journalism, B. Hall; College of Pharmacy, Chemistry Building; School of Law, Law Building; School of Business Administration, Waggoner Hall; School of Education, Sutton Hall; College of Engineering, Engineering Building; and Graduate School, Garrison Hall.

Article 28 of the constitution provides that "no electioneering of any kind shall take place on election day within a building or on the steps thereof wherein is located a ballot box." Article 29 says: "Anyone guilty of fraudulent conduct in connection with a student election, i. e., voting twice, turning in a false expense account, using undue influence, or any other fraudulent conduct shall be deemed to have violated the honor system and shall be punished as the council sees fit."

CONVENTION DATE SET

J. W. McDaniel, president of the Baptist Student Union council of the University Baptist Church, announced that the State Baptist Student Union convention will be held at Brownwood October 28, 29, and 30. McDaniel stated that all Baptist students are invited to go, and those desiring to go are urged to see J. W. Mason, educational director of the church.

Group to Consider Dances Wednesday

The committee on All-University Dances will meet at 2:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the office of the Dean of Women to discuss affairs of the All-University Dances. Members of the committee are as follows: Calhoun McCutcheon, Spurgeon Bell, Helen Romberg, Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men, Miss Lula Mary Bewley, assistant dean of women, and Charles Zivley, dance manager.

The usual Saturday night German will be held October 22 at Gregory Gymnasium, Miss Bewley said Monday. No other events are on the social calendar for the week-end, she said.

SCRIBBLERS TO MEET

Plans for the year will be made at a meeting of the Scribblers' Club today at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. room of the Main Building. Helen Goldbaum, president, said Monday. All old and new members are urged to be present.

Stop and Vote

Have you voted today? Every student in the University should have enough interest in student affairs to get out and campaign for those students that are capable and industrious workers, and see that Students' Assembly is composed of members worthy of governing the student body, and at least have enough interest to cast his ballot. There are a number of candidates for the assembly who do not deserve to be elected. As has been said before, they are merely running in order that they may gain tickets to the All-University Dances or aid to put through some selfish motive for some small group on the campus.

It is the duty of every student to vote today. It is up to the individuals to see that he or she has the assembly positions filled with students that have the University's interest at heart. There are such persons on the ballot today that each one of you can place in office one in whom you will be satisfied to place in his hands the arranging of the Union program, the manner in which the money that comes into the Students' Association will be distributed throughout the various University organizations must be elected today.

Unless you cast your ballot today, you will have no reason whatsoever in complaining over the action that is taken by the assembly on any question that it considers. Students that can not find time to stop between classes and cast their ballots, are the students who do the most complaining throughout the year about the inefficient manner in which the assembly is running student affairs. So, if for no other reason than to have a clear conscience when you have a complaint to make about the manner in which the assembly functions—VOTE BETWEEN 8 AND 1 O'CLOCK TODAY.

Library or Love Nest?

It is to be regretted that the University did away with Beck's Lake, the favorite spooning ground on the campus. Now the students are forced to hold their trysts in the Library, much to the annoyance of those who really go there to study. With the campus grounds torn up as they are, we really have no other place to go on the campus. So every night the love birds who whisper incessantly, the Romeos and Juliets that write countless love letters and ask that they be passed on, and the others who merely go there to hold hands make their bothersome appearance in the Library.

If there is no way that the students can be made to listen to reason, then the University should take steps to see that this pestilence is stopped at once. Perhaps a library supervisor is needed to see that the "no talking" signs are obeyed. The University has spent millions of dollars building a place for the students to study, and equipping it with books for them to study. It seems rather ridiculous that it will allow all their efforts to be useless because of a small minority of the students who have no respect for the students who study.

The students of The University of Texas should not force the school authorities to take this step. It is a disgrace that the students can not realize that they are men and women now. The school officers would like to think that they are and have treated them as such in the past. It reflects sorely on the general status of the student body when they must be treated as grammar school children. We rather like to think that the students have not had this brought to their attention before and have been making a nuisance of themselves in the library unwittingly. If that is so, then they will make the library safe for the students without action from the University authorities.

Too Much Outside Reading

A student is a human being but only that. He is certainly not superhuman nor is he an animal blessed with two, three, or four brains. But such an animal he ought to be, and will, no doubt, suffer for his lack of being when said student begins to attempt to read all his outside readings in all of his courses.

Now outside readings are good things in moderation. But when Mr. Student has to study carefully readings from three or four other books besides his real textbooks in each course, what will eventually

Student Forum

The Daily Texan invites the writing of free-lance editorials or "firing line" articles to be published in the Student Forum columns.
Such editorials must be written by students of the University and must pertain directly to some phase of student life.
All contributions must be signed, but the contributor's name will not be printed if he so requests. Unsigned articles will not be printed.
Those of 200 words or less will receive preference.

AND SO ARE POLITICS!

With the election today of representatives to the Students' Assembly, University students find themselves faced with the perplexing duty of selecting competent assemblymen from a list of candidates in whom, according to their own announcements, are combined all of the virtues with which Providence has endowed the human race, as well as a few niceties of their own individual creation.

Honor, integrity, sincerity, ability, impartiality, attainment, and other such significant qualifications calculated to give the voter an unstable feeling at the pit of the stomach have teemed in the columns of the Texan for the past several weeks. Candidates have omitted few qualifications except good looks, and a few of the more daring office-seekers have inserted their pictures and risked letting their constituents make up their own minds on that point.

So generous have been the friends of possessors of these supernatural qualities in urging them to make their races that the voters will be hard put to find a man who seeks an office on his own initiative.

Of course all such effusiveness fills the need of the required 200 words, but in the cynical student who must assimilate such verbosity twice a year with distressing regularity there is aroused a longing for a candidate who will dare to defy convention and print something like the following: which might smack more of truth than good politics:

"... seeks the office of — not at the request of friends, but purely because he wants to see his name in print and save a dollar a week on dance tickets. He makes no promises, and if elected, will conduct himself as he cockeyed pleases, using his office to further his own ends wherever he sees a chance. He has successfully swapped votes with every large clique on the campus, and by judicious lying expects to line up most of the remaining voters before the election. Having managed to remain in school for three years in spite of the earnest efforts of the deans and the Registrar's office, he feels amply qualified to manage any situation that may arise. If elected, he will renounce any campaign promises that he may have made in weak moments, and after the election his constituents may go to the library and cry in an encyclopedia."—T. H. C.

WHAT ABOUT ESPERANTO?

Doesn't it strike you as amusing that a newspaper which wishes to print lessons in the "universal" or "international" language, Esperanto, has to mark time while the alphabet of that language is arriving at the print-shop? They call it a modern instrument of great economic worth, this international language, yet every business house which adopts Esperanto will have to buy at least one new typewriter for the Esperanto correspondence, or have its typists put the little circumflex accents in by hand. Modern efficiency! Yes, the International Telegraph Association recognized Esperanto, but merely as a clear language: that is, one for the transmission of which you pay by the word and not by the letter. But how "clear" is the language when it comes out at the other end and there is no typewriter which can take down the new letters? You can do without the accents; certainly the grammar takes care of that: just write "h" instead of the circumflex. Thus: "Shia ghistama senzorgeco shajnis al shi kiel kontindajho." That is, "Her negligence up to then seemed to her as a reproach."

I would not bring this up, if it were not for the fact, that in the International Language of the Delegation (Ido), there are no diacritic marks; its alphabet is indefinitely more international than that of Esperanto (for c, g, h, j, and s with circumflex are found in Esperanto alone among languages). And if The Daily Texan had chosen to publish lessons in Ido instead of Esperanto, it would now be two lessons to the good. Th Esperanto sentence above would read in Ido: "Eula til-lora neglijho semblis ad el quale reprocho."

become of him? If a student was enrolled in five courses and had two textbooks in each (which is the average) plus the three outside reading books in each course, said student would be actually studying 25 books each semester. Indeed, the average student will not have much time to waste with such a routine.

Many students are working either all or part of their way through the University. Such students could not possibly find time to read all of the so-called outside readings which are assigned day by day by the instructors.

Outside readings as a supplement to broaden one's background in the course are, without a doubt, a needed and profitable part in one's University program. Books that might be read at odd times if the student has a spare moment or two could be advantageously suggested by the professor. But direct detailed questions on many outside readings are almost an absurdity which is being constantly practiced in this institution.

Most students are really in the University in order to learn the most they can in the best way that they can. The students can not possibly remember all such outside readings very long if they could ever find time to read them. If assignments were only made in the textbooks and then supplementary readings were suggested as an aid to a better knowledge of the course, the student would learn much more.

News BULLETINS

Support Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The Scripps-Howard chain of newspapers declared their support of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency today. In 1928 they supported Herbert Hoover.

An editorial appearing simultaneously in all their newspapers today said: "We believe the nation will be better served if the Hoover administration is not returned—that it has been and is an administration of failure—whether a Roosevelt administration can meet the challenge of the national crisis we do not know. We merely know that he and his party offer a fresh start and, we believe, a better chance."

Weakness Admitted

GENEVA, Oct. 17.—The League of Nations assembly closed unostentatiously today after a meeting in minimum accomplishment, acknowledged by its president, Nicholas Politis, of Greece, in a final address admitting the League's weakness.

The assembly adjourned facing two problems which will be acute by mid-November—the Sino-Japanese situation and the Franco-German arms struggle.

Kidnaping Feared

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 17.—Samuel Insull, indicted Chicago utilities magnate, informed International News Service late today that he had asked police protection because he had been informed it was possible an attempt would be made to kidnap him and carry him to a country from which he could be extradited to the United States.

Herriot Wins

PARIS, Oct. 17.—A further trend to the left center was shown today in nearly complete returns for yesterday's election for 111 seats of the French Senate. Premier Eduard Herriot was the principal winner, adding seven new seats to his supporting bloc, while the erstwhile followers of former Premier Andre Tardieu were the chief losers.

New Estimate

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The old argument concerning the age of Mother Earth was revived by scientists today following the assertion by Professor Albert Einstein that the world probably is about ten billion years old. This estimate, based upon the famous German physicist's theories of the expansion of the universe, is more than double the age usually attributed to the earth.

Improvement Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Substantial improvement in the general financial situation was indicated by today's Federal Reserve Board statement of the condition of member banks in leading cities. Demand deposits of $11,309,000,000 for the week ending October 12 showed an increase of $101,000,000 for the week while time deposits of $5,660,000,000 were up $16,000,000.

PARKE SPEAKS ON O'NEILL

James H. Parke, University instructor in English, will lead an informal discussion on the life and works of Eugene O'Neill with members of the Present Day Club at the Commons at 1 o'clock today.

The following plays by O'Neill will serve to illustrate the topics of the lecture: "Beyond the Horizon," "Great God Brown," "Marco Millions," "Strange Interlude," "Dynamo," and "Mourning Becomes Electra."

Oklahoma Co-ed Elected Queen At All-College Ball in Dallas

Miss Mary Jayne O'Sullivan, Delta Delta, of Oklahoma University was crowned queen of the all-college ball held Friday night, October 14, at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. She was chosen the most beautiful girl in the Southwest out of 25 representatives of colleges and universities. Each girl passed in review around the ballroom.

A program of acrobatic, taps, and adagio dancing followed the dinner hour.

Other girls representing universities, colleges, sororities, the State, and city were Ann Brown, Ogontz; Annetta Robertson, Texas; Margaret Johnson, Fort Worth; Spencelet, Virginia; Karbach, Dallas; Kate Jenkins, University of Georgia; Olivia

Noite, Finch College; Bess Harris, Zeta Tau Alpha of The University of Texas; Margaret Abernathy, University of Arkansas; Eileen Crain, Wellesley College; Patsy Field Edward, University of Alabama; Johnetta Woods, Arlington Hall; Mary Bryant, Kappa Alpha Theta of The University of Texas; Elizabeth Schneider, Pi Beta Phi of The University of Texas; Martha De Lay, Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Vassar; Lucile Sharp, Pi Beta Phi, Sarah Lawrence College; Martha Liner, the University of Tennessee; Daisy Bell Dunn, Alpha Phi of Oklahoma University; Gwen Wilson, Alpha Gamma Delta of Oklahoma University; and Elizabeth Bevil, Kappa Kappa Gamma of The University of Texas.

Seven Fraternities Entertain Guests at Sunday Noon Dinner

Guests at the campus fraternities Sunday decreased somewhat in number with the football game in Dallas. The following fraternities entertained friends at the Sunday noon meal.

Kappa Sigma fraternity entertained the following guests: Betty Tippitt, Dorothea Wattinger, and Lillian Watts, Mrs. Bennett and Mr. Lee were chaperons for the occasion.

At the Phi Sigma Delta house the following were guests for Sunday luncheon: Josephine Davis, Marie Louise Aronsfeld, Esther Greenfield, Etta Mae Kauffman.

Alpha Tau Omega guests were as follows: Frances Crain, Rachel Daugherty, Virginia Abshire, Mary Katherine Bowles, Frances Neville, Ruth and Esther Hasskarl, Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Temple Mayhall, and Mrs. K. W. Eidman.

HOBOS PICNIC GIVEN BY CENTURY CLASS

The Hobos of the century class of the University Presbyterian Church were led by "Chief Hobo" Long to Pease Park for a picnic Monday afternoon. Members took their lunch in bandanas over their shoulders in regular hobo fashion. When they reached their destination, the groups built campfires and ate their lunches. "This was the eighth hobo picnic," announced Marjorie Bryan, class president.

Mrs. LaVerne Nowotny was in charge of entertaining the hobos.

MUSIC GROUP GIVES PROGRAM TUESDAY

The music group of the Faculty Women's Group will present a musicale at the club house Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock. Jennie S. Wilmont, chairman, has announced. The Austin String Quartet will offer selections from compositions by Hayden, Von Dittersdorf, Boccherini, and other famous composers.

Miss Wilmont hopes that all members of the club will attend and bring their friends.

THEATERS

"THE PHANTOM PRESIDENT," with George M. Cohan, Jimmy Durante, and Claudette Colbert playing last times today at the Paramount. "One Way Passage," with William Powell and Kay Francis starts Wednesday.

"THE CABIN IN THE COTTON," with Richard Barthelmess, Bette Davis, and Dorothy Jordan, today at the Hancock. Play-by-play pictures of the Texas-Oklahoma game today. "Tiger Shark" with Edward G. Robinson and Richard Arlen starts Wednesday.

"HERITAGE OF THE DESERT," with Randolph Scott and Sally Blane, starts today at the Queen.

Opening Today

At the Texas Tuesday, "Street of Women," with Kay Francis and Roland Young. Hollywood billboards this picture thusly: "She laughed at marriage, but cried for love." "The heart secrets of a woman who was once a lady." "It rolls up the shades on life." "A love sacrifice which gave a man a future and a woman a past." With such ballyhoo no one could afford to miss America's best dressed woman in one of her most seductive roles. See what happens when children rise up against the sins of their parents.

"Heritage of the Desert," another of Zane Grey's western stories of romance and adventure, opens today at the Queen. This promises to be another of those enjoyable stories that, if you like, you never tire of seeing. Randolph Scott plays the part of the cowboy hero, and Sally Blane is the girl. The setting of the story is, of course, the desert of Arizona. There is the usual attempt on the part of the villain to steal the girl, and as usual the hero arrives just in time to save her.

Sally Sawyer returned Sunday night from a visit with friends in Dallas.

Florine Jackson returned Sunday from Sinton where she spent the week-end.

Louise Ash of Littlefield Dormitory went to Dallas for the week-end.

Olga Kacurek and Emma Mazoch spent the week-end in Dimebox.

Senior Engineers -

they may understand the definite correlation existing between their own work in the engineering laboratory and the work going on in the industrial world.

Students pay their own expenses on these tours. Mr. Short states that the entire expense, including football tickets, should not exceed $20.

In the catalogue, this trip, which is required for a degree in engineering, is numbered engineering 077. This course is the shortest offered by the University.

Trips to the northern and the southern portions of Texas are alternated, yearly. Last year, a trip was made to Dallas and vicinity.

Faculty sponsors of the tour are M. L. Begeman, Short, B. N. Gafford, adjunct professor of electrical engineering, and B. H. Caldwell, instructor in electrical engineering.

Electrical engineering students going on the trip are C. R. Funk, H. H. Shelton, T. C. Huckabee, A. A. Elizando, H. S. Schieffer, S. L. Rieves, Jack W. Tinnin, Tom Deely, J. B. White, Jr., E. M. Strieber, J. O. Pickering, L. B. Cardenas, P. Valdes, Frank S. Stafford, E. R. McWhorter, and Joe Sheppard.

Mechanical engineering students making the trip are A. P. Beinke, J. H. Campbell, L. B. Carr, G. F. Henson, E. J. B. Hopper, J. M. Lloyd, M. J. Noel, T. Pollard, L. Seewald, W. M. Singleton, J. H. Smith, H. C. Wray, Glen Lowther, S. Perron, F. N. Smith, and J. H. Stephens.

the lives of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin.

"The campus at present, if movies may be trusted, looks like the battlefield of France during the World War. The University of Texas unquestionably will become the greatest state University in the United States.

Students Ballyhoo "The Texas football team has a magic reputation and Rice may not play true to form next Saturday. Otherwise the outcome of the game is a flip of the coin."

"Election stickers and posters around the campus are indicative of American youth. The boy and girl of 1932 knows how to 'ballyhoo.'

Ty Cobb had many connections with various branches of the University while in school. He was the manager of the barnstorming team of 1922, the year that the team made a tour of the Southern states.

He was editor of The Daily Texan in 1925-26. There were 125 students on the staff that year and at least 75 were good looking girls. Cobb says, "We didn't know much about journalism, but we had lots of fun."

Cobb was a member of the debate team in 1925-26, debating against Washington University in St. Louis, University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, and the University of Arizona in Austin. In the latter two, he was chosen by the audience as the best speaker on the floor.

Words of Wisdom In his spare time Cobb presided over the Hogg Debate Club for five terms, represented the students on the Athletic Council, and served as a member of the assembly.

As Ty Cobb picked up his hat to leave he stopped at the door long enough to give a few words of advice.

"A student is always a part of the University and the University is always a part of him. This is true whether you are a member of Congress or a bank robber."

"I hardly cracked a book while a student, but I did study the officials and faculty members of the University and it was quite profitable. For my part a person can learn more from that than he can from books. The friendships that you make at the University will be the best that you will ever have in your life."

"I haven't got very far, but I have found out that hard, unceasing work and determination count more than being unusually smart. The first and prime essential to success is industry."

"Talking like this sounds as though I might be getting much older, so I hereby quit."

Thursday, October 27, and then on the following day a complete return of colleges all over the United States will be announced through the columns of The Daily Texan.

Cooperation Urged

The Texan urges all students to cooperate in this straw vote on the presidential race in order that a representative vote may be reported to the Daily Princetonian, which is sponsoring the complete returns from all universities throughout the United States. It will be an experiment to determine just how the vote of the undergraduates will compare to the final election returns in November.

The list of colleges that are to aid in this straw poll represent every part of the United States, and should give an idea of the feeling in each portion of the nation. There are 35 colleges that will hold this straw vote during the coming week.

FRATERNITY MEETS

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity for men, will hold a short business meeting at 7:30 o'clock today, October 18, in B. Hall 135, Ray Bonta, president, announced yesterday. Plans for initiation and the election of new members will be discussed at the meeting. All members are urged to be present, Bonta said.

ORANGE JACKETS MEET

A meeting of the Orange Jackets will be held today at 5 o'clock in the Women's Gymnasium, Dorothy Shelby, secretary of the organization, stated Monday. Plans for a banquet to be given for new members Thursday at the Driskill Hotel will be discussed.

ENGINEERS MEET TODAY

The American Society of Civil Engineers will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Engineering Building 101, C. F. Click, president of the society, announced Monday. A moving picture film, "Lumbering in British Columbia," will be shown.

Betty Cathleen Sullivan is visiting in San Antonio for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carlton spent the week-end in San Antonio.

BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the vicious battle between the python and the tiger... in Frank Buck's thrilling motion picture, "Bring 'Em Back Alive," filmed from nature in the Malay jungle.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

(Although radio broadcasting companies have proposed to leading colleges that they pay a tidy sum to broadcast football games this fall, they stipulate that such broadcasts have an advertising sponsor). "How are you, radio fans. You are about to hear a presentation of the Notre Dame-Army football contest, which will come to you today under the auspices of the Lucky Shoe Lace Corporation, makers of the finest shoe laces in the world. . . . Lucky Shoe Laces are pressed! . . . Physicians say that most of the foot troubles in America today are due to neglected shoe laces. . . . See your shoe cobbler at least twice a year."

"Folks, this is Hed Tusing speaking. . . . Those aged rivals, Army and Navy are playing today, coming to you over a coast-to-coast network. . . . Army has won the toss-up and will kick off in just a moment by arrangement with the Lucky Shoe Lace Corporation. . . . Are you listenin'?"

"The game is on: . . . Brown, one of the best Army halfbacks offered in this interesting air series, sent a beautiful kick down the field. . . . It is caught by Williams, a splendid quarterback, who is a newcomer to the radio audience, but who, it is freely predicted, will become one of the foremost radio personalities."

It is Haley, who is being taken out. . . . I can't make out who is being sent in to replace him. . . . One minute, please."

"I think it is Bing Crosby. . . . Yes, it is Bing Crosby. . . . He's going in for Notre Dame. . . . Gracie Allen is warming up on the sidelines."

"Gee-e! . . . On the very next play Cronin got away from the back and ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown by special permission of the copyright owners! . . . A great run! . . . And the gun pops to close the period."

Malletmen Go Down Before Bill Kuykendall's Lads, 14-8

The University polo team took its first defeat Sunday from Bill Kuykendall and his men, by a score of 8 to 14. The University boys who made the scores were Bill Floyd, who made 3 scores, and Vernon Cook, who made 2. The other three scores were due to the 3-goal handicap of Kuykendall's men. On the other side Kuykendall made 6 points, Jimmie Harris 2, Doc Weir 2, and Wilson Southwell 4.

Kuykendall's men and horses were well trained and showed great team work, however at no time during the entire game did they have a chance to slow up, for Cook's boys were in there for a fight to the finish the entire game.

Moulton Harrison said, "If we can just play as good a game when we play Oklahoma, I see no reason for defeat."

The University team, which includes Moulton Harrison, Vernon Cook, Mike Butler, Bill Floyd, Jack Adams, and Ivan McElroy have their daily practice at about 6 o'clock each morning.

"The game yesterday, although a defeat for the University team, showed that they are working for a better balanced outfit, and have showed much improvement since they started to work in early September," said Cook.

They will go to Oklahoma for two games to be played November 4 and 5.

Steers Will Play Crucial Fray Against Rice

By JAY HALL

Beams from the spotlight flash across the Southwest and come to a final rest on Rice Stadium Saturday where the University of Texas Longhorns meet the Rice Institute Owls in the most outstanding conference game played so far this season.

Fans of the gridiron sport and would-be pickers of Southwest Conference champions will watch with intense interest the outcome of this classic battle, since the loser will almost automatically be eliminated in the race for the flag.

When Harrison Stafford intercepted an attempted Oklahoma pass at the State Fair Park Saturday to end the Longhorn-Sooners contest, Texas students leaned one eye towards Houston, where the Texas football team will encounter the Rice Institute Owls Saturday.

The Texas campus is alive this week with speculation on the game outcome. Studies are of secondary importance to many. Extensive preparations are being made by the yell leaders for a gigantic rally this week. Dormitories, boarding, fraternity, and sorority houses are of one opinion, "Beat Rice."

The Rice game has almost come to supersede Texas A. & M. and S. M. U. struggles in importance. This year, in fact, it has A. & M. and S. M. U. have comparatively weak teams, while Texas and Rice are powerful aggregations. Many believe that the winner of the approaching battle will be crowned conference champion.

On the other hand, the championship stock of the winner will go up in a corresponding manner, since the Texas Christian Horned Frogs are the only serious opponents that will remain in the path toward the pennant.

Steers Jinxed
For the past two years, the Rice Owls have put across winning marks in their annual contests with Coach Littlefield's men. This year the Owl flock shows the greatest promise ever in the way of a championship team, and Coach Meagher can be depended on to take advantage of this initial chance. But Texas, at the same time, claims the best team in the history of the school.

Another important tilt will be played at Waco this week-end. The Baylor University Bears will battle the pesky but thus far this season harmless Texas Aggies.

This will be the first gridiron contest that has been played in Waco between the two schools since the tragedy on the Bear field some years ago. Last season the Aggies won an easy victory.

Several outstanding intersectional tilts are on the books. The Centenary Gents, winner over the Texas Longhorns several weeks ago, will try their luck against the Southern Methodist Mustangs. The Methodists started on their way last week by whipping the Syracuse eleven 16 to 6. It was the Ponies' first win of the year.

The Texas Christians, atop the Southwest standing, will encounter Austin College at Fort Worth. The Frogs will enter the fray heavy favorites.

Four Teams Play In Tourney Today

The first matches of the All-University mixed doubles tennis tournament will be held today at 5 o'clock on the Twenty-fourth Street tennis courts, Helen Cline, inter-group manager, announced Monday.

The following games are scheduled to be held then: Mary Virginia Bedichek and Hal Surface vs Peg Watkins and Irving Moody; Margaret Jefferson and Hugo Allen vs Mildred Geiger and Ralph Anderson; Arlene Pickett and partner vs Frances Kirk and partner.

Highlights Gleaned From Longhorn-Sooners Contest

By IRVING ISRAEL

GOVERNOR WILLIAM "Alfalfa" Murray should have called out his state militia to subdue aggravating Texans, for when your Larruping Longhorns finished messing up Oklahoma's favorite sons in their annual football affray the Sooners looked like a bunch of blanket tax photos. Harrison Stafford, the hardest hitting back you ever saw, gave the Sooners a sample of what to expect when, on the very first play, he skirted around their right end for 18 yards and a first down.

When Dunlap scored a field goal late in the first quarter, you'd imagine—from the amount of cheering done by the Sooners' rooters—that O. U.'s lead was as big as all outdoors.

The Longhorn cohorts shouted, screamed, yelled, hollered, and whooped themselves into a frenzy when Bohn (good old Bohn) Hilliard elbowed, side-stepped, dodged, evaded, stiff-armed, and shook off tacklers and dashed across the goal for Texas' (and his) first touchdown. It was one of the most dazzling runs ever made by a Southwest Conference player (quoting George White, Dallas News, in the press box).

The wearers of the Red and White had a chance to retaliate in the initial quarter, but they failed on Texas' 10-yard line, making them realize that it is a cruel world after all.

Hoot Gibson, cowboy hero of the flickers, stood up in the third quarter so he could bow to the hearty plaudits of the gathered denizens.

The cheers were long and lustily for Bohn when he trotted down the field for a scant 95 yards to score the Longhorns' second touchdown.

After that run, Hilliard should have had cigars, candies, tooth pastes, autos, buildings, and libraries named after him.

"Ox" Blanton, playing his third straight year for the Longhorns, booted his third straight field goal against the Sooners. This last one was, by far, the gem of them all, being lifted between the uprights at a most difficult position.

PHOTOGRAPHERS were everywhere. They were outside the park, in the stands, and on the playing field. It is possible that there was somebody who didn't have a picture taken?

Rundell Improves; Injured Saturday

Bennie Rundell, Longhorn end, who was injured in the Oklahoma game, was reported to be improving in a Dallas hospital early last night. Rundell received an internal injury in the last play of the game, an Oklahoma tackle kicking him in the side. He was taken to a hospital where x-rays disclosed no permanent or serious injuries. He probably will be brought to Austin today by train.

Rundell, an Austin High School star of 1929, lettered at end on the Longhorn football team last season, and was a regular guard on the basketball team. He will be unable to play against Rice Saturday. His pass receiving, which has been very good, will be sorely missed in the crucial game to be played in Houston this week.

BEIGHTEEN STUDENTS ILL
Eighteen students were reported ill by the University Health Service Monday. They are Ruth Paggi, Anna Louise, Wolters at Seton Infirmary; A. G. Owens, W. C. Petolicas, V. C. Folsom at St. David's Hospital; Marcita Miller, Beulah Campbell at Scottish Rite Infirmary; Alice Smith, Lillias Mitchell, Allen Nicholas, Mary Elizabeth Owensby, Florence Chote, Tom Sammons, Ethel

Two Great Senior Teams Clash At Bayou City

By FRED SCHAFFNER

The Texas Longhorns this week will have the greatest test of their gridiron careers when they meet the Rice Owls in Houston Saturday in what promises to be the most colorful game in the entire South. Indications are that the Steers will go through one of the hardest weeks of training ever experienced by a Longhorn team. There will be very little scrimmage, but new plays will be run until some semblance of timing and coordination is perfected.

Two great senior teams will take the field at 3 o'clock to battle for a chance at the conference crown. Twelve Longhorns who finish their eligibility this year are straining at the leash to avenge heart-breaking losses of the past two years.

The Owls are just as determined to make it three straight over the Steers. The game will be a grudge battle from start to finish with the sky as the limit. Both teams will open up with all the offensive power they possess.

Battle of Sophs
Both teams have a great sophomore back, and it will not be surprising to see these two stars battle it out for individual honors.

Hilliard, of Texas, is one of the greatest broken field runners in the entire United States, as he so clearly demonstrated against Oklahoma University last Saturday. Bill Wallace, of Eagle Lake, is another sophomore sensation that the Owls will depend on for a large amount of their gains.

The other backfield posts of both teams will probably be filled by the seniors. Ernie Koy, fullback deluxe and co-captain of the Steers, is destined to start, as his arm is responding to treatment. He again hurt the injured member in the Sooner game, but the Texas coaches will depend mightily on his passes and line plunging. Koy was hurt in last year's game against Rice, which the Owls won, 7-0.

Harrison Stafford, bruising halfback, is in good condition and is a cinch to start Saturday. Hank Clewis will likely get the call at quarterback. His handling of the team has been above reproach.

For Rice, Viv Driscoll, brilliant star of the past two years will start at quarter; Tom Driscoll, twin brother of Vic, is destined to be at fullback; Jap Thrasher, broken field runner extraordinary will occupy one halfback post, while Bill Wallace will occupy the other.

Ends in Final Fray
In the line, Ed Price and Dause Bibby will be playing their last game against Rice. Both are ends of more than average ability. Earle may get the nod above Bibby at left end, but the Dublin boy has shown that he can play a brilliant game.

Ernie Koy Holds Scoring Laurels for Third Week

Although Texas' own Big Ernie Koy failed to tally Saturday against the University of Oklahoma, he is still abreast of the Southwest Conference pack in individual scoring honors. Injuries kept Koy on the sidelines in the major part of the Sooner-Texas contest, and although he did flash his usual par excellent form in the little time he played, he did not penetrate the goal line.

His six touchdowns and two points after touchdown give him a total of 38 points, a two-point margin over "Red" Oliver, Texas Christian ace, who has six touchdowns. "Frenchy" Domingue, Texas A. & M. quarterback, is not very far behind the two leaders, having five touchdowns and four extra points to his credit, a total of 34 markers.

Another Longhorn backfield star, Harrison Stafford, closely follows with 30 points. By virtue of his spectacular performance Saturday against Oklahoma, Bohn Hilliard, Longhorn broken field artist, brought his season's total to 26, one point ahead of Wallace, Rice halfback.

News services have accredited Hilliard with but three touchdowns and one extra point, whereas he scored two touchdowns in both the Missouri and Oklahoma games. He also made two points after touchdowns in the opening Longhorn game with the Daniel Baker Hill Billies.

How To Avoid BONERS

AN INCUBATOR IS SOMETHING YOU BURN RUBBISH IN

TSK! TSK! Isn't it too bad! Bill Boner thinks a blizzard is something you find inside a fowl!

Why doesn't somebody give him a good pipe and some tobacco? For a pipe helps a man to think straight. Of course, it's got to be the right tobacco. But any college man can guide him in that. A recent investigation showed Edgeworth to be the favorite smoking tobacco at 42 out of 54 leading colleges.

Which is only natural—for in all tobaccodom there's no blend like the mixture of fine old burleys found in Edgeworth. In that difference there's a new smoking satisfaction, a new comfort, for the man who likes to think and dream with a pipe between his teeth.

Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms — Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes —15¢ pocket package to pound humidor tin. If you'd like to try before you buy, write for a free sample packet. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 120 S. 22d Street, Richmond, Va.
