Wolf Gives Check for Journalism Building

Howard Wolf, chairman of the Texas Student Publications Board, Monday gave Dr. Logan Wilson, UT president, the final payment on the TSP's share of the Journalism Building. The final payment was $5,000. TSP, which publishes The Daily Texan, the Cactus, the Ranger, and other student publications, paid a total of $125,000 toward the $630,000 cost of the Journalism Building. The building was completed in 1952.

Issues Lecturer To Be Honored By Reception

Wernher von Braun Will Speak Tuesday About Sputnik Age

A reception honoring Dr. Wernher von Braun, Army missile scientist, will be held in the Main Lounge of the Texas Union after his talk in Hogg Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Discussing "Education in the Sputnik Age," Dr. von Braun will appear as the third lecturer in the Great Issues Series.

Dr. von Braun will answer questions in the discussion period after his speech.

As developmental operations director of the United States Army Ordnance Command, von Braun guided development of the Jupiter C missile, and a composite re-entry test missile. His agency also aided in the launching of Explorer I.

The missile scientist has received several awards in recognition of his defense work. In 1955, he received the Astronautics Award from the American Rocket Society, and in 1957 he was given the Space Flight Award from the American Astronautical Society and the Distinguished Civilian Service Award by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. He also received the Decoration for Exceptional Civilian Service from the Department of the Army and a Citation of Merit by the National Military Industrial Conference in Chicago in 1958.

Dr. von Braun was awarded the United States Chamber of Commerce Award for "Great Living Americans," the Certificate of Merit from the William Penn Fraternity Association of Pittsburgh, and the Dr. Robert H. Goddard Memorial Trophy in 1958.

For his work in the missile field, he has received honorary degrees from the University of Alabama, St. Louis University, the University of Chattanooga, and the University of Pittsburgh.

Students and faculty will be admitted to the lecture free. Others may purchase tickets for 50 cents at Music Building 104. Tickets will also be on sale Tuesday night at Hogg Auditorium.

ISA Approves Plan For Men's Co-op

A plan for establishing a men's co-op housing project was approved by the executive council of the Independent Students' Association Monday night.

Applications from 20 students seeking membership in the co-op must be obtained before the operation can go into effect. Seven residences have been suggested for the home of the proposed co-op.

Bill Wilson, ISA vice-president, proposed the project. He said petitioning the Inter-Co-Op Council for a women's co-op also would be impractical because of the present University policy discouraging new women's co-ops.

In other action, the executive council:

- Appointed Rex Henger, an ISA member, to serve as chairman of the ISA social program.
- Approved a ballroom dance class to be taught by Jack McClellan, local dance instructor.
- Announced a hayride for November 21 at 5 p.m.

UT Earns AF Award

Parade to Commemorate Vets' Day

By JIM HAYNES

The Department of Defense will present its Reserve Award to the University Tuesday noon in recognition of the University's participation in the Air Force's Reserve Programs.

A joint review of University ROTC units will be given for the presentation on Whittaker Field. University Vice-President F. Lanier Cox will accept the Reserve Award.

This is the second time the University has been honored for its support of reserve programs, having received a commendation award from the Secretary of the Navy in 1946 for support of naval training programs during World War II.

Brig. Gen. Ivan W. McElroy, commander of the Air Division 834, England Air Force Base, Ala.,

will make the presentation on behalf of the Department of Defense. Representatives of area reserve commands of the three armed services will attend, and all University personnel are invited to come.

Tuesday is Veterans' Day, and the ceremonies on the intramural field will remind many at the University of bygone days when Armistice Day was celebrated with memorial services, fireworks, and walks from classes.

There are several reminders of Armistice Day around the campus—the largest being Memorial Stadium, dedicated to the men and women of Texas who gave their lives in World War I.

Plaques on the stadium walls at entrances list some of the almost 100 University students who were killed in 1917-18. The stadium,

Inaugural Broadcast Dedicates KUT-FM

Three ... Two ... One ... And UT Radio Is on the Air

With Host John McCoy, right, listening intently over his ear phones, Jimmy Moore and Ann Hufendick, University sweetheart, wait for Joe Lee Smith to accept the FM radio which he won as a door prize at the dedicatory broadcast of KUT-FM Monday night in the Texas Union. The Longhorn Dance Band which played for the opening broadcast is in the background.

Four hours and seven minutes. That was it, the short inaugural broadcast Monday night of KUT-FM.

A fast start got the initial broadcast under way at 6:30 p.m. "The Eyes of Texas" boomed forth to herald the opening of the new radio voice of The University of Texas. KUT-FM was on the air.

The new educational station sounded as professional as many stations which have been on the air for many years. R. F. Schenkan, director of Radio/Television, said.

"We are delighted. We are getting a good signal and our announcers are doing a fine job," Mr. Schenkan said.

The dedicatory broadcast was at 7 p.m. in the Texas Union with the Longhorn Dance Band providing the music. John McCoy was host. An FM radio, the door prize for the opening ceremonies, was won by Joe Lee Smith, a freshman from Austin.

Two more special programs programs were broadcast Monday night in addition to the station's regular shows.

The third special broadcast was a taped delayed broadcast of the first portion of the Austin Symphony Orchestra's opening concert of the season.

Regular news, sports, and music shows were also carried by the station. At 10:37 p.m., KUT-FM ended its first broadcast night.

Among the persons extending their congratulations were Robert L. Bartley, a Federal Communications Commissioner and a native Texan; Allen Ludden, program director of WCBN in New York City and a University graduate, and Frank Schooley, president of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

KUT-FM will broadcast Monday through Friday from 7 to 10:30 p.m., with the exception of Thursday nights. On Thursdays the station remains on the air until 10:45 p.m. with special German teaching tapes.

Austin police and FBI agents late Monday continued a search for an unarmed bandit who took $2,000 from the City National Bank in a daylight robbery earlier in the day.

Teller Jim Connolly said a man in his late twenties entered the bank about noon and presented a note. "I have explosives and will blow up the bank if you do not give me the money," the note read.

Connolly gave the bandit the money. The robber then walked to the front door and fled. The teller said the bandit was approximately five feet, nine inches tall and weighed about 160 pounds.

Austin police have assigned 20 men to investigate the robbery. Federal agents also came from San Antonio to reinforce local FBI men.

An FBI agent reported the robbery was the first national bank robbery in Austin since the prohibition days of the Thirties.

Hank Chapman, director of the Carnival, said he would like to have all entries filed at his office in Gregory Gymnasium.

"Nominations will be welcomed from all campus organizations," Mr. Chapman said. Only four entrants may represent each organization.

This year's Aqua Carnival program will follow a Latin theme. The Carnival will be held December 11-13.

Wally Pryor will act as master of ceremonies.

Young Democrats To Hear Senator

Senator Ralph Yarborough will speak at the first business meeting of the Young Democratic Club Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Garrison Hall, Room 1.

The meeting is open to the public and "especially to the Young Democratic members and those interested in the club," said Ernest Christian, club president.

Senator Yarborough graduated with highest honors from the University of Texas Law School in 1927. While at the University, he was the first "grader" for Dr. Robert Montgomery of the Economics Department. Dr. Montgomery will introduce Senator Yarborough.

For Veterans' Day, 1958, there will be a parade on Congress Avenue, and the Travis Post of the American Legion will sponsor events for veterans.

Desegregated School Blasted in W. Virginia

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — An integrated school in a small northern West Virginia coal mining town was bombed Monday in early morning darkness.

Charles A. Stevenson, superintendent of Monongalia County schools, said there was no evidence the thunderous blast stemmed from racial troubles. The FBI began an immediate investigation.

The explosion ripped through the ground floor of the empty two-story brick schoolhouse in Osage, four miles northwest of Morgantown.

The school served about 250 pupils in the first three grades and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Classes for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades are held in the old Osage Negro school.

In Pittsburgh, an FBI spokesman said: "It looks like a professional job. From what we know now it looks like someone outside the community did it." Stevenson said it would cost an estimated $350,000 to replace the structure.

It was the first such bombing incident reported in West Virginia.

Monongalia County was the first in West Virginia to integrate its schools and the 17-room Osage school is in the fourth year of integration.

Bombs have damaged five Jewish structures this year in three

Southern states, and schools in two states in the South have been blasted.

Three large churches at Miami received telephoned bomb threats Sunday, but no bombs were found at any of the structures. Negroes recently had attended services uninvited at two of the churches — each Protestant. The third church threatened is Roman Catholic.

School Heads Meet In Evaluation Study

The eighth annual southwestern conference on improving preparation programs for school administrators has more than 100 educators from the Southwest participating in the four-day meeting.

Educators began conferring Monday morning in Texas Union.

The conference has two major undertakings:

- developing an evaluation instrument for preparation programs for school administrators, and

- developing specific plans for a continuous co-operative program in educational administration in the Southwest.

Leaders plan to test evaluation instruments developed in the conference in institutions of higher learning in this region.

Financial support for the conference from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation terminates in August, 1959. Since 1950, the Foundation has been instrumental in realizing many of the goals envisioned by the National Conference of Professors of Educational Administration.

F. Lanier Cox to Speak To AAUP on Wednesday

F. Lanier Cox, University vice-president for administrative services, will speak to the University chapter of the American Association of University Professors at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Batts Hall 234.

Faculty members may attend the speech which will cover matters relevant to the University in the legislative year.

Dr. Senn Speaks Tonight in Batts

Child rearing in the United States and Russia will be contrasted in a public lecture Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Batts Hall Auditorium.

The speaker will be Dr. Milton J. E. Senn, professor of pediatrics and psychiatry at Yale University and director of Yale's Child Study Center.

"The lecture is one in a series on 'Personality Development in Children,' an interdepartmental 75th Year program. Dr. Senn's topic is 'Reflections on the Care and Rearing of Children.'

Dr. Senn spoke on the 'Roles of Medical Discipline in the Study of Personality Development.' A coffee in his honor was held Monday in Mezes Hall.

At his Monday speech Dr. Senn said that a successful development of medical discipline depended greatly upon collaboration between the social sciences and the medical department.

Dr. Senn said that a combination of the two forces would be valuable.

He also stressed the fact that there should be further co-operation between the Main University and the University Medical School.

Union Council Will Meet For Dinner, Discussion

The Texas Union Council will hold a dinner and business meeting Wednesday. Dinner will begin at 6 p.m. in the University Commons, and the business meeting will be held at 6:45 p.m.

At the meeting the program budget for the year will be decided, and delegates to the regional conference of the Association of College Unions will be selected. Committee reports will complete the agenda.

LONDON — Jordan's King Hussein told his people that jet fighters of the United Arab Republic attacked his plane over Syria Monday.

Hussein said the UAR planes attempted to force him to land in Damascus. Instead, he said, he flew back toward Amman, but was attacked six times before he reached the border.

Reds Ready to Withdraw

Khrushchev announced that the Soviet Union, on its part, will hand over to East Germany those functions in Berlin which are still handled by Soviet organs.

US Rejects Red Call

WASHINGTON — The United States Monday bluntly rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for an end to four-power occupation of Berlin.

Dallas Problem Lingers

DALLAS — A state District Court ruled Monday it had no jurisdiction in a Dallas School integration case. Federal courts previously had ruled that jurisdiction did not lie there.

The action of Judge W. L. Thornton in upholding the contention of Attorney General Will Wilson left the Dallas School District with its same old problem of having to integrate at a two million dollar loss of state funds.

FORTY ACRES

Professor Curtis Grove's advertising class was discussing a survey on whether women prefer diamonds to other luxuries.

"The survey proved that older women said they preferred diamonds to other luxuries, while younger women preferred most other luxuries to diamonds," explained Professor Grove.

Given as a reason for the difference by one class member: "The older women already know they won't get anything!"

Lookin' For A Home

Colonel Brackenridge didn't know what he was in for when he gave the lands bordering Lake Austin (next to Tom Miller Dam) to the University of Texas "for educational purposes."

It looks like most of the big ruckuses being raised these days concern what's right, what's wrong, and what oughta be done with that land.

Just recently it was the dispute—including a long list of student petition signatures to the Board of Regents—over establishing student-faculty waterfront and recreational facilities on the property now occupied by the private Bennett's Boat Docks.

This hue and cry has evidently run into the old brick wall of "no available funds in sight."

Now from the East end of the Brackenridge Tract area is coming the old familiar howl — for better married student housing. They claim the "emergency provision" tenement section of present "low-cost married student housing" is a disgrace to the University of Texas.

One quick glance at the housing projects will show that these units are no cut-rate Waldorf-Astorias, by any means.

So what is to be done about all this? Most married students can't afford to buy the sort of housing that they really need. Should the University foot the bills for the difference? Should the University support married student housing when they expect all other student housing projects to support themselves? Where is the money to come from when the U of T is now heading for a tremendous fight on its hands to preserve the facilities — and state support — that it has now?

These are all key questions — but a quick administrative shrug of the shoulders . . . perhaps a wistful, tearful look is not going to solve the problem.

First of all, the University should make a thorough survey of the married student housing situation — find out just exactly how much the units would cost.

Perhaps some of the married student crop could buy higher-cost, small profit-making housing of high quality that would help support the overall project. A complete poll of all married students should be taken; exact needs should be itemized.

Dr. Haskew says that no clear estimates are available for the exact cost of such housing. These should be gathered.

Such institutions as Texas A&M and the University of Arkansas already have sizeable married student housing projects.

If federal loans could be gotten for Kinsolving Dormitory and the Union expansion, we see no reason why such could not be pushed for married student housing.

More than 4,000 students at UT are married. We can no longer consider their presence as a "post-war emergency situation." If the University sincerely wants to meet the needs of the student body, to help aid in the financial problems that inhibit or prevent a college education . . . then here's an area that must be tackled immediately.

'Space Man' Aboard

The man behind America's breath-taking space age count-downs, the quarter-back for the US's "do or die" crash program in missile production, Dr. Wernher Von Braun, will speak tonight in Hogg Auditorium.

Here is the pioneering American in an era beyond the wildest dreams of our great-great grandfathers. Here is a bold adventurer, a richly-imaginative genius at the head of our most sensitive and spotlighted production center.

The focus falls on Dr. von Braun as the United States steps closer and closer to looking the "man in the moon" face-to-face, hoping to get there a few steps ahead of Ivan.

We're proud to have on our campus this man who not only gazes at the stars but goes after 'em . . . in the true Texan tradition. The "Davy Crockett" of the Space Age.

Shucks, ma'am. What higher compliment kin we pay?

Oh, Rally?

A recent editorial in the Austin American tells of the turn in political campaigning this year.

Describing the dwindling emphasis on the "once standard political rallies," it notes that:

"This approach always has been regarded with skepticism in some quarters. Admittedly it helps the morals of the party workers . . ."

Well, now, fellas, I wouldn't go that far . . .

And Away We Go!

On the air.

After long last . . . financial stumblings, administrative grumblings, student balking on Blanket Tax appropriations, etc. . . UT's own KUT-FM is really "live."

Our heartiest congratulations to the Department of Radio-Television, particularly Mr. Robert Schenkkan, and others who worked so hard to pull the station out of the "dream" stage into reality. Student Manager John McCoy and his volunteer staff, and all who have contributed financially and time-wise to bring the project to completion.

We're sure, also, that the real impact and importance of the station will grow day-by-day in the University community.

Though we have no desire to point to the thorns midst the roses (namely, departmental control and faculty supervision rather than direct student control of the station), we do wish to express our sincere hopes that someday the station will be more than a "teaching laboratory."

We hope that someday the station will be controlled by a student majority board of directors, allowing credit work to be done on the station for Radio-TV—but stressing the overall campus responsibility . . . and remaining free for student expression and all-campus experience.

Then will it truly be the "students' voice."

Til then . . . we're still proud that UT's own KUT-FM finally is on the air.

Up, Up, Up . . .

Note to Dr. Von Braun:

Sir, we were just wondering if perhaps you could help us with some problems of "celestial mechanics" that we've run into here just recently.

It concerns the University of Texas and its relation with "outer space."

Sir, do you think there's some way we could get a first-class appropriation into orbit. . .

Without being held back by the gravitational force of:

- The State Comptroller?
- The Commission on Higher Education?
- The Texas Legislature?

It's a pretty tricky launching job.

'Emergency Steps' Life for Marrieds

By HAL SIMMONS

The dilemma of married student housing has been progressing at a slow crawl for the past ten years toward the jumping-off place. Brackenridge and Deep Eddy apartments have served as emergency provisions, but they now create a new problem.

Living conditions at the married housing units are really scraping the bottom. The pictures showing some of the actual scenes might just as easily have come from Chicago's lower East Side.

Brackenridge and Deep Eddy are located on Lake Austin Boulevard about two-and-a-half to three miles from the campus. There are 370 units including one, two, three, and four bedroom apartments. All utilities are furnished.

Most of the units are unfurnished. Some are classified as "furnished" and possess only the barest essentials. Refrigerators are not available in any apartment.

The dwellings are barrack structures that were built during the war by the government. Prices range from $25 for one bedroom unfurnished to $40 for the four bedroom unfurnished.

Demand for the apartments is great and the waiting list is long. Priority is given to Texas veterans, non-resident veterans, Texas residents, and non residents in that order.

"Room for much needed improvement" is the view taken by most of the present occupants. In a recent questionnaire, 20 to 1 agreed that the rent was satisfactory.

The same source listed the following items as favored at least four to one:

- New stoves needed.
- More general maintenance is needed (extermination, painting, etc.).
- New apartments should be built from the existing dwellings and rent should be on an income basis.

There seems to be no problem that money would not cure. Just enough funds are now available to keep the roofs from falling in.

Once a year the facilities are spray painted on the outside. This includes windows and bushes.

A newcomer would be prone to believe that cockroaches "own" the buildings. Should they ever resort to a show of strength it will take more than federal troops to quell their rally.

Extermination could only be effective if all residents agreed to pay for it at the same time. Efforts to do the job piecemeal have resulted only in a brief setback for the arthropods who come roaring back with reinforcements from nearby reholds.

Last summer a serious flea epidemic swept the apartments like the bubonic plague. Fortunately, they were eventually beaten down.

According to President Logan Wilson, the married student housing problem is the second big student services problem to be tackled by the Administration (parking is first).

Dr. L. B. Haskew, vice-president for developmental services stated that all student services must be self-supporting. (Only the Negro women's dorm and some of the co-ops now receive outside assistance.) In order to build any new apartments, money would have to be borrowed either from private sources or from a federal lending plan. Kinsolving was partially financed through this federal plan.

"The only contract restriction which was attached to the Brackenridge-Deep Eddy land was that it be used for education purposes. There has been much discussion of the problem but no concrete plans have been laid. Presently there are no estimates on the cost of building new apartments," Dr. Haskew said.

Re: Ned Green's Letter

To the Editor:

Your letter in the October 1, 1958, issue gave you an opportunity to show us the poor quality of students being mass produced by all integrated schools. I will profit by your experience. I will march under your banner because you know what you are talking about.

You have not let the facts muddle your brain.

Those Negroes are just no good at all, anyone whose life is worth $1.95 (on the Alabama market, less in our books) could never be good enough to marry our white sisters. I know what you mean about Mexicans being trouble makers. Look at all the medals they got during World War II, they got more medals percentage-wise than any other race; that shows just how good they are at starting trouble and fighting.

Lies, lies, that is all people say! It was not the Latins who built the first university in the New World, we Anglos did it with our saintly missionaries while the Latins were killing off the Indians (another form of trash now nearly extinct). We Anglos do not have any Tobacco Road characters, it is just brainwashing propaganda that those chill bean eaters and those niggers spread.

We ANGLOS are very nice people and have never done what we are accused of doing. We GODS came from the very finest suites in the Tower of London to civilize these lands; our credit references were outstanding in the Better Business Bureau offices of England.

Ned, write to us again and again. Your letters help our cause (and get our names in the papers). Your letters will convince the world of what we already know, that the Messyean does not belong in the white race and that the Negroes will never marry our sisters.

Band Is "Beat"

To the Editor:

I would like to say a few words about the University of Texas Longhorn Band. I have seen a number of Texas' football games since my nephew started to school there a few years ago. I recall that the type of music played and the marching style changed fairly drastically over the course of only one or two years, and furthermore, they seemed to be the nucleus of the "school spirit."

I was surprised to note, at the game in Waco, that the band seemed to be a shadow of its former self. Little yelling, little cheering, and so forth. True, they are larger in size, but they seem to march so much slower than they used to.

I wouldn't be taking too great a liberty, I think, to compare the Longhorn Band with the Texas A&M Band. Their pace is the same, they do, for the most part, dull and unexciting formations. The one notable exception is the script TEXAS formation, which is quite good. And speaking of formations, I have seen near identical half-time shows in the Baylor, Rice and SMU games. What has happened, I wonder?

LSU Maintains First in AP Poll

Hawkeyes, Army, Auburn, 2-3-4

By the Associated Press

It's going to take a stout crowbar to pry Louisiana State out of first place in the weekly Associated Press college football poll if the Tigers continue to manhandle their opponents as they did Duke last Saturday. It was their third week as No. 1 team.

The sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll, impressed by the 50-18 victory over the Blue Devils, this week again made Louisiana State No. 1, with the Iowa Hawkeyes, who clinched the Big Ten title Saturday, again in the No. 2 spot.

Army held its No. 3 position despite the fact the pulling out a victory over Rice with a long pass in the final seconds of their game at Houston.

Auburn moved from fifth to fourth place.

Auburn displaced Northwestern in the fourth place, as the Big Ten school dropped out of the top 10 as a result of its defeat by Wisconsin.

Oklahoma held its No. 6 spot. Wisconsin moved up from seventh to fifth, Mississippi jumped from ninth to seventh, Purdue held to No. 8, and the Air Force remained No. 10.

The newcomer to the select list is Texas Christian, which moved from 11th to 9th.

The top 10 teams, with the won-lost records in parentheses and points on 10-9-8, etc., basis:

1. Louisiana St. (8-0) 1,532
2. Iowa (6-0-1) 1,441
3. Army (6-0-1) 999
4. Auburn (6-0-1) 976
5. Wisconsin (5-1-1) 786
6. Oklahoma (6-1) 783
7. Mississippi (7-1) 535
8. Purdue (5-1-1) 289

Sigma Nu, Navy, Schoen Win Crowns In Class A Intramural Football

By EDWARD KNOCK

Texas Sports Staff

Sigma Nu, Schoen, and Navy advanced to the all-intramural football playoffs Monday, as they won the Class A division championships in their respective leagues.

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Oak Grove won division championships in the class B playoffs.

In the Class A fraternity division, Sigma Nu won the division championship crown by downing Sigma Phi Epsilon, 19-12.

Sigma Nu went ahead, 6-0, early in the first half as Joe L. Neal intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for a TD.

Sigma Phi Epsilon came back to tie the score at 6-6 when John Coats connected with Gerald Lott for a touchdown which covered 15 yards.

Sigma Nu came rushing back as Don Anders passed 10 yards to James Clary for the second Sigma Nu touchdown of the evening. Seconds later, Anders reeled off a 30 yard pass to Ray Mason for the final Sigma Nu touchdown. The extra point which put Sigma Nu into a 19-6 lead was scored on a pass from Anders to Harold Carter.

The game wasn't over, however, for in the latter part of the game

Sigma Phi Epsilon threatened and scored another touchdown to decrease Sigma Nu's lead to 19-12. Coats passed five yards to Lott for the last touchdown. The conversion failed.

Schoen defeated Cheeves, 20-14, to take the championship in the Class A Independent division.

Schoen increased their lead to 14-0 as Casselberry threw another touchdown pass to Don Quick. Rasts passed to Sparks for the extra point.

Cheeves came back to tie the score 14-14 by half time. The first tally was scored when Glen Von Rosenberg passed to Don Rehmlie. Von Rosenberg also passed to Dave Pevehouse for the extra point to make the score 14-7. Von Rosenberg connected with Charles Loeffler to score the second touchdown and passed to Wayne Robertson for the extra point to tie the score at 14-14.

During the second half both teams saw ownership of the ball with Schoen finally setting up a touchdown drive to score the game winning TD.

The winning tally was scored when Casselberry passed to Charles Wiser.

Navy rolled over PEM to score a 27-6 victory to take the championship crown in the club division. Navy rolled up a 20-point lead before PEM scored their first touchdown. J. W. Pieper was the big man for Navy as he passed for four touchdowns and three extra points.

PEM scored their lone tally late in the last half when Nelson Bippert passed 18 yards to James Bartin. The extra point failed.

Frogs Colorless, Just Win Games

FORT WORTH (U) — The "worst looking" football team in the Southwest Conference, Texas Christian, enters the home stretch in the drive toward a championship and the Cotton Bowl — unable to do anything except beat somebody.

Everyone is complaining about how colorless and thoroughly unimposing the Horned Frogs look. If they didn't have the best winning record in the conference they probably wouldn't draw a corporal's guard for their games.

Coach Abe Martin's sorry about the team that has "to stumble to victory" and puts on such a sorry show.

Martin warned everybody when they were picking the Frogs to win the conference championship.

He said they mustn't expect a flashy team and there would be no stars but he thought he'd have the roughest and toughest outfit yet. He predicted he'd have a good one.

Stanky Says Japanese Will Make Majors Soon

HAKONE, Japan (U) — In the opinion of Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals, Japanese baseball will be of major league caliber in 10 years.

Stanky predicted Japanese will be playing in the American majors "in the not too far future."

First Concert Hits High Note

Austin can justifiably be proud of its symphony orchestra. It is a mature group that presented a splendid concert; a group that not only enjoys playing, but also enjoys working on difficult music.

Starting out the first concert with Rossini's "Italian Woman in Algiers" overture, Ezra Rachlin led his band of musicians through a difficult concert, ranging from the classical tones and methods of Mendelssohn to the modern harmonies of Milhaud.

All sections of the orchestra

were brilliantly displayed, with the winds possibly taking the upper hand in the Rossini number.

Barbara Brazil, playing the oboe solo, made the overture a fine piece of music with her playing of the intricate parts and beautiful melodies given to the oboe.

Mendelssohn's love affair with Italy produced for the world a beautiful piece of music, the Symphony No. 4, also known as the "Italian" symphony. The melodic lines of this work, particularly in the minuet and the finale, held the attention of the audience.

Darius Milhaud's "Saudades do Brasil" is one of the most modern of the so-called modern school of music. His complicated harmony and structure seemed to frighten the orchestra as they started the piece, but as they got into it the worry wore off and the result was fine work. Milhaud combines instruments as no other composer does, or as no other composer usually cares to; but the unusual sounds sound right if played by the right group, and the Austin Symphony turned out to be that group.

Solo work in the Milhaud piece proved the beauty of the work of concert master Frederick Kruse and principal cellist Claude Kenison.

"Death and Transfiguration," the powerful tone poem by Richard Strauss, ended the concert on the same high level that was maintained in the other pieces.

Latin Art Work Now on Exhibit

Mexican Paintings At Laguna Gloria

Mexican art representing pre-Columbian, colonial, social revolt, and contemporary periods, which went on exhibit Sunday, will be up for public viewing until November 30 at the Laguna Gloria Art Gallery.

"This exhibit is one of the finest and best balanced group of paintings ever to be shown at Laguna Gloria," says Mrs. Anne H. Webb, director of the Texas Fine Arts Association.

Work of such artists as Orozco, Tamayo, Rivera, and Galvan, not to mention many other important men in art, is being shown.

Exhibits were let by private collectors in Texas, the Yale Art Gallery, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Brooklyn Museum, and museums in Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, and Santa Barbara, Calif. The Texas Library has lent two maps that are almost 300 years old from its Latin American Collection.

An open house was held Sunday on the opening day of the exhibit, which was sponsored by the Board of Directors of the Texas Fine Arts Association and the University's Committee for the International Congress of Historians of the United States and Mexico.

AN EASTERNER GONE WEST, Gregory Peck, is confronted by Chuck Connors and Burl Ives in "The Big Country," showing at the State Theater through Wednesday. The movie is a United Artist release filmed in Technicolor and Technirama.

Hollywood Matings Provide New Hobby

HOLLYWOOD — Some fellows collect stamps or blondes. But one compiles a Hollywood marriage tree for a hobby.

He's a very fellow named Dial Torgerson, and his tree is a masterpiece of complexity. It shows the inter-relationship of filmland marriages on a chart that rivals the table of organization of an infantry division.

Torgerson's triumph is in seeing how long a string he can create. The string is an uninterrupted sequence of marriage from one celebrity to another. Here is his champion of champions:

Martha Vickers was married to Mickey Rooney who was married to Ava Gardner who was married to Artie Shaw who was married to Lana Turner who was married to Bob Topping who was married to Arline Judge who was married to Dan Topping who was married to Sonja Henie.

A corker! Nine in a row and each one a solid celebrity!

Dallas Antiques Now on Display

The annual Dallas Antiques Fair opened in the Electric Building at the State Fair grounds this week, and will run through Sunday.

More than 40 antiques dealers will be present to display and sell their colorful and historical objects. Admission to the fair is $1, proceeds going to the Women's Auxiliary of the Methodist Hospital in Dallas.

Neiman-Marcus will bring to the fair a setting in the Oriental mood, including two five-foot Ming lacquered figures dating from around 1400 and a 100-piece dinner service of Derby porcelain in Imari style from about 1790.

Another table will be set with a Paul Storr silver tea service. Other exhibits include Lace Sandwich glass, Staffordshire, pewter, Texas Pattern pressed glass, honey amber and Beaded Grape glass.

Taylor Says No To Marriage Talk

HOLLYWOOD — Elizabeth Taylor Monday called a New York report that she and singer Eddie Fisher would marry within a month "complete fabrication."

"There's not a word of truth in it," the actress told a reporter.

Fisher has said there would never be a quickie divorce in "Mexico or anyplace else" from actress Debbie Reynolds.

Miss Reynolds has said she plans to file for divorce from Fisher in California, which means that the final decree is not entered for one year. Their marriage broke up last September.

The report was printed in the New York Post in a story by the paper's Hollywood columnist, Sidney Skolsky. He said his report came "from the best of sources."

Scottish Dance Group Will Entertain Women

The University's Scottish Dance Group will perform in costume Wednesday for the American Association of University Women.

The group will perform authentic Scottish dances, complete with bagpipes, at the AAUW's Dessert Party at 7:30 p.m. at the Zilker Park Club House.

Originally a class in Scottish dancing, the Scottish Dance Group was formed in 1956 by Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bunten, who were students at that time. They had learned Scottish dancing in London during World War II and made a hobby of it.

The dances to be performed at the dessert party are Dalketh's Strathspey, Petronella, and Glasgow Highlanders. UT students make up the larger part of the dance group.

Students performing Wednesday will be Mrs. Barbara Strey, Arthur Hare and Glenn Gartman, and Linda Bandy, Miriam Lamm, and Barbara Lumsden.

Physicist Consults In Auditorium Plan

Dr. C. P. Boner, professor of physics and authority on acoustics, was consultant to the architects in the building of the new Municipal Auditorium in Austin.

Particular attention has been paid to the acoustics of the auditorium. A movable soundproof wall installed at the rear of the room will insulate such disturbing sounds from without as train whistles and automobile traffic. The heating and cooling systems in the buildings are designed to operate silently. Thirty-two loud speakers installed under the balcony will insure that symphony-goers sitting under the balcony will hear the music as well as the rest of the audience will.

"Hopes are that the auditorium will be completed sometime in December," according to F. W. Vickers, auditorium manager. Seats are so arranged that there will be no bad seats in the house, Mr. Vickers said.

Kingston Trio To Perform In December

The Kingston Trio will appear at the University for two performances at 7 and 9 p.m. on Wednesday, December 17, Shirley Bird, program supervisor of the Texas Union, announced.

Sponsored by the Texas Union Council, the shows will be held in Hogg Auditorium.

"Due to conflicting dates the show cannot be held in Gregory Gym," said Miss Bird.

Winners of the Ten Most Beautiful contest are to be presented during the intermission.

Twenty-six hundred tickets for students will go on sale on the campus Monday, December 1. Austin citizens will not be able to buy tickets until the evening of the performance. Tickets are $1.25 each.

Parsons Library Adds 40,000 Books To UT's Humanities Research Center

By ROBERT PALMER
Bibliotheca Parsoniana, the Parsons "Library of libraries," brings The University of Texas a major step closer to its goal of becoming an eminent regional research center.

The 40,000-volume, 8,000-manuscript library was collected over a period of 60 years by E. A. Parsons of New Orleans, who is still active in his law practice and writing. It has been proclaimed by some of the world's most distinguished bookmen to be among "the three of four outstanding libraries in private hands."

Brought to the University in June, the acquisition of the library was made possible in large part by the support of Mr. and Mrs.

St. John Garwood of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Will Clayton of Houston and the M. D. Anderson Foundation of Houston.

Instrumental in negotiating for the library, Dr. Harry H. Ransom, Vice-President of the Main University and Provost, has said of the collections, "There is nothing like it in Texas today."

A main aspect of the library's significance is its potentiality for encouraging research. Possibilities for the critic, biographer, and historian are practically endless. Dr. Ransom has said concerning the new library's research potential.

The addition of the library enabled the University to double its present rare book holdings. Mr. Parsons' decision to sell the library rested heavily on two factors. The University assured him that his library would be perpetuated, and that it would be used in creative writing efforts, graduate study and post doctoral research.

Priceless is the word which best describes the library. Americana collections contain manuscripts relating to the Louisiana Territory, including the original copy of the Convention between France and the United States. Papers of the pirate Jean LaFitte, secret reports to Napoleon concerning the Floridas, and material on the Aaron Burr conspiracy also are included in the collection.

Besides the Americana contained in the library, there is a classics section which contains first editions of all the major Greek and Latin classics and more than 500 valuable research sources printed before 1500. More than 100 of these books are in perfect condition.

Temporarily the library will be located in the Main Building Tower. As soon as arrangements can be made the library will be lodged in special quarters and will be made available to all interested students not only from the University but from all over Texas.

ONE OF THE MOST UNUSUAL BINDINGS on books contained in the Parsons Library is this old Coptic testament, held by Dr. Thomas Cranfill of the English Department. The cover is silver-based and gilded. The priceless collection is a recent acquisition of the University's Humanities Research Center. In the words of Vice-President and Provost Harry H. Ransom, "There is nothing like it in Texas today." The 40,000 volume, 8,000-manuscript library is the fruit of 60 years' collection by E. A. Parsons of New Orleans.

Europe Work For Students Again Offered

The American Student Information Service again has jobs to offer to American university students who wish to work in Europe next summer.

Most of the jobs are on farms, in factories, on construction projects, at resorts, with the forestry service, and in various technical industries. Non-technical jobs are available to anyone desiring to broaden his European travel experience, and provide free room and board and a small amount of pocket money. Technical jobs pay approximately $100 a month.

The ASIS was founded last year as a non-profit organization to promote closer relations and understanding between peoples of Europe and America.

Round-trip tickets aboard the less expensive liners cost $350-400, depending upon the port of debarkation in Europe. A 10 per cent deposit is required to hold the space. Charter flight will cost approximately $400 roundtrip. A $50 deposit is required to hold a seat aboard a charter flight.

Those who wish to work in Europe next summer must join the ASIS at a cost of $12. In addition to the fee, the organization requires the student's name, university address, age, sex, course of study, previous work experience, and the date the student wishes to begin working.

Interested students may write to the American Student Information Service, Joseph - Ludwig - Str. 48, Limburg/Lahn, Germany for complete information.

Spelunker's First Aid Course Will Begin Tonight in Union

At the request of the Speleological Society, R. G. Dillard, Red Cross volunteer first aid instructor, will begin a first aid course for cave explorers at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union Building.

Mr. Dillard linked the group's first aid training needs to those of mountain climbers, but is adapting the Red Cross Standard First Aid course to meet the needs of the group.

Primary emphasis will be given to items such as transportation methods for injured, splinting of fractures, and first aid for bleeding, sprains, shock, and insect bites. Detailed instructions on administering artificial respiration under varying conditions will be given.

Mr. Dillard said that more students will be accepted Wednesday night from the student body and that more instructors will be added if the turnout is large enough.

Sessions will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday. Each member of the Society must complete 12 hours of first aid training.

You have to get up mighty early...
to give the kind of service that's building America's second largest telephone system

When it comes to service we aim to deliver the goods. Result: we're growing fast! For in Gen Tel Territory, America is finding the room the overcrowded big cities can no longer supply. New homes, new stores, new factories are springing up fast.

And so is the need for up-to-the-minute telephone communications. That's where Gen Tel comes in big. To meet the growing need for telephone service, we're installing 750 new phones each day, investing almost 4 million dollars each week in new facilities.

At Gen Tel we're working overtime to develop new uses for the telephone to keep ahead of the growing need for better and more complete communications. That's one reason we are America's second largest telephone system.

No doubt about it, America is on the move. And Gen Tel is moving with it—moving up.

Issues Lecturer To Be Honored By Reception

Wernher von Braun Will Speak Tuesday About Sputnik Age

A reception honoring Dr. Wernher von Braun, Army missile scientist, will be held in the Main Lounge of the Texas Union after his talk in Hogg Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Discussing "Education in the Sputnik Age," Dr. von Braun will appear as the third lecturer in the Great Issues Series.

Dr. von Braun will answer questions in the discussion period after his speech.

As developmental operations director of the United States Army Ordnance Command, von Braun guided development of the Jupiter C missile, and a composite re-entry test missile. His agency also aided in the launching of Explorer I.

The missile scientist has received several awards in recognition of his defense work. In 1955, he received the Astronautics Award from the American Rocket Society, and in 1957 he was given the Space Flight Award from the American Astronautical Society and the Distinguished Civilian Service Award by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. He also received the Decoration for Exceptional Civilian Service from the Department of the Army and a Citation of Merit by the National Military Industrial Conference in Chicago in 1958.

Dr. von Braun was awarded the United States Chamber of Commerce Award for "Great Living Americans," the Certificate of Merit from the William Penn Fraternal Association of Pittsburgh, and the Dr. Robert H. Goddard Memorial Trophy in 1958.

For his work in the missile field, he has received honorary degrees from the University of Alabama, St. Louis University, the University of Chattanooga, and the University of Pittsburgh.

Students and faculty will be admitted to the lecture free. Others may purchase tickets for 50 cents at Music Building 104. Tickets will also be on sale Tuesday night at Hogg Auditorium.

ISA Approves Plan For Men's Co-op

A plan for establishing a men's co-op housing project was approved by the executive council of the Independent Students' Association Monday night.

Applications from 20 students seeking membership in the co-op must be obtained before the operation can go into effect. Seven residences have been suggested for the home of the proposed co-op.

Bill Wilson, ISA vice-president, proposed the project. He said petitioning the Inter-Co-Op Council for a women's co-op also would be impractical because of the present University policy discouraging new women's co-ops.

In other action, the executive council:

- Appointed Rex Henger, an ISA member, to serve as chairman of the ISA social program.
- Approved a ballroom dance class to be taught by Jack McClellan, local dance instructor.
- Announced a hayride for November 21 at 5 p.m.

UT Earns AF Award

Parade to Commemorate Vets' Day

By JIM HAYNES

The Department of Defense will present its Reserve Award to the University Tuesday noon in recognition of the University's participation in the Air Force's Reserve Programs.

A joint review of University ROTC units will be given for the presentation on Whittaker Field. University Vice President F. Lanier Cox will accept the Reserve Award.

This is the second time the University has been honored for its support of reserve programs, having received a commendation award from the Secretary of the Navy in 1946 for support of naval training programs during World War II.

Brig. Gen. Ivan W. McElroy, commander of the Air Division 834, England Air Force Base, Ala.,

will make the presentation on behalf of the Department of Defense. Representatives for area reserve commands of the three armed services will attend, and all University personnel are invited to come.

Tuesday is Veterans' Day, and the ceremonies on the intramural field will remind many at the University of bygone days when Armistice Day was celebrated with memorial services, fireworks, and walks from classes.

There are several reminders of Armistice Day around the campus—the largest being Memorial Stadium, dedicated to the men and women of Texas who gave their lives in World War I.

Plaques on the stadium walls at entrances list some of the almost 100 University students who were killed in 1917-18. The stadium,

Inaugural Broadcast Dedicates KUT-FM

Three ... Two ... One ... And UT Radio Is on the Air

With Host John McCoy, right, listening intently over his ear phones, Jimmy Moore and Ann Hufendick, University sweetheart, wait for Joe Lee Smith to accept the FM radio which he won as a door prize at the dedicatory broadcast of KUT-FM Monday night in the Texas Union. The Longhorn Dance Band which played for the opening broadcast is in the background.

Four hours and seven minutes. That was it, the short inaugural broadcast Monday night of KUT-FM.

A fast start got the initial broadcast under way at 6:30 p.m. "The Eyes of Texas" boomed forth to herald the opening of the new radio voice of The University of Texas. KUT-FM was on the air.

The new educational station sounded as professional as many stations which have been on the air for many years. R. F. Schenckan, director of Radio/Television, said.

"We are delighted. We are getting a good signal and our announcers are doing a fine job," Mr. Schenckan said.

The dedicatory broadcast was at 7 p.m. in the Texas Union with the Longhorn Dance Band providing the music. John McCoy was host. An FM radio, the door prize for the opening ceremonies, was won by Joe Lee Smith, a freshman from Austin.

Two more special programs were broadcast Monday night in addition to the station's regular shows.

The third special broadcast was a taped delayed broadcast of the first portion of the Austin Symphony Orchestra's opening concert of the season.

Regular news, sports, and music shows were also carried by the station. At 10:37 p.m., KUT-FM ended its first broadcast night.

Among the persons extending their congratulations were Robert L. Bartley, a Federal Communications Commissioner and a native Texan; Allen Ludden, program director of WGBS in New York City and a University graduate, and Frank Schooley, president of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

KUT-FM will broadcast Monday through Friday from 7 to 10:30 p.m. with the exception of Thursday nights. On Thursdays the station remains on the air until 10:45 p.m. with special German teaching tapes.

FBI, Police Trail City Bank Bandit

Austin police and FBI agents late Monday continued a search for an unnamed bandit who took $2,000 from the City National Bank in a daylight robbery earlier in the day.

Teller Jim Connolly said a man in his late twenties entered the bank about noon and presented a note. "I have explosives and will blow up the bank if you do not give me the money," the note read.

Connolly gave the bandit the money. The robber then walked to the front door and fled.

The teller said the bandit was approximately five feet, nine inches tall and weighed about 160 pounds.

Austin police have assigned 20 men to investigate the robbery. Federal agents also came from San Antonio to reinforce local FBI men.

An FBI agent reported the robbery was the first national bank robbery in Austin since the prohibition days of the Thirties.

"Nominations will be welcomed from all campus organizations," Mr. Chapman said. Only four entrants may represent each organization.

This year's Aqua Carnival program will follow a Latin theme. The Carnival will be held December 11-13.

Wally Pryor will act as master of ceremonies.

Young Democrats To Hear Senator

Senator Ralph Yarborough will speak at the first fall business meeting of the Young Democratic Club Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Garrison Hall, Room 1.

The meeting is open to the public and "especially to the Young Democratic members and those interested in the club," said Ernest Christian, club president.

Senator Yarborough graduated with highest honors from the University of Texas Law School in 1927. While at the University, he was the first "grader" for Dr. Robert Montgomery of the Economics Department. Dr. Montgomery will introduce Senator Yarborough.

Papers Thrown off Tower Ask Civil Liberty for Communists

Mimeographed slips of paper saying outlawing of the Communist party is a blow to our personal liberty came floating down from the top of the tower about 11 a.m. Monday, a bystander, Jack Soodhalter, said.

"I couldn't see anyone on the tower," Soodhalter said, "but I did see about a thousand slips of paper coming down. Most of them were carried off by the wind or fell in trees and didn't touch the ground."

Soodhalter said the slips were thrown from the north side of the tower toward the Biology Building.

The slip is signed by the "Free People's Com. of Texas" and says: "The outlawing of the Communist party is a blow to our personal liberty. It creates two classes of citizens—those who choose to conform in their political beliefs and those who choose not to do so."

"Whether you believe with us or not, help us to regain our fundamental civil liberties. Write to your congressmen and let them know that you oppose unfair oppression of any political idea. Support the Free People's Com. of Texas."

Arno Nowotny, dean of student life, said the organization is not registered with the University and had not sought permission to distribute the material.

Dean Jack Holland and Bill Hall, assistant dean of student life, said there is no regulation against distribution of literature on the cam-

Ike Outlines Asian Aid

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE — President Eisenhower Monday outlined a major five-point program of long-term economic assistance to Free Asia. He called on other free nations to join the United States in sharing the burden of a "great crusade for growth in freedom."

Desegregated School Blasted in W. Virginia

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — An integrated school in a small northern West Virginia coal mining town was bombed Monday in early morning darkness.

Charles A. Stevenson, superintendent of Monongalia County schools, said there was no evidence from racial troubles. The FBI began an immediate investigation.

The explosion ripped through the ground floor of the empty two-story brick schoolhouse in Osage, four miles northwest of Morgantown.

The school served about 250 pupils in the first three grades and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Classes for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades are held in the old Osage Negro school.

In Pittsburgh, an FBI spokesman said: "It looks like a professional job. From what we know now it looks like someone outside the community did it." Stevenson said it would cost an estimated $350,000 to replace the structure.

It was the first such bombing incident reported in West Virginia.

Monongalia County was the first in West Virginia to integrate its schools and the 17-room Osage school is in the fourth year of integration.

Bombs have damaged five Jewish structures this year in three

Southern states, and schools in two states in the South have been blasted.

Three large churches at Miami received telephoned bomb threats Sunday, but no bombs were found at any of the structures. Negroes recently had attended services uninvited at two of the churches—each Protestant. The third church threatened is Roman Catholic.

School Heads Meet In Evaluation Study

The eighth annual southwestern conference on improving preparation programs for school administrators has more than 100 educators from the Southwest participating in the four-day meeting.

Educators began conferring Monday morning in Texas Union.

The conference has two major undertakings:

- developing an evaluation instrument for preparation programs for school administrators, and

- developing specific plans for a continuous co-operative program in educational administration in the Southwest.

Leaders plan to test evaluation instruments developed in the conference in institutions of higher learning in this region.

Financial support for the conference from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation terminates in August, 1959. Since 1950, the Foundation has been instrumental in realizing many of the goals envisioned by the National Conference of Professors of Educational Administration.

Child rearing in the United States and Russia will be contrasted in a public lecture Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Batts Hall Auditorium.

The speaker will be Dr. Milton J. E. Senn, professor of pediatrics and psychiatry at Yale University and director of Yale's Child Study Center.

The lecture is one in a series on "Personality Development in Children," an interdepartmental 75th Year program. Dr. Senn's topic is "Reflections on the Care and Rearing of Children."

Dr. Senn spoke on the "Roles of Medical Discipline in the Study of Personality Development." A coffee in his honor was held Monday in Mezes Hall.

At his Monday speech Dr. Senn said that a successful development of medical discipline depended greatly upon collaboration between the social sciences and the medical department.

Dr. Senn said that a combination of the two forces would be valuable.

He also stressed the fact that there should be further co-operation between the Main University and the University Medical School.

King Hussein Charges VAR With Air Attack

LONDON — Jordan's King Hussein told his people that jet fighters of the United Arab Republic attacked his plane over Syria Monday.

Hussein said the UAR planes attempted to force him to land in Damascus. Instead, he said, he flew back toward Amman, but was attacked six times before he reached the border.

Reds Ready to Withdraw

MOSCOW — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called Monday for an end to the four-power division of Berlin. He indicated the Soviets were ready to quit that city.

Khrushchev announced that the Soviet Union, on its part, will hand over to East Germany those functions in Berlin which are still handled by Soviet organs.

US Rejects Red Call

WASHINGTON — The United States Monday bluntly rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for an end to four-power occupation of Berlin.

Dallas Problem Lingers

DALLAS — A state District Court ruled Monday it had no jurisdiction in a Dallas School integration case. Federal courts previously had ruled that jurisdiction did not lie there.

The action of Judge W. L. Thornton in upholding the contention of Attorney General Will Wilson left the Dallas School District with its same old problem of having to integrate at a two million dollar loss of state funds.

Lookin' For A Home

Colonel Brackenridge didn't know what he was in for when he gave the lands bordering Lake Austin (next to Tom Miller Dam) to the University of Texas "for educational purposes."

It looks like most of the big ruckuses being raised these days concern what's right, what's wrong, and what oughta be done with that land.

Just recently it was the dispute—including a long list of student petition signatures to the Board of Regents—over establishing student-faculty waterfront and recreational facilities on the property now occupied by the private Bennett's Boat Docks.

This hue and cry has evidently run into the old brick wall of "no available funds in sight."

Now from the East end of the Brackenridge Tract area is coming the old familiar howl — for better married student housing. They claim the "emergency provision" tenement section of present "low-cost married student housing" is a disgrace to the University of Texas.

One quick glance at the housing projects will show that these units are no cut-rate Waldorf-Astorias, by any means.

So what is to be done about all this? Most married students can't afford to buy the sort of housing that they really need. Should the University foot the bills for the difference? Should the University support married student housing when they expect all other student housing projects to support themselves? Where is the money to come from when the U of T is now heading for a tremendous fight on its hands to preserve the facilities — and state support — that it has now?

These are all key questions — but a quick administrative shrug of the shoulders . . . perhaps a wistful, tearful look is not going to solve the problem.

First of all, the University should make a thorough survey of the married student housing situation — find out just exactly how much the units would cost.

Perhaps some of the married student crop could buy higher-cost, small profit-making housing of high quality that would help support the overall project. A complete poll of all married students should be taken; exact needs should be itemized.

Dr. Haskew says that no clear estimates are available for the exact cost of such housing. These should be gathered.

Such institutions as Texas A&M and the University of Arkansas already have sizeable married student housing projects.

If federal loans could be gotten for Kinsolving Dormitory and the Union expansion, we see no reason why such could not be pushed for married student housing.

More than 4,000 students at UT are married. We can no longer consider their presence as a "post-war emergency situation." If the University sincerely wants to meet the needs of the student body, to help aid in the financial problems that inhibit or prevent a college education . . . then here's an area that must be tackled immediately.

'Space Man' Aboard

The man behind America's breath-taking space age count-downs, the quarter-back for the US's "do or die" crash program in missile production, Dr. Werner Von Braun, will speak tonight in Hogg Auditorium.

Here is the pioneering American in an era beyond the wildest dreams of our great-great grandfathers. Here is a bold adventurer, a richly-imaginative genius at the head of our most sensitive and spotlighted production center.

The focus falls on Dr. von Braun as the United States steps closer and closer to looking the "man in the moon" face-to-face, hoping to get there a few steps ahead of Ivan.

We're proud to have on our campus this man who not only gazes at the stars but goes after 'em . . . in the true Texan tradition. The "Davy Crockett" of the Space Age.

Shucks, ma'am. What higher compliment kin we pay?

Oh, Rally?

A recent editorial in the Austin American tells of the turn in political campaigning this year.

Describing the dwindling emphasis on the "once standard political rallies," it notes that:

"This approach always has been regarded with skepticism in some quarters. Admittedly it helps the morals of the party workers . . ."

Well, now, fellas, I wouldn't go that far . . .

And Away We Go!

On the air. After long last . . . financial stumblings, administrative grumblings, student balking on Blanket Tax appropriations, etc. . . . UT's own KUT-FM is really "live."

Our heartiest congratulations to the Department of Radio-Television, particularly Mr. Robert Schenckan, and others who worked so hard to pull the station out of the "dream" stage into reality. Student Manager John McCoy and his volunteer staff, and all who have contributed financially and time-wise to bring the project to completion.

We're sure, also, that the real impact and importance of the station will grow day-by-day in the University community.

Though we have no desire to point to the thorns midst the roses (namely, departmental control and faculty supervision rather than direct student control of the station), we do wish to express our sincere hopes that someday the station will be more than a "teaching laboratory."

We hope that someday the station will be controlled by a student majority board of directors, allowing credit work to be done on the station for Radio-TV—but stressing the overall campus responsibility . . . and remaining free for student expression and all-campus experience.

Then will it truly be the "students' voice."

'Til then . . . we're still proud that UT's own KUT-FM finally is on the air.

Up, Up, Up . . .

Note to Dr. Von Braun:

Sir, we were just wondering if perhaps you could help us with some problems of "celestial mechanics" that we've run into here just recently.

It concerns the University of Texas and its relation with "outer space."

Sir, do you think there's some way we could get a first-class appropriation into orbit . . .

Without being held back by the gravitational force of:

- The State Comptroller?
- The Commission on Higher Education?
- The Texas Legislature?

It's a pretty tricky launching job.

'Emergency Steps' Life for Marrieds

By HAL SIMMONS

The dilemma of married student housing has been progressing at a slow crawl for the past ten years toward the jumping-off place. Brackenridge and Deep Eddy apartments have served as emergency provisions, but they now create a new problem.

Living conditions at the married housing units are really scraping the bottom. The pictures showing some of the actual scenes might just as easily have come from Chicago's lower East Side.

Brackenridge and Deep Eddy are located on Lake Austin Boulevard about two-and-a-half to three miles from the campus. There are 570 units including one, two, three, and four bedroom apartments. All utilities are furnished.

Most of the units are unfurnished. Some are classified as "furnished" and possess only the barest essentials. Refrigerators are not available in any apartment.

The dwellings are barrack structures that were built during the war by the government. Prices range from $25 for one bedroom unfurnished to $40 for the four bedroom unfurnished.

Demand for the apartments is great and the waiting list is long. Priority is given to Texas veterans, non-resident veterans, Texas residents, and non-residents in that order.

"Room for much needed improvement" is the view taken by most of the present occupants. In a recent questionnaire, 20 to 1 agreed that the rent was satisfactory.

The same source listed the following items as favored at least four to one:

- New stoves needed.
- More general maintenance is needed (extermination, painting, etc.).
- New apartments should be built from the existing dwellings and rent should be on an income basis.

There seems to be no problem that money would not cure. Just enough funds are now available to keep the roofs from falling in.

Once a year the facilities are sprayed painted on the outside. This includes windows and bushes.

A newcomer would be prone to believe that cockroaches "own" the buildings. Should they ever resort to a show of strength it will take more than federal troops to quell their rally.

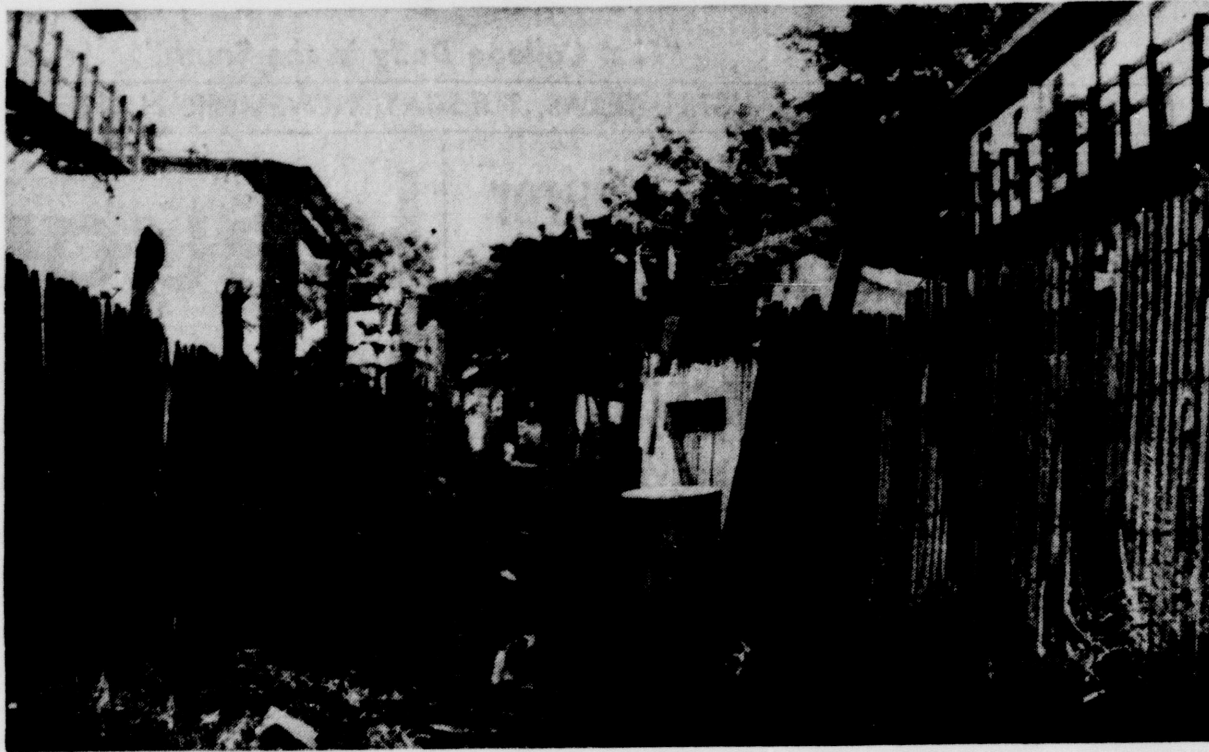

Extermination could only be effective if all residents agreed to pay for it at the same time. Efforts to do the job piecemeal have resulted only in a brief setback for the arthropods who come roaring back with reinforcements from nearby strongholds.

Last summer a serious flea epidemic swept the apartments like the bubonic plague. Fortunately, they were eventually beaten down.

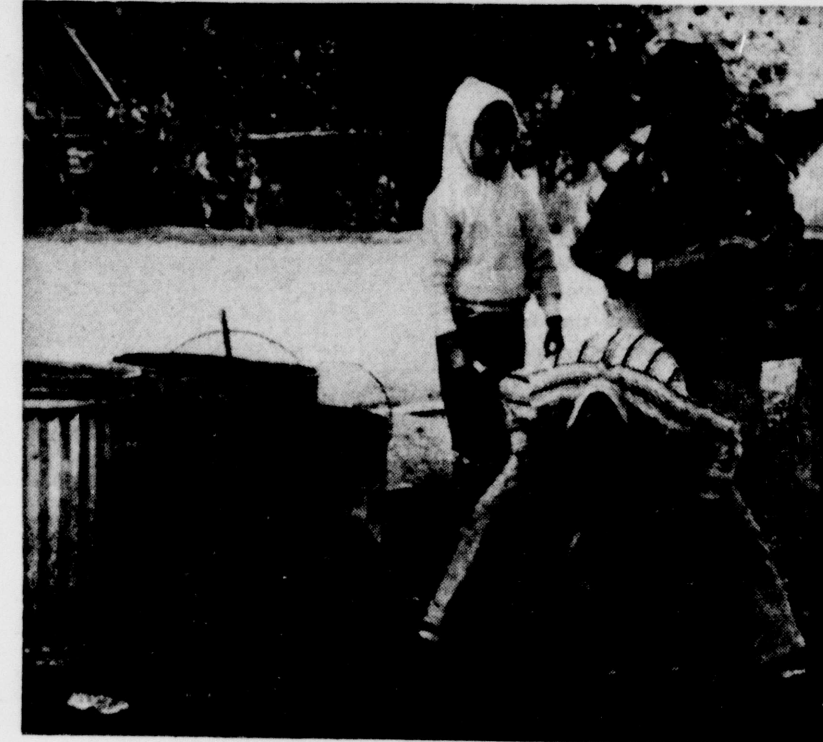

According to President Logan Wilson, the married student housing problem is the second big student services problem to be tackled by the Administration (parking is first).

Dr. L. B. Haskew, vice-president for developmental services stated that all student services must be self-supporting. (Only the Negro women's dorm and some of the co-ops now receive outside assistance.) In order to build any new apartments, money would have to be borrowed either from private sources or from a federal lending plan. Kinsolving was partially financed through this federal plan.

"The only contract restriction which was attached to the Brackenridge-Deep Eddy land was that it be used for education purposes. There has been much discussion of the problem but no concrete plans have been laid. Presently there are no estimates on the cost of building new apartments," Dr. Haskew said.

Re: Ned Green's Letter

To the Editor:

Your letter in the October 1, 1958, issue gave you an opportunity to show us the poor quality of students being mass produced by all integrated schools. I will profit by your experience. I will march under your banner because you know what you are talking about.

You have not let the facts muddle your brain.

Those Negroes are just no good at all, anyone whose life is worth $1.95 (on the Alabama market, less in our books) could never be good enough to marry our white sisters. I know what you mean about Mexicans being trouble makers. Look at all the medals they got during World War II. They got more medals percentage-wise than any other race; that shows just how good they are at starting trouble and fighting.

Lies, lies, that is all people say! It was not the Latins who built the first university in the New World, we Anglos did it with our saintly missionaries while the Latins were killing off the Indians (another low form of trash now nearly extinct). We Anglos do not have any Tobacco Road characters, it is just brainwashing propaganda that those chill bean eaters and those niggers spread.

We ANGLOS are very nice people and have never done what we are accused of doing. We GODS came from the very finest suites in the Tower of London to civilize these lands; our credit references were outstanding in the Better Business Bureau offices of England.

Ned, write to us again and again. Your letters help our cause (and get our names in the papers). Your letters will convince the world of what we already know, that the Messyans does not belong in the white race and that the Negroes will never marry our sisters.

Band Is "Beat"

To the Editor:

I would like to say a few words about the University of Texas Longhorn Band. I have seen a number of Texas' football games since my nephew started to school there a few years ago. I recall that the type of music played and the marching style changed fairly drastically over the course of only one or two years, and furthermore, they seemed to be the nucleus of the "school spirit."

I was surprised to note, at the game in Waco, that the band seemed to be a shadow of its former self. Little yelling, little bell-ringing, and so forth. True, they are larger in size, but they seem to march so much slower than they used to.

I wouldn't be taking too great a liberty, I think, to compare the Longhorn Band with the Texas A&M Band. Their pace is the same, they do, for the most part, dull and unexciting formations. The one notable exception is the script TEXAS formation, which is quite good. And speaking of formations, I have seen near-identical half-time shows in the Baylor, Rice and SMU games. What has happened, I wonder?

LSU Maintains First in AP Poll

Hawkeyes, Army, Auburn, 2-3-4

By the Associated Press

It's going to take a stout crowbar to pry Louisiana State out of first place in the weekly Associated Press college football poll if the Tigers continue to manhandle their opponents as they did Duke last Saturday. It was their third week as No. 1 team.

The sportswriters and sportscasters participating in the poll, impressed by the 50-18 victory over the Blue Devils, this week again made Louisiana State No. 1, with the Iowa Hawkeyes, who clinched the Big Ten title Saturday, again in the No. 2 spot.

Army held its No. 3 position despite the fact the willing Cadets had a bad score, pulling out a victory over Rice with a long pass in the final seconds of their game at Houston.

Auburn moved from fifth to fourth place. Auburn displaced Northwestern in the fourth place, as the Big Ten school dropped out of the top 10 as a result of its defeat by Wisconsin.

Oklahoma held its No. 6 spot. Wisconsin moved up from seventh to fifth, Mississippi jumped from ninth to seventh, Purdue held to No. 8, and the Air Force remained No. 10.

The newcomer to the select list is Texas Christian, which moved from 11th to 9th.

The top 10 teams, with the won-lost records in parentheses and points on 10-9-8, etc., basis:

1. Louisiana St. (8-0) 1,532
2. Iowa (6-0-1) 1,441
3. Army (6-0-1) 999
4. Auburn (6-0-1) 976
5. Wisconsin (5-1-1) 786
6. Oklahoma (5-1) 783
7. Mississippi (7-1) 535
8. Purdue (5-1-1) 289
9. Texas Christian (6-1) 287
10. Air Force (6-0-1) 249

Second ten: North Carolina 218; Syracuse 179; Northwestern 166; Pittsburgh 152; Southern Methodist 67; Ohio State 59; Rice 43; Florida 37; Rutgers 35; Georgia Tech 19.

Sigma Nu, Navy, Schoen Win Crowns In Class A Intramural Football

By EDWARD KNOCKE

Texas Sports Staff

Sigma Nu, Schoen, and Navy advanced to the all-intramural football playoffs Monday, as they won the Class A division championships in their respective leagues.

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Oak Grove won division championships in the class B playoffs.

In the Class A fraternity division, Sigma Nu won the division championship crown by downing Sigma Phi Epsilon, 19-12.

Sigma Nu went ahead, 6-0, early in the first half as Joe L. Neal intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for a TD.

Sigma Phi Epsilon came back to tie the score at 6-6 when John Coats connected with Gerald Lott for a touchdown which covered 15 yards.

Sigma Nu came rushing back as Don Anders passed 10 yards to James Clary for the second Sigma Nu touchdown of the evening. Seconds later, Anders reeled off a 30 yard pass to Ray Mason for the final Sigma Nu touchdown. The extra point which put Sigma Nu into a 19-6 lead was scored on a pass from Anders to Harold Carter.

The game wasn't over, however, for in the latter part of the game

Sigma Phi Epsilon threatened and scored another touchdown to decrease Sigma Nu's lead to 19-12. Coats passed five yards to Lott for the last touchdown. The conversion failed.

Schoen defeated Cheeves, 20-14, to take the championship in the Class A Independent division.

Frogs Colorless, Just Win Games

FORT WORTH (U) — The "worst looking" football team in the Southwest Conference, Texas Christian, enters the home stretch in the drive toward a championship and the Cotton Bowl — unable to do anything except beat somebody.

Everyone is complaining about how colorless and thoroughly unimposing the Horned Frogs look. If they didn't have the best winning record in the conference they probably wouldn't draw a corporal's guard for their games.

Coach Abe Martin's sorry about the team that has "to stumble to victory" and puts on such a sorry show.

Martin warned everybody when they were picking the Frogs to win the conference championship.

He said they mustn't expect a flashy team and there would be no stars but he thought he'd have the roughest and toughest outfit yet. He predicted he'd have a good one.

Stanky Says Japanese Will Make Majors Soon

HAKONE, Japan (U) — In the opinion of Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals, Japanese baseball will be of major league caliber in 10 years.

Stanky predicted Japanese will be playing in the American majors "in the not too far future."

First Concert Hits High Note

GEORGE LIBERACE (the violinist) and songstress Mary Meade French at the new, aluminum-domed Casa Manana Theater in Fort Worth through Friday. The production will be presented "in-the-round."

'Brother George' To Make Journey

"Musical Journey," starring George Liberace, has been billed by the Casa Manana Musicals in Fort Worth for three nights, Wednesday through Friday.

Students going to Fort Worth for the Texas-TCU game who want to see the Friday night performance at the aluminum domed Casa Manana Theater may get tickets by writing Casa Manana Musicals, 3101 West Lancaster, Fort Worth.

Austin can justifiably be proud of its symphony orchestra. It is a mature group that presented a splendid concert; a group that not only enjoys playing, but also enjoys working on difficult music.

Starting out the first concert with Rossini's "Italian Woman in Algiers" overture, Ezra Rachlin led his band of musicians through a difficult concert, ranging from the classical tones and methods of Mendelssohn to the modern harmonies of Milhaud.

All sections of the orchestra

Jazz Club to Meet

The first Austin Jazz Club will be formed Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the University "Y." The club has been discussed for several weeks and all interested are invited to come. The pioneers of this new movement say that a combo will be on hand "to start things right." They especially invite musicians to come with horns.

were brilliantly displayed, with the winds possibly taking the upper hand in the Rossini number.

Barbara Brazil, playing the oboe solo, made the overture a fine piece of music with her playing of the intricate parts and beautiful melodies given to the oboe.

Mendelssohn's love affair with Italy produced for the world a beautiful piece of music, the Symphony No. 4, also known as the "Italian" symphony. The melodic lines of this work, particularly in the minuet and the finale, held the attention of the audience.

Darius Milhaud's "Saudades do Brasil" is one of the most modern of the so-called modern school of music. His complicated harmony and structure seemed to frighten the orchestra as they started the piece, but as they got into it the worry wore off and the result was fine work. Milhaud combines instruments as no other composer does, or as no other composer usually cares to; but the unusual sounds sound right if played by the right group, and the Austin Symphony turned out to be that group.

Solo work in the Milhaud piece proved the beauty of the work of concert master Frederick Kruse and principal cellist Claude Kenison.

"Death and Transfiguration," the powerful tone poem by Richard Strauss, ended the concert on the same high level that was maintained in the other pieces.

Latin Art Work Now on Exhibit

Mexican Paintings At Laguna Gloria

Mexican art representing pre-Columbian, colonial, social revolt, and contemporary periods, which went on exhibit Sunday, will be up for public viewing until November 30 at the Laguna Gloria Art Gallery.

"This exhibit is one of the finest and best balanced group of paintings ever to be shown at Laguna Gloria," says Mrs. Anne H. Webb, director of the Texas Fine Arts Association.

Work of such artists as Orozco, Tamayo, Rivera, and Galvan, not to mention many other important men in art, is being shown.

Exhibits were let by private collectors in Texas, the Yale Art Gallery, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Brooklyn Museum, and museums in Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, and Santa Barbara, Calif. The Texas Library has lent two maps that are almost 300 years old from its Latin American Collection.

An open house was held Sunday on the opening day of the exhibit, which was sponsored by the Board of Directors of the Texas Fine Arts Association and the University's Committee on the International Congress of Historians of the United States and Mexico.

Soprano Will Sing

Barbara Louise Smith, soprano, will be presented in a senior recital by the Student Recital Series of the Department of Music at 4 p.m. Friday in Recital Hall, Music Building.

A pupil of Mrs. Edra Gustafson, Miss Smith will be accompanied by Miss Marian Yeager, assistant professor of music.

Her program will include "Non Piu Fara Sassi," Porpora; "O, Cesare Di Piagnami," Scarlatti; "Porfira Vecchiarella," Stradella;

Physicist Consults In Auditorium Plan

Dr. C. P. Boner, professor of physics and authority on acoustics, was consultant to the architects in the building of the new Municipal Auditorium in Austin.

Particular attention has been paid to the acoustics of the auditorium. A movable soundproof wall installed at the rear of the room will insulate such disturbing sounds from without as train whistles and automobile traffic. The heating and cooling systems in the buildings are designed to operate silently. Thirty-two loud speakers installed under the balcony will insure that symphonygoers sitting under the balcony will hear the music as well as the rest of the audience will.

"Hopes are that the auditorium will be completed sometime in December," according to F. W. Vickers, auditorium manager. Seats are so arranged that there will be no bad seats in the house, Mr. Vickers said.

Hollywood Matings Provide New Hobby

HOLLYWOOD — Some fellows collect stamps or blondes. But one compiles a Hollywood marriage tree for a hobby.

He's a wry fellow named Dial Torgerson, and his tree is a masterpiece of complexity. It shows the inter-relationship of filmland marriages on a chart that rivals the table of organization of an infantry division.

Torgerson's triumph is in seeing how long a string he can create. The string is an uninterrupted sequence of marriage from one celebrity to another. Here is his champion of champions:

Martha Vickers was married to Mickey Rooney who was married to Ava Gardner who was married to Artie Shaw who was married to Lana Turner who was married to Bob Topping who was married to Arline Judge who was married to Dan Topping who was married to Sonja Henie.

A corker! Nine in a row and each one a solid celebrity!

Dallas Antiques Now on Display

The annual Dallas Antiques Fair opened in the Electric Building at the State Fair grounds this week, and will run through Sunday.

More than 40 antiques dealers will be present to display and sell their colorful and historical objects. Admission to the fair is $1, proceeds going to the Women's Auxiliary of the Methodist Hospital in Dallas.

Neiman-Marcus will bring to the fair a setting in the Oriental mood, including two five-foot Ming lacquered figures dating from around 1400 and a 100-piece dinner service of Derby porcelain in Inari style from about 1790.

Another table will be set with a Paul Storr silver tea service. Other exhibits include Lace Sandwich glass, Staffordshire, pewter, Texas Pattern pressed glass, honey amber and Beaded Grape glass.

Taylor Says No To Marriage Talk

HOLLYWOOD — Elizabeth Taylor Monday called a New York report that she and singer Eddie Fisher would marry within a month "complete fabrication."

"There's not a word of truth in it," the actress told a reporter.

Fisher has said there would never be a quickie divorce in "Mexico or anyplace else" from actress Debbie Reynolds.

Miss Reynolds has said she plans to file for divorce from Fisher in California, which means that the final decree is not entered for one year. Their marriage broke up last September.

The report was printed in the New York Post in a story by the paper's Hollywood columnist, Sidney Skolsky. He said his report came "from the best of sources."

Parsons Library Adds 40,000 Books To UT's Humanities Research Center

By ROBERT PALMER
Bibliotheca Parsoniana, the Parsons "Library of libraries," brings The University of Texas a major step closer to its goal of becoming an eminent regional research center.

The 40,000-volume, 8,000-manuscript library was collected over a period of 60 years by E. A. Parsons of New Orleans, who is still active in his law practice and writing. It has been proclaimed by some of the world's most distinguished bookmen to be among "the three of four outstanding libraries in private hands."

Brought to the University in June, the acquisition of the library was made possible in large part by the support of Mr. and Mrs.

St. John Garwood of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Will Clayton of Houston and the M. D. Anderson Foundation of Houston.

Instrumental in negotiating for the library, Dr. Harry H. Ransom, Vice-President of the Main University and Provost, has said of the collections, "There is nothing like it in Texas today."

A main aspect of the library's significance is its potentiality for encouraging research. Possibilities for the critic, biographer, and historian are practically endless. Dr. Ransom has said concerning the new library's research potential.

The addition of the library enabled the University to double its present rare book holdings. Mr. Parsons' decision to sell the library rested heavily on two factors. The University assured him that his library would be perpetuated, and that it would be used in creative writing efforts, graduate study and post doctoral research.

Priceless is the word which best describes the library. Americana collections contain manuscripts relating to the Louisiana Territory, including the original copy of the Convention between France and the United States. Papers of the pirate Jean LaFitte, secret reports to Napoleon concerning the Floridas, and material on the Aaron Burr conspiracy also are included in the collection.

Besides the Americana contained in the library, there is a classics section which contains first editions of all the major Greek and Latin classics and more than 500 valuable research sources printed before 1500. More than 100 of these books are in perfect condition.

Temporarily the library will be located in the Main Building Tower. As soon as arrangements can be made the library will be lodged in special quarters and will be made available to all interested students not only from the University but from all over Texas.

Europe Work For Students Again Offered

The American Student Information Service again has jobs to offer to American university students who wish to work in Europe next summer.

Most of the jobs are on farms, in factories, on construction projects, at resorts, with the forestry service, and in various technical industries. Non-technical jobs are available to anyone desiring to broaden his European travel experience, and provide free room and board and a small amount of pocket money. Technical jobs pay approximately $100 a month.

The ASIS was founded last year as a non-profit organization to promote closer relations and understanding between peoples of Europe and America.

Round-trip tickets aboard the less expensive liners cost $350-400, depending upon the port of debarkation in Europe. A 10 per cent deposit is required to hold the space. Charter flight will cost approximately $400 roundtrip. A $50 deposit is required to hold a seat aboard a charter flight.

Those who wish to work in Europe next summer must join the ASIS at a cost of $12. In addition to the fee, the organization requires the student's name, university address, age, sex, course of study, previous work experience, and the date the student wishes to begin working.

Interested students may write to the American Student Information Service, Joseph - Ludwig - Str. 4a, Limburg/Lahn, Germany for complete information.

Spelunker,s First Aid Course Will Begin Tonight in Union

At the request of the Speleological Society, R. G. Dillard, Red Cross volunteer first aid instructor, will begin a first aid course for cave explorers at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union Building.

Mr. Dillard linked the group's first aid training needs to those of mountain climbers, but is adapting the Red Cross Standard First Aid course to meet the needs of the group.

Primary emphasis will be given to items such as transportation methods for injured, splinting of fractures, and first aid for bleeding, sprains, shock, and insect bites. Detailed instructions on administering artificial respiration under varying conditions will be given.

Mr. Dillard said that more students will be accepted Wednesday night from the student body and that more instructors will be added if the turnout is large enough.

Sessions will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday. Each member of the Society must complete 12 hours of first aid training.

You have to get up mighty early...
to give the kind of service that's building America's second largest telephone system

When it comes to service we aim to deliver the goods. Result: we're growing fast! For in Gen Tel Territory, America is finding the room the overcrowded big cities can no longer supply. New homes, new stores, new factories are springing up fast.

And so is the need for up-to-the-minute telephone communications. That's where Gen Tel comes in big. To meet the growing need for telephone service, we're installing 750 new phones each day, investing almost 4 million dollars each week in new facilities.

At Gen Tel we're working overtime to develop new uses for the telephone to keep ahead of the growing need for better and more complete communications. That's one reason we are America's second largest telephone system.

No doubt about it, America is on the move. And Gen Tel is moving with it—moving up.
