Test in Mathematics Covers Algebra and Plane Geometry

Frosh Compete

Amount of Prizes Governed By Annual Interest On Fund

The special voluntary examination for the Brown University Mathematics Prizes will be held Saturday, October 11. The prizes are awarded to the regular freshmen who make the highest grades in the examination. The test covers the minimum entrance requirements of the University in mathematics; namely, elementary algebra and plane geometry.

The amount of the prizes will be determined by W. R. Long, auditor, as convenient sum near, but not exceeding the following fraction of the interest accrued during the preceding year: first prize, one-fourth; second prize, one-eighth; third prize, one-twelfth.

The winners of these prizes for the session of 1929-1930 were: Allan Douglas Walker of High Falls, N. M., first place; Robert Ewing Greenwood, Jr., of Minnesota, second place; Joe Henry Munster of Austin, third place.

Yearbook Sales Reach 2000 Goal

Burt Dyke, Cactus Manager, Says Results Good

After checking the sale of the 1931 Cactus during registration, Burt Dyke, business manager, announced that more than 2,000 copies of the book have already been ordered by the students and faculty members. The circulation staff of the yearbook stated that it was well pleased with the way the students have voluntarily reserved their copies.

In an attempt to make it more convenient for the students to order the Cactus, the management has arranged for them to have a copy reserved at the time that they make their appointments for Cactus pictures at B. Hall 119. They may also place their orders when their pictures are taken at Christianson-Leberman Studio.

Curtain Club Holds Tryouts October 9

Tryouts for membership in the Curtain Club of the University will be held in S Hall Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Students trying out for the club will give a three-minute selection from some play. Two students who wish to try out together will be allowed six minutes. Members of the club will give cues in the selections in which they are needed.

All students interested in technical work, such as stagecraft and lighting, are invited to try out for technical membership. Barnett Shaw, president, stated.

Tanner Plans Rally For New Students

The chief purpose of the third pep rally of the year is to teach freshmen and new students the official yells and songs of the University. Karl Tanner, head yell leader, stated.

The rally will be held in the Gregory Gymnasium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, with the present staff of yell leaders, Karl Tanner, Jim Armstrong, Jack Boyett, and T. A. Moore, directing.

The Longhorn Band will be on hand to help rouse that old "Texas Spirit," and it is hoped that the students will show this spirit by staying until the last note of the "Eyes of Texas" have been sung.

Hammer Wielder Is Dan Moody, Jr.

When the Governor's son hammers on the Main Building—that's news!

And Dan Moody, Jr., was the source of news last week when he paid the University and Miss Lillian Wester, instructor of Romance languages, a visit.

With him he brought his "little brown hammer," and, although the venerable Main Building has been hammered on numerous times before, it probably never was hammered on just as it was on that day.

Dan, Jr., made a round of the second floor and sounded out columns and walls—displaying, it was pointed out, an early interest in the institution.

Plans Discussed By Pan-Hellenic For Scholarship

New Officers Introduced; Rushing Rules Explained

A permanent scholarship fund to be used to keep a Texas girl in school was the subject of discussion at the first meeting of Pan-Hellenic last Friday. The establishment of this fund will be the chief work of the year and all sororities will cooperate in raising the money.

The members appointed to the scholarship committee are the following: Frances Tarleton, chairman, Maretta Talbot, and Nancy Taquard.

Mrs. Frances Goldbeck explained rushing rules as set forth in the handbook. Normal relationships between new and old students were stressed.

The following new officers were introduced: Mary Ruth Holmes, president; Myra Jane McCormack, vice president; Lucille Thomas, secretary; and May Bess Matthews, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held on the first Friday in November. It will be a joint meeting to explain Pan-Hellenic Council to all pledges and transfers.

Science Club Hears Address by Hicks

"Aerial Photography" was the subject of an illustrated talk by Lieutenant J. H. Hicks, First Air Photo Section, United States Army, before the University Science Club at their first meeting of the year Monday night.

In his lecture Lieutenant Hicks explained the method of taking aerial photographs. He had with him three of the latest cameras that are used in taking pictures from the air, and they are valued at $3,800 to $5,200 each.

A number of various pictures from all over the world, with 71 lantern slides, illustrated the lecture. Some enlarged photographs of Hawaii were also shown.

Fifty-seven members of the club were present.

Lieutenant Hicks came upon the special request of Robert Cuyler, instructor in geology and secretary and treasurer of the club. Dr. W. A. Felsing, professor of chemistry, is president.

Committee reports will be the main feature of the meeting, which is the first to be held this year.

Ex-Student Fund Is Model for All Will Hogg Loans

Many State Institutions Benefited by Will Of Statesman

12 Schools Aided

Students Must Give Five References and Have Coverage

By JACK HALE

The Ex-Students' Memorial Loan Fund is specified as a model for all other loan funds established by the will of the late Will C. Hogg, it was disclosed Tuesday in a letter from Hogg's attorney received by the Ex-Students' Association. Exceptions will be made in the case of any existing loan funds that were already incorporated.

The Ex-Students' Memorial Loan Fund was promoted by Mr. Hogg, and has been enriched by an additional $100,000 his will reveals, bringing the total available sum at present to about $190,000. Other schools of the state which received loan funds by the Hogg will, and which will be affected by the specification are as follows:

Twelve Schools Helped
A. and M. College, $50,000; Texas State College for Women, $50,000; Sam Houston Normal, $25,000; East Texas State Teachers' College, $25,000; North Texas State Teachers' College, $25,000; West Texas State Teachers' College, $25,000; Southwest Texas State Teachers' College, $25,000; Sul Ross Normal, $25,000; Prairie View Normal, (colored) $25,000; North Texas Agricultural College, $25,000; John Tarleton College, $25,000; and Texas Technological College, $25,000.

Stephen Pinckney, attorney for the Hogg interests, and an ex-student of the University, has written the Ex-Students' Association for information regarding the organization and administration of the Ex-Students' Memorial Loan Fund so that he may supply schools affected with this information.

This loan fund was established in 1920 as a memorial to those killed in the war and was incorporated as a private undertaking. Its organizers are as follows:

Will C. Hogg, deceased; O. C. Bullington, Wichita Falls; Dexter Hamilton, Dallas; Charles K. Lee, Fort Worth; E. E. Bewley, Fort Worth; H. D. Ardrey, Dallas; Culbert F. Thomas, Dallas; H. Y. Benedict, Austin; Charles S. Potts, Dallas; D. W. Woodward, Jr., Austin; and John A. Lomax, Dallas.

Made 2,000 Loans

In the ten years that the fund has been available to students of the University, 2,000 loans have been made, and about 100 loans have already been made for this year.

To obtain a loan a student must first go to John A. McCurdy, secretary of the Ex-Students' Association, for a conference. Here an application blank is filled out which must include the names of five references to whom questionnaires may be addressed by the association. The application blank must also include a statement of grades made in the University, a C average being necessary to secure a loan.

If the reports from the references are good, the student is loaned the money; not in a lump sum, but in monthly installments. The maximum amount loaned to a student in one year is $250, which amount is distributed into eight monthly payments. An interest rate of six per cent is charged on all loans.

Preference to applications is in the following order: First, to soldiers from Texas who served in the World War; second, to students who unmistakably have the intention of remaining in school and taking a degree.

Contract Given To 'Troubadors' For Dance Music

Morrison Says Committee Thinks Playing Best On Campus

Fred Gardner's Troubadors have been selected as the orchestra which will play at all University dances until February 1, Bill Morrison, dance committee chairman, announced after a meeting Tuesday.

The contract specifies that two new pieces are to be played every Saturday night, and the dances shall last from 9 till 12 o'clock. There shall not be more than three intermissions, and they shall be six minutes long, Morrison pointed out.

Morrison said that Mr. Gardner's orchestra was chosen because the committee considered it the best and the most popular on the campus. The three dances which have been held in the gym since school started served as tryouts for the applicants. Fred Gardner's Troubadors, Steve Gardner's Hokum Kings, and Burney Stinson's Band tried for the position.

Posture Film Shown Monday and Tuesday

A posture film was shown at the physical training meeting for freshmen and transfers which was held from 5:00 to 6:00 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday afternoons, October 6, and 7, in K Hall.

The other three meetings will be given in the form of lectures sometime later in the year, though no definite dates have been set, stated Miss Kirkner, of the department of physical training for women.

Sigma Delta Chi To Hold First Meeting

Ike Moore, president of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary and professional journalism fraternity for men announced the first meeting of the organization for Wednesday at 6 o'clock at Hilsbergs Cafe.

Moore has changed the time of the meeting from 6:45 o'clock to 6 o'clock so that the members will be able to attend to other duties. Plans for the year and consideration of new members will be taken up. The fraternity will also elect a secretary and treasurer, the president and vice-president having been elected last spring.

All men interested in trying out for the swimming team are urged to meet at Gregory Gymnasium this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Tom Gullette, captain, has announced.

2 New Diamonds On Floor Of Gym

By W. B. COWLEY

Indoor baseball, a favorite gymnasium pastime, has taken the men students of the University by storm. B. M. Whitaker, director of intramural athletics, announced Tuesday, as he watched a crowd of engineers hoisting the old indoor around the gym. Since Monday the place has been in an uproar over the new sport, and although the game is on a miniature scale compared with hard ball, it is much faster and more invigorating than one would expect. It is a grand sight to see how hard the boys try to lift that old 17-inch ball into the balcony for a home run, and how seldom they do it.

Ideal Arrangement

The new gymnasium is ideally arranged for the new game, Whitaker declared. When the 10-foot net is stretched across the floor, two regulation sized ball diamonds are formed, which with the addition of a few ground rules to take care of the net and the balcony, will make as perfect an arrangement for the game as is possible.

Entries for indoor baseball will close Monday, October 13, and the scheduled games will start Wednesday, October 15. Practice for the various teams is now under way from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock at night, the management announced. All the organization managers have to do (Turn to Page 2)

Candidates Sign On Debate Squad

Drawing for Places Held Friday Afternoon

Students desiring to try out for the University debating squad may sign up at Z Hall 27, and on the bulletin board in the Law Building, according to T. A. Rousse, coach of debate.

Mr. Rousse states that a drawing for places will be held Friday afternoon, October 10, at 3 o'clock in Law Building 9.

The question is "Resolved: That the Principle of Democracy Has Been Tried and Found Wanting." There is a five minute time limit for each speech. Trials will be held Tuesday afternoon, October 21, at 3 o'clock in Law Building auditorium.

This is the first round in the selection, Mr. Rousse said, and at the same time six men will be chosen for a team to represent the University against the English debaters who will debate the same question here in February. The second round will be in November, and the third in December.

Athletic Groups Hold Meetings Wednesday at 5

Ladder Tennis Tournaments Now Under Way

The following clubs will hold their meetings Wednesday, October 7, at 5 o'clock, according to Miss Margaret Kirkner, executive secretary of the Women's Athletic Association:

Robin Hood Club will meet at the club house, Twenty-fourth Street and Speedway, and all upper classmen interested in archery are requested to meet then. Previous experience and instruction are unnecessary, and all equipment will be furnished. Katherine Hill is the leader, and Gloria Yantis is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Racket Club will meet at the Twenty-fourth Street courts if they are in condition, otherwise, the meeting will be called in the lecture room of the Women's Gymnasium. The ladder tournament is started, and anyone interested in tennis is urged to attend. A new president will be elected at this meeting, because Ruth Bailey, the president elected in the spring term, is attending school and playing tennis in Paris. Old members especially are asked to be at this meeting. Merrell Leissner, vice president of the club, will be in charge.

Fencing Club will hold its first meeting in the east Women's Gymnasium. All women interested in fencing are invited.

Golf Club will meet at the Twenty-fourth Street course. All women interested in golf are requested to be at this first meeting. W.A.A. eliminates all freshman girls from all the clubs, except Te-WAA-Hiss.

Hollander to Speak On 'German Sports'

Dr. L. M. Hollander, professor of German in the University, will speak at the meeting of Deutscher Verein Wednesday evening, October 8, at 7:30 o'clock in Main Building 105, G. W. Bertschler, chairman of the program committee, has announced. The subject of Dr. Hollander's talk will be "German Sports."

This is the first meeting of the semester for the club, and prospective new students as well as old members are urged to be present. Any student taking German in the University, or anyone who is interested in German, is eligible for membership. Mr. Bertschler said. Visitors are also invited to attend meetings.

Zero English Exams Graded and Tabulated, J. L. Neu Announces

The zero English tests, which were taken by all freshmen, have been graded, and the results tabulated, according to J. L. Neu, chairman of the committee in charge. Of the 1028 students who took the examination, 484 passed with a grade of 60 or above, and 544 made less than 60. The tests were divided into four sections: spelling counted 15 points; punctuation counted 25 points; grammar counted 30 points; and sentence structure counted 30 points.

Mr. Neu attributed many of the failures to a lack of knowledge of grammar and to carelessness in reading the directions given in the sentence structure section. The grades are now being tabulated preparatory to sending the results to the high schools.

The zero English tests have been given in the University since 1927. This year the committee in charge of the tests consisted of Mr. Neu, chairman; Dr. D. L. Clark, Dr. J. B. Wharey, Mrs. Alice Cook, and E. P. Quereau.

"The students making the highest grades have not been ascertained as yet," Mr. Neu stated.

Dates of Three Lectures Given For Coming Year

Russell, Irish Economist, To Deliver First Address

Dr. W. E. Gettys, professor of sociology and chairman of the public lectures committee for the year 1930-31, announces that a complete list of lectures has not yet been prepared. However, the dates for three of the most outstanding engagements have been determined.

The first lecture to be delivered by a speaker outside the University of Texas will be held sometime during the week of December 2. George Russell, better known by his pen-name of "A. E.," famous Irish poet and agricultural economist, will speak then. He will lecture on his philosophy of rural and community life, and reveal something of the role of poet in relation to social and economic importance.

The second lecture of special significance will be delivered by Howard M. Jones, former professor of comparative literature at the University, and now of the University of Michigan. The topic of his lecture has not yet been made public.

The third lecture of particular importance is scheduled for March 9, to be delivered by Dr. Herman Oliphant, professor of law at Johns Hopkins University. He will appear here to deliver a series of five lectures, the subjects of which have not been selected. Two of the lectures by Professor Oliphant will be of a nature that will appeal to a large audience. The other three will be of a seminar nature.

In addition to these, a series of lectures will be delivered by members of the faculty of the University from time to time. The lectures usually will be given in the afternoon. They are designed to interest the members of the University community, but the general public will always be welcome, according to Dr. Gettys. Further announcements will be found in The Daily Texan, from the office of Dr. Gettys, and from the bulletin boards.

Co-Ed Attendance Discussed by Rusk

An open forum discussion as to whether or not women students will be allowed to attend future meetings of the Rusk Literary Society will be the feature of the meeting of the organization in Rusk Hall Wednesday night at 7:15 o'clock. All men students of the University are invited to attend the meeting.

The general debate will question the status of the old tradition that co-eds be barred from the meetings of the organization. If it be decided that women shall be allowed to attend the programs, there will be the alternative of giving them the privilege of regular attendance or of setting aside a special night.

Vivion to Speak Wednesday Night

The Rev. King Vivion, president of Southwestern University at Georgetown, will speak at the Ward Memorial Methodist Church Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in commemoration of "Childhood and Youth" Week. This week has been set aside for the special observance of "Childhood and Youth" through the suggestion of the Methodist churches. Mr. Vivion has chosen "Youth and Education" as his subject.

Quin Addresses Student Group

No Substitute for Church, States Clergyman

"I haven't been able to find anything that takes the place of the church," the Right Rev. Clinton S. Quin, bishop of the Diocese of Texas of the Protestant Episcopal Church, stated as he opened his address to approximately one hundred and thirty-five students, members of the various churches around the campus, at the Inter-church fellowship banquet at the University Cafeteria Tuesday night at 6 o'clock.

"I have investigated and read extensively trying to find a substitute for the church and what I have found out is that the modern temper takes away art, it takes away love, it takes away religion and the church; we're just here by accident—that's what I have found out, but I do not believe it," he said.

Cap and Gown Meet To Discuss Plans

Plans for the election of the freshman class officers for women, which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Biological Laboratory 12, were discussed at the meeting of the Cap and Gown Council last Thursday at 4:30 o'clock. Announcements of the election will be made Monday at the dormitories.

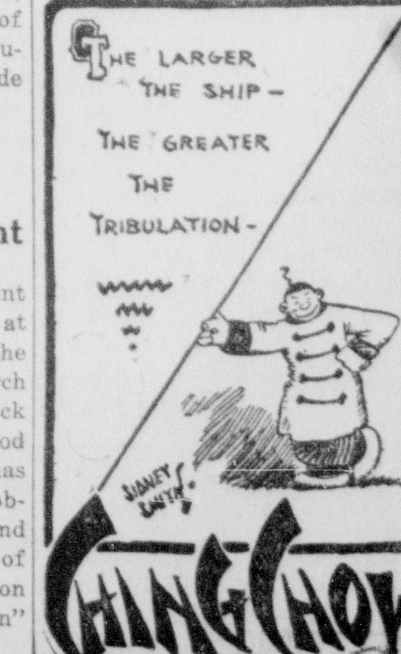

There will be a call meeting of Cap and Gown in the girls' study hall at 7 o'clock Friday, October 17. An assessment of $1 will be made to new members for dues.

The next meeting of the Cap and Gown Council will be held Thursday, October 16, at 4:30 o'clock in the girls' study hall.

Without Cost

FOR SOME unknown reason, the voters of Texas have, in the past, been opposed to making changes in the Constitution. Often they have opposed changes because they would entail extra expense or would give some individual more power than the present regime permits. In either of these cases there is possibly some reason for the opposition.

But this November there will be an amendment submitted to the voters which, if passed, will not cost the tax payers one cent, nor will it increase the power of a single individual. The proposal to amend the Constitution so that the University may invest the income from royalties in other securities than United States and state bonds will not cost a person a cent, and in the long run it will pay cash back into the public treasury.

If the amendment fails to pass, the funds of the University will have to be reinvested in 1933 in United States bonds which will bear interest at the rate of about two percent. The amendment, if passed, will permit the University to invest these funds in municipal bonds which will bear a rate of interest at least twice that of the national bonds.

The State alone will be loser if that amendment does not pass at the general election in November. The only reason that can be imagined which will cause the amendment to fail is the fact that many people vote against all amendments, regardless of their portent. Every person in any way connected with the University should explain the situation to every voter possible, so that the public will understand that this amendment costs nothing.

The Rollins Plan

EVERY REAL TEACHER since time began has possessed the desire to make the process of learning interesting to the student. Two outstanding methods have been employed in the effort to realize this desire: the lecture system, and the recitation system.

Recently at Rollins College in Florida a new method was introduced and is now being tried, with the purpose of curing the evils of these two systems as they appeared to this group. In their words, the lecture system seemed a failure because under it the students are regarded as so many passive objects into which the professor pours information for an hour two or three times a week and then asks for certain amounts of it back in periodical examinations; the recitation system, almost as completely a failure, under which the teacher acts as inquisitor and marks or grades the student on his ability to answer occasional questions on material he has been assigned.

Under the Rollins system there is established the two-hour conference plan: both morning and afternoon are divided into two periods, while the evening is free. The teacher sits at his desk, neither lecturing nor hearing a recitation; his primary function is to sit still, keep quiet, and be ready to help anyone who needs help. Everyone may be quietly reading or writing, or various groups may be discussing some phase of the subject they are studying. Term and yearly examinations have been minimized, and even tests and quizzes are not stressed. All required studying may be done in the classroom, and it is intended that practically all the student's outside time shall be free. The initiative is with the students, there is no prodding by the teachers with the students on the defense trying to escape work. All the teachers need to do is to help, hence the chief requisite of the faculty other than qualification, is to love to teach, to inspire the students, and such has been the purpose at Rollins in the election of their teachers.

Briefly, this is the plan. It is not claimed to be a panacea, and though believing thoroughly in the plan at Rollins, they realize that its adoption in all liberal-arts colleges might be a questionable procedure. Their sincere belief is that modified forms of the conference plan can be used to advantage in most schools and colleges.

Any departure from that which is commonly regarded as the most proper method of doing a thing is worthy of consideration and thought. Only from such can progress be made. With such a motive in mind has the Rollins idea been presented.

Who remembers how many "objectionable" movies he has seen because he couldn't be left at home alone?

Onions are said to throw off violet rays. It is suspected that the scientist who asserted that had not smelled many violets.

Little Sports

THERE HAS BEEN much ado about so-called over-emphasis of college athletics. Our college athletics are a product of our particular competitive age and the love for diversification; they serve their purpose ably if not very wisely.

The student who has been blessed with the singular opportunity of going to college may very naturally take advantage of the educational facilities which are at his disposal, but when he graduates and buckles down to a tussle with Old Man Life, though he was a star basketball or baseball player while at school, he just can't find any opportunity at all to indulge in those sports.

Instead he pines to be able to hit a little gutta-percha ball into a cup in as few strokes as possible or hit a tennis ball without sending it into distant counties. He finds that he cannot get any diverting exercise because he doesn't know how, and he does not have the time or inclination or opportunity to play such things as football, baseball, or basketball.

It would be wise to take advantage of the diverse individual sports facilities that the University affords, and gain a valuable knowledge of some sport which can be indulged in during later years without having to hire a stadium to do so.

Profits by Errors

ADDITIONAL benefits are being gained from the recent freshman English tests. The announcement comes that a bulletin is to be published listing all the errors made by the students taking these tests. This report is to be sent to the English professors as a guide to their future work in planning work and ways to avoid the same mistakes in future college work.

The work of the University is gradually extending until now the influence of this great work is felt in the lower school. The object of all this work is to prepare the student for his future college work.

The bulletin can be taken as a good average of the common mistakes of the average student; these mistakes are gleaned from over two thousand test papers.

Student Forum

The editorial board of the Texan solicits the writing of free-lance editorials or "firing line" articles to be published in the Student Forum column. Such editorials must be written by University students and must pertain to some phase of student life. All contributions must be signed, but the contributor's name will not be printed if he so requests. Unsigned articles will not be printed.

Those of 200 words or less will receive preference.

AN OPEN LETTER TO JIMMIE TEELING, JOE RILEY, SUE CUNNINGHAM, AND HOWARD HOFFMAN:

Upon reading in The Texan of your respective candidacies for the office of B. A. Assemblyman, I am prompted by an innate curiosity to inquire into the persons behind the names I read in The Texan. I am of the opinion that in a school no larger than ours, it is quite possible and almost imperative that each and every B. A. student really know his representative in the Assembly.

Having asked several students about all of you, I am quite dissatisfied with the answers as far as information is concerned. As far as rumor has it, I don't favor your candidacy at all, Mr. Teeling. And I really have an aversion to voting for someone about whom I know little or nothing. So I feel that all the following questions are pertinent and, I hope, disquieting to all the members of the school, since apathy in the voters is rather helpful to bad government. Are you ready for the questions Teeling, Riley, Hoffman, and Cunningham? Here they are:

1. What is your official record as the Registrar has it? How long have you been in the school? Why? Any other school? Why?
2. What other organizations are you at present a member of? Why?
3. If you have been in public office, in this case the Assembly, what have you done to merit reelection? (You, Teeling.)
4. Are you in favor of the present practice of granting perpetual passes to the dance to all members of the Assembly? Why? Don't you think it is a gross display of our American practice of gathering around the PORK-BARREL? Are you for that?
5. How will you conduct your campaign in order to know as many of your constituents as possible? Do you plan to know or try to know all the members of the B. A. School? Why?

In reply to all these questions, if you intend to reply, please be explicit and extensive. And why not make a few speeches on the campus? I'd rather have poor oratory than uneloquent silence, if the present situation is a fair indication.

Yours for an awakened electorate,
EDWIN EIKEL

Plans for Forum Formed by Group

Meetings Will Be Held Through Six Weeks

Fireside Forum meetings will last for six weeks, it was decided at the first meeting of the forum committee Monday night in the Y. M. C. A.

The committee in charge was composed of the following representatives: Deans T. H. Shelby and H. T. Parlin, W. T. Rolfe, Frank Jewett, Herschel Walling, from the faculty; Tom Sealy, W. F. Hancock, Lewis Pollock, from the Interfraternity Council; Haskell Roberts, D. A. Frank, Jr., and Arthur Klein, from the boarding houses.

The meetings will begin Monday, October 27, and last through Friday, December 12.

About 90 faculty members were selected and each will be sent a letter asking his co-operation for the year and stating the subjects in which each is interested. This list will be published next week for the different student groups to decide on whom they would like to hear.

The forum programs are sponsored by the University Y. M. C. A. with the co-operation of the fraternities and the boarding house groups.

The plan of having the faculty leader meet the group he is to lead for the evening is the same as last year. They are to have supper with their group and the have an informal discussion of the topic selected. In other words there will be an exchange of opinions of each one present.

All the forum work is voluntary and there is no desire to force an group to participate, everything up to the student leader, who is selected by members of the local groups. His duty is to keep interest in the work and select the subject and speaker for the evening.

Y. W. C. A. Drive Continued Two Days

The membership drive by the Y. W. C. A. will continue through Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Membership blanks may be obtained in Main Building 104 between the hours of 9 to 12 o'clock, Miss Margaret Peck, secretary, announced. The blanks may be obtained also from Miss Peck in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, Main Building, or from Miss Mary Claire Petty who is the membership chairman. Membership is on a yearly basis.

All freshmen and transfers are invited to stop by Miss Peck's office and get acquainted with the work of the Y. W. C. A. and the plans for this year. Those freshmen who indicated a desire to join freshman convocations should place their membership with the Y. W. C. A. during this membership drive.

Morris Weiser has a position with the Walgreen Drug Company in Houston this year. He graduated from the College of Pharmacy last year.

Ineligibility Hurts Band But Little

The Longhorn Band will not be seriously injured by the eligibility rules as only eight of the 127 members of the band are affected, Burnett Pharr, director stated. This is the largest group of applicants yet to appear for rehearsal, Pharr said.

Six of the eight applicants who were ruled scholastically ineligible are on special observation and will be given an opportunity to become eligible on November 1 should they make the required average at the intra-semester grades.

Two New--

is to call the intramural office the day before they intend to run off their practice, and arrangements for an hour of wide-awake slugging will be made. All players must be equipped with soft-soled shoes before they will be allowed on the floor, but all other equipment, such as balls and bats, will be furnished by the intramural department. Supervisors will be on hand at all times to see that everything is done correctly.

Independent students seem to be a little slow in forming eligibility lists, Whitaker said. Every man in the University, unless he is out for varsity sports or is already on a fraternity or departmental list, is eligible to enter the intramural sports. Fraternity and departmental organizations responded very well, but so far only eleven independent organizations have signed up; these are Little Campus Dormitories A. and B.; Faulkner House; Wesley Bible Chair; University Commons; Gerson House; Y. M. C. A.; Czech Club; Newman Club; Hillel Foundation; and Stovall House.

Men students living in boarding houses are requested to get together and form organizations of their own. The groups already listed have an average of about twenty men, which is enough for all of the intramural sports, and not too much for the percentage of players to be lowered for the Texas Book Store trophy, which is given for the organization having the greatest percentage of members engaged in the various sports of the intramural year. Each group of independents, when they get together, should select a manager to keep in touch with the organization at all times.

"There are enough men in the University to form at least forty independent organizations," Whitaker concluded, "and we want all of them to get signed up."

THEATERS

"THE SANTA FE TRAIL"—with Richard Arlen and Rosita Moreno, today through Friday. At the Paramount.

"WILD COMPANY"—with Frank Albertson and Sharon Lynn, today through Friday. At the Hancock.

"WHOOPEE"—with Eddie Cantor, now through Saturday. At the Queen.

"THE GREAT GABBO"—with Erich Von Stroheim and Betty Compton, last times today. "Puttin' on the Ritz," with Harry Richman and Joan Bennett, Thursday only. At the Texas.

Opening Today

"THE SANTA FE TRAIL"—It may be a melodrama of equestrianism and it may be a comedy of manners, but "Spanish Acres" opens for a three-day showing at the Paramount Theater today under the title "The Santa Fe Trail" with Richard Arlen in the leading role as the man who does and dares. A strip of territory somewhere in New Mexico called "Spanish Acres," land with a curse and a pretty girl on it, is the scene of action, though the two by no means work hand in hand. The former precedes the latter. Eugene Pallette has a role with his usual humorous inclinations, and little Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin re-echo the fun. Rosita Moreno is the girl.

"WILD COMPANY"—A story-with-a-moral about the "jazz mad" younger generation comes to the Hancock Theater screen today for a three-day engagement. It is called "Wild Company," appropriately, and has in its leading roles Frank Albertson, H. B. Warner, Sharon Lynn, and Joyce Compton. The plot concerns a young idiot who becomes involved in a robbery and a murder on account of "wild company." Then his dad has him arrested and breaks up his affair with "a beautiful but mendacious night club entertainer." It will suffice to say that Frank Albertson is one of the better juvenile leads of the talking screen, and let the rest of the characters take care of their own laurels.

Glee Club Selects Soloists at Meet

Anabel Murray of Austin was selected as soprano soloist of the Girls' Glee Club and Adelaide Rogers was selected as alto soloist, at a meeting of the club Tuesday night. Both of these girls were chosen from a number of applicants. W. Morris.

Virginia Decherd, manager of the organization, announces the election of Irene Sanders as secretary; Johnny Mann, librarian; and Edith Fox, publicity director. The advisory board committee was also announced as follows: Janet Sheppard, chairman of vaudeville; Carolyn Williams; Florence Weymouth; and Carolyn Cason. Virginia Decherd was elected chairman of the social and publicity committee, and Betty Berry, Carolyn Williams, Anabel Murray and Edith Fox members. Other committee members are:

Mildred Kidd, chairman of finance; Margie Bright, and Mary Cling. Irene Sander, chairman of courtesy; Adelaide Rogers, Catherine Butts, and Florence Hester. Florence Atkins, chairman of stage management; Julia Hightower, and Hallie Orr.

The Glee Club will have its first banquet Wednesday, October 15, at 5:45 o'clock in the University Commons.

Orange Jackets Ask To Sponsor Reunions

The development of class spirit was the subject of the discussion held by the members of Orange Jackets at the first meeting of the organization Tuesday at 5 o'clock in the Women's Gymnasium.

The club plans eventually to sponsor such class reunions as are now held by Harvard and Yale. This organization will work with the Cowboys in selecting the stunts for the A. & M.-Texas game.

Bess Olson, president, stated that the Orange Jackets is not a pep organization, and that its purpose is to foster school spirit.

Miss Mamie Klett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klett, a former student in the University and member of the Chi Omega sorority, was married Sunday to Albert Culver of Lampasas, at the home of her parents at Johnson City. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Evans of the Johnson City Methodist Church. It was a very quiet ceremony with only the families of the bride and groom present.

The young couple left shortly after the ceremony for a trip through Mexico and will reside in Lampasas on their return. Mr. Culver is a member of the Culver Hardware firm in Lampasas and is a graduate of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. Mrs. Culver has received both her bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from the University. She has been a member of the faculty serving as instructor in zoology for the past two years.

Tipica Ticket Pre-Sale Large

Performance to be Held October 20

About two hundred and fifty tickets to the Tipica orchestra performance, which will be held at the Gregory Gymnasium October 20, were sold at the pre-sale Saturday, stated Miss Leah Gregg, who has charge of the tickets. They may be obtained at the Co-Op, Reed's Music Company, or any of the Garza markets, where they will be on sale all week.

Juan Lucay and Anita, South American dancers with the Tipica orchestra, are not unknown in this country as they have entertained people all over the United States with their whirlwind dancing.

The consensus of critics' opinions regarding this dance team is that they offer just a bit more in the way of thrilling terpsichore and entertainment than one generally sees, and that their technical exactness coupled with their South American love of dancing makes them an attraction well worth seeing.

The soloists with the orchestra include Senora Maria Romero and Jose de Arratia, both of the National Opera of Mexico, Los Charros Mexicanos, famous Marimba band, and the male quartet, Los Trovadores del Bajio.

The orchestra, under the direction of Juan N. Torreblanca, will present the "Romance of Mexico in Melody" in its appearance in the gymnasium.

Rose Bordosky spent the week-end at her home in Taylor.

Glee Club Gives Banquet Tuesday

The University Men's Glee Club held its first banquet of the year Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Plaza Hotel. Thirty-three members were present at the banquet, which served as a means of bringing about a better acquaintance between the old and the new members of the club.

During the evening, the following program was given by members of the organization: Frank MacDonald, female impersonator, "One I Love Just Can't Be Bothered with Me"; "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," baritone solo, H. Parks Klumpp. "The Rosary," banjo solo, Herman Kaplan; selected numbers on the piano accordion, Don McCall; "Mighty Lak A Rose," violin solo, Ben Gibson; and "Reminiscent" piano solo, Rhodin Chase.

After the banquet, an orchestra composed of Don McCall, pianist, Herman Kaplan, banjoist, and Roy Gibson, violinist, played popular selections.

The program committee consisted of Billy Huffman, Bob Morrison, Maurice Bradfute, and Bill Dyer.

Charles Zively, manager of the club, was unable to speak at the banquet because of a minor illness. Gilbert E. Schramm, director, made the principal speech of the evening.

The banquet ended with the traditional singing of "The Eyes of Texas."

Women to Organize New Fencing Club

University women interested in fencing are invited to attend a meeting for the organization of a fencing club for women to be held at N Hall Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to announcement made from the office of the director of physical training.

Fencing has been an accredited sport in the women's athletic department for the past two years, this year marking the third year that fencing has been taught University women. A number of experienced fencers are still on the campus and are eligible for membership in the club, Miss Elizabeth McGuire, supervisor of the sport, announced.

Trueman O'Quinn, who has taught fencing on the campus for four years, is instructor in the women's regular classes in fencing this year, and will serve as coach of the new fencing club. Fencing as a sport for women has grown in popularity each year; it has been taught in the department, as evidenced by increased enrollments. New members for the club will be drawn from the regular physical training classes this year.

Hassie Placette spent the week-end with her sister in San Antonio.

... why, she fell for him ... because he was so captivating, so agreeable, so neatly dressed ... yet he wore a last year's suit ... one that had just been reshaped and refreshed by Kelly Smith. Moral: Pay a little more and you'll find it worth the difference.

LONGHORNS PUT IN HARD SESSION WITH FROSH

SAYS ME--

By ALBERT REESE
Texan Sports Staff

The more one sees of Shorty Alderson's frosh in action, the higher is the opinion of their ability to do things, and prevent others from doing them, with the pigskin. Alderson has his squad divided up into two teams, the Reds and the Blues, both of them being as equal as he can make them in weight, experience, and speed.

Yesterday the Blue team indulged in a scrimmage session with the Varsity, and those frosh put up such a hefty battle that it was not until the bigger and more experienced team had pounded at them for many minutes that the Steer backs began sifting through for long gains.

Here's another pot full of hard luck for you. Jimmy Burr hurt his ankle yesterday in scrimmage. Late last night Coach Littlefield said that though it was a sprain, they hadn't been able to ascertain just how bad the injury is. It's possible that Burr may be back in the game in several days, and then again—if you're a pessimist like Says Me—you can say with a certain amount of veracity that he will be out all season.

First Mobley was lost to the squad; then Moody and Cook got hurt; next, ineligibility swiped Ga-

Aggies Prepare For Tilt with Greenies

Special to The Daily Texan.
COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 7.—

Out of the frying pan into the fire might well describe the position of Coach Matty Bell's Texas Aggies on their return from inter-sectional clash with the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Lincoln, since they will face another contest of inter-sectional calibre at Dallas October 11. This latter game will be with the Tulane Greenies of Coach Bernie Bierman, champions of the Southern Conference last fall. It will mark the opening of the State Fair of Texas and will be the first to be played in the new Fair Park stadium.

The Aggie gridsters last year journeyed to New Orleans to meet the Green Wave and were nosed out by a narrow margin, 13-10, toura from the Steer roster, and now Burr gets laid up. What next?

Folks down Houston way seem to be getting somewhat excited over the prospects of the Owls. Can't blame them much at that. The Owls have been in the cellar so long that the appearance of a team that bears any of the resemblances of a real bunch of gridsters is almost a miracle. It can be imagined that they are feeling like St. Louis did in '27 when the Cards brought home a pennant.

But still, there is such a thing as carrying something too far, in tooting a horn too soon, and getting all delirious before one should. Indeed, things have reached such a state that one rabid Owl fan has gone down on record as saying that "this conference has gone plumb goofy—nobody can win but Rice."

There can be no doubt but that Jack Meagher, one of the craftiest coaches in the conference, has a good team, and one that will deal much misery before the season closes, but still—who was it said that all the crazy folks aren't locked up?

Did you know that: Uncle Billy Disch used to coach at Saint Edward's? That Coach Walker is an ex big league ball player? That Marty Karow was an All-American back at Ohio State? That Bill James was an All-American linesman? That Clyde Littlefield was a three letter man in the University?

Basketball Squad Holds Initial Meeting Of Year

The first basketball meeting of the year was called by James Fomby, captain, Monday afternoon. Quite an active interest was shown, but since it is so early in the season and many of the men are now on the football squad, a fair estimate of the personnel cannot be had.

Coach Walker will not be with the men until November, and Captain Fomby will be in charge during the pre-season workouts. It will be necessary to draw rather heavily on the freshman squad of last year, since graduation took many of the old stars.

on a field which was literally a sea of mud. This fall the Aggies will be out to avenge that defeat and in a measure regain the prestige their record with the Southern Conference clubs has given them in the past. Until the defeat by the Greenies last year, the Aggies had lost only one game to a Southern team in thirteen years, that to L. S. U. by a 6-0 score in 1921. The Aggies, on the other hand, had three victories over Southern teams in their record.

Tulane this year, despite the loss of a backfield which had been virtually intact for two years, presents a formidable foe for any team in the country. Thirteen lettermen, one for each position on the team, with two to spare, are included in the list of candidates. Bill Banker, all-American half last year, and Ike Armstrong, another elusive back, will no doubt be missed keenly by the Tulane coaches, but an abundant supply of new backfield material is reported to be developing rapidly in the Greenie camp, and Tulane's 84-0 victory over Southwestern Institute last Saturday gives evidence that the developing process is well under way.

Miles Streiber spent the week-end in Houston.

Francis Usher, a 1930 graduate of the College of Pharmacy, is food and drugs inspector for the United States this year and is working in Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

Jimmy Burr Hurt In Scrimmage With Blues Tuesday

The hard-luck which has been dodging the Steer football squad of late added another development Tuesday afternoon on Clark Field, when Jimmy Burr, sophomore backfield flash, injured his ankle in scrimmage against the Frosh. The extent of the injury is still undetermined and it is hoped that it may prove only a sprain.

The Longhorns got down to active preparation for the Howard Payne gridsters by putting in a hard afternoon of practice, using a number of passes in their plays against the Frosh Blue squad. Though Walter Howle handled the center assignment, Coach Littlefield had Vining doing a little snapping-back and it may mean that he intends to use Rut if necessary at the pivot position. DuBose and Peterson at ends indicate that they will be well able to take care of the wings in the event that Rut has to perform at center.

With Dexter Shelley on the sidelines, practicing flat passes, a backfield composed of Perkins, Elkins, Koy, and Burr carried the brunt of the afternoon's work-out until Burr injured his ankle on a line plunge. Stafford was used in his place, while Weaver saw action occasionally and showed special keenness in snaring passes.

The Frosh Blues with Boyles, who was ineligible, playing end, and Burnett, ex-Longhorn center, coaching the backfield, gave the varsity some trouble at first, but began to wilt away under the heavier charging first-string line, and Koy, Elkins, and Perkins shook loose for long runs on several occasions with plays carefully rehearsed during the earlier part of the afternoon.

Howard Payne is going to meet another brand of football than the Steers have used so far this season, if the concentration on flat, short passes used by the varsity in practice is any indication. Straight power smashes were rarely used in the work-out against the freshmen who were all set for them and stopped those directed at them. Emphasis was centered on passing back of the line and runs off tackle and around end. Shelley, Koy, and Perkins are showing decided improvement in the overhead play and constitute a triple aerial threat.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee of Houston spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughter, Roberta.

Real Power of Steers As Yet Undetermined

After watching the Texas Longhorns and the Centenary Gentlemen wallow around in one big mud puddle last Saturday, and still obtaining no answer to that pertinent question, "What manner of team are the Longhorns?" the football supporters of Texas are putting in another week of argument about whether their favorites have a chance at the title. There are absolutely no ten people who are settled on the merits or weaknesses of the Longhorns, and each week-end so far has seen the debaters grow more confused.

The Centenary game revealed one more promising thing about the Texas team, and that it has again this year the staunch goal line defense that prevented several scores last year. When Bull Elkins decided to fall on a punt that did not roll across the goal line, it squirted out from under him, and a Centenary man fell on it on the 3-yard line. This happened late in the last quarter, and it looked for a moment as if the Gentlemen had won a ball game. Three tries at the center of the line lost two yards, and then a Centenary man slashed off tackle, got clear, and was met by Harrison Stafford, Texas halfback, two yards from the goal line.

Another thing it revealed was that Dexter Shelley has all of his old power, and that he is really an excellent mud punter, despite the fact that the Centenary punter had him bested by a good margin. Shelley was noticeable for his blocking and his fight Saturday, more than for anything else.

Something that was disquieting to the Texas frame of mind, however, was a couple of bad plays called by little "Bull" Elkins,

Texas quarterback hope. The most noticeable of these was when he elected to pass on third down, six yards to go, when the ball was on the Centenary 7-yard line. Line plunges had carried it there, and the preceding play through the line had netted four yards. The slippery ball went wild, and on the next play a field goal was wide.

While Texas was playing a scoreless tie, the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, foes on the next week-end, were also taking part in a 0-0 game, with the San Marcos Teachers. The Longhorns beat the Teachers 36-6 in a ragged game at the beginning of the season, but the comparative scores tell little. Howard Payne played the powerful Ponies of S.M.U. a 26-6 game in their opening encounter, and with a dry field next week, some basis for a comparison between Texas and S.M.U. may be obtained.

WHO AM I ?

At first I thought I would join one of the Greek letter organizations, but I'm not so sure. Believe I'll join a club where there are more liberties and not so many restrictions. I'll let them all pledge me. I'm going to be around quite a bit anyway.
