Dear Dr. Stenzel:

I am shipping you today by Railway Express some Midway limestone fossil material collected by R.C.Shelton and myself. I hesitate in sending this material to you- the collecting was very poor, and the material will probably be worthless to you. However, as I don't know what use you have for the material, I am sending it on. Good, complete fossils were so hard to get that we were reduced to sending you several chunks of the limestone in the hope that you can break them up and find something of value in them.

When the weather breaks up here and our party recovers from the flu, I'll try to return to the locality and do a much better job.

Sincerely,

E. Bruce Parmelee
