Freshmen and sophomores of the University plan to finish the complete burial of the hatchet with a peace dance on Friday, May 7. Final arrangements have been made by the committees from the two classes. The affair will be elaborate and featured by favors, refreshments, and unique decorations.

Collis Bradt's Orchestra will furnish music for the affair. The admission price has been set at $1.10, and the tickets will be placed on sale Friday, April 23. They can be secured in the corridor of the Main Building.

Straight "A" Record

Mr. Timm will go to Harvard next year to work on his doctor's degree in the field of international relations. He is at present instructor in the department of government, specializing in this work. Entering the University as a freshman in the summer of 1922, Mr. Timm established a notable record by receiving his B.A. degree in June, 1924, and his Master's in August of the same year. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, having a straight "A" record in the University.

Last year Mr. Timm was secretary of the Southwestern Political and Social Science Association, and has been secretary of the department of government here and of the national chapter of Pi Sigma Gamma, honorary political science fraternity. "His promotion to the rank of adjunct professor for next year is evidence of the entire satisfaction with which his work has been viewed," said Dr. C. P. Patterson, chairman of the government department, last night.

Montgomery Was Holder
The Walden-Bead Fellowship was established two years ago by J. J. Walden, general manager of the Southwestern Engraving Company, and Roy J. Beard, president of the Star Engraving Company, both of Fort Worth. It is available to a member of the teaching staff of the University with rank of instructor or adjunct professor. For 1925-26, the founders designated R. H. Montgomery, B.A., M.A., adjunct professor of economics, as the first holder.

The holder obligates himself to teach in Texas schools for at least three years following the period of study under this fellowship. If he does not do so, he will return, for each year less than three, one-third of the total stipend, which amount would become part of the stipend. The Walden-Bead Fellowship is one of the best of its kind offered in this country, officials say.

Floyd Herman Stovall, B.A., M.A., of the English department, was awarded the Malcolm Hiram Reed, Jr., Fellowship with a stipend of $1,000. This fellowship was established by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. Reed of Austin in honor of their son, and carries also the remission of matriculation and laboratory fees.

The Louis Lipsitz fellowship, created this year by Louis Lipsitz, president of the Harris-Lipsitz Lumber Company of Dallas, was awarded to William Marvin Whyburn, B.A., M.A. It carries a stipend of $1,000 and remission of fees.

Six Advanced Fellowships
Six were awarded advanced fellowships, which carry stipends of $500 for the session of 1926-27. The six are:

Rudolph Leopold Biesle, B.A., M.A., history.
Miss Abigail Curlee, B.A., M.A., history.

Miss Bertha Kathleen Duncan, B.A., M.A., education.
Philip Edwin Graham, B.A., M.A., English.

James K. Greer, B.A., M.A., English.

SYSTEM OF JUNIOR COLLEGES IN TEXAS ADVOCATED BY EBY

Last Address of Series on Junior College Movement Given Saturday

DISTANCE CHIEF CAUSE

University Must Assume Responsibility of Determining Standards of System

Dr. Frederick Eby, research lecturer for this year, made his final lecture on "The Readjustment of Collegiate Education" in presenting the subject, "Shall We Have a System of Junior Colleges in Texas," at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Saturday at noon.

He advocated the establishment of a unified system of such institutions as rapidly as possible under the new policy of making the freshman and sophomore years an additional unit in the high schools, with the curriculum so ordered that a stopping point may be furnished for students who do not want a degree. As statistics now indicate from 60 to 75 per cent of the students in the state institutions are in the first two years, thus making all of the schools practically junior colleges with a small percentage of upper class students.

"One of the chief causes for the establishment of the Junior College is that the distance from the state schools is so great for the most of the students. Over 31 per cent have to travel over 200 miles. In comparison with other states, the college facilities of Texas are not very abundant," said Dr. Eby. "The proposed junior college should be established in the immediate future in the independent school district, having a taxable wealth of at least $10,000,000, an enrollment of at least 90 in the Junior College, and in schools having graduating classes of a minimum of 100 yearly. The legislature should appropriate $60 or $70 for each student in addition to a small tuition fee to be paid by the student."

Take Definite Stand

Texas already has 25 established Junior Colleges, but only eight of these are under public control. The Baptists have the first affiliated system of five schools. The legislature should make an immediate move for control of the situation since more than half a dozen cities are planning to put in the system next fall.

"The University of Texas cannot long delay the formation of its policy in regard to the situation. The University must assume the responsibility of determining the standards of the new system.

Dr. Eby predicted that with a decade the two years of the Junior College will be combined with the last two years of the high school to form a new college. In that case, the University may entirely eliminate the freshman and sophomore classes as has already been done in Johns Hopkins University. The University would then be enabled to become a true republic without the interference of the adolescent on the campus.

In conclusion Dr. Eby presented the opinion that the chief use of the Junior College might come to be eventually the use in experimentation for the higher forms of education. These small schools would provide places for the proper study and experimentation necessary to develop the best that is in man.

Texas Debaters Defeat Arkansas by 16 Votes

By Vernon L. Engberg

Cecil Rotsch and Warren Collins defeated Roy White and Buel Rose of Arkansas University in a hotly contested and interesting debate on the air question at the Law Auditorium by a majority of sixteen votes. Collins was voted the best speaker by a majority of nineteen over his nearest competitor.

Basing their argument on the plain business principles of unity co-ordination, and simplicity, the Texas men developed a very strong case. Rotsch in his main speech displayed a forceful and effective style of delivery, doing much better than in anything he has done this year. This was the first time that Rotsch had debated for Texas University. Collins' main speech was well organized and his rebuttal was forceful and to the point. The first affirmative speaker showed that aviation was entitled to a place as a separate branch of national defense. Collins pointed out that the present system of national defense is defective in that it relegates the air service to a subordinate position, and in that it is characterized by much needless duplication, and he showed

ENGINEERS BEAT PRE-LAWS, 3 TO 2

Tight Pitching and Good
Fielding Feature Victory
of Alecs

In a game featured by good pitching and remarkable fielding, the Engineers defeated the Pre-Laws on Stadium Field Saturday afternoon, 3 to 2. The losers got eight hits, but they were unable to bunch these effectively. Rawlings of the Alecs struck out nine of ten men up in the last three innings.

Alecs Win in Third
Todd started on the mound for the Pre-Laws. He allowed Guinn, first man up, a single. Then Ponsford walked. Heiman, at second base, swapped places with Todd and hurled creditable ball the remainder of the game. Guinn and Ponsford scored while Reagan was throwing Mathews out at first.

The third and deciding tally of the fracas came in the third frame with two men down. Hoard hit a long fly to right field. Dyt Johnson threw to Heiman who relayed the ball to Burnett; and Hoard was tagged out in home. Guinn was an easy out, second to first. Ponsford got on when Hancock made the only error of the battle. Larry's single scored Ponsford.

In the third inning Todd, second up, knocked a single. Reagan flew to third base. Heiman knocked a long double over in the Stadium, and Todd scored.

In the fourth canto Davidson, second up, hit a single. He stole second. Burnett hit one straight up which Renshaw gathered into his mit. Davidson scored on Johnson's single to right field.

Mathews Hurls Well
Lefty Mathews whiffed four men during his four innings' stay on the mound. He showed signs of weakening just before being relieved by Rawlings. After Johnson singled, Hancock walked and Todd singled, but Reagan popped up to third.

Renshaw, Alecs catcher, took the offerings of both twirlers nicely. His accurate receiving kept the opposing players from stealing several times. Hale, who held down the left garden for the Pre-Laws, made some hard catches.

*Not counted in standing due to protest.

With eight games of the intramural league completed, a few general conclusions can be drawn as to the relative strength of teams. The season is about half over, seven games remaining to be played.

May be Upset
Dope points to the Engineers to win the title, but this may be upset by practically any team except the Academs. The Alecs opened fire by whitewashing the Laws, 17-0. Their second victory came Saturday when they set the Pre-Laws down, 3-2. With Rawlings and Mathews available for service in the box, the opposing teams have a hard row to hoe to get any hits.

Next in line for honors are the Pre-Meds or the BBA crew. The Pre-Meds have a classy twirler in Haverlah, and results of games to date show that pitching strength is the main factor of victory. Haverlah has confidence, and he figures the weaknesses of the various batters.

Forbes twirls well for the BBA outfit. He amasses no great strike-out record, but he is a steady pitcher. He manages to keep the hits of other teams scattered. If his team will support him through the season, he may lead them to the pennant.

The Pre-Laws always play with close scores. They won from the Laws by a one-point margin and they lost twice by a lone tally. Heiman, their moundsman, has received good support, and he has a world of stuff on the ball. The Engineers collected only four hits from his delivery Saturday.

Poor fielding has hurt the Laws' chances of getting to the top of the percentage column. Bradley is a good enough twirler, though not as good as Rawlings or Haverlah. His team fails to rally around him as it should.

No Pitchers
The Academs have looked in vain for a creditable pitcher. Fields, who never pitched before this season, has been knocked out of the box twice. Other Academics twirlers have fared equally as bad.

Practically all of the intramural teams show a weakness as far as hitting goes. In some games, it is true, the batters get on a rampage, but there is no consistent swatting.

Fielding has been done best by the Engineers who have not made an error in two games. The Pre-Laws, after making a ragged initial appearance against the Laws, have shown improvement. They have registered only one miscue in their last two battles. All of the other teams have made numerous bumbles.

The wrangle between the B.B.A. and Pre-Med teams remains unsettled.

led as both teams refused to play Saturday afternoon. The Intramural Council ordered that the battle be played from the last of the fifth inning on, but the official score shows that the protest should have been based on a decision made earlier in the game.

According to Dick Fender, official umpire, the Intramural Council will probably order the entire clash to be played over or declare the B.B.A.'s winners because the Pre-Meds refused to play Saturday. Managers of both teams have declared that they would present their views of the case at the next council meeting.

Fancy diving—Fields (F), Gause (V), Bernbaum (V).

Relay racing furnished the greatest thrill of the day of the spectators. Nagle and Estes started and finished neck and neck. Hamby managed to gain a foot on Harkrider. Bernbaum and Cale had it out n'p and tuck with neither able to gain on the other. Loeb held the lead over Fields and Varsity won the relay.

Bowling Gets Lead
In the 220, Bowling jumped into the lead and held it, though Estes pushed him all the way. Though Fields won the 50 free style, he just did manage to beat Loeb. After the first turn Loeb was crawling slowly up on Fields. Harkrider gave Nagle a hard fight in the backstroke. Nagle was handicapped by a cramp in his foot during his race, however. The 100 was the closest and hardest fought of the day. Bernbaum on the start jumped into the lead and held it for two and a half laps. Bowling on the last lap hit up his stroke and managed to pass Bernbaum just Next Saturday this same team is scheduled to meet the St. Edward's aquatic team. The St. Edward's team is reported strong and will give the Longhorns a close fight. The meet will be held at Deep Eddy at 3:30.

TEXAS WINS FIRST CONFERENCE TENNIS

Special to The Texan

Houston, Texas, April 17.—After waiting until late this afternoon because of hard rain, Texas defeated Rice in the first conference tennis matches. Two singles matches were completed in the dark.

Brewster and Wilkinson for Texas defeated Beckenbach and Barr of Rice 7-5, 6-4 in the doubles, and Key and Boone also won over their Owl opponents, Bewlah and White, in the other double matches by a score of 6-1, 6-2.

In the singles Key won from Barr in two hard fought sets, 6-2, 6-4. Brewster, Longhorn racketeer, lost to Beckenbach 6-4, 7-5. The Wilkinson-White match was called on account of darkness with Wilkinson leading the Rice star 6-0, 6-6. The other Longhorn singles match went to Boone who won over Bewlah by a score of 6-1, 7-5.

A.M. Beats Rice

Special to The Texan

College Station, Texas, April 17.—The Texas Aggies outthit the Rice Owls in a game played here today to win by a score of 8-2. The Farmers made four runs in the first and added three more in the second, driving Ables to the showers.

The Owls retaliated by knocking Wyman, Farmer twirler, from the box in the sixth. Grandpa Woods relieved Ables and held the Aggies at bay for the rest of the afternoon. Four errors by the Rice nine aided the Aggie scoring.

The score by innings:

A. & M.	430	000	01x-8 11 1
Rice	000	011	000-2 8 4

Batteries: Wyman, Hillin and Schueneman; Ables, Woods and Underwood. Umpire, Webber.

RALLY IN NINTH GIVES T. C. U. VICTORY

Waco, April 17.—Rallying desperately in the ninth inning, the league-leading T. C. U. Christians defeated the Baylor Bears in a thrilling slugfest today. The game gives the Horned Frogs five conference victories, all of them played away from home, and the remaining seven contests are on the home lot. The Frogs now have a strangle hold on the championship.

Lefty Stallings pitched for the Bear aggregation, with Hezzie Carson on the mound for T. C. U. Kelly and Washmon caught. Both pitchers were hit hard, and many errors were made on both sides. The score was tied and re-tied three times, and Baylor was leading 10-8 in the eighth-inning, only to wilt before the terrific attack of the Frogs.

By Dick McMurray

Another week of play in the Southwestern Conference reveals a percentage column that is vastly different than what was expected, with at least three games that were distinct upsets being the feature. T. C. U.'s defeat of Texas University at Austin Friday was of course the biggest upset of the week, but Baylor's loss to the Frogs a day later proved to be another upset that was equally as startling. And then the Aggies' beating of the Bears at Waco Thursday was not wholly expected, but must have been a result of the law of averages, as the Bears had previously drubbed the Bears in twelve straight diamond battles.

Texas Dumped

Texas was practically put out of the running Friday when they kicked the all-important game of the early season to T. C. U., 6 to 5. The Texas team was clearly off form, and a lot more chesty than they should have been to win a baseball game. Hobo Carson pitched a good game for the Frogs, but nothing extra. Cox of Texas was ineffective, and the entire Texas team behind him loafed from start to finish.

Baylor dropped a game to the Aggies at Carroll Field Thursday. For the first time since 1922, the Farmers have won a baseball game from the Bruins. Hillin, just out of the hospital, went the full route for the visitors, managing to scatter his hits effectively. Stallings and Shelton, the two left handers for the Bridgemen, pitched good ball, but the Bears literally kicked away the game behind them. The Aggies probably deserved to win.

T. C. U.'s victory over the Aggies at Fort Worth the early part of the week was expected, and the tight score that resulted was likewise anticipated. Hezzie Carson held the Aggies to six hits and he himself got two of the six T. C. U. blows, driving in two of their runs. Koerth pitched good ball, but his teammates didn't hit so well behind him.

Five Games for Week

Five conference games are carded for the ensuing week, and all of the games come at the latter part of the week, starting Wednesday. Texas will play all her games this week abroad. Wednesday, they meet the

HOPKINS IS NEW FROSH LEADER

Owls in a return match, and the following day, they meet an ultra-strong Aggie team at College Station. It will be tough going for the Steers in both games, but Texas has her back to the wall, and a loss of either game would make another championship almost beyond their grasp. With Neil Baker rounding into form to be used against the Aggies Thursday, and Cox to send into the Owl fray Wednesday, Texas has an even break to win both games. Both will be grudge battles, as it is a settled fact that both of the opposing teams would rather beat Texas in these games than any other team on their schedule.

T. C. U. and S. M. U. tangle in their second game at Fort Worth Wednesday, and it looks like another easy victory for the leaders, T. C. U. Arkansas and Baylor are in a couple of matches Friday and Saturday at Fayetteville and Baylor is practically sure to win both of them. With such picking as is being produced by Stallings and Shelton, the only two left handers in the conference, the Fear team will be able to make it extremely hot for any of the leading conference teams, much less a cellar crew.

T. C. U.'s win over Baylor lowered Texas' hope for a pennant about 47 per cent, and there is still a mighty rough sea in front of Uncle Billy. Where he had figured out but an even break in the road trips, and winning all the games at home, he must now strain everything to win all his road trips as well as the rest of the games at home. In other words, if Texas loses one more game, they are practically out of the running. And they stand an even chance to do that very thing, because competition is very hot in the conference this year.

Dr. L. W. Payne to Deliver Lecture for Sunday Club Tonight

Dr. L. W. Payne of the English faculty of the University will deliver his talk on the "Spiritual Message of Sidney Lanier" to the Sunday Club at 6 o'clock at Gregg House. This lecture was given by Dr. Payne at Vesper Services last Monday. Misses Dorothy and Esther Heacock will give a duet.

Miss Louise Wright, business manager of the Woman's Building, will read selections in negro dialect. Some of these will be taken from the Uncle Remus stories.

Final plans for the retreat will be presented to the club. This is to be held Wednesday at Barton Springs. At the cabinet meeting yesterday other important business such as the annual senior banquet was discussed and the suggestions of the cabinet will be submitted to the club for its approval.

Plans for Annual Rusk Banquet Discussed at Meeting Saturday Night

A few extemporaneous speeches and an informal discussion of the time and place for the annual banquet of the Rusk Literary Society, at which members will compete in delivering after-dinner speeches to win the Morris Sheppard cash prizes, constituted the chief events at the regular meeting of that society in the Law Building Saturday night.

But without deciding definitely either the time or place for the banquet, however, the society adjourned early so that the members could attend the Texas-Arkansas debate.

Meredith Hopkins, flashy shortstop of the freshman baseball team, was unanimously elected captain of that team late Saturday afternoon. No other men were placed in nomination, and "Hop" was chosen by acclamation without a dissenting vote.

Hopkins is one of the best infielders that has ever come to Texas University. He looks to be in the class with Heinie Odom and Horace Kibbie, who are claimed to be the best infielders that Uncle Billy has ever produced. Not only is he a finished fielder, but he is a powerful hitter, as he gets his shoulders behind the ball and sends it out for extra bases. He was trained at Central High in Fort Worth and with several amateur baseball teams that he played with during the summer months. After his graduation last season, the Houston club of the Texas league did their best to sign him, but Hop was anxious to come under the instruction of William J. Disch, premier baseball coach of the states.

The much larger schedule than has ever before been tried by a freshman baseball team obviated the election of a captain. There will be a five-game schedule with the intramural champions, a five-game schedule with the ineligible freshmen, games with Brackenridge High of San Antonio, and several other leading high school teams this spring.

CONVOCATION SUGGESTION WANTED

The members of the committee appointed by Richard Blalock to make plans for the political convocation to be held the week preceding the election on May 11 are confronted with several problems. They ask for the assistance of the students in working out details of this problem. It is relative to the convocation.

Realizing that it cannot consider every angle of the convocation, and desiring to make the meeting as fair as possible for all candidates, the committee is very anxious to have students submit in writing any suggestions that they may feel are worth while for the convocation. These should be addressed to The Texan, University Station, and they will be placed in the hands of Clinton Burnett, chairman of the committee.

In making the suggestions for the first general political convocation to be held on the campus, the Texan believes that it can present some points which must be settled by those in charge of making the plans. There are many others, but these appear to be the major problems.

Should a candidate be allowed to have another speaker make his campaign talk at the convocation? Should there be a limit on the time of talks, and, if so, just how long should the candidate have to present his speech? What should be the order of speaking? When should the convocation be held? Where should it be held, in the Methodist Church, the Law auditorium, or the Men's Gym? Should some form of entertainment be provided?

The date of the convocation is an important point. Should the meeting be held on Monday night, May 3, or Tuesday night, May 4, or should it be held at an earlier date?

Suggestions should be mailed in as soon as possible in order that the committee will have time to study the convocation, and submit rules.

OPEN FIRE!

With the spring elections but three weeks away, the first faint mutterings which precede the political tempest are indistinctly heard. Although the honor system is only indirectly concerned, and while no other question of similar magnitude will be settled at the polls on May 11, it seems not at all improbable that the coming elections will mark a turning point in the history of our student government.

It is not to be implied from this that the present administration has not met with the approval of the student body. To the contrary, President Blalock has, in many respects, given a very able administration. But, at the same time, it must be admitted that few constructive measures have been introduced and carried into effect. It has rather been a year of dissolutions. The Honor Council admitted failure in enforcing the honor system. The prestige of the Senior Council, an important instrument of government, and one which should play a high role in its capacity as an advisory body, received a serious rebuff. It is likely that its influence will be impaired for some time. The Assembly and the Honor Council have had difficulties and each side has supported its contentions in a manner suggestive of bureaucrats maintaining their departmental prestige, rather than elective officers working in behalf of the interests they should represent.

The greater part of the officers now in power are quite aware of the situation. They fully realize that the fundamental difficulty in our scheme of government lies in the fact that there is no liaison between the government in its administrative and legislative operations and in the various expressions of student opinion concerning the issues which present themselves from time to time.

But this situation cannot be attributed to indifference to student opinion on the part of officials. There are few channels by which student opinion may express itself. Moreover, the student body shows little indication to make use of the channels already available to its use. Many aspects of the honor system question have been discussed recently; but no one is sure as to the general consensus in any one instance. How can a government be expected to act with vigor, intelligence, and decision under such conditions?

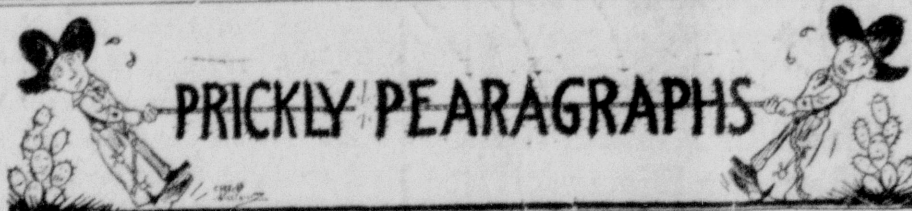

The political convocation is unquestionably a helpful measure. No better indication of President Blalock's clear insight into political conditions has been evinced than his advocacy of this measure. If the student body accepts the convocation idea and uses it to the full extent of its possibilities, the Blalock administration will mark the transition from an old order to a new condition of things.

But the success of the political convention depends alone upon the student body. Every phase of government will be revitalized by a full and an intelligent participation of the student electorate in the coming elections. Will we exhibit more than a perfunctory interest in returning the annual crop of candidates to office? Will we restore the Senior Council to a position of dignity? Will we rehabilitate the honor system? If we want a real government, a government with officials who are impressed with the mandate of the electorate, let every student turn out and make the most of the convocation.

While full attendance at the convocation cannot be too strongly urged, it must be realized that this gathering is something more than a political rally. Those who go only with the idea of letting off a little surplus "fight spirit" had better stay away. The convocation is intended for a turnover of student opinion. If an empty-headed rooster goes he will come away with nothing but a frog in his throat. The Texan has asked for constructive suggestions relative to the convocation. The attitude of the student body in this will be largely determined by the nature of the response.

The Texan indulges the hope that the suggestions called for in this connection will actually start public participation in the campaign. Interest should not await the decisive shock of battle. It should be aroused by the first brush between hostile skirmishers. The skirmishers have taken the field.

T.U. WINS DEBATE FROM ARKANSAS

that maximum efficiency could not be attained under the present system.

The negative put up a very good argument, and there were times when the decision was just a little in doubt. The Arkansas men attempted to show that the air service is essentially an auxiliary to the army and to the navy (and, therefore, not entitled to a position as a separate branch of national defense. They also pointed out many accomplishments of the present system of national defense in the United States, and showed that a system similar to the Mitchell plan is failing in England. Their attempt to show that the present plan would do more for aviation, both military and commercial, than would the Mitchell plan proved a dismal failure before the onslaughts of Collins' statistical rebuttal.

Both the Arkansas men used an effective conversational type of address and presented very logical speeches. White was especially good in his extemporaneous rebuttals and, in his rebuttals, Rose showed a great deal of adaptability.

Annual Theta Sigma Phi Billboard Ball Saturday Night to Be Lively Affair

With the atmosphere of a small town as the motif, the Women's Gym will be transformed into "Ad Center" for the Theta Sigma Phi annual Billboard Ball which will be held next Saturday night, 9 to 12. Steve Gardner's orchestra will appear as "the pride of the village," the town band. A specially-constructed band stand with grass surrounding it will carry out the decorative scheme.

Law and order will be preserved by the town constable who will co-operate with the chaperons. He is keeping his identity secret, while shining up his silver badge and practicing the art of swinging a club. He has sworn to "pinch" all couples who Charleston too violently.

Enormous billboards, containing the latest information about local business concerns, will cover the walls. These will vary in artistic effect from a combination of the wildest hues to the staid and proper black and white. All classes of ads from movies, dry goods stores, political candidates and others will be displayed at "Ad Center."

The affair will be entirely informal. No grand march or cotillion is included in the present plans. A feature act will be performed by several of Varsity's most famous entertainers.

Theta Sigma Phi is a national honorary and professional journalistic fraternity for women. Membership is based on outstanding work of college girls in the field of journalism. Billboard Balls are held annually by chapters all over the country. These affairs reflect the journalistic nature of the fraternity.

Chaperons for the affair will be instructors of journalism and their wives. They are Professor and Mrs. Paul J. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hornaday, and Mr. William L. McGill.

No tickets will be sold in advance of the affair. The price of admittance will be $1.

Daring Aerial Stunt Today by Marshall, Mabry Flying Field

Jerry Marshall, who is instructing several students in airplane flying at Camp Mabry, will do a dead motor landing, after turning a complete flip this afternoon at 4 o'clock, from an altitude of 3,000 feet.

Marshall will cut his motor when he begins his dive, and will do a complete flip in his plane, and again go into a dive, straightening out only as he nears the ground to land. This is a feat that has never been attempted by any aviator at Camp Mabry. He will carry passengers for short hops, before and after the daring aerial stunt.

Tuesday morning, Marshall will hop off for Abilene in his new five-passenger plane carrying three or four members of the Attorney-General's Department to the Moody-Paxton wedding which will be solemnized Tuesday night. They will return to Austin Wednesday morning.

Informal Dance for Mary Katherine Taylor

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was held last Friday night when Judge and Mrs. Ike D. White entertained for their niece, Mary Katherine Taylor, with an informal dance at the Austin Country Club. Music for the occasion was furnished by Harold Caldwell's dance orchestra.

The club was attractively decorated with baskets of roses and bluebonnets. A buffet supper was served to 150 guests.

Chaperons for the evening were Judge and Mrs. Ike D. White, Mrs. Eva Prendergast, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Q. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Simms, Dr. and Mrs. Lonsdale, Mrs. Trotter, Miss Goldie Horton, and Dr. D. C. Cooke.

PRACTICE HOUSE OPENED TO PUBLIC

Cottage, Open Next Week, Shows Way to Adapt Poorly Planned House

During better homes week, the last week in April, the home economics practice cottage, 203 West Twenty-third Street, will open to the public from 3 to 6 p. m.

The practice cottage has been used as a class problem in the courses in interior decoration, and with the co-operation of Austin merchants, the house has been furnished for demonstration. There are some interesting features in the kitchen which have transformed a large inconvenient working space into a compact unit.

The house even now is far from ideal, but it has been an excellent problem in adapting a poorly planned house to most conveniently meet the needs of the family.

In both the H. E. and H. halls will be exhibits of various types of interest to homemakers.

Denton College Exes Entertain at Deep Eddy

Denton College Exes entertained with a picnic at Deep Eddy Friday afternoon, honoring Dr. R. L. Marquis, president of the North Texas State Teachers College. Other honor guests were President H. W. Morelock of Sul Ross Teachers College, and Miss Edith L. Clark, dean of Women, Mrs. Cora M. Martin, supervisor of primary education, Mrs. J. R. Swenson, and Miss Suzanne Swenson, all of the Denton Teachers College. Miss Ruby Terrill and Miss Clara M. Parker of the University faculty, both formerly of the Denton College, were also honorees.

A program of impromptu speeches and song was carried out with Mr. William Boyd acting as toastmaster for the occasion. The first speaker, Dr. Marquis, brought greetings from Denton College and expressed his interest in perfecting the ex-students' organization for maintaining closer relation between the college and its alumni. Mr. Morelock spoke of the co-operation of the two colleges with Dr. Marquis as a link, and extended the greetings of Sul Ross to the group. Miss Clark, who had travelled 250 miles by automobile to attend the picnic spoke in pleasant reminiscence of former years, and told of recent improvements and developments of the college. Talks were also given by Mrs. Swenson, Mrs. Martin, Miss Terrill, and Miss Parker. The program was concluded with a few words from Miss Mamie Smith, president of the club.

Others who attended the picnic were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mowery, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson, Lola Jackson, Lois Patterson, Juanita Yarbrough, Elizabeth Smith, Margaret Benson, Virginia Callaway, Ruth Christopher and Vera Coltharp, and Messrs. Clarence Johnson, John Clack King Sellers, Lynial Hughes, W. D. Stockburger, all Denton College Exes, and Linda Lancaster, Irene Kehoe, and Miriam Webb of Sul Ross College.

The ceremony will be performed Tuesday night at 8 p. m. at the First Baptist Church, with Rev. Lee Scarbrough of Ft. Worth, uncle of the bride, officiating.

Saturday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Pickard entertained at their country home with a breakfast in honor of Mr. Moody and Miss Paxton. They were again honored Saturday night at a very elaborate reception given at the Country Club of Abilene by Mr. and Mrs. Len Faucett and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hanks.

Other affairs planned for the party will be a luncheon Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Compere and Mrs. Payton, a dinner Tuesday for the wedding party at the Swenson home, and a breakfast Tuesday.

Members of the wedding party will be Miss Helen Paxton, attending school in Bristol, Va., who will be Maid of Honor. Mrs. Roy Bardley of Abilene is to be matron of honor. Guclich, former student of the University, is now with a real estate firm in Buffalo, New York, and Miss Hightower is a junior in the University. They will be married in Austin, and will leave immediately after the wedding to make their home in Buffalo.

Juniors Honor Senior Girls Friday Night

One of the most unique and successful social affairs of the season was the Junior Prom, given by the junior girls Friday night in honor of the seniors. The juniors dressed as boys, made dates with the seniors, and escorted them to the dance in true masculine fashion. The dance was held in the Woman's Gymnasium from 9 to 12 o'clock and the music was furnished by the Varsity Peacock Orchestra. There were about 200 couples and 50 "stags."

Helen Biessner, president of the seniors, led the grand march, favoring Elizabeth Baldwin, president of Cap and Gown. The Cotillion was led by Fay Sappington, vice-president of the junior class, favoring Miss Ruby Terrill, dean of Women. Miss Terrill wore a beautiful dress of pale apricot georgette and ecru lace, with a corsage of rosebuds and sweetpeas. Miss Baldwin's dress was a rose ankle taffet, and she carried a corsage of sweet peas.

The room was artistically decorated in rose and white with streamers extending from side to side. During the course of the evening, confetti and serpentine were thrown over the dancers.

According to reports from the seniors, the Junior Prom is just another point for the argument that boys are unnecessary for an enjoyable time.

FINAL VAUDEVILLE BILL AT HANCOCK BEGINNING MONDAY

The final vaudeville bill of this season opening at the Hancock tomorrow runs to comedy, athletics, and song and music on the stage. The screen feature in conjunction with this bill is "The Outsider," with Jacqueline Logan and Lou Tellegen.

The headline attraction is the act of Johnny Barry and his company, "The Lady Killer," a sketch of matrimonial agencies and prospective brides. This is his first attempt in vaudeville and the advance reports indicate his success in variety houses.

An Englishman's idea of what American soda drinks are and how they are made furnishes the theme for the act of Eddie Clayton and Frank Lennie. Arthur Green and Anna LaFell have been stopping shows with their act of melody and mirth, according to reviewers. Several song specialties are mingled with popular syncopated numbers in the act.

Ralph Bevan and Beatrice Flint come back tomorrow with some new wise cracks and songs. A combination of chatter, comedy songs and athletics starts the show—the Rials, Fred and Daisy. An added attraction features this final bill. It is that of the Transfield sisters who do a clever musical turn.

Hi School Sax Band and "Desert Gold" Open Week at Queen

Starting Monday the Queen Theater will feature Ciel Silvey's twenty-piece Saxophone band as an added attraction for the customers of the theater.

This band is composed of twenty-five Austin High students all of whom are said to be real musicians. The program will consist of ensemble numbers, quartettes, trios, duets, and solos. The group of musicians will play on the Queen stage twice daily, at 4:30 and at 9:00.

Zane Grey's "Desert Gold" will be featured on Monday and Tuesday. This is a story of the great Southwest, during the closing years of the nineteenth century when lawless men as well as those interested in development were attracted to the country.

Neil Hamilton, Shirley Mason, William Powell, Robert Frazer and other prominent screen players are featured in this film.

Novarro Vehicle to Play Texas Monday

"The Midshipman," Ramon Novarro's starring vehicle will be presented at the Texas Theater on Monday and Tuesday.

This picture was filmed in its exact locale, the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis under the direction of Christy Cabanne.

Officers, midshipmen, and "plebs" from all states in the Union took part in the filming of this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production written by Carey Wilson.

Novarro is supported by Harriet Hammond, Wesley Barry, Margaret Seddon, Kathleen Dey, Crawford Kent, and Pauline Neff.

Leon Errol and his legs which won him fame in Ziegfeld productions, and Dorothy Gish are the featured members of the cast.

This film will hold the screen at the Texas Wednesday and Thursday.

Through a Mexican Summer School on a Gray Burro

Many Professors and U. Students Study in Mexico

By HAZEL HEDICK.

Can you feature a dignified American university professor holding his brief case under his arm and sitting astride a matty-gray burro? No, that isn't overdrawn. Such a scene is common in Mexico.

Five years ago the University of Mexico started a summer school for foreign students. Each year its advantages have called a few hundred students from the United States. Many students and faculty members of the University of Texas have attended that school in Mexico City.

In most of their opinions the historical value offered by the Mexican summer school is its chief drawing card.

"Every week-end there are student excursions," said Miss Dorothy Schons, instructor in Romance languages at the University of Texas and student in the first summer school at Mexico City in 1921. "These excursions include visits to all the places of interest in and about the capital of the Republic. Some of them are hard to reach and burros are often resorted to as a means of transportation, but when you reach your destination you always forget the trouble of making the trip."

The historical pyramids of Mexico are visited each year by the American students. One excursion that Miss Schons enjoyed the most, she said, was a visit to the picturesque little town of Cuernavaca. It was in this place that Emperor Maximilian and his wife used to spend the week-ends.

"Cuernavaca is one of the most beautiful places in Mexico," said Miss Schons. "You really cannot imagine the picturesqueness of the quaint little town until you see it. I was a member of a party also that was taken through Chapultepec Castle where the President lives."

"The summer I attended the school, President Obregon entertained the students of that session. I don't think the students now, however, are given such an honor."

Hot Tamales
One of her most pleasant evenings Miss Schons cited as including a visit to San Angel where there is a well-known art school. The students that evening were entertained with a regular Mexican supper consisting of tamales, atoles, etc. During the evening one of the leading artists of the country painted a picture of a Mexican senorita. It was begun and completed before the eyes of the American guests.

from the United States. Sometimes one of these American professors takes a party of students to attend the institution. These parties or groups are annual occurrences. Chaparrones from all parts of the United States go with groups down there each summer.

Some Austin boys were members of a colony of twelve Americans last summer. They stayed out near the school and lived nearly as they do at home, according to Jimmy Nichols, who was one of the party.

"All of us talked English most of the time," said Nichols, "and we had many interesting experiences. Of course the main thing you get in the school is a speaking knowledge of the language. But what I enjoyed most was just being around Mexico City. My reason for going to that school was to meet the people there from the States and to visit the historical and unique parts of the country."

Professors Only Fair

As to the school itself, I don't think the professors lecture as effectively as those in the University of Texas. They would spend days on little details that American instructors would pass over after about five minutes. Then they just touched on points that seemed important to me.

American girls have to be very careful when in Mexican territory, according to Nichols. The customs below the Rio Grande differ considerably from those above that river, and without a complete understanding of these customs American girls are sometimes subjected to dangers and insults. Abduction is one of the chief dangers.

Kidnapped!

"I saw an attempted kidnapping one evening," Nichols said. "Just about dusk I was walking along the street with two girls and a boy. We saw a jitney drive up and stop across the street. Several children were playing on the sidewalk. Suddenly a man jumped from the car, grabbed a little American girl and started pulling her towards his car. She let up a yell and so did the others—so much that the would-be kidnapper released her and hurried off in his car."

Coads from the United States are hardly ever subjected to such scares, however, Miss Schons never stay in that country was all pleasure. She, too, thinks the excursions valuable. She saw some old native Indians dance in their historical costumes. Then she thought the civilization in that country had advanced very little. But soon she changed her mind.

"You can spend all the money you can get your hands on!" she said laughingly. "The Mexican dealers have decided that all Americans are rich and when they see one coming they double and sometimes triple their prices. One of our chief pleasures was in what we call 'jeweling 'em down'. We could usually get them to lower the price to its original mark. Then we would have to buy."

The expenses of the school, however, are not far above those in this country, according to Miss Schons. The matriculation fees are slightly higher. There are no dormitories and all students stay in private homes or in hotels.

"And those hotels are perfectly marvelous," said Miss Schons. "The furnishings are as comfortable and gorgeous as any in the States and the hotel guests have all accommodations. They were really much more than I expected."

The hotels give dances frequently. They are much the same as the hotel dances in this country, according to Miss Schons, "but, oh, what a pleasure it is to watch those Mexicans glide along on the floor. Typical Mexican dances, songs, instrumental selections, and other forms of entertainment are furnished at the school every Thursday."

"But the funniest thing about the country," said Nichols, "and what we laughed at most, was the siesta. Every day—right after lunch the whole city slept. You could walk up one street and down the next and not be able to get waited on in a store. All of the dealers—everybody—sat around in chairs, on steps, on the floor or just anywhere and slept. Nothing would rouse them. And furthermore, I think if I had stayed around there much longer I would have gotten the habit myself!"

ORIGIN OF BIBLE TOPIC OF CLASS

Wharton Leads Meeting of Open Forum Class at Y. M. C. A. This Afternoon

"The Bible" will be the subject for the lecture and discussion at the weekly forum class which will meet at the Y. M. C. A. chapel room at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to Rev. Lawrence Wharton, leader of the class. It is his intention to discuss the origin of the Bible and the purpose it serves in the Christian Church, according to Dr. Wharton. He will also show why a belief in the Bible as a guide to conduct and a textbook of religion is necessary to true Christian living.

The attendance today is expected to reach at least forty, according to Howard Johnson, associate secretary of the Y. M. C. A., which is sponsoring the class. The meeting today will be the fourth which the class has held and the attendance has been steadily growing. This class which is being conducted under the auspices of the Bible study committee of the Y. M. C. A., is inter-denominational and is held on Sunday afternoon in order to accommodate the students who may be interested in the problems to be discussed, but who do not care to attend regular church or Sunday school services, according to Johnson.

The program for this afternoon will be the usual one, which consists of a twenty-minute talk by Dr. Wharton, followed by forty minutes of discussion by the group and the asking and answering of questions. Dr. Wharton states that he will try to answer any questions that may be troubling students in the field of theology or creed.

Mathews Discusses Student Problems at Registrar Meet

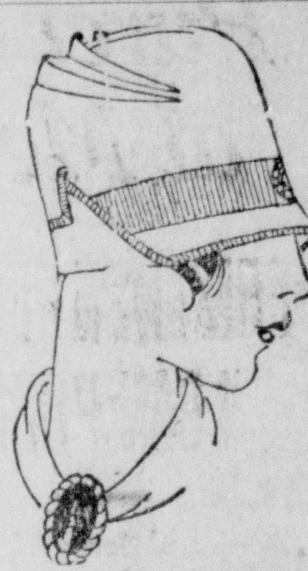

With 150 registrars of universities and colleges present, the national convention of registrars was held in Minnesota April 15-17. Student problems and the part that registrars have had in keeping the universities up with the times as an intellectual factor in the nation's progress were subjects of discussion.

The problems of universities with an enrollment over 4,000 was the subject of an address given by E. J. Mathews, registrar of the University of Texas. Mr. Mathews will be back on the campus Monday.

Regents Consider Purchase of Bonds at Meeting, April 20

PERMANENT FUND LOAN PROPOSED

Splawn and Some Members in Favor of Measure if Constitutional

Whether the Board of Regents of the University will favor purchasing of manuscript bonds of the State of Texas with money from the permanent fund of approximately $3,000,000 will be decided at a meeting of the board in Galveston Tuesday.

Splawn Approves

President W. M. W. Splawn of the University and several members of the board have declared themselves in favor of the measure on the condition that it is found constitutional.

Other matters that will be brought up are a new method of inspecting oil gauges, inspection of the Medical Branch, and the regular business routine.

It has not been decided whether the new B. B. A. dean will be selected. In all probability the bids for the new Power House will not be considered also, as they are not all in yet, said C. D. Simmons, secretary of the board. Mr. Simmons and President Splawn will leave the University tonight for Galveston, and will return Wednesday.

Committee Will Meet Soon to Plan Uniform Costume for Seniors

Announcement will be made later of the date of the meeting of the committee appointed by Richard Blacklock, president of the Students' Association, to co-operate with the faculty in planning a uniform costume for commencement. The committee, composed of five members, was appointed Friday.

It was impossible to hold the meeting that had been planned for Saturday. A member of the committee stated that they hoped to plan a more impressive commencement than in former years when a uniform dress was not observed.

BONE LEADS 'Y' RETREAT PROGRAM

Officers of Men's Organization to Plan Next Year's Work Next Week-End

Spring retreat, the annual camp for members of the Y.M.C.A. cabinet will be held this week-end, beginning Friday, when the cabinet members and association officials go to Pearce's Lodge on the lake for a three-day stay of studying and planning of the cabinet work for next year, according to Jim Straiton, president of the cabinet. The camp will last from Friday to Sunday, the campers returning to the city late Sunday.

Harry Bone of Dallas, travelling field secretary of the association, will lead the discussion work at the retreat. One of the important phases of the meeting will be the selection of five boys to engage in social service work in the northern and eastern states during the summer months. Last summer Sterling Holloway, then president of the cabinet, travelled over the east and mid-west doing association work.

In addition to the talks by Mr. Bone, there will be lectures by the president of the cabinet, the local secretary, Block Smith, and other members of the cabinet. Study of Bible discussion work will occupy a large part of the attention of the retreat. A. Howard Johnson, who has charge of the discussion groups, is planning an extensive group campaign for the remainder of this long session. He will speak in behalf of the discussion groups.

SPEAKS AT VESPER

Miss Ruby Terrill, Dean of Women, will be the speaker for Vespers service to be held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Girls' Study Hall. She has selected as her subject "Attitude of Jesus Toward Women of His Time." Miss Aileen Cain will appear on the program and sing.

RAMSHORN GIVES PARTY OF ALECS

Dinner-Dance Sponsored by Literary Society for Engineers, April 30

Final arrangements are being made for the Engineer dinner-dance, which will be held Friday evening, April 30, at the Cactus Tea Room, under the auspices of the Ramshorn Literary Society, the only engineering literary society, according to Jack Knudson, president of the club.

"Each year," Knudson said "the Ramshorn Society has a dance or dinner in honor of the Engineers, which it tries to make the crowning event of the year. It was decided to hold a dinner-dance this year in an effort to make the entertainment one which would appeal to every taste. The dinner will be served at 8 o'clock and from 9 to 12 o'clock there will be dancing, for which we have secured the services of a well-known ten-piece orchestra."

University Will Be Honored by American Architecture Group

The University of Texas has been added to the list of schools to be honored by the American Institute of Architecture, according to a letter received by Dr. F. E. Giesecke of the department of architecture, from E. C. Kemper, secretary of the Institute.

Each year an honor student of the department of architecture will receive a medal from the American Institute of Architecture, beginning this year. With this medal copies of "Mont St. Michel" and "Chartres" by Henry Adams will be given, Mr. Kemper wrote.

The student to be honored will be selected by the faculty of the department of architecture sometime during the next month, Dr. Giesecke said. Selection will be made on the basis of scholarship, ability, and interest in the work. Students so honored are usually seniors, and the ceremony of presenting the medal generally comes at commencement, but this is not required by the donors of the medal, Dr. Giesecke said.

The Collegiate Shoppe

Fairly blossoms with the lovely new frocks that tell of spring and summer.

What a delightful place the Collegiate Shoppe just now, with spring in the air, and everyone wanting new frocks, and the place fairly blossoming forth with the newest and smartest frocks. It's a real pleasure to come in and look around. You are sure to find just your type of frock.

Sport Frocks

and frocks for campus wear

There is a dash of color here, and there should be, for what can be gayer than bright sport clothes—smart silk frocks in one and two-piece models, in the pastel shades, in brilliant colors of the solid white that speaks of summer days, brightened with a gay scarf, collar or kerchief. Hand work, faggoting, stitching and tucks form the distinctive trim.

Afternoon Frocks

Gayness is the keynote of these frocks with flowing panels, fluttering ties, uneven hems, and full sleeves. One may be formal at tea time, or the dance, in chiffon or georgette, shirred or draped, and distinctly gowned, even tailored for street and afternoon. Of course, there are plenty of dark blues, and the popular summer shades.
