

Memorial Coin Sale to Start December 15

Legion Committee Expects to Raise $750,000 to Build Museum on Campus

Inauguration of the sale of Texas Centennial souvenir half-dollars by the American Legion Memorial Museum Committee has been announced for December 15, according to A. Garland Adair, chairman.

Miller Ainsworth of Luling, state commander of the American Legion, has announced that the plan to build a Memorial Museum on the campus of The University of Texas through the sale of these souvenir coins will occupy a prominent place on the program of activities of his administration during the coming year.

100,000 Coins Ordered

Through an act of Congress authorizing the minting of 1,500,000 coins to commemorate the hundred year anniversary of Texas's history was authorized. The U.S. Mr. Adair announced Friday that a shipment of 100,000 coins had been ordered for delivery to the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas.

The banks of the State will place their orders for the coins through the Federal Reserve Bank and distribution will be handled by the institution. The coins are to be sold for $1.50 cents of which goes to the Mexican fund.

The first ten coins will be sold at auction from the steps of the State Capitol Saturday afternoon, December 15. At the same time, coins will be auctioned in every county in Texas, under the direction of the local American Legion posts.

Preceding the auction in Austin, a State-wide meeting will be held Saturday morning, December 14, to which all State department heads, members of the Legislature, the Regents of the University, the officials of the American Legion, the members of the Texas Memorial Museum Commission and others will be invited.

Just before 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon of that date, a parade will form at the south end of Congress Avenue and proceed to the Capitol where Governor-elect James V. Allred will auction off the coins.

Preliminary Plans Made

Austin civic organizations, clubs, societies, schools, and University organizations and groups will be invited to participate.

At a meeting held in the Austin Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon, preliminary plans were made for the auction ceremony and the parade.

B. J. Rupert, post commander of the local American Legion, was elected chairman of the committee in charge. L. T. Bellmont and William L. McGill were designated to arrange for the University participation in the event. St. McBrayer, Raymond Brooks, Walter Gates were designated a publicity committee. A. C. E. Herbert Jones, Roy Porter, Hardy Hollers were named to tend invitations to various organizations and societies to participate and Captain F. E. Dickinson given the assignment of organizing the parade.

Seven 'T' Awards Go to University of Texas Cross-Country Conference Champs

This Sporting World

By STANLEY GUNN
Texas Sports Staff

SELECTIONS—

Today's games will end football competition so far as Southwest fans are concerned. . . only Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowls, and East-West games are left on the menu. How it looks for this afternoon:

Michigan State over A. & M.
S. M. U. over Washington U.
Santa Clara over T. C. U.

The closest game will probably be the last named. The passing attack of the Frogs may prove dangerous to the invaders. In other games scheduled for the day Notre Dame should whip Southern California in no uncertain fashion.

TEXAS RELAYS—

"There is a very good chance that the Texas Relays will be held this year," Coach Clyde Littlefield stated yesterday. The relays were abandoned after 1931 because of lack of finances. 1931 marked the seventh time that this sporting event had brought numbers of athletes from over the country and had carried Texas's name far afield. There is every reason that the relays should be held again this spring. Finances are better than they were in '31, and the Texas track team is one of the best in the nation. When Alex Cox, Tiny Gruneisen, Beverly Rockhold, and Chink Wallender stepped the 880 course at the Kansas Relays last season to chalk up a new world's record, there was sufficient indication that Texas produced the cream of track stars. Incidentally, Texas should better that mark again this year. Only Cox is gone of the four, and H. V. Reeves, Schreiner transfer, can easily fill his shoes.

CENTENNIAL TILT—

When the Texas Longhorns line up against Southern Methodist next fall, in Dallas, it will mark the 100th conference game that the Steers have played. A Century of Progress! It would be better if the game were played here in order for a celebration of some sort. No other team has reached the 100 mark yet, nor will any do so until after the Texas-S. M. U. game.

One more prediction: Ray Morrison will go to Vanderbilt before next season. Morrison has long been called the "Crafty One" . . . and sooner or later, no matter how good they are, all coaches must move on . . . and it seems that this is the best opportunity to make a change. Morrison calls Vanderbilt his alma mater . . . and has a son playing on the freshman team there now. Incidentally, Mr. Metzenthin remarks that he is glad the Athletic Council is not looking for a new coach this winter.

GLEANINGS—

Considerably fewer coaches are being released this year than last . . . Jack Newby and Choice Rucker will captain next year's Arkansas football team . . . The receiver of the Houston Post trophy for the most valuable player will be given the cup at the Aggie banquet in Houston December 10—Bohn Hilliard will get the cup if Houston sport writers fail to push McCauley or Wallace in line for the nomination . . . Berry Whitaker asks us to mention that entries for intramural basketball contests will close December 19 . . . In a straw vote by the fans on choices to play in the Rose Bowl, Rice was sixth—Columbia was number 20—Stanford fans evidently feared another upset as the Lions did in '33.

Loan League Admits Austin Association

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Austin has been admitted to membership in the United States Building and Loan League. Two University of Texas professors are officers of the association. Dr. E. Karl McGinnis, professor of business law and real estate, is vice-president, and Dr. H. J. Ettlinger, professor of mathematics, is one of the directors.

The association becomes a member of a national trade organization in this field that has more than 3,900 members. Its business is administered by an executive vice-president and staff from offices at 104 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

The United States League, organized forty-two years ago to aid the work of the local associations in the home financing field, has on its rolls today some of the leaders in American finance. The Austin association will be entitled to send a delegate to the league's convention each year, and will also participate in the national program for tax relief, home owning encouragement and other work undertaken by the league.

Texas Team Won Fourth Straight Championship

Seven members of the University of Texas cross-country team that won the conference championship at College Station November 24 were announced as winners of "T" awards by the Athletic Council Friday.

Those that will receive varsity "T" letters for their work during the season are Captain Joe Stern, Buren Edwards, George "Mule" Wilson, Remus Thomas, W. W. Finley, Mitchell Stark, Tolbert Field will be given a reserve letter.

In the conference meet which the Steers won by a score of 26-39, Buren Edwards placed second; Wilson fourth; Storm fifth; Thomas sixth; Finley seventh; and Stark ninth.

It was the fourth straight conference championship that the Texas harriers had won, and gave Coach Clyde Littlefield, coaching the cross-country team for the first time, a good start.

Before going to the conference meet the Steer runners won victories over Rice Institute, North Texas State Teachers College, Texas A. & M., and Abilene Christian College.

A captain for the 1935 team will be elected at a meeting of the lettermen next week.

Freshmen that will receive cross-country numerals if they pass the required number of hours are Earl B. Johnson, Max Hyman, Travis C. Meitzen, Albert E. Cupp, and Gordon Fisher.

Bernard Karkowski was announced as manager of the track team for the coming season.

All Star Polo Team Announced

Members of the all-star polo team who will meet the Austin Polo Club Sunday on Camp Mabry field, have been announced as Hoss Cook, Charlie Hall, Richard Riley, and Vernon Cook of the University team; Bill Floyd, Dean Smith, and Jimmy Burr chosen from the Cavalry squad; Mike Butler of the Allendale team.

The All-Star selections were made by a committee composed of Murray Graham, C. M. Cabanis, E. P. Thomas, and Captain Dixon. The committee did not specify the positions of the players or who would start the game.

Committee members stated that the combination chosen will give the Miller men a hard ride for victory. Such players as Cecil Smith, one of the three ten-goal men in the world; Rube Williams, eight-goal handicap players and considered as the best number four position man in polo history; Gilly Gilmore, national five goal handicap player; George Miller, who fourteen years ago organized the team, will all be featured by the Austin Polo Club.

The time for the game has been set for 3 o'clock. The admission is 40 cents.

Broncos to Meet Christians Today

Special to The Daily Texan
FORT WORTH, Dec. 7.—The T. C. U.-Santa Clara game here Saturday gives promise of developing into one of the most spectacular grid contests in the Southwest this season.

"We intend to open up. Our attack will be through the air," announced Coach Clipper Smith of Santa Clara as his team left California for Texas.

"We'll play a wide-open game," Coach Dutch Meyer of T. C. U. says. "We have three passers in our regular backfield and we expect to toss that pigskin for all we're worth."

So it appears that those who like action in football are due to get it.

Both the Frogs and the Broncos will enter the game at full strength. The return of Jimmy Lawrence to the T. C. U. backfield will materially strengthen the Christians. The Broncos are bringing 28 picked men from their strong squad.

GRANGE MAY COACH

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 7. (INS)—According to best reports today Harold "Red" Grange, former backfield ace at the University of Illinois, is a leading candidate for the job of head football coach at the University of Missouri.

Grange, now captain of the Chicago Bears, professional football team, has made application for the coaching job made vacant by the resignation of Frank Carideo, former Notre Dame star.

In Chicago Grange said he will leave professional football with the close of this season to do some coaching in the collegiate end of the sport.

Michigan State Favored To Defeat Texas A.&M. Today in San Antonio

Homer Norton, head football coach at A. & M., will attempt to cap a successful climax to a poor season when he pits his Texas Aggies against the Michigan State Spartans on Eagle Field in San Antonio at 2:30 o'clock today.

The Spartans, having lost only one tilt in an eight-game schedule, are odds-on favorites to defeat A. & M. The Aggies' chances at a victory will be considerably enhanced if the weather today is warm. The Michigan men are used to galloping around in the snow and near zero weather.

Both teams arrived in San Antonio last night and were put under the same roof at the Plaza Hotel. The Spartans came in two special cars with a traveling squad of forty men, including thirty-three football players. The Aggies brought twenty-nine players to San Antonio for the game.

Tickets will be sold at from $1.10 to $2.20 for adults. A large advance sale predicted a financial success for the game.

San Antonio officials were planning to entertain the two teams extensively. An automobile agency promised the use of as many of its cars as were needed to carry the visitors on a sightseeing tour over the city. A special tour was mapped out for the football players by George Smith of the San Antonio A. & M. Ex-Students Club and Harold Winters, secretary of the San Antonio Sports Association.

The teams were met at the station and escorted to the hotel. A special motorcycle police escort accompanied each of the teams to the hotel.

A combined band made up of the Brackenridge and Jefferson high school organizations will play on the Michigan side of the field. Late reports credited the A. & M. officials with the announcement that it would be impossible to get the Aggie Band to the game.

Highland Park Defeats Vernon, Greenville Crushes Longview, And Corpus Whips Jefferson

Special to The Daily Texan

HIGHLAND PARK, 12; VERNON, 7
VERNON, Dec. 7.—In a brilliant offensive spectacle, the Highland Park Scots, Dallas, carried off bi-district title honors between Districts No. 5 and 6 here this afternoon with a 12-7 decision over the Vernon Lions. Approximately four thousand people braved a sub-freezing weather to view the contest. The Scots scored in the first and second quarters and Vernon in the second.

GREENVILLE 47 LONGVIEW 6
Special to The Daily Texan
GREENVILLE, Dec. 7.—The Greenville Lions advanced to quarter finals in the Interscholastic League here Friday by virtue of a smashing 47 to 6 victory over the Longview Lobos. The Lions will meet the Corsicana Tigers here next week, the Tigers being forced to come here in return for the game played in Corsicana in 1932.

Bert Marshall, all-State quarterback of the 1933 championship team, ran wild against Longview, scoring four of his team's touchdowns. McClain, halfback, crossed the double stripe twice, and Easter, fullback, once. The Lions demonstrated blocking vastly superior to that of their opponents.

Greenville registered thirty-one first downs compared with three for the Lobos, two of which were made against second stringers, and gained 357 yards by rushing, to Longview's 39.

Longview scored first in the opening period, Bivins, quarterback, rifling a 20-yard pass to Jimmy Whitten who ran twenty-two yards for the score. Thereafter it was all Greenville's game.

CORPUS CHRISTI 10 JEFFERSON 9
Special to The Daily Texan
SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7.—Corpus Christi High School, though held to four first downs while Jefferson of San Antonio piled up ten, defeated the Mustangs 10 to 9 here today in a bi-district high school football game.

Two passes, one Haas to Lawrence on the eight yard line after which followed a score, and again Haas to Lawrence good for fifty-five yards to the 15-yard line from where a field goal by Lawrence was made possible, accounted for the Corpus Christi points. English passed to Parker for the Jefferson touchdown, and Corpus gave a safety when backed against their goal line late in the game.

New Main Building Preliminaries Begun

Work preliminary to the actual construction of the new Main Building has been started with the transplanting of trees and shrubs from in front of the new Library Building to other beds in various parts of the campus to provide space for the machinery and materials that will be used in the construction work.

The plants that are being transplanted are forty reevesiana spiraeas, four large red cedars, fifty Italian jasmynes, twenty-five ever-blooming privets, thirty-five prostrate pivets, sixteen algerites, and twelve elm trees.

As soon as the construction work is started, a fence will be built to enclose the area directly in front of the Library Building and extending to the street, O. J. Herrington, University gardner, said.

MUSTANG COACH SILENT

DALLAS, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Still reluctant to talk about possibility of his accepting offers from Vanderbilt University officials to coach the Commodores in 1935, Coach Ray Morrison was enroute to St. Louis with the Mustangs today for tomorrow's intersectional game with Washington University.

Despite dispatches from Nashville which declared Morrison would confer on Monday with Dan McGugin, retiring coach at Vandy, and other officials, Morrison refused to confirm these reports. He said he would return to Dallas immediately after the Washington game.

4 Great Athletic Event

What about the Texas Relays? These track events were held seven times prior to 1932 when they were abandoned because of financial conditions. That they were worthy of the support was not questioned. The Texas Relays were the most famous of their kind throughout the Southland. Athletes from the best universities in the nation competed on the cinder paths of Memorial Stadium. Each year the question is raised anew and for the past few years the lack of money has been given as the reason for their continued abandonment. Clyde Littlefield, coach of the Texas track team for the past fifteen years, has submitted a statement to the Athletic Council showing the cost of the relays, itemizing each expenditure, and showing how the money can be raised. Sometime, probably early next week, the Council will consider re-establishing the Relays. The Texas Relays should be held this year. Financial conditions are such that the expense would be warranted. The Texas track team is one of the outstanding in the nation and there is no reason why they could not carry Texas's athletic flag to a higher place. The fact that the Orange and White set a new world's record last year at the Kansas Relays would warrant re-establishing the South's greatest track event.

NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

By KARL M. KAHN Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—When Mr. Roosevelt got off the train that brought him back from Warm Springs, Ga., who would get off with him but Professor Rexford Guy Tugwell. This is the same Dr. Tugwell about whom you were reading a few months ago that he was on the way out. Dr. Tugwell is out. He is so far out in front of most of the President's advisers that it is difficult for the others to keep pace with him. Of all the cabinet members, department heads and advisers that were called to Warm Springs by Mr. Roosevelt, none was with the President so much as Dr. Tugwell. The Under Secretary of Agriculture was called to the southern resort twice. Those who were there and who now what went on say he still is the No. 1 brain trust. The movie cameramen were rinding their machines with their lenses focused on Mrs. Roosevelt while she waited for the President's train to roll in. "You had better not use so much film on me," she finally suggested, "or you won't have any left when the President gets here. He comes first, you know."

Vice-President Garner came back to town with a bigger worry than politics or administration policies. "Cactus Jack" is worried about his bantam chickens and his pheasant eggs. For years Garner has raised antams on his place at Uvalde, Texas. Now he is trying to raise pheasants, but the pheasant is a bird that frequently won't stay in a cage.

The Vice President has been giving the bantams lessons in catching pheasants' eggs.

MISS HISS TO SPEAK

"Women Sports" will be the title of the speech given by Miss Anna Hiss, director of physical education for women, at a meeting of the Housemothers for Women Wednesday, December 12, at 8 o'clock in Texas Union 301. Mrs. Ruby Terrill-Lomax, dean of women, announced Friday. The talk by Miss Hiss will include an explanation of the program of activities which are open to the women students living in boarding houses, and a discussion of the activities also open to the housemothers of the boarding houses.

Religious Play To Be Presented By Curtain Club

Additional to the fact that the play is in keeping with the Christmas spirit, "Holy Night," which will be given December 18, 19, and 20, was selected for other reasons as the next Curtain Club production. Ernest Hardin, director, has announced.

From year to year, various churches in the city have asked the group to cooperate with them by producing Christmas pageants, Mr. Hardin said. Therefore, not to be partial to any one church and to present a play that everyone will be able to attend, the Curtain Club decided upon "Holy Night."

The play is a religious drama written by G. M. Sierra, the Spanish author who wrote "Cradle Song." The main scene represents a Gothic cathedral with three large colored windows, a golden altar, and other realistic cathedral furnishings. One of the other important scenes is of a forest.

Duncan Whiteside will be in charge of the stage production; Charles Von Rosenberg and Nelson Olmstead have been appointed by the Board of Governors as assistant stage managers; Edmund King will be in charge of the choir music; and Henry Wunderlich will play the organ.

Rehearsals for the play have been underway for the past week. The cast for the production includes: the Virgin, Margaret Soule; Saint Francis of Assisi, Carl Hardin; the Priest, Tom Husbands; Archangel Michael, Hubert Rossy; Archangel Raphael, John Connally; Archangel Gabriel, Eli Wallach; Bernada, Agnes Williams; Madalena, Virginia Livingston; Bautista, J. W. Ward; Senor Simon, Edwin Stebbins; the Sacristan, Charles Von Rosenberg; Nicasia, Mildred Cooke; the Labourer, Nelson Olmstead; the Beggar, Al Mason; the Ragamuffin, Joe Munster; the Mother, Lurline Hughes; and Sena Ubalda, Jennie Lois Phillips.

Gregg Players To Give Drama

Under the direction of Charles Newman, the Gregg House Players will give as their Christmas production, Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man," December 16 in Gregg House auditorium.

"The Other Wise Man" is an adaptation from Van Dyke's story of the fourth wise man who, because of his kindness and willingness to always lend a helping hand, became lost from the other three wise men and consequently did not reach Bethlehem with the others.

On his journey the fourth wise man carried with him three jewels he had acquired by the sale of all his possessions, and which were to be his gift to the new born Christ. On his trip, however, he encountered first a sick man to whom he gave one of his precious jewels; the second he gave to save the child of a woman from the sword of the Centurian; and the third he gave to Roman soldiers for the freeing of a captive maid. Thus his wealth left him, and he arrived in Bethlehem giftless, only to find that Christ has just been taken off the cross.

what he might hope to accomplish. First, the poet must realize that there are only two things to a poem, one immediate and easily perceived. The first, the idea of the poem, is of little importance; the second, the satisfaction or the quality of recognizing what the poem should convey to those hearing it, is all important.

"The poet has nothing to lend in writing of cats and trees and grass except those qualities inherent in himself, and he cannot therefore write of these things as they are," Mr. Stephens said. No life can be described or detached in words and phrases, in painting or in music, he continued. The only thing that the artist and writer and musician can hope for is understanding of the creative thing that he has produced.

Mr. Stephens appreciates the quality, loneliness, more, possibly, than any writer who has considered it. "Loneliness is a universal fact," he said. "You, I, a cat, a blade of grass, a tree, the moon, the earth. We are all set aside to ourselves, alone."

All that is lonely is a doctrine that he has formulated, a doctrine which found its way into one of the best poems which he gave Friday night. To the prose mind, the quality would be misery, but to the poetic, it can mean only beauty.

As a whole there are certain characteristic marks to be seen in Mr. Stephens's verse. It is verse of action. (He loves animation.) And it is verse in which the quick mirthful twist finds full play in the last line.

L. S. U. Student Body Denied Right to Meet

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Louisiana State University's student body today was denied the right to hold a mass meeting to take a stand for or against the action of the student council in siding with university officials in the fight of journalism students against censorship of the Reveille, undergraduate newspaper.

Mathews Gives 1933-34 Figures On Registration

Men outnumbered women almost two to one during the 1933-34 long session of the University, a registration report issued by E. J. Mathews, reveals.

Out of the total number of individual enrollments of 6,653 students, 4,401 were men and 2,251 were women. But subtracting all cancellations, withdrawals, drops, and other eliminations, the average active registration was 5,802 students.

The total enrollment is narrowed down even further if only full time students are considered. "A full time student is the equivalent of one student pursuing the normal full time load," the report states. There was a total of 5,390.5 full time students during the session, 3,537.6 of the number being men and 1,852.8 being women.

The College of Arts and Sciences led in total number of full-time students with a total of 3,506.4 persons. The College of Engineering came second with 668.3 students. Other branches of the University ranked as follows as to full time student enrollment: 410.1 in the School of Law; 280.2 in the Graduate School; 272.2 in the School of Business Administration; 177.3 in the School of Education; and 76 in the College of Pharmacy.

Only 9.3 women full time students enrolled in the School of Law during 1933-34, the Registrar's report shows, as compared to 400.8 men students. Women outnumbered men in the School of Education 129.7 to 47.6. There were 18.6 women in the College of Engineering and 649.7 men.

ered apart from the other political problems. The United States, Dr. Mecham said, declared that the problems cannot be separated. The Far East policies of the United States are in entire opposition with her policies of European disarmament.

Says U. S. Will Stand Pat Bringing out another point, revealed in the Christian Science Monitor, Dr. Mecham strengthens his opinions that prestige is not Japan's real reason for demanding naval parity by his suggestion that during the London Conference, an official Japanese report asked for a ratio which would give England superiority and Japan equality with the United States.

Economic interests are, however, not the only reason why the United States must stand for the existing ratio, Dr. Mecham emphasized, as trade with Japan would not pay for the great expense she must go to in order to secure more ships. Her honor, prestige, and dignity must be maintained at all costs, for if she once gave way, it might be difficult for her to stop. Concerning the possible outcome, Dr. Mecham said that the United States will probably stand for the existing ratio, and if Japan does carry out her threat to denounce the treaties, the United States will probably maintain superior strength by building her navy ahead of Japan.

'Y' Financial Drive Nets $798

A total of $798 had been subscribed by noon Friday in the financial campaign for the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., Alvin Scaff, president of the Y. M. C. A., announced Friday. The goal for the student workers is $830. The campaign was started Wednesday and will be continued through Saturday. The final check will be made Monday and Tuesday, when both faculty and student subscriptions and pledges will be counted.

U. S. TO HELP LEAGUE WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The United States today notified the League of Nations of its willingness to participate in the proposed plan for establishment of a commission of American nations at Buenos Aires to work out a permanent peace plan in the Chaco War in South America.

Establishment of this commission will depend upon League efforts to induce Paraguay and Bolivia to declare an armistice.

Trends in Oil, Coal Production Compared

Comparison of the trends during the last few years in production of oil and coal, two of the Southwest's major mineral resources, is sufficient to indicate quite plainly why oil companies from far and near are "literally scrambling over themselves for Texas acreage, in the opinion of Elmer H. Johnson, regional economist in The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"In 1909 Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and New Mexico furnished only 4 per cent of the total value of the products of the mines and quarries of the nation," Mr. Johnson said. "In 1932 these states furnished 29.5 per cent of the total value of the mineral products of the United States. In 1932 the total value of Pennsylvania's mineral products amounted to $425,000,000, as compared with $390,000,000 for Texas. Since the Southwest bulks so large in value of its mineral production, it is no wonder that this section is commanding considerable national attention.

"World oil production suffered no levelling-off during the war or in the post-war years. From 1923 to 1929 world oil production was not only above its pre-war level, it had attained its pre-war trend of production. The yearly increase of world oil production for several decades averaged 8.4 per cent. And during these several decades, at least since 1890, the period of doubling production is 8.6 years.

"The relative importance of coal for power production is declining, while that of oil is rising rather rapidly, so much so that it is substantially gaining on world coal production. The coal industry is coming to regard coal as a raw material for chemical industries and from which a multitude of products are being produced; particularly is this true in Germany.

"Is it any wonder that oil companies from far and near are literally scrambling over themselves for Texas acreage?"

Around The World Today

By TOM CURRIE, JR.

"Every citizen owes duty, according to his capacity, to support and defend government against all enemies," according to a unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States which was released after the recent consideration of the case of the objections made by two California students to compulsory military service to which they had been forced in their college.

"The contention," continues the opinion, "that the regents' order (for compulsory military service) is repugnant to the Briand-Kellogg peace pact requires little consideration. In that instrument the United States and other high contracting parties declare that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of national policy in their relations with one another and agree that settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts which may arise among them shall never be sought except by pacific means. Clearly there is no conflict between the regents' order and the provision of this treaty."

The inability of the Supreme Court of the United States to recognize the fact that R. O. T. C. and compulsory military preparedness are admittedly an open violation of the clause of the treaty providing for the condemnation of war as an instrument for the settlement of international differences is astounding to those who try intelligently to interpret the reciprocal obligations of the treaty. The court also fails to recognize that war, above all else, is the factor making for instability and change of governments; for instance, the various political changes in Europe since 1914; and that since military preparedness is a prerequisite of war, military training is likely to make for instability.

Final Rehearsals For 'Good News' Set

The final series of rehearsals for the presentation of "Good News" will begin tonight at 7 o'clock when the cast and the singing and dancing choruses will meet in Hogg Memorial Auditorium. This entire company, which is asked to bring all books, scores, and property to the rehearsals, will meet again Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the roof garden of B. Hall.

The first dress rehearsal will be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the Auditorium. A complete check of people attending both the Saturday and Thursday practices will be made. Any absences from the two automatically will prevent the person from participating in the comedy December 14 and 15.

Smiths Rank First: 83 Listed In Directory

Smith wins again. A survey shows that the name Smith, with eighty-three tallies, ranks first among those listed in the student directory of the University.

Second comes Davis with forty-nine to its credit, closely followed by Jones with forty-eight, and Brown with forty-seven. Williams and Johnson tie with thirty-five, and are followed down the home stretch by Moore, Wilson, White, Miller, Hall, Harris, Walker, Martin, and Anderson, all with more than twenty each.

The color scheme honors went unanimously to Brown, who had forty-seven cognomens listed. Others competing were White, twenty-eight, and Green, eleven. Black and Gray finally came in neck and neck with seven each.

Competing in the races were many mouthfuls noted for their tongue-twisting ability. Some of these were Joseph Augustine Bialkowsky, Zachary Kiskaden Brinkerhoff, Isadora Marcelline DeBellevue, Maryellen Redell Grempeczynski, Thomas Aquinas Leyendecker, Jr., Nedra Elaine Ochender, Sherard Atterbury Sorenson, and Penelope Lanell Ziegelmeier.
