	• five counts of crimes against humanity: murder - article 7(1)(a); extermination - article 7(1)(b); forcible transfer - article 7(1)(d); torture - article 7(1)(f); and rape - article 7(1)(g);
	• Two counts of war crimes: intentionally directing attacks against a civilian population as such or against individual civilians not taking part in hostilities -article 8(2)(e)(i); and pillaging - article 8(2)(e)(v).

Alleged crimes (non-exhaustive list)

Pre-Trial Chamber I considers that there are reasonable grounds to believe that:

• From March 2003 to at least 14 July, 2008, a protracted armed conflict not of an international character existed in Darfur between the Government of Sudan (GoS) and several organised armed groups, in particular the Sudanese Liberation Movement/Army (SLM/A) and the Justice and Equality Movement (IEM).

Three counts of genocide: genocide by killing (article 6-a), genocide by causing serious bodily or mental harm (article 6-b) and genocide by deliberately inflicting on each target group conditions of life calculated to bring about the group's physical destruction (article 6-c).

 Soon after the April 2003 attack on the El Fasher airport, Omar Al Bashir and other high-ranking Sudanese political and military leaders of the GoS agreed upon a common plan to carry out a counterinsurgency campaign against the SLM/A, the JEM and other armed groups opposing the Government of Sudan in Darfur.

- A core component of that campaign was the unlawful attack on part of the civilian population of Darfur belonging largely to the Fur, Masalit and Zaghawa groups who was perceived to be close to the organised armed groups opposing the Government of Sudan in Darfur. The campaign was conducted through GoS forces, including the Sudanese Armed Forces and its allied Janjaweed militia, the Sudanese Police Forces, the National Intelligence and Security Service (NISS) and the Humanitarian Aid

   Commission (HAC). It lasted at least until the date of the filing of the Prosecution Application on 14 July, 2008.
- During the campaign, GoS forces allegedly committed crimes against humanity within the meaning of article 7(1) (a), (b), (d), (f) and (g) of the Statute and war crimes within the meaning of article 8 (2)(e)(i) and article 8 (2)(e) (v) of the Statute, and in particular:
  - a. carried out numerous unlawful attacks, followed by systematic acts of pillage, on towns and villages, mainly inhabited by civilians belonging to the Fur, Masalit and Zaghawa groups;
  - b. subjected thousands of civilians belonging primarily to the Fur, Masalit and Zaghawa groups to acts of murder, as well as to acts of extermination;
  - c. subjected thousands of civilian women belonging primarily to the said groups to acts of rape;
  - d. subjected hundreds of thousands of civilians belonging primarily to the said groups to acts of forcible transfer; and,
  - e. subjected civilians belonging primarily to the said groups to acts of torture.

Pre-Trial Chamber I also found that there are reasonable grounds to believe that:

- Omar Al Bashir, as the de jure and de facto President of the State of Sudan and Commander-in-Chief of the Sudanese Armed Forces at all times relevant to the Prosecution Application, played an essential role in co-ordinating the design and implementation of the common plan;
- and, in the alternative, that Omar Al Bashir also:
  - a. played a role that went beyond coordinating the implementation of the said GoS counter insurgency campaign;
  - b. was in full control of all branches of the "apparatus" of the State of Sudan, including the Sudanese Armed Forces and their allied Janjaweed militia, the Sudanese Police Forces, the NISS and the HAC; and,
  - c. used such control to secure the implementation of the said GoS counter-insurgency campaign.

Key judicial developments

Referral and opening of the investigation

The International Commission of Inquiry on Darfur was established by former United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan pursuant the Security Council resolution 1564. The Commission reported to the UN in January 2005 that there was reason to believe that crimes against humanity and war crimes had been committed in Darfur and recommended that the situation be referred to the ICC.

Using its authority under the Rome Statute, the United Nations Security Council referred the situation in Darfur since 1 July, 2002 to the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court in resolution 1593 on 31 March, 2005.

Following the referral from the United Nations Security Council, the Prosecutor received the conclusion of the International Commission of Inquiry on Darfur. In addition, the Office of the Prosecutor requested information from a variety of sources, leading to the collection of thousands of documents. The Prosecutor concluded that the statutory requirements for initiating an investigation were satisfied and decided to open the investigation on 6 June, 2005.

Warrant of arrest:

On 14 July, 2008, the Prosecutor submitted an application for the issuance of a warrant of arrest for the Sudanese president Omar Al Bashir.

On 15 October, 2008, Pre-Trial Chamber I requested additional supporting material in relation with the Prosecution Application.

On 17 November, 2008, the Prosecutor submitted further material in compliance with the above-mentioned decision of the Pre-Trial Chamber.

On 4 March, 2009, Pre-Trial Chamber I issued a warrant of arrest for Omar Al Bashir for charges of war crimes and crimes against humanity.

On 6 July, 2009, the Prosecutor appealed the decision in the extent that Pre-Trial Chamber I decided not to issue a warrant of arrest in respect of the charge of genocide.

On 3 February, 2010, the Appeals Chamber directed the Pre-Trial Chamber to decide anew whether or not the arrest warrant should be extended to cover the charge of genocide.

Applying the standard of proof as identified by the Appeals Chamber, Pre-Trial Chamber I concluded, on 12 July, 2010, that there are reasonable grounds to believe that Mr Al Bashir acted with specific intent to destroy in part the Fur, Masalit and Zaghawa ethnic groups. The Chamber delivered a second warrant of arrest against the President of Sudan, Omar Hassan Ahmad Al Bashir, considering that there are reasonable grounds to believe him responsible for three counts of genocide committed against the ethnic groups of Fur, Masalit and Zaghawa:
