At Home

By JOEL WESTBROOK

SINCE settlement of the sit-down strike in the automobile industry various automobile companies and allied industries have announced wage increases totaling $50,000,000. And Monday a 12 per cent increase for 135,000 workers in the men's clothing industry was announced after a committee of manufacturers met with the Amalgamated Clothing Workers representatives.

It used to be material for fanciful "wonder" stories, but it is now nearing immediate reality. By November operation of a trans-Atlantic air mail service may begin. Monday First Assistant Postmaster General W. W. Howes made that prediction, while the House Appropriations Committee favorably recommended an appropriation of $750,000 to start the service.

In the beginning two round trips a week will be made by American planes, and two by British planes. Plans provide for a New York-Halifax-Southampton route for six months of the year, New York-Baltimore-Norfolk, Va. (or Charleston, S. C.)-Bermuda-Azores-Southampton for the other six months.

IN BOTH national houses of Congress Monday resolutions were proposed looking to constitutional amendments to put into effect the President's judicial reforms. Such proposals are definitely unfriendly to the President's purposes, for sponsors of constitutional amendments well know that only thirteen states, either by not acting at all or by negative action, can block ratification. When amendments even more popular and even more directly intended to benefit the general public (such as the child labor amendment) are delayed or lost when reactionary and "manageable" state legislatures refuse assent, it is obvious any such proposal would stand no chance whatsoever of successful passage.

MEANWHILE: the Supreme Court ignored suggestions that it use a pending case as a vehicle for condemning the President's proposal. And here in Austin the Texas House of Representatives served notice that its action last week in tabling a resolution endorsing the President's plan did not imply condemnation. It passed a resolution expressly denying that such was its intention and declared its position was completely neutral.

Monday the National Senate's Civil Liberties Committee began an investigation of the labor policies of General Motors Corporation. Senator LaFollette (R., Wis.) questioned company officials about their labor spy services, putting into the record the statement that the corporation had over a period of two years employed twenty-one different detective agencies, allegedly for labor spy purposes, at a cost of over $800,000.

WITH the strong support of Governor James V. Allred it appeared likely Monday that the pari-mutuel betting law was doomed to repeal. The House, by a vote of 109 to 26, approved repeal of the law, after only fifteen minutes of discussion. It goes now to the Senate. Should the law be repealed, horse racing in Texas will undoubtedly disappear as the colorful spectacle it has been for the three years of its existence. House Committee Favors
Increase in Summer
School Appropriation

A substitute bill which would appropriate $32,650 for the 1937 summer session of The University of Texas was reported favorably Monday afternoon out of the House Appropriations Committee. The 1936 appropriation for the University summer school was $49,066.50. W. T. McDonald of Bryan introduced the bill as a substitute for the measure written by A. P. Cagle. Figures for the substitute bill were prepared by the Board of College Presidents. Most of the appropriations provided in the substitute bill are somewhat higher than those that Mr. Cagle had recommended and are higher than the appropriations of 1936. Total appropriations in 1936 were $267,049.45. The bill which the committee recommended yesterday would appropriate $389,327.00.

The complete list of appropriations:

The University of Texas, $82,650; Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, $21,765; John Tarleton Agricultural College, $7,000; North Texas Agricultural College, $4,900; Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College, $10,000; Texas State College for Women, $21,595; Texas College of Arts and Industries, $14,280; Texas Technological College, $25,170; East Texas State Teachers College, $36,720; North Texas State Teachers College, $52,095; Sam Houston State Teachers College, $21,150; Southwest Texas State Teachers College, $30,435; Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College, $19,407; Sul Ross State Teachers College, See APPROPRIATION, page 4.

Dobie to Relate
His Experiences
At 'Y' Tonight

J. Frank Dobie, professor of English, who is nationally recognized as an outstanding interpreter of Southwestern literature, will tell some of his experiences in collecting folklore in the Southwest at the Freshman Fellowship Club at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Dobie is teaching an English course named "Life and Literature of the Southwest." He has been on a leave of absence doing research work under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation. He uses Texas and Mexico as his field for collecting "tall tales."

He is the author of "A Vagabond of the Brush Country," the story of the life of a typical Texas cowboy; "Coronado's Children," stories of searches for buried treasure in the Southwest; "Tongues of the Monte," a description of the Mexican "brush country"; and his latest, "The Flavor of Texas," which gives the spirit of Texas through anecdotes and bits of history. "Coronado's Children" was the selection of the Literary Guild of New York City, the only book written and published in Texas to be selected by it. Mr. Dobie also writes magazine articles for such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post and the Southwest Review.

Mr. Dobie has been an active member of the Texas Folklore Society for many years. He has served as secretary of the organization, and as editor of their publications.

The program will begin with a sing-song. Bob Eckhardt, editor of the Texas Ranger, will give a chalk talk. Helen Campbell will give a reading.

Dr. Paul Weaver, professor of philosophy at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., will be the speaker next Tuesday night.

Hurt Starts Talks
On Music Friday

George E. Hurt, director of the Longhorn Band and Orchestra, will give the first of twelve informal talks about music under the sponsorship of Friends of Fine Arts Friday afternoon, February 19, at 5 o'clock in Texas Union 309. J. Olcott Sanders, chairman of the executive committee, has announced.

His first talk will deal with relative pitch of instruments and the mixing of tones. On successive Fridays he will discuss "Notations and the Elements of Music," "The Construction and Classification of Chords," "Technical Difficulties of the Stringed Instruments," "The Woodwind Section," "The Brass Section," "Arranging for Orchestra," "Transcribing Orchestral Music for Band," "Musical Analysis," "Counterpoint," "The Fugue," and "History of the Symphony: Its Origin and Evolution." These talks will be about forty-five minutes in length and will be open to the public.

New Officers

Quin Elected
Sigma Delta Chi
President

Harry Quin was elected president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, Sunday night at a meeting of the group in the Co-ed Grill. He succeeds Fred Gibson, who left at the end of the fall semester to work on the Corpus Christi Caller.

Joe Belden was elected secretary to replace Ed Syers, associate editor of the Texan, who resigned, and Lynn Jackson was made treasurer to succeed Pericles Alexander, amusement editor of the Texan, who also resigned. Lane Goldsmith was retained as vice-president.

Quin is a night editor of the Texan, a pledge of Sigma Nu fraternity, and member of Athenaeum Literary Society, Inter-city Council, and the University Press Association. He is also assemblyman from the Department of Journalism.

Belden, sports editor of the Texan, was president of Newman Club for the fall term. He is a member of Rusk Literary Society and the Press Forum.

Jackson, a member of the Texan sports staff, also belongs to Rusk Literary Society and Austin Club.

The fraternity voted to endorse a bill now before the Texas House which would protect newspapermen from questioning in the courts as to their sources of information. The bill, by Representative Fred C. Felty of San Antonio, is now in committee.

An invitation from the Dallas chapter to hold a joint Founders' Day banquet in Dallas was taken under consideration.

MISS KERLAGEN ELECTED
Ida Kerlagen of Victoria was elected secretary of the Woman's Building Saturday by the Woman's Building Council. She succeeds Thelma Keese, who held this position last semester.

Laidler Speaks On Medical Question
Tonight in Forum

Dr. Harry W. Laidler, former president of the National Bureau of Economic Research, will speak on "Is Health the Public's Business?" at the University Methodist Church at 8 o'clock tonight. This program will be presented by the Austin Open Forum.

Dr. H. R. Dudgeon, president of the State Medical Association of Texas, will discuss on the same program "Has the Private Practice of Medicine Failed?" In this way two sides of the controversial question, the socialization of medicine, will be presented by capable speakers, it was pointed out by Dr. W. E. Gettys, professor of sociology at the University and president of the Austin Open Forum.

"People interested in applying the scientific method to the study of social problems will particularly enjoy hearing Dr. Laidler," Dr. Gettys explained.

Recognized as a leading economist, he has written extensively on American social conditions. His "Concentration in American Industry," published in 1931, was the first work to analyze the astonishing growth of mergers and monopoly in American industry since the World War.

"Socializing Our Democracy" was published in 1935. Professor Charles A. Beard said that this book was "indispensable for everyone interested in the movement of contemporary thought." Dr. Laidler's recent book, "A Program for Modern America," was listed by a special literary board of Current History among the ten best books published in 1936.

Recently Dr. Laidler has done special research work in public health, and has studied socialized medicine and health insurance. He has examined medical cooperatives and other aspects of medical economics.

One of Dr. Laidler's friends in describing him stated: "Pleasant in manner and scholarly, yet popular in presentation, Dr. Laidler is a social scientist who can translate economic and political complexities into language easily understood by the layman."

Dr. Dudgeon, the second speaker, has practiced medicine for many years in Waco, and is known throughout the state. Dr. Gettys said that his friends in Austin and vicinity will be interested in his defense of the private practice of medicine.

"The discussions by Dr. Laidler and Dr. Dudgeon on the same platform, in a spirit of friendly give-and-take, should make this program one of the most interesting and stimulating in the entire Open Forum series," he added.

Cocky 'Joe College' Faces
Homicide Charge at Hogg Tonight

A lovely girl, a starry night, a flowing bottle, and an automobile. The exuberance of youth, the love of speed, a drive down a dark street, a thud, and there before him sprawled on the bloody pavement was the inert mass of what had been a human being. In tipsy terror he drove home. Then he was dragged out and charged with MURDER. This is one of the cases which, though logical, never actually happened. It is one of the cases which will be tried just as if it had happened. The Interfraternity Council, through the assistance of the city court, will try this and two other cases at Hogg Memorial Auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

These cases will be handled exactly as they would be in court. The City Court will cooperate and furnish attorneys Truman F. Quinn, John Cofer, Wright Stubbs, and Horace Shelton. The judge will be Judge Wheeler.

Samuel Forbes, who "didn't intend to do it," will be tried on a charge.

Group Meets
Today to Plan
For Round-Up

Ball, Revue to Be Principal Events; New Committees To Begin Work

Completion of plans for the Eighth Annual Texas Round-Up will be settled when the general advisory committee meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Texas Union according to John A. McCurdy, secretary of the University Ex-Students' Association and general secretary for the Round-Up. The Round-Up will be held April 16 to 18, and ex-students from all over the state and mothers and fathers of students will attend.

At the meeting this afternoon working committees will be appointed to handle further details of the Round-Up. These committees will work out plans for the 1937 Round-Up parade, athletic events, participation of the campus organizations, and general publicity. Eventually about three to four hundred students and ex-students will work on the various committees.

For two months plans have been made for the Review and ball and for the reunion group organization, headed by Dean T. U. Taylor. However, sections of the three-day program developing entirely out of student co-operation are yet in the process of formation.

"The Round-Up is state-wide," Mr. McCurdy explained. "For the complete success, co-operation within the University must be campus-wide."

The general pageant this year will be centered about the Round-Up Revue and Ball Friday night, April 16, the general luncheon for reunion classes and visitors Saturday noon, and ex-student open house, fast becoming a tradition, scheduled for Saturday night.

The annual Round-Up parade will be held the afternoon of April 16, and the only definitely slated athletic event will be Friday afternoon when the Longhorn baseball team meets A. & M. College at Clark Field. Sunday, the last day of the reunion, will be reserved for reunion class meetings and general exhibits over the campus.

Solons Commend
Safety Measure

A resolution commending The University of Texas Interfraternity Council and the Austin Police Department for the inauguration of a traffic safety movement in the University was passed concurrently Monday by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature.

The resolution, the text of which follows, was introduced by Senator Clay Cotten in the Senate and by Representative Caithorn in the House.

"Whereas, the Interfraternity Council of The University of Texas, and the Police Department of the City of Austin are conducting a program for traffic safety, to be held Tuesday, February 16, in Hogg Memorial Auditorium, and

Whereas, this is the first program of this nature to be conducted by any university in the nation, and

Whereas, the University students should become safety-conscious and disseminate safety rules of the traffic problems throughout the State of Texas, and

Whereas, such safety programs should be held in the universities and colleges over the nation, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas, the Senate of the State of Texas concurring, that the Interfraternity Council of The University of Texas, The University of Texas, and the Police Department of the City of Austin be commended in the efforts being made by them in this worthy and needed traffic safety education; and be it further

Resolved, that the Clerk of the House of Representatives send a copy of this Resolution to the following:

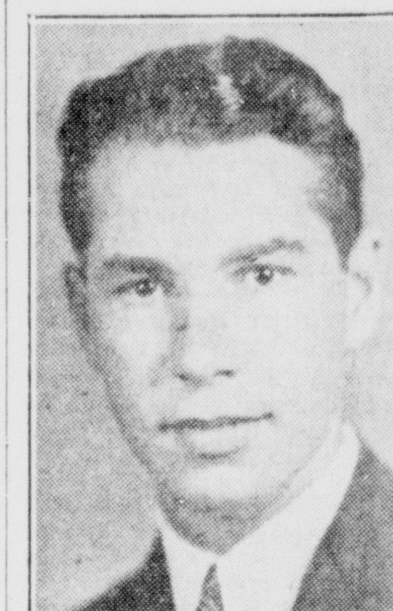

The Interfraternity Council of The University of Texas, The President of The University of Texas, and the Police Department of the City of Austin, Texas."

ATHENAEUM ELECTS

Athenaeum Literary Society has elected the following new officers to serve for the second semester: Joe W. Neal, president; Vincent Licata, vice-president; Warren Hughes, secretary; Harman Fitts, treasurer; and Cecil E. Burns, sergeant-at-arms. Pat Daniels was re-elected reporter.

Moot Court Trial to Feature
Hit and Run Case Tonight; Held
As Portion of Safety Drive

To Debate in Temple

John Daniel, left, and John Stephen, right, will debate the question: "Resolved, That the Manufacture of Munitions of War Should Be a Government Monopoly," in Temple tonight against a team from the University of Kansas.

U.T. Debaters Defeat Kansas
In Opening Match of Season

James D. McCutchan and Jack Love, University of Texas debaters, defeated a team from the University of Kansas in a debate held in Fort Worth last night. The University debaters, participating in the opening debate of the season, won a 2 to 1 decision. The subject for the debate was "Resolved, That the Manufacture of Munitions of War Should Be a Government Monopoly," which is the current Inter-scholastic League topic.

John Daniel of Temple, and John Stephen of Houston, will debate for the University against a team from the University of Kansas in Temple today on the same question.

Daniel, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, has been on the squad for the last three years. He was recently elected to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity.

Stephen, a sophomore pre-law student, is serving his second year on the squad. A former state high school champion, he was on the team which won first place for the University at the Missouri Valley Forensic Tournament last year.

The Temple debate is one of a series being held in Texas on the high school question. Another contest with the Kansans will be held over station WOAI at San Antonio Thursday. The same topic will be debated at the Southwest Invitation Debate Tournament in Austin Friday and Saturday. S.M.U., Baylor, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas will be represented.

DANA TO ADDRESS A.I.M.E.
Edward B. Dana, petroleum engineer, will address the American Institute of Mining Engineers at 7:15 o'clock tonight in the Chemistry Building auditorium. Dr. Dana's subject will be "The Oil Fields of South America." Pictures will illustrate the lecture.

Strawbridge, Parnova to Present
Dances at Hogg Tomorrow Night

By FRANCES LANDERS

Presenting dances of his original choreography, Edwin Strawbridge, with Lisa Parnova and a company of dancers, will come to Hogg Memorial Auditorium Wednesday night to appear in their Ballet Intime on a program presented by the Student Cultural Entertainment Committee. The dances are set to the music of such composers as Debussy, Bartok, Smetana, Ravel, Santoliquido, Poulenc, Prokofiev, and others. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Mr. Strawbridge is interested in furthering America's artistic expression, in which the negro spiritual, the jazz idiom, and the blues songs have influenced such modern American composers as Gershwin, Greenberg, Grissle, Carpenter, and many others. He thinks that dances inspired by these compositions are among the most brilliant and interesting in his repertoire.

While he was a student at Lafayette College, Mr. Strawbridge took an active part in the college dramatics. Later he played with Margaret Anglin, Pauline Lord, and Arnold Daly. In speaking of the dramatic experience, he says: "It was my endeavor to act like a re-elected reporter."

Lecture, Traffic
Motion Picture
Also on Program

The hit and run case of STATE OF TEXAS vs. Samuel Forbes will headline the docket of the moot court trials to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Hogg Memorial Auditorium, presiding Judge C. A. Wheeler said Monday.

This trial, held in conjunction with the Interfraternity Council and Austin Police Department safety drive, will have the entire facilities of an official trial, and competent lawyers will argue the case.

Mr. Forbes will be tried for the charges of running over Ralph Bellamy, University student, and then failing to stop and render aid to him. Wright Stubbs, graduate of the University School of Law, will defend Mr. Forbes; while John Cofer will prosecute for the State.

The program will be presided over by V. I. Moore, dean of student life, and comments will be given by J. Don Hill, police instructor in the Austin Traffic School, on the outstanding safety problems that face Texas today, and the means to combat such problems.

"I am very pleased," Raymond Thorp, chief of the Austin Police Department, said Monday, "at the attitude of the Interfraternity Council in asking for this safety program. I am encouraged at the spirit and enthusiasm of the student body over the rally."

He continued by saying that the students of the University and the citizens of Austin are fortunate in being able to witness the exact mechanism of a traffic violator's court.

Other cases on the docket for tonight include one for negligent collision, speeding, and driving while intoxicated. The defense attorneys on these cases will be Horace Shelton and W. R. Smith, and the prosecution will be upheld by Truman O'Quinn.

To add color to the trial, a sound motion picture, titled "The Hit-and-Run-Driver," made with the cooperation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the U. S. Department of Justice and Paramount Pictures, Inc., will be shown. The picture will illustrate the technical criminological side of hit-and-run drivers.

Mrs. Roosevelt
To Speak Here

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, first lady of the land, will speak in Hogg Memorial Auditorium the afternoon and night of March 20. The subject of her afternoon lecture will be "Problems of Youth," and that night she will describe "A Typical Day in the White House." Mrs. Joe F. James, president of the Amateur Choral Club, said Saturday:

Governor James V. Allred expressed the wish that Mrs. Roosevelt might be the honor guest of the State while here.

Mrs. Roosevelt will be one of several Washington notables to appear in Austin. Harold L. Jekes, secretary of the interior, will address the Legislature Friday and Postmaster General James A. Farley is expected to be in Austin March 24.

Boxers Need Autos
For San Antonio Trip

Two or three cars are needed to furnish transportation for the Golden Gloves, University boxing team, to the team's dual meet in San Antonio February 19. Raymond Brown said last night. Expenses for both drivers and cars will be paid.

Anyone wishing to furnish a car for the trip has been requested to call Brown at 8905.

HAYDN TODAY'S ARTIST
Haydn's "Symphony No. 13 in G Major" will be the principal work on "Music of the Masters" this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the main lounge of the Texas Union. A Stokowski arrangement of Bach's "Passacaglia in C Minor" and Ravel's "Waltz" will complete the hour of phonograph recordings.

Longhorn Basketeers Leave This Afternoon for Houston to Play Rice Owls

Steer Lineup Still Weak; Roach Back at Forward

By LYNN JACKSON

A Longhorn basketball team which is still weakened by sickness will leave this afternoon for Houston, where tomorrow night they will attempt to win a revenge victory from the Rice Owls, who defeated the locals in an early season game.

The conference-leading Mustangs invade Gregory Gymnasium Saturday night. By that time they more than likely will have clinched the conference championship.

Bill Baxter, star Longhorn forward who did not make the disastrous Baylor trip last week-end, is still sick with influenza and will not go to Houston. The team will be bolstered, however, by the return of Joe Roach, giant forward, to the cage wars. Roach will probably see service against the Owls. Another injured player is Jack Collins, captain and center, who will be hampered in the Rice game by an infected foot.

The Longhorns still show a decided ineptitude for finding the basket with their shots. In an extended offense drill against the Texas freshman cagers yesterday afternoon, the varsity made but 23 out of 88 shots at the bucket, several goals below their usual 33 1-3 to 50 per cent goals made in comparison with shots taken. The team also still shows an ability to throw the ball anywhere but to the right place—much as in the Baylor game last week-end, which ruined their chances at the conference pennant.

"Who can beat the Mustangs?" "Can't anybody beat the Mustangs?" "Won't somebody please beat the Mustangs?" These questions run rife through the conference teams, which see no immediate let-up from the string of six victories, against but one loss, the Mustangs have compiled. To gain a tie for the conference crown, the locals are faced with winning the rest of their games, during which time the painted-court Ponies must lose three of their tough schedule. The Mustangs now lead the pack by a margin of two and one-half games.

The Longhorns' "hard luck" team, in playing the Owls tomorrow night, will meet another "hard luck" team. The Owls lost four men, including Harris "Tightwad" Lodge, captain and guard, "Spot" Owen, guard, and Steele, forward, before the invaded the Mustangs' territory last week-end to put up a hard-fought game before going down before the Ponies' attack by a measly two points.

Should the Longhorns beat the Owls, they will jump into second place. If the Owls win, the Longhorns will fall below the .500 average for the first time since they started their winning streak with a victory over T.C.U. in January, and they will fall down below four other teams in the conference standings.

First conference games this week will take place Wednesday night, when Southern Methodist exposes its lead to the perils of a road trip, meeting Baylor in Waco. The same night Rice will play host to Texas.

The week-end will again be crowded, with Arkansas playing a two-game series with Rice at Fayetteville, and Saturday night matches pitting Baylor against Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist against Texas at Austin.

Conference standings:

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.
Southern Methodist	6	1	.857
Texas	4	4	.500
Baylor	4	4	.500
Arkansas	4	4	.500
Rice	3	3	.500
Texas A. & M.	4	5	.444
Texas Christian	1	5	.167

Dial President Of Delta Sigma Pi

David Dial was elected president of Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, at the regular meeting in the Texas Union last Tuesday night.

Dial is also president of the senior class of the School of Business Administration, a member of Beta Alpha Psi, honorary accounting fraternity, and a member of the Business Administration Council. He succeeds Raymond Martin as president.

Other officers elected were as follows: William Arlitt, vice-president, re-elected; Louis Williams, secretary, re-elected; Jack Collier, treasurer, re-elected; Robert Kuldell, senior warden, succeeding Dial; Guy Dancy, junior warden, succeeding Phil Milliger; and Raymond Martin, master of festivities, succeeding Farrell Smith.

The members also discussed plans for the entertainment of H. G. Wright, grand secretary-treasurer, who will visit the local chapter next week.

Columbia to Offer New Scholarships

Columbia University is offering new types of fellowships for the school year 1937-38, according to announcements sent to the School of Education.

The Teachers College of Columbia offers three fellowships in the Advanced School of Education for persons holding the doctor's degree.

The figures were derived from the compilation of reports from fifteen representative counties of Texas. Although all price groups declined in January, the intermediate and highest price brackets showed the most substantial gain over those in January of last year.

J. W. Calhoun, University comptroller, returned to work Monday morning after an absence of several days. Mr. Calhoun has been suffering from an attack of influenza.

Scribe Finds Big, Bad Football Players At Schreiner Ready to Follow Gilstrap

By VERNON ROOKE, Jr.

IT WAS a pretty fair football machine that the U. T. freshmen boasted last year.

But, maybe it should have been. As one observer put it, they had every satellite from here to the Pecos River. True, several capable men escaped, but you can't expect Texas athletic officials to think of everything.

The most pertinent question at the present time might be constructed thusly: will the U. of T. have to go as far as the Pecos River to assemble a high class Yearling team for next fall?

It is our personal opinion that the 1937 frosh will not include every satellite from here to the aforementioned river. But what of it? From all that is logical, the Texas staff will harvest enough gridiron talent from two localities to tax the capacity of Yearling Field.

WITHOUT appearing too obvious, we offer Amarillo—the Blair Cherry Amarillo's—and Kerrville—widely known for Bully Gilstrap—as the localities to which we so brazenly refer.

I think the Amarillo situation has been the object of many sport dissertations to date, but little has been either said or written about Kerrville, Schreiner Institute, and the football players appertaining thereto.

While in Kerrville the past week-end, we made it a point to ascertain the general Mountaineer attitude toward the University by speaking personally with a number of the football players. Now, the majority of these boys are among this writer's friends; consequently, their answers, imitations, and commitments may be judged accordingly.

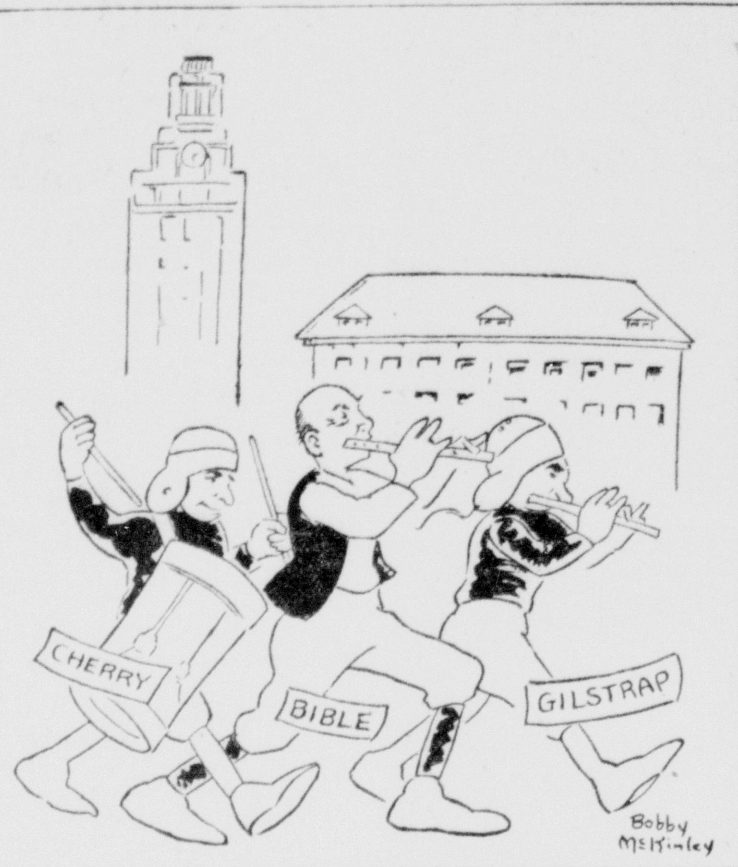

"I wasn't sure where I wanted to go, but since Bully has gone to the University, I guess that removes all doubt. It's Texas for me," one delicate 220-pounder said.

IT IS an established fact that a great number of Schreiner men were definitely disregarding Texas in their future plans until the U. T. athletic set-up blossomed forth in all its grandeur. Now they are forsaking all others—provided they can come to Austin, get a job, and earn enough to buy a cup of coffee and a doughnut once or twice a week.

Here is the way it appears to me: the Mountaineer football team swore by Bully Gilstrap—he was the boss. Bully then weighed anchor for Texas U.; the football boys figured they were too old to stop swearing, by or at, anything; so did Bully. So they decide to take up housekeeping in Austin—a host of them. Precisely, they WANT to come to the Forty Acres for the same reason that the Amarillo lads are coming: both groups think their former coaches, Gilstrap and Cherry respectively, are pretty swell guys.

Incidentally, several of the Tivy High School luminaries, runners-up in the recent state race, are THINKING seriously of Texas as a place to get an education—and engage in a bit of football on the side. Henry Hauser, a very fine schoolboy center, is one lad who will not come to the University, if we are to believe all we hear. It is said on the streets of Kerrville that Louisiana State has offered him a job paying—well, I could support a wife on the income—if I had a wife.

The Spirit of '37

There ought to be a regulation in the Interstate Commerce Act prohibiting football players leaving the state with such reckless abandon. Maybe there is.

BE THAT as it may, I wish to make the following recommendation to interested Texas U. football followers:

Gentlemen, at the present time, during the corporate limits of Kerrville—the location of Schreiner Institute and Tivy High School—there are enough ABOVE AVERAGE, CAPABLE, and OUT-STANDING football prospects to make a very gratifying contribution to a needy material cause at the University. The majority of these lads WANT to come to Texas, and an equal number have lucrative offers to go ELSEWHERE. The fact still remains, however, that Texas can get them.

Time's a' wastin', gentlemen. There are many, many cool, luring green pastures elsewhere, and gentlemen, those are the caliber of men who should be grazing in the LONGHORN CORRAL, under the direction of Dana X. Bible. And they probably will.

Baylor Begins Baseball Drill Tomorrow

Special to The Daily Texan

WACO, Texas, Feb. 15.—Baylor's Bears, hopeful of threatening Texas' supremacy in Southwest Conference baseball, will begin diamond drills Wednesday afternoon on the newly-constructed Carroll Field baseball grounds.

Morley Jennings, head baseball and football pilot, will return from the meeting of the National Football Rules Committee Tuesday, and will immediately put his baseball charge in harness.

Hopes are brightest for a winner at Baylor in a number of seasons. Seven lettermen, including two veteran hurlers and an experienced catcher, will return for another season of eligibility.

Boyd "Jelly" SoRelle, senior from San Marcos and all-conference moundman for two seasons, and Mike Ducey, wiry southpaw from Waco, are the pitching lettermen available, but both are expected to share hurling honors with Tommy Fine, sophomore from Cleburne.

Fine is one of the brightest pitching prospects to enroll at Baylor since the local to a baseball title in 1924. The Cleburne right-hander has shown unusual form in freshman games of last spring and sandlot contests.

Woodrow "Doc" Henslee, veteran catcher, Bill Marsteller and Lloyd Russell, great second baseman and shortstop respectively, are the other outstanding numerical-winners returning. Wilson White, reserve first sacker and high-scoring forward on the Bear basketball five this winter, and Fred Vinson, an outfielder, are the other lettermen.

Hal Bolger, Waco, and Mitchell Parks, Elkhart, are the leading outfielders, candidates other than Vinson. Bolger is a sophomore, and Parks is junior squadman.

Julie and Bubba Gernand, brothers from Beaumont, will also be among the candidates. Julie is a first baseman, and Bubba plays third base.

Other candidates will be Tel-

Entries Are Due In Water Polo And Ping Pong

Entries in intramural ping pong and water polo are due in the intramural office, Gregory Gymnasium 114, by 5 o'clock this afternoon. Entries also close in intramural handball team competition next Thursday.

All organizations are being limited to entering five men each in the ping pong competition, in order to expedite the elimination process and to keep the less-skilled performers out of the way. However, all independent entries are encouraged. Berry Whitaker, director of intramural athletics, announced. The final in this event will be held as a part of the Fite Nite program on March 17.

It is urged that before an organization enters the water polo race that it have six good swimmers. The rules used in this sport have been modified and changed somewhat by Tex Robertson and Ed Barlow to fit the Gymnasium facilities. Halves will be for four minutes.

The handball team competition requires four men for a team, two for singles, and two for doubles. If any one man of this four should default, the entire team must forfeit its match.

SCOUT MEET HELD

The field meet held at Zilker Park by Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity for Eagle Scouts, was won by Troop Eighteen of Austin. Troop Eleven was second and Troop One was third. The meet, held for the first time this year, will be an annual affair. Curtis Mallory, president of the group, said. Approximately three hundred scouts attended the meet.

AIRWAVES

By EVERETT SHIRLEY

Russ Morgan doesn't believe in treating his sponsors the wrong way. At least that is the impression a normal person will get from the fact that Rudy Vallee, Stoopnagle and Budd, Guy Lombardo and Paul Whiteman will be on his first broadcast tonight for Phillip Morris. Now of course the sponsor is putting up the money; Morgan is not paying these talented gentlemen out of his own pecuniary resources.

But it is Russ Morgan and Russ Morgan himself that is getting the mentioned stars for the broadcast. I guess among band leaders the famed believer in "Music in the Morgan Manner" is as popular as any of them. And when he gets a lucky break like at the present—not all luck though—other entertainers are glad to lend a helping hand to make his series a success. And that is the way it will be tonight at 7 over WOAI when Morgan puts on his first show. Yes, not bad, not bad, to have Vallee and the rest on one program.

And another band leader, who is well liked, Ben Bernie, will have quite a distinguished guest on his program over WOAI at 8. Now Bernie's one-nighter is not as well known as those of Morgan's; however he, in his day, was just as important in the amusement world as Lombardo and Whiteman and the others. His name is Julius Tannen, and it was he that started the custom of master-of-ceremonizing years ago. And another—I guess you would call it a service—thing he did for radio was his discovering Ben Bernie. Tannen started the "Old Maestro" on the upgrade way back in the past, and Bernie hasn't forgotten that fact. So Tannen is more than just a guest artist on Bernie's show tonight as far as Bernie is concerned. And another item: Leah Ray, who should not by any means be neglected, will also appear with Bernie.

On at the same time that Bernie is and with his own guests will be Al Pearce and "His Gang" in their program, "Watch the Fun Go By." His visitors are Milton Krauss and Walter Gross, a piano team that ranks near the top.

Vance and Miss Allen Head New U. T. Hour

Jessie Vance and Charlotte Allen, University students, will be in charge of the new weekly University hour broadcast over KNOX beginning Wednesday, February 17.

The following will be the announcers: Monday, Neilson Rogers; Tuesday, Amos Peters, Jr.; Wednesday, Charlotte Allen and Jessi Vance; Thursday, Robert Collier; and Friday, John Randle. Walton Newton, staff announcer, said that this is the first time a woman has been in charge of the program. "The University hour is sponsored for University students, and we would like comment from them on the type of program they would be interested in hearing," he added.

Dancers in Ballet Intime

Lisa Parnova and Edwin Strawbridge, famous dancers, will present their Ballet Intime at Hogg Memorial Auditorium Wednesday night. They have danced throughout America and in the leading cities of Europe. With them on the program, which will be sponsored by the Student Cultural Entertainment Committee, will be a company of dancers.

Herbie Kay to Play for First Tea Dance of Year at Union Friday

The initial University tea dance of the year will be held in the Texas Union Friday afternoon from 5 to 8 o'clock with Herbie Kay and his nationally known dance band playing. Friday night the orchestra will play for the all-University dance in Gregory Gymnasium from 9 to 1 o'clock.

The organization of Kay's orchestra several years ago followed a suggestion made by the S.A.E. house president at Northwestern University. For some time Kay's constant banjo playing had been the cause of some contention in the fraternity house. The president, desiring to get rid of the unwelcome banjoist, intimated that Herbie might do well if he got together a dance band. Herbie Kay's college band created much excitement on the campus, and after their first dance became so popular that even his fraternity brothers engaged him to play their big dance.

Broker for Time
 After graduation from Northwestern, Kay entered a broker's office in Chicago for a short time. But his love of music and night life was so great that he assembled most of his college orchestra and gave an audition. A Chicago music corporation gave him a contract, and the orchestra made its debut at the Trianon Ballroom. Kay and his band have played at the Blackhawk Restaurant, made several tours, and filled numerous engagements at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

Besides being the leader of a famous orchestra, Kay is honorary member of police forces in several large cities, is honorary chief of an Indian tribe, and has received many awards for his skill with a pistol. He is built like a football player, and his broad shoulders almost obscure his band.

Tickets to the tea dance will be limited to 500 and are on sale now. Admission will be $2.50 in advance plus tax and $3 plus tax at the door. The tickets for the German will be $1.10 and will go on sale Friday morning.

Dr. Schoenemann To Lecture Here

Dr. F. Schoenemann, former professor of German at Harvard University, at present dean of American Literature and History of Culture at the University of Berlin, and guest professor at the University of Nebraska, will deliver two lectures in Austin Wednesday, February 17, on a lecture tour of the South. W. E. Metzenthin, professor of Germanic languages in the University, announced.

Said to be the only native German to teach in American universities during the World War, Dr. Schoenemann was at Harvard from 1918 until 1920. As a professor at the University of Berlin, Dr. Schoenemann was a pioneer in furthering the study of American culture in German universities, and during the last few years, principally in 1933, he has made several lecture tours in America. The present tour is being made while on leave from the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Schoenemann will give two lectures. "Educational Problems of the Germany of Today," will be given before faculty members in the auditorium of the Geology Building at 4:45 o'clock Wednesday. At 7:30 o'clock Wednesday as a guest of the two German clubs in the University, Der Die Das and Deutscher Verein, he will deliver a lecture in English and German. The place of the lecture has not been announced.

"NATION AFLAME."—At the Texas. Directed by Victor Halperin. Screen play by Oliver Drake. Produced by Edward and Victor Halperin. Released by Television Pictures, Inc.

THE CAST
 Sandino (Sands)..... Noel Madison
 Mona Burtis..... Lila Lee
 Wynne Adams..... Norma Trevor
 Tommie Franklin..... Douglas Walton
 Roland Adams..... Harry Holman
 Bob Sherman..... Arthur Singler

A comb from the table of "The Black Legion," this film, "Nation AFLAME," is largely composed of photo montage interrupted here and there by the melodramatic incident.

The plot concerns "the Protective Order of Avenging Angels," organized by unscrupulous Sandino with four other crooks, ostensibly to root out foreigners and preserve the United States for Americans, but actually to build up money and power for himself.

With the harmless reprobate, Roland Adams as his reluctant tool, Sandino descends upon Middleton, home of Adams's daughter, Wynn, who is unwittingly to be the purse-strings for the venture.

Black-hooded figures, idealistic young men taking the dark oath, and up-standing editors being beaten to death, are all flashed upon the screen, in alternation with tiresome montage of newspaper headlines superimposed upon storming mobs, or upon mouths whispering into ears as Wynn Adams, fiancée of Bob Sherman, helps her lover crush the Avengers by allowing herself to be compromised by their leader.

Before the order is disbanded, four important characters are killed and Wynn Adams's name has been so besmirched that she refused to marry Governor-elect Sherman, telling him that his duty now is to his people, and that maybe some day (break) they'll meet again.

A fragmentary plot and overaction by the principals combine to make this picture dull as well as confusing.—A.M.A.

POSEY TO SPEAK

Meredith N. Posey, instructor in English, will speak on "Texas Poets" at a meeting of Sidney Lanier Literary Society in Texas Union 315 at 5 o'clock Thursday. He will include some of his own writings. Copies of the club yearbook will be distributed.

Wesley Players To Present 'Journey's End'

"Journey's End," a war play by R. C. Sheriff, which is being directed by Ernest Hardin, instructor in public speaking in the University, will be given by a womanless cast of Wesley Players tonight in Hogg Memorial Auditorium.

This unusual sort of cast includes Frank Chappell, Carl Hardin, Jack Rutledge, Joe Baldwin, Craig Campbell, Melvin Pape, Ralph Stauffer, Albert Wadsworth, and Robert Hull.

The Rev. Charles T. Hardt and Mrs. Hardt of Austin saw the hundredth performance of this play in Paris, France, in 1929, while they were on a vacation from their missionary work in Poland.

Mrs. Hardt says of the play, "It is the most successful play I have ever seen in showing the futility and hopelessness of war. The chaos in the minds of the characters, the nervous strain, and the character's distraction make the audience tense with realism." Describing the set, Mrs. Hardt says, "The set was simple, a trench with walls vibrating as the bombs burst near. The clear cut background was in perfect contrast with the elaborate web of dialog and actions."

The set of the Wesley production is marked by the same simplicity as was the one seen by Mr. and Mrs. Hardt. The present characterizations are also being interpreted in much the same manner.

Three Students Register Monday

With the registration of three new students Monday, the University registration figures reached 8,177 for the second semester. Of those registered, 7,517 were in the University during the fall semester, and 660 are new students.

The total registration for both semesters now stands at 9,151. This is a gain of eleven students since last Friday night.

Of the 8,488 students registered in the University for the fall semester, 974 have withdrawn from the University.

"When talking pictures arrived, my stage experience on Broadway gave me my chance on the screen. Taking care of my throat became serious business with me, so I changed to Luckies—a light smoke. An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Stanwyck verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. protective note: a Mr. Lynn Jackson, who writes sports, and sometimes things less silly, reports that the other day while he was playing around with a basketball in Gregory gymnasium, the place dances are sometimes held, a janitor came up and ordered, "get off this floor with those hard shoes on!"

and, looking forward note: Mr. Charles Root, who is manager of the varsity theater, as well as being a student, and who is conducting a contest at his theater whereby some organization will win the proceeds from a midnight show, added this sentence to the letters sent to the various organizations announcing his (or their) contest: "I am looking forward to meeting you and hope our acquaintance will outlive just this contest."

Mr. Root said he got the idea from letters people are always sending him trying to sell him on all sorts of propositions.

the baseball player, Lloyd Rigby, who contributed a column of poetry to this department last year, comes across with two new bits:

pe-ke.

and, the legislative information service has got out a "special supplement" edited by Vann Kennedy which is now some fourteen days old, but still interesting to talk about.

a note of explanation says, "all bills and joint resolutions are listed by number, name of author, and one-line description of subject matter."

the first item under house bills is "Hyder—expenses of session," this, of course, is such an obvious sort of thing, we needn't bother about it.

but we do need to bother about item twenty-six, "Fuchs—abutting land owners may cut obnoxious weeds," put yourself in the place of an abutting land owner, as Mr. Fuchs must have done when he introduced the bill. your neighbor has obnoxious weeds growing on his land. he may call them Jacob's Coats, or something like that, but you call them obnoxious weeds. under this bill, you simply go over and cut them down. then your neighbor comes over, or sends someone, to cut down your best Tyler roses (he gets asthma from smelling the darned things.) that covers that.

item forty-nine, "Johnson—takes 'Junior' out of north Texas agricultural college," would he send him to a. and m.?

and, mercy me!
item seventy-six, "Mann—adding bullfighting to prescribed list with bawdy houses," with compliments to Mr. Mann, I can think of nothing to add.

item 278, "Mann of Houston—if spouse makes $200 spouse can't team," this is the same Mann again, and looking down the list, he seems to keep it up. if you want to read the other items, you can borrow the list.

Spanish fighters. Several weeks ago it appeared that all nations had gotten tired of the Spanish war and therefore they were all willing to see the Spanish left alone to decide their own controversy. This apparent desire to stop intervention in Spain did not last long for Italy and Germany as well as Russia have been giving as much aid to Spain as they ever have.

REBEL attacks upon Madrid have up to date failed to bring any material results. The Madrid defense council stated in an official communication that the Rebels had not been able to shake the Loyalist's forces despite fierce pressure. The Rebel attempt to break through Loyalist lines south of Madrid has "completely failed."

In Valencia the Rebels killed eight adults and wounded sixty more in a naval bombardment. The Loyalist forces stated that the cruiser bombarding the port of Valencia was not a vessel of the Spanish navy for the boat was far too modern.

U. T. Band to Tour West Texas Easter

The Longhorn Band will make a concert tour of West Texas towns during the Easter holidays. The Midland public school system took the initiative in proposing this trip.

John Kavanaugh, president of the band, said about eighty-five members will go. He added that the trip, to be made by bus, probably will take five days.

Several towns in the Rio Grande Valley requested performances of the band.

SOME EDUCATORS ARE REALIZING FALLACY OF SUPREME COURT EXALTATION OF REASON

Never before has the idea of reason had such a glorified place in human thinking. Reason has become chief god of modern man. Intellect is his cardinal virtue. On Reason man fastens his hope. Only through the use of reason can he solve his problems; only through the use of his intellect can he free himself from ancient chains.

Reason has become the end and aim of the educational system. "To teach students to think—that's the duty of college." A college is considered to succeed in proportion to the degree it produces analytical, critical, rational graduates.

And yet this deification of reason is all the more noteworthy because at the same time it has been marked by a disintegration of the values that have made intellect worth having. The glorification of our educational system and the pursuit of scientific knowledge have made knowledge an end in itself. We have come to believe that knowledge per se is the whole purpose of living. We have become slaves of intellect. We are the dupes of reason.

This trend may be easily illustrated. A professor recently remarked, in speaking of the scientific method, "Science is non-moral. It is neither moral nor immoral. It neither denies nor affirms. It is its own excuse for being. It simply is!"

The fruits of this doctrine are evident. The search for scientific truth has liberated forces that have produced glutted wealth and abysmal poverty.

Regardless of its good effects, scientific truth has made the greedy wealthy, the anti-social a menace, and the unscrupulous dangerous. It has produced impending forces that are threatening to destroy property, obliterate life, and annihilate civilization.

The doctrine that the whole end of college is to produce a liberal mind is as dogmatic as the dicta of any eighteenth century mystic. What is the value of a liberated mind anyway? And when we have been freed of our childhood beliefs to what more inspiring ideas have we been liberated? How does it help us to live better? To make life more pleasant, or meaningful? The concept of "Knowledge for knowledge's sake" or that "Education is an end in itself" is as naive as belief in reincarnation or the Second Coming.

Knowledge is not an end in itself. Reason is a tool. It can aid us to adjust ourselves to our environment and solve our problems. The mind is something to be lived with—not for.

Reason, unless it is subordinated to the homely truths of everyday life, is threatening to destroy us.

Knowledge and intellect begin to have a meaning only when they are controlled and directed. Unless subordinated to an ideal they are ashes.

College is important to supply that ideal. It cannot give our truth meaning or our life direction.

Relatedly some of our educators are realizing the fallacy of our supreme exaltation of reason. They are realizing: To give knowledge direction—this is the duty of college!

Minnesota Visitor Inspects H. E. Work

Miss Ivor Spafford, assistant professor at the University of Minnesota, who has been visiting the campus while studying home-making education for the Minnesota General Education Board, left Austin Wednesday to continue her tour of the United States. While here, she observed the work done in the Department of Home Economics of the University and of the Austin public schools.

Miss Spafford spoke to the Home Economics faculty's seminar last night on her work in the general college in Minnesota and her study of this field of work.

$18,360 Grant Enables N.Y.A. To Add Workers

A larger number of students than ever before are now employed by the National Youth Administration here, Dean V. I. Moore said Friday. This is the result of the national government's additional grant of $18,360 to the University N.Y.A., making the total amount allotted for the year $139,266.

About two months ago, disturbance arose from rumors that the extra amount might be withdrawn, but assurance has been given that it will continue throughout the year, Dean Moore said.

A few more than one thousand students are now on the payroll of the University N.Y.A. Of these, seventy are medical students in Galveston, and the rest are employed in Austin.

Funds Regulated
The N.Y.A. year is divided into three quarters. The first quarter lasted from the beginning of the first semester until December 10; the second, beginning December 11, will end March 11; and the last, beginning March 11, will probably end, because of the desirability of allowing students to finish their hours before final exams, about May 25. All employees have been asked to allow their workers to do as much as possible of their work before that date in order that the payroll may be closed and the students may finish their scholastic work and go home by June 10.

During the first quarter, $46,420 was allotted for the payment of the workers. Of this there was a balance of $17,424 left at the end of the period. Dean Moore said that as many students as possible are being put on this work, and careful management is being made so that the funds and the payroll will come out even or with as little remaining balance as possible.

Scholarship High
Interesting, statistically, is the fact that, according to Dean Moore, the N.Y.A. has been an excellent thing scholastically. Students employed by the N.Y.A. are required to take twelve semester hours of work for credit, and to make an average of 162 grade points, the equivalent of two C's and two D's. The scholastic average of N.Y.A. workers, Dean Moore said, is distinctly higher than the average of the University at large, although many freshmen are included among them.

There were over two thousand applications for N.Y.A. work this year. At present fifteen hundred are waiting. There is no N.Y.A. in the summer; and whether or not it will be continued next year depends upon whether Congress makes appropriations for it, and whether the President allots the necessary money. Applications will not be accepted for next year until it is definitely known whether the allotments will be granted by the federal government. Whether or not appropriations will be made may be known around the middle of June.

Douglass, Green To Speak to Class

Charles E. Green, managing editor of the Austin Statesman, and Neal Douglass, staff photographer, will speak to the Journalism 24 class, Journalism Building 212, at 12 o'clock today on "Selecting and Displaying News Photographs." They will describe their work in covering the shooting on Mt. Bonnell Sunday night in which W. W. Thomasson, Federal liquor agent, was fatally wounded.

which led me back to dancing. In learning how the body released emotion, I discovered the true essence of the dance."

Mr. Strawbridge has developed an original style and conception of the dance. He has danced in America, France, Germany, Russia, China, and Japan. He was invited by the Greek Government to lead the Delphic chorus in the revival of the classical tragedies given in Athens last summer, but other engagements made it impossible for him to accept.

The New York Times said of him: "He has lightness and elevation, strength and clarity, and above all a distinct quality of beauty in his movements."

Miss Parnova, who will appear in several numbers, has also danced in the leading cities of Europe as well as those of America. For the past two years she has been touring engagements with Mr. Strawbridge and his company through America.

Blanket Tax Holders Free

Reserved seat tickets may be bought for $1, other tickets, for 75 cents at Reed's Music Store and the Texas Union. Blanket tax holders will be admitted free. The Student Cultural Entertainment Committee will bring Stuart Chase, noted author, lecturer, and economist, here March 10. Mr. Chase in his book "A New Deal" made recommendations that were incorporated in the New Deal, which took its name from the book. The Ionian Quartet will be presented by the committee the middle part of April.

Grainger, Australian Pianist, To Give Concert Here Friday

Percy Grainger, Australian composer and pianist, will give a concert Friday night at 8 o'clock in Hogg Memorial Auditorium under the auspices of the newly organized musical fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota. Mr. Grainger, born in Australia in 1882, has been studying music since childhood.

He has studied in Melbourne and Germany, and in 1900 he went to London, where he gave recitals and played in many important concerts. The Leeds festival, in which he played the solo part in Grieg's piano concerto, was among his offerings.

Under the influence of Grieg, Mr. Grainger joined the movement for recovering English folk songs, a field in which he has done much work.

After tours of Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa, Mr. Grainger came to America in 1915. After serving as a bandsman in the army during the war, he later became an instructor in an army music school and became a naturalized citizen.

Among Mr. Grainger's publications are "Shepherd's Hey," "Clog Dance," "The Merry Wedding," "Spoon River," and "To a Nordic Princess."

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at the J. R. Reed Music Store and at the Texas School of Fine Arts.

Stocking to Talk To 'Y' Groups

Dr. George W. Stocking, professor of economics, will speak to the upperclass group of the "Y" on "Resources in a Democracy" Wednesday night at the Y.M.C.A. Bill Leonard, president of the group, has announced. The meeting will take place at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 o'clock as formerly announced, and is open to the general public.

Dr. Stocking, a native Texan, has specialized in two fields, labor relations and the economic use of natural resources. He is a graduate of the University and of Columbia University.

In 1931 Dr. Stocking was one of ten economists sent by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace to study economic conditions in Central Europe. In the work of natural resources he was awarded a Guggenheim fellowship for the study of mineral resources in Mexico in 1932.

He served as chairman of the petroleum labor policy board in Washington, as advisor to the N.R.A. labor policy board, and he was chairman of the Department of Labor mediation board in the longshoremen's strike.

Following Dr. Stocking's talk there will be a discussion.

Award Applications Are Due March 15

Applications for the pre-doctoral fellowship awards given by the Social Science Research Council must be in before March 15, it has been announced.

The fellowships are given to graduate students in social science and are open to men and women in the United States and Canada. Applicants must either have a bachelor's degree or get one before July 1, 1937. They must not be over the age of 25 before July 1. University of Texas students, in addition, are not eligible if they have more than one semester's resident graduate work.

These awards are given to students showing excellent promise in social science study to aid them in research work in the first year of graduate study. The basis of the award is the personal and scholastic records of the applicant and letters from University instructors qualified to write on the candidates' research promise.

Candidates must send in their applications on blanks secured from the Fellowship Secretary of the Social Science Research Council, 230 Park Avenue, New York City.

U. T. Ranks Fifth In National Research

The University of Texas ranks fifth among state universities in the amount of research done per student, according to the School of Education Record of the North Dakota University.

Ratings were made of all state universities by compiling the ratio of the amount of research done in 1935 and the enrollment in the schools.

The universities of Iowa, Colorado, Virginia, and Nebraska ranked higher than Texas. Some of the larger universities had lower ratings. The University of California was twenty-sixth, and the University of Michigan was thirty-fourth.

Mr. Thornberry Speaks Tonight To Austin Club

Representative Homer Thornberry of Travis County will speak to the Austin Club tonight at 7 o'clock in the Architecture Building auditorium. The meeting time has been moved up so that there will be no conflict with the safety program, Harvey Pulliam, president, announced.

Representative Thornberry is an ex-student of the University, having received his bachelor of business administration degree in 1932 and his bachelor of laws degree last June after filing for office.

Being one of the youngest members of the House of Representatives Thornberry achieved distinction by being awarded a place on the important appropriations committee by Speaker Bob Calvert.

Thornberry ran on a progressive platform favoring payment of state salaries commensurate with the importance of the position and the cost of living, adequate appropriations for all phases of public education, ratifying the child labor amendment, taxation of natural resources rather than a general sales tax, regulation of public utilities, efficient and economical reforms in state government, strict regulation of liquor traffic and the conservation of natural resources.

The "REGAL" Rebuilt ROYAL

The "Regal" Rebuilt Royal is guaranteed to do just as good as the new machine! Every Royal rebuilt is first stripped to the base. Only the body remains—and this is completely overhauled, and re-nickelled and re-enamelled. Then the rebuilding begins. Worn parts are replaced by new parts and every bit of the work is done by highly trained mechanics, specialists in rebuilding Royals only. When the job is finished the machine looks like new with new enamel—new key rings—new nickel. It not only looks and works like new, but it will give you the same service as a new machine.

Results Will Measure Safety Drive Success

Sponsorship of worthwhile projects has often been the chosen lot of the University's Interfraternity Council. Its most recent, and promising to be one of its most successful, is the Traffic Safety Drive and Rally to culminate tonight with a large and varied program in Hogg Memorial Auditorium.

Little has been omitted in the publicity build-up for the rally tonight. Headed by capable Mac Wassell, the Council's Traffic Safety committee has rounded up support from many city and state officials, as well as from numerous campus organizations and other interested groups.

Austin business and professional leaders, the Austin Police Department, Mayor Tom Miller, the secretary of Austin's Chamber of Commerce, Walter Long, members of the bar and bench, members of the Forty-fifth Legislature, the Interstate Theaters—these are but a few of the unselfish individuals and groups who have joined the Interfraternity Council in making the Safety Drive what is expected to be a huge success. Administrative officials of the University and student officers have tendered their influence and support—not to mention the members of the twenty-two fraternities of which the Council is representative.

The rally tonight in Hogg will appeal to every taste. It will be educational, of course; but it will also be enjoyable and entertaining. Besides four interesting moot traffic trials—conducted by an outstanding judge and participated in by Austin attorneys—there will be a motion picture, speeches, and various informal talks.

It is noteworthy that the movement instituted by the Interfraternity Council, and later joined in support by Panhellenic and the Inter-city Council, carries off honor for being the first to be begun by a university group in the United States. As other colleges and universities follow the lead, we would hazard a prediction that the project here will go down as one of the most successful, furnishing something for other schools "to shoot at."

But success of the University Traffic Safety Drive and Rally will not be measured by the number of students and citizens of Austin who attend the final program tonight. If those thousands are expected to be present tonight do not leave Hogg Memorial Auditorium resolved to drive more safely, and do not put into practice the expert advice received, then the project can be at once counted as a failure.

This, however, is unlikely; for with the splendid cooperation evidenced from all quarters before the rally, it is most probable that the serious purpose of the drive has been realized, and the beneficial outcome will be correspondingly successful. University students can from today on set an example of traffic safety—the kind of example they have already set in taking the initiative and assuming responsibility for such a commendable project.

Appropriation --

$15,000; West Texas State Teachers College, $19,740; College of Mines and Metallurgy, $7,420.

This is a total of $389,327.00.

The bill leaves a possible range in tuition rates to the old enactment which provides that the colleges may set their rates anywhere between $10 and $17.50 for one semester of summer school.

A. W. Birdwell, president of the East Texas State Teachers College and secretary of the Board of College Presidents, spoke for the board and explained how they had arrived at the suggested appropriations. The appropriations were figured on a per capita sum for the number enrolled in each school. The per capita sum for small schools was higher than that of large schools since their expenses are higher per student, Mr. Birdwell said.

A few typographical mistakes were found in the figures in the bill. The committee "razed" the college presidents for not being able to multiply. Further discussion and explanation of the figures occupied the committee for some time. A check had to be made on the enrollment of Prairie View Normal, negro school.

Dr. H. Y. Benedict spoke briefly explaining a section of the bill which simply deleted repetition of the old bill pertaining to the paying of teachers for summer school work.

The bill was then reported back to the House with the recommendation that it be passed as a substitute.

By R. T. BRINSMADE

THE International Non-Intervention Committee has finally decided to impose a general ban on volunteers in Spain.

This decision came as a result of pressure applied by both France and England when both of these nations found out that Italy was still sending men to aid the Rebel forces in Spain.

The Non-Intervention Committee has up to date failed in its attempt to prevent such nations as Russia, Italy, Germany and Portugal from sending aid to the

All Sections of the 1937 Cactus MUST CLOSE MONDAY MARCH 1 At 6:00 p. m.

Organizations

Organizations should make reservations for pages before 6:00 p. m. Monday, March 1, as the exact number of pages must be specified to the printer at that time. No space may be reserved after the deadline, but photographs of organizations may be taken after March 1.

The Cactus printing contract requires that all sections on the annual be closed at 6:00 p. m. Monday, March 1. It is necessary that the exact number of pages in the 1937 edition and the number of copies of the book be certified to the printer at that time.

Class Sections

The following deadlines have been announced for all class pictures:

ABCDE—Section closes 6 p. m. Tuesday, February 16
FGHIJ—Section closes 6 p. m. Monday, February 22
KLMNO—Section closes 6 p. m. Saturday, February 20
PQRST—Section closes 6 p. m. Thursday, February 25
UVWXYZ—Section closes 6 p. m. Tuesday, March 2

Studio appointments should be made now at Journalism Building 108 in order to avoid a possible last minute rush.

Bluebonnet Belle Nominees

The time is limited for the making of photographs for the Bluebonnet Belle section. Please arrange for your studio appointment immediately.
