

Steers Need to Win to Tie for Second Place in Conference

Texas Is Losing Resources Fast

Geologist Sees Soil Exhaustion

Science Meeting Will End Today

Indicting Texans for permitting depletion of the State's natural resources at "a rate unequalled in the world's history," C. L. Baker, Texas A.M. geologist, Friday predicted exhaustion of much of those resources within the next generation.

Dr. Baker spoke before the geology section of the Texas Academy of Science, convening on the University campus for the second of its three-day annual meeting.

"It is going to become necessary for Texas to produce as much as possible of her food requirements because she will produce little which can be exchanged for food," Baker said.

Food basket for the State, he continued, would lie in East Texas, operating largely on irrigation.

With approximately 600 Academy representatives from the fields of physical sciences, botany, zoology, social sciences, conservation, and geology reporting 90 papers in morning and afternoon sessions Friday this year's parley will close today with a few scattered reports, a geological inspection tour of the Central Mineral Region, just west of Austin, and routine business meetings.

Baker said that Texas has one of the poorest of climates and that it is not only poor for humans but is responsible for the rapid deterioration of Texas soil in the eastern third of the state. He pointed to the high temperature, high humidity and scarcity of rainfall during the hottest months as a distinct handicap to Texas farmers, and maintained that only an educated and planned economy of surface and under-

Professors Lead Brady Field Trip

The West Texas and Fort Worth Geological Societies began their fall field trip Friday at Brady, where they met to study the Ordovician and underlying and overlying sections of the Central Mineral Region. The societies had separate meetings at Brady and Mason Friday night.

F. B. Plummer, professor of petroleum production engineering, and Dr. E. H. Sellards, professor of geology, assisted by their departments, prepared guide books and are planning entertainment for the trip.

The three-day trip was arranged in collaboration with the Texas Academy of Science.

The group met at Camp San Saba Saturday morning at 8 o'clock to study the Cambro-Ordovician. Afterwards they had a barbecue at the junction of Mill Creek and Llano River.

The party will return to Austin today for dinner at 7:15 o'clock at the Texas Union, where Dr. Frank Melton of the University of Oklahoma will make an illustrated talk on "Aerial Photography in Exploratory Geology."

Sunday morning the geologists will go to Llano, via Buchanan Dam and the Opaline Granite locality. The trip will end with a barbecue at Bend.

1,200 Women to Make Austin Red Cross Calls

Twelve hundred Austin women will call upon their neighbors next week, presenting the opportunity to enroll as members of the American Red Cross for 1940.

Mrs. Bob Long, residence division chairman, estimated today that the organization for this appeal would be the largest in the history of financial campaigns in this city.

The entire residence section has been divided into areas. Mrs. Carl Nesbitt is area chairman for West Austin; Mrs. Warren Freund for North Austin; Mrs. Kelly McAdams for the central section; Miss Jean Reed for the area from Nineteenth Street to the River, and Mrs. G. E. Doss for Southeast Austin.

South Austin, including all the territory south of the river to the city limits, will be handled as a separate division under the direction of R. E. Nitschke.

Scientists Do Business

Opening the early morning business meeting of the Texas Academy of Science yesterday in Texas Union 316, W. T. Gooch of Baylor University, standing, who is president of the Academy, paused to check some official matters with the Academy's secretary, Frederick A. Burt of A.M. College.

Rainey's Inaugural Program Is Released

The program preceding the formal inauguration of Dr. Homer Price Rainey as president of the University will last three days and topics of discussion will vary from "Why the State Supports Public Education" to "United States-Latin American Relations," it was revealed in a tentative program released Friday by University officials.

One of the highlights of the celebration will be an address by John Erskine, author, at the Fine Arts dinner in the Texas Union Friday.

On Thursday, December 7, the program will begin in Hogg Memorial Auditorium at 3 o'clock with "Educational Problems in Texas" the topic of the day. Newton I. Edwards, professor of education at the University of Chicago, and B. F. Pittenger, dean of the School of Education at the University of Texas, will make addresses.

At 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Hogg Auditorium E. H. Sellards, director of the University Bureau of Economic Geology, Luther Gulick, director of the Institute of Geology, will make addresses. See INAUGURAL, Page 3.

Students Can Buy Directories Today

The Directory of the Main University and of the Extramural Divisions for 1939-1940 will be on sale at the bookstores today. Miss Ita Louise Barekman, editor of official publications, has announced. The price is 15 cents a copy.

This year's directory lists 7,053 men students and 3,144 women students. Home residences, Austin addresses, telephone numbers, and the schools in which the students are registered are given.

Classes Suspend at 11 For Armistice Talks

Austin Citizens to Have Parade, To Hear Yarborough at Capitol

For the 11 o'clock hour this morning a temporary truce will be called with University classes, and at Hogg Memorial Auditorium three professors will analyze the conflicts involved in the current European war as part of the observance of Armistice Day.

The three speakers will be Dr. J. C. Dolley, professor of banking and investment, Dr. O. D. Weeks, professor of government, and Dr. C. P. Patterson, professor of government.

For University students this war symposium will throw light on questions which have confronted America since the World War ended, and which have been especially pressing since September 1, 1939.

One purpose of the program will be to pause in tribute to college students of America who twenty-two years ago answered the call to arms from which they did not return. Dr. H. T. Manuel, professor of educational psychology and chairman of the program, said. It is time to pause and think, Dr. Manuel added, because this country now faces the question, "Will history repeat itself?"

Dr. Dolley will speak on "Economic Conflicts." He will tell whether or not Russia will aid Germany, and if so, how much so. The question of the dependency of Germany on outside war materials will also be discussed.

"Conflicts on the Theories of State" is the subject on which Dr. Weeks will speak. Similarities of the dictatorships will be discussed, and Dr. Weeks will tell wherein they differ. What effect those types of governments have on that of the United States will be taken up.

Dr. Patterson will discuss "Minority Problems."

The City of Austin will observe Armistice Day with a parade beginning at 10:30 o'clock this morning. It will move up Congress Avenue from First Street to the Capitol.

Judge Ralph Yarborough will be speaker for the Armistice Day services beginning at 11:15 o'clock in the House of Representatives in the Capitol. H. P. Gillespie will preside, B. J. Rupert will be master of ceremonies, and the Rev. M. B. Harris of Hyde Park Christian Church will give the invocation.

Parking space will be provided in the Capitol grounds for those who attend the exercises.

The business firms of the city will close from 10:30 to 12:30 o'clock this morning for the parade and services, and the banks will be closed all day. The post-office will carry out its regular Saturday schedule with the exception of a two-hour period from 10:30 to 12:30 o'clock, when the windows will be closed.

Students may obtain tickets by presenting their auditor's receipts at the main desk of the Union before 8 o'clock Saturday night. Charles N. Zivley, director of the Union, announced Friday. A stag will not be admitted on a couple's ticket or vice versa, Zivley stressed.

Perrine, a junior in the University, and his orchestra will present a swing program with the "Swing Four" and the "Dixie Sextette." Peggy Mathis is soloist.

Union Will Have No-Charge Dance

Nat Perrine and his orchestra will play for the fourth no-charge dance held in the Texas Union tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Students may obtain tickets by presenting their auditor's receipts at the main desk of the Union before 8 o'clock Saturday night. Charles N. Zivley, director of the Union, announced Friday. A stag will not be admitted on a couple's ticket or vice versa, Zivley stressed.

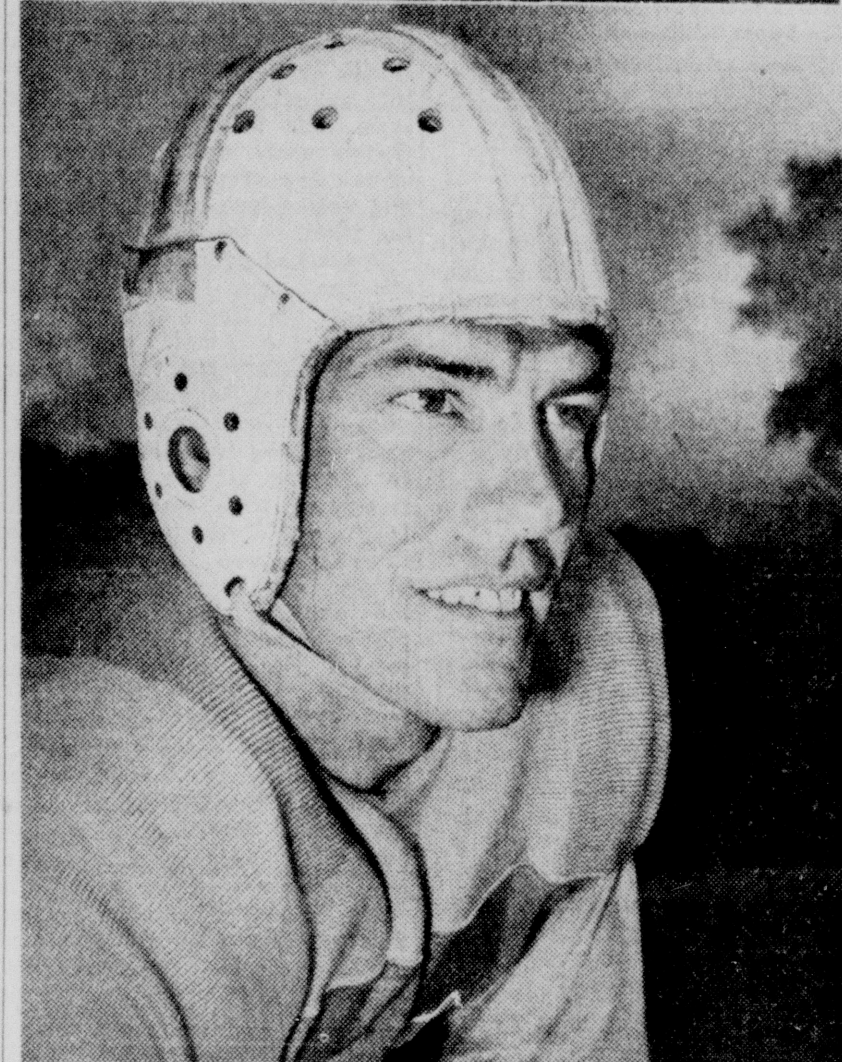

Perrine, a junior in the University, and his orchestra will present a swing program with the "Swing Four" and the "Dixie Sextette." Peggy Mathis is soloist.

Bill Choate Elected To Law Honor Council

Bill Choate, law student from Mart, has been chosen the first-year law representative to the Law Honor Council. Choate filled the last vacancy on the council.

Previously Thad Hutchinson was elected at large as chairman; Roderick Russ, Albert Tatum, and Raymond Goodwin were chosen senior law representatives; and Will Perry and Ben White were selected to represent the mid-laws.

Going Bear Hunting

Co-Captain Ned McDonald will lead the Longhorns today in their invasion of Waco for the game with the Baylor Bears. McDonald, regular right end for the Steers, is one Texas lineman who is expected to give the veteran Bruin forward wall trouble this afternoon.

Crain Will Play But Not to Bear Brunt of Attack

Offense to Center Around Smashes By Doss, Layden

By Clyde La MOTTE
Texas Sports Editor

With second place in the Southwest Conference hanging in the balance, the Longhorns will leave Austin this morning for Waco and a game with the Baylor Bears.

The winner will tie for second place with the loser of the Texas Aggie-Southern Methodist game being played at College Station and will remain in the running for the championship. The loser will become another "also-ran."

Texas fans are wondering and worrying about Jack Crain, hoping he will be in shape to turn in another of his great performances. Latest reports indicate that Crain will not start and it is doubtful if he is yet in condition to play as much as he did against Southern Methodist last Saturday.

Even if he is in top form he probably will not carry the brunt of the attack as he did against the Mustangs. In that game practically every play was planned to shake Crain loose. But crafty Matty Bell had a defense set for the Nocona speedster, and Southern Methodist managed to keep him from crossing the goal.

So in this contest Coach Dana Dana X. Bible is planning to take advantage of the fact that the Bears, too, will be keeping a watchful eye on Crain. And while they are watching Jack, Bible hopes that Noble Doss will be able to slant off-tackle, or that Pete Layden will be able to smash through the center of a wide-spread line.

Of course Crain is still the dynamite in the Steer backfield and the thousands of Texas fans present will be pulling for a repeat performance of the Rice, the Arkansas, the Wisconsin, or the Oklahoma game.

The game presents two teams that will rely chiefly on running attacks with passing in a secondary role. The Steers have gained more yardage than the Bears on running plays largely due to Crain. The Bears, on the other hand, have a much larger total in the passing department. But as yet, Layden, the Steers' chief passer, has not had a fair opportunity to compile a more impressive record. He was out of three contests with injuries and in the Southern Methodist game he was rushed constantly.

Although running is expected to be the chief offensive weapon, it will not be the power plays but wide end-sweeps, reverses, and quick-opening plays that will be used mostly. For that reason the game should be the wide-open, thrilling type that spectators enjoy.

Unsettled weather brings up the question as to which team would benefit by a muddy field. Because of their type of plays See LONGHORNS, Page 3.

Morning Rally at Katy Station To Show Team Student Support

The student body will have a chance to show the football team its support in a pre-game rally at the Katy station this morning at 8:45 o'clock, just before the squad leaves on a special train, along with the Longhorn Band and students, for the game with Baylor in Waco.

Jimmy Graves, head yell leader, has called the rally for this morning because a number of students will be leaving on the train and because it will send the team out of town with what Graves expects to be a "grand display of spirit."

Graves will be assisted by the Band and the Cowboys.

Because of limited facilities, the rally will be short and informal. Some of the members of the football squad may be called on for speeches, Graves said.

Tickets on the student section of the special train, being sponsored by Band Director George E. Hurt, are on sale for $1.90 round trip. The return date extends to Sunday night.

Athletics officials said that nearly fifteen hundred University students would attend the game, and that about three thousand See RALLY, Page 3.

Baked Apples To Be Served At Union Party

Students who do not make the trip to the Texas-Baylor game in Waco may join the fun offered by the football party in the Main Lounge of the Texas Union from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon—and eat baked apples.

Refreshments will not be served at the party until it is over, however, the Union officials announced Friday.

Baked apples are replacing the peanuts and popcorn of past parties.

Louis White, 'School Spirit King,' Says Adios to Rustlers, U. T.

By PORKY WILLIAMS

When the Rustlers ended their weekly huddle in the darkened Journalism Building Wednesday night for a session of "skull practice" on the pep-plays, they felt like the Englishmen when they holler, "The king is dead, long live the king." Why? Well, they had just accepted the resignation of Louis White, who is leaving school, as their president and promoted their vice-president, Pat O'Keefe.

If there is any person who deserves the title, "King of School Spirit," it is Louis White. He not only founded the Rustlers this fall, but was behind MICA in its early days, and last year was one of those active in the Aggie Adjustment Act, a hot campaign to revive campus spirit and beat A.M.

But just to show that he is no "bleacher athlete," with only a sport-page knowledge of the team he has supported, we'll pick up his career in Classen High School of Oklahoma City where he was a three-year letterman on the football, basketball, and track teams.

From there he went to the University of Oklahoma and started making a name for himself in college circles. This he did by getting in such organizations as the Bombardiers and Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternities, Check Mate, a club corresponding to the Friars here; varsity debate squad for two years,

LOUIS WHITE
No "bleacher athlete" he.

the Student Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council, and Skeleton Key, Jazz Hounds, and Toga, honorary organization. Louis was also an active member of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity.

Upon receiving his business administration degree from Oklahoma University, Louis turned southward to The University of Texas to enter the School of Law. This is his third year here.

When the MICA organization was developing, Louis was behind the movement. One time he missed ed meeting because he had the flu.

That night he was elected president, succeeding Sydney Reagan. Last spring Louis was one of the three men on the Round-Up Committee, and at the same time a member of the Sweetheart Committee.

When the Longhorn Football Team was fighting its way through a disastrous season last year, Louis was one of the five men to accept the challenge of the ex-students, "that the student body of the University didn't show the old spirit and support the team the way they used to," and do something about it.

Out of this challenge came the A.A.A. campaign which contributed to the fighting spirit of Longhorns when they met A.M. in the Thanksgiving Day game. There were rallies, special editions of The Daily Texan, and distribution of yell sheets over the campus.

The plan set Louis to thinking that if this could be done to win one game, what would a permanent organization do? The culmination of this idea came when Louis called together, a hundred men, all interested in promoting school spirit and supporting the teams and formed the Rustlers.

Every game sees a bigger turn-out of the lads with the orange shirts and an increased interest from the student body.

From now on, though the Rustlers will carry on without Louis, his spirit will lead them.

Texas-Baylor Game On KNOW, 2:20

During the afternoon play-by-play broadcasts of the four games of the Southwest Conference teams will be on the air.

Cy Leland will describe the Texas-Baylor game over KNOW beginning at 2:20 o'clock. The Texas A.M.-S.M.U. game will be broadcast over WOAI and WFAA with Kern Tips at the microphone. KGKO and KTSa will have Eddie Dunn to describe the Arkansas-Rice game, and Hal Thompson will broadcast the T.C.U.-Tulsa game over station KRDL.

All of the games will be heard at 2:20 o'clock.

Pinkard, Crash Victim, Buried Friday in Leander

Funeral services for Jefferson D. Pinkard, 18-year-old University freshman, who was killed in a collision on East First Street Wednesday night, were held at 10 o'clock Friday morning in Leander.

Pinkard, who lived at 2302 Canterbury Street, was killed when the trailer of a truck struck the streetcar in which he was riding.

Austin Remains Unbeaten by Downing Brackenridge Threat, 7-0

SPORTS BILLBOARD

By Clyde LaMotte

(Editor's note: Each week the sports editor of the rival school is invited to write a guest column for Sports Billboard. This week's guest is Ace Gailey, sports editor of the Lariat, Baylor University paper.)

By ACE GALEY
Daily Lariat Sports Editor

Let's make this just an informal chat while you hurry through classes, with imaginary pictures of Jack Crain streaking through a golden-jerseyed herd dancing on the blackboard; jump into your most stylish apparel or most comfortable outfit, and board a train for Waco or gather around the radio—whichever it be, you'll be pulling for the Longhorns to do to "those pesky Bears" in Waco what they have done for more than a decade.

Clyde, if you'll rap for attention, I'll get started because I do have much I want to say and I realize this will probably be the only time I will have the entire University of Texas student body for an audience... splendid, the decorum is even better than I have heard it was.

Of course you have all heard of Jack Wilson and Jimmy Witt, the two leading offensive threats of the Baylor team. Wilson began his career at Paris High school and got about as much publicity as the street cleaner in one of Hitler's concentration camps. Perhaps it may be attributed to the fact that he was strictly a blocker.

So it was at Paris Junior College a few years later. Wilson was big, fast and aggressive but little heard of because he was always out in front of the ball carrier mowing down enemy tacklers. A Baylor scout spotted the 200-pound prospect and ushered him into Baylor.

As a freshman last year, he carried the ball for the first time. Before the season ended, he was hailed as a brilliant running prospect for the Bruin team, and his ability to block was overlooked by the fans. The Paris flash churned up the turf all year and led the Cubs through an undefeated season.

Wilson fit snugly into Coach Morley Jennings's style of play. The Bruin master will take a big boy who runs straight and hard any day to the small will-of-the-wisp type.

What has he done this year, you ask? Nothing to warrant headlines in the newspapers, but he has been a necessary cog in this year's Baylor team which is regarded as one of the best of recent years. To date, he has carried the ball more than any of the conference leaders except Crain and A.M.'s Kimbrough. In 64 tries he has averaged three yards.

Let me alibi or say something like "Watch him go Saturday" we'll get on to Witt.

A junior letterman, Witt has been the offensive star of the team. Statistics reveal that he ranks high among the leading ball carriers with a better-than-three-yard average, is sixth among the punt return leaders with a 12-yard average, is second to A.M.'s Conatser in intercepting passes with three to his credit for an average return of 28 yards, and is tied with Conatser for third place in the scoring race with 30 points.

Witt was a starting halfback last year but is the most improved player on the squad. Going as he is now, he may be classed as a great triple-threatener. The 21-year-old youth is majoring in math and is one boy who knows his figures.

Supporting Witt and Wilson in the backfield are three seniors, one junior and a sophomore. Speed Graham, Malcolm Linder and W. J. Grumbles are the seniors. Grumbles does the kicking and thus far has an average of slightly over 36 yards. Linder is a hard runner and the fastest man on the squad. Graham hails from Dallas and serves only as a blocker.

The fourth regular in addition to Wilson, Witt and Grumbles is Milton Merka, 210-pound fullback from Bryan. Merka sustained a ruptured charley horse against A.M. and will watch Saturday's game from the sidelines. Grumbles has been moved into the full-back role and Curtis Byrd inserted at right half.

Until the T.C.U. game Byrd was a comparative unknown but played such a brilliant game that he is certain to start if a bruised shoulder improves as expected.

The sophomore mentioned is Dwight Parks, a 165-pound triple-threatener from Elkhart. Parks has been the big gun this week in scrimmage and may get his chance Saturday.

Note: All along I have felt as though I were cramming a lot of dry fodder down your throats, but since I started I'll mention the line.

Every starter, with the exception of Robert Nelson at center, will be a senior. Upon occasions, Coach Jennings has used two distinct lines, which is a fairly accurate indication that every position is two deep and there is not much to choose between them.

Pride of the forward wall is the middle section. Nelson is considered the leading pivot man in the conference. At the guard posts are two senior guards who are regarded as the best since Bochey Koch won all-American acclaim in 1930.

At right guard is Captain Bobby Taylor, 190-pound gem of consistency. Taylor, the lightest of the regulars, is one of the un-sung heroes of the conference. To say he is the most consistent Bruin lineman is hardly an exaggeration, and for the past two seasons he has been the mainstay and inspiration of the front seven. Taylor, in addition to his exploits on the gridiron, favors his namesake and is considered a fair catch for the fairest of co-eds.

Flanking Nelson on the left is Leonard Akin, 210-pound defensive star from Dallas. Akin received all-conference mention last fall and is gunning for a berth this fall.

Two sets of tackles and ends will probably divide time. Whew, are you still with me?

Personally, I'm greatly interested in what Texas students feel about the outcome of the game. If you can dodge the wrath of the professor, I'll continue with a few personal thoughts.

Who is the outsider barging in? Don't say it, Traditional Jinx? We are fully aware that Baylor hasn't defeated a Texas team in Waco in more than a decade. Abraham Lincoln was a failure for more than half a century but later became president of the United States. As we see it, the old bugaboo has no bearing on the case.

Yes, there is the comparative method of arriving at the answer. In presenting my side I can mention that Baylor defeated Arkansas by two touchdowns in a most convincing manner, while Texas scraped through with a one-point victory. Hear me through before you throw! Also, T.C.U. lost to Arkansas by one point, and Baylor trounced the Horned Frogs, 27-0. These comparisons would indicate that Baylor has a two-touchdown better club, but try to convince the local better. If you can get one point in Waco, I'll take half of it.

We might point to the T.C.U. game and say Baylor is at its peak—that the Bears are hot and can't be stopped. We mentioned that after the Arkansas game and the Bears were as cool as a cucumber the following week against Nebraska.

Breaks will go a long way in deciding the issue, but when two such powers meet on the gridiron and the weather is right, breaks are made, not dished out by fate. If there are breaks Saturday, the team they go against will manufacture them.

Since I still have the floor, I feel rather reluctant to mention injuries, but with Merka out, Nelson carrying his shoulder in a sling and Wilson cringing at a mere touch we positively won't be in top shape. Alibi Ike?

Ultimately, the game is strictly a toss-up. We would not be surprised were the margin of victory either one or two touchdowns either way. We hope you will not be!

My last word is to the point of rudeness. What, you didn't know? I'll listen attentively after the game.

Clyde, it has been a distinct pleasure and thanks so very much.

Maroons Tally In 1st Quarter

Rain, Cold Hinder Aerial Attacks

By BILL WHITMORE

Scoring midway in the first quarter, the Austin High Maroons outfought the scrapping Brackenridge Eagles of San Antonio the rest of the way to win, 7-0, before 8,500 rain-drenched fans at House Park last night. The victory gave the Maroons an almost sure claim to the District 15AAA championship, and left them one of the few remaining undefeated and untied high school eleven in the state.

A blocked punt by Eugene Larson that gave the Maroons the ball on the Eagle five-yard line set up the Austin touchdown. Joe Bob Markette, Eagle center, dropped back to punt on the 29 yard line. Larson charged in very fast, and the ball hit him in the face, going all the way to the five-yard stripe where Caradine Dipprey, Maroon tackle, fell on it. After two line thrusts by Travis Raven carried the ball to the one-yard line, Pete Lewis plunged over right tackle for the score. Raven kicked the extra point.

The Eagles came back strong shortly after the touchdown to make their best scoring threat of the game. Raven got off to a poor kick from his 18-yard line, and Jennings Anderson, Eagle safety, returned it to the Maroon 25-yard line. Anderson picked up 12 yards on a spin play that sent him wide to the left. Big Weldon Humble, hard-driving Eagle fullback, then carried the ball to a first down on the two-yard line on three plays. An off-side penalty gave Brackenridge a first down on the half-yard line, but on the next play Humble fumbled, and Jack Allison recovered for Austin on the four to end the threat.

It began to rain late in the opening quarter, and the rest of the game was playing in the almost continuous downpour. Despite the rain, the Eagles threw a lot of passes in an attempt to score, but while their short tosses were clicking, they could never complete long ones when they were shooting for a touchdown.

Starting line-ups: Austin: Ends, Coltharp and Allison; tackles, Dipprey and Larson; guards, Griffin (c) and Loney; center, Giles; backs, Nelson, Lucius, Lewis, Raven.

Brackenridge: Ends, Hill and Bravo; tackles, Hester and Chambers; guards, Moore and Diehl; center, Markette (c); backs, Bondy, Anderson, Maner, and Humble.

GAS AND OIL RECEIPTS

Gas and oil royalties for September and October were $104,259.95. October lead with $60,057.58. The total for last year was $73,155.54, reports from the Bursar's Office show.

And the Wires Are Humming With Football Talk

Injury Lists Dot Conference Teams

Special to the Texan

WACO, Nov. 10.—It will be the Good Old Baylor line against Texas's Crack Jack Crain when the Baylor Bears and the Texas Longhorns clash here in Waco Saturday.

The Steers bowed to S.M.U. 10-0 last week-end in their only conference setback of the year, but Crain continued to lead the offensive play for the Longhorns and will be ready to hit the comeback trail against Coach Morley Jennings's Baptist eleven.

Baylor came back strong after being kicked around on successive week-ends by Nebraska and Texas A.M. to completely overwhelm T.C.U., 27-0 and to score the first shutout the Frogs have had since an underdog Baylor eleven took a 6-0 victory back in 1937.

The Bears continued to strut a powerful defensive aggregation and when their running attack finally got started, the T.C.U. eleven was in for plenty of trouble. Opponents have managed to gain an average of only 68 yards per game through the Bruin forward wall and the Baylor gridgers seem to have enough power to stop the Longhorns' offensive drives.

Texas has come along fast after being doped to finish in the lower bracket of the conference standings and will be double tough after being held in check by a powerful S.M.U. club. Both clubs have suffered one loss in the conference flag chase, but Saturday's winner will still have a chance to figure in the final outcome if the going gets rough for the two top leaders—S.M.U. and Texas A.M.

FROGS SET FOR TULSA

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10.—(INS)—The best Texas Christian line-up since early in the season will start out against the Golden Hurricane of Tulsa tomorrow, Coach Dutch Meyer announced. That line-up includes the star backfield consisting of Connie Sparks, Logan Ware, Jack Odle, and Earle Clark which hasn't played together since the second game of the season.

MATTY STILL MOANS

DALLAS, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Pessimistic as usual, Coach Matty Bell prepared his squad of 34 Mustangs for a final drill today before entraining tonight for College Station where they meet the powerful Texas Aggies.

The Farmers are definitely the favorites but the coaching staff of the Ponies predicted the Mustangs would give them a real battle. Bell has a number of injured players, including his ace passer, Ray Mallouf.

They Stick Their Necks Out

Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Dart.	Pitt.
vs.	vs.	vs.	vs.	vs.	vs.
Bay.	S.M.U.	Rice	Tulsa	Prin.	Tech
Don Patterson	Bay.	A.M.	Rice	T.C.U.	Prin.
Porky Williams	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	Tulsa	Prin.
I. E. Clark	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Dart.
Duke Sutherland	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Prin.
Bill Newkirk	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Prin.
L. W. Brooks	Tex.	A.M.	Rice	T.C.U.	Dart.
Clarence LaRoche	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	Tulsa	Dart.
Jack Howard	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Dart.
Herschel Kornblatt	Bay.	A.M.	Rice	T.C.U.	Dart.
Bob Martin	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Dart.
Consensus	Tex.	A.M.	Ark.	T.C.U.	Dart.
Av.—Percentage of correct selections for this season.

Steers Take Four Firsts To Beat Aggie Harriers

Taking the first four places, the Longhorn cross-country team defeated the A.M. runners, 18-38, in a dual meet at College Station Friday.

Price finished first for the Steers, Harry Hafernick was second, Tommy Lostak, third, and Joe Hart, fourth. Wilmet, Walker, and Laney of the Aggies finished fifth, sixth, and seventh. Bardwell Odum of Texas was eighth; Hogan of A.M., ninth; Wroble of Texas, tenth; and Graham of A.M., eleventh. Only the first five men on each team counted. Price's time was thirteen minutes, nineteen seconds.

Since the Aggies are Texas's closest rivals for the conference championship each year, the Steers' decisive victory Friday indicates that they will not be hard-pressed in the conference meet at College Station late this month.

The Longhorn cross-country team is undefeated in competition this fall. They nosed out Abilene Christian College in a meet in which the Rice Owls finished a very poor third, and last week-end easily defeated the Southern Methodist harriers at Dallas.

AGGIES ARE WEAKENED

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Visibly pleased over the last heavy workout of his Cadets, Coach Homer Norton of Texas A.M. was still bemoaning a team weakened by injuries.

Despite Norton's wails, there was a good chance that Euel Weston and Chip Routt would see some service Saturday against Southern Methodist. Walemon Price was another of Norton's stars whose injuries have kept him from participating in the tough scrimmage.

ORCHESIS ELECTS

Orchesis accepted eleven members into the club at its Wednesday meeting. They are Nancy Pratt, Marguerite Walling, Virginia McCaskill, Jackie Hemphill, Martha Haish, Helen Waggoner, Joan Holeman, Betty Walker, Clare Matthews, Evelyn Brown, and Georgeanne Harmon. Judges for the apprentice members who passed the test were Mrs. John Keel, Mattye Sue LeBlanc, Margaret Grubbs, Martha Watkins, and Miss Mary McKee, sponsor of the club.

GIRLS WIN MIXED ARCHERY

Jean Patton, Janie Hawkins, and Joel Wiew were winners of Bow and Arrow's mixed tournament Wednesday afternoon. Second place went to Hazel Peters, Margaret Broderson, and Tamagade Ried. Third place was won by Helen Patton, Sara Beth Knox, and Winston Lindsey.

Fraternity Men, Notice

Members of the following fraternities should go to Christianson-Leberman Studio, 904½ Congress, and make a selection of proofs for their picture in the Cactus.

Alpha Tau Omega
Beta Theta Pi
Delta Chi
Delta Kappa Epsilon
Delta Tau Delta
Delta Theta Phi
Phi Delta Theta
Phi Kappa Psi
Phi Sigma Delta
Sigma Chi
Sigma Nu
Tau Delta Phi
Tejas

If you fail to select your proofs, a member of the Cactus staff will make a selection for you.

THE CACTUS

The Texan Classified Ads

Announcements

LUNCHEON DINNER
DANCING
AT GUADALUPE
PHONE 84321
THE SOUTH'S MOST UNIQUE
Owned by Darby Orgain — University Student

Announcements

Mexican Foods
Choice
Steaks
Chicken
Sea Food

For Sale

AMERICAN Kennel Club, Registered
Cocker Spaniels, golden red. 1607
Palma Plaza.

Jewelry
MFG. JEWELER-Engraving, lettering, rings, frat pins, Barret's, 121 W. 7.

Laundries
One Day Service
DRISKILL HOTEL LAUNDRY
8-HOUR SERVICE
6444 119 East 7th

HOME LAUNDRY
PHONE 3702

Mimeographing
VARSITY MIMEO SERVICE—Typing,
Stencils, Notary, 2622 Wichita, 2-922.

Lost and Found
LOST: Dark brown leather pocketbook containing auditor's receipt, etc. Reward. Finder please call C. R. Sutton,
2-6241.

Music
LET AUSTIN PHONOGRAPH CO. furnish music for your party or dance.
Photographs rented for all occasions.
116 East 5. 9469.

Plumbing
E. RAVEN—Since 1899 — Plumbing water heater repairing, gas piping, ranges, heaters connected, sinks, sewers
unstopped, 1403 Lavana, Phone 5163

Professional
DR. E. E. HARRIS
Dentist
1514 Norwood Bldg. Phone 8-4561

Radio Service
RADIO SERVICE—Auto, Home, Portable. Rent a radio, new, used. "Rent price applied on purchase price." Austin
Radio Co. 1519 S. Congress, 5292.

Rug Cleaners
RELIABLE EXPERIENCED TECHN-
ICIAN. Any make or type of radio. Call
5183. After 9 p.m., 7711, 1700 Lavana, 4598.

Rugs Cleaned
GEO. WESLEY
1818 San Jacinto Phone 2-9121

Records

"OH, JOHNNY, OH JOHNNY, OH"
Orrin Tucker & His Orchestra. "Are
You Havin' Any Fun?" Horace Heidt &
His Musical Knights. Records on sale at J. R. Reed Music Co., 805 Congress.

SLIGHTLY USED Phonograph Records:
Victor, Brunswick, Decca, Vocalion,
Melotone, 10c each or 3 for 25c. Pete's
Package Store, 108 East 6th.

NOW! NEW DECCA RECORDS, 35c or 3 for $1.00 at Sears Roebuck. All the latest prices. 908 Congress.

Special Announcements
VERY IMPORTANT that I communicate with Edward Hart student in the University during 1938-39. Write Box
T-1, University Station, Austin.

Taxis
Ride A Blue & White
Owl Taxi
All Cars Bonded
1 or 2 for 20c
6133
Austin's Largest Taxi Co.
Typing
CALL 76-HUNDRED for typing. Themes, briefs, etc. Reasonable. 7600.
THEMES. Themes, notebooks, Notary,
Stenographer, Mae Murray, 2264 Guad.

Wanted to Buy
CASH for Scrap Gold, Rings, Chains,
Watchers, etc. 821 Congress, 2-7112.

Rentals
MALKIN FAYS MORE for Used Suits,
Shirts, etc. 407 East 6th, 2-0655.

HIGHEST CASH Prices paid for your old Gold, L. Laves, 217 E. 6th, 9229.

Furnished Apartment
RIO GRANDE, 2307—Furnished, like home. Living, dining, bedroom, bath, kitchen, pantry, refrigerator, garage. 3 blocks west campus. Phone 4326.

Furnished Houses
QUANT, quiet 3 room rock cottage back in the trees. Out on Windsor
Road. 2 fireplaces, barbecue pit, garage, 4598.

Garage Rooms
VERY ATTRACTIVE, large, private bath, entrance and dressing room, pine walls, maple furniture, maid service. Close to campus. 4598.

Order Personal
CHRISTMAS
CARDS

NOW!

Cards you'll be proud to send to your friends. A choice of colors and designs large enough that your cards will be decidedly individual. Priced at 98c per 25, up.

ORDER THEM AT....
UNIVERSITY
CO-OP
The Students' Own Store

Typists Wanted by Thousands

University students who want themes, theses, etc., typed and proofread before handing them in. Students find this a profitable, pleasant way to earn money in their spare time. The Advertising Rates are reasonable. For further information

Call 2-2473 Before 4:30 Today

S. W. Conference Teams Pair Off to Give Forecaster a Headache

Top and Cellar Posts Disputed

Balanced Battles Scheduled Today

By I. E. CLARK
Texas Sports Staff

THE Southwest Conference is causing a big headache among forecasters this week. Until this week the majority of Southwest games have not been hard to pick—the strongest teams have been playing the weakest ones. But when you get the two strongest together playing for the conference lead—and probably a cinch on the title; and the two sorriest digging for the bottom of the pile; and two that are right on the edge of the cliff and trying to throw each other off—well, just about anything could happen.

I'm sticking with the Aggie supporters, though. It's my guess that A&M won't have too much trouble knocking S.M.U. off the top of the conference list—and remaining undefeated and untied. And I believe that Rice really likes that cellar position. Both of these teams are due to find themselves after a season of defeats, but it looks like Kay Eakin and his teammates are going to wake up first and score a victory for the Razorbacks.

And now come Baylor and Texas. With the Austin papers—and Weldon Hart—yelling that Baylor is by far the better balanced team, and Jinx Tucker and his Waco propaganda declaring that the Bears don't have a chance, it makes us wonder why they don't toss a coin to decide the winner. But despite the hard luck the Steers have been having in the way of injuries, I don't think they'll let Coach Bible down. It's Texas over Baylor.

T.C.U. is the leftover this weekend. They're having a little party for Tulsa, and it looks like the visitors aren't going to have such a good time. I'm betting on the Frogs to hold up the Southwest Conference's reputation and send the Golden Hurricanes home slightly tarnished and winded.

Over in the South, Tennessee should have little trouble in upholding its unbeaten, untied, unscored on record against the Citadel. The Alabama-Tulane game will provide the thriller of the day in that section, and Tulane fans ought to be the happiest after the game.

Other games to be played in the South and probable winners are Villanova over Auburn at Birmingham; Centenary over Texas Tech at Shreveport; Clemson over Wake Forest; North Carolina over Davidson; Drake over Miami; Duke over V.M.I.; Florida over Georgia; and Vanderbilt over Sewanee.

Duquesne should remain on the undefeated list in the game with North Carolina State, and South Carolina is favored over Furman. The Kentucky-Georgia Tech game in Atlanta is going to be another close one, but I'm picking Kentucky.

Louisiana State is my favorite over Mississippi State, while Mercer ought to down Mississippi College.

The Big Six has only two conference games Saturday. Nebraska is entertaining Kansas and Kansas State is being invaded by Oklahoma. Nebraska and O.U. should continue their drive toward the top. Iowa State will play host to Marquette in Ames, and Marquette will probably go home victorious. The other Big Six team, Missouri, is travelling all the way to New York to play N.Y.U. If the trip isn't too hard, the boys from the Middle West ought to come with another win on their list.

Also in mid-nation, Notre Dame shouldn't have too much trouble with Iowa, and Illinois will probably emerge victorious from a tight game with Wisconsin. Michigan should beat Minnesota while Michigan State falls before invader Santa Clara. And it's Northwestern over Purdue.

It's a bad habit to guess scores, but there's one Mid-West outcome I'd like to predict numerally. I choose Ohio State over Chicago by seventy-five points.

Carnegie Tech and Pittsburgh will play one of the outstanding games in the East. And the winner should be Carnegie Tech. Dartmouth and Princeton will provide a good afternoon's entertainment for fans in New Jersey, and I believe Dartmouth will have the biggest score.

Cornell won't have a hard struggle staying on the undefeated side with Colgate as Saturday's enemy, and Catholic University will remain on the same unbeaten list in a game with St. Anselm.

Other guesses in the East are Boston College over Detroit, Brown over Yale, Columbia over Navy, Fordham over Indiana, Harvard over Army, Holy Cross

Cheerful Charlie

Doleful Dan

By JOE NEISER

ACCORDING to all reliable authorities on bearology this is the time of year for such animals to go into hibernation, especially the species known in the S.W.C. as Bayloritis Bear-aticus. Dr. Bible of the animal training station at The University of Texas will investigate the expected hibernation this afternoon in Waco. In case the hibernation is not in the advanced stages Dr. Bible will delegate his able pupils to generate some sleep with a couple of anesthetic touchdown "klunks" between the eyes of the bear which will produce so much sleep that Postum, Sanka, Coco-malt, and Beautyrest will be fighting for testimonials from the sleeper.

Texas 14, Baylor 6.

BAYLOR University is supposed to mold ambitious youth into sincere devout Baptists who are kind and considerate of their fellow-men. Maybe so on the campus, but when those disciples of St. Jennings hit the gridiron they act like eleven super-charged Alley-Oops. And the reserves are just so many grounded Tarzans in cleats. The 27-0 lacing handed T.C.U. last week could not well be considered a religious interpretation of the Golden Rule. With the "in absentia" pass defense and the "rustle your bustle" blocking of the Steers, the only sensible thing to do is to erect a toll gate on the goal line and salvage a little revenue from the ensuing ennui.

Texas 7, Baylor 20.

over Temple, and Penn over Penn State.

Only four teams in the West are worth worrying about. They are Oregon, Oregon State, U.C.L.A., and Southern California—they'll finish in reverse order. Oregon State is meeting Oregon in Eugene and will probably shove the Webfoots a little farther down the list.

Southern California will meet a weak Stanford team, and the Trojans will take every advantage of the opportunity to strengthen their chance of a Rose Bowl bid.

U.C.L.A. is taking a day off Saturday. They will play Santa Clara next week-end.

The other Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain teams and probable results are Idaho over Washington State, Denver over Colorado State, Birmingham over Utah Agriculture College, and California over Washington.

Texas Losing—

(Continued from Page 1)

ground water can prevent further depletion.

He charged that almost a half million people have migrated from Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas to California in the last fifteen years. Basic farm wages, he said, are 50 per cent higher in California.

The two principal problems confronting the state—through its geologists—he declared, are conservation as far as possible of the existing water supply wherever usable and addition to that supply in the intake areas.

He concluded by placing a large part of the responsibility of educating and leading the State to a more forward-looking solution of its problems to the geologist who, he said, can aid in the finding of water sources and can assist in the movement for a more sensible use of the existing supply.

Papers during the afternoon Academy sessions were delivered in four sections:

Physical Sciences: Quintin B. Graves, C. S. Garner, George H. Fancher, R. B. Newman, Nathaniel Coburn, H. H. Power, and E. M. Siegel, University of Texas; W. W. Floyd, Sam Houston State Teachers College; Joseph Morgan, Texas A&M.

Social Sciences: C. F. Arrowood, University of Texas; Lynn Landrum, Dallas Morning News; W. F. Freeman, East Texas State Teachers College; S. E. Smith, Sam Houston State Teachers College.

Geology: Robert H. Cuyler, University of Texas; C. L. Baker and L. S. Payne, Texas A&M; Edwin J. Foscoe, Southern Methodist University; W. S. Hansen, North Texas Teachers College; W. T. Chambers, Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College.

Conservation: W. B. Davis and R. L. Hensel, Texas A&M; J. K. G. Silvey, North Texas State Teachers College; Elmer P. Cheatum, Southern Methodist University; B. C. Tharp, University of Texas.

Ranger Artist's Work On Display in Union

Pastels of University girls by Johnnie Latham, creator of the Texas Ranger's cover illustrations, are on exhibit in the lobby of the Texas Union. Shown this week are drawings of Mary Hilman and Molly O'Daniel. Latham, who is also art editor of the Ranger, follows the style of Petty of Esquire fame. He plans to be a commercial artist.

Frances Powell and Janet Wilson are attending the S.M.U.-A&M. game in College Station.

'Endowed Universities Must Watch Finances'

The endowed universities in this country will have to go out of business, Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, declares in this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post "unless they face their financial situation frankly, set their house in order, develop a clear and defensible idea of what they are trying to do and make the public understand it."

The position of the endowed universities, he points out, is precarious because of the economic situation and the low interest yield on investments while the institutions supported by taxation are continuing their advance on all fronts.

Consolidation of institutions is advocated as one possible step, while Dr. Hutchins also suggests that smaller annual contributions might well be built up to take the place of a few large endowments, or that in some cases it may be necessary to use capital, instead of relying on interest, because it would be a wiser investment to meet the needs of the generation of youths now pressing for education than to try to conserve assets for an unpredictable future.

Young Democrats Hold Year's First Meeting

The University chapter of the Texas Young Democrats held its first meeting of the year in the Law Building Wednesday night.

Herbert Harris was elected treasurer. Three committees were appointed by the president. The following were elected to the executive committee: Joe Kilgore, Jack Love, Sterling Kinny, Paul Marcus, Myrtle Short, David Brown, and Jack Fry. The publicity committee consists of William Pool, Bill Platt, and the chairman, John Wagner. The social committee, which is only temporary, is Herbert Petry and David Brown.

Longhorns—

(Continued from Page 1)

and their personnel it is safe to say that both would suffer.

Another question that has a great deal of bearing on the game is that of injuries. The Texas team was pretty severely battered in the Dallas game, and all this week injuries have plagued the team. Quite likely, however, all the men will be ready to see service with the exception of Pete Hawthorne, who injured a shoulder in scrimmage and definitely will not play. Baylor, too, has injury worries.

Merka, regular fullback, definitely will not play. In his place will be Grumbles. Other players who have been bothered with injuries are Nelson, one of the Conference's best centers, Wilson, star sophomore punting and running threat, and Graham, quarterback. All three will be able to start.

The probable starting line-up:

Pos.	Texas	Baylor
L.E.	Buck	Barnes
L.T.	Williams	Edwards
L.G.	Dawson	Akin
C.	Goodwin	Nelson
R.G.	Freeman	Taylor
R.T.	Myers	Marx
E.	McDonald	Wimpee
Q.B.	Grubbs	Graham
L.H.	Davis	Wilson
R.H.	Doss	Witt
F.B.	Layden	Grumbles

S.M.U.-A&M. TOPS

DALLAS, Nov. 10.—The gridiron battle between Southern Methodist University and Texas A&M. College is being listed as the Nation's number one game Saturday. A&M. has been ranked in the number two spot behind Tennessee in the leading newspaper polls and S.M.U. is only a few notches down the list. The game is expected to be the number one factor in determining the championship of the Southwest Conference for 1939.

Inaugural—

(Continued from Page 1)

quity into the character and cost of public education in New York City, and Clarence A. Dysktra, president of the University of Wisconsin and formerly city manager of Cincinnati, will deliver addresses on the general subject of "Why the State Supports Public Education."

Friday, December 8, at 10 o'clock in Hogg, the program will be devoted to "The Utilization of the Natural Resources of Texas for the Improvement of the Well-Being of the State" with addresses by E. H. Johnson of the research staff of The University of Texas, George A. Hill Jr., president of the Houston Oil Company, and A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 in Hogg, national leaders will discuss "United States-Latin American Relations" with addresses by Richard Patteem, Dr. Americo Castro, distinguished professor of Romance languages at The University of Texas, and Dr. Charles W. Hackett, professor of Latin American history at The University of Texas.

At 6:30 Friday night there will be a Fine Arts dinner in the Union Building with an address by John Erskine.

At 9 o'clock Friday night, the Houston Symphony Orchestra will play a concert in Gregory Gymnasium.

The formal inauguration will take place Saturday morning beginning at 9:30 in front of the Main Building, or in Gregory Gymnasium in case of inclement weather.

Besides Dr. Rainey's inaugural address, Chester H. Rowell, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, will deliver a talk.

The inaugural luncheon will be held in the Texas Union at 12:15 go at first, but sixty have been added. Their expenses will be paid by the proceeds from the

Saturday, and Saturday afternoon will be devoted to special exhibits, with the University holding open house.

Rally—

(Continued from Page 1)

tickets had been sold in Austin to students and townspeople.

It was expected that a bleacher section would be added to Municipal Stadium in Waco, boosting the seating capacity to around fourteen thousand.

Interest in the game is running higher than was expected at first, and more students will attend the game than the first estimate indicated.

Mr. Hurt said that he intended to have the largest band complement ever to be taken to the Baylor game in Waco. Only eighty official pieces were scheduled to special train.

Texas has not lost to Baylor in Waco in sixteen years. National sports writers are rating the game a toss-up, with either team given a chance to win. Local sports followers are saying that Baylor will win, but predict a close score.

The Bears seem to be on the short end as far as injuries are concerned, with several key men not expected to see much action. Jack Crain, the Longhorns' chief offensive threat, is still slightly bruised from injuries received last week. Don Williams and Pete Layden, however, are ready to go for the first time this year.

ENROLLMENT AT 10,204

University enrollment is now 10,204, Max Fichtenbaum, assistant registrar, said Thursday. Ninety-two students, seventy-two men and twenty-one women, have withdrawn since school started.

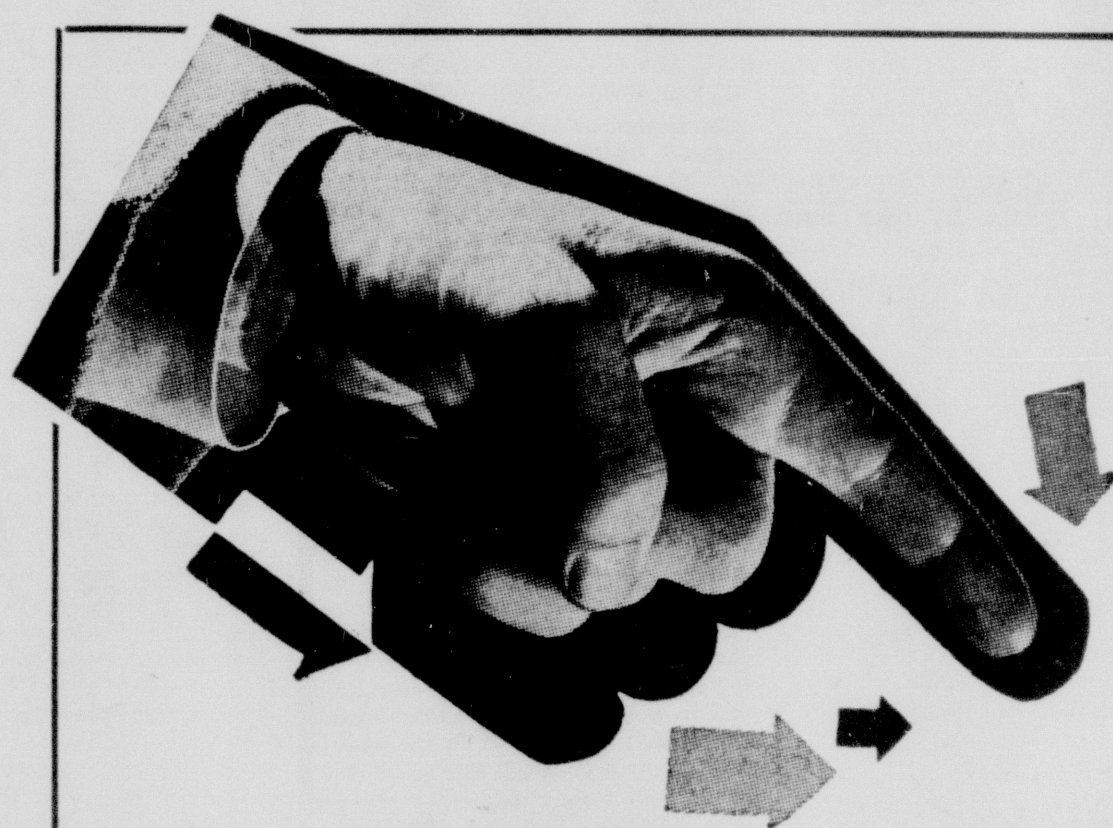

Miriam Holloway and Mary Ella Crozier will spend the weekend in their homes in Waelder.

And it's Good, Sound,
Reasoning!!!

Ever have somebody sling a "curve" your way . . . was it from a pretty little femme or a History 4 professor . . . or maybe it was from an advertisement. Anyway, you were pretty smart if you stepped to one side and let it slide by. And if you "swung" and struck out, you're likely to be guarding against a recurrence. PeKe's consistent advertising is your best assurance of its quality food . . . because without a volume of patronage, advertising would be expensive and impractical. We stand strong behind our offers, AND WE ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEE THE FINEST IN FOOD.

PeKe Sandwich Shop
ON THE DRAG

Attention!

FRESHMEN

Have your picture made today for the Cactus Class Section!

A limited time remains for first year students to be photographed for the Class Section.

An early closing date will be announced and the Cactus staff asks your co-operation in having pictures made early to avoid a last minute rush.

The CACTUS
Journalism Building 108

Graduate, Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes are being photographed at this time, and closing dates for these sections will be announced in the Texan.

The Local Red Cross

Its Activities

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS

First Aid

LIFE SAVING

Accident Prevention

SERVICE TO VETERANS

Service to Our Armed Forces

CIVILIAN RELIEF

Nutrition Education

NURSING SERVICES

Volunteer Service

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Only 50 cents of your Red Cross membership goes to national work. The remainder is left here for local work.

Tradition

WE OFTEN POKE FUN at the English, because they stop everything at 4 o'clock to have tea, because they haven't changed their set-up at Oxford University in seven hundred years, and because of various other traditions which seem to the American mind worn-out and silly.

Although we might think the English staid and unchanged, they have many things which we have not. For example, they are far ahead of us in the matter of social security, and they have a genuine love of country that is lost on most Americans.

Even as it is with nations, it is also with universities. The University of Texas has grown so rapidly to such large dimensions that it is difficult, if not impossible, to instill in the cosmopolitan student body any genuine appreciation for the traditions of the school.

The University has, indeed, remarkably few traditions; and what traditions it does have are so young that as yet they can hardly be called traditions. The Swing-Out for co-eds every spring is a tradition and a good one; the Round-Up in the last few years has become a tradition; the bonfire before the Rice game is developing into a tradition and we hope it continues; the Varsity Carnival every December has the makings of a good tradition and ought to be encouraged.

Aside from these, however, and a few more, the University might well be called a school without a tradition. Only in recent years have the administration and student leaders taken cognizance of this fact and tried to do something about it. The annual Freshman Orientation Period is essentially an attempt to make new students feel at home so that they can appreciate what traditions we do have and help start some more.

Only in a school rich in tradition can a student get all that he really deserves out of a college education. It has been said so often that it is almost trite that there is more to going to college than studying textbooks, but it remains as true as ever. And that "more" more often than not takes the form of a deep feeling for, and genuine appreciation of, school traditions.

More Polls

SINCE THE SUCCESS of Dr. Gallup's national polls on national and international questions, many similar bureaus and polls have been established throughout the country. Last year The University of Texas began sponsorship of the Student Surveys of America, a bureau which operates similar to that of the Gallup poll and which registers the opinions of the American college students.

This year, several other universities throughout the country have begun similar bureaus and survey agencies. Most of them have taken polls on current international problems and many of the results have corresponded to the results as announced by Dr. Gallup's staff.

The Daily Bruin, student newspaper of the University of California at Los Angeles, recently announced the results of a poll taken of over 100,000 college students on five important questions. It is interesting to note the results and to compare them with other polls as figures are released from time to time.

The U.C.L.A. poll taken of college students throughout the country, revealed the following statistics:

1) To the question, "Under present conditions should the United States enter the European war as an active fighting agent?" only 2.9 per cent of the students answered yes while 97.1 per cent said no.

2) "If Germany is defeated in the war, do you think the spread of the totalitarian form of government will be prevented?" was asked of the students, and 43 per cent said yes, while 57 per cent answered no.

3) To the question, "Under present conditions, should the United States sell munitions on a cash basis to any belligerent nations who can call for the items in their own ships?" 58 per cent said no while 42 per cent said yes.

4) To the question, "Do you favor increased armaments and extension of armed forces in the United States at the present time?" 73 per cent said yes, while 27 per cent said no.

The fifth question pertained to a question "Would you be willing to fight if," and was divided into five parts, as follows:

1) Would you be willing to fight if the United States proper were attacked? 91.4 per cent said yes, while 8.6 per cent said no.

2) Would you be willing to fight if any United States territorial possessions were attacked? 65 per cent said yes, while 53 per cent said no.

3) Would you be willing to fight if any country in the western hemisphere were attacked? In reply, 41 per cent said yes, while 59 per cent said no.

4) Would you be willing to fight if the United States maritime rights were violated; i. e., if American ships were sunk with American passengers aboard? In reply, 33 per cent said yes, while 67 per cent said no.

5) Would you be willing to fight if it were apparent that France and England were in danger of defeat? In reply, only 31 per cent said yes, while 69 per cent said no.

The Poet's Release

PRAYER FOR COURAGE

New courage—that's what I want;
Courage to look up, to face the light
Or to look down and find new beauty in the sod—
Not to hide my eyes from God.

New hope—that's what I need;
Hope to see the smile that lurks behind the tear
Or hear the laugh that's mingled in the sob—
Hope to tune my heart with humanity's bated throbs.

SECURITY

Paint me a picture as I am now;
Make it fair and let it show my youth.
Let it show the darkness of my hair;
Try to catch the twinkle in my eyes—
Paint me in a joyful mood,
Lest when I'm old and worn with care
The young will look at me and whisper,
"Could she ever have been young?"

Paint my picture and lay it away
As a safeguard against the day
When wrinkles creep upon my face.
For those who cannot feel my soul
Paint me a picture as I am now.

TRIBUTE

I saw his head in reverence bowed;
I could almost hear him think aloud,
But the only thing that reached my ear
Was silence—deep—profound.

The great pays tribute to the great;
Though dead or living, still his state
Is that of man who knows the Immortal.
Knows His plans—and looks and under-stands.

SANS TOI

If you had not come
The world would have gone on
As it will when you are gone.
And I, in my own sphere,
Would have travelled here
As one who passes by.

But you came: I stopped—
I learned how the birds sing;
I heard the melody of spring;
In my soul a void was filled.
I might have, not knowing, gone on
If you had not come.

—JERMILEE HOLLAND

Just a Breeze

By JOE NEISER

With every story of a football game that runs in The Daily Texan is a set of statistics on the game. For the Texas games, which the students are interested in most, the list of statistics is complicatedly complete.

The cause of the presentation of such a conglomeration of facts has never been fathomed. If a person sees the game he knows what took place; if he did not see the game he cannot figure out anything from the involved set of figures anyhow.

There is a little book prepared by the staff of the Department of Journalism called "Rules Governing Newspaper Style" which serves as a Bible to The Daily Texan. On page 31 is a floor plan of the correct presentation of the statistics of a football game.

This list of fifteen breath-taking types of things and stuff about a football game includes:

1. Number of rushes.
2. Ground gained, rushing.
3. First downs, rushing.
4. Number of passes.
5. Passes completed.
6. Passes intercepted by.
7. Ground gained, passes.
8. First downs, passes.
9. Number of punts.
10. Average distance of punts.
11. Run back of punts and kick-offs.
12. Fumbles.
13. Ball lost, fumbles.
14. Penalties.
15. Ground lost, penalties.

Thrilling is it not? And almost as entertaining as an obituary column.

Since no one with less than a B.B.A. degree could understand the workings of such a list of figures it should be cast into the "Useless Taking Up of Space" bucket and forgotten. However, if the statistics were of a valuable and readable nature perhaps the very importance of football itself would be enhanced.

Let us look at a few things which might be of interest to the average football fan—the person who just goes to a game and looks without making any effort to analyze the "inside" football.

Here is a set of substitute statistics which would be of interest to every football fan and every reader of The Daily Texan.

1. Consumption of: (a) soda pop, (b) peanuts, (c) cigarettes. This information would be listed according to bottles, sacks, and packages, respectively.

2. Beer wished for. The times this took place during one game would probably necessitate the use of exponents to accurately express the number and to keep it on one page of the newspaper.

3. High heels broken. This comes mainly from climbing around the hillsides and creek bottoms getting into the stadium. (This is strictly a feminine statistic and has no reference to the financial condition of socially undesirable males.)

4. Noses sunburned. This one would be especially interesting early in the football season when the sun bears down as though it were in mid-summer. And students do have to sit in the sun don'tcha know.

5. Shoes lost. Perhaps this sounds out of place but it fits in well with No. 4. During hot football games nothing feels better than to take off shoes but when the half is over everybody hurries out to get a drink and the shoes are usually kicked out in the aisle with the rest of the tramps. Thus, shoes lost.

6. Makeups replaced. This one is abnormally high in hot weather also. Plastic beauty simply will not bear up under a blazing Texas sun.

7. Tickets switched by roommate. That is to say—your beloved roommate takes your pasteboards on the 50, for which you arose before dawn on Monday to reserve, and leaves you a pair of swell end zone seats. (Legislation is now in progress to list this action as a means to justifiable homicide.)

8. What happened. This is the number of times your date looks up at you with large, dewey, fawn-like eyes just after the winning touchdown has been made and says, "What happened?"

9. Voices lost. The magnitude of this set of figures depends upon the number of thrills in the game. The Florida game—not so high. The Arkansas game—into four figures at least.

10. Hat squashed. This one usually keeps apace with No. 9. It involves the hats squashed down over the eyes during an exceptional play by the over-excited patriot sitting in the seat behind.

11. In the right seat. This should interest everyone who goes to any reserved seat game. Always when swell seats are reserved it is a battle to get to them which usually winds up with taking "something almost as good," twenty yards nearer the goal line.

12. Blanket taxes forgotten. When a fellow does it it is stark tragedy for he will miss the first quarter; when a date does it it is impossible. Anyone who can take the latter with a smile is a gay deceiver. You cannot bust her on her classic nose in front of all those people, or boot her on her well shaped—no, that would not be gentlemanly.

13. Stabbed by hat feathers. Such casualties have run high this season because of the dopey hat designs the women use for sports wear. Every turn of a noggin which is supporting one of those "Keep Your Distance" skull caps

Hellzapoppin

By PAT HOLT

Dr. Harry E. Moore's point that 80 per cent of the eligible students in the University would volunteer if this country entered the war is well taken, although it might come as something of a shock to the pacifists who have solemnly sworn never to bear arms.

The pacifist theory is that if the United States is involved in war at all, it will be led into the conflict by monopolistic imperialists who fear for their markets and that the people themselves will have nothing whatsoever to say about it. This theory is also the strongest argument yet advanced for a constitutional amendment providing for a referendum before a declaration of war.

What both of them leave out is that, whatever the real cause of our entrance into the war, the final demand for such entrance will come from the people themselves. Whether the demand for American participation in the war comes from the president of a munitions trust or from John Doe, recently of the W.P.A., the effect will be the same. The first thing you will hear will be something about how the mean old Germans have violated our rights and how we must protect America's most fought England in 1916.) honor. (It is inconceivable, of course, even to the pacifists, that the angelic British or French mass meetings, a million bands could ever be guilty of such a playing the "Star-Spangled Banner." They forget that we al- See HELLZAPOPPIN, Page 5.

Fraternity Men, Notice

Members of the following fraternities should go to Christianson-Leberman Studio, 904½ Congress, and make a selection of proofs for their picture in the Cactus.

Alpha Tau Omega
Beta Theta Pi
Delta Chi
Delta Kappa Epsilon
Delta Tau Delta
Delta Theta Phi
Phi Delta Theta
Phi Kappa Psi
Phi Sigma Delta
Sigma Chi
Sigma Nu
Tau Delta Phi
Tejas

If you fail to select your proofs, a member of the Cactus staff will make a selection for you.

THE CACTUS

Attention ORGANIZATIONS DORMITORIES

All reservations for pages in the dormitory and organizations sections should be made at this time. Each group is asked to send a representative to the Cactus office to make the necessary arrangements.

Dormitory and Organization Reservations NOW BEING TAKEN

—The Cactus—

THE DAILY TEXAN

The Daily Texan, student newspaper of The University of Texas, is published on the campus of the University at Austin by the Texas Student Publications, Inc., every morning except Monday.
Entered as second class mail matter at the Postoffice, Austin, Texas, under the act of Congress, March 3, 1879.
Editorial offices, Journalism Building 109, 101, and 102, Telephone 2-2473.
Advertising and Circulation Departments—Journalism Building 108, Phone 2-2478.
Printed by the University Press, A. C. Wright, manager.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

	By Carrier	By Mail
1 Month	$.50	$.45
1 Semester (4½ mo.)	1.75	2.50
2 Semesters (9 mo.)	3.00	4.00

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY National Advertising Service, Inc.

College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

1939 Member 1940
Associated Collegiate Press

Editor-in-chief MAX B. SKELTON
Associate Editor La Verne Bryson
Editorial Council Tommie Call, Vernon Childers, Jack Dolph, Pat Holt, Ernest Sharpe, Boyd Sinclair.
Editorial Assistants La Verne Bryson, Jack Dolph, Pat Holt.
Sports Editor Clyde La Motte
Associate Sports Editor Don Patteson
Society Editor Anita Cook
Associate Society Editor Christine Evans
Amusements Editor Jack Dolph
Associate Amusements Editor Felix McGivney
Radio Editor Ben Kaplan
Associate Radio Editor Bill Newkirk
Feature Editor Jack Howard
Associate Feature Editor C. O. Brown
Telegraph Editor Bob Whitten
Associate Telegraph Editor Leslie Carpenter
Exchange Editor Nella Mae Steussy

STAFF FOR THIS ISSUE

Night Editor ERNEST SHARPE
Assistants Clifford Snowden, Bob Owens
Night Sports Editor Porky Williams
Assistants Al Landers, Don Patteson, Clyde La Motte
Night Society Editor Elizabeth Wharton
Night Telegraph Editor Bluford Hestir
Night Amusements Editor Alonzo Jamison
Night Radio Editor Bob Owens
Assistants Bob Martin, Oma Ray Walker, Duke Sutherland, Martha Word
Announcers Bill Newkirk, Bob Holton

Dorms Entertain Guests En Masse' at Festivities

S.R.D. Dances, Kirby Dines, Jessie Andrews Opens House

Scottish Rite Dormitory entertained Friday night at the dormitory with a formal dance. Chaperons were Mrs. A. P. Dahoney, Mrs. William Miles, Miss Marjorie Muse, Miss Selma Streit, Miss Mary Jane Davis, and Miss Neville Gray.

The ballroom and reception room were decorated with vari-colored chrysanthemums and potted palms. Supper was served in the dining room at 11 o'clock to the residents and their guests.

Among the 400 guests were the following:

Bob Hagen, R. B. Kresger, Johnny Sears, E. C. Hill, J. G. Lindley, James Douglas, Ed Sweet, LaRue Harvell, J. Braubach, Bob Smith, D. Macune, Rudy Kott, I. J. Shapiro, Victor Copland, Frank Balin, Glen Briggs, Ed Rodgers, Bill Austin, Leo Gravis, Robert Douglas, Scott Dabney, Jack Howard, Norman Armstrong, Glen Mortimer, Carrel Dakyn, Owen Smith, Virgil Hagg, Ray Scruggs, G. C. Mitchell, Bill Allen, John Ashley, Bill Weeks, Bob Thompson, Jim Weeks, Bob Hagen, Don Gayer, Walter Kassel, Henry Wilder, Andy Bowden, Marvin Shipman, Bill Lotta, Jeff Woodruff, Gene Guthrie, Gerald Self, Roy Burns, John Cushman, Roy Flournoy, Jack Phenix, Vincent Palmer, G. D. Reader, Jack Bowen, Jack Hall, John Scott, Billy Jannell, Leighton Cornett, Andy Anthony, Johnny Gable, Bill Montgomery, George Pappas, Jimmie Graves, Alford, Charles Fisher, Barney Towle, Wayne Hart, James Walters, Conrad Vernon, Tommy Maid, Buddy Ponder, Louis Gunn, H. Benson, Bud Baker, Walter Gillis, Robert Outz, James Allen, Henry Young, Nelson Shields, James Cole, Roy Amber, John Bryson, Leslie Carpenter, Mike Sojka, Mack Duke, Tommy Cox, Charles Little, John Dashiell, John Eikenberg, William Henschel, Rosa Whittenberg, Frank Summers, Art Edwards, Baxter Holland, Lloyd Halpenney, Doug Pruter, Fred Roach, Felix Driskill, Fred Douglas, Sid Files, Powell Compere, John Flies, Idus Murphree, Ed J. Silverman, Kermitt Shimmell, Ed Kiliff, Chunn Ballow, M. Pichelou, B. C. Girdley, Dean Capp, John Baker, Billy Wilson, Carl Duffield, Randy Stevens, Walter Nickson, Fred Ragland, Ernest Fincher, Clyde Andrews, Pat Wells, Edward Frazer, Joedy Barber, John Greer, Lingo Platter, Sol Neman, John McClintock, Bill Brandon, Roy McCutcheon, J. L. Jackson, John Perry, Jack Kern, Edward House, Billy Bandy, Austin Anderson, Jack Ostos, S. Marshall, Max Levine, Paul McKelvey, Harry Lerner, Charles Hubbard, Lester Moreland, Chester Darwin, John Minto, Tommy Sleigh, Gary Minter, Robert Rae, Billy Steward, Chick Haley, George Roper, George Rich, Otho Reed, Bob Brown, Lewis Chandler, Bob Richard, Richard Hevey, John Edwards, Donald Coleman, John Hicks, David Cook, John Rudd, Guy Hawkins, Bob Dickens, Dickinson House, June Morrill, Frank Murphy, Merrill Meushaw, George Burke, Oliver Jilks, Wayne Huff, Sam Davis, Jack Craig, Doug Harbrie, Ed Matthews, Buddy Carter, Hugh Wilbanks, Ben Nixon, Jimmy Strong, Leonard Stutesaff, David Dewhurst, Nelson Hicacack, E. B. Roberts, Robert Smith, Sherman Kendall, Jack Butler, Buckley McInerney, Jack Moss, Jack Watson, Bill Giesendanner, Doug Dufzer, Robert Yarber, Crawford Cofer, Hal Bookout, John Damiari, Graham Goffman, Bob Hixman, John Delemeter, Sidney Brandenberger, Edgar Jablonski, Peter Williams, George Hintgen, Jack Spencer, Monroe Cash, Ralph McKinley, Paul Rocks, John Burnett, Walter Howard, Charles Rogers, Everett McCormick, George Scott, Ralph Rash, John Olive, Dick Granger, Harlan Winn, Truett Harris, Smith Crow, Jim Gossett, Tommy Edward, Allan Lippman, L. T. Smith, C. A. Goldsmith, Walter Jenkins, Rom Rhume, Jack Luper, Joe Barber, Harry Grey, Turner Austin, Bill Bertram, Jack Adkins, Mose Smith, John Watson, Dan Pace, Nolan Pickett, Bob Hyde, Harry Schwenker, Lynn Prophet, Harry Kepler, Truett Gillentine, Prescott Allen, Willis Roas, Forest Crain, Elroy Hardy, Edgar Burrows, Ben Dobson, Buddy Toder, Walter Martin, Brud Smith, A. C. Pump, Fred Jackson, Bill Spence, Arnold Guerra, Jack Crockett, Clifton Hill, Fred Pearl, Thad Weaver, Ben Witte, W. B. Byars, Raymond Irwin, Bob McCampbell, Wallace Jay, Warren Beaman, Clark Wakefield, Alvin McCormick, Grady Niblo, Bill Oswalt, Ray Brindle, Jim Harnon, John Kasch, Bill Warren, George Bussey, H. C. Justice, Clarence Reese, Wayne Wood, Jack Hunsucker, Faires Wade, Booth Neal, John Sutton, Bob Neal, Dale Martin, Bill Brown, Carl Bohn, Bill Simms, George Nalle, John Stephenson, Jimmy Haley, Jimmy Gee, Newton Bourland, Ed Simms, Paul Marcus, Marion Richter, David Lawrence, Thomas Nixon, Lawrence Scott, Donald Winegar, Jack Aldison, Elroy Hardy, John Baskin, Jack Buster, Bill McGowan, Bob Bogart, Warren Hewitt, C. H. Fouszart, Robert Tosch, J. W. Lindsay, Ralph Jackson, Charles Johnson, Herbert Hardison, Dub Adams, Rex Evans, Lovell Stuber, Wilford Stapp, Ramsey McDonald, Dave Edwards, Gene Saxon, Jack Chisenhall, Jack Bevil, Oza Davis, Jim Marshall, Frederick Goote, John Ford, Neville Dobie, Bob Leslie, Charles Fyle, C. E. May, Jack Beem, Nelson Curry, Frank McCoy, Frank Greer, Ralph Rash, Grady McCarter, Bill Spence, Vinton Hardwood, Bill Cline, Trenton Cook, Harry Quin.

Are You Going To Church?

UNIVERSITY PRESBYTERIAN

Conway T. Wharton, pastor

11—Sermon: "Possessions of Peace," by Dr. Wharton.

6—Meeting of Senior Young People.

6:30—Dr. H. E. Moore, assistant professor of sociology, will speak to the Student League on "Propaganda."

7:30—Ellis Nelson, senior student in the Theological Seminary and director of Student Work in the University Presbyterian Church, will speak on "Spiritual Near-Sightedness."

UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY

S. Marcus Houge, minister

10—Armistice Day services, "Armistice Day Comes of Age," by the minister. "How to Keep America Out of the War" will be the subject of the discussion period following the sermon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

11—Services. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon: "Mortals and Immortals." Golden Text: "Henceforth know we no man after the flesh."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Frederick E. Brooks, pastor

10:50—Sermon, "A Teaching Church Committed to a Sunday School Advance."

7:30—Sermon, "The Shield of Faith."

UNIVERSITY METHODIST

Edmund Heinsohn, minister

9:30—Sunday School.

11—Sermon, "Hatred Always Fails."

7:30—Special service with motion pictures of various church departments.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

At the Texas Bible Chair

11—The Rev. F. L. Jewett will preach on "The Will to Peace," an Armistice Day talk.

ALL SAINTS' CHAPEL

Chester L. Hults, rector

6:30—Holy Communion.

7:30—Holy Communion.

9—Choral Communion.

11—Morning Prayer and Sermon.

6—Evensong.

ST. MARTIN'S LUTHERAN

F. G. Roeseener, pastor

9:15—Sunday School.

10—Rev. Roeseener's Bible class.

11—Divine Worship to be broadcast over KTBC.

7:30—Divine Worship.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

M. E. Sadler, minister

11—The Rev. M. E. Sadler will preach on "Measuring Responsibility." Special music will be given by a violin quartet and by the choir.

7—Dr. Sadler will speak at the young people's service in the community room. The Junior Choir, directed by Frank Gardner, will sing.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN

K. G. Manz, pastor

11—Rev. Manz will discuss "The Strait Gate."

1:30—The Lutheran Hour over KTBC.

7:30—Rev. Manz will speak on "Closed Communion."

UNIVERSITY BAPTIST

Walter H. McKenzie, pastor

11—Sermon, "Over Against the Treasury," by the Rev. Walter H. McKenzie.

Panhandle Club to Have First Meeting Sunday

The Panhandle Club will have its first regular meeting Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Texas Union 315.

Plans for the year's activities will be made and a Bluebonnet Belle nominee will be chosen. To climax the meeting a program of campus talent will be given.

All students from the Panhandle who are interested in joining are urged to be present, Jimmie Weeks, president, has announced.

Co-Op Copy Makes First Appearance

First issue of the Co-Op Copy, monthly paper published by the nineteen co-operative houses of the University, was distributed early this week.

The paper is written by co-op students, and is printed to give news of special interests to residents of the co-op houses. Special attention was given in the first issue to the co-op formal dance to be held Friday night in Gregory Gym.

FATHER BURNS TO SPEAK

Father Robert Burns will speak to the Newman Club at its weekly meeting Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in St. Austin's Auditorium. His subject will be "A Modern Antidote for Communism."

HOSPITAL LIST

St. David's Hospital
Charles W. Pick- R. C. Wilson
ett Jr. Clarice Cunningham
Jane Plowman Charles Widdicke
Herbert J. Jones
Ill at Home
Ray Bruton T. W. Kirksey
Charles Birden

To Draw 'Em In

A gold "magnet" thrust through the crown of this black felt hat, adds proper magnetism to the fall street ensemble selected here by Anna Neagle. The wide-meshed veil, draped harem style, is wool, and completely covers the squared-off crown, visor brim, and "cap" back.

Dorothy Mann will spend the week-end in Corpus Christi with her parents.

Hellzapoppin

(Continued from Page 4.)

ner," and a million pacifists rushing to the nearest recruiting station. It will, at least, be interesting to watch. Ministers who have preached for twenty years about loving your fellow men will, with equal sincerity, start preaching about hating your fellow man. Of course, they won't put it that way exactly, but that will be approximately what they will mean. They will be much more likely to say something about how the Germans are tribes of the devil visited upon us by the good Lord for our sins and that the only way we can show the good Lord that we are repentant will be to wipe the devilish Germans off the face of the earth.

Dr. Moore is only too right. No matter how many pledges you have signed, it is hard to keep from falling in line when a band starts playing, somebody carries a flag in front of you, and everybody says "You're a coward if you don't."

The trouble with pacifists is that they seldom realize all the implications of what they are saying when they take a pledge never to fight at all, nor never to fight except in defense of their country.

If they swear they will never fight at all, it means that they will sit peacefully by while anybody from the Nazis on down (or up, depending on how you look at it) ravages the country, pillages the towns, and runs off with all the women and liquor. How many people do you think would do that?

If they say they will never fight except in defense of their country, the question immediately occurs as to when somebody is fighting a defensive war and when he is fighting an aggressive war. The Germans, British, and French are all devoutly convinced that they are fighting a defensive war. And you can convince our pacifist friends over here that they will be fighting a defensive war, even if they go to France to fight it, simply by repeating often enough that America's first line of defense is on the Rhine. It is an axiom of propaganda that you can make a person believe anything if you tell it to him often enough.

The biggest thing wrong with pacifists is that they have ideals. Anybody with ideals, even though those ideals may be perfect peace, will fight for his ideals if they seem threatened. It is the same with pacifists. One of the most commonly heard sentences immediately preceding our entrance into this war, if and when we make an entrance, will be, "After all, there's still something worth fighting for."

Cynicism has its disadvantages, but the more thoroughly cynical the American people, and especially the young people become, the better chance we have of staying out of Europe's backyard quarrels.

Fraternity Men, Notice

Members of the following fraternities should go to Christianson-Leberman Studio, 904½ Congress, and make a selection of proofs for their picture in the Cactus.

Alpha Tau Omega
Beta Theta Pi
Delta Chi
Delta Kappa Epsilon
Delta Tau Delta
Delta Theta Phi
Phi Delta Theta
Phi Kappa Psi
Phi Sigma Delta
Sigma Chi
Sigma Nu
Tau Delta Phi
Tejas

If you fail to select your proofs, a member of the Cactus staff will make a selection for you.

THE CACTUS

Today -- On the Campus

11—Armistice talks at Hogg Auditorium by Dr. J. C. Dole, Dr. O. D. Weeks, and Dr. C. P. Patterson.

2—Football Party, Texas Union.

2—Football Party, University Presbyterian Church.

2:20—Texas-Baylor broadcast, KNOW.

3:30—Kwilt Klub meets at home of Dr. Cora Martin, 2313 Hartford Road.

3:30—Wesley Foundation picnic at Campbell's Hole. Students will meet at the Foundation.

9:12—Free Dance, Texas Union. Nat Perrine and orchestra.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

9:12—Phi Sigma Delta formal, Austin Country Club.

Moore to Speak To Presbyterians

"War Propaganda" will be discussed by Dr. Harry E. Moore, assistant professor of sociology, before the Student League at the University Presbyterian Church Sunday night at 6 o'clock.

After his talk, Dr. Moore will lead an open forum on the subject in which the students will join.

A supper and fellowship period will precede the talk.

Book to Be Reviewed By Mrs. Frank Sexton

Mrs. Frank Sexton will review "Escape" Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock in the Main Lounge of Texas Union. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer purchased movie rights to the book last week.

Virginia Buckner, chairman of the speakers and forum committee, asks students to call by the Union Office for their free tickets.

Tri Delts to Join List Of House-Builders

Plans for a sorority house to be built after January, 1940, were announced by the Delta Delta Delta Alliance at an informal coffee Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. W. A. McMichael, 1511 West Thirtieth Street.

The new house will be on the corner of West Twenty-seventh and Nueces Streets, where an old rock structure is now being demolished.

Facing Twenty-seventh, it will have a semi-circular drive approach. Of French provincial architecture, it will be a two-story white brick building trimmed in gray. Charles Page Jr. is the architect.

On the lower floor will be the housemother's suite, living room, dining room, library, music room, game room, and kitchen. The lawn on the south side will be terraced.

Members of the building committee include Miss Frances Louise Mueller of Austin, chairman, Mrs. O. F. Petty of San Antonio, Miss Sarah Gaskill of Houston, Mrs. Marvin Nichols of Fort Worth, Mrs. Jack Underwood and Mrs. Boyd Wells of Austin. Miss Mueller, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Wheeler Bell of San Antonio, Mary Jo Johnson, Carolyn Vaughn, and Mrs. C. L. Davis of Austin are on the board of directors of the building corporation.

At the coffee Mrs. McMichael, Mrs. Ed Olle, Mrs. H. G. Bossy, and Mrs. Fred Fincher were associate hostesses. Mrs. C. L. Davis, president of the alliance, poured. The coffee table was decorated in silver, gold, and blue, the sorority colors.

Other members of the alliance present were Mesdames Joe Corwin, Stanley Hornsby, Ray E. Lee, Charles Page Jr., Jim W. then, Raymond Hulsey, C. D. Dilworth, Jack Ritter, Tom White, Bronson Turner, Tom Graves, Berry Burnette, L. G. Proctor, and Miss Mueller.

The annual meeting of activities and alumnae is scheduled for December 9.

EX VISITS

Mrs. Kels Elvins, formerly Frances Jean Smith, who received a B.B.A. from the University in 1937, visited Thursday with friends in the Registrar's Office where she was employed while attending school here. Her home is now in Huntsville.

Harper Method Beauty Service

Dull and lifeless hair can be restored to its natural color by Harper Method Shampoos.

COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE

121 E. 9th Phone 2-0737

BLUEBONNET BELLES

THESE RULES APPLY:

General campus organizations may name two girls, home town clubs, one; fraternities and sororities with less than 45 members may nominate three, and if more than 45 members, they may have four nominees.

Dormitories with less than 100 residents are allowed three nominees, with 100 to 150 residents, five nominees, and seven nominees if more than 150 live at the dormitory.

All nominations should be in writing signed by either the president or secretary of the organization and at least two other members. Organizations not wishing their names mentioned as the nominating group may so indicate on the nominating blank.

Nominations should be mailed to the Cactus, University Station, or turned in at Journalism Building 108. All nominations must be in the Cactus office by the Thanksgiving holidays.

Lamour Doesn't Click In 'Disputed Passage'

"DISPUTED PASSAGE." At the State. Screenplay by Anthony Veiller and Sheridan Gibney. Photography by William Mellor. Produced by Harlan Thompson. Directed by Frank Borzage. A Paramount picture. The cast follows:

Audrey Hilton... Dorothy Lamour... Dr. Wm. Cunningham... William Collier Sr.
Dr. "Tubby" Forster... Akim Tamiroff... Mrs. Cunningham... Elizabeth Radd
John Wesley Beaven... John Howard... Mr. Merkle... William Fawley
Bill Anderson... Gordon Jones... J. Meekle... Billy Cook
Winifred Bane... Judith Barrett... Abbott... Keye Luke

By CLYDE LA MOTTE
Texas Sports Editor

Hollywood directors have long been aware of the fact that a story concerning doctors or nurses has a strong appeal at the box office. Many times they have taken advantage of a sympathetic public by just parading white uniforms across the screen.

But "Disputed Passage," now playing at the State, is above the average. In addition to the white uniforms, the usual operating room scenes, and suffering humanity, the picture takes a fling at solving that age-old problem of love vs. career. Typically Hollywood, however, it takes the easy way out by combining the two in a happy ending.

There are some movie stars—Bette Davis, for example—who can not be typed. They can play almost any role. On the other hand there are stars who decidedly fit into one category—Dorothy Lamour, for example. In "Disputed Passage," Lamour attempts to be a Chinese-reared American girl who finds it hard to adjust herself to her home country after having lived all her life in a Chinese environment.

It isn't just the role for Dorothy. Without a doubt all the fans—at least the male percentage—remember her in roles such as the one she had in "The Hurricane." She just doesn't fit in "Disputed Passage," even if she is able to use her eyes to full advantage in a few brief scenes.

So it's Akim Tamiroff, acting the part of the cold-blooded genius who thinks love is the bunk, who steals the playing honors. John Howard turns in a so-so performance as John Beaven, the promising young doctor.

The story concerns a poor young man from an honest and religious family. The young man, Howard, goes to medical school and enrolls under the toughest but undoubtedly the best teacher in the school, Tamiroff. Howard has a lot of respect and admiration for the great doctor even though a personal feud develops between them.

Upon graduation, Howard is kept at the school as an assistant to Tamiroff. He becomes more and more like the master, believing that his career is the only thing in life. But he has already met Lamour and there the trouble begins.

The showdown comes when Howard is lying at the point of death. The doctor with all his medical skill and the girl with all her love come to his aid. And there is where the contest between skill and love is supposed to get its test.

Gray Has Report In New 'Outlook'

A criterion for judging and directing public school education is presented in "General Achievement Test Results," annual report by Dr. Hob Gray, associate professor of the art of teaching at the University, and Dr. D. F. Votaw, professor of education at Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, which appears in the November issue of The Texas Outlook.

The report is based on the findings of the Gray-Votaw General Achievement Tests, formerly known as the New-South Achievement Test, which are used extensively throughout Texas as well as elsewhere.

State-wide averages by grades and ten different test or subject divisions are tabulated in the report to enable countries and schools to compare their scholastic achievement averages with the average for the state.

A second table sets up a gauge by which the teacher can ascertain whether or not he is developing the abilities and needs of the pupils to their fullest possibilities.

Texas educators have attributed the up trend of public school educational standards to the widespread use of the Gray-Votaw tests which have been officially accepted by the Texas State Commission of Education.

KWILL CLUB TO MEET

The Kwill Klub will meet Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Cora Martin, associate professor of elementary education. Hostesses with Mrs. Martin will be Mrs. Molly Connor Cook and Mrs. Reese Wilson.

"My Recent Attempts at Publication" will be the topic for roll call. Mrs. J. H. Baugh will speak on "Suggestions for Marketing Verse," Mrs. Thurlow Weed Jr. on "Formula for Pulp Love Stories," and Mrs. Charles H. Brownlee on "General Articles or Feature Stories."

MEET AGAIN

Edmund Lowe and Director Ralph Murphy renewed an old friendship when they made "Our Neighbors—the Carters" together at Paramount. It was twenty years ago when Murphy, then playing Lorenzo in "Merchant of Venice," was heckled from the audience by Lowe. After the show they met and became firm friends.

RADIO

Edited by LA VERNE BRYSON
Texas Amusements Staff

President Roosevelt speaks from the White House and many of radio's most prominent entertainers are to be heard from New York, Hollywood, and Detroit in a special hour-long Red Cross Roll Call broadcast over CBS tonight at 9:30 o'clock.

Phil Greco, 16-year-old president of the Red Wing Club and prize winner in cooking contests, will get an unusual birthday present this morning at 9:30 o'clock when he will be allowed to make his first microphone appearance on Madeline Gray's "Bright Idea Club" over the NBC-Red network.

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace will sponsor addresses from five points, widely-separated cities in both the Americas, today in a hemisphere-spanning Armistice Day broadcast.

This will be heard over CBS at 11:15 o'clock and will include the following: foreign ambassadors from China and the Republic of Columbia who will be heard from Washington; President Juan Demostenes Orosemena of Panama, from Panama City; Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil, from Rio de Janeiro; a Cuban member of the Permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague, from Havana; and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and director of the Carnegie Endowment, from New York City.

"Roses of Picardy," popular ballad of yesteryear, is tenor Bill Perry's choice for his solo on "Saturday Night Serenade" over CBS tonight at 8:45 o'clock.

Baritone Buddy Clark will add his vocalisms to the smooth, quiet rhythms of Wayne King's orchestra tonight at 7:30 o'clock, CBS.

A program of ancient and modern English music by Ohio State University at Columbus is slated for this morning at 10:05 o'clock. "I'll Lend You Anything I've Got Except My Wife—and I'll Make You a Present of Her," an old-time song made popular by Bert Williams, will be revived on the CBS "Gay Nineties Revue" tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

Law Review Plans Distinctive Issue

The December 10 issue of the Texas Law Review will contain material written by high ranking law students in the University. J. Waddy Bullion, editor-in-chief of the Review, announced Thursday.

In addition to contributions by students, there will be articles by practicing Texas lawyers and professors in the School of Law.

Members of the staff are Whitfield J. Collins, comment editor, and Rush H. Record, case note editor. Student contributors on case notes and comments are Carlos Cadena, Sy Dennis Jr., Joe Downing, Woodrow Edwards, Delos Gayer, Raymond Goodman, Robert Howard, Thad Hutcheson, Stuart Lumpkins, Julian Meer, John Oliver, Melvin Potash, Ralph Rawlins, Reuben Senterfitt, Angie Smith Jr., Faires Wade, Carroll Wheeler, and Gene Woodfin. Benno Schmidt, assistant professor of law, is faculty adviser for the magazine.

The Review, which has a world-wide circulation, is now in its eighteenth year of publication. Its circulation last year reached 2,300, with subscribers in England, France, India, the Philippines, Japan, Puerto Rico, Canada, Mexico, and Germany.

The magazine was founded in 1922, having as chairman of its editorial board Judge C. S. Potts, now dean of the School of Law at Southern Methodist University.

BEERY BUST

Wallace Beery has just had his bust completed by the noted American sculptress, Liza Monk.

STATE NOW
DEATH CRASHING FROM THE SKY
Disputed Passage
Dorothy Lamour, Akim Tamiroff, John Howard
PLUS
COLOR CARTOON—NEWS

When All's Quiet on the Western Front

Low Ayres and Raymond Griffith are seen above in their shell-hole scene from "All Quiet on the Western Front," now showing at the Queen.

Southwest Shown In Paints and Oils

"A water color tour of the Rio Grande Valley," is a good description for a visit to the Elisabet Ney Museum to see a new exhibit of paintings there by Mrs. Mabel J. Lochrie of Raymondville.

The highlight of the exhibit is a ranch house done in water color. The work depicts a battered and weatherworn Spanish type ranch house and court-yard done in clear, sharply delineated tones. Other water colors depict Mexican shacks, valley irrigation canals, palms, cacti of all types and sizes, and rolling Texas landscapes.

Mrs. Lochrie doesn't restrict her work to water colors, however, and the exhibit includes a number of oils. A tall cactus silhouetted against a gray Texas sky is one of the most striking of the oils. The cactus is presented in almost photographic clearness, its background is represented in a feeling of height above an unseen prairie. The present exhibit will be on display until November 24 and will be the last "one artist" display at the museum, according to Mrs. Roger Roberdeau, who is acting director during the illness of Mrs. J. W. Rutland.

Today's MOVIES

PARAMOUNT. — "Elizabeth and Essex." With Bette Davis and Errol Flynn.

STATE. — "Disputed Passage." With Dorothy Lamour and John Howard. Feature begins at 11:12:49, 2:38, 4:27, 6:16, 8:05 and 9:54 o'clock. Shorts: Newsreel. Cartoon, "The Orphan Duck."

QUEEN. — "All Quiet on the Western Front." With Louis Wolheim and Low Ayres. Feature begins at 1, 3:12, 5:24, 7:36, and 9:48. Shorts: Chapter 2 of "Boy Scouts to the Rescue," and cartoon, "The Watchdog."

CAPITOL. — "When Tomorrow Comes." With Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer. Shorts: Cartoon, "Good Egg," and Merrie Melody, "Dog Daze."

VARITY. — "Our Leading Citizen." With Bob Burns. Shorts: Donald Duck in "Beach Picnic," and Our Gang Comedy.

TEXAS. — "Tarzan Finds a Son." With Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan. Shorts: Silly Symphony cartoon, "Merbabies."

AUSTIN. — "Coast Guard." With Frances Dee and Randolph Scott. Shorts: Silly Symphony, "Ugly Duckling," and Mechanisms Illustrated.

FOURTEEN COSTUMES

Adrian is busy on fourteen elaborate eighteenth century costumes to be worn by Jeanette MacDonald in her new film, "New Moon," in which she stars with Nelson Eddy.

BOXED WITH "JOHN L."

Lionel Barrymore in his youth used to box with John L. Sullivan.

Plans were made for a meeting next Wednesday night with Senator Joe Hill of Henderson as the guest speaker.

UNIVERSITY NOW
OUR LEADING CITIZEN
Bob Burns
SUNDAY—MONDAY!
Lionel Barrymore
The Silver Cord
The Girl from Jones Beach
The Girl from Jones Beach
The Girl from Jones Beach

Cossacks to Omit 'Boatmen,' But Sing Other Volga Tunes

The Cossacks are coming! For years that cry inspired fear in the hearts of people, but today it means delight as the University anticipates the approaching concert of General Platoff's Don Cossack Choir.

Appearing here in the first of the three-program series of the Student Cultural Entertainment Committee, the Cossacks will bring with them the traditional songs of the Russian military as well as Russian gypsy and folk songs, and hymns of the Russian orthodox church.

Although "The Volga Boatman" will not be sung, another song popular with the Volga peasants and workmen will be included. It is called "Dubinushka." "Si-en-y," a gay Russian folk song often sung at village weddings, and two Russian gypsy songs, "Black Eyes," and "Two Guitars," will also be sung.

Dances to be presented by the Choir will be "Lesginka," the dance of the Caucasian Cossacks, and "Kozatohok," the popular national dance of the Don Cossacks. The first of these is traditional among the Caucasians. Handled down from generation to generation, this dance shows the warlike character of the eastern people of the Caucasus in the south of Russia. The Caucasians were often attacked by various wandering brigand bands, and a Caucasian never parted from his dagger. It came to be his faithful friend in a dance as well as in fighting. At the beginning of the dance there is heard the sad lilt of a song. The Caucasian is expecting an enemy. But the enemy is repulsed, and the song passes to a thundering rhythm of the dance.

"Platoff Song," stirring Cossack military song, praises the famous Cossack general for whom the choir is named. Among the hymns will be "Ave Maria," composed and specially arranged for the choir by A. Donizetti, and Tchaikovsky's "Blessed Be the Lord." The latter song expresses the characteristic mysticism of Russian religious music.

The concert will be given in Gregory Gym Thursday night at 8:15. Students will be admitted on blanket tax. Other tickets will be $1, with special tickets for high school students at 35 cents.

Cast of 'Silver Cord' Announced by Director

The cast of Sidney Howard's "The Silver Cord," first production of the year by the Hill Players, was announced Thursday by Director Carrol Lusk as follows: Mrs. Phelps, Idelle Goodman; Hester, Bernice Schoenemann; Christina, Sylvia Bockstein; David Phelps, Mervin Lippman; and Robert Phelps, Bob Sukman.

"The Silver Cord" will be presented November 23 at the Texas Federated Women's Club Building.

CAPITOL
LAST DAY! Kiddie Matinee Today 10 a.m. School Child 10c
15c 1 p.m.
INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY
ANN PAT JOHN SHERIDAN O'BRIEN PAYNE
STARTS SUNDAY
TWO BIG DAYS!
ON THE STAGE
Original
HAWAIIAN FOLLIES
ROBT. BELL (Himself)
HAWAII'S GREATEST ENTERTAINER
KANA LOKI
PRINCESS LEIHE
NEKI LA MAKI
JOHN KA HOOKONA
STEEL GUITAR BAND
ON THE SCREEN!
DUNNE BOYER
WOMEN TOMORROW COMES

Engineers Ready To Set Up Rig

Students Will Drill Shallow Test Well

University petroleum engineers will soon have the equipment to bring in another "dry hole" oil well on the campus. Dr. G. H. Fancher, professor of petroleum engineering, said recently. Sufficient machinery to set up a portable drilling machine has been received by the department from the Burkburnett area oil fields.

The equipment will be used to study drilling methods. Dr. Fancher explained. Any wells drilled with it will be only a few feet deep, however. Misplaced equipment at the present time is delaying getting the new rig into immediate operation.

One well was drilled and set up with complete rigging just west of the engineering building last year. Only 350 feet deep, a special pressure control well-head has been placed over it to give the back pressure of a deep well. It is the only experimental well of its kind between Pennsylvania and California.

Also on the lot west of the engineering building is an early rotary rig which has been set up as an historical exhibit. Most of the machinery on the lot has been donated by oil, tank, and fence companies. The exhibit may be lighted for the College of Engineering power show given each spring, Dr. Fancher said.

Russian Music Is Sunday Fare

Conan Wood will be in charge of the Sunday Afternoon Music Committee's recording program of works of Russian composers to be presented in the main lounge of the Texas Union Sunday at 4 o'clock.

Listeners desiring request numbers are asked by Florence Heller, chairman of the committee, to make these requests to ushers at Sunday's program.

"Our committee wants to give students the music best liked, and we can do this much better if we have requests," she said.

Sunday's program is as follows: Symphony No. 6,

Pathétique... Tchaikovsky
Flight of the Bumblebee... Rimsky-Korsakoff
Marche Slave... Tchaikovsky
Hymn to the Sun... Rimsky-Korsakoff
Monotonously Rings the Little Bell... Don Cossack Choir
Song of the Volga Boatmen... Don Cossack Choir

Free Dancing Shifted To Junior Ballroom

The Junior Ballroom of the Texas Union will be open hereafter every morning except Sunday from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock. Bob Von Tress, chairman of the Texas Union house committee, announces.

Dancing is free to all University students. Only couples will be allowed in the room, Von Tress said.

The nickelodeon will be moved from the Main Lounge into the Junior Ballroom. The coin device will be unlocked so that the machine can be played free of charge.

The space formerly used for dancing in the Main Lounge will be furnished with tables and chairs and reserved for bridge players, Von Tress said.

ANGEL CAKE

It was "cake day" on the "Broadway Melody of 1940" set when Eleanor Powell had her cook bake an angel food cake for the cast and crew.

In 'Our Town'

AT SAN ANTONIO.—Miss Florence Sears, past president of Phi Mu sorority and Panhellenic, who received the M.A. degree at the University last spring, will play the lead in the University of San Antonio's production of "Our Town." She is now an assistant in the English department at the San Antonio institution. While on the Forty Acres, she had the leading feminine role in the Curtain Club's "High Tor."

Students Can Get Woolcott Tickets

University students may buy balcony seats in Hogg Memorial Auditorium for the Alexander Woolcott lecture next Friday night for 50 cents, it has been announced. Tickets will also be available to the faculty at the same price.

There are 500 orchestra seats selling at one dollar apiece and 433 other seats in the orchestra section selling for 75 cents each. Tickets may be obtained from Miss Marjorie Vogan at the Texas Union office or from Max Fichtenbaum in the Registrar's Office.

The subject of Mr. Woolcott's lecture will be "The Confessions of a Dying Newspaper Man." He is making his tour through Texas by automobile.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Poppies

The University Auxiliary of the American Legion will sell poppies on the campus and in the University vicinity today. The poppies are made by disabled World War veterans in the American Legion Hospital. Funds obtained will be used for welfare work among veterans and their families. Mrs. E. R. York is chairman of a committee in charge of the poppy sales.

The Auxiliary units of the American Legion were organized primarily to help disabled veterans gain some measure of independence.

TEXAS
Always 15c Till 7 P.M.
LAST DAY
"TARZAN FINDS A SON"
With JOHNNY WEISSMULLER MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN

Students to Hear H. V. Kaltenborn

Sigma Delta Chis Plan Trip to Waco

Plans are being made by members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, to attend a lecture by H. V. Kaltenborn, noted radio commentator, in Waco November 11, Mac Roy Rasor, president of the fraternity, has announced.

Because many of the Sigma Delta Chi members will go to the Texas-Baylor football game, a Waco meeting of the fraternity will be arranged so that Mr. Kaltenborn's lecture may be attended that night, Rasor stated.

Frank E. Burkhalter, chairman of the department of journalism at Baylor University, has made arrangements for them to meet him backstage after the address Saturday night.

This is the first of a series of attempts Sigma Delta Chi will make to bring members into closer contact with the journalistic profession. Trips to out-of-town newspaper offices are being planned, and authorities in various fields of journalism will be invited to Austin to speak.

Paramount
NOW! 25c-35c TILL 5 P.M.
Bette DAVIS
Errol FLYNN
THE PRIVATE LIVES OF
ELIZABETH and ESSEX
AN INCHINOLOR
OLIVIA DEHAVILLAND
DONALD CRISP - ALAN HALE - VINCENT PRICE
MIDNITE SHOW
TONITE!
"The Roaring Twenties"
JAMES CAGNEY

TEXAS
Always 15c Till 7 P.M.
LAST DAY
"TARZAN FINDS A SON"
With JOHNNY WEISSMULLER MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN
SPECIAL Low Rates to Students
15% Cash and Carry Discount on Laundry
Austin Laundry
DRY CLEANING CO.
DIAL 3566
1514 Lavaca

Fraternity Men, Notice

Members of the following fraternities should go to Christianson-Leberman Studio, 904 1/2 Congress, and make a selection of proofs for their picture in the Cactus.

Alpha Tau Omega
Beta Theta Pi
Delta Chi
Delta Kappa Epsilon
Delta Tau Delta
Phi Delta Theta
Phi Kappa Psi
Phi Sigma Delta
Sigma Chi
Sigma Nu
Tau Delta Phi
Tejas

If you fail to select your proofs, a member of the Cactus staff will make a selection for you.

THE CACTUS

Now! 25c Anytime Any Seat