Delegate Here To Co-ordinate Research Work

Rockefeller Representative To Confer With Those Using Grants

Luncheon Planned

Seven Members of Faculty Given Assistance By Foundation

In order to co-ordinate the efforts of members of the University faculty who have been doing research work under grants of the Rockefeller Foundation, John Marshall, representative of the organization, is making a short visit in Austin.

He will confer with faculty members on several research projects which the foundation is sponsoring, among which are those on archeology, State history, economics, and various problems having to do with the Mexican population of Texas, Dr. R. A. Law, professor of English, stated.

Mr. Marshall will be honored with an informal luncheon at the faculty club Saturday at noon. He spent Friday afternoon making acquaintances among the University faculty, having a long interview with Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University. Of special interest to him was a visit to the Wynn Library where he commented upon his favorable impression with the entire library system of the University.

Foundation Idea Explained

The Rockefeller investigates and finds projects in need of research, subsidizes such endeavors as seem worthy, and thus enables the workers to cover the field thoroughly.

Among those on the faculty of the University who are working on projects under the auspices of the foundation are the following: Dr. R. H. Griffith, Dr. Killis Campbell, Dr. R. A. Law, Dr. E. G. Fletcher, and James Frank Dobie, all of the department of English; Dr. Aaron Schaffer and Dr. E. R. Simms of the department of Romance languages are also doing research under the sponsorship of the foundation.

Competitive Math Exams Held Today

Freshmen interested in competing for prizes awarded annually in the Brown University mathematical entrance examinations covering the minimum entrance requirements in elementary algebra and plane geometry will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Waggener Hall 101.

This contest, established in 1917 by an alumnus of Brown University, will be under the supervision of Dr. P. M. Batchelder, chairman of the department of pure mathematics. Interest derived from a fund set aside by the founder of the competitive examinations will be used in awarding cash prizes for the three best competing papers, Dr. Batchelder said.

Co-Op to Broadcast Texas-O. U. Battle

The annual intersectional football clash at Dallas between The University of Texas and the University of Oklahoma will be broadcast by the Co-Op beginning at 2:45 o'clock Saturday.

Official Ballot Listing 61 Candidates' Names Sent to Printers Today

Official list of the candidates announced for the fall election will go to the printers early this morning for the printing of ballots, Hill Hodges, president of the Students' Association, said Friday night. The list will include the names of 61 candidates, four less, due to withdrawals, than the total first placed at the drawing of positions last Saturday.

Cactus Requests Fraternity And Sorority Photos

New Arrangement Provided For in Section Layouts

Individual pictures of fraternity and sorority members are to be made for the 1934 Cactus beginning this week, according to an announcement yesterday from the offices of the Texas Student Publications, Inc.

Arrangements for these pictures are to be made by representatives of the various fraternities and sororities who are asked to call at the Cactus business office, Journalism Building 108, as soon as their organization gives formal authorization for this representation.

The representation fee, covering costs of engraving, printing, and photography, is to be paid at the Cactus office when the schedule for the pictures is arranged. Each fraternity and sorority will be assigned certain days on which their members may call at the studio for sittings.

The editorial staff and the artists, in designing the new Cactus, have arranged for a new and still more attractive layout of the fraternity and sorority pages. Each page will include individual pictures of all members, picture of the chapter house, a drawing of the pin cut, rosters of membership, pledges, and officers, and other pertinent material.

Houston Students Back Longhorns

New Organization Stages Pep Rally Friday

The Houston Club, organization of University students from that city, in its second meeting since organization, Friday night held a pep rally and voted a resolution to support the Longhorn team one hundred per cent.

After the rally, the club ratified the constitution presented for approval by the constitution committee, and discussed plans for an entertainment to be held in Houston during the Christmas holidays. Regular meetings of the club will be held each Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in Garrison Hall, and all students from Houston are eligible and invited to attend.

George Herbert is president, Jim Wingfield, vice president, Valerie Lewidge, secretary, and Lewis Dickson, treasurer.

Thirteen Register Friday Thirteenth

With only two more days for registration, Friday, October 13, brought thirteen more students into the University. Including Thursday's enrollment of seventeen, the total enrollment now is 5,969, 104 behind last year's figures for the same dates, E. J. Mathews, registrar, announced.

Monday is the last day for registration for credit. According to the catalogue, "No student will be allowed to enter for credit after October 15 in the first semester." Inasmuch as October 15 falls on Sunday, the day for final registration has been extended to Monday, October 16, Mr. Mathews explained. Registration includes the payment of fees. No student is registered until he has settled with the Auditor, the Registrar added.

Religious Foundation To Organize Monday

Saint Basil Foundation, composed of University students and ex-students who are of the Greek Catholic or Eastern Orthodox religion, will complete its organization at a meeting led by the Rev. H. W. C. Ainley in the Y. M. C. A. building Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Ainley is a special lecturer, teacher, and preacher in the Antiochian Diocese. He said that he had the names of 28 University students who are of the Greek Catholic faith.

Political Notices Acceptable Today Before 1 o'Clock

Owing to the small number received Friday, the deadline for the announcements of candidates entered in the fall political races to be published in the Sunday edition of The Daily Texan has been extended to 1 o'clock today, Jay Hall, associate editor, said Friday. These announcements must not exceed 200 words in length, shorter if possible, and may be turned in at Journalism Building 109. One column cuts may be run with the announcements.

Vickery Organizes Mathematics Club

A mathematics club has been formed for instructors and all advanced students in mathematics, C. W. Vickery, instructor in pure mathematics and founder of the club, announced.

The organization is to meet regularly every other Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in Waggener Hall 10, at which time the members will discuss technical problems and do original work.

At the first meeting held Wednesday, October 11, E. Burton Jones, instructor in pure mathematics, gave a paper on "Theorems Concerning Normal Frechet Space L."

Benedict Gives Budget Outline For 1933-1935

Present Term Is Critical Period for Public Education

Explains Funds

President Cites Detailed Figures Regarding Finances

Addressing the first meeting of the University faculty for the session 1933-34, President H. Y. Benedict Tuesday discussed the general situation of the institution, enumerated the existing problems facing the school and suggested the possible methods of solving these problems.

Characterizing this as a period when public education, both higher and lower, is in serious difficulties, the President said that the expanding budgets of the recent years of prosperity would not continue to expand so rapidly has been obvious all along, but that these budgets should contract as they have done in the last three years was scarcely to be anticipated.

The President presented a detailed exposition of the means of financing The University of Texas. He explained the condition of the University Available Fund, which, together with student fees and tax money from the general revenue of the State, produces the money that supports the Main University.

This fund, he explained, arises mainly from grass leases and interest on bonds that have been purchased with the money accruing from oil royalties. During 1925-33 this fund could not be used for running expenses except for "repairs" because it was dedicated by law to buildings and other permanent improvements. As a result, the President pointed out, in addition to the $6,000,000 borrowed from the University Permanent Fund for buildings ($4,000,000 at the University, $2,000,000 at A. & M.) there has been expended for permanent improvements during the last eight years, at Austin and Galveston, approximately $6,150,000 out of the University Available Fund, plus the $250,000 of the Littlefield Memorial bequest and approximately $1,000,000 from the Sealy and Smith Foundations.

Continuing, the President called attention to the fact that "the 1933-35 appropriation bill marks a return to the pre-1925 condition, $468,000 a year of the available fund being appropriated for salaries and maintenance at the Main University, which as a result gets only $495,000 from the general revenue tax money."

Cited as constructive moves of the Legislature in the last regular session in its legislation for the University was the $60,000 a year appropriated out of the available fund to finish paying for the Cavanaugh tract and the appropriation of the residue of the available fund, left after paying the appropriations mentioned above and after paying $102,000 a year for the care of the endowment estate and about $250,000 a year to A. & M., for "permanent improvements, equipment, repairs and physical plant operation and maintenance."

As a consequence of the above legislation, the income of the Main University, as analyzed by the President, falls into four main items for this biennium:

(1) General revenue tax money, quite rigorously devoted to certain salaries and maintenance, $495,000; (2) A portion of the University Available Fund, as rigorously devoted to the same salaries and items, $468,000; (3) The residue above mentioned of the University Available Fund, devoted to betterments of the physical plant or its operation and maintenance, estimated at $70,000; (4) Student fees, free to be used in any way except to increase salaries, estimated at $340,000.

In the information submitted to the faculty, the President presented tables which attempted to estimate the University Available Fund for 1933-34 and statements of the appropriations out of the general revenue during recent years for the running expenses of the various State institutions of higher education.

LA GRONE MAKES REPORT Meeting for the first time this year, members of Omicron Nu, national honorary home economics fraternity, gathered Thursday afternoon in the Home Economics Building to discuss plans for the coming year. Determined Longhorns Ready For Sooners in Today's Tilt

Led by Owen, Steer Band To Parade Today in Dallas

Members Leave Austin Friday Afternoon

Twirls Baton

The University Longhorn band, 55 in number, left Friday for Dallas, where at 3 o'clock this afternoon it will take the field for the twenty-eighth battle between the University Longhorns and the University of Oklahoma Sooners.

Led by Drum-major Neal Owen and Miss Gladys Marion Pharr, six year old daughter of Burnett Pharr, director of the band, the organization will parade both before and after the first half.

At the end of the second period the band will march straight down the field in the form of a large "T," while the Cowboys, University pep organization, will follow in a "U" formation. The band will then turn toward the Texas stands and form a big "TEX"; then counter march and form an "OU" in front of the Oklahoma cheering section. During these formations the Cowboys will execute several drills in the middle of the field.

Band Director B. C. Pharr declared Friday afternoon that he believed the Texas band would put on one of its best shows of the year today in Dallas.

"There has been talk," he said, "that the Longhorn Band is not behind the football team. Well, we have always worked as hard as the squad itself, and if anything, we can do help them win at Dallas, Oklahoma doesn't have a chance."

A picked group of twenty-five members were featured in a thirty-minute broadcast over station WFAA Friday afternoon from 4:45 until 5:15 o'clock. The remainder of the band left at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Young Miss Pharr will accompany Owen in leading the band around the field in its between-halves parade.

Despite the fact that many of last year's musicians graduated, Pharr is optimistic over the prospects for an excellent band this year.

"We have several newcomers who are really excellent musicians," he said, "and as long as the boys are willing to work as hard as they have for the past two weeks I cannot see why we won't have one of the best organizations in the history of the school."

The University of Oklahoma band will also be present at the Dallas game.

Esperanto Classes Meet Twice Weekly

The Esperanto Club, fostering the international language of the world, will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in Main Building 219, Professor Alfred Kennigott, instructor of Romance languages, said Friday. There will also be another class of Esperanto taught every Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in Main Building 219 by H. W. Grant, graduate student of the University.

The classes, conducted every Monday and Wednesday nights at 7:30 o'clock, are free to the public, and all persons living in Austin that are interested in this language are cordially invited. Every year many citizens of Austin become members of these classes. The only cost of the course is the text book.

Esperanto, Mr. Kennigott said, is pronounced as it is written. There are no irregular verbs. It is used by the American Telegraph Company, and is becoming more universally spoken every day. The language now has a library of 4,000 books, including the Bible.

Foreign Language Exams Given Today

Foreign language requirement examinations will be given Saturday at 2 o'clock, C. A. Swanson, professor of Romance languages, announced Friday. All students who intend to take examinations in Spanish will meet in the auditorium of Garrison Hall.

Students taking examinations in any other language will meet in the lecture hall of the Geology Building. Dr. Swanson requested that students bring only pens and pencils as paper will be furnished.

Tickets Sold Out, Record Crowd Expected

By CURTIS BISHOP

To the tread of marching bands and the whip of flying flags, two young, fiercely-determined football teams, one from The University of Texas and the other from the University of Oklahoma, will fight out the twenty-eighth annual Longhorn-Sooner game this afternoon at Dallas, feature event of the Texas State Fair, before what is expected to be a record crowd of 25,000 people.

The University of Texas Longhorns, a snarling, dangerous mammal once again as the listless, disheartened spirit that featured their workouts of the earlier part of the week was transformed almost overnight into a desperate, fighting mood that promises ill for the Sooners, left Friday for the annual classic, and will be registered at Melrose Courts throughout the week.

Hadlock Starting

In spite of the fact that Bohn Hilliard, ace halfback, will not be in the lineup, Coach Clyde Littlefield's proteges were far from downhearted. In fact the Texans seemed more determined than ever. Experiments in the tentative lineup during the week left a definite starting roster a matter of guesswork, but Jimmy Hadlock, fleet sophomore, is sure to be given the opportunity to fill Hilliard's shoes.

Charley Coates, rangy, scrapping end, and Ronald Fagan, heady, pass-flinging quarterback, will both be available for service, it was learned Friday.

Tickets Sell Out

The greatest advance sale in the history of the 33-year old series is reported from Dallas, and Business Manager Ed Oile announced that no seats were left unsold here. As early as Wednesday afternoon good seats were in demand, and a capacity crowd is expected at Fair Park Stadium.

The Oklahoma Sooners, heroes of a 0 to 0 tie with Vanderbilt's Commodores and losers to Tulsa University 20 to 6 a week ago, will depend upon the superb passing and punting of Bob Dunlap, and hope to be able to show something on the ground with rabbits like Bill Panzer, "Nig" Robertson, Raleigh Francis, and Dunlap shooting into free wheeling behind such blockers as Beede Long, Ben Poyner, Karey Fuqua, and Rob Robison.

Texas, on the other hand, must depend upon untied sophomore talent. The loss of the scintillating Hilliard may be a death blow to the Longhorn cause, never particularly bright since the beginning of the season. However, two sophomores, Buster Jurecka and Jimmy Hadlock, have all displayed talent at carrying the ball, and a passing attack with Ronald Fagan and Charley Johnston on the throwing end has come in for its share of attention in the week's drills.

Dunlap Back

Oklahoma will have its "ace" of last year's team on hand. It was Dunlap, 180-pound Sooner triple-threat man, who scored all 10 of Oklahoma's points last year with marvelous quick kicking, place kicking, passing, and running.

A large crowd of cheering fans saw the Longhorns off Friday morning, and at a pep rally Thursday night the Texas student body pledged their support to the gridsters in today's classic. Texas has won over Oklahoma 18 times in 26 games, holding seven straight victories over the Sooner clan.

Probable starting lineup: Texas: Coates and Gray, ends; Niebuhr and Beasley, tackles; Smartt and Phillips, guards; Smith, center; Fagan, quarterback; Arnold and Hadlock, halfbacks; and Preibisch, fullback.

Oklahoma: Harris and Coker, ends; Cason and Gentry, tackles; Bashara and Stacy, guards; Fleetwood, center; Robertson, quarterback; Long and Dunlap, halfbacks; and Poyner, fullback.

Clem Linnenberg and Richard Johnson assumed their duties as president and secretary, respectively, of the Scribblers Club, University writers' organization, at its first fall meeting Thursday night. Tom Cranfill was elected vice president to replace John Woodruff.

Closer observation concerning right-hand turns on red traffic signals is urged by the Austin Police Department. In order to make a right turn on a red signal, the driver must be in the inside traffic lane, and must bring his car to a complete stop before making the turn. Persons failing to do this will be subject to arrest, Captain Tom Neal said Friday.

The very great interest manifest in the University's concern in the Public Works Act and the allocation of Federal Funds under it has reached a climax with the passage of certain necessary legislation authorizing the Board of Regents of the University to take certain steps toward the ultimate culmination of a monetary grant. The bill, which successfully passed both the House and the Senate, now awaits the Governor's signature.

Under the pending legislation the University Board of Regents is empowered to make the necessary arrangements to secure for the University the allocation of Federal funds under the Public Works Act; to issue bonds or pledges in the amount of $1,200,000 to be used as collateral for the Federal government loan, these bonds to be retired within 15 years from income to the University Available Fund from surface leases on University lands; and to contract with the United States government for the construction of self-liquidating dormitories.

Due to the provisions of a bequest of the late Major George Littlefield, a certain fund of slightly more than half a million dollars is available to the Board of Regents for the construction of the Main Building-Library, and together with the money hoped to be received from the Federal government this structure can be brought to completion. Also, due to the provisions of the newly-passed bill, the Board of Regents may negotiate with the United States government concerning the construction of some five or six dormitories—the money used for their construction to be paid back from the proceeds received from their rental over a period of not more than fifteen years.

The Littlefield fund, plus the bonds or pledges of $1,200,000 which the Board of Regents is authorized to issue, will serve as collateral for the loan which it is hoped will be obtained from the Federal government. In the case that the allocation of funds is obtained as hoped, some 30 per cent of the money will be donated outright by the Federal government, while the remaining 70 per cent must be repaid by the University within a period of 15 years. With the signature of the Governor, which is expected almost immediately, the bill will enable the Board of Regents to exert all their efforts toward obtaining the much-needed Federal funds in order to continue the building program which is now being held up due to financial difficulties.

Clearing the Board

During the present session of the Texas Legislature, two important measures have been passed by both the House and the Senate, and one has received the official signature of the governor, while the other is before the chief executive at this time. The first of these bills to be passed was Senate Bill No. 79 and House Bill No. 188 which gives to the Board of Regents of the University the right to condemn certain lands near Fort Davis, Texas, to be used as part of the site for the new McDonald Observatory.

In the will of the late W. J. McDonald, the money left for the erection of the observatory was given to the Board of Regents as trustees for the fund, and they can act only in that capacity. Certain citizens and other interested parties in and near Fort Davis agreed to donate some 400 acres of land to the Board of Regents to be used as a site for the McDonald Observatory. After the deeds of gift had been signed, it was discovered that due to a legal technicality one of the heirs of the original owner of the donated land had been made trustee for the land, and that it was impossible to deed away the complete interest since heirs yet to be born would have a claim. For this reason the only way that a clear title could be ob-

FRATERNITY SALES TALK

Official notice given at this time last week assures fraternities, sororities, and other campus organizations in connection with which boarding clubs are operated that the state sales tax commission intends to carry out its purpose to the letter by collecting a three per cent tax on gross income from boarders.

The charge, if placed on food alone as it promises to be, will neither act as a burdensome price increase to students eating at these clubs nor will it be in any way inconsistent with other charges collected by the state since July from ordinary retail purchases. We believe that the sales tax committee, in reaching this final decision, has dealt fairly with all who are concerned.

We do, however, register our complaint at this time for the apparent lack of decision which has dogged the footsteps of the state commission on more than one occasion when it has met to render verdicts on this and other questions of exemption from the three per cent levy. The boarding club question is just one instance. There has been besides numerous hearings on whether or not farmers should pay tax for retail purchases which contribute directly to their production practices. Already the commission has twice changed its stand in this latter dilemma with no positive guarantee that further reversals in decision will not ensue.

Criticism is being freely extended by business houses in every part of Michigan because of their inability to maintain bookkeeping practices in line with the changing specifications of tax collections. It will be not at all surprising if boarding clubs encounter the same difficulties.

R. J. McCarthy has been recognized locally by the commissioner in charge of sales tax collections as the authority on bookkeeping specifications with regard to retail tax payments. Already Mr. McCarthy has applied his services to a number of the East Lansing boarding clubs with marked success in solving their problems. He stands ready to assist as many more as care to apply.

We believe sincerely that he can assist a number of others as well if only these groups will display the good sense to join in a cooperative effort under his guidance and present a solid front in complying with Michigan's sale tax law.

PASSING THE BUCK

"Passing the Buck" is as old as history. Adam originated the idea when he placed the blame for his misdemeanor upon shoulders other than his own. Today the practice is prevalent in business where it is employed to facilitate the handling of matters not of sufficient importance to warrant personal attention by the executive heads. In this connection "passing the buck" is undoubtedly used to advantage. The men at the top realize that their time is more profitably spent when they are caring for what is incapable of management by those below them; they also take into consideration the fact that many items of routine are attended to in better fashion by a subordinate accustomed by experience to a mastery of the details.

At college the element of "passing the buck" is, possibly, even more evident than in the outside world, while its working presents a decided contrast to that mentioned above. In business it is systematized efficiency; in the university it is, frequently, lethargy—an apathy to things in general, marked by a willingness to permit another to bear the load that is not rightfully his. Proof of this statement is to be found in the comparatively limited number of undergraduates who devote themselves to an active support of a particular activity; by the readiness with which the average man about college consents to the notion that students' affairs can be best controlled by someone who has merited confidence by his performance on some previous occasion but who, probably, has ample to occupy his spare moments without additional burdens. This tendency is relevant to athletics as to the holding of executive positions. In the executive itself the fault very often is that the principle of "passing the buck" is not competently put into force; a few undertake all responsibility, when if they would induce, as Admiral Sims so well emphasized the other day, others to share in the work and so to comprehend their responsibilities, they would render its execution less troublesome and more efficient.

A stricter reliance upon this rule of business conduct would aid those in student offices; while a lessened inclination on the part of the student body as a whole to allow their affairs to center in the hands of a few would result equally beneficially.

tained to the land was for condemnation proceedings to be instituted by the Board of Regents, acting as trustees, in order to make the land title legal.

Due to the need for the condemnation proceedings, legislation had to be passed authorizing the Board of Regents to exercise the right of eminent domain. Since such authority has been granted as a result of the passage of Senate Bill No. 79 and House Bill 188 the Board of Regents will institute a "friendly" condemnation suit in order to obtain unclouded title to the land which originally was to be donated to them.

The passage of the legislation means that the last practical barrier in the way of actual construction on the Observatory has been at last removed, and that with the completion of the condemnation suit, which will of course not be contested, the land will be ready for the breaking of ground to start construction on the observatory buildings and plant. The site for the McDonald Observatory will be on Mount Locke, named in honor of the donors of the land, and has, with the possible exception of Mount Wilson in California, the best location for an astronomical observatory in the United States.

ISLAND JAIL—The Department of Justice carried its war against crime two steps further yesterday.

Plans for establishing an inaccessible island prison for dangerous criminals, and plans for enacting a law making habitual criminals liable to life imprisonment were completed by the department.

The prison will be located on the tiny, crag-shored island of Alcatraz, whose bluffs rise high above San Francisco Bay, and around whose cliffs swirl dangerous currents. The island is more than a mile from the mainland, and, at present, is the site of a military prison.

Officials expect to send the first Federal prisoners to the new penitentiary within a month. It will hold 600 of them.

The proposed habitual criminal law will probably be recommended to Congress when it meets in January.

BUY NOW—The administration's "Buy Now" campaign has gotten more action than most observers expected.

Yesterday, Dun & Bradstreet reported that the "most impressive pickup of the fall season occurred this week in general trade movements."

"Financial conditions have become noticeably easier," the agency's review stated. "A new public psychology, which is one of spending rather than hoarding has been developed as a result of a steady rise in employment and payrolls since June."

MEDICINE—Although the dose may be small, the government is preparing to take some of its own medicine.

Recently while Washington authorities were compelling industry to adopt higher wage scales, they set a doubtful example by cutting salaries of Federal employees.

Now, however, it is indicated that these employees may look to a wage increase by the first of next year, and a restoration of normal pay status before the year is over. The increase will be based on the cost of living index, now being compiled at the capital.

The chief justification for the wage cuts is that nearly all government workers are in the civil service and are there for life. Some of them get retirement and pension allowances, and even now, many of them are getting more than they would for the same work in private employment.

Last August there were $566,339 government employees.

TAX RATES—Anticipating prohibition repeal, the Treasury Department last week announced tentative liquor tax schedules.

The proposed tax rates, which must first be ratified by Congress, are equal to the heaviest war-time charges, ranging from $4.40 to $6.40 a gallon.

Since they cannot become effective until Congress meets in January, a sizeable sum in taxes may be lost if repeal becomes a fact on December 6. From this date only the old pre-war taxes of $1.10 a gallon will be in effect, and it is probable that large stores of liquor will be moved from distillers to retailers in this period.

Other liquor activities of the government during the last week include an authorization of the manufacture of high alcoholic content beer and of 7,000,000 additional gallons of hard liquor. It was also announced that liquor advertising through the mails would be permitted.

Reviewed Today

TOM MIX, dean of all western stars, gives his usual good performance in his latest horse-opera, "Terror Trail." Regardless of whether one particularly cares for the thrills and adventure type of picture, it is necessary to recognize real merit in some of them, and this one has all the virtues of its kind. As usual, Mix and his horse, Tony Junior, are most of the show, though the unheralded Naomi Judge does her romance bit well, and Raymond Hatton, as "Lucky" Dawson, the man who will gamble on anything, has a pretty fair part, somewhat out of the ordinary for him, in which he portrays a somewhat more serious and somewhat more sympathetic character. John St. Polis is about as tough-looking and altogether thoroughly bad man as you might hope not to meet in a dark alley. Mix, as United States marshal sent to clean up a town rampant with murder and every sort of violence under the leadership of the biggest shots of the village, does so in the most accepted fashion, and, along with the fairest belle of the county, wins the admiration of all. The photography is good enough, but the dialogue may be lost if you do not sit well forward. The ending is especially worthy of mention in that it suggests the fulfillment of the romance without actually showing the final climax and so straining undemonstrative horsemen by requiring them to steal Clark Gable's stuff.

For those who long for the good old days of the silents, there is a Charlie Chaplin comedy. Plan to come at the beginning of the feature if you do not want to see a chapter of the serial "The Lost Express" which is included for those who do. At the Hancock. Estimate: C plus. —T.P.

Opening Today

THE SMOLDERING, swinging shades of the swashbuckling '90's are vividly reincarnated for us today in "The Bowery" at the Paramount. Wallace Beery plays the role of the ward big shot and political fixer. George Raft is sure to do well as that never-to-be-forgotten character, Steve Brodie. Jackie Cooper, who once before made an excellent partner of Beery's, teams with him again as "Swipes," wily newsboy. Luscious Fay Wray is to be seen, and Pert Kelton, a newcomer with a reputation for snatching first honors, lives up to her first name.

The very title "Sensation Hunters" implies a story of modern, fast moving youth on the go opening today at the Queen. It promises the interest and variety of champagne society and the talents of Arlie Judge and Preston Foster in the leading roles.

An Important Message To ALL FRESHMEN

Pictures of members of the Freshman Class are now being made for the 1934 Cactus, the yearbook of the University.

This book is the only enduring record of the University year and representation therein is the means of identifying yourself permanently with the University, its life, and its great family.

Due to the large numbers of pictures to be taken, it is necessary to make appointments at this time.

For the fee of $1—covering cost of photographing, engraving and printing—each member of this class is given individual representation in the book.

Steers Get Sendoff ... Original Sally Rand

The dawn, of which existence we spoke yesterday but doubted may be actually on its way.

There was a great change in the attitude of the University student body during the last twenty-four hours. Yesterday when the Steers pulled out for their twenty-eighth game with the Oklahoma Sooners there was actually a handful of fans at the station. A decent handful. Not as many as there should have been, but still a few. A lot more than saw them off to Nebraska.

The Longhorn Band then jumped the gun. Director Blundy Pharr announced that his organization for one was behind the Texas gridsters, behind them win or lose. Then came the Cowboys. Now comes the Houston Club, one of the newest organizations on the campus, and the first of its type to fall in line.

The play-by-play report given jointly by the Texas Co-Op and The Texas Student Publications, Inc., will be presented as usual this afternoon, as is announced elsewhere on this page.

The broadcast will start promptly at 3 o'clock.

That organization passed a resolution Friday night to the effect that they were solidly behind the Longhorns. A telegram was immediately dispatched to the team and the names of every member signed.

Today, then, Texas is fighting for more than just a game. The squad announced before it left that it today was going to win back the confidence of the student body Saturday afternoon. That was unnecessary. That team has it, as has been proven by the immediate steps taken toward a consolidation of school organizations into one big organization, the biggest organization that a school can have, and one of the greatest—a campus-wide movement to cheer on the football eleven.

Sally Rand, believe it or not, didn't start the fan-dancing vogue. That was begun years ago when the girls and boys danced around the bonfire on the eve of the big game.

Oklahoma grid fans are sorry to learn that scintillating Bohn Hilliard will not be in the line-up today to match his brilliance against Bob Dunlap, Sooner triple threat man, who scored all of his team's points against Texas last year. But the Longhorns will offer another man that is expected to do something on his account, Jimmy Hadlock.

Hadlock, it is believed, is just on the verge of stardom. He can do everything with a football, punt, pass, run, and block. He is a sophomore, and, like Hilliard, is small, but also like Hilliard, he is tough.

Last Saturday was the first time Hilliard has ever been seriously injured in his football career.

Jack Graves, captain of the 1933 Horned Frog team, is listed in the 1933 football annual as a possible candidate for all-American honors. Graves is an end.

Stanford Assistant Resigns Movie Post

Because he said he believed the film would reflect on the national college game, Ernie Nevers, assistant football coach at Stanford University and former all-American fullback, last week quit his job as technical director of a football movie being filmed here.

Nevers had been employed to direct a movie designed to show a college badly in need of money hiring a great football coach and a squad of stars to pull the institution out of the red.

"I don't want to be identified with such a picture," Nevers said after ten days on the job. "Such a thing is the exception rather than the rule. It would reflect on the college game."

Barlow Has Record Of Saving 550 Lives

The saving of approximately 550 human lives is a record that many doctors would like to claim and one which a faculty member of the University, Ed Barlow, holds.

Barlow, as University swimming instructor, has done just that during the past eight years while pursuing his duties as life-guard at Barton Springs and instructor in swimming at the University.

Mr. Barlow has not only saved many lives himself, but he has produced life-guards who have reflected his training in swimming all over the State of Texas.

FARMERS WIN
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13.—The Texas Aggies defeated the Texas A. & I. Javelinas here to-night 17-0.

Frogs to Meet Simmons U. Today

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13.—The 1933 edition of the Horned Frog grid machine will make its initial home appearance against the Simmons University Cowboys in the Frog Stadium Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Cowboys boast one of the strongest football teams in the history of the school this year and pre-game dope relates that the Frogs will be in for a tough afternoon. The entire Simmons crew is composed of veterans while the Frogs will place a more or less green club on the field for the fray.

The injury jinx took another toll in the Frog stock up in Arkansas last week when Lee Bassinger and Bud Taylor had to be removed from the game because of serious injuries. Bassinger is nursing a badly sprained ankle while Taylor possesses a broken finger. Neither of the men will be available for services Saturday. Tracy Kellow and Lynn Brown, reserve guards, will probably draw the assignments in Saturday's tussle. Brown is a senior while Kellow is playing his first season of varsity football. Bobby Stow, former sub end, has been shifted to a guard post and will see action at that position against the Cowboys. Elmer Seybold, soph reserve guard, will also relieve Brown and Kellow.

Combination Tried
After trying some two or three different backfield combinations in the early practices this week, Coach Schmidt has about decided his regular starting bunch will have to carry the brunt Saturday. The Purple mentor had intended to try out some of his new combinations, but at the last minute decided that such combinations needed more practice before working under fire. With the exceptions of Cy Perkins, who has been moved over to right tackle, the same line that started against Arkansas last week will take the field against the Cowboys, that is counting out Taylor and Bassinger and placing Brown and Kellow at their positions. The starting line will read as follows: Myers and Capt. Graves, ends; Perkins and Truelson, tackles; Brown and Kellow, guards; Lester, center.

Pee Leads Attack
In Capt. Carl Pee the Simmons delegation boasts of one of the leading backfield aces of the State. Pee almost singlehandedly handed the Dixie Rebels their first defeat of the season some three weeks ago. Odell Winters, a member of the T. C. U. freshman team in 1929, is playing at a wing post for the Cowboys. The Cowboy backfield is comparatively light but is full of speed and deception. Their line will average about the same as the Christians'.

Coaches Schmidt and Wolf are looking forward to one of their toughest tilts Saturday and are taking no chances. In the event the Frogs pile up an early lead the Purple mentors plan to experiment with some of the soph backs and linemen for the coming A. & M. game next week. At the present time the Frog reserve is strong in power but weak in experience.

This is the first Simmons-T. C. U. game to be played in Fort Worth in many years. Heretofore the tilts have been played in Abilene and Breckenridge. The Cowboys have won from the Frogs once, that being in 1922. The two teams have played several tie games but T. C. U. has always had a tough time handling the West Texas club.

Porkers Ready For Battle Today

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 13.—After a week of hard scrimmaging to test the value of new scoring plays which have been added to the University of Arkansas football roster, the Razorbacks are ready for the second conference clash against Baylor University at Little Rock October 14.

While several of the Razorback formations center around the flying feet of Ralph LaForge, chief ground gainer so far, Coach Fred Thomsen has spent much time this week developing a varied attack with C. Jordan, Biddle, Criswell, Geiser, and Rees carrying the ball. Arkansas' powerful passing combination of Murphy, veteran quarterback, to P. Rucker, giant wingman, is functioning well and is expected to prove troublesome to the Bears at Little Rock Saturday.

One change has occurred in the Razorback lineup this week. Newby, sophomore, has replaced Sherland at the center position. Sherland has been out of practice some this week because of a knee injury. Injuries which have been retarding Murphy and Criswell, regular backs, have disappeared and these two huskies are ready for first class performance against Baylor.

A large delegation of students and townspeople from Fayetteville will attend the Arkansas-Baylor tussle.

Bit and Spur Club Will Hold Tryouts

A second tryout for the Bit and Spur Club will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Westernfield Riding Club. Judges will choose five girls from those entering the first tryout and any others who may enter.

The seven girls who were in the first tryout were Helen Torrance, Margaret Rose, Elizabeth Sanford, Carolyn Carpenter, Susan Sanford, Mary Davis, and Louise Jester. Judges were Captain Dickson of Camp Mabry, and Joan Chambers, leader of the club. The grades in the first tryout were too close for the winners to be chosen.

Anne Friar will spend the week-end in New Braunfels.

Tulane Sings Praises Of Aggies

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—New Orleans' football fans this week were singing loud praises of Texas A. & M. and the University of Georgia, early season conquerors of a strong Tulane Green Wave.

The general tendency was not to discredit the Wave but to praise two greatly improved teams. It is the result of a growing belief that Tulane is stronger than a year ago which may be true in spite of the adversities of the past two weeks.

The fact that the Texas Aggies are generally being picked to win the Southwest Conference championship by the experts in that area supports this premise. The Aggie team that beat Tulane here September 30, 13 to 6, impressed everyone as being far superior to that which had battled Tulane's unbeaten 1931 team to a 7 to 0 decision.

Right on the heels of that game, the Wave met one of the finest Southeastern Conference teams of the year perhaps in the Georgia Bulldogs. At least, that is the rating the Bulldogs have right now in New Orleans.

It was a smart Georgia team, one of hard running backs, a team that possessed poise when it was seemingly on the verge of seeing an early fade and one that had the "makings" of a big, strong line.

Chapman, fullback, impressed as being one of the best line plungers seen in the South in a long while. Key, Grant, Brown and other backs were hard to hold and harder to lay a hand on at all.

The Aggies and Bulldogs will be watched closely from here the remainder of the season.

SEVEN FROGS COACHING

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13.—Seven members of the champion 1932 football machine at Texas Christian University are coaching this year. They are Capt. Johnny Vaught, assistant coach at the North Side High School in Fort Worth; B. W. Spearman at Olney High School; Buster Brannon at Dublin High School; Madison "Pap" Pruitt at Mangum; Hubert Dennis at Rockdale High School; Lucy Phelps at the same school; Dan Salkeld at Norman, Okla.; Paul Snow is coaching in his home town of Wimsboro.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon members who are attending the Texas-Oklahoma game are Tom Lumpkin, Smith Braley, James Lake, James Ward, Bonner Bentley, and James Willis.

Spirit of 'West' Found in Dorm

A purely western and Texas atmosphere is created for Brackenridge Hall students in the plaques which embellish the third story of the dormitory. In harmony with the other campus buildings relief pictures of cowboy dress, a chuckwagon and utensils used on the round-up, branding irons, cacti, and animals of the western range complete the picture of the daily life of the cowboy.

James Miller, manager of Brackenridge Hall, said that the idea of decorating the building with the plaques was conceived and suggested by Bob Wilson, a student in the University. The plaques, Miller said, are made of terra cotta and were molded in Denver.

Freshman Section Of Cactus Now Open

Opening of the freshman section of the 1934 Cactus has been announced at the offices of the Texas Student Publications, Chilton O'Brien, editor, said.

Members of the freshman class are to have individual representation in the yearbook this year, and appointments for pictures are to be made at Journalism Building 108 at this time.

Because of the large number of pictures to be made, the Cactus staff has called attention to the necessity for immediate action by members of the class.

The cost to the freshmen for this representation is $1, which applies on the cost of photographs, engraving, and printing in this section.

Individual pictures of members of the freshman class will be used, O'Brien added.

Journalists Study Procedure of Court

In line with their study of the reporting of public affairs, the class in news gathering visited the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth District Court in the Travis County courthouse Friday afternoon to witness the procedure in the trial of W. S. Byars, Texas ranger charged with the slaying of J. R. Munro.

Those attending were Granville Price, adjunct professor of journalism, instructor, Roberta Little, Marjorie Todd, Olney Davis, Ted Turner, Bill Bedell, Abernethy Holmes, Jesse Darling, Jimmie McKinney, and A. M. Marks.

James H. Parke, instructor in the department of English, will address the members of the Sunday Club at 6:30 o'clock in Gregg House tomorrow.

IMPORTANCE EMPHASIZED

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 13.—The importance of condition of football players was demonstrated by the Kansas team at South Bend last Saturday when the Jayhawkers held the Notre Dame team to a scoreless tie. Or rather, as even the South Bend papers put it, Notre Dame held Kansas to a scoreless tie.

The team came back to Lawrence from its second game at Creighton considerably bruised and with sore muscles. In the whole week, in preparation for the Notre Dame game, Coach Ad Lindsey put the players through light workouts, dummy scrimmage, and practice in the execution of a few plays. All his efforts were pointed toward putting every player into perfect physical condition. In this he was aided by Dr. F. C. Allen, director of athletics who is an expert in the treatment of athletic injuries.

Results of the careful conditioning were shown in the fact that practically all Jayhawkers played the whole game, and by the added fact that a good steak dinner on the train returning to Chicago was all that was needed to put every member in shape to visit the Chicago fair that night.

QUILTING HABITS RENEWED

DENTON, Oct. 12.—Great grandmother's quilting habits have been brought to light in this so-called modern age—not by some elder member of her time, but by Elizabeth Allen, student at Texas State College for Women (CIA). It is indeed surprising to find one of these so-dubbed athletic rolled stocking girls engaged in handiwork that was so popular a few decades ago. This modern college miss has already completed three patch-work quilts and has begun a fourth. An old quilt made by her great grandmother when she was a girl started her on this hobby.

FEATURES OFFERED

DENTON, Oct. 12.—A series of three outside attractions, aside from the artist course, will be offered the students of Texas State College for Women (CIA) during the 1933-34 session. Joseph Scherer of Hollywood, Cal., who has traveled extensively in every part of the world, is included in the series. Three travelogues, including "Japan," "Aukkor, Bangkok, Indo-China" (combined), and "India" will be presented. On November 7 the Jitney Players will offer a modern comedy, "Best People."

Lucille Weisiger, Frances Copen, Era Belle Hogan, and Margery Grogan, secretary of the Student Union Building, will drive to Dallas today to see the Texas Oklahoma game.

Eleanor Bell is spending the week-end in Port Arthur.

Do you remember

... all of the claims that have been made about smoking tobacco—how it was that one was this and that one was that?

After all, what you want to know when you get a thing for a certain purpose is ...

"Was it made for that?"

Granger is made of White Burley—the kind of leaf tobacco that's best for pipes.

And old man Wellman, who taught us how to make Granger, knew how.

Granger is made to smoke in a pipe—and folks seem to like it.
