

AMONG THOSE IN SCHOOL

By Florence Robinson

E. S. J. Whitehead, principal of one of the schools in San Antonio, is attending summer school in the University and has moved his family to Austin as he says, "Rent is as cheap in Austin as it is anywhere else and it is a dull man who cannot pick up something around the University. I intend to keep coming back as long as I can." Mr. Whitehead was formerly a lawyer, being county attorney of Brown County. He left the profession of law for that of teaching because he said his conscience had more free play with the young in school than with the clients of his former profession.

Miss Nina Glass, principal of the Sanger Avenue School of Waco is lecturing this summer in the summer normal on the first, second and third grade methods. She is one of the leading primary supervisors of the state.

Paul B. Baker, B.A. graduate of Southwestern University and former captain of the baseball team of that school, is doing graduate work in the University this summer. Baker was a member of the faculty of the Belton High School for five years and has recently been elected superintendent of that school for next year.

Lee Clark, superintendent of the schools in Gainesville, is teaching psychology in the summer normal. He received his M.A. degree last week from the University. His thesis was: "A Survey of the Public Schools of Wichita Falls," of which system he was formerly superintendent.

Miss Emma Guetsite, A.B. graduate of the University, is doing graduate work during the summer session. Miss Guetsite is vice principal of Main Avenue High School and is known to thousands of students in Texas. She acted as principal of that high school after the death of Mr. Fred Hoffstetter until the new election. Miss Guetsite is living in the Scottish Rite Dormitory this summer.

W. M. Bowman, principal of the new Junior High School in San Antonio which has been named the Edgar Allen Poe High School, is doing graduate work in the University during the summer session. He is very popular among his faculty of twenty-seven members in his new school.

Walter D. Cochaing, M.A., graduate of the University of Iowa and at present is director of the Junior Education in the San Antonio public schools is lecturing this summer on Junior High School methods, in the summer school.

Lawrence H. Moore, former president of Meridian College, is attending the University this summer and is working on his Ph.D. degree. He resigned his presidency to attend the University next year.

Lynn B. Davis of Port Arthur, who received his M.A. degree from the University last year, has moved his family to Austin and he is working on his Ph.D. degree during the summer session.

Miss Pearl West, former graduate of the University who has been teaching for fourteen years, is working on her M.A. degree this summer. Miss West's home is in San Antonio.

Houston's Stadium Teams Get $30,000 In Subscriptions In Drive

16 TEAMS HELP HOUSTON RAISE STADIUM QUOTA

Ex-Students and Citizens Respond Loyal to Drive

MIKE HOGG IS DIRECTOR

Campaigns in El Paso and San Antonio Are Now Being Staged

Houston has gone over the top in its drive for Texas Memorial Stadium, having subscribed $30,000 in the first two days of the campaign, according to reports from that city. Mike Hogg, who is in charge of the campaign in Houston, declares that over $50,000 will be secured before the end of the week.

Houston Has Sixteen Teams

Hogg has sixteen teams canvassing Houston ex-students and friends of the University there and is setting a record for the state campaign. Campaigns have also opened this week in El Paso, Wichita Falls and San Antonio, but reports have been received from none of these cities.

Two giant steam concrete mixers have been placed on the stadium grounds and will begin pouring the foundations as soon as the excavations for the footings can be rushed to bed rock. A third mixer is to be used as an auxiliary unit. Steel is arriving in quantities each day and storage houses for cement have been built and are now being filled.

Construction Work Delayed

Construction work has been slightly delayed on account of a minor change in the plans for the structure. The original plans called for the eastern side of the stadium to be formed of a concrete slab poured on the sloping side of the excavation for the playing field. However, it was feared that such a structure might become undermined at some future time and these specifications were changed so that the seats will rest on piers that are laid in the solid rock several feet below the surface of the

Entertainment for Summer Studes Given

A reception for University summer school students was given Thursday evening from 8 to 11 by St. Martin's Luther League at the Annex, Fourteenth Street and Congress Avenue. The program began with a song

BARTON SPRINGS IS MECCA FOR TIRED AND HOT EDS AND CO-EDS

With the coming of summer the question of keeping cool arises in the mind of every student. After long, hot hours of class work and study some sort of recreation is needed; not the kind that leaves one tired, both physically and mentally, but a sort that leaves the after effect of pep, vim and vigor.

The most cooling, pleasant and invigorating of all recreation is swimming. There are several excellent swimming places in and close to Austin. From early morning 'till late at night these places are the Mecca for University students. The most popular are Barton Springs, Deep Eddy, and Lake Austin. The last two can be reached on the street car.

Barton Springs consists of a very cool and inviting pool. Fed by large springs, the pool is deep, clear and its crystal waters are most alluring to one tired out by a long day of hot and hard classroom grind. Besides the pool at Barton Springs there is a large and well shaded picnic ground, with numerous tables and benches. There is also a modern bathhouse, and a cold drink stand. Barton Springs, or Barton's, as it is usually called, cannot be reached by the street car, but the roads are excellent.

More accessible to the student is Deep Eddy; it can be reached on the street car. A large cement pool is a merry-go-round, and other amusements. The pool at Deep Eddy is equipped with spring boards, chutes and is modern in every way. There is also a modern bath house and a cold drink stand.

About a mile and a half up the Colorado River from Deep Eddy is Lake Austin. It is formed by a huge dam across the river which backs up the water for thirty miles. And for those who like to go boating and canoeing it is the most excellent place imaginable. It also offers many attractions to the swimmer, especially to those who like to swim long distances. It can be reached by the street car. Although there is no bath house, there is a cold drink stand.

Lomax Reelected To Secretaryship of the Texas Ex-Students

Committee Appointed to Consider Making Alcade Monthly

Meeting in Austin today, the executive committee of the Ex-Students Association reelected John A. Lomax secretary of the association, at the same time reappointing Miss Ray Perrenot and Miss Etta Fay, Mr. Lomax's assistants in the office.

The executive meeting named a committee for the consideration of having an assistant secretary to Mr. Lomax, the work having gained such volume as to necessitate more time and work. Another committee was selected for the purpose of deciding whether or not the Alcade, the official publication of the association, which is published eight times a year, should be made a monthly magazine.

The meeting was closed with a unanimous resolution of gratitude to Mr. Lomax for his unswerving devotion and initiative in the performance of the duties of his office.

Students Will Publish Second Summer School Directory Here Soon

The printing of the summer school student directory was started yesterday, and there will be approximately 3,000 copies printed, according to Joe Steiner and John Jones, the publishers. The directory will be a great aid to summer school students in locating the addresses of friends and in finding their telephone numbers.

The student directory is published by the University registrar's office during the long school term, but in the summer, it is published by private individuals who are granted the privilege by the president of the University.

A summer directory was published for the first time last summer, and it is hoped that it will appear in the summers to come, as it is of great service to the student body.

by the Luther League, an address of welcome by Julius Starke, president, and a reading by Lorena Hillyer. The ground. This change made it necessary to order additional steel and construction has been held up until this steel is received. Junior Orchestra, under the direction of Maud Thomas, assisted throughout the evening.

LARGE RECEPTION COMMITTEE WILL GREET STUDENTS

First Dance of Term Will Be Held Saturday Night at Woman's Gym

GOOD MUSIC PROMISED

Tryouts Tonight Determine Orchestra Which Will Furnish Music for Term

Kent Hunt, recently chosen manager of the University dances, announces that he has made plans for the best dance of the summer term to be held at the woman's gym. In addition to the large reception committee which he has secured for the occasion, two orchestras will try out in the woman's gym tonight for the privilege of furnishing music for the dance tomorrow night.

Reception Planned

Arrangements have been made for a large reception committee which will see that everyone has a chance to know others. Professor and Mrs. J. M. Mickey, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Williams, Johnnie Gilkerson, Lillian Baldwin, Shorty Mayer, H. G. Woodruff, Ty Cobb, and Pete Fulcher will be among those on the committee. Round Robin and John Paul Jones dances will also be held to aid in acquainting each student with others. Some member of the Faculty Social Committee will be present at each dance to promote the general feeling of fellowship, said Hunt.

An extra effort will be made at the dance tomorrow night to make all students acquainted with as many others as possible so that each student will get the most from the dances from the beginning and not take several dances to enjoy himself.

Blanket Tax Admittance

Men who stag will be charged $4. couples with only one ticket between them will be charged 50 cents and anyone will be admitted free who brings the blanket-tax ticket. Ladies without escorts and others who want to be spectators are especially invited and the committee is prepared to take care of them.

Windows of the gym have been repaired to admit the most possible breeze, there will be an adequate force to take care of checking hats. Every detail has been provided for in advance, everyone is invited, and Manager Hunt expects a good time for each one.

Contracts for New Tech College to Be Awarded Next Week

Contracts for the construction of the new Texas Technological College at Lubbock will be awarded on June 25 by the Board of Regents of that institution. Dr. P. W. Horn, who spent the day here conferring with the Board of Control, said that it is very likely the meeting of the board will be held at Fort Worth.

Plans for the college have already been drafted and approved and provide for a comprehensive program of buildings for housing the students who will attend the college. For the present only freshmen and sophomore students will be taught in the school. Dr. Horn made the assurance that the school will be ready for its formal opening on September 1, 1925.

ACTING LAW DEAN

Professor I. P. Hildebrand, B.A., LL.M., is acting dean of the law school during the absence of Dean Butte, who is making a tour of Europe this summer.

MISS ELVA BASCOM TO DO LIBRARY WORK THIS SUMMER

Head of Library Science Department Will Study Methods

Miss Elva Bascom, head of the library science department of the University of Texas, will spend the first part of the summer session doing special bibliographical work in New York and Boston. She will also study public library methods in New England and the Middle States, visiting all the new libraries. Miss Bascom intends to visit in Houston and New Orleans before leaving the South. During the first week of July she will attend the meeting of the American Library Association in Saratoga Springs, New York, and will take part in the program.

Library science courses at the University this summer will be in charge of Miss Grace Hill during the first term. Miss Hill has taught in the Library School of Simmons College, at Boston, Massachusetts, and in the Riverside Library School of California. She has been supervisor of loans in the University of Texas Library during the long session. She will be assisted by Miss Alice Harrison, librarian of the Austin High School in conducting the courses.

Smoker for Bolton

Dr. Herbert E. Bolton, president elect of the University of Texas, will be honor guest of a smoker given by the Faculty Club tonight from 7:45 to 9:45 at the University Faculty Club, 2304 San Antonio Street. The alumni of the University here for the regents' meeting will constitute the other guests. The affair will be entirely formal, stated M. R. Gutsch, secretary of the club. A Spanish orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

CAMPUS! BUZZARDS FEAR LOSS OF OLD STAMPING GROUNDS

Great excitement on the campus for the last two or three days. Workmen were seen building a fence around the Library. The eds were bemoaning the fact that soon they would be kept from buzzing on the cool grass of the Library Lawn. But from the facts of the case from the business manager's office, the eds stamping grounds will not be kept from them very long.

REGENTS DECIDE TEXAN HAVE LARGER OFFICES

Realizing that the new bindery and the new machinery at the University Press necessitates larger quarters, the Board of Regents yesterday authorized the building of such extensions as would comfortably house the new bindery and make suitable offices for the staff of the Daily Texan.

"After talking the matter over with the business manager of the Texas Students Publications, William McGill, and also Mr. A. C. Wright, manager of the Press, the regents authorized the business manager of the University to have such additions made as would be found necessary.

These repairs will be made at once, according to the business manager so that the summer staff of The Texan may derive the full benefit from the new offices.

New Dormitory Located

The building committee met with Architect Green and recommended to the Board of Regents that the $250,000 Alice Littlefield Memorial Dormitory for girls be located on the present site of the Faculty Woman's Club or the old Driscoll Hall.

188 APPLICATIONS FOR DEGREES IN AUGUST RECEIVED

Other Applications Will Be Received at Registration Second Term

JULY 21 IS FINAL DATE

250 Applications for Degrees in August Are Expected

One hundred and eighty-eight applications for degrees in August have been received by Dean T. U. Taylor, chairman of the committee on degrees. The applications in the different departments are:

B.A., 82; B.S. in H.E., 6; B.J., 2; B.S. in Education, 2; B.B.A., 21; LL.B., 18; Engineering, 9; Master's degrees, 48.

Other applications will come in at the beginning of the second term, Dean Taylor said. The applications will probably total 250 by that time, he stated. No applications will be accepted after the registration period, after July 21. Each applicant for any degree must make out a diploma card, secure the signature of his dean, and pay the diploma fee at the time of registration.

In August, 1922, 170 students were graduated; in August, 1923, the number was increased to 203. The committee expects 225 to be graduated at the close of this summer session.

CALIFORNIA MAN AND REGENTS HOLD LONG CONFERENCE

Meeting Follows Arrival From San Antonio at 10:30 this Morning

SPEAKS AT NOON LUNCHEON

Ex-Students and Alumni Gather at Country Club to Hear Speech by Bolton

Dr. Herbert E. Bolton will probably give his answer this afternoon to the Board of Regents in regard to his acceptance of the Presidency of the University, according to Dr. Joe Wooten, a member of the Regent committee which met with Dr. Bolton this morning in the president's office after the California man's arrival. Neither Luther Stark nor Dr. Bolton would confirm this statement.

Stark, when quizzed as to the possibility of Dr. Bolton's acceptance, replied that the answer would not necessarily come this afternoon, but probably by tomorrow.

Dr. Bolton came from San Antonio this morning and was met at the station by Prof. E. C. Barker, professor of History at the University. He met with the Regents in the office of the President at 10:30 a. m., and remained closeted with them until 1:20 p. m. Bolton and Stark immediately left for the Country Club, where the ex-students entertained the visitor with a luncheon. Dr. Bolton spoke at the luncheon.

RUSSIANS TO USE UNIVERSITY BOOK

Math Text by Benedict and Calhoun Being Translated to Hear Bolton

From far away Moscow, Russia, comes more honor and recognition for two University professors: Dean Benedict and Dr. Calhoun. In this far eastern city a professor of mathematics, D. Kryjanovsky, is translating the textbook, "Unified Mathematics," the work of three American mathematicians: Professors Karpenky, Benedict, and Calhoun.

"Unified Mathematics," as a textbook, has a very interesting history, according to Dean Benedict. The manuscript, written many years ago by Professors Porter, Heydrick, and Benedict, was destroyed in a train wreck while on the way to the publisher. The only royalty received from this initial endeavor was an insurance return of fifty dollars. The work was rewritten by the above three American mathematicians, and is now in its second edition.

The text is a unification of a typical college freshman course and combines the divisions of algebra, trigonometry, and analytical geometry, into a single text book. At the time of the first but unsuccessful endeavor at publication the book was the first attempt of its kind on record. To the two Texas professors goes the honor of being the originators and now the reward of having their work translated into a foreign tongue.

SMITH PUBLICITY DIRECTOR

TAKING THE UNIVERSITY OUT OF POLITICS

The executive committee of the Ex-Students' Association of the University of Texas is planning to take the University "out of politics," according to news items in local newspapers. It seems that some of the ex-students wish to take away from the Governor of Texas the power of appointing the members of the Board of Regents and also to separate the Legislature and the University.

The spirit that has prompted the Texas exes is commendable. It shows that they are taking a keen interest in the welfare of the University and want to do what will be for the best interests of the school. This matter must be viewed from many angles. In the first place the University does not belong to the University faculty, the University students, or the ex-students of the University. The University belongs to the people of Texas.

The Governor is the logical man to appoint the members of the Board of Regents, as our forefathers who wrote the Texas constitution intended. The Governor is the connecting link between the people and the State. In the last few years this law has not worked out successfully, but it has not been the fault of the law. It has so happened that many of the Regents have resigned and the present Governor has appointed every member of the board. Usually the present Governor appoints only two or three members of the board, the other members having been appointed by previous Governors.

In this connection, The Texan believes there should be a general law that no Governor can receive positions of emolument from any board that he appoints or creates. Such a law would prevent any Governor from becoming president of the University.

The Legislature should not be allowed to use the University as a political football, but at the same time the University should not be taken entirely out of the hands of the Legislature, who are the representatives of the people. A mill tax for the school of a certain income and then the Board of Regents could spend the money judiciously. This plan would be all right, but it is doubtful if the Legislature would submit such a constitutional amendment.

There are 30,000 ex-students of the University, most of whom live in Texas. They could get anything within reason from the Legislature they want if they would go after it right.

It is all right to talk about taking the University out of politics but this never will be a reality. If the ex-students appointed the Board of Regents instead of the Governor, we would still have all kinds of politics.

SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS ARE GOOD SPORTS

Statistics from the auditor's office show that most of the summer school students paid their activities fee this year.

The activities fee entitles the students to a subscription to The Daily Texan, admission to the all-University dances and other events.

It is remarkable that so many of the students paid this fee. Many of those here for the summer are forced to live economically and cannot afford to spend any more money than necessary. Many of them will never participate in all of the activities but they are willing to do their part in supporting these phases of college life. They are willing to help make the summer session as pleasant and profitable as is possible to everyone. The Texan appreciates their loyalty, as do those who are interested in the all-University dances, barge rides, and the various amusements that will be offered.

There is much more to University life than merely attending classes. Various student activities tend to develop men and women and make going to school more worthwhile. It is hoped that the students will take part in all campus affairs this summer.

OUR LITTLE WORLD

By M.E.W.

Cartoons and jokes to the contrary notwithstanding, the student body of Texas really welcomes Dr. Herbert Bolton. The question in the mind of some of us, however, is: Why did he leave California?

We congratulate ourselves that our regents have at last demonstrated that they are desirous of doing something for the school. We are glad that the petty squabbling has come to an end, and we sincerely hope that Dr. Bolton will see fit to stay with us. If the approval of the students means anything to him he will stay. And if he does stay it will be a time for all good men to come to the aid of our president.

Like painting the lily or perfuming the rose, is creosoting cedar posts. The average life of a cedar post seems to be from ten to fifty years. Yet those posts which are to support the fence around the library are being creosoted. Such pessimism is characteristic of the University.

"Talking, talking, talking, will ruin any mind," said Dr. Cunningham to his philosophy. He suggests an hour each day in which we are to say nothing unless we can say exactly what we mean. How grand and glorious life here and elsewhere would be if all of us would follow that suggestion. Particularly if we arranged the hours so that each one had a different time to speak. Then, oh then, would our musing friend and the big clown know what true silence is. The number of minds being ruined in our little world is staggering.

There has been some talk of placing a guard at the east and west entrance of the Main Building to prevent the removal of the pseudo-antique bronze rails. It is feared that some one will mistake this iron piping for the real substance it imitates. It is truly a very un-economic policy to leave such valuable articles unprotected.

I found this on the arm of one of the chairs in a class room.

May Be Offered in Second Term If Sufficient Number Desire It

Twenty students are taking the teachers' normal course in physical education for women this term. This course is a lecture and laboratory course, the practice periods coming as a regular gymnasium class. Playground work for children, games, etc., form the basis for the practice work.

PT 165, the normal course may be offered in the second term, Miss Jervey stated, if a sufficient number of students indicate a desire to take it. All students interested in professional physical training work and desiring this course should call at the gymnasium and talk to Miss Jervey or her assistant, Miss Hilda Molesworth, so that an indication of the demand for the course may be determined.

Shower for Miss Garza

Miss Rachel and Gertrude Summers entertained with an attractive shower in honor of Miss Connie Garza, a bride of the coming week, on Thursday evening.

Unique Chinese decorations which featured imported Chinese idols and rich embroideries recently brought to this country by Mrs. Fred Hancock formed a fitting setting for the motion picture story of the Chinese willow plate lovers, which was screened for the guests, and followed by the modern version of the story, which terminated with the arrival of the shower gifts, presented by two small Chinese laundries, Mary Helen and Charles Mobley.

Guests were required to enter the party rooms backward and seat themselves on cushions on the floor, afterwards demonstrating their skill in matters Chinese by writing the honor guest's romance in backward fashion. Refreshments did not escape the Chinese influence and were served on bamboo trays placed on the floor by little Misses Mary Louise and Catherine Hancock, dressed in authentic Chinese costumes.

Enjoying the Misses Summers' courtesy to Miss Garza were: Misses Hilda Molesworth, Ione Spears, Rachel Garza, Harriet Henderson, Agnes Henderson, Ethel Mary Franklin, Katherine Carfeur, Mildred Williams, Lorena Killyer, Margaret Segrest, Helen Hart, Millicent Hume, Aline Lovell, Elizabeth Lovell, Elizabeth Alley, Johnnie Gilkerson, Mary Walker, Ruth McMillan, Virginia Harper, Anna Bennett, Josephine Bennett, Mary Doak, Martha Doak, Faith Adams, Marion Penn, Sarah Penn, Elizabeth Penn, Etelka Schmidt, Mrs. J. ## MUSING DAY BY DAY

"Thanks brother 'Mid' for the very illuminating discourse on silence. 'Tis true, isn't it, that one may know what silence is and then not know enough to keep silent."

The prophets of old said: "Verily strange things shall come to pass and strange sights shall be seen." 'Tis true, 'tis true as one can readily see by gazing at those perching on the "buzzard roost."

A certain prof questioned a young lady at 10 o'clock class as to why she had not made her appearance before. She said it was the first day that she had been able to get up in time. Fellows, fellows—what a wonderful opportunity. Those sleepy eyes did not lie.

The romantic young lady may think that she can live on love alone but when she lives about a week on "spud" soup she is apt to change her mind.

They used to tell of wine in the good old days that would make a man think he was discoursing with angels—today he sends a hurry call below for an ambulance.

While musing in the hall of the Main Building, transparent cloth and piercing rays of sunlight kept thoughts from soaring in the sky. We moved back a pace or two to get a better view and lo! a cloud below o'er the sun. Moral: "Drink deeply but not too deep."

Do they think? Sometimes I doubt it. Self adornment, dancing, pleasure.

SCREEN SPOTLIGHTS

By Louis J. Hamlett

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Hancock: Tom Mix in "The Trouble Shooter" and Lloyd Hamilton in "No Luck."

Majestic: Agnes Ayres in "The Guilty One," a mystery drama. Queen: "A Son of the Sahara," featuring sheiks and dancing girls.

Sahara Film Showing at Queen Theater

Extraordinary characterization marks the screen version of "A Son of the Sahara," First National picture, produced by Edwin Carewe, in Algeria, which is fascinating patrons at the Queen Theater Friday and Saturday.

This does not apply alone to Bert Lytell and Claire Windsor, the leading players in the desert romance. It can be said of all the important members of the cast.

Notable work is done by Montagu Love, who plays two roles of widely contrasting type, and by Paul Panzer, who proves himself a consummate artist by carrying out three characterizations in masterful fashion.

Montagu Love first appears as an old Aab sheik, the Sultan Cassim Amme, and next as Colonel Barbier, commander of a French desert garrison. Paul Panzer is first seen as the lieutenant of the old Sultan, then as the aid of the young Sheik, and finally as the auctioneer in the Arab slave market. It is Panzer who auctions off Claire Windsor in the village square of a quaint Algerian community, Bert Lytell being the secret buyer of the beautiful slave.

Mystery-Drama Is Majestic Feature

There are mystery-dramas and mystery-dramas, but, we believe, the Joseph Henabery Paramount production of "The Guilty One," in which Agnes Ayres is featured in the principal role, is about the finest example of this type of picture we have seen to date.

The picture, which was shown for the first time in Austin at Majestic Theater last night, is by far the best Miss Ayres has ever done. In it she has a great story, a great cast and a role that suits her to perfection. Here's a picture in which Agnes has to act and wear beautiful gowns as well, and there's not a bit of doubt in anyone's mind but that she can do both—and does.

"The Guilty One" is a gripping drama, adapted from the stage play by that name in which Pauline Frederick scored such a hit, and which was unanimously acclaimed by critics as the big daddy of all mystery stories. Agnes Ayres plays the role Miss Frederick created—not only plays the part but handles it admirably. Edward Burns, leading man, is cast as the architect-husband in the production.

If you're looking for mystery, excitement, thrills, with just enough comedy mixed in to flavor it, "The Guilty One" will more than entertain you.

Wonder Horse Seen in Hancock Film

Admirers of "Tony," famous Tom Mix cow pony, will be delighted with the animal's cleverness and new adroitness in "The Trouble Shooter," which opened last night at the Hancock Theater.

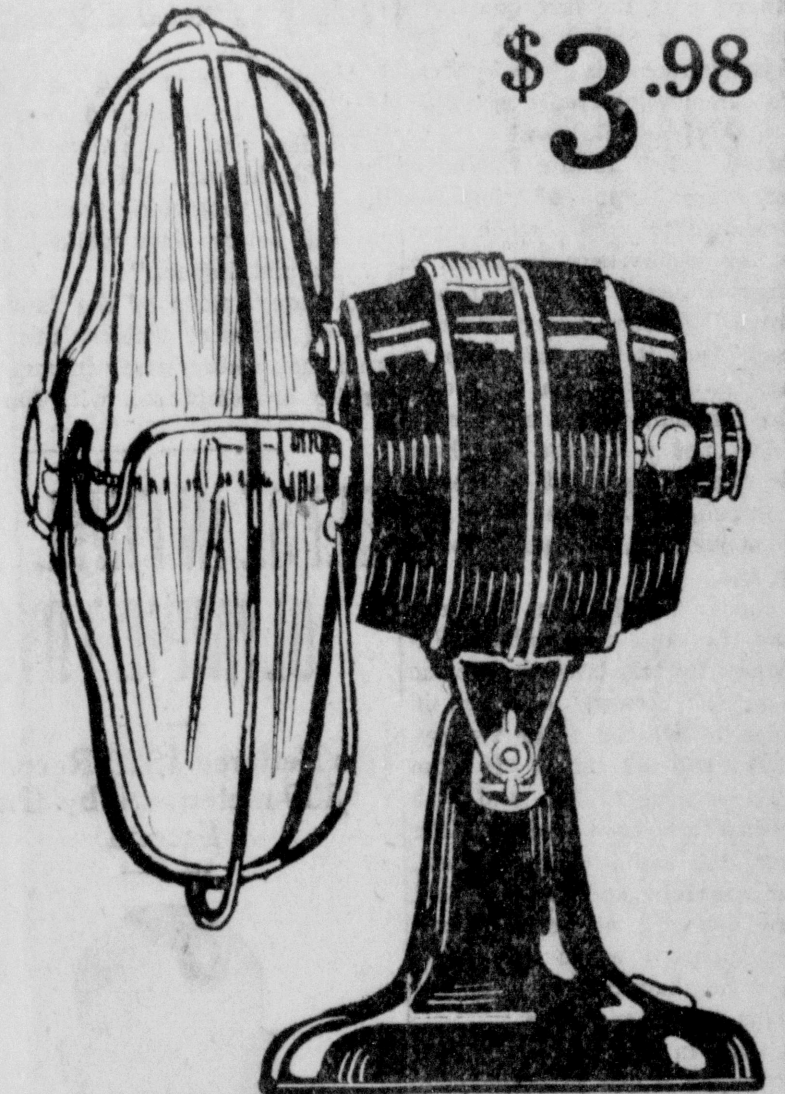

Perhaps the most daring run which Tony has ever made with Tom astride his back is in the present picture wherein the famous pony travels at break-neck speed over a high railway bridge, which spans a deep chasm in the gorges of Yosemite Valley, California. The runaway over which Tony carries his master is but a foot-wide plank between the rails. Immediately behind the horse and rider thunders a big locomotive and heavy train. Tony wins by less than a couple of seconds. The distance covered is approximately half a mile. A slip would throw horse and rider over the unguarded edge of the bridge to the gorge below, a sheer drop of five hundred feet.

"That may be an easy way to earn money, and I understand Tom Mix, gets a salary of $10,000 a week," commented the engineer of the big locomotive which followed horse and rider over the bridge, "but I wouldn't ride a horse over that even on a walk for all the Southern Pacific Railway."
