ARKANSAS TAKES FIRST GAME FROM LONGHORNS

BROWN FOR TEXAS PITCHES MAGNIFICENT GAME, BUT IS NOT ACCORDED NECESSARY SUPPORT. COSTLY ERRORS.

LAST GAME TO BE PLAYED TODAY

Texas lost a slow and uninteresting game to the visiting Arkansans Thursday by the narrow margin of two to one. Texas deserved to lose, for the umpire, who, by the by, was not a Texas man, made about half a dozen rank decisions, all of them against the visiting team. Texas has never needed the assistance of the officials to win her victories, and we much prefer to lose without his assistance than with it, if lose we must.

Brown, the Itasca boy, pitched a magnificent game for Texas, allowing the Jayhawkers but a single hit, which had no part in the counting. The Texans had men on the bases in nearly every inning, but could not get them across the plate.

Liddell's error gave Brownlee a life in the second, but the others were out. Walker hit safely in the third and was forced by Hughes. Wathen was hit by the pitcher, and Adamson came up with blood in his eye, but Hughes was caught asleep at the switch.

The Longhorns' tally was culled in the fourth. Adamson opened with a hit and was forced by Brownlee. Robertson hit safely, advancing Brownlee, and Weathered clouted a fast one to right which Horn juggled while Brownlee was crossing the pan. Robertson was caught on a vain attempt to perpetrate the squeeze play, and Stacy grounded out. Robertson opened with a hit in the seventh. Weathered was retired on three futile attempts to sacrifice, Stacy forced Robertson and was caught stealing.

A very excusable error by Walker on a fast one to right, and another by Brown, put the big pitcher in somewhat of a hole in the seventh, but he easily pulled out. Sample's hit and steal, and a base on balls to Miller made the visitors look dangerous in the seventh, but Liddell smashed into one of Brown's fast ones with his hands, the ball rolling fair and ending the agony. The visiting first baseman's hand was so badly hurt that he was obliged to retire from the game.

Brown retired McNemer in easy fashion in the eighth, but Tompkins waited, and was rewarded with four wide ones. Horn bunted, Brown tried to make it a double and threw wide to second, everybody being safe. Wilson bunted, and Brown could easily have caught the runner at third, but threw to first instead, and thereby lost the game.

Stokes hit an easy one to Robertson, who first booted the ball under the grand stand, and then contributed another error by throwing home after both of the runners had crossed the plate, Stokes taking second on the misplay. Milford ended the miserable half by flying out to Adamson.

Walker was given transportation at the opening of the first, Hughes struck out and Wathen acquired a scratch hit by means of a very rank decision by the umpire. As if in poetic justice for this unfair advantage, Adamson's terrific smash to right went straight at Horn, who caught the centerfielder at first by perfect fielding.

The Arkansans were quickly disposed of and Texas made her last effort. Again

TO THE STUDENTS.

The band wishes to take this opportunity of thanking those who volunteered to circulate subscription lists at the last campus concert, and those who subscribed. On account of this the band will be able to continue the campus concerts without giving an indoor pay concert. It appreciates the spirit of the students in making this donation, and hopes to come up to their expectations as a University organization.

TOURNAMENT BEGINS MONDAY

TENNIS PLAYERS TO COMPETE FOR PRIZES — ENTRANCE FEES REQUIRED OF CONTESTANTS.

All tennis players should take notice that the annual University tournament for novices and amateurs in both singles and doubles will commence on Monday, May 4.

If enough enter the novices, rackets will be awarded the winners both in singles and doubles. As usual, the winners of the amateurs, after defeating the present champions, will be awarded T's, in all probability, as in former years.

The entrance fees will be 50 cents per man for singles and 25 cents for doubles, and contestants may enter both the novice and amateur tournaments if they so desire. No one who has previously played in a tennis tournament may enter the novice tournament, but anyone may enter the amateur.

An effort will be made to get the Athletic Council to award T.A.A.'s to those playing in the amateur finals, who are defeated.

All desiring to enter the tournament should see one of the members of the schedule committee, M. L. Williams or B. M. Woods, and pay the entrance fee.

AINSWORTH MEETS DEATH

PROMINENT EX-STUDENT IS DROWNED WHILE CROSSING CONCHO RIVER—HAS MANY FRIENDS IN THE UNIVERSITY.

News has reached the University of the deplorable death of Mr. James F. Ainsworth, a young attorney of the San Angelo bar, and a former law student of the University of Texas who had intended to return and take his L.L. B. degree with the present Senior Law class. Information sufficiently accurate to justify a belief that Mr. Ainsworth was drowned in the recent flood of the Concho river was received at San Angelo on April 20.

He was at the time on a campaign tour for the democratic nomination for district attorney of the San Angelo district, and, entering the swollen stream in a buggy, was swept away.

The whole University joins in the general sorrow of his relatives and friends. Mr. Ainsworth was a graduate of the Academic Department and had done the work required for a law degree and would have taken it this year. All who knew him learned to love and respect him, and his early death comes as a great blow to all his friends. He was a young man of flattering prospects and much was expected of his professional career. His life has been cut short, but his memory still lives.

GOOD SPEAKING TONIGHT

THE RUSK AND ATHENAEUM MEMBERS ARE TO BE ENTERTAINED BY THE SOCIETY ORATORS—INTERESTING PROGRAMS.

ATHENAEUM.

The Athenaeum Literary Society will meet in its hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Now that the "Good Old Summer Time" is here, there is no reason why every member should not be present. Business is already "picking up" in the Athenaeum right along. A good program is expected tonight. The Athenaeum extends an invitation to all visitors to attend our meetings whenever they feel like so doing. The following is the program for tonight:

Declamation—Buckley.
Oration—Howell.
Declamation—Weeks.
Debate—"Resolved, That State Prohibition is Preferable to Local Option."
Affirmative—Cousins, Hoffman.
Negative—Warlick, Smoot.
Extempore—C. E. Renfro, McKean.
Parliamentary Drill—R. D. Jones, radical; I. Graves, conservative.

RUSK.

The Rusk requests your presence this evening at the rendering of the following program:

Orations—Boyles, A. B. Cox, M. H. Fryer.

Extempore—Mullican, Norville, S. M. Reeves.

Miss Sue Shelton has returned from a visit to her home in Waco. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary.

SENIOR ACADEMS MEET

DECIDE TO WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS ON ALL OCCASIONS—ARE ARRANGING FOR ENTERTAINMENTS.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Senior Academics was held Thursday. The meeting was presided over by a preponderance of Senior wit and dignity in the person of W. B. Smith.

A motion was passed to the effect that the Seniors would wear caps and gowns on all occasions at which the class appeared as a class, such as commencement Sunday, Alumni Day, and Commencement Day.

In addition to the usual Senior class functions, a trolley ride was planned and a Senior picnic determined upon. The time and place for these occasions will be determined by the following committees: Trolley ride, Messrs. Stephenson, Cohn and New; picnic, Misses Howell and Faith.

The picnic, which will probably be held at New Braunfels during examination week, will, with the enthusiasm which the committee is putting into it and the proper moonlight, be the most pleasant occasion of the Senior year. It will probably be made an annual function of the Senior class.

J. A. Harley will be out of town for a few days.

THE NEXT PICNIC.

Everybody who likes an old-fashioned barbecue is delighted to learn that the annual spring picnic given by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations will take that form this year. Plenty of good things to eat and a good time are being prepared for every University student. Remember the day, May 1, and the starting place, the Woman's Building, and the time, 4:45 p. m.—and don't forget your tin cup.

"FLACHSMANN AS EDUCATOR"

PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY THE MEMBERS OF THE GERMANIA LITERARY SOCIETY.

The most sensational affair among the members of the Germania is the play, "Flachsmann as Educator," which is to be given at the University Auditorium on Friday, May 1. Mr. E. R. Stieler, the manager, has been hard at work getting everything ready. The last practice showed a considerable improvement in the acting of most parts. All parts are well filled and under the able management of Dr. Primer, Prof. Metzenthin and Prof. Kuehne great results may be expected. Do not forget to come to the play. Further information will appear in Wednesday's Texan.

The University of Nebraska students are taking an active part in the campaign against saloons. Last week a monster parade marched through the streets of Lincoln, bearing local option banners.

MANY STUDENTS AT NEW BRAUNFELS PICNIC

STUDENTS CELEBRATE SAN JACINTO DAY IN GREAT FASHION. MR. LANDA'S COURTESY IS APPRECIATED.

OVER 600 STUDENTS ATTEND

Once again the annual San Jacinto day picnic is a thing of the past, but those who were fortunate enough or wise enough to attend the affair concur in the opinion that sufficient fun was experienced to last over until the 21st of April once more rolls around. Fully six hundred students anxiously watched the threatening rain clouds of last Monday night, and when on Tuesday morning the sun rose bright and clear, it was a jolly crowd that started out to enjoy the day.

At 8:30 a. m. the picnic special train, consisting of eight coaches with every seat taken, started for Landa's park. The run out from Austin to New Braunfels proved only of the desired duration to furnish a cool and pleasant morning ride. The excursion arrived at Landa's park shortly before 11 o'clock, and the students were soon lost amid the beautiful green groves and meandering streams, or were enjoying the pleasure furnished by the row boats on the large lake bordered by the scenic clusters of caladiums, bananas and palms, and adorned with its hundreds of aquatic plants and lilies. All morning various groups wandered about the park or spent the hours upon the lake.

For several days it had been rumored that there would be a splendid lunch, bounteous enough to feed the largest possible crowd of hungry students, and it was well that the dinner committee

THE M. K. & T. LEAGUE.

For a number of years the University has shown a strange apathy in all matters of forensics and oratory. This is a constant source of surprise to the older alumni who were here in the halcyon days when debating was the most important and the most enthusiastically supported of any student activity. Some trace the cause of this lethargy to the rise of local society as spelled with a big "S"—and to the development of athletics. The main cause, however, lies in the fact that the strongest men in the Law Department take on more work than they can well carry, with the result that they have to forego everything that looks like a side issue.

This is not well for the University or for the students. We are a large enough institution to hold our own with the strongest schools of the west, while doing as much along every line as they. Missouri and Kansas each have four debates annually, and Oklahoma three. We have never had more than two regular debates in any one year. Debating is enthusiastically supported there, and does not arouse nearly so much interest here. However, there was something of a revival this year, owing partly to the fact that the question was announced last spring, but largely to judicious advertising given by the local semi-weekly. At a recent meeting the Oratorical Association voted the "T and Gavel" to the intercollegiate representatives. This will give a very desirable and effective incentive, and can not but have favorable results.

At present we have debating relations with both Kansas and Missouri for next year. These institutions both debate each other. No reason is apparent why we should not form with them a triangular league, allowing each school to send out two teams, one to debate at home, the other at Columbia or Kansas. The fact that each school would have a team representing each side of the question would insure careful and thorough work. The size of the schools and above all the big, broad spirit they manifest in those matters will contribute to an interest on the part of the student body here.

It has already been remarked that Oklahoma has three annual debates. We can certainly carry as many. We have the strongest law school west of the Mississippi, and as large a student body. There are many reasons why we should debate Oklahoma. That school is closest to us. Many of its students are native Texans. We have the closest possible kinship in sympathies and interests with that new state and its University.

Moreover, the question of finances hardly enters. The route is direct, and quick time is made, so that expenses are light. By all means the Oratorical Association should arrange to debate Oklahoma as well as Kansas and Missouri. The objection that we have not enough good debaters can not stand in the face of actual facts, since each year sees men lose out, who, everybody knows, are stronger than some of those who get on. We have enough good debaters, and the one objection of finances can easily be met by the stimulated interest of an enthusiastic Oratorical Association and a slightly enlarged membership in the literary societies.

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET.

Throughout the state and at the University, interest in the coming state scholastic meet continues to grow. The meet is now less than a week off, being scheduled for next Thursday, April 30. Almost daily letters are received, not only from the schools which will take part in the meet, but from schools which are interested but unable this year to take part; and from people wholly disconnected with any school, asking particulars of the meet and expressing an intention of being present next Thursday.

Many letters have been received from as many different schools in Texas, asking that the meet this year be heralded abroad as the first annual state scholastic meet. This means the formation of an association to which all high schools and preparatory schools of the state would be admissible. So general has the idea of such an association, organized for the purpose of holding an annual track meet, become that we feel confident some definite action will be taken in the near future; and we feel little hesitancy in proclaiming this the first of the regular annual meets of the preparatory schools and high schools of the state. All schools wishing to become members of the association, and not having already made known this desire, will notify Manager Boothe of the Texas Track team or J. P. Howser, director of gymnastics at the University of Texas, immediately. By the formal announcement of this intention the schools thus replying will become charter members of the association, and will have an equal voice in the formation of the association, which will probably be effected by the track men from the different schools next Thursday.

Most of the schools which will have teams here next Thursday have organized bands of rooters—both girls and boys—to accompany their respective teams to Austin. Bands will be playing, pennants from ten or fifteen different schools will be waving, and a real gala day is expected.

MANY STUDENTS ATTEND NEW BRAUNFELS PICNIC.

had planned with such care, for when the lunch call sounded, it was six hundred students with sharpened appetites who dashed for the heavily laden tables. Despite the fact that every person seemed contesting with his neighbor as to whom could eat the heartiest meal, T. Ball and McKay, the honored caterers of the day, continued to produce a seemingly inexhaustible supply of substantial and deserts from the lunch boxes and baskets which had been so liberally filled by the various fraternities, sororities, B. Hall, Woman's Building, Grace Hall and other boarding houses. The committee to secure the lunch for the day consisted of T. Ball, chairman; B. M. Boods, Mark Hanna and Murray Ramsey, and it is due to the excellent work of these men that the picnics enjoyed the feast of the day. Mr. McKay and T. Ball took charge of the tables and they certainly carried out the provisions of the old adage which points the rumored way to a student's heart.

After dinner, the University band, with its usual propensity of being on hand whenever the students want it, struck up a lively tune in the large pavilion and for the next hour the students enjoyed the attractions of the open-air dance. A recess now occurred and the boys and girls, armed with cameras, once more explored the park, took in the sights of the city, or securing boats, many parties rowed up the lake and spent the remaining hours on the cool water under the overhanging boughs of the great trees which everywhere border the lake and streams.

Late in the afternoon the band again came loyally to the aid of the picnics and dancing remained the attraction until the train whistled for the return. The trip back was one round of merriment and song, and it was a thoroughly satisfied student body which reached Austin at 10 o'clock.

Much of the pleasure of the day's picnic was due to the courtesy of Mr. Landa, owner of the park, who could not do enough to accommodate the crowd of picnics. Thanks must also be extended to Messrs. Davenport, Alexander and Wagner who managed the question of transportation. Not a hitch or a single unpleasant occurrence blotted the day's round of enjoyment, and it is generally conceded that Tuesday's picnic was the most delightful ever indulged in by the students.

ARKANSAS TAKES FIRST GAME FROM LONGHORNS.

the umpire came to our assistance, and generously presented Weathered with transportation to first, after Brownlee and Robertson had been retired. Hendricks was sent in to run instead of Weathered, and Johnson went to bat in Stacy's place. He arose to the occasion and slipped in a slow one to Stokes, which he beat out a block. Hendricks streaked for third and had the base made by blocks, when he sprained his ankle and fell, and there was nothing left for the Jayhawkers to do but toss the ball across the diamond and touch him out. Again it looked like poetic justice, though Hendricks certainly did not deserve to be its votary.

AT OTHER UNIVERSITIES.

The agricultural department at the University of Wisconsin is experimenting with hemp growing.

Yale's 16-pound hammer throw record is 161 feet, this mark being recently made by Carrol Cooney, a football man.

The Seniors of DePauw have presented a steel flag pole 150 feet high to the University.

Wisconsin has won the "western intercollegiate gymnastic championship."

Chicago taking second and Minnesota third place.

Michigan students who are under arrest for participation in the recent riot, received $92.50 from the recent benefit performance at an Ann Arbor theater.

During the past three weeks the Yale athletes have been engaged in spring football practice, under the direction of ex-Captain Biglow.

The inter-class baseball series at Purdue extends nearly two months. It began on April 14, and the last game will not be played until June 6.

Columbia University of New York has established a professorship of humanity, probably the first of its kind in the world. We have heard of freak courses, but never of such a freak as this.

The Student Dramatic Club at Iowa has chosen its next play, a comedy of a very superior and serious order, the committee deciding upon Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being in Earnest."

Each student of the University of Kansas contributes two dollars to the support of student enterprises. This does away with all the annoyance of a quest for library deposits, and is a precedent which we would like to see established here.

Universities all over the country are holding national conventions for the nomination of presidential candidates. Northwestern has already nominated LaFollette, and at Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan, favorite sons will shortly step in for their share of free advertising.

At Syracuse recently, a squad of several uniformed policemen patrolled the campus to quell a demonstration that one of the city papers had said was being planned on the occasion of the trial of several students arrested for alleged participation in a theater riot. No disturbance resulted, and the policemen were called off.

Minnesota tennis players are arranging for intercollegiate matches with Missouri and Chicago.

Under the leadership of Captain Stefan and Coach Stagg, spring football practice will be indulged in at Chicago during most of the spring term.

Northwestern University, which resumes intercollegiate football after being deprived of it for two years, will play only three games next fall. They are with Beloit, Purdue and Illinois.

RADIATOR.VICISSITUDES OF BOARDING-HOUSE HASH.

It's a thing that comes with spring—
Never fails—
Quite a customary thing
That Prevails
Midst the ladies giving meals—
Starve a fellow 'till he squeals,
And his very blood congeals
'Till he swales!

In the fall and winter months —
Seems absurd—
By her many kitchen stunts
You were stirred;
She had mutton, veal, all meats,
All the vegetables and wheats,
Mixing fruits and ample sweets,
I have heard.

Then your every wish was sought
Every day,
And to please you things were bought,
Strange to say;
What a sumptuous board she set,
All your appetite to whet—
Now you think with vain regret
Of this day.

Note the changes wrought by time,
If you please;
Fares that more as does the clime,
Ample ease;
Now 'tis bacon, beans, and bread,
All with stiff molasses wed—
Just a myriad flies have fed
In the teas!

If you know a quick reply
Tell me true,
Tell if such is done and why
Thus to you;
Why do "ration ladies" stop,
Just as spring begins to pop,
Serving else except mere slop
As they do?

CALHOUN RECEIVES HONORS.

The following letter, recently received at the Texan office, will prove of interest to the law students:

Beaumont, Texas, April 22, 1908.
Editor The Texan, University of Texas, Austin, Texas.

Dear Sir: Knowing that you are always anxious to record any honor conferred upon an ex-student, I beg leave to call your attention to the fact that at the last meeting of the county commissioners of Jefferson county, Mr. A. Ludlow Calhoun, L.L. B. '06, was appointed as justice of the peace of precinct No. 1, Jefferson county, Texas, for the unexpired term of Sam Holmes, resigned.

During his first week, Judge Calhoun has "sat" on two corpses, one being a suicide, the other a boy who accidentally shot himself.

Judge Calhoun's chances for election are excellent if advices of his campaign manager may be believed; he has no opponent. Very truly yours,
AN EX-STUDENT

NOTICE, SENIORS!

Caps and gowns may be rented or bought through the Co-op. Measurements must be taken by Wednesday, April 22. Please attend to this at once, as it will take some time to have the garments made. Those desiring to rent must also be fitted by Wednesday.

Ivan Doreff, the Chicago football star, spent $125 of his own money and went $110 in debt before he could secure employment for four hundred of his fellow countrymen who were starving in Chicago. These four hundred Bulgarians had left home and been lured to America, "the land of promise," by trick steamship agents. Doreff's personal self-sacrifice in effecting their rescue is something of which all college men should feel proud.

After a long period of suspense, the board of regents of Mississippi has decided to allow football to retain its place among University athletics, and the students are correspondingly jubilant.

The Juniors at Southwestern were recently prevented from giving a play at Ravinia Park by Chicago anarchists, who over-bid them for the theater, and tore down their posters about town. The baffled Juniors contented themselves by tearing down all the anarchist posters they could find.

BIBLE LECTURES END

MISS BLODGETT LEAVES—ATTENDANCE AT HER LECTURES AVERAGES TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE.

Miss Mary N. Blodgett, who has been in the city for two weeks, left a few days ago to go to Pine Bluff, Ark., where she will give a series of lectures on the Bible, similar to those which she gave in this University.

Miss Blodgett came to us under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, which extended a cordial invitation to all University women as well as all women in the city who were interested in Bible study, to take advantage of the course which she offered. This course consisted of eleven lectures; in the first seven of these lectures, Miss Blodgett drew forceful lessons from the women of the Old Testament, beginning with Eve and treating in turn Sarah, Rahab, Ruth, Hannah, and Jezebel. The last four lectures were designed to be even more practical and helpful than the first ones. With unerring knowledge of the Bible and a rare gift in discerning the underlying principles of things, Miss Blodgett turned to the New Testament, and through its pages showed the practical workings of a Christian's daily life. On the last day, Miss Blodgett spent two hours in answering questions which had been dropped in a box for that purpose by various people who wished to ask questions which had not been discussed in the preceding lectures. These questions ranged all the way from a doubt, as to the divine inspiration of the Bible, to the much discussed question about doubtful pleasures. The answers were definite and logical, and it was with regret that the crowd had to leave before all the questions had been discussed.

Miss Blodgett is pre-eminently a woman who appeals to women. An attendance on her lectures averaging two hundred and twenty-five is ample proof that she had a message which the women of Austin and of the University appreciated. She not only has a thorough knowledge of her subject, but her reasoning and her method of presentation are remarkably logical. We feel that this course has offered a rare opportunity for a systematic study of the Bible.
