FIRST COLLEGE DAILY IN THE SOUTH

AUSTIN, TEXAS, MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1919

NO. 128

The outlook for a corner of the championship market looks considerably brighter since the six "walk-a-ways" of last week.

The Leaguers visit Austin Friday and Saturday. What, student, rooming house or boarding house can not lend a helping hand?

GLEN SWIGGETT TO MAKE SPEECH ON NEXT MONDAY

Noted Speaker and Public Worker to Discuss "Training for Business"

Dr. Glen Levin Swiggett, a widely known public lecturer and specialist along educational subjects will be a visitor of the University for the purpose of delivering a lecture Monday night, May 5, at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. His lecture will be on the general subject-matter of "Training for Business."

Dr. Swiggett is a specialist in Commercial Education, and is now connected with the U. S. Bureau of Education at Washington. His career as a member of committees has been varied and unlimited. He was organizing secretary of the first conference ever held in the United States to discuss the problem of training for foreign service and was appointed by the commissioner of education, subsequent to that conference, chairman of the committee of fifteen on education preparation for foreign service.

Among other things he has served as chairman of the sub-committee on commercial education of section IV of the Second Pan-American Scientific Congress. Also he was chairman of the committee on foreign trade of the Knoxville Board of Commerce, and is still representing that commercial body as national counselor in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Swiggett holds degrees of A. B. and A. M. from the University of Indiana, and Ph. D. from the University of Pennsylvania. His speech will not only be highly entertaining and pleasing, but will also be of intrinsic value intellectually.

CINDER SEASON CHANCES GREAT

Defeat of A. & M. on Saturday Adds Greatly to Longhorns' Prospects for 1919

With the favorable outcome of the dual meets with Baylor and with A. & M. the prospects for the 1919 track season have brightened considerably. A good deal of talent has developed from the ranks and if present indications are kept up Texan will make a clean sweep of all pennants for this year. As a matter of fact, the defeat of A. & M. at College Station last Saturday gave the Longhorns the State Championship over the Aggies in this sport. If the time maintains the stride they have kept up for the past week or two, A. & M. will have to admit the superiority of Texas over them in all branches of sport, for they lost out in football, basketball, and track.

Two more meets are scheduled for Coach Juneau's men before the cinder season becomes a thing of the past. The next will be with Oklahoma at Norman on next Friday. The last will be with the Southwestern Inter-collegiate Conference meet at Dallas on May 9 and 10.

For the first meet, the chances are about fifty-fifty. Oklahoma has shown a lot of good men on the track this season while Texas has done likewise. Some especially notable men are Abbott and McGee who are both said to be 10 1-5 second men on the 100 yard dash. Against them Texas has Joe Moss who can cover the distance in as short a time. In the quarter mile they have Pendleton, a 53 second man, who will be opposed by Russell and Wilcoxson, both of whom are hovering around that same record. For a mile runner Vahlburg is the Oklahoma best bet. He has a record of about 4:43. Johnnie Gray and Jeff Neeley can both run this time a good race. Their high hurdler Stoggs and Joe Moss will run a good race, but Joe probably has the edge on him. McGee, their 220 yard hurdler has only about a 26 second best. Moss has this beat. In field events the Oklahomans are especially strong in weights, and in the pole vault. They are weak in the high jump and the shot put. For broad jumpers they have two 21 feet men, Boyle and Abbott. Two others, Boyle and Sharpe claim 11 feet as polevaulters. Two discus men, White and Hayley

JUNE 7 WILL BE BIGGEST DAY IN SEVERAL YEARS

Returned Soldiers Will Be Shown Best Time Possible on the Campus

To every University student the privilege is extended to make Saturday, June 7, the biggest day since the "good old days" when the boys went to war. This is to be accomplished by a reunion of ex-students and students under the auspices of the present student body. The idea is to attempt to show in a small way the gratitude they owe to those returning Texas boys in uniform. The students who were so fortunate as to be here during the exciting days when patriotism and "pep" ran riot are anxious to show these men from the firing line that the old Texas spirit they knew is by no means a thing of the past.

Definite plans for this student and ex-student reunion have not yet been made, but the whole thing rests entirely with the students themselves. Only by their cooperation and personal engineering of the plans will the reunion be a success. In order to have this big celebration during commencement, the students will have to override all precedent and stay for commencement. The day proposed is Saturday, June 7, which is the last day of examinations.

Roughly, the plans are to have reception committees of some 100 girls and 100 boys scattered around on the campus to meet the ex-students, show them about, and generally make them feel at home. The students are to put on the shows and plans are under consideration for holding the Varsity Circus at this time. A military band, a group of planes, and about 1,000 soldiers from San Antonio will be over for the gala occasion. In addition, it is strongly rumored that by June, the 90th Division will be home from France and Germany, bringing with it a great number of ex-students eager to get home and almost equally eager to visit their Alma Mater again.

No patriotic Texas student will care to miss this, the greatest day since the whole student body stood with palpitating hearts and proud eyes as the first Texas University volunteers left for training camps.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS

Mrs. McClure Tells Students of Experiences as Teacher in India

Mrs. R. R. McClure, field secretary for the Student Volunteers has been on the campus for the last two or three days bringing before the student body the necessities and the opportunities for work in the foreign fields. She is a returned missionary from India, having spent twelve years working with the Student Volunteers, but she expects to return to work soon.

Since her arrival in Austin, Mrs. McClure has been very active. Saturday she met with the members of the local Student Volunteer Band, telling them of her experience in the Eastern countries. Yesterday morning she spoke to the members of the Sunday school classes taught by Miss Decherd and Miss Casis. After this she went out to Tillotson College, making two talks there. Last night she gave her main speech, talking to the union meeting of all the University young peoples' societies, making the subject of what she said "The Needs of India." She showed from incidents that have come under her personal observation the tremendous opportunities there are in that country for workers to be of great benefit to the natives of that country. In chapel this morning, Mrs. McClure again told of the need for workers, reading lists of the kinds of calls that were being made by church boards at the present time. Today is the last day of her stay in town, and she is using her time in giving conferences to all those who are interested in learning more about the conditions and how they can do their bit in helping to clear up the situation.

TEN SPECIALISTS SLATED TO SPEAK AT Y. W. MEETING

Vocational Conference to Present Views Regarding Need of Women in Professions

Specialists in nine different professions will speak at the vocational conference to be held at the University of Texas on April 28 and 29. These speakers are coming to the University under the auspices of the student department of the Southwestern Field Committee of the Y. W. C. A., and will present to the student body a synopsis of the present day need for women in professions other than teaching.

Miss Helen Bennett, director of the Chicago Collegiate Bureau of Occupations will be one of the first speakers. She will deal with the opportunities for trained women in journalism and business administration, and the necessary training to be acquired during the college course.

Miss Lehman of the Titcher-Goettinger store has been unusually successful, and she will discuss the work in a very practical way.

Miss Boyd, director of the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy will discuss social service work in a number of its branches, including probation office work, the work of women in juvenile courts, and community recreation hall directorship.

Miss Lily B. Campbell, former student of the University and for some time professor of English in the University of Wisconsin, will tell of the many opportunities offered in the work of the Young Women's Christian Association. Miss Campbell is now executive secretary of the South-west Field, and is thoroughly informed regarding the Association work.

Mrs. Charles Ramsdell, of Austin, will talk on the work of laboratory assistants. Mrs. Ramsdell has made a success of this work herself, and will discuss several of the different opportunities in this profession.

Miss Margaret Hessler, instructor and research assistant in home economics at the University of Texas will handle the field of home economics. She will give a general survey of the opportunities for women trained in this work who do not wish to teach. Miss Louise Bray will discuss the county demonstration work, telling especially of the present demand for this work in Texas.

Public health nursing, infant welfare work, and hospital work will be discussed by Miss Holliday, a graduate of Johns Hopkins and head of the nurses training school of the

S. A. STOLAROFF ANNOUNCES FOR CACTUS EDITOR

El Paso Student, a Sophomore, Has Been Connected With This Year's Edition

S. A. Stolaroff, of El Paso, Texas, is the first candidate to announce for the office of editor of the 1920 Cactus. Mr. Stolaroff, a sophomore academic student, has been doing a great part on the art end of the 1919 year-book. Besides the work he has been doing all the year on this annual, he spent three weeks helping to edit this Cactus, the great success of which is now assured.

Mr. Stolaroff has had an unmeasurable amount of experience putting out annuals. He was engaged in editing the annual of the San Diego, California, in the years of 1915-16 and 1916-17. The "Cadet," this annual, is very widely read, as graduates of this school are fitted for West Point and Annapolis.

"By reason of this experience, first on the 'Cadet,' and then this year on the Cactus, I feel qualified to ask the support of the student body for the editorship of the 1920 Cactus," said Mr. Stolaroff, "and if elected, I shall bend every spare moment and all of my energy in putting out a greater book, which shall endeavor to depict the true life of the University."

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A joint memorial service was held at the University Methodist Church yesterday honoring Abe Mulkey, the first man to ever take up a collection for that church. This collection was taken up among a little group of people gathered together in a ten which was stretched on the same spot that the church now stands on.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

MAY 1, 2 AND 3

There will be a general meeting of all committeemen for the Interscholastic Meet at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow at 12:10 p. m. All members that have been selected must be there. Excuses will be granted by the deans of the respective departments. At this meeting league buttons will be given the members and the ribbon badges to the chairmen.

Those who find it impossible to serve as they have been appointed should report to the chairman of their committee to be excused. The chairmen are as follows: Publicity committee, George McGee, chairman; train committee, Donald Nail, chairman; registration committee, Helen Mather, chairman; girls' accommodation and entertainment committee, Jeanie Pinckney; boys' accommodation on campus, Tom Gatlin, chairman; boys' accommodation off campus, Earnest May, chairman; entertainment for boys, Reagan Huffman, chairman; parcel checking committee, St. John Garwood, chairman; music committee, Dick Walraven and Leon Stanley.

Each chairman will direct the work of his committee, as will be outlined in the general meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Final returns are coming in daily from the district contests over the State and a complete record has been prepared of the winners.

Oklahoma A. & M., Oklahoma University, S. M. U. and T. C. U. Fail to Make Hole in Disch's Record.

CO-ED EDITION OF "TEXAN" WILL APPEAR TUESDAY

Mab Harrison to Issue Paper With Maud Milam as Editorial Writer

The Co-ed Edition of the Texan, always eagerly awaited each year is scheduled to appear Tuesday.

The staff is as follows: Mab Harrison, issue editor; Ruby Black, assistant; Maud Milam, editorial writer; Mabel Singleton, sport; Wanda Whitman, cartoonist; Betty Mathis, society; Septima Smith, smiles column; Mary Keblinger, college notes; Kathryn Quarles, poetry. All other co-eds on the staff will be given assignments.

From the interest shown in the work by co-ed workers and the number of feature stories being planned, indications are that the paper is to be as successful as is usually the case under feminine management. Examination of last year's issue shows that the co-eds are quite capable of getting out an excellent paper without masculine aid. Of last year's staff two members, Mab Harrison and Jesse Mary Mill, remain this year. Miss Harrison, this year's editor-in-chief, was editorial writer last year.

LOCHWITZSKY POSTPONES TALK

Conflict With Vocational Conference Is Cause—Will Be Given Later

Many will be disappointed by the postponement of Captain Lochwitzsky's talk scheduled for Tuesday night on the subject "The Ethics of Courtship." This has been made necessary by a conflict in dates between Captain Lochwitzsky's lecture and the Vocational Conference lectures to be given at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on that night. The disappointment need not be permanent, however, for, with his usual courtesy, Captain Lochwitzsky has agreed to speak again, and the lecture will probably be given next week at a time to be announced later.

PICNIC SATURDAY

About thirty-five young people met at the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon to go on the picnic that was scheduled for three o'clock. After waiting a few minutes to allow any stragglers there might be to come up, the crowd walked over to Shoal Creek and went up to Split Rock. Here a fire was built and the provisions were brought into sight. They consisted in the main of "weenies" and buns. The meat was cooked over the flames and the bread was toasted, the two being combined to make up one of the best possible sandwiches. After cleaning up everything in view, the journey back home was commenced, and the picnic was soon finished.

KARIEL LECTURES

One of the most interesting lectures of its kind given this year was made by L. W. Kariel, assistant in the School of Chemistry, at the meeting of the Texas Chemical Club held last Friday night. His subject was: "Beet Sugar Refining."

Mr. Kariel has been employed in one of the largest refineries in the mid-west and was in a position to speak from practical experience. He discussed in detail the treatment received by the beets from the time they first entered the plant to the day they left as pure white sugar ready for use over the country. He gave figures on the production capacity, and added sidelights to the topic that made it a thoroughly instructive one.

S. M. U. VICTIM OF VARSITY NINE ON HOME STRETCH

Six Games, Six Victories, Is Result of Tour by Baseball Men

Texas continued its winning streak by defeating the S. M. U. Mustangs by the score of 8 to 5 at Dallas last Saturday. The game was replete with the heavy hitting of both teams, but Texas held the edge on fielding and robbed the Methodists of many hits. Falk and McCullough did the heaviest stick-work for the Texans, while McKnight and Ostott starred for the Mustangs.

Texas started the old adding machine humming in the second inning and ran up a pair of tallies. S. M. U. came back strong in the third and scored four runs on timely hits by Ostott and McKnight, both of which went for three bases. McNamara was relieved by Barry, who held the Southerners helpless for the rest of the game by allowing only six scattered hits.

S. M. U. held the lead until the fifth inning, when Texas took a liking to the offerings of Loftice, and ran up three more scores. Falk stepped on one of Loftice's benders for a home run over the right field fence. This was one of the longest hits ever seen at S. M. U. Texas added three more runs to the score in the eighth and ninth innings. S. M. U. annexed a lone run in a belated ninth-inning rally.

Falk and McCullough played havoc with Loftice and demoralized his support. Besides securing three hits in three times at bat, Falk also scored three Texas runs. McCullough batted .667 for the day and crossed the plate twice.

The box score:

Texas—	AB	H	PO	A	E
Pace, rf	.....	4	1	1	0	0
McCullough, 2b	...	4	3	5	2	0

J. W. SHEPHERD IS VISITOR AT ROUND TABLE, SAN ANTONIO

J. W. Shepherd of the Visual Instruction Division of the Extension Department was a guest of the Pan-American Round Table at its lunch today at the Gunter Hotel, San Antonio. He gave there an illustrated lecture on Chile and influences affecting our trade relations with South America.

Slides illustrating the lecture were prepared by the Visual Instruction Division of the Extension Department. These slides indicate the growth in our trade since the beginning of the war, and also show German influences in Chile. The distances to be traversed by America and Europe are likewise compared; and scenes illustrating poor wharf facilities in South America have also been made. With these a number of interesting Chilean scenes are included. These pictures are drawn from many sources and form a valuable record of South American commercial conditions.

IS NOT THE VICTORY LOAN WORTH WHILE?

We are in the midst of a campaign for the fifth and last Liberty Loan of the United States Government to meet debts, current expenses, and future outgoes directly resulting from the war. It is felt by some that since the war is over, further loans are unnecessary, and that this loan is merely an attempt on the part of the government to raise money by capitalizing the patriotic impulses of the people, that were aroused during the war. Such a contention is preposterous, and as un-American as its authorship itself. The country is in vital need of the four and one-half billions of dollars asked for, and the loan itself is a most business-like and sound plan of financing.

Although the war is over, the process of demobilization is necessarily going on slowly. As a result, large numbers of troops are still in service, and will be for several more months. Vast quantities of ammunition and other supplies were being produced on a quantity scale at the time of the armistice, and in the stopping of this production and the disposal of the extra supplies on hand much loss has occurred. The Expeditionary Force is still overseas, and must be maintained while there, and brought safely home. All of this makes the Government in urgent need of large sums of money.

A bond issue is the best way of raising money for this big need. It is more popular with the average investor than a straight lending proposition, and of course safer for the government. It commands a lower rate of interest, and hence will keep taxes lower. It spreads out over future years part of our heavy war cost. This bond issue is the last one of the war. It's the "Victory" issue. It replaces perhaps a dozen or more issues that might have been necessary had the war continued. It is a direct challenge to us from our victorious soldiers, and our response will be a measure of our appreciation of their services.

From a financial viewpoint, the loan is satisfactory to the investor. Four and three-quarters percent of interest is an excellent return on such a safe investment as a government bond. Moreover the bonds have exemptions from income and other taxes that make them quite attractive. They can be purchased on an installment plan through local banks, and they are low enough in denomination to come within the reach of all.

All four of the former loans were over-subscribed, and Americans showed themselves to be one hundred percent patriotic and loyal. The subscriptions to this loan must average two-thirds of those made to the Fourth Loan. Every reason of sentiment, patriotism, logic, and self-respect insists that we "carry on" until the end, and over-subscribe this final loan. Americans, it is up to you. How much shall we invest?

WHAT IS THE UNIVERSITY'S RESPONSE?

A campaign for subscriptions among the faculty members is going on today. They are doing their share. What of the students? No campaign has been organized, none have been solicited, and but few have bought bonds. Shall we not have a convocation, parade, or some other means of emphasizing the importance of the loan, and by all means have a definite part in it?

CHAPEL NOTICE

Mrs. McClure, traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, spoke at Chapel this morning. In the few minutes at her disposal, Mrs. McClure presented to the students the opportunities in the non-Christian lands for trained leadership. The fact that America did not declare war on Turkey has opened the whole of the world to Christian Missions. This is typical of all the mission fields at this time. Along with this new access to the fields goes a deepening sense of their tremendous needs. Christian Missions are no longer limited to purely religious instruction. Industrial Mission work is accomplishing great things in making people happier, healthier, and more intelligent, as well as making them Christian. A list of definite positions that are now open for students in foreign lands was read. It included athletic directors, domestic science teachers, English teachers, as well as doctors, and nurses, and preachers.

Judge Townes will be at Chapel the rest of the week.

FIRING LINE

ANY ANSWER?

It is said that there is every prospect that the Ninetieth Division will be back in this country by June. This division contains a large number of University men. They have seen service and have made real sacrifices. They have not seen their University friends for more than a year. And we, their University friends, will be more than glad to see them.

It was with this in view, as well as a feeling that the University ought to do something to show its appreciation for the work of men and women in uniform generally, that the suggestion was made that the celebration this commencement season be held in honor of the boys in the service. Admittedly we do honor them, but, strangely enough, the feeling seems to be that the students will not care to show them the honor of staying to see them here Saturday, June 7, the last day of exam week.

If it were a matter calling for money loss to students it might be different. If it were a matter of sacrifice of pleasure there might be some ground for a general exodus of students. But it is proposed to have a whole fleet of battle planes here; the Assembly has been asked to stage the Circus on the Saturday preceding commencement Sunday; it is hoped to obtain war movies on the campus of a character such as has never been shown in the South before. The famous Harris-Toombs Stock Company will certainly be invited to appear, if the members of it can both be reached. These and any other attractions that the students may wish, within the bounds of possibility, are expected to be on tap. But after all it is up to the student. Will he stay? Will he? Will you?

Your soldiers will have a good time. You will have a good time, and the University will reap much of benefit from the renewing in the hearts of our visitors the ties of loyalty and fellowship. Have we a University consciousness? The answer to the question will be plain on the campus according as it is people with a student body bent on showing honor to our distinguished visitors, or as it is stripped of their presence.

Think it over. Then say what you think?

LYNN W. LANDRUM.

Why shouldn't the students have a Victory Liberty Loan Parade sometime within the near future. The time and occasion are now ripe for our having one of the greatest parades ever held in our University's career. Let us have a parade which will surpass the one on Loyalty Day in the Spring of 1917 or the famous "Parade of Protest" held the same year. As far as material, ability and incentive are concerned, we should be able to have the greatest demonstration ever held by our student body.

Now that the mid-terms are over and time for such an undertaking could be easily spared it seems nothing more than our bare duty that we should have some such demonstration.

Active steps should be begun immediately and capable agents chosen who would formulate plans at once to put over the snappiest, peppiest parade that a good cause has ever had us work for.

UNION MEETING TONIGHT

There will be a business-social meeting at all the Christian Endeavor Societies of Austin tonight at 7:30 at the Hyde Park Presbyterian Church. The business portion of the union meetings is always interesting and lively, to say nothing of the social functions. The Union has been asked to stage a World-wide Mission Pageant for the great State Convention to be held at San Antonio in June. The answer is to be discussed tonight. All members of the Highland Presbyterian Society and as many other C. Es. that so desire are to meet in front of the Highland Church and leave promptly at 7 o'clock in order to arrive at Hyde Park at 7:30. The pennant that is to be awarded to the society having the largest percentage of active members present at these union meetings will be awarded for the first time tonight.

REMEMBER THE ELECTION!And vote for the candidates who are in best position to know and understand the problems that daily confront this great university. Remember that only two short years ago the school was in great danger; and you, who now enjoy the benefit of an educational institution the like of which can hardly be equalled, remember the men who are now in a position to understand the problems which yet confront us. Those men, who were here for the past three or four years undoubtedly know more of the needs of the school than any first- or second-year men (or first- or second-year women).And of course this is not the only qualification necessary.
For instance the candidates who have never been affiliated with any Phinxian organization are no doubt better qualified than those who have the Phinxian spirit of Tammany-Hallism.Remember, students, we must rid the University of the stain of indecent publications and unlawful political clubs.
Thank you,

NUGENT E. BROWN.

both are said to have thrown the discus over 125 feet. In the javelin McCorkle is credited with 160 feet. Texas has high jumpers and hurdlers who can compete in a creditable manner with these and they should have no great trouble in annexing their events.

As to the Conference Meet it is impossible to forecast until the result of the meets between Texas and Oklahoma and the one between Oklahoma State and the Oklahoma Aggies are over. However, judging from present information, there are all the chances in the world to round out with the Longhorns on top.

Jessie Day, '18, of Nacogdoches, Texas, spent the week-end here. Mr. Day saw seven months' overseas service with the 36th Division.

SPECIALISTS TO SPEAK AT Y. W.

Baptist Memorial Sanitarium at Dallas.

Miss Jessie Butts, another former student of the University and assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Fort Worth will tell of her experiences in the work and of the training required.

Dr. Mabel Ulrich, of Minneapolis made the first talk in their series recently at the regular vesper services of the Y. W. C. A., discussing "Medicine as a Profession for Women."

Mrs. McClure's talks which are to be made on Saturday and Sunday at the Baptist Church will be considered the first of the present series. She will speak of her work as a foreign missionary.

While the length of time given to securing the speakers was very limited, each lectures on the program was chosen carefully and is thoroughly representative of the profession of which she is a member.
