ALL BRANCHES OF UNIVERSITY HIT BY MAJORITY OF HOUSE

Salary Cutting Continued With Schools of Medicine and Mines Affected

With a clear majority in favor of retrenchment, the House of Representatives is continuing to further amend the University budget in opposition to the wishes of the appropriation committees, which fixed the budget for the institution in presenting the educational bill to the House.

Friends of the University continued to protest the restrictive measures, but Representative Bonham of Bee County and Representative Curtis of Tarrant County led their two to one majority on with steamroller tactics, Friday, passing the amendment offered by Representative Pope of Nueces County whereby no discretion in the paying out of the money appropriated is allowed the officials of this institution.

Morning Session Unavailing

In Saturday morning's discussion, the University was neglected for a personal squabble between Representative Smith of Travis County and Representative Pope Smith offered a letter addressed to Pope which would favor appropriating all of the funds of the state dollar by dollar. An objection was made to printing the letter in the House Journal, and the ensuing argument took up the entire morning session.

Representative Perkins of Lamar County, in the course of the debate, explained his action of Thursday afternoon, when he proposed in a resolution to invite President Vinson and other school heads from the floor of the House.

Perkins Decries Political Ring

Using strong terms before a fairly attentive gathering of solons supported by a spare gathering in the house gallery, Representative Perkins said that he presented his resolution with the intention primarily of breaking up a political ring which is operating in the House.

Department heads of the University, charged Perkins, are running the state of Texas. No power is in the possession of the Speaker, allowing him to give a pass to President Vinson, Perkins said.

Ex-Students Aiding in Salary Cut

Representative Bonham of Bee County is a graduate of the University, but is leading the fight in the House to reduce salaries of the instructing staff. His move to restrict use of the school funds, proposed by Pope of Nueces, was loudly seconded in the House by Representative Brady of Galveston, who also attended the University of Texas.

All Branches Feel Knife

The House of Representatives passed amendments to the original budget which, in addition to lowering salaries in the Main University, cut the appropriations for the Medical School at Galveston and for the College of Mines and Metallurgy in El Paso. The latter suffered in the House to the tune of $7,500 and the Galveston branch of the University loses $47,460 each year.

Humorous Poems of Kirk and Daily At Public Reading

Richard C. Harrison, professor of English in the San Marcos Normal, will deliver the first public reading of the second term of the Summer School Tuesday evening at 7:15 at the open air auditorium.

To Read Poems of Daily

These readings will be from T. A. Daily, the famous dialect poet, and William F. Kirk, noted for his parodies on American and English poems. Mr. Daily is a newspaper man and deals largely with the Italian and Irish people. The themes of his poems contain the reactions of the Irish immigrant to the industrial situation in which he finds himself.

Mr. Kirk deals with the "Lumberjacks," as he calls them, giving sympathetic pictures of the northern workman.

Mr. Harrison is a popular reader, according to those who have heard him, and has been rendering readings for some time, dealing particularly with humorous poems. The person who does not care to shed his dignity need not hear Mr. Harrison, claim his admirers.

Protests Against Harmful Cuts of Salaries Growing

Following close up the report that President Robert E. Vinson of the University would resign upon the passage of proposed legislation detrimental to the staff of instruction and the denial by the University executive of that rumor, there has come a general report on the campus that members of the faculty, if faced with reduction of salaries as radical as those provided in the Bonham amendment passed by the House of Representatives, would be forced to leave in considerable numbers for other institutions.

Faculty Exodus Gradual

Such an exodus of faculty members would not be accomplished at once, it is pointed out, but would be gradual, but of such disastrous effect as to rob the University of all those best trained instructors not receiving support from outside sources.

Rotary clubs, ex-students organizations, and woman's clubs in various parts of the state are reported as having been called to protest the action by the House or Representatives.

CRITIC OF ART WILL APPEAR IN AUTUMN ON SOUTHERN TOUR

Joseph Pennell Scheduled By Local Organization To Lec- ture Before Student Body

Joseph Pennell, one of the foremost art critics and etchers of America, will lecture in Austin in the fall on some phases of art in which he is interested.

The artist has been obtained for Austin, which is among the other Southern cities included in his tour, through the aid of a university fund and an art society of the city, according to Professor S. E. Gideon, associate professor of architecture. At the same time that this lecture is given an exhibition of water colors will be conducted by Alice Huger Smith.

Pennell's Books in Library

Among the books of Pennell which are in the University library are: "Etchers and Etching," "Pen Drawing" and "Lithography and Lithographers." Mr. Pennell has been assisted by his wife in many of his writings and his collections.

The artist has collected a large number of etchings by Whistler, whom he admires very much, and has presented them to the Government. These etchings are kept in the Library of Congress in Washington.

EARLY TEXAS HISTORY IS SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Professor Eldridge Gerry Littlejohn, Principal of the Alamo School at Galveston, Texas, will deliver a lecture in the open air auditorium on the campus Monday, August 1, for the benefit of the students of the Summer School.

Mr. Littlejohn is at present one of the instructors in the Summer Normal. His subject Monday will be the "Rise of the Lone Star," and it will deal with the story of Texas as "a story of knightly adventure of bold conceptions and of bolder deeds."

The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon slides, and will stress particularly the early days of the state, when the pioneer matched his strength against the Indian, and the colonist struggled for his rights.

SUTTON LECTURES ON WORLD RECONSTRUCTION

"World reconstruction and the part the college should play therein" was the subject of an address which Dr. W. S. Sutton delivered to the students of the Summer School yesterday evening at 7:15 at the open air auditorium.

Dr. Sutton is the founder and former dean of the Summer School. His intimate knowledge of the subject upon which he lectured gave him an added advantage to impress the audience favorably.

Following the lecture by Dr. Sutton the regular moving picture was shown. The attraction for the evening was the well known play "Everywoman."

The University of Texas seems foreordained to be in the limelight—political—on nearly every occasion.

We venture the assertion that the University of Texas is as honestly conducted, as free from petty graft and extravagance and as efficient an institution as is to be found in Texas, if not the United States, and yet the school is the subject of frequent and repeated attacks every time opportunity presents itself. The people of Texas are losers from this attitude towards the state's educational capstone. It is practically impossible to build a smooth running school, when such is the attitude assumed.

The men who are responsible for the University of Texas and who are engaged in the conduct of its affairs are a clean, upstanding group of citizens, who are conscientiously trying to build up a school which will be a credit to the state. When the president of Baylor University with an approximate enrollment of seventeen hundred students receives ten thousand dollars a year for his services, it does not seem unfair that the president of the University of Texas with over six thousand students should be paid seventy-five hundred dollars for the work he performs.

When a certain professor of physics at an institution is paid (according to good authority) ten thousand dollars a year, it does not seem extravagant that the dean of the University of Law should receive five thousand dollars. When a professor spends seven or eight years and ten thousand dollars or more preparing himself to become an efficient teacher, it does not appear unfair to pay him the salary of an ordinary bookkeeper. Yet there are men with Ph.D. degrees on the University faculty who receive less money than is earned by average Pullman porters.

After thirty years of endeavor, a man with ability who is not receiving at least five thousand dollars a year, if he is in business, is not a great success. The same amount of ability and the same years of experience cannot net a college professor more than four thousand dollars, according to the action of the House of Representative.

CHAPEL EXERCISES TO BE LED BY CAMPBELL

Rev. O. P. Campbell of the John C. Townes Bible Chair, which is the University Baptist Bible Chair, will have charge of the chapel exercises during this week. Reverend Campbell is an instructor in the John C. Townes Bible Chair, offering courses in Bible during the long session of the University.

The committee which will have charge of the chapel exercises during the second term of Summer School is composed of the following members: Dr. J. B. Wharey, associate professor of English, as chairman and Professor R. E. Cofer, Mr. Charles H. Heim-sath, Mr. W. A. Francis, Mr. W. M. Hall, Miss Mary E. Decherd, and Miss Hilda Molesworth as associates.

Vernon B. Hill, editor-in-chief of the Daily Texan, is spending the week-end in Waco.

Have Your Diamond Reset

One of the advantages of owning a fine diamond is that you can have the stone reset as styles in mountings change, and always have a fashionable ring or pin.

In plain and engraved platinum ring mountings, which are the vogue, Mayer's shows many pretty designs. Resetting of the stone requires only a few minutes—can be done while you wait.

We will be glad to show you mountings.

STOMACH TROUBLE

There are many different kinds, such as gastritis, indigestion, ulcers, abnormal amount of acid or gastric juice, etc. All forms of stomach trouble are due to abnormal supply of nerve energy supplied to the stomach and its glands. The CAUSE of this disturbed nerve function is a partial obstruction of the nerves at the spine due to the small bones being out of alignment through which the nerves pass. CHIROPRACTIC Spinal Adjustments correct the small bones to normal alignments which frees the nerves from all impingement, and the stomach trouble will no longer exist.

DANCES ON MONDAY NIGHT TO CONTINUE DURING THIS TERM

Hilda Molesworth and Sarah Muchart To Have Charge of Recreation

Dancing on Monday nights at the woman's gymnasium, will be continued through the second term of the Summer School at the same hour, from 7 to 8. This recreation is under the direction of Miss Hilda Molesworth and Miss Sarah Muchart.

Miss McDaniel Chaperone

The dance hour is chaperoned by Miss Edna McDaniel, acting dean of women, assisted by members of the Summer School faculty.

New friends as well as old are invited to come. The guests are asked to observe the open form of dancing as the cheek to cheek dancing seen occasionally is not considered good form and is not approved.

Dancing Healthful Recreation

The department believes that dancing is a healthful form of physical education as well as a pleasing recreation when properly conducted under approved forms.

The girls will provide most of the music for the season under the direction of Miss Myrtle Todd.

Apache Orchestra to Play

The Apache Orchestra will play for the opening night, August 1, offering its services complimentary to the first affair of the season.

The orchestra, which is under the direction of Horace Halderman, furnishes music for the Country Club dances, University Germans, the Rotary Club and other organizations. The only lady in the orchestra is Miss Gertrude Schotte, a talented cellist from Chicago.
