Four Schools In Finals of State Basketball Meet

Athens, Bardwell, Nocona, San Jacinto Win Preliminaries

Semi-Finals at 10

Plainview, Denton, Yancey, Austin Eliminated In Quarter-Finals

By JACKSON COX

Athens, Bardwell, San Jacinto (Houston), and Nocona enter the semi-finals of the eleventh annual Texas Interscholastic League basketball tournament today at Gregory Gymnasium as the four survivors of the original thirteen teams starting yesterday morning. At 10 o'clock this morning Athens will meet Bardwell, and at 11 o'clock San Jacinto will meet Nocona. Tonight at 7 o'clock the losers of these two games will play for third place, and at 8 o'clock the winners will play for the state championship.

The championship team will be awarded a regulation size silver basketball. The winners of second place will receive a silver loving cup and the team in third place will win a silver shield. The members of the teams placing first, second, and third will be awarded gold, silver, and bronze medals, respectively.

Preliminaries Friday

In the preliminaries yesterday morning and afternoon in Gregory Gymnasium Denton defeated Sidney Lanier, Mathis lost to Bardwell, Yancey won from Big Spring, San Jacinto defeated Guber, and Austin won from Locker.

In the quarter-finals yesterday afternoon and last night Nocona nosed out Plainview, Athens overwhelmed Denton, Bardwell won from Yancey, and San Jacinto defeated Austin. Athens, Plainview, and Nocona drew byes and did not play until the quarter-finals.

Denton 35-Sidney Lanier 25

Inability to make good free throws cost Sidney Lanier the first game of the preliminaries yesterday morning when Denton beat the All-Mexican team from San Antonio 35-25.

Lanier missed eleven free throws out of twelve. The Denton boys, taking the tip-off practically every time, got into an early lead and the score was 19-10 in their favor at the half. The Lanier boys passed the ball around like greased lightning but didn't seem to be able to connect up with the basket frequently enough.

Loyd Barte and E. C. Dittich starred for Denton, while Jesse Santos, captain of the Lanier team, played a good game for San Antonio. Santos went out of the game on fouls in the last quarter.

Bardwell 26-Mathis 21

Bardwell defeated Mathis 26-21 in the second game Friday morning. Jones, for Mathis, was high-point man with 9 scores to his credit. Brown, of Mathis, and Splawn and Hawkins, of Bardwell, tied for next high-score honors with 7 counters each.

Yancey 31-Big Spring 25

Yancey defeated Big Spring with a 31-25 count in the third game yesterday morning. Yancey made the first six points of the game to take an early lead, but Big Spring started getting the horseshoe in the basket and the score was 13-12 in their favor at the half.

Although the Big Spring boys were getting the majority of the tip-offs, their passing was weak and Yancey took the lead back in the last quarter 24-23. H. E. Moffield made it 26-23 with a beauty from near the middle of the court. Pardue answered with a field goal for Big Spring and it looked as though the Steers were going ahead again. Fasel, for Yancey, then made a field goal. Yancey made a free throw good, and Fasel then sewed up the game with another field goal as the game ended Yancey 31, Big Spring 25.

San Jacinto 35-Guber 19

The first game Friday afternoon was rather one-sided, with San Jacinto snowing Guber under a 35-19 score. The Houston tribe took the lead at the first of the game, scoring 10 points in the first quarter to Guber's none, and they were never seriously threatened. San Jacinto lead at the half 21-7.

Guber made a slight rally in the last quarter, with W. Turman leading the way, but the Ploewboys were too far gone. B. Tynes played a bang-up game at center for San Jacinto, accounting for nine talls.

Austin 26-Locker 20

Jack Taylor practically won the second game of the afternoon single-handed for Austin when he

Mercury Due For Big Slump-Report

Spring clothes and spring ideas were discarded yesterday when the mercury took "a sudden turn for the worse."

Weather forecast indicated "continued cold" today. Freezing in central Texas was reported probable last night, and with a general cold wave sweeping the State, snow and sleet were forecast for the north portion by the local United States Weather Bureau.

Four Suspended By Committee On Cheating Counts

Charges for Six Offenders Heard at Discipline Trial

Penalties of suspension for the spring semester were given to four University students Thursday by the faculty discipline committee, Dean W. I. Moore revealed Friday morning. This report brings the suspension list to five on cheating charges incurred during semester examinations.

Faculty members reported four cases of cheating to the faculty discipline committee. Six students were implicated and were tried before the discipline committee. The trials resulted in the suspension of four of the six students for the remainder of the spring semester.

New Personnel Announced For Girls' Quartet

Six Candidates Are Chosen By Glee Club In Tryouts

Members of the Girls' Glee Club quartet and octet were announced Friday by Gilbert Schramm, director. The decision was made after a series of tryouts to reorganize these groups for the spring semester. The quartet includes Zerilda Ross, first soprano; Virginia Decherd, second soprano; Janet Sheppard, first alto; and Betty Berry, second alto.

The octet is composed of the quartet and four additional members: Jane Bland, first soprano; Anabel Murray, second soprano; Hallie Orr, first alto; and Irene Sanders, second alto. The octet will practice at 4 o'clock Monday in Main Building 157.

Broadcast Slated

Radio programs over station KUT are given at 6:30 o'clock by the quartet the last Friday of each month.

Final tryouts to fill the vacancies in the club that were conducted Tuesday afternoon and Monday evening resulted in the addition of six new members: Myra Belle Blakeley, Barbara Smith, Norma Hill, Margaret Grasty, Sarah Blair, and Frances Prather.

A joint concert with the Men's Glee Club is planned for the spring. Out-of-town concerts, to be held the last part of March, will be announced later.

International Club Discusses League

International Relations Club will present a program on the League of Nations at a meeting Monday night at 7 o'clock in Newman Hall, J. D. Matlock, secretary-treasurer and chairman of the program committee, announced.

Phases of the subject will be discussed by members of the club under the following topics: "Minorities in the League" by Flora Eckert, "Health Program of the League" by Bob Giddings, "League's Administration of the Saar Basin" by L. A. McGee, and "Opium Traffic Being Cared for by the League" by Helen Schroeter.

Tryouts Announced For Round-Up Opera

All men and women interested in joining the chorus for "The Mikado," light opera, to be given as a feature of the second annual Round-Up in April are requested to meet in the girls' study hall Wednesday of next week, announced Burt Dyke, manager of the chorus.

The regular chorus now consists of 50 members and needs to be increased because of the size of the Gregory Gymnasium.

Graves Submits Bill to Regulate University Fees

Measure Provides Limiting Of Matriculation Assessments

$60 Is Maximum

Petition Urges Rights For Regents to Set Amount Of Income

Another bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives relating to the fees to be charged by educational institutions. The latest measure was introduced by Representative Harry Graves of Georgetown.

Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio introduced a bill on the same subject Wednesday. The Graves bill would allow educational institutions, such as The University of Texas, to charge a matriculation fee of not more than $50 for any term of nine months, and laboratory charges to cover actual laboratory materials and supplies used by the student, not more than $6 for any one year for any one student in any one laboratory course.

Under the bill, matriculation fees for any six weeks would not exceed $10 or for any ten weeks would not exceed $20. This would be for the benefit of the summer sessions.

Authority would be given institutions to collect reasonable deposits to insure against losses, breakage, etc.

The Kayton bill would fix the long session fee at a minimum of $30 and would allow the Regents to increase this to $60. The one-term summer fee of $5 and the two-term of $10, now charged, would be changed to a minimum and maximum fees of $10 and $20.

Both bills are before the Committee on Education of the House of Representatives. The Committee on Education will hold hearings on these bills Wednesday.

House Committee Reviews Bill For College of Mines

Regents Request Separate President for School At El Paso

Appropriations for the College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso were discussed by President H. Y. Benedict and Dean C. A. Puckett before the House Appropriations Committee Friday.

An interesting item in the Regents' request for the coming biennium is the provision for a President of the College of Mines. This has been recommended by President Benedict who points out the difficulty of "presidenting" a school 640 miles away. The College would still remain under the control of the Board of Regents.

Appropriations requested by the Board for the College of Mines are $397,880 for the first year (including $200,000 for an administration building and equipment) and $188,380 for the second year. The Board of Control recommended $237,480 for each year, spreading the $200,000 building appropriation over the two year period.

Expenditures for the year ending August 31, 1930, at the College of Mines totaled $96,760 from state funds and $14,240 from fees.

There are now approximately 600 students enrolled in this school.

Alecs Raise Price Of Banquet Tickets

Tickets for the annual banquet of the College of Engineering, which will be held Saturday, March 14, will be sold at an increase of 25 per cent in price after Saturday, March 7, members of the ticket sales committee said Friday. Tickets may be bought until Saturday afternoon for the regular price of $1.00.

Tickets are selling rapidly and indications are that a large number of engineering students will attend this annual affair.

HANCOCK GIVES LECTURE

"The Greatest of All Coming Events" will be the subject of the lecture given by W. E. Hancock, at the Adventists' Chapel on Thirty-first street, between Speedway and Duval streets, Sunday night, March 8, at 7:30 o'clock. This lecture is the third of such lectures to be given by Mr. Hancock.

APPOINTMENT COMMITTEE GETS CALL FOR TEACHERS

Total number of calls for teachers during the year was 1216, Miss Miriam Dozier, secretary of the teachers' appointment committee, announced in her annual report.

This is a decrease of 176 under the last year. The decrease is noted in practically every kind of position the committee is called on to fill.

While as last year the committee was called on to recommend or give information about teachers in 169 out-of-state places, this year only 86 called for assistance. Many of these calls were for teachers having degrees of philosophy degrees, and the University is not yet able to supply such candidates in large numbers.

Came From Many States

The states from which these calls came and the number of calls received from each are as follows: Arizona 11; Arkansas 11; California 1; Colorado 2; Florida 2; Georgia 1; Kansas 5; Kentucky 2; Illinois 2; Louisiana 6; Mississippi 2; Missouri 5; Nevada 1; New Mexico 8; New York 1; Ohio 2; Oklahoma 14; Panama Canal 2; Tennessee 3; Venezuela 1; Washington D. C. 2; Wisconsin 1; Wyoming 1. Some of the calls were merely requests for confidential reports of candidates registered with the committee and were not requests that teachers be recommended.

Total number of students registered and paying the fee was 750, which is 6 less than paid the fee last year. Total number of applicants available was 948. Of this number 96 withdrew their application and returned to school, and 60 retired; 170 were left on the active list at the end of the year.

A grand total of 621 teachers were employed through the committee last year.

A decided increase has been noted during the year for instructors in physical training for boys and girls, and also for librarians and teachers of journalism.

Fees Collected

Fees collected and deposited with the auditor netted $1,547.10. Expenditures, exclusive of postage furnished by stenographic bureau, totaled $409.43.

One of the greatest difficulties in placing students is because they do not adequately prepare themselves to take care of extra-curricular activities. Under graduates without experience would find positions easier to obtain if they included these activities in their educational training.

The work of the committee is further limited by an inadequate appropriation which limits their keeping the work before the public school men of the state, and by too little stenographic help during the busy season, which keeps Miss Dozier from having a personal contact with the applicant.

Law of Medicine To Be Discussed By Dr. Oliphant

Lectures of Annual Series Offered to Public March 9-12

Dr. Herman Oliphant, of the Institute of Law at John Hopkins University, will give a series of lectures at the University March 9 to March 12. These lectures are being offered as the annual series of University visiting lectures.

Lecture subjects on which Dr. Oliphant will speak are listed below with time and place of meeting: "Parallels in the Development of Legal and Medical Education," Monday night, March 9, at 8 o'clock in Garrison Hall auditorium; "The Meaning of Law and Science for Methodological Purposes," Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Law Building auditorium; "Problems of Law and Some Methods of Studying Them," Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in Law Building auditorium; "Techniques of Social Change and Related Problems," Thursday evening at 5 o'clock in Law Building auditorium; and "Popular Criticisms of the Law," Thursday night at 8 o'clock in Garrison Hall auditorium.

The first and last lectures to be given by Dr. Oliphant are intended for the general public; the others are being offered primarily to the law faculty and students. Dr. Oliphant served as professor of law at Columbia University from 1921 to 1929, having been elected professor of law to the Institute of Law at John Hopkins University two years ago where he has been doing research work since. He was elected president of the Association of American Law Schools in 1928. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

The Committee on Public Lectures offers a series of lectures given by visiting scholars and scientists each year. Among the lecturers that have come to the University in the past are Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard, former Dean John H. Wigmore of Northwestern University, and Professor H. S. Jennings of John Hopkins.

Pan-Hellenic Makes Plans for Round-Up

Plans for the Texas Round-Up were made at a meeting of Pan-Hellenic Friday, March 6, in the girls' study hall. Dorothy Watts, representative of the Round-Up committee, urged members to write letters to alumni groups, and to plan for a real homecoming of all former sorority girls. Each sorority pledged to support the plans of the committee in giving dinners and decorating chapter houses.

The resolution of Mortar Board that all girls wear cotton dresses was unanimously endorsed by all members. Plans for the scholarship fund to be sponsored by Pan-Hellenic were discussed, and Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men, addressed the organization, giving details to help begin the establishment of the fund.

Change in Hours Of U. Postoffice Is Announced

University post office officials announced Friday afternoon that the mailing windows will be closed at 4:45 o'clock each afternoon instead of 5 o'clock.

Henderson Gives Report on Trip

'Conquering the Antarctic' Related by Byrd

Dr. J. L. Henderson, professor of secondary education, reported favorably on his trip to Detroit, where he attended the National Education Association convention. He said that there were more than 100 other Texans at the meeting. The association convened for three days and each day breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners were given to the numerous state groups and committees. Dr. Henderson said the Texas breakfast attracted practically all of the people from this State that were there for the meeting.

Dr. Henderson reported that one of the features of the meeting was the lecture of Admiral Richard E. Byrd on "Conquering the Antarctic." The lecture was illustrated by moving pictures that were taken while he was on his expedition.

The introduction of a proposal made by the superintendent of schools in Hoboken, N. J., "Condemning the Eighteenth Amendment" was termed as the most sensational matter that came before the association by Dr. Henderson. He said that little sympathy was shown for the resolution and it was overwhelmingly defeated.

Dr. E. C. Broome, superintendent of schools in Philadelphia, was elected president of the department of superintendence to succeed Norman Crozier, superintendent of Dallas schools. The meeting place for next year was not determined. There was discussion about convening in Washington and arranging a program in honor of the two hundredth birthday of George Washington.

Dr. Henderson said there was so many scholarly lectures that it was impossible for one to attend all of the group meetings and hear each address. A high school chorus composed of pupils selected from different high schools in the United States was assembled and rendered several interesting programs.

Swanson to Receive Degree in Chicago

A. B. Swanson, adjunct professor of Romance languages, left Austin Wednesday, March 4, for Chicago to secure his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Chicago. Dr. L. E. Dabney, adjunct professor of Romance languages, announced.

Mr. Swanson will return March 19. Until then his classes will be met by various members of the department.

Committee Sets Election Dates For Sweetheart

Nominations To Be Made By Secret Ballot In March

Method Changed

General Officials Named At Round-Up Meeting Friday

Election of the most popular University co-ed to be "Sweetheart" of the Texas Round-Up will be held April 2, 3, 4, the committee in charge decided Friday afternoon at a meeting in the headquarters of the Ex-Students' Association.

Nominations will be made in two days of balloting. Monday, March 30 and Tuesday, March 31. Any student may propose the name of a candidate by secret ballot. These nominating ballots will be counted, and the 25 girls having the highest number of votes will be listed as candidates for the general election Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 2, 3 and 4.

Old Methods Discarded

By deciding the method of election the committee discarded all schemes to allow voting according to the number of tickets sold or the selling of votes in any way.

"It is the earnest desire of the entire committee to see the most popular girl in the University selected as 'Sweetheart,'" chairman George Stephens said. "We hope every student votes in the primary and general elections. We know there will be no hectic selling of votes or selection of a Sweetheart according to the amount of money spent by their friends."

The committee also, by its action, made definite steps toward arranging a great statewide social event for Friday night, April 17, of the second annual Round-Up. The "Sweetheart" of The University of Texas will be joined by "Sweethearts" of other Southwest Conference schools, to be selected by year-book editors at the invitation of Roland Boyd, editor of the Cactus and director of the Friday night presentation of the Round-Up. Debutantes of all Texas cities will also be invited to the Round-Up revue and ball.

Preliminary sketches of a stage setting for the presentation of the Southwest's most popular co-eds and the ninety or more candidates for Cactus beauty page honors have already been drawn. Chairman Stephens reported. Negotiations for one of the South's leading dance orchestras to play for the four hours of dancing following the presentation are under way.

Visiting "Sweethearts" will be entertained by a sub-committee to be appointed later.

Committee Listed

The general committee in charge of the Friday night revue and ball includes George Stephens, chairman; Roland Boyd, director; Burt Dyke, consulting director; Ouida Baxter, Earl Toepferwein, Scott Wilkey, Mrs. Dave Reed, Gus Pollock, Mrs. Rosalie Leslie, Janet Sheppard, Frances Fry, and Haskell Roberts. Also present at the meeting Friday were Miss Anna Hiss, chairman of the Round-Up, Arno Nowotny, vice chairman, and John A. McCurdy, executive secretary.

The general committee will have charge of the "Sweetheart" election, inviting of co-eds to represent other schools, entertainment of visiting "Sweethearts," staging of the revue, securing the orchestra, and making plans and arrangements for the dance, including the grand march and concessions.

Art Work Completed For April Longhorn

Art work for the "Lily White" issue of the Longhorn-Ranger has been sent to the engraver, Al Melinger, editor, said Friday. The literary selections have not been completed but will be sent to the press Monday, Melinger said. The cover, drawn by Jackson Cox, is in red and blue and carries out the "Lily White" motif. The book will be ready for distribution the latter part of the month, Melinger said.

BROWN TO DELIVER TALK

Experiences from travels in New Zealand and Fiji Islands are to be the basis of a talk by Dr. Harold C. Brown at the Saturday night entertainment at the University Faculty Club March 7 at 8 o'clock. E. R. Quereau, secretary of the club, announced.

Dr. Brown is a visiting professor in the department of philosophy. All members of the club are asked to be present.

Benedict Appeals For Funds to Make U. Per Student Cost Average

Making an earnest appeal for appropriations that would bring the "per student cost" of The University of Texas to at least the average cost of all colleges and universities of the country, President H. Y. Benedict, speaking to the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives late Friday, presented the institution's claims for adequate support from the State.

Discarding consideration of detail items in the proposed appropriation bill for the 1931-33 biennium, the President invited the legislators' attention to the two fundamental considerations of the University's expenditure per student and the quality of work done by the University as evidenced by its recent admission to the Association of American Universities, an honor shared by only twenty-seven institutions of the nation.

Stress "Per Student Cost" The President presented statistics to the committee to show that the average "cost per student" for all colleges, small and large, publicly and privately supported, in the United States was $323. He showed that the average "cost per student" of publicly-supported institutions was $353.

Dr. Benedict pointed out that since this average included all institutions, it is fair to assume that the great universities of the United States, which have a large percentage of expensive senior, graduate, and professional students, spend much more per student than the average given.

Comparing the University's "cost per student" to the general average of $353 for state-supported institutions, the President gave figures to show that The University of Texas figure was $248 for 1929-30. (This figure was derived by dividing expenditures by the total enrollment reduced to a nine month's basis.) The Regents' requests for the coming biennium, as presented by the President are based upon the $353 average cost per long-session student, of which amount the Legislature is asked to appropriate $300 per student from State funds. (The remaining $53 would be accounted for by the item of $33 from fees and $20 for extension activities.)

Requests for the Main University total $2,340,500 for the first year and $2,208,500 for the second year. For the extramural divisions $133,505 is requested for the first year and $144,500 for the second.

President Benedict emphasized the difficulty of endeavoring to run an institution of the first-class, as prescribed by the Constitution, on less funds per student than the average college in the United States was getting. He stated that professional salaries ranked in the lower part of the top one-third of universities of the country.

Asks Retirement Funds He called attention to the urgent need for retirement funds for teachers and for other steps that would encourage and inspire the teaching staff.

The President pointed out that per capita wealth of Texas was approximately $2,000. His figures showed that only 2 1/2 per cent of the income of the State was spent for public elementary education and that buth three-tenths of one percent was spent for higher education. He expressed the opinion, which he backed with national statistics, that the per capita wealth of the State would increase in proportion to the per capita expenditure for schools.

Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research, was called upon to discuss certain items in the budget for that bureau. Other University officials attending the hearing included Comptroller J. W. Calhoun, Dean T. U. Taylor, Dean L. P. Hildebrand, and Leo Haynes, secretary of the Board of Regents.

Representative Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, presided at the hearing.

Architects Finish Institute Problem The sophomore class of architectural design finished a sketch Friday which is to be sent to the Beaux Arts Institute of Design. The sketch is a preliminary problem for the one to be finished within six weeks.

While working on the preliminary problem, the students were not allowed to leave the classroom during the nine hours required for the work. The entire class had supper under supervision at the University Commons and then returned to the work room to complete the project.

Stunt night to be held March 27 by physical education major classes will be sponsored by P. E. M. club, Margaret Cunningham, president, said.

Each girls' class will give an original stunt pertaining to the subject of their course. They will put on stunts pertaining to health, rhythm, clogging, self-testing stunts, and tumbling. The boys will do tumbling and apparatus work.

INITIATION POSTPONED

Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary and professional business administration fraternity, initiation, which was to have been held this afternoon, has been postponed indefinitely, according to Jake Patton, president. Further notice will be given before the initiation takes place.

THREE TIMES THREE

Geneticists and zoologists who whack each other with verbal cudgels over the question "which is more important, heredity or environment?" might better join hands and make-up, according to statements on the subject by Dr. Herman Joseph Muller, preminent authority in the field of genetics.

Each of the factors is equally important in determining the nature of the individual and neither one can be under stressed or over stressed. Attempting to weigh the value of heredity in influencing the make-up of the individual against the value of environment as an influencing factor is like (using a homely illustration) trying to ascertain which is more essential to the combination, the ham or the eggs? Or to use a very clever and air-tight illustration as suggested by Dr. Muller, which is more important in forming the nine in the multiplication problem, the multiplying three or the three being multiplied?

But evidently there are geneticists who never heard of Dr. Muller's famous three-by-three argument for a professor at a mid-western university breaks print with the firm belief that heredity plays a small life role in comparison to the over-balancing influence of environment in the making of the personality. This scholar will not walk the mid-way line as drawn by Dr. Muller. He asks no provision for the fact that the two quantities can exist side by side without either jostling the other seriously. And in support of his stand for the major importance of environment he makes the following quotation from an authority in the field: "The belief that we are predestined or foreordained is to be held lightly. When the egotist declares that he is what he is, and desires only what he desires, and can do nothing else, he is uttering a paradox and foully slandering the most clear and most precious part of his own being—his personality. For to say that, is to be tautologous."

A beautiful and convincing argument, certainly. But the professor is assuming that some shadowy opponent is taking a solid stand for the fundamental importance of environment in the patterning of the individual. Perhaps many geneticists are lined up in direct opposition to the mid-western professor's determined defense of the environment factor. That does not, however, presuppose or assure of there really being two clearly drawn sides to the question. It is not a case of which is it—heredity or environment? The two are distinct and separate factors it is true, but they can work in harness side by side without getting in each other's way, as convincingly demonstrated by Dr. Muller.

The latest condemning report against college students is that they are indulging in racketeering. There are actual cases of this practice in American universities, according to Dr. C. Herbert Smith of the University of Illinois.

UP IN THE AIR

Now the Dean of Women in a college in Indiana has taken to flying and so gains the distinction of being the only flying Dean of Women in America. The lady in question was the first woman to be granted a flying license in Indiana and made good use of it by piloting for an ex-army photographer who wished to take aerial pictures of the college.

It is indeed refreshing to see a Dean of Women take to the air in a perfectly sensible, if hazardous, manner. It is just an indication of the wonderful determination of mid-western dean of women who can find time to fly off from the cares of office. Perhaps in the air, away from disturbing influences, she can meditate on the many different ways in which she can best fulfill her deanship. Or unravel the more knotty problems of office without having to be subjected to an accompaniment of tear-suspecting eyes, dry sobs, or air-tight alibis.

A recent claim has been made by a university professor that tests have proven 33 per cent of a clerks time is wasted in awaiting for the customer.

SIGNIFICANT STATISTICS

During the past eighteen months, according to figures from an insurance company, more than thirty thousand persons were killed in the United States as a result of automobile accidents. It is estimated that almost a third of the accidents are the result of drivers driving out of their right of way. Failure to observe signals, cutting in, exceeding the speed limit, and driving off the roadway were the other ways which were most responsible for accidents.

About nine thousand of the deaths were pedestrians and most of these were the result of the pedestrians' own carelessness. There were a great many cases in which the blame was divided.

But regardless of responsibility for the deaths caused by automobiles, the toll each year from this cause alone is too great. There are many more persons injured than there are killed; and some have estimated that the losses from automobile accidents is as great as the loss to the United States during the World War.

There have been efforts to control accidents through speed limits, and through drivers' licenses. The speed limits have been gradually increased, and the rate of accidents from cars running at high speed does not seem to have increased. It has been pointed out that attempts to make and enforce drivers' license laws have met with little success.

The oldest graduate of Yale, Edward P. Bradstreet, died recently at the age of 100. He was a member of the class of '53.

A TIE TO THE PAST

As a result of action by the Board of Regents in letting a contract for the placing of bronze plaques on eight University buildings, it is only a matter of a short time until every building on the forty acres will be appropriately designated. This practice will aid new students, as well as visitors to the campus, in locating particular points they may be interested in. The cost is negligible. It is a permanent record which will be a link to the campus between the students. It gives a certain degree of distinction and designation to each building to which will be associated memories of happenings during the school year.

Legislative Beginnings

FIFTY YEARS AGO

MARCH 7, 1881

FOCUSING

That the modern college student has a broader horizon than his grandfather had at the same age, goes without saying. We are living in an environment of continually changing stimuli—the flood of low priced books, the mass of motion pictures, the deluge of printed texts and the bulk of changing theories and sciences. Truly we live in an evolutionary educational period where the principles and hypotheses taught us in our freshman years have changed when we are seniors.

American college students have been criticized by foreign professors for an apparent camouflaged persistence for four years, without really wanting education. It is unjust to seize the unusual as the norm of the group. "Today a student nineteen years of age knows ten thousand things of which his father and grandfather at that age had no conception," said President Faunce of Brown University. It is this massing up of knowledge that overwhelms the average student; but it is possible for him to focus, think hard, concentrate on his problems.

In this possibility rests the hope for the restlessness and nerve-racking life—the resultant of the last war. Concentration upon the real objective rather than a blurred image of many such aims, is the focus of the mind on clear and straight thinking. "To see clearly is the first step in living nobly."—Montana Kaimin.

Geologists Inspect Volcano Structure

Forty-five students of the department of geology made a four-stop field trip Friday, following a course along Onion Creek.

The students left the University at 2:30 o'clock and returned at 5 o'clock. "UNFAITHFUL"—with Ruth Chatterton and Paul Lukas, today through Tuesday. At the Paramount.

"GOING WILD"—with Joe E. Brown, Lawrence Gray, and Laura Lee, today through Tuesday. At the Hancock.

"REACHING FOR THE MOON"—with Douglas Fairbanks, Bebe Daniels, Edward Everett Horton, Claud Allister, and Jack Mulhall, last times today. "The Conquering Horde," with Richard Arlen and Fay Wray, Sunday through one week. At the Queen.

"LEATHERNECKING"—with Irene Dunne, Ken Murray, Louise Fazenda, Lilyan Tashman, Ned Sparks, Benny Rubin, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Rita La Roy, today only. "Her Man," with Helen Twelvetrees, Phillips Holmes, and Ricardo Cortez, Sunday and Monday. At the Texas.

Reviewed Today

"LEATHERNECKING," at the Texas Theater today only is an indifferent hash of sense and nonsense calculated to be deliciously funny to audiences who are in the mood for laughing. It isn't deliciously funny, but there are moments in which it is amusing, and audiences who are not particularly hard to please will probably find it to their liking. The story concerns four marines "in the grass skirt belt," which means nothing more or less than stationed somewhere in the tropics where anything is liable to happen and almost everything does. There is a love affair, the matter of a man's decoration for bravery, and a phony shipwreck, but the fun perpetrated by the assemblage of characters is the main thing, and audiences will take it or leave it, as they please.

There is no star, what honors there are being equally divided among Irene Dunne, Ken Murray, Louise Fazenda, Lilyan Tashman, Ned Sparks, Benny Rubin, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Rita La Roy. They do as well as might be expected, under the circumstances, though wise cracks out of the mouth of Mr. Murray are probably the best single thing about the show. There is a pretty good sequence in technicolor.

Estimate: C.

Opening Today

"UNFAITHFUL," which opens a four-day showing at the Paramount Theater today, is just about Ruth Chatterton's final piece of emotion for the Paramount-Lasky studios, since Warner Brothers have come and got her because she was a good girl, or they thought she was. In this one she waxes dramatic as a modern American girl who marries into British aristocracy. She discovers, first, that her husband is unfaithful, and then that she loves another man, played by Paul Lukas. Divorce, it seems, is impossible, and it's one hell of a mess "until fate takes a hand in solving her great problem." Ruth Chatterton fans will know what to expect.

"GOING WILD," a Joe E. Brown "ace hit," will be visible and audible on the Hancock Theater screen today through Tuesday. It's an aviation comedy, and is said to be hilarious, the plot concerning a newspaperman who, with his buddy, invades a popular winter resort and finds himself mistaken for the author of a popular aviation novel. The ladies mob him. And so he stays. For climax, there is an air race, and Mr. Brown doesn't know a thing about flying, not a thing. But he flies, and hence the title, "Going Wild." Also in the cast are Lawrence Gray, Laura Lee, and Ona Munson, among a host of other comedy makers.

Masterson Conducts Series of Studies

"Finding God Through Poetry" was the subject discussed at the meeting yesterday. Those present at the last meeting were Doris King, Mary Edson, Gertrude Summers, Anne Cobert, Zallee Williams, Faye Wilson, Marion Briggs, Maurine Masterson, Betty Love Rugely, Marilla Masterson, Lillian Masterson, Anne Trigg, Mary Nass, Mrs. George Robinson, Margie Bright, Althea Klumpp, Virginia Stupps, Patty Lacy, and Josephine Turner.

New Woolens are Light-Weight

The new spring woolens are as exciting as the first bud on a barren tree and, this year, their new weights and new weaves are more interesting than ever.

A wave of plaids is likely to overwhelm the mode. These will be real Scotch plaids and derivations of them—in general, the smaller the latter type, the better. A typical Scotch plaid is woven into wool voile in the sample shown at the bottom of the sketch, while the plaid motif shown at the left is worked into a tiny diamond in green and white.

All woolen fabrics for spring dresses are light, sheer and adaptable to hot weather, and the most daring expression of this tendency are the open-work woolens. An example of these is the lacey persey shown at the upper right.

These fabrics when combined with plain materials offer excellent contrasts. For instance, the two-piece frock shown here may be made with the blouse of lacey persey and a plain skirt, or with a plain blouse and plaid skirt. The belted blouse buttons to one side, and the long sleeves are added to short kimono ones. The slim seamed skirt has two godets in front.

for Austin, went into the game for a few minutes in the second half and promptly scored two field goals.

Nocona 27-Plainview 26
The last game of the afternoon the first of the quarter-finals, was by far the most interesting and closely contested of the first six games. Nocona, after trailing behind Plainview for three and a half quarters, finally slipped ahead to win 27-26.

Plainview led at the half 14-8 and was leading in the last quarter until Cunningham, for Nocona, tied the score at 25-25. Evans missed a chance to put Nocona ahead by failing to make good a free throw. Walker, for Plainview also missed a free throw, and then Evans made up for missing the first time by sinking two free throws to put Nocona ahead 27-25.

Walker again had a chance to keep Plainview in the running, but he missed a free shot just after making one and the game ended there. There was a little confusion as to whether or not the timekeeper had pulled the trigger too early. It seemed that he had, so the play continued for about 5 more seconds. However nothing happened.

Athens, last year's national champions, overwhelmed Denton, last year's state champions, 29-11 in the second game of the quarter-finals last night at 7 o'clock. The Denton team did not show up as well as it did against Sidney Lanier (San Antonio) in the first game of the day. Dittich and Bartee, forwards for Denton, who scored against Sidney Lanier, made only one point between them against Athens.

Henderson, playing forward for Athens, was high score man with five field goals to his credit. Ware, forward, and Tompkins, center, also showed up well for Athens. Ware, however, was forced to leave the game on fouls. Carter, center for Denton, was high-point man for his team, marking up five counters.

Bardwell 44—Yancey 19
With Woods and Splawn, two flashy forwards, leading the way with about fourteen points each Bardwell completely smashed Yancey with a 44-19 score. Yancey, who won an up-hill fight in the morning to take Big Spring into camp, never got started. Bardwell led at the half 23-13. Burgin and Ward played good games for Yancey and Hawkins got most of the tip-offs at center for Bardwell.

San Jacinto 36-Austin 25
With a large and enthusiastic gallery on hand, San Jacinto (Houston) defeated Austin 36-25, in the last game of the quarter-finals last night. San Jacinto took the lead in the first quarter and held it all the way through. Tynes, center, and Harris, forward, who starred in the Gober-San Jacinto game Saturday morning were again the Houston team's biggest threats against Austin. Ekstrom, guard for Austin, who did nothing in particular against Locker, made a good showing against San Jacinto, and Taylor, who was high-point man for Austin against Locker was again high-scorer for the Maroons against San Jacinto.

There was a mix-up when the official scorers got Ben Journeay, mixed up with his twin brother, Harry Journeay, captain of the Houston team, and sent Ben out on personal fouls toward the last of the game when Harry was the one who had too many fouls counted against him. Due to the efforts of a San Jacinto fan who, by some unknown manner, seemed to be able to tell the twins apart, the error was corrected and Ben went back in.

New Name Chosen For Economics Club

Current Economic Forum is the permanent name which was selected for the economics club at the meeting held Friday night in Garrison Hall 307.

"Recent Agricultural Relief and Governmental Action" was the subject for discussion at this meeting. "Relief may be obtained by reduction of tariff, change in taxation, based on the capacity to pay, and a change in the land policy," Helen Schroeter, vice president of the Forum, said in leading the discussion. The meeting was conducted as an open forum. All members participated in the discussion.

The next meeting of the Forum will be held Friday, March 20, at 7:30 o'clock, in Garrison Hall 307. The subject for discussion at the next meeting will be selected by the program committee, and will be announced later.

Alice Marie Correll, former student in the University, is here spending a few days with her parents.

Thirteen students in the civil and architectural classes of the College of Engineering, and two members of the faculty left Friday morning for the annual inspection trip to San Antonio and vicinity. Ox Emerson, captain-elect of the Steer football team, may know next week whether he will play with the Orange and White next season.

Ox plans to go to Fort Worth this week-end to lay his cards on the table for Professor E. W. McDiarmid of T. C. U., vice president of the Southwest Conference. Mr. McDiarmid will either rule on Emerson's eligibility or refer the case to the Southwest Conference itself.

Unless the evidence is clear-cut one way or the other, Mr. McDiarmid probably will leave the decision to the Conference. The decision is a rather important one and might be better handled by the group than by a single judge.

As everybody knows by now, Emerson's eligibility was questioned recently by Jinx Tucker, Waco sports writer, who found that newspaper files and official conference records show Emerson played in the Baylor-Texas game of 1928, thus giving him three years of conference participation and making him ineligible for next season. Emerson denies having played in that game, or any other of the 1928 season. He is backed in his assertion by several teammates and Baylor players.

The fact that Mr. Tucker was the first to bring up the subject has led some to take the position that it is Tucker's word against that of Emerson. That is unfair to both men. Emerson's name was on the conference records and in the newspapers long before Tucker mentioned the matter at all, and it is absolutely not a personal case of Emerson vs. Tucker. It is simply a matter of whether the official records are correct, and nothing else can reasonably be made of it.

Decision in the case will hinge on Emerson's ability to prove that the official records are amiss. If he can work up evidence such that reasonable doubt is thrown on the accuracy of conference records, he likely will receive a favorable ruling.

Since the writer knows little of the real merits of the case, it is not his purpose to pass judgment. However, he can say this in Emerson's favor: It is easy to see wherein such a mistake could have been made. Mix-ups in football line-ups and play-by-plays are as the rule rather than the exception, as no one who has had experience along that line will deny.

In the writer's press-box experiences during football games, this general procedure has been followed: Among the sports writers present there are usually two or three who can identify each member of their home team on sight, with or without reference to the player's number, and ditto for the other team. The official scorer for the two football teams usually sits in the press box along with the other nit-wits.

Now it usually happens that among this bunch of knowing scribes, there is one man from each group who is more familiar with the players than the other, or who is possessed of a fog-horn voice and leather lungs. Upon this rather loud-mouthed individual generally falls the task of calling out plays and substitutes for his particular team. In the feverish rush of the game, subs come and go with irritating rapidity, and it is a very efficient sports scribe who can pause long enough in his scribbles to verify each substitute who goes in. Instead he depends on the loud-mouthed one for the information.

A man who can recognize his own players even from the press box will make few mistakes in identity. However, it is not only conceivable but probable that he will make several such errors during a season. If he does, there you are. Every sports writer and every official scorer in the press box will make the same error.

For instance the writer, who last season perhaps could recognize Steer players as well as anyone else, had Jimmy Burr

Abundance of Reserve Strength Aids McGraw

The New York Giants, National League entry which finished third in the race last season, have settled down into their spring training grind at San Antonio.

Abundance of reserve strength will favor the McGrawmen in their fight for the flag this year. Practically the same line-up which started slow and finished strong in 1930 will be in the box scores this season, but reserve material has been added which will enhance their chances.

First-stringers, as indicated by reports, will be Memphis Bill Terry at first; Hugie Critz at second; Travis Jackson at short; Urban Pickering, from Birmingham, at short; Fred Lindstrom, former third-sacker, Fred Leach, and Melvin Ott in the outfield; Bob O'Farrell and Francis Hogan behind the plate, and Carl Hubbell, Pete Donohue, Joe Genevich, Joe Heving, Herb Pruitt, Bill Walker, Fred Fitzsimmons, Clarence Mitchell, and Leroy Parmelee, pitchers.

Special Event Added to Stock Show Program

Special to The Daily Texan.
FORT WORTH, March 6.—One special event, the 100-meter dash, has been added to the track events of the Southwestern Exposition Track and Field Meet to be held at Texas Christian University March 14. Only men who have run the century dash in ten seconds or less are eligible to compete. Judges will be present to verify the entries.

This event is expected to be one of the best drawing cards of the meet. Such men as Cy Lealand, Red Oliver, and Dick Houser, of Texas Christian and Claude Bracey, former Rice Institute track star, and many others are expected to compete in this event. This event is not confined to college men or high school men, but is open to any one who can step the century in 10 seconds or less.

More than 800 athletes are expected to compete in this meet, which has grown to be one of the largest of its kind in the Southwest. Schools that heretofore have not entered have sent in applications, according to R. D. Evans, superintendent of the city recreation department. Teams from Oklahoma A. & M. and from Durant Teachers' are entered.

There will be some 200 gold, silver and bronze medals for first, second and third place winners in the various events. There will be two watches given, one to the winner of the pentathlon and to the winner of the special 100-meter dash. There will be 14 loving cups, and four cups for the winning relay teams.

Three men who are expected to try out for the 1932 Olympics will be entered in this meet. Lealand and Oliver, Texas Christian sprint aces, and Jourdon, Denton Teacher's star hurdler, are the trio entered.

Taylor was an All-America forward for several years on the Celtic Professional Basketball team of New York City World's champions.

His handling of the ball and foot-work is phenomenal. He can prove to the grandstand that one man with a basketball can be as entertaining as most good games played by ten men.

Taylor's appearance here is sponsored and financed by the C. & S. Sporting Goods Co., of Fort Worth and Austin.

Taylor is with the Converse Rubber Shoe Co., of Chicago, Ill.

Rain Hampers Baseball At T. C. U.

Special to The Daily Texan.

FORT WORTH, March 6.—Recent rains and cold weather have slowed up baseball practice at Texas Christian but Coach Meyer has had his pitchers whipping their arms into shape during the lull and will have them in shap for the first warm spell.

Moundmen who have reported for duty include: Alf Roark, Bill George, J. W. Townsend, and Madison Pruitt, all sophomores. Ellsworth Chappell and Johnny Vaughnt will be the additional men to report for baseball since the basketball season is over. Chappell is a reserve pitcher from last year's squad, while Vaughnt will be taking his first fling at varsity competition, and trying for his third letter this year. He lettered in football and basketball.

Noble Atkins, Doc Sumner, Buster Brannon and Ad Dietzel will continue to play basketball, but under the colors of Schupp's Aces, Dallas. Harlos Green and Ray McCullough will report for track.

Coach Meyer faces the task of building his team around four veterans from last year. Capt. Hal Wright, Howard Carrell, Grassy Hinton and Jay Williams are the lettermen who have returned from last year's squad of 15 lettermen.

The addition of Chappell and Vaughnt to the squad brings the total number of baseball candidates up to 21.

COLLEGE STATION, March 6.—Winning all-Southwest recognition as a cager in his final season with the Texas Aggie basketball quintet, Cecil Hoke, captain and sensational A. & M. center, closed his college basketball career in much the same way that he finished his high school participation four years ago when he was a member of the strong John Reagan High School team at Houston. At that time Hoke was the scoring ace of his team and one of the outstanding players in the state high school tournament and was awarded a place on the all-state high school team. This year his consistent defensive work and floor-play with a second-division quintet was so outstanding that despite the low percentage of his team his ability was recognized by conference critics and scribes. In addition to his defensive work, Hoke was high scorer of the A. & M. team, totaling 90 points to garner almost one-third of his team's total for the season.

The usual dearth of left-handers on the pitching staff of the Texas Aggie baseball nine this year is matched by a similar lack of left-hand hitters among the candidates bidding for berths on the team. To date only one player who swings from the wrong side of the plate has appeared on the diamond. The lone southpaw is W. W. Mitchell, Longview, sophomore, who is bidding with George Carpenter, squadman from Houston, for honors at second base. However, a very different situation prevails on the freshman squad, where there are six southpaw twirlers competing for numerals under Captain Earl Lyons, freshman baseball coach.

When Don Slocumb, veteran hurdler from Cameron, was placed on the 1930 national track and field of honor roll for his performance on the cinder path last spring it was the second time that the honor had been bestowed upon him and the fourth time in as many years that a Texas Aggie hurdler had won the significant honor. Slocumb's time of 23.6 seconds in the 220-yard low event last spring was the third best time record in college circles in the country. J. R. Kennedy, hurdles champion of 1928, won national recognition in 1927 and 1928 for his record in the low event while Herman Harlan, also from Cameron, last spring was placed on the honor roll as a high hurdler. Slocumb and Harlan will defend championships they have held for two straight years in the conference track meet this year.

Ox Emmons, squadman from Plainview, is leading the scramble for berth as first baseman on the 1931 Texas Aggie diamond team. Emmons, though a weak hitter in past years, is an excellent fielder, and with improvement at the plate is expected to do much toward filling the gap left at first sack by Lefty Martin, all-Southwest first baseman last year who was voted the most valuable player on the 1930 nine. Emmons was a reserve end on the Aggie grid team last fall and was one of the best pass-snatchers on the eleven. He is showing equal ability in practice at snagging tosses on the initial bag.

The Texas Aggie Swimming Club team Monday will open its schedule for the 1931 season against the Houston Y. M. C. A. nators in a dual meet at Houston. The 1931 club is coached by Dan Humason, captain of the team and veteran back-stroke artist from Houston. This year the team will be defending a perfect five-year record, for since the club was first organized six years ago, it has not lost a single meet in competition with the strongest teams of the Southwest.

Austin College Gives 39 Grid Awards

Special to The Daily Texan.

SHERMAN, March 6.—Thirty-nine Austin College football men received awards at the hands of Coach Cecil Grigg acting for the athletic council, ranging from a simple gold service bar to a combination of sweater, blanket, bar and captain's star, according to years of service. Fifteen are varsity "A" men, twenty-two lettered on the Poucher team, and two were managers for 1930.

For the second consecutive year, an "A" sweater was issued also to a man who had lettered several years ago; in this instance to R. D. ("Chili") Richards, plantation owner of Bastrop, Texas, Kangaroo quarterback in 1910-11-12.
