Athenaeum Literary Society Wins Inter-Society Extemporaneous Contest

HOGGS AWARDED SECOND

Twelve Speakers Try Out in Three Literary Society Speaking Contests

Inter-Society extemporaneous speaking contest held Tuesday night in the Wesley Bible Chair was won by the Athenaeum Literary Society. Bascom Nelson, speaking on Sam Houston, took first place among the speakers. The Hogg Literary Society received second place in the contest, Morris Hankins and J. O. Garrett taking second and third places, respectively. C. B. Johnston of the Texonian Society was awarded fourth place.

Twelve contested for places in last night's meet, four men from each of the three societies entered. Cecil Rotsch, Bascom Nelson, Frank Stubbeman, and Roy McDonald represented the Athenaeums; Morris Hankins, J. O. Garrett, Martyn Tudyk, and Dyt Johnson spoke for the Hogg Society; Joe Ryan, G. W. Webb, C. B. Johnston, and Louis J. Dibrell were the Texonian entrants. W. E. Myers took charge of the meeting.

Roy Bedichek of the Interscholastic League selected the topics for the speakers, and also chose one of the judges. The other judges were chosen by the presidents of the societies.

Judges were A. S. Bush, T. P. Walker, J. W. Garner, and E. W. Bartholomae.

The speakers drew numbers for the order of their talks, Joe Ryan of the Texonians being the first speaker. The contestants were given 20 minutes to prepare their talks, each speech being limited to 5 minutes. During the intervals when the judges were deciding on the places, refreshments were served.

RETURNS FROM MEXICO

Passing through Austin Wednesday on her way to Dallas, Mary Esther Stieber of Yorktown, graduate of the University last June with an A. B. degree, has just returned from a visit to Mexico. While in the University, Miss Stieber was a member of the Texan staff and a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

"DOC" WISIAN RETURNS

"Doc" Wisian, University athletic trainer, has just returned from a visit to Corpus Christi. His vacation will end about the end of the month, when he will resume his duties in the athletic department.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, August 10

9:35 a. m.—Chapel, Dr. T. F. Sessions in charge. Woman's Study Hall.

7:45 p. m.—Demonstration of visual instruction by use of reels and slides. Story of Robin Hood will be told by Mr. Harvey Eagleson, illustrated by slide set. Demonstration of use of same set in History and Literature and Dramatics. Also two-reel educational picture. Campus open-air theater.

Thursday, August 20

9:35 a. m.—Chapel, Dr. T. F. Sessions in charge. Woman's Study Hall.

7:45 p. m.—Musical program, under the direction of Mr. David Griffin. Mrs. Verna Yturri of San Antonio, soloist. Summer choruses. Quartet. Community singing. Campus open-air theater.

Varsity Singers to Give Final Concert Of Term Thursday

Final concert of the summer session, held under the direction of David Griffin, will be given Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the campus open-air theater.

Bits of News

2 DIE, 74 INJURED WHEN BOILER EXPLODES ON EXCURSION BOAT

Newport.—Two persons lost their lives, and seventy-four were injured when a boiler exploded in the excursion steamer Mackinac at 6 o'clock Tuesday, at a point opposite the naval training station near Newport. Scalding steam from the boilers caused the injuries to the majority of the passengers, while the panic which followed the explosion probably caused the casualty list to be greater.

AMERICAN SWIMMER FAILS TO SWIM THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

Boulogne, France.—After swimming six and a half miles from the English coast, the American swimmer, Gertrude Ederle, failed to swim the English Channel Tuesday. A storm and strong currents made it impossible for the swimmer to proceed, and she was forced to abandon her attempt.

$2,000,000 IRRIGATION PROJECT PLANNED BY SAN SABA CITIZENS

Austin.—San Saba is planning a $2,000,000 irrigation project, which will water approximately 55,000 acres of land, according to the decision of the San Saba Commissioners' Court to authorize the election on the proposed establishment of an irrigation district. The plan provides for the erection of a dam across a narrow gorge of the San Saba River about fifteen miles west of the town, and the construction of ditches and laterals throughout the district from the dam to the junction of the San Saba and Colorado River east of San Saba.

DALLAS WOMAN THROWS HER HAT IN RING FOR GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

Dallas.—With announcement of Mrs. Edith Williams of Dallas that she will enter the race for Governor of Texas, there is a possibility that Texas will have two women in the race for the State executive, provided Governor Miriam Ferguson announces for re-election. Mrs. Williams was former State Representative from Dallas County.

DALLAS NEWS SUE BY KLAN OFFICIAL FOR $150,000 DAMAGES

Dallas.—H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, filed suit for $150,000 damages against A. H. Belo and Company of Dallas, publishers of the Dallas News. The suit was based on publication of a speech reported in the Dallas News that was delivered in Austin in which the name of H. W. Evans was used. Mr. Evans filed suit last week, against the Austin American for $150,000 on the same basis.

Newberry Now With Mosher Steel Company

Wilbur F. Newberry, who received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Civil Engineering in June is with the Mosher Steel Company in Dallas. Newberry was offered an instructorship in the University and also a position in Wichita Falls, both of which he refused, preferring the place in Mosher's offices.

While a junior in the University, Newberry was elected to Tau Beta Pi, an engineering fraternity based on high scholarship.

The summer choruses will render several selections assisted by Mrs. Verna Yturri of San Antonio, well known Texas soprano. Mrs. Yturri will give two groups of solos, a Spanish song and "Clavelitos" by Valverde. She has sung in various parts of South Texas before large audiences. Mrs. Yturri Well Known Mrs. Yturri spent last winter studying music in Chicago, where she was the pupil of Madame Herman Devries. Her studies consisted mostly of classic repertoire. She appeared with several music clubs, giving musical selections in cities near Chicago. She also sang in various churches in Chicago.

The woman section of the summer chorus will appear in Tosty Ho by Leoni and an old French Bergerette of Weeterlin.

Male Quartet Appears The University male quartet, composed of Rogers Peters, J. B. Bramlette, L. N. Smith, A. Booth, will sing "Love Came Calling" and "The Prisoner's Song."

Rogers Peters, baritone, will be heard in an operatic air, a prologue from Pagliacci.

Lorena Malone will sing "My Arcady," and Eileen O'Reilly will be the soloist in the French Bergerette. Marie Peters will be the pianist.

CHEM ASSISTANTS, TUTORS APPOINTED

Seven Students to Assistantships and Fourteen Tutors Named

Announcement has been made of the students appointed to the positions of tutors and assistants in the department of chemistry for the session 1925-26 by Dr. W. A. Felsing, associate professor of chemistry. Of the twenty-two appointments, twelve students were on the staff last year.

The tutors are Mildred Beall of Nacogdoches, Cora Mae Beck of Wills Point, G. B. Boon of Downers Grove, Ill.; S. A. Durban of Nashville, Tenn.; H. F. Kohler of San Antonio, C. J. Lockwood of Sherman, H. H. Meier of Marlin, M. L. Petty of Dallas, Margaret Seabury of Brownsville, F. E. Streater of Beaumont, R. E. Tannich of Weimar, A. H. Ullrich of New Baden, W. B. Wardlow of Montgomery, Ala.; and G. T. Whyburn of Lewisville.

Assistants for next year will be Wallace Armstrong of Leonard, George M. Decherd of Austin, Rosa Lee Nemir of Austin, J. F. Pilcher, U. Stallings of Moody, John M. Roady, and W. A. Cunningham of Austin.

MISS NEWTON AT COLUMBIA

Miss Lucy J. Newton of San Antonio, former dean of women of the University, will register in Columbia University next fall, it was stated in a San Antonio paper Sunday. Miss Newton plans to continue her work, and secure a Ph.D. degree.

MAY GET 'GOLDEN FLUID' FROM U. OIL LANDS BY DIGGING MINE

When the oil from the fields on the University land is exhausted, additional revenue may be obtained by digging oil mines, if the plans of E. M. Carter, hydraulic engineer of Burkburnett in the Electra fields, work out.

This is Carter's scheme; incidentally, it is patented:

Tunnel under the oil-bearing sands and collect the oil that seeps through. Simple, isn't it? So simple that the patent office in Washington saw fit to grant him a patent.

The University may be able to collect thousands of dollars in additional revenue when the oil ceases to flow, by using the tunneling method.

Too Quiet for Thinking; 'Cubs' Want Much Noise

Too quiet to think! This is usually the experience of newspaper reporters, who are used to grinding out copy to the tune of clattering typewriters, when no noise is being made.

A reporter on downtown newspaper states that he is unable to write if he cannot hear some kind of sound. While at home he resorts to playing the phonograph or making other kinds of noises.

In the Texan office, seven typewriters are kept going most of the time. After becoming used to the sound, reporters state that it is difficult to write when not hearing the whang-bang of keys.

DR. PENICK CALLS FACULTY MEETING

Members of Instructing Staff Asked to Be Present Thursday Evening, Aug. 20

Meeting of the faculty for the second term of the summer session has been called by Dr. D. A. Penick, assistant director of the summer session, for Thursday evening, August 20 at 8 o'clock, at the University Club.

A full attendance of both visiting and resident members of the faculty is very much desired, Dr. Penick stated.

The meeting will be brief and will be followed by a social hour. Light refreshments will be served.

Invitations to the instructing staff have been sent to each member of the faculty, according to Dr. Penick.

ENGINEERS ADD FOUR TO FACULTY

Stewart, Helwig, Roberson and McLaurin Appointed Engineering Instructors

School of Engineering at the University is to have four new instructors for the long session of 1925-26, according to Dean T. U. Taylor.

Frederick C. Stewart, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, will be an instructor in mechanical engineering. W. F. Helwig, who holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Minnesota, will be an instructor in electrical engineering. John H. Roberson of Hillsboro and Banks McLaurin of Weverville, both graduates of the University, have been appointed instructors in civil engineering.

Dr. C. D. Rice, who has been on a year's leave of absence studying in Switzerland, will resume his work in the University as associate professor of applied mathematics.

SAILS SATURDAY

Elizabeth Rice of Austin, who returned Friday from several weeks' stay at Mineral Wells, will sail from Galveston Saturday for New York. After visiting in New York, Miss Rice will go to Montpelier, Vt., where she will be next year. Miss Rice received her degree last June.

MUSIC BROADCAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT HEARD AT CAPITOL

Amplifiers Placed in Main Building Enable Over 1,000 to Hear Program

BONER TELLS OF APPARATUS

Last of Programs to Be Broadcast From University This Summer

The musical program of vocal, violin and piano numbers broadcasted from the Girls' Study Hall last night by means of amplifiers placed in the tower of the Main Building was distinctly heard as far south as 19th Street and even to the capitol, according to reports received by Dr. S. Leroy Brown and Paul Boner of the physics department who were in charge of the program. Dr. Brown and Paul Boner pronounced the program a success.

Whereas hitherto only about 300 or 400 have taken advantage of the University musical program, approximately 1,000 heard the program broadcasted Tuesday evening, it is believed by ones in charge. The south side of the campus was lined with listeners, the library balconies were filled, and many people living south of the streets on Whittis, Wichita and University Avenues heard the music from their home. No more programs are to be given this summer.

Upon completion of the program Paul Boner explained the nature of the apparatus and its workings. Two microphones receive the music, one for the vocal or instrumental and the other for the piano music. The microphones are similar to an ordinary telephone transmitter but more complex. Microphone vibrations are then sent to a low power section where they are amplified sufficiently to operate the final power amplifier. From the final power section the electrical vibrations pass through loud speaker units placed at the base of large wooden horns and broadcasted to the public.

The amplifier which is the product of the radio laboratory is the result of five months work, stated Dr. Brown. Three months were required to make the lower power amplifier. Parts used are ones used in the ordinary radio, some of them being A batteries, B batteries, vacuum tubes and many other parts common to the ordinary radio.

The following program was rendered:

"Sunshine Song" (Greig); "Were I a Bird" (Frederick Knight Logan, by Miss Nellie Thiele, soprano, and Beulah Powers at the piano; "Midnight Bells" (Heuberger-Kreisler); "Serenade" (Drdle), by Mrs. Anita Storrs Gaedecke, violin, and Mrs. W. H. Barrett, piano; "Roadways" (Mayfield), "On the Road to Mandalay" (Kipling), by Miller Devereux, baritone, and Beulah Beaver, piano; Etud ein F Minor (Chopin), "By the Fountain (Schumann), by Ruth Penick, piano; "Little Gray Home in the West (Herman Lohr), "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" (J. James Bland), by Gladys Lee Gruber, soprano, and Mrs. H. C. Smith, piano; "La Media Noche" (Albert Stoesel), "Liebeslied" (Kreisler), by Mrs. Q. C. Taylor, violin, and Beulah Beavers, piano, quartet, Dr. Penick, Felix Scheuford, Donald Smith and Vernon Elledge.

LITTLEFIELD IN MEXICO

University Athletic Department just received a card from Clyde Littlefield, Varsity track coach, who is visiting Mexico. In the picture on the face of the card could be seen such objects as a brass rail, free lances, and "rows." Littlefield reports that his coaching camp at Rio Hondo has a large enrollment and is progressing nicely.

BELLMONT VISITS ALBANY

L. Theo. Bellmont, director of University athletics, is now spending the week in Albany, N. Y. From Albany he will go to New York City for a few days.

H. Eagleson Will Lecture On Story About 'Robin Hood' Tonight at 7:45

Dr. Brown to Give Science Talk Friday

Choosing as his subject "The Most Modern of the Sciences," Dr. Leroy Brown of the University faculty will deliver a lecture Friday evening at 7:45 at the open-air theater. University students and the Austin public are invited to attend the lecture.

Dr. Brown will discuss among other things the following scientific facts: Vibrations, waves and radiation, and how vibrations produce waves and how waves produce radiation, with the relation of wave lengths and frequency. The difference between the visible spectrum and the radio wave bands, the heat spectrum and the x-ray spectrum will be discussed.

The electrical vibration and the production of electric waves and the mechanical vibrations and their resultant sound waves will be explained. Demonstration will be made by Dr. Brown of frequencies ranging from a few vibrations per second to millions per second, with their visible and invisible colors or their audible and inaudible tones.

'PIRATE STUNT' AT PLAY HOUR

Many Games Played at Entertainment Staged at Woman's Gym

Play party held last night in the Women's Gym was attended by between 80 and 90 students, according to Catherine Veller, who had charge of the program. Numerous stunts and games were staged for the benefit of those who attended.

Elsie May Crozier and assistants had charge of the active games; Mrs. Carl B. Baker and her helpers were charged with the quiet games; while the play party stunts were conducted by Lula Bewley's playground class.

The active games played were chicken, crannie crow, going to Jerusalem and freeze out.

The quiet games were "Just Back From Paris," and "Playing Rabbit."

The stunts were "You'll Be Lonesome Alone," with Lillian Morrow and Etelka Schmidt singing the active part and accompanied by Gladys Allen; "Pirate Stunt," a dagger stunt, with Miss Gelberta Burroughs and four other pirates, "Ebon Neb," a nigger trick stunt, and "The Bad Boy, Elmer Brown," represented by Bertha Hill.

Miss Wright, secretary of the Austin Y. W. C. A., and first director of the Woman's Gym, gave several readings from Brer Rabbit stories. At the close of the program punch was served.

Ground Ready for Laying Foundation of Garrison Hall

Within a week the pouring of the concrete foundation will begin in the construction of Garrison Hall, the building now going up on the campus. Bed rock has been reached after having passed through strata of unlooked for clay.

The dirt taken from the excavation forms a pile about 25 feet high and covers about 10,000 feet square. This dirt has been placed between the excavation and the Law Building. The deepest part of the excavation goes down approximately 30 feet, and the average depth is about 12 feet.

Concrete mixers are being placed in order for operation. Steady work is being done in the sawing of the rocks that will form the outer surface of the first floor of the building.

SLIDES WILL BE SHOWN FROM FILM

Melvin Williamson and Mrs. Lynn Davis Discuss Dramatic and Literary Value

Harvey Eagleson of the English Department of the University will deliver a lecture tonight at 7:45 at the campus open-air theater on the story of "Robin Hood."

Mrs. C. J. Moore of the department of visual instruction of the University will furnish slides to illustrate the lecture.

After Eagleson's lecture, Melvin Williams will stress the dramatic value of the sets in "Robin Hood," and Mrs. Lynn Davis of Port Arthur will discuss the literary value.

Fairbanks Lends Slides

This lecture has been planned for several weeks, and in order that it be more interesting the visual instruction department wrote to Douglas Fairbanks asking that scenes be used from the famous play by the same name that was recently filmed by Fairbanks. The famous movie actor responded to the call and sent the department about $35 worth of pictures taken from his master production. These were loaned to the visual instruction department by Fairbanks with permission to use them in this lecture.

A significant feature of these slides is the colorful reproduction of the quaint costume of the old days. They are very highly colored and beautiful and will lend much to the picturesqueness of the lecture by Eagleson. Another feature of the slides is the fact that they were made by the visual instruction department of the University from the pictures that were loaned to the department by Mr. Fairbanks.

To Stress Value of Slides

Emphasis will be placed on the value of slides in conjunction with work in grammar and high schools. It will be shown that lectures such as this one to be given tonight will be made much more colorful than they would have been had the slides been omitted. This latter fact should be of special interest to those attending the University that are directly connected with grammar and high schools throughout the state. However, the sole purpose of this lecture is not educational, for there is a promise of an hour of enjoyment and at the same time of much educational benefit.

Any one interested in the work of visual instruction is especially urged to attend and see the value of slides when used in conjunction with lectures in conveying a more vivid impression in the minds of the individual that attends such a lecture.

Three Cases Tried by Woman's Honor Council This Term

Only three cases have been brought before the Woman's Honor Council for this term of the summer session, and in two of these cases tried, the offenders were found not guilty.

Cases tried by the Woman's Council and decisions rendered include: One student copying notes during an education examination, found not guilty. Student accused of cheating in zoology 16, evidence not sufficient to warrant conviction. Student in English accused of copying theme from a book, loss of credit course and reprimanded by Dean L. H. Hubbard.

ON MAKING MISTAKES

Accurate reporting of a speech is one of the most difficult assignments that a reporter is given to cover. A wrong word or phrase in a speech is likely to change the meaning of the talk, and often causes the speaker to appear in a ridiculous light.

Few speakers take the trouble to praise The Texan when a speech is reported correctly, but often they call the attention of the staff to inaccuracies appearing in a write-up of a talk. The Texan has a warm spot in its heart for the kind words of Sir John Adams, who took occasion to praise before he left the campus the paper for the accurate reporting of his speeches. Credit for the correct write-ups of the speeches should be given R. J. Watts, a member of the staff.

Today we are reprinting what a Kansas editor has to say about mistakes, and we believe that the article will prove interesting to those who are always condemning the newspaper because of its inaccuracies:

"We made a mistake in last week's issue of the Sentinel. A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our postoffice box that didn't belong to us. We called for 98 over the telephone and got 198. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home we found it was No. 60.

"And in addition to this, the trains were reported thirty minutes late. We arrived at the depot twenty minutes after train time and the train was gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of 10 cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned a spark plug and it's run fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper."

CANNED KNOWLEDGE

Installing of the radio broadcasting apparatus in the University may mark a new era for state educational institutions. With the establishment of the broadcasting plant in the Main Building, constructed primarily to send out musical programs from the University, other uses may be found for the apparatus than the broadcasting of instrumental music and vocal selections.

The entire apparatus used Tuesday night for sending out music was constructed by students in the physics department under the direction of Leroy B. Brown, associate professor of physics. Several months were required to construct the loud-speaker alone, which, it is said, enabled the voices of the singers and the violin and piano solos to be heard more than half a mile away. More students heard the musical program because of the loud-speakers than they would have done otherwise.

The broadcasting apparatus was first established at the University about five years ago. The entire outfit, placed in the Power Building, heretofore has been used only for sending out market reports with occasional football games. The University broadcasting station has been idle this summer until Tuesday, when the musical selections were broadcast. During the long session, however, plans are going laid to make a more extensive use of the apparatus than ever before.

Perhaps within the next twenty-five years, broadcasting equipment will be placed in every lecture room of the University, and students who are unable to attend the University will be able to listen to the regular hour lecture by Dr. Whozis. Figuratively speaking, canned knowledge will be brought to our front doors.—S. C. J.

LISTENING

Sir John Adams took the opportunity while he was on the campus to tell University students a few things about the art of listening.

The English speaker brought out a new angle on the subject when he declared that we are all professional listeners, and that a person listened regardless of whether he wanted to or not. The reason the American student is not as good a professional listener as the English student is because we rely mainly upon textbooks for our information, while the English students must get his facts by listening.

All students would be able to carry on a better conversation if they listened more, Sir John Adams says. Ordinary English conversation breaks down because we do not listen, principally because of our burning desire to get our point of view presented, and after that we don't care what the other person has to say.

The world would be a wonderful place if shoes stayed shiny as naturally as noses do.

We wonder how many Englishmen drop the "h" in hereafter.

Hobo (recognizing friend in jail): What're you in for?
Friend: I joined a policeman's club last night.

After watching a few dubs try to play golf, we suggest that a society for the prevention of cruelty to golf courses be formed.

Correct this sentence: "The little boy got into hot water by going swimming in Barton Springs when his mother told him not to."

"What's that bunch of fellows who are advising people how to dive?"
"They're the diving board."

"Well, what do you know about that?" asked the prof after reading from the textbook.

Simple Sadie thinks bootleggers are shoe manufacturers.

Who's Who on The Campus

BOB MURPHREE, YOUNGEST ROTARIAN IN AUSTIN

Dubbed as the "Baby Rotarian" among 125 members of the Rotary Club of Austin, Bob Murphree, assistant business manager of the Texas Students Publications and recently elected member of the Rotary Club, has the distinction of being the youngest member in the organization. He has assumed a popular place among Austin business men in the club, and has taken an early stand as an advocate of business administrative ability and leadership, and co-operation in business and civic enterprises, ideals and policies for which the Rotary Club stands.

Murphree received his B.B.A. degree from the University in 1923, and since his graduation has been acting as assistant manager of the Students Publications. In this capacity, he acts as accounting supervisor, manager of the classified advertising of The Daily Texan, and also as manager of the Cactus sales campaign. He did outstanding work the past year in directing the huge drive put on by the Cactus in the fall, and during his connection with the Students Publications, has increased the volume of classified advertising in The Daily Texan several fold.

Prior to his graduation, Murphree was a prominent student on the campus and held a number of important positions. He was president of the Junior Business Administration class in 1921, and was also senior president during the fall term of 1922. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, Friars, senior men's honorary organization; Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary business administration fraternity; Sigma Delta Psi, and was also on the football squad in 1920, 1921, and 1922.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

APPLICATIONS for the examinations in fulfillment of the foreign language requirement must be made at the Registrar's Office before August 18. The examinations are for August graduates and students who will not return for the long session. They will be held in M. B. 219 on Monday, August 24 at 8 o'clock.

The Press

REPUTATION'S THREAD

The reputation of any person or thing hangs upon a thread, a silken, shiny thread that seems strong, and yet is easily cut by the right kind of implement. One blade that does the work well is the human tongue as it wags an exaggerated story of someone's wrongs, someone's mistakes or someone's morals. The most powerful blade, however, is that of the pen guided by a mischievous hand, for the writer who exaggerates for the sake of his story has put many tragic sentences into print.

Not long ago, the University of Wisconsin was declared, indirectly by the voice of a citizen and directly by the press, to be a wicked and unfit place for decent students. All over the United States these words were read and no doubt worried mothers marked that particular school as one to which their daughters and sons will not go. The anti-educationalists are shaking their heads knowingly, and another black mark is being chalked against universities.

Afterwards, it was discovered that the rather mild statements of an old-fashioned judge had been enlarged upon by a scandal-seeking reporter. The man who made the mistake of being false to the ethics of his profession has been discharged and statements were made refuting the story. But the wrong was done and the tragedy lies in the seed of suspicion which such things sow. It is very easy to make the public believe something harmful about a person or place, but it is very difficult to make them believe that the words, once printed, can be false. So the thread which is so easily cut is not so easily mended. If only the knife would not be used so carelessly!

FIVE MILLION NICE GIRLS

"Women's colleges turn out 5,000,000 nice girls every year but the good Lord wouldn't take a nickel for the lot," is the graphic way in which one writer comments upon this year's flooding of graduates eager to try their wings and the dutifully digested theories of their college professors upon the reality of the materialistic business world.

Four years of the highly artificial life in any average American college produce one of two results. While the transformation of the "good college material" into "nice" boys and girls is the usual end, since most of the "good college material" hasn't the brains to be anything more, the few students who have the brains and the initiative are outlawed among faculty and student body because they dare to be individual and original.

Professors pride themselves upon their plan to present the facts and encourage students to think for themselves. Any student who has tried it knows only too well that what happens, and most of them, eager to avoid unpleasantness of several kinds, follow the lines of least resistance and swallow whole the text and lectures, or at least commit them to memory in a desperate cram for finals.

A social riot of week-end parties, dances, formal teas, open houses, football games, and the arrival of the monthly allowance are the milestones which bring with them the unpleasant tasks of getting in a notebook, writing long papers, and cramming for exams.

"United we stand—" and the effectiveness of group action deeply and early is impressed upon the student mind. Even campuses, the nation's "nurseries of useful knowledge," are afflicted with the famous American disease, jingoism.

"Activities," "doing things," not thinking or studying or creating, is the cry on the college campus, from the lecturer's platform, the classroom, the fraternity meeting, in fact wherever two or three are gathered together.

Watching the average campus overflow between classes is like watching the baker's automatic machine turn out doughnuts. Students, like the doughnuts, vary only in that some are lean and some are fat, some are light and some are dark. The appearance of one crackling yellow slicker heralds hundreds just like it, one bobbed head is soon duplicated by dozens of others, and so on and on and on.

And when commencement comes, the same kind of diplomas are handed to the "5,000,000 nice girls," dressed the same, having the same thoughts, the same "nice" air, the same everything, like so many puppets in a marionette show.

But, who's to blame?
And what are we going to do about it?

—Daily Iowan.

HAMILTON WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

Baccalaureate Sermon and Address to Be Held in Campus Theater

W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls has accepted an invitation to deliver the principal address for the August commencement exercises at the University on August 29, according to Dr. J. B. Wharey, chairman of the committee in charge of the program. Rev. J. Marcos, D.D., president of Southwestern University at Georgetown, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday night, August 23.

Hamilton received his Master of Arts Degree from the University of Texas several years ago. His active interest in education has been shown by a monetary donation he recently made to Southern Methodist University. Hamilton has achieved success in the oil business since leaving the University.

President Spawm will present diplomas to approximately 350 graduates. Music will be furnished by the Austin Municipal Band. Saturday night, August 29, the graduates will meet on the west walk of the Main Building. The graduates will also meet here Sunday night, August 23, where they will assemble to go to the baccalaureate sermon. The exercises will close with the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" and it is expected that the program will close by 10 o'clock.

Both the exercises will probably be given in the campus open air theater, Dr. Wharey stated.

INDIANS FORMERLY CANNIBALS, PEARCE

Texas Savages Subject of Lecture by Anthropology Professor Friday

"Texas Indians in their early stage were cannibals," stated Professor J. E. Pearce Friday evening in his lecture on Indian Archaeology in Texas. Proof of the statement was evidenced in bones of people found in Indian middens. The Indians were very fond of marrow, and split the human bones with flint knives that they might enjoy the delicacy.

In his lecture Professor Pearce traced the development of civilization. If all of civilization were measured on a scale of 24 hours, said Professor Pearce, "the period of civilization would occupy the last 15 minutes." He traced man's development through the different stone ages and the age of metal to his present status preliminary to taking up the subject of Indian archaeology in Texas.

His lecture was illustrated with slides, and real flint specimens were shown. Among the flint weapons shown were various kinds of skinning knives, Indian needles, and pottery.

Two Weeks Course in Life Saving for Girls at Deep Eddy

Under the supervision of Hiawatha Crosslin of the Physical Training Department of the University, a two weeks' course for girls in life saving will be conducted at Deep Eddy the next two weeks. Instructors state that an enrollment of 30 is expected by Tuesday, which is the last day for registration.

This course is free and open to seniors over 17 years of age. The only other qualification necessary for joining the class is the ability to swim, using the scissor kick. The class will meet Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week at Deep Eddy from 4 to 5 o'clock. Those interested may sign any morning through Tuesday at Miss Crosslin's office, authorities stated.

Instruction will be given in the approaches, breaks, four kind of carries, both in shallow and deep water. In addition, resuscitation will be taught. The class will be organized into five groups, with six girls in each group under one of the following teachers:

Edwina Barnes, Gilberta Borrows, Freda Dobbs, Katherine Weller, and Ruth Mantor.

These six teachers will be examined by Mrs. Paul Baker, Hiawatha Crosslin, and Dr. Caswell Ellis from the standpoint of becoming judges.

This course in life saving will count 15 points toward awards given to girls in the athletic department during the long session.

Jones-Jones Wedding Tuesday Evening

J. Darrel Jones of Austin, former student of the University, and Eva Mae Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Jones of Austin, were married Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the University Methodist Church by the Rev. T. F. Sessions.

Decorations of the church was the work of Mrs. W. H. Stacy.

H. N. Leberman played an organ solo before the ceremony, and Mrs. Anita Storrs Gaedecke played "Call Me Thine Own" with the organ during the ceremony. Mrs. Louis Dunbar sang "Because" just preceding the ceremony.

The bridal party entered to the chorus from Lohengrin. The ushers, John Paul Jones, Melville Miller and Robert Harris, came down one of the central aisles, while the bridesmaids came down the opposite aisle. Mrs. V. N. Johnson, matron of honor, and sister of the bride, followed the bridesmaids and preceded the flower girl, little Miss Luella Kenley, who came directly in front of the bride on the arm of her father, J. D. Jones, who gave her in marriage.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Ivan Jones. The Rev. Mr. Sessions read the ring service, after which the party left the church to Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

After the reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left immediately for a two weeks' trip, after which they will be at home at 309 West Seventh Street.

For the reception, the living room and reception hall were decorated in yellow cut flowers and ferns, and the dining room was in rose and white cut flowers. The wedding cake, which was in the center of the dining table, was in ring shape, with a center of pink roses, and placed in a bed of queen's wreath and smilax.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Kenley and little daughter, Luella, of Dallas; Mrs. B. Ross Jones and family of San Marcos; Mr. Josh Sanders of LaFeria, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hodges of Tyler, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Combs and family, San Antonio; Dr. and Mrs. Nixon, Hondo; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mahon, Gonzales; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kline, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Johnson, Gonzales; J. K. Jones, Gonzales, and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Nixon Jr. of San Antonio.

Miss Harper Honors Visitors With Tea

Virginia Harper entertained Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 6 with a tea at her home on Rio Grande Street, and named as honorees three popular visitors. This tea was one of the prettiest mid-summer functions that have been given. The rooms were decorated with cut flowers and ferns, and an ice course was served to about one hundred guests.

The honor guests were Lucille Dussen of Houston, Shirley Lomax of Dallas, and Elizabeth Luddin of Galveston. Those receiving with Miss Harper were Margaret Schoch, Marian and Frances Avery, Ann Covert, Belmont Brodie, Virginia Eckhardt, Marian Briggs, Ethel Mary Franklin, Mary and Catherine Campbell, Elizabeth Wroe, Mary Louise Robinson, Linda Bellows, Katherine Hausman, Doris Pressley, Josephine Posey, Millicent Hume, Maurinne Rutland, Madaline Kerner, Katherine Drake, Carrie Mae Hamby, and Elizabeth Rice.

Bernard Hawkins Marries Tuesday

Bernard Hawkins of Mexia, and a summer school student, was married to Nina Scott at the home of the bride in Waco Tuesday night. Both returned to Austin, where Mr. Hawkins will finish this term of school.

Dewitt Reddick, editor of the Longhorn Magazine, will return next week. Mr. Reddick is at present working for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. In last Sunday's Magazine section he had a full page.

Clarence Perkins of Alice is visiting on the campus. He is a former president of the B. Hall Association and was cashier in the University Cafeteria for quite a while.

Kindred McLeary, the student who had charge of the decorations for the queens ball, is in Miami, Florida, where he is studying art.

Lynn B. Davis is able to be back in school after being in the hospital a few days.

Nan Casheer's mother and father of Lampasas spent yesterday visiting here.

Mary Barbour Taylor, who received a B.A., 1923, is visiting friends on the campus. She is a member of the Nu Upsilon Tau Tau. Miss Taylor will teach in her home town, which is Weatherford, next fall.

Dr. Kuehne, who is in the Physics Department, and family will leave as soon as school is out for Estes Park, Colorado. They will return in time for the opening of school in the fall. Dorothy Wild, Hans, and Bruno Winkler, will accompany the Kuehne family to Estes Park.

Ethel Scott will return this week from a visit in Denton.

Leta Ruth Watson will spend her vacation in Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Buehrer are expected to return from New York sometime this week. Mr. Buehrer is student pastor of the Methodist Church, and has been going to school in New York.

All literary societies on the campus held a joint meeting in connection with the extemporaneous speak-

Majestic: "Beggars on Horseback," today and Wednesday.
Queen: "In the Name of Love," today and Wednesday.

'In the Name of Love' Showing at the Queen Theater Last Time

The above did not appear in any of the "want ad" columns of the daily newspapers. It was a request made by Howard Higgin, Paramount director, to the Lasky casting department.

"I must have an old fashioned girl—one with a figure like an hour glass," was what Higgin told Tom White, casting chief.

The director, who was producing "In the Name of Love," found it important for one of the sequences laid in a provincial French town, to use a girl with a figure reminiscent of the days of the Gibson girl.

According to Higgin, the girl had to be about nineteen or twenty, but the main requisite was a wasp waist. And there was the rub! For the modern girl has discarded the old fashioned whalebone corset. The girlish figure of today is boyish in outline, slim, upright, and practically even from the shoulders to the hips.

However, White shared Higgin's belief that somewhere in Hollywood there was to be found the type of girl they were looking for. The search lasted for several days while the entire casting staff combed the film capital, and at last their efforts were rewarded—a girl with an hour-glass shape was discovered.

"In the Name of Love" is Higgin's initial directorial effort for Paramount. The picture, featuring Ricardo Cortez, Greta Nissen, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, opens at the Rialto next Sunday.

ing contest Tuesday night. Refreshments were served to representatives from the Athenaeum, Hogg, and Texonian, and their lady friends.

Le Mont Cooper, student in the University the past year, has gone to Miami, Florida, where she is engaged in the real estate business.

Catherine Cook is expected to return in a few days.

Fine Gordon Bedford, who received his B.A. in the spring, will be married to Alice Achilles of Austin at the bride's home on next Sunday morning.

Herman Barkley is expected to visit his brother, L. B. Mr. Barkley is enroute home from the Southwest Teachers College in San Marcos.

Erna and Josephine Stoerner of San Marcos visited friends and relatives here the first part of the week.

O. L. Davis of Denton, member of the Board of Examiners, is visiting friends on the campus.

'Beggars on Horseback' Bigger Than Any Cast Now at the Majestic

The new James Cruze-Paramount production, "Beggars on Horseback," which is the feature at the Majestic Theater is described as a story bigger than any cast, just as was "The Covered Wagon," in which the cast was even a talking point. "The Covered Wagon" was essentially a story, and in the telling of the story names that were destined to become famous on the screen were created. So with "Beggars on Horseback," made by the same director.

"Beggars on Horseback" is the story of a young musical genius sought by two girls, one rich, one poor, and deals largely with a dream he has in which the ordinary affairs of life are magnified to ridiculous proportions. Some idea of the extent of the production is gained from the announcement that one complete stage at the Famous Players-Lasky studios in Hollywood was devoted to a single room.

The original stage play was by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, who dramatized "Merton of the Movies" and countless other successes. Walter Woods wrote the screen adaptation.

LIBRARY RECEIVES TEXAS DOCUMENTS

Thirty Bound Volumes in Collection Secured by Gift of Major Littlefield

Valuable additions to the Southern historical collection of the University of Texas have been received in the recent purchase of several early state departmental reports from the Jacob Kuehler library, according to Mrs. Charles Stephenson, supervisor of accessions in the University Library.

The entire purchase consisted of thirty bound volumes and a large number of unbound pamphlets. Kuehler was land commissioner during Governor Davis' administration. Money for such purchases was given the University by the late Major Littlefield, who was interested in collecting material dealing with the history of the South.

Botany Students to Seek Specimens in Llano for Laboratory

Field trips have been made to many different localities by the students in the Department of Botany at the University, studying the classification of plants, according to Ellen Schultze, adjunct professor of botany during the summer session. The longest trip of the term will be that to Llano to be made sometime this week, Miss Schultze said.

Averaging two trips a week, one long and one short trip, the students have been to such places as Fredericksburg, Marble Falls, and have had many excursions up and down the Colorado River, gathering material which they mount and study.

It is the plan of the class to present their herbarium to the museum in San Antonio at the close of the summer term.

Miss Schultze is in charge of the nature study work in the San Antonio public schools and is director of the new museum there.

NATIONAL NETMEN WILL MEET HERE

Varsity Coach Plans to Stage Exhibition Matches in October

Arrangements are being made to bring several nationally known tennis stars to the University to play in exhibition matches, according to Dr. D. A. Pennick, coach of the Varsity net men.

A tennis tournament in which the best players in America will take part is being planned by Mexico during the latter part of October. Dr. Pennick is expecting these stars to stop over in Austin on their way to Mexico and stage matches similar to those of last year which attracted such men as B. I. C. Norton, South American racketeer, and others.

Lewis White, former national intercollegiate champion with Louis Thalheimer, who is now playing tennis in the Eastern states, has already talked to the Kinsey Brothers, Westbrook, and Snodgrass, who have signified their desire to stop over on their way to Mexico and play exhibition matches. White is also going to try to get Big Bill Tilden, world's champion; Little Bill Johnson, Vincent Richards, and others to stage exhibition matches here.

Pop-Ups and Bingles

Knute Rockne's training camp has come to a successful close. Approximately 125 high school and college coaches of the southwest learned how to play all-American football from the world famous coach who last year added importance to the phrase "Four Horsemen."

That Baylor will beat Notre Dame is a foregone conclusion in the brain of Knute Rockne. In a most serious tone the "Mick" leader declared that the odds were heavily in favor of the Green Bears from Waco. Rockne upholds his view from two angles: first, the Bears have a seasoned team, while the Catholic eleven will have to be rebuilt from end to end and across the entire backfield; and second, Frank Bridges will have six more days to train his players for a game that comes early in the season.

Rockne contradicted himself in the story appearing in the Statesman Friday. To the writer he declared that the Southwest Conference did not have as stringent rules as were in effect at Notre Dame or in the Big Ten Conference. An example was the rule declaring any baseball player of Notre Dame ineligible who played ball in the summer in a game at which admission was charged. In the Statesman the famous coach declared that the Southwest was governed by "standards just as high as anywhere."

Lewis White has stepped out into Newport society. Yesterday he showed a gentleman of royal blood how we play tennis down here in Democratic Texas. Thalheimer met much stiffer competition than his teammate, in the person of Lucien Williams, the Chicago ace.

Baylor looms as the high hurdle in the way of Texas gaining the 1925 conference grid title. Rice has a master coach, while A. & M. is silent on her prospects. S. M. U. has suffered the loss of one of her coaches, E. Y. Freeland; thus Ray Morrison is left with the job of tutoring the Ponies, T. C. U. is the conference dark horse, that is, a horse with a very dark record.

WHITE WINS WAY INTO 4TH ROUND

Varsity Racquet Star Defeats Hungarian Count in Fast Net Play at Washington

Smashing his way through the defense of Count Andrew de Hertelandy, secretary of the Hungarian Embassy at Washington, Lewis White of Texas University won his way into the fourth round of play in the Ninth Annual Invitation Tournament of the Newport Casino. The score was 6-2, 6-4.

White experienced little competition in the initial set, but his seeded opponent came back in the second round and held the Texas ace 4-4 at one time. The last two games went to White on after his terrific back court drives had tired the Hungarian star to near exhaustion.

Louis Thalheimer, White's partner in the doubles, was yesterday eliminated by Lucien E. Williams of Chicago to the tune of 6-3, 6-0.
