Rainey to Tell Association of 'American Youth Problems' Today

29 Officials Register, Make Year's Reports

Board Delegates Of State Colleges To Hold 4 Sessions

With registrations and reports on last year's work behind, twenty-nine trustees and officials from state universities and allied institutions will get down to business this morning, when President Homer Price Rainey of The University of Texas opens the Thursday morning session with an address on "America's Youth Problems" at 10 o'clock in the Texas Union.

To open the annual meeting of the Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions, the delegates met on the mezzanine floor of the Driskill Hotel last night where they heard reports from the represented institutions. It was disclosed that there were many new presidents in universities this year.

20,000 Tickets Sold As Rice Rally Booms

By JACK DOLPH

The Athletic Office was swamped Wednesday as students and townspeople hurried to purchase tickets for the Texas-Rice football game Saturday. Officials estimated 20,000 tickets had been sold and that at least 28,000 persons would attend the game.

Late Tuesday night the office announced that only tickets between the 10-yard line and the goal posts were available, after tickets had been on sale only two days. Memorial Stadium will seat 42,000 and with interest running high for this game, there is indication that the greater part of the seats will be filled.

Members of the faculty, as well as students, who have blanket tickets, must call for their reserved seat stubs at the Gregory Gym ticket office, Miss Alice Archer, secretary in the Intercollegiate Athletics Office, has announced.

Jimmy Graves, head yell leader, has promised the biggest pep rally of the year to precede the Rice game. It will begin with a parade from S.R.D. at 6:45 o'clock Friday night, and wind up just behind the men's dormitories.

The annual bonfire will be under the direction of Silver Spur, honorary service fraternity.

Graves said the rally would last but twenty or thirty minutes. He estimated that the rally proper would begin at 7:10 o'clock, and would be over in time for students to attend the Yearling-Slime game at House Park at 8 o'clock.

Present plans call for students participating in the rally to assemble on the freshman football field. The speakers and bonfire will be on the bluff overlooking the field.

The Longhorn Band and the Rustlers, pep organization, will assist Graves in the rally and parade.

The twelve highest ranking law students are elected. Six are elected in the fall, six in the spring.

Officers for this year are: J. Waddy Bullion, grand chancellor; Whitfield Collins, vice-grand chancellor; Julian Meer, clerk; and Thad Gutcheson, keeper of Peregrine. Other members are Rush Record and Carlos Cadena.

All of the new Chancellors have distinguished themselves for their activities on the campus, and all are law seniors.

Woodfin is a student editor of The Law Review; member of Phi Delta Phi, international honorary legal fraternity; a member of Pi Kappa Alpha; and quiz-master in Federal Procedure.

Lumpkins, a graduate of Trinity University, is a student editor of The Law Review.

Eckhardt, a graduate of Rice Institute, is a member of Phi Delta Phi and Chi Phi.

Howard is president of the senior law class, a member of Phi Delta Phi, and a student editor of The Law Review.

Potash is a student editor of The Law Review, and a member of Sigma Alpha Mu.

Maverick is vice-president of the Law School, a candidate for The Law Review; a member of the Cowboys and Phi Delta Phi; quiz-master in Procedure courses; and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

It was officially announced that Royal Air Force planes made daring flights straight to the heart of Germany.

PARIS.—Continuation of the first real hand-to-hand fighting on the Western Front in many days was indicated Wednesday. In a bayonet counter-attack, the French pounded back the Germans before a French outpost on the edge of the Warndt Forest, the communiqué read.

BERLIN.—German victory in a clash on the Western Front between Saarlautern and Saarbrücken was claimed in Wednesday's official communiqué. "West of Voelklingen we attacked and threw back beyond the frontier a French rear guard company," the bulletin said.

GIBRALTAR.—A submarine was responsible for sinking the 4,413-ton British steamer Taffa eighty miles west of Gibraltar Tuesday. The steamer Ledbury and Menin Ridge were sunk at about the same time, and a German surface raider first was held responsible.

An excerpt from Bonnet's latest letter follows: "I was very happy to receive news of you . . . and I was very touched to see that like all Americans you are suffering morally from the actual situation of France, who faces valiantly and

'Beggars on Horseback'

ALLEN LUDDEN, above. REGINA CASSIDY, right.

Maniac Becomes Normal, Finds Change Refreshing

Allen Ludden has played idiots and maniacs so long, he finds Neil, his role in "Beggars on Horseback," a refreshing change. The play will be staged the week of the thirtieth at Hogg Memorial Auditorium.

Allen was a corpse in "Bury the Dead," a phantom in "High Tor," and a political maniac in "Front Page." He started his career of eerie roles in high school, playing an idiot, a religious maniac, and Death.

Neil in "Beggars" is a healthy, normal hero. Since he stays on stage during the whole play, Allen gets no "time-outs." Spare time isn't a problem with Allen anyway, for outside of his Curtain Club he only holds three jobs as well as carrying four courses.

This ambitious actor, a senior English major, belongs to Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity and to the Curtain Club.

Regina Cassidy plays opposite Allen. Cynthia, her role in "Beggars" is scheduled to skyrocket her immediately to the attention of Austin theater-goers. Cynthia is her first big chance here. Regina entered the University last February, played Venetian guest in "Marco Millions."

In San Antonio she acted in Little Theatre productions under the direction of Frank Beckwith, now dialogue director with Warner Brothers. Regina's grandmother, the late Mrs. J. H. Bindley, was a founder of the San Antonio Little Theatre and supported the Curtain Club actively.

Group to Study Social Problems

War in Europe roused interests for peace on the campus Wednesday as forty-five University students gathered in Garrison Hall 111 last night to form an organization which will be known as the Social Problems Council.

The meeting was suggested by the peace group, The Youth Committee Against War.

Objectives of the organization were defined as committees were appointed to study labor, anti-war preparation, legislative questions, civil liberties, and University problems. Chairmen of the committees will be elected at a later meeting.

Plans for a Three Day Educational Mobilization to precede Armistice Day were made. Lella Brice was placed in charge of the program.

Officers elected at the meeting were Virginia Buckner, chairman; Ruth Butcher, vice-chairman; and Frank Rosson, secretary.

Next meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Wednesday night.

Students From Mexico To Organize Club

Students in the University from Mexico will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Garrison Hall 101 to organize a club.

Officers will be elected, and the policy of the club will be discussed by Luis Delgado Vega, who will preside. Miss Mercedes Schoner will be acting secretary.

There will be a short musical program and those attending will sing Mexican songs.

Cabinet-Maker Hoffmann Dies Of Pneumonia

U. T. Employee, 88, Noted for Work On Texas Capitol

Ernest Hoffmann, 88, head cabinet maker at the University since 1900, and the only University employee to have his picture placed in the Texas Capitol, died Wednesday morning at 8:40 o'clock, the victim of a ten-day siege of pneumonia.

Last summer, by legislative enactment, an enlarged photograph of Mr. Hoffmann was placed in the Senate Chamber of the Texas Capitol in tribute to his work on that building in 1885. Then a young man on his first trip to Texas, he was employed to do the fine work on the winding stairway and other fine cabinet work on the new statehouse. He became foreman of woodwork and ironwork on the building, and before his death was the last known living white man who held a position of authority and responsibility in the construction of the Capitol Building.

Born in Posen, Germany, April 1, 1851, Mr. Hoffmann as a 20-year-old lad fought in the Franco-Prussian War. He then came to America, landing in Texas where he worked on the Capitol, left Texas to farm in Wisconsin for a while, then returned to the University as cabinet maker in 1900.

Mr. Hoffmann's death preceded by thirty-seven years his self-predicted date of death. In 1935 he declared that he would live to be 125 years old. This prediction was based partly on the tradition of long life in his family, and partly on his abstinence from harmful habits. His grandmother lived to the age of 105; his grandfather lived 104 years; his father reached the age of 98; and his mother reached 101.

"He was an artist in woodwork. He was as honest as sunshine, and as true to friends as the needle to the north pole," Dean Emeritus T. U. Taylor, long-time friend of Mr. Hoffmann, said Wednesday as he drew a mental picture of Mr. Hoffmann's life on the University campus.

"For the last thirty years he was a regular contributor to the Engineers' Loan Fund which is used to help needy students. He did this with express provision 'don't use my name,'" Dean Taylor said.

Dean Taylor recalled one incident which occurred about twenty years ago. A student had returned

Engineers Win Math Contest

P. M. Batchelder, chairman of the Department of Pure Mathematics, Wednesday announced the following students as winners of the Brown University mathematical entrance prizes for this year: First prize: David William Spence, graduate of the Stephen F. Austin High School of Bryan.

Second prize: Oscar Gilliland, graduate of the Eagle Pass High School.

Third prize: Eldon Bissett, graduate of the Brackenridge High School, San Antonio.

All three were engineering students. These prizes are awarded to the three University freshmen making the highest grades on a special voluntary examination each year. The fund for these prizes was established in 1917 by an alumnus of Brown University. The amount of each prize is determined by the Auditor as a convenient sum near, but not exceeding the following fraction of the interest accrued during the preceding year: first prize, one-fourth; second prize, one-sixth; third prize, one-twelfth. The amounts of the entrance prizes last year were $14.72, $9.81, and $4.90, respectively.

The examination covers the usual admission units in mathematics such as elementary algebra and plane geometry.

Body Also to Study Costs Of Living, Student Labor

Ten Members of Governing Group Named to Boards and Committees

By PAT HOLT

The Students' Assembly Thursday night voted to sponsor sweeping, fact-finding investigations of student labor conditions, cost of living on the campus, and the management of the University Co-Operative Society.

The Assembly also elected ten of its members to positions on various campus boards and committees and approved four of Reagan's appointments to committees. It also adopted resolutions introduced by Boyd Ladd, graduate assemblyman, calling for American neutrality and providing that written copies of all resolutions introduced in the future be distributed to members of the Assembly before the meeting at which they are to be considered.

Also receiving Assembly approval were two new committees recommended by Reagan: a public relations committee which "will co-operate with the Ex-Students' Association and the University Public Relations Committee in furthering public relations work of the University through its student body"; and a Christmas party committee which will make arrangements for the annual Christmas party given by the Assembly.

In asking for the investigations, Reagan said:

"If there is any one way we can aid the students to get through school more cheaply and under better working conditions, we will really be helping them; but we must know the facts. Therefore, I recommend the appointment of a committee to investigate conditions of student labor."

"In this connection, also, I would like to recommend a committee to investigate the cost of living on the campus. There have recently been various charges and counter-charges regarding increased food and rent costs. We must first know if prices are really going up, and if so, why, and what

Radio Program To Preview Poll

Scoring a minor scoop on over one hundred colleges and universities in the country, The Daily Texan of the Air radio program will present a special preview broadcast Thursday night of the first results of the national intercollegiate poll, Student Surveys of America, Ben Kaplan, Texan radio editor, has announced. Poll results, which cover neutrality this week, will otherwise be released over the nation Friday morning.

Organized and edited by Joe Belden, the poll is modeled after Dr. George Gallup's famous national surveys, and represents the opinions of almost one and a half million college students over the nation. This will mark the second year of the poll's operation under Belden.

The broadcast will be presented from Radio Hall as a feature of the regular Texan news program, broadcast nightly at 10:30 over Station KNOW, Monday through Friday. The program will also include regular campus spot news.

Dramatized in March of Time fashion, the special survey program will employ some dozen voices, selected from the University Radio Workshop, conducted by Howard Lumpkin, program-production director of Radio Hall. Workshop players were chosen from over 200 applicants who recently auditioned at Radio Hall.

Script for the program was written by Belden and Kaplan, and will include general trends of the poll to be released Friday, as well as actual quotations from students on campuses all over the country. One scene in the script calls for a re-enactment of a scene in the United States Senate.

First Fine Arts Faculty Concert To Feature Donato, Baromeo

Anthony Donato, violinist, and Chase Baromeo, bass baritone, will be the featured artists Thursday night in the first faculty concert offered by the College of Fine Arts in Hogg Memorial Auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. Admission to the general public will be complimentary.

Dean E. W. Doty announced the following program: Sonata in D Major—Vivaldi-Respighi.

Steer Cross Country Team Opens Season With Rice, A.C.C. Friday

Meet to Be Run On Long Course

Hart, Odum Lead Longhorn Harriers

The Longhorn cross-country team opens its 1939 season here Friday in a triangular meet with Rice and Abilene Christian College. The meet will start at 4 o'clock and will be run over the long course measuring two-and-one-half miles, starting at Cameron Road and Twenty-first Street and finishing in Memorial Stadium.

Perennial Southwest Conference champions, the Steer harriers are co-captained this year by Joe Hart, who was individual first-place winner in last year's Conference meet, and Bardwell Odum. Other members of the Varsity squad are Tommie Lostak, Joe Garrett, Tommy McSpadden, Clay Price, and Harry Hafernick, who as a freshman last fall placed fourth in the Conference meet—running for practice.

The Rice entry list includes Bill Turney, star quartermiler on the Owl track team last spring, Taylor, Haetig, Reeves, Scott, and Willis. A.C.C. has not sent their entries, but Coach Clyde Littlefield said last night that he had been assured the Christians would enter the meet.

Next week the cross-country squad will journey to Dallas to tangle with S.M.U.'s runners in a dual meet scheduled for the morning of the Longhorn-Mustang football game. On November 10 they meet the Texas Aggies, their closest competitors every year, at College Station and return to the Aggie course November 24 for the Conference Meet.

to the University without money to matriculate and was about to leave. He lacked $9.50 of having enough money and was not eligible for the student loan fund. The next morning, while the Dean was standing on the corner by the University Drug, Mr. Hoffmann walked up with his dinner pail and asked what was troubling him. After Dean Taylor had finished relating the plight of the engineering student, Mr. Hoffmann ran his hand in his pocket without hesitation and pulled out a $10 bill as a gift for the boy. He requested that his name not be used.

The boy entered school, and two years later, Mr. Hoffmann saw him graduate without realizing that this was the boy he had helped. Likewise the boy never knew the name of his benefactor.

Mr. Hoffmann continued his active duties until two weeks before his death. He has lived alone in his home at 2306 Leon Street since the death of his wife more than ten years ago.

"He was a grand old man," Bill Leet, campus foreman and co-worker with Mr. Hoffmann, said Wednesday afternoon. "He always had apples, grapes, or cookies to give the boys around the shop; and if he thought he had done anything to hurt your feelings, he would do anything to make up for it."

In the woodwork shop adjoining the Press Building will be found many tools that are the personal property of Mr. Hoffmann.

"He always preferred his own tools," Mr. Leet recalled. "Many of them he had made himself, and all of them were old types in preference to the University's more modern ones."

He was exceptionally active for his age, Mr. Leet said, and never seemed old to the men in the shop. He liked to relate his war experiences, and always took the jokes and jestings of his associates in a good humor.

Mr. Hoffmann is survived by two sons, William and Max, both of Austin; and two grandsons, Emil of Houston, and Arthur of Austin.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Thurlow Weed Funeral Home, with the Rev. K. G. Manz officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery. Mr. Hoffmann was a life member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

University flags will remain at half mast until after the funeral. Honorary pallbearers will be J. W. Calhoun, Dr. E. P. Schoch, Dr. M. L. Begeman, Dean Taylor, Dr. T. W. Riker, Dean H. T. Parlin, Dr. H. C. Granberry, F.

Rice Rough 'Tuffy'

Here is what some sophomore center on the Longhorn team is going to be looking at when he goes into the game against Rice Saturday. He's Ken Tuffy Whitlow, Owl center from Wichita Falls, where he was all-state in high school. A smashing player, the conference wisecracks say that he may be all-conference.

Five Intramural Teams Enter Class Finals

Touch Football Deadline Today

Grid Play Will Start Next Week

By TOM DAVISON

Five intramural softball teams went into division finals Wednesday afternoon on the University's rain-soaked diamonds, as a large group of spectators lined the foul lines to watch the games.

With only 55 teams entered so far this year as compared to 90 last year, intramural touch football lists close today, and all organizations desiring to enter teams must do so before the office opens Friday morning.

Last year over 1,200 men took part in touch football, more than in any other intramural sport except basketball and Berry Whitaker, director of intramural athletics for men, said yesterday that a last minute rush today would probably bring this year's entries up to that total.

Pairings for the first games will be made Friday and will be in the mail Saturday. The weather permitting, play will start Monday. First aid kits will be available on all the playing fields, and minor injuries will receive instant attention.

Phi Psi shaded Theta Xi, 3-2, in another mound duel. Theta Xi took an early lead but Phi Psi won the game when Dillon, Donaldson and Peterson dumped consecutive singles into center for two runs. The Theta Xi hurler, Claude Wallace, allowed but four hits in losing a heartbreaker to Brian Dillon, who was nicked six times.

Wukaschian pitcher Clarence Doering slammed a home run with one on in the fifth to win his own game over Copey House, 5-4. Billy McBroom, Copey House second baseman, was the game's defensive standout, making several nice stops on the slippery diamond. Tunnel Copey was the losing pitcher.

Jack Jackson pitched the Blomquist Swedes to a 6-0 victory over Mergele House. The Swedes counted three times in the first and once each in the next three innings to win.

The Wiley Mongrels weathered a seventh inning rally staged by the Oak Grove Co-Op to win, 6-3. A five run outburst in the fourth enabled the Mongrels to triumph.

Division Champions will be determined in games beginning at 4:30 Thursday afternoon. Interdivision finals are scheduled for Friday and Monday.

Intramuralists were warned that the entry deadline in touch football is 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Goal posts have already been erected on the intramural gridirons in preparation for opening games. Teams have been practicing all week to get in to condition for their first game next week.

Third round of play in the intramural badminton tourney goes under way Wednesday night. Semi-finals are expected to be reached by Wednesday, November 1. Finals are slated November 2.

Longhorns Determined to Keep Owls From Repeating 1937 Feat

Layden Returns to Action, But Freeman to Miss Game

Imitated Rice Stars Stopped By Steers in Defensive Drill

By L. W. BROOKS

Texan Sports Staff

"Lest we forget"—it was just two years ago that the Rice Owls had not won a pre-Conference game and then came back to win the title. The Owls are in nearly the same boat this year except for one win over weak Centenary, but the attitude of those Longhorns who worked out under occasional showers Wednesday afternoon was anything but promising towards the Flock repeating their previous performance.

Coach Bible's first move was to send his backs through an extra point kicking practice. In this drill Jack Crain and Gilly Davis stood out above numerous linemen and backs.

The whole squad was at one time or another engaged in a dummy scrimmage with the frosh who were running the Rice plays. Not much could be detected from this practice but Don Weedon, who plays either a guard or a tackle position, is proving himself an outstanding performer in any kind of football. Although the scrimmage was only dummy, the "Cordills," "Lains," and other Rice stars didn't fare so well.

A pleasing sight during the afternoon was the appearance of Pete Layden in the hard work. Layden took part in all phases of the work-out and even loosened up his kicking leg with a few lousy boots. The Longhorns' stock will jump considerably when this passing and kicking ace returns to the line-up mainly because of the faulty punts which have cost the Steers valuable yards since Pete has been out.

Jack Freeman is the only other player who may be kept on the sidelines with injuries Saturday. A re-injury in Tuesday's practice will keep the soph guard out for almost another week.

A Steer victory Saturday will certainly not be an upset, but to beat a team that was rated to finish high in the first division will be a boost for a better place in Conference competition. On the other hand the Longhorns will meet a team whose prestige and pride were hurt terribly by an inspired Sam Houston Bearkat eleven last week. And a team in the position of the Owls will be playing football like a man fighting for his life.

The Feathered Flock will present a galaxy of stars who carried them to a victory in the 1937 Cotton Bowl game. In Ernie Lain and Olie Cordill, Rice has two of the most dangerous backfield men in the Conference. These lads have yet to get started in this year's campaign, but Saturday may be their day to begin. Last Saturday, the Owls uncovered another star in Don Suman, stocky soph, who accredited himself with a forty-one yard run for his team's only touchdown.

In response to Tuesday's Sports Billboard Ed McCully wrote to me as follows:

Dear Clyde:

Thank you very much for your generous offer of the services of your column.

I regret that I will not be able to take advantage of the opportunity, but my obligations to other newspapers make it impossible. You will find any comments I have to make concerning the sports situation at The University of Texas in the Houston Post and San Antonio Express.

Sincerely yours,
ED McCULLY

Aw, come down out of the clouds, McCully. After all, you are just a student correspondent to the above-mentioned papers—there're dozens of others around the Journalism Department—and most of them work on The Daily Texan. I'm quite sure that neither the Post or the Express would sue for breach of contract should you explain your recent brainstorm to the Texan readers.

To be brutally frank, I don't think McCully is able to think up any answer to defend his foolish statements. And I think he realizes that. So, he's keeping silent. Of course he could have made an apology but that might have hurt his professional pride.

As far as I'm concerned the matter is closed. But anything of McCully's I read in the future will be taken with a fistful of salt.

Back on the farm in the good old days our family used to have a delicious repast each night on a dish called rice. After a guy has been chopping cotton all day, or fixing fence, or plowing with old Queen that rice dish was about the most tasty thing in the world.

So every time I read about Rice in the paper I have to call a halt to remind myself that the writer is not referring to nutritious vitamins but to a football team.

But perhaps there is not too much difference after all. Just little minor things. For example, my Pa used to buy rice in hundred-pound lots. Down at Houston the Rice team comes in 200-pound lots. 'Course some fall under 200 pounds but the sacks we used to buy fell under a 100 less'n Pa kept an eye on the storekeeper. The Rice talent scouts was just hoodwinked, the way I figure it.

'Nother similarity—rice is very hard unless it is cooked over a fire and I have an idea that the Rice team can be softened up a little, if the Steers make it hot enough for them. My Ma bought one of those new-fangled high pressure cookers a few years back and with it she found that the rice softened up a lot faster. Mr. Bible, that's a hint to you—if you see that the boys really put the pressure on Saturday they can soften Rice up quite hurriedly.

McKay Sparks Frosh Work-Out

Yearlings Prep For Slime Game

Littlefield Expects Tough Encounter

By HERSCHEL KORNBLATT

Texan Sports Staff

With Roy Dale McKay, halfback from Junction, standing out in every division of the work-out, Clyde Littlefield's Yearlings yesterday afternoon went through their last hard practice session before the Rice Slime encounter.

Before the Varsity goes hunting for Owls Saturday afternoon, the Yearlings will embark on a fishing expedition for Slimes Friday evening. And just to make sure that nothing goes amiss on this fishing excursion, Littlefield ran the Frosh through a polishing-up practice yesterday that included every department of the game.

Although several key men of the Slime team will be unable to see action because of injuries, enough players, including Gene Keel, all-state back, Jeff Brown, all-state tackle, and Tom Posey, tackle, all from the state high school semi-finalist Masonic Home Masons, remain to deal the Yearlings plenty of misery.

No one department of the game was stressed in yesterday's practice; instead, all of them received a thorough going over and polishing up.

Stan Mauldin, center, captained the Frosh through a hard defensive drill in which the pass defense showed up a trifle weak. All of the defensive formations were reviewed in this practice.

Receiving the kickoff and place-kicking points after touchdown were practiced, and McKay also stood out here. He booted three out of three over the uprights while Lewis Mayne came in second with two for three.

CARBURETOR KAYWOODIE $4

In this Kaywoodie pipe, called the Carburetor Kaywoodie, a wonderfully sweet-smoking pipe has been improved by the application of a neat little principle of physics. When you take a puff at one of these Carburetor Kaywoodies, you automatically draw air in through a tiny inlet in the bottom of the bowl. That incoming air keeps the smoke cool, sweet and serene, no matter how belligerently you puff. In fact, the harder you puff, the more air comes in. That's why it's called a Carburetor Kaywoodie. Everybody knows that a Kaywoodie is the most socially-conscious of pipes—gets itself admired everywhere. And the Kaywoodie Flavor is famous. But don't let us urge you—Shown above, No. 22.

Citizenship

POSSIBLY THE greatest defect in democratic government is not lack of education or intelligence on the part of the voters, but lack of interest in elections, apathy and inertia on the part of the public toward the democratic process.

University students, supposedly educated, intelligent, and therefore adaptable to the democratic process, show an appalling lack of interest, not just in local elections, but in state and national elections. We just don't take the trouble to vote.

Seldom are we able to take a lesson in democracy from the state of Georgia, but here is a recent and valuable one. On October 12, Georgia had a state-wide "Citizenship Day," with its purpose to interest the youth of the state in exercising the rights of citizens. In twelve communities, ceremonies were held initiating persons who had just become twenty-one years old into the domain of citizenship.

Georgia has reasoned this way:

1. The economic and social problems of the South are more complex and greater than the problems of any other national region. And these problems cannot be solved democratically as long as only one out of four eligibles vote.

2. The apathy of the young people toward voting is especially outstanding; they never acquire the habit of participation in their government. Thus, the lack of interest in the democratic process increases with each succeeding generation.

3. If the youth of the South will become interested in their government and vote, they are apt to discover where their interests lie and vote likewise. Only in this way may the South's problems be solved democratically.

4. Georgia feels that a ceremony reminding youths that they have reached the voting age and showing them the importance of active interest in government will naturally increase the vote and hence the value of the democratic process. The success of the Georgia experiment was hailed by the press of the state and seemed to all concerned a step in the right direction.

In Texas 26 per cent of the eligibles vote, and there is no reason to believe that the percentage is any greater among the youths of the state. If we are going to continue to profess belief in the efficacy of the democratic process, as opposed to the systems of government which we denounce so vehemently, we must take the responsibility of active participation in our government.

A Citizenship Day, such as Georgia fostered, seems to be an effective means for reminding youth of its responsibility and encouraging youth to accept it. Such a ceremony would be effective in Texas, but the initiative should come from the state or the older voters and their organizations. However, in meantime, each of us should resolve, on our own, to take our active part in the democratic process.

American Solidification

THE WAR HAS BROUGHT one boon to this hemisphere—it has immensely solidified the American republics, all the way from the Great Lakes to Cape Horn.

The Latin-American countries, like their "big brother," the United States, are extremely eager not only to keep out of war, but to take any and all steps which might help prevent the war from displacing their economies more than is necessary. In this endeavor, they naturally look to us, the principal military and economic power in the hemisphere. When Under Secretary of State Welles went to the Pan-American parley at Panama, he was given an extremely enthusiastic welcome by Latin-American statesmen.

Biggest thing to come out of the parley was the "safety zone," which completely surrounds North and South America (with the natural exception of Canada) for a width of about three hundred miles. The warring powers were requested to do their fighting outside of that tremendous area.

As Life put it, "This bold extension of the Monroe Doctrine far beyond the traditional three-mile limit left the world gasping." And, once the gasps were over, protests began pouring in. Biggest and most aggressive protest came from Britain. The London Times went so far as to say that the zone has no standing in international law, and that any attempt to enforce the declaration, by the United States or another participating country, would be an act of war. So the future of the safety zone remains in doubt.

Stalin

RED RUSSIA, LONG a subject of collegiate study and undergraduate bull sessions, is no longer in good standing with the student body of the United States. The deal with Hitler seems to have changed the opinion of the majority, and editorial writers in the college press warn that all nations should keep a close eye on the U.S.S.R. in the future. Associated Collegiate Press reports.

Here's how the West Virginia University Athenaeum puts it: "The alliance between Germany and Russia is merely one that benefits them at the moment. With objects attained they will start again the work of spreading their doctrines and villifying each other. With borders side by side neither will be at ease, and will be fearful of the other's aspirations of domination."

The Cornell University Daily Sun sees the new situation as a distinct gain for Mr. Stalin: "Stalin stands to gain everything and to lose nothing by a general European conflict. For a clash among the powers will so weaken both opposition to the totalitarian states that Russia will be able to step in and expand her claims to the south and to the west. It seems as if the nations continue their war march, Stalin will triumph in the end. Much as the vulture triumphs . . . in the end."

But, says the University of New Mexico Lobo, "there'll be plenty of high horses to get on in the next few months without our getting on our high horse about Russia. Ask your old pappy and he'll tell you that the most valuable thing you can learn is how to stay out of other people's scraps. You can have a lot of experience and still never know."

Quotable Quotes

By Associated Collegiate Press

"Our first duty in this time of turmoil and danger is to carry on our normal educational program as effectively as possible and with a minimum of confusion. Whatever course future events may take, the world will need young men versed in science and skilled in the arts of its application to promote human welfare." Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, urges education to follow such policies as will contribute to the maintenance of ideals which are basic to American life.

"When you listen to a lecture or study your textbook, think and apply the materials to your own personal and environmental problems. Spend fifteen minutes a day in meditation digesting the knowledge you have tasted. Let that knowledge be your servant rather than your master." Villanova College's Dr. W. H. McHugh believes that purely factual information is useless unless it is understood and used.

NORTH CAROLINA:

In the Davidsonian, daily of Davidson College, recently was issued an article which has been appearing in various other college papers. The article concerns marriage facts uncovered by two inquisitive professors at the University of Chicago and Cornell University and published a book, "Predicting Success or Failure in Marriage." It seems that the professors have been digging out these facts for seven years. Some of their conclusions are a bit startling, to say the least. For instance, they find that girls who have worked before marriage—especially school teachers—fit better into the role of wife than those who have never earned a living. They announce, too, that according to statistics gleaned from 536 couples, chances for happiness are more probable if there has been a long courtship. Courtships of five years or more lean to the shaky side, and the best period is from three to five years.

INDIANA:

Up in arms is Purdue University over the unfunny prank played by some one, evidently freshman—or freshmen. The number '43 was painted in green on two stone block-carvings at the entrance to the University, and ornamental lions on the botany building were similarly defaced. What makes the matter serious is the fact that the oil paint penetrated into the porous structure of the carvings and cannot be removed from them except by cutting them back from top to bottom about a quarter of an inch. One professor has suggested that every freshman be assessed two dollars to pay for re-carving.

OKLAHOMA:

It will soon be "flunk fees season" at the University of Oklahoma. Just recently 512 students were notified that they were expected to pay "flunk fees" because they didn't make the grades last spring. There are certain exemptions allowed—illness, working too many outside hours, etc.—and to date, 214 of the 512 notified have been in the registrar's office in an attempt to waive their fees. Theory behind the fee system is that every student is given free tuition the first time he takes a course. If he takes it twice, he should pay some of the cost for the repetition.

SONNET TO MY 8 O'CLOCK CLASS

Not half-awake I stumble on the street
When I do journey to my 8 o'clock;
No breakfast ever have I time to eat,
And mix them up, one clean and dirty sock;
Unwilling do I race as I do put
My garments ill upon my sleepy frame,
And curse delay, for I am slow of foot,
And call my Westclox many a dirty name.
'Tis then I yearn for some unnatural sphere
Upon which there are no clocks or time,
And where upon there crows no Chanticleer
To rouse up both the senior and the slime.
If such a world there be, go mark it well—
And there I'll go and sleep instead of dwell.

I BUILT MY HOUSE UPON A ROCK

1. Once I stood upon a mighty cliff with the ocean at my feet.
2. Far below, with a murmur that scarce could reach my ears, broke the waves upon that rock.
3. Here and there played the gulls like dreams half-forgotten in the morning.
4. In the distance on the swell gently rolled the fishing boats.
5. And the sunlight danced and dazzled on the surface of the sea.
6. Then I shaded my eyes in the afternoon and looked far and away to the far horizon.
7. There the storm captain was gathering his hosts for war.
8. I saw their red banners flashing and the slow and hurried movements of their dark and threatening ranks.
9. I heard the rumbling tread of their tramping feet.
10. And the vanguard, the first winds, came like airy messengers to warn me.
11. And they raced and wailed about the rock because I would not heed.

12. The boats in the offing spread their white wings.
13. They scurried madly to their harbor nests.

14. The grey gulls vanished and the sunlight danced no more upon the waves.

15. Then as the battle front rolled above my head, the billows, lashed to fury by the wind, flung in the air their maddened strength.

16. They followed one another in their sequent tread to try their strength against the grim and silent rock.

17. Again and again they hurled their giant forms upon the cliff.
18. The roar of the surf drowned the thunder in the clouds above.

19. And the solid earth trembled with the shock.

20. But the waves were dashed away in weakened spray and their mighty strength became their ruin.

21. And at last when the hour of the struggle was over, the storm soldiers marched to their haunts behind the hills.

22. The gulls returned to their sports and the sun shone again upon the waters.

23. I saw the bosom of the sea rise and fall like that of an angry, defeated, and impotent child.

24. The rock seemed to view with mingled pride and pity the foe which now murmured at its feet.

25. And I thought, I shall build my house on this rock and it will abide forever.

26. One came an eon and ten million years and looked for my house upon the rock.

27. But there was no rock.
28. The storm soldiers were victorious with their drops of water and their grains of sand.

29. And gone and departed was that age-long sweep of shore.
30. Nothing abides.

140 Girls Meet, Eat At Training Conference

To have fun and to get acquainted approximately one hundred and forty girls met at the Texas Union late Wednesday afternoon for the third annual Officers' Training Conference sponsored by Co-Ed Assembly and Mortar Board.

At dinner in the Fountain Room Miss Dorothy Gebauer, dean of women, gave a toast from the faculty in which she explained that the primary purpose of the meeting was to afford an opportunity for an informal get-together in which the girls might have fun and become better acquainted with each other.

Also at the dinner Anita Arneson toasted the upperclassmen and Suzanne Dunning the freshmen. The Co-Ed Trio, composed of Mary Sue Ries, Roberta Struss, and Carrie Barnes, sang "Are You Having Any Fun?" and Ruth Hull led the entire group in the singing of old songs and of a medley of college tunes. Idanell Brill was toastmistress.

Preceding the dinner seven members of NUTT gave a skit, a take-off of a Mortar Board meeting in which they presented Parliamentary procedure in poor form and made motions to have the Main Building moved three feet because it was off line and to have Thanksgiving changed to Halloween. Girls taking part in the skit were Bobbie Lentz, who also directed it, June Carr, LaVerne McMurtry, Jerry Paul, Joy Ray, Mary Aubyn Townsend, and Frances Utley.

Following the skit Read Granberry, professor of electrical engineering and authority on rules of parliamentary procedure, led the entire group in a discussion of points of parliamentary law.

After the dinner Miss Gertrude Mooney spoke on "New Ideas for Recreational Activities for Clubs." In her talk Miss Mooney stressed the importance of the wise use of leisure time because it helps to keep a person well-balanced mentally, to enjoy life, and to develop personality and interests for future life.

Miss Mooney outlined the ideal recreational program as one that includes physical, creative, social, mental, and service activities. "The problem for each club," Miss Mooney said, "is that of deciding whether it will engage in all five or only several of these activities."

Bathing Beauty Crime Solved Without Clues

By FELIX MCGIVNEY

"FAST AND FURIOUS." At the Paramount. Original screen play by Harry Kurnitz. Photographs by Ray June. Produced by Frederick Stephani. Directed by Busby Berkeley. Released by Paramount. The cast follows: Joel Sloane, Franchot Tone, Eric Bartell, John Miljan, Ann Sothern, Bernard Nedell, Lydia Cole, Ruth Hussey, Jerry Lawrence, Mary Beth Hughes, Mike Stevens, Lee Bowman, Sam Travers, Cliff Clark, Ted Bentley, Allyn Joslyn, James Burke.

While Busby Berkeley, director of "Fast and Furious," has delivered all the impact the title of his picture implies, I think Paramount has botched the latest edition to its detective series. Even a bevy of bathing girls and an embattled husband waylaid by an inquisitive wife cannot compensate for a weak climax.

"Fast and Furious" is another story of the rare book collector who pursues criminal investigation as a hobby. His wife reflects his interest in this pastime for lack of something better to do. However, they do not join wits to hunt the killer, as in other light detective films this year. We have been so accustomed to see the sleuth and his wife solve the crime in a haphazard manner that it is a relief to see the procedure altered in this new picture.

The hapless character portrayed by Ann Sothern has no other motive than to prevent her husband from becoming too interested in a bathing beauty pageant. Franchot Tone, book collector and amateur detective, solves his murder alone and with some display of ingenuity.

In fact, if the movie-goer does not succumb to the farcical mood of the film, he will find himself disbelieving Mr. Tone's amazing tactics. This master mind performs the incredible by uncovering the guilty without any evidence of a clue. Probably the script failed to include one.

In addition, Harry Kurnitz, the story writer, has not supplied "Fast and Furious" with enough motivation to give the bizarre mystery of the Seaside City bathing beauty contest any claim to realism. You will enjoy the slapstick antics of the supporting actors, but the murderer himself is a rather disappointing fellow.

Here is a picture which offers maximum entertainment when seen from the middle. The revelation of the killer has no connection with other parts of the film, so that there is an absence of suspense. Then too, the pace and vitality of the rising action help to nullify the effect of a dull conclusion.

if anything, can be done about it.

In recommending the investigation of the management of the Co-Op, Reagan merely passed on to the Assembly a resolution adopted last week by the Inter-Co-Op Council requesting the Assembly to make such an investigation.

The petition expressed the belief of the council members, representatives of nineteen men's co-operative houses on the campus, that the Co-Op book store was not now operating as a true co-operative society, and that the Texas Book Store next door to the Co-Op, a privately-owned institution, was able to compete with it.

Capra Film Has Tiomkin Music

Score Emphasizes Dramatic Theme

Special to the Texan

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25.—To an American theme into which are woven paraphrases of the nostalgic songs of the soil and of the heart-quickenings melodies of patriotic fervor, Frank Capra's latest Columbia production, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," will be previewed for the international press this month.

The symphonic background being composed by Dimitri Tiomkin, a modernist, is a musical interpretation of Capra's cinematic document of the romance and drama of a young man sent to the nation's capital. The co-starring roles are portrayed by Jean Arthur and James Stewart.

Tiomkin's thematic score naturally underlines and is subordinate to the living story, yet gives a sensitive emphasis to the dramatic impact and implication of Capra's production. The composer has worked into it the strains that have long tugged at American heartstrings or stirred the blood in pride of country.

Playing with Miss Arthur and Stewart in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" is a cast including Edward Arnold, Thomas Mitchell, Claude Rains, Guy Kibbee, Ruth Donnelly, Beulah Bondi, Eugene Pallette, H. B. Warner, Harry Carey, and Porter Hall. The screenplay for "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" was written by Sidney Buchman from a story by L. R. Foster.

come to the student body under operation of the University Co-Operative Society as a true co-op," the petition said.

Reagan said he would probably appoint the investigatory committee Thursday.

Members of the Assembly elected to various campus committees and boards were the following:

Board of Directors of Texas Student Publications, Sam Crain, engineering assemblyman, and Virginia Buckner, arts and sciences.

Athletic Council: Clyde La Motte, journalism.

University Dance Committee: Bob Storey, arts and sciences, chairman; Alice Beakley, arts and sciences; and Keith Davis, graduate.

Cultural Entertainment Committee: Bobby Hammack, fine arts.

Money-Raising Committee: Bobby Moers.

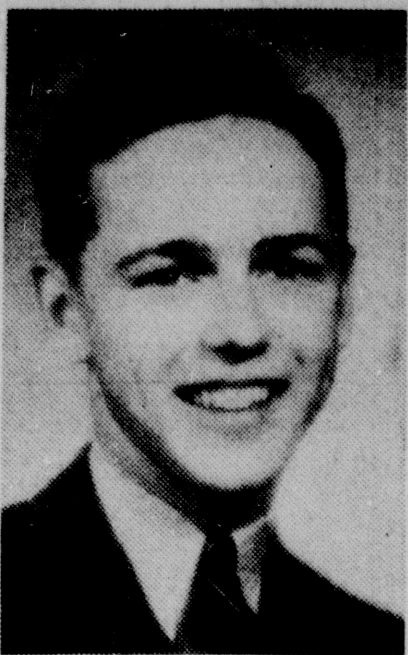

Standing Committee to Study Revision of Constitution and By-Laws: Kirby Vance.

The Assembly approved Reagan's appointment of Ruth Gribble and Bert Thompson to the Money-Raising Committee and Tom Uns and Bill Hunter to the Standing Committee to Study Revision of Constitution and By-Laws.

The Assembly also adopted the following resolution introduced by Boyd Ladd, graduate assemblyman:

"We, the Students' Assembly of The University of Texas do hereby express our opposition to the institution of war, and do voice our unflinching protest against economic or military intervention on the part of the United States in any foreign war. We are convinced of the futility of the use of force to settle international misunderstandings, and our conviction is that the preservation of democracy in the United States may be contingent upon the maintenance of our peace. We expect of our national leadership a peace-making neutrality—not a war-inciting unneutrality. Such a leadership we will follow resolutely.

IN FIRST LIGHT OPERA PRODUCTION—O. G. Welborn, left, and Mary Catherine Groves are two of the members of the Light Opera Company who have parts in the first production of the year, the operetta "Follow Through," which will be presented on November 22 and 23 in Hogg Auditorium. Welborn will have the part of Dinty Moore; Miss Groves that of "Angie Bascom."

"We call upon Texas students to observe November 11, 1939, by expressing clearly to those in responsible positions in the nation their opposition to the economic or military involvement of the United States in the present European conflict. We urge such expression through personal communications with Texas congressmen and senators and with the President of the United States as well as through group petitions."

In adopting the resolution, the Assembly instructed Anne Finch, secretary of the Students' Association, to address to each member of the National Congress from Texas, to the Secretary of State, and to the President of the United States, as well as to the members of the Board of Regents of the University and the President of the University.

the University, a copy of the resolution, stating clearly that it is an official act of the Students' Assembly of The University of Texas.

Another resolution introduced by Boyd Ladd read as follows:

"Be it resolved by the Students' Assembly of The University of Texas that all resolutions, by-laws and constitutional amendments presented to the Assembly for consideration shall be accompanied by at least eight copies of the same to be distributed to the Assembly at large before the opening of the meeting at which this measure is to be considered.

"No measure shall be considered unless appropriate copies of same have been made available."

Ladd said that lack of such written copies often made for confusion in the minds of Assembly members as to the exact wording of resolutions introduced.

SWING AND TURN PARTY

The Swing and Turn Club will hold a Halloween party at its meeting Thursday night in the Women's Gym, 136. The party will last from 7 until 10:30 o'clock, and an admission charge of 25 cents per person will be charged.

There will be games and dances and all who attend are expected to wear costumes.

Tobacco...opens Doors to Fields where People Live, Work & Achieve

Today there are about 1,000,000 cigar stores, drug stores, country and grocery stores where you can buy cigarettes in the United States. These retailers, and the jobbers who serve them, have built up a service of courtesy and convenience unmatched by any other industry catering to the American public's pleasure.

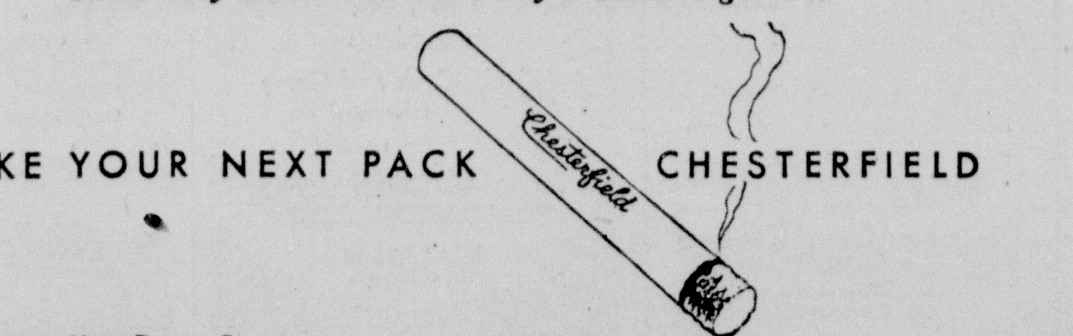

THERE ARE ANOTHER MILLION people who are engaged directly or indirectly in the transportation of cigarettes to every town, hamlet and crossroads.

IT IS ESTIMATED that there are 1,602,000 tobacco farmers raising tobacco in 20 out of the 48 states. Good tobacco is one of the hardest crops to raise and bring to market, requiring great skill and patience from seed-bed planting to harvesting and curing. The modern tobacco farmer has done well the job of constantly improving the quality of his product.

THE AVERAGE LENGTH of service of the 13,230 people working in the Chesterfield factories, storage houses, leaf-handling and redrying plants is over 10 years. This means that every step in the making of Chesterfields, regardless of how small, is handled by people who have had 10 years of experience and ability in knowing their jobs.

TRULY TOBACCO OPENS DOORS to fields where people live, work and achieve, and Chesterfield takes pride in its ever increasing part in this great industry that is devoted entirely to the pleasure of the American public.

TO SMOKERS, Chesterfield Cigarettes have always said, and now repeat, that in no other cigarette made can you find the same degree of real mildness and good taste, or the same high quality of properly cured and aged tobaccos. Chesterfield Cigarettes are made with one purpose only...to give smokers everywhere the Milder, Better-Tasting Smoking Pleasure they want. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Lunts to Appear During Holidays

Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne will be seen in Austin this season in the Shakespearean "Taming of the Shrew," but few University students will likely be able to see them.

Date for the performance, one of Paramount's road show presentations, is December 28. This date comes during the University's Christmas holiday period.

Louis Novy, Austin Interstate manager, regretted the circumstance as much as anybody. He explained Tuesday that he understood no other date was open for Austin on the Lunts' itinerary.

"Taming of the Shrew" is the second road show that has been booked for the Paramount. "I Married an Angel," direct from Broadway, will occupy the Paramount stage on December 9. Although the star of the New York production, Vera Zorina, is not in the touring cast, two other principals of the original cast are. They are Dennis King and Vivienne Segal.

The Paramount has booked two stage shows for November dates. On November 1-2 "Silver Jubilee Vaudeville," with seven acts, will be seen, and the Weaver Brothers and Elvira will return to Austin for performances November 15-16.

First, stroll into PeKe's; second, wipe your tired brow; third, pick up the nearest menu and make a selection—any selection, they're all terrific. Fourth, tell the lad in the white jacket all about it; fifth, (Presto) behold the most delectable sight you've seen since Lady Godiva fell off her white horse. Sixth, tie into it—and THEN you'll see what a Real Lift is.
